MANY IMPROVEMENTS MADE IN COLLEGE PROPERTY DURING THE PAST SUMMER

Women's College Is Renovated And Many Additional Class Rooms Are Prepared.

More than $25,000 has been expended during the summer in improvin gthe buildings of Bucknell University. The larger part of the work and the money spent was devoted to work in the Women's college buildings.

More time, money and labor were put into the complete renewal of the sanitary plumbing conditions of the Women's college than any other individual piece of work .More than $10,000 was spent on the five wash-rooms alone. They are new in every respect. Everything possible has been done to better the sanitary conditions and to make things more cleanly and home-like for the "Semites."

First, all the fixtures were removed and the former unsanitary wooden flooring was taken out. All the plumbing under the floors was removed and the new system built in. Then a "mineral floor"—the latest thing in sanitary installation was constructed. That consists of a two-inch basic layer of concrete, a one-inch layer of finer concrete next, and above that the actual floor, a three-inch layer of a composition made up of fine cement and white marble-dust. The walls were built up for a distance of five feet above the floor with hard plaster and the remainder of the walls and the ceilings were constructed of ordinary plaster.

Another item which will be regarded with mingled feelings of joy and sorrow is the complete renovation of the reception-hall and parlor of the main building of the Women's college Formerly they were separated by a wall, but that has been torn out and a colonade substituted. Two beautiful new rugs adorn the floor. The walls and ceiling of the entire lower floor have been painted in pale buff and white. It looks a hundred per-cent better, but several chronic "fussers" will note with regret the passing of that private spot, especialy sinced the "Holy Sanctuary" or "Lover's Retreat," that little room just off the second-floor parlor is closed while in the process of renovation.

Another welcome improvement is the installation of a new system of postal distribution consisting of three hundred and sixty-five lock-boxes. Previously the mail was just dumped on the table and the girls found their mail as best as possible.

A complete new outfit of china and glass-ware has been purchased and is now in use in the dining-hall.

The heating system in the Wolfe house was unsatisfactory last year, and during the summer the house was attached to the university steam-heating system at the cost of over $3,000. it has been promised that things will be kept warm for the girls at the Wolfe House this winter. If present plans are carried out, improvements of much the same nature will be carried out in the New building next summer.

There were also several improvements for the benefit of the entire student body. Professor Smith, assistant librarian, built in thirty tiers of six shelves each—a hundred and eighty shelves altogether—which only takes care of about half of the books which were laying on the floor of the library at the end of last term. More than as many shelves again are needed to take proper care of the remainder.

In the Academy annex the entire lower floor has been changed into Biology class-rooms according to the plans of Mr. Davis in order to accomodate the overflow of the increased enrollment in the Biology course. The basement is now devoted to the Doctor's guinea-pig farm. Many other improvements have been planned and next fall will in all probability see a new Engineering building and a new chapel on the campus.

ASSISTANT WANTED

An assistant in Physical Education will be chosen this week on a competitive basis. All candidates submit applications giving class, experience and schedule of classes to C. E. Glass gym instructor.

KAPPA SIG DANCE

The Kappa Sigma House was the scene of a very delightful dance, Saturday evening September 25. Dancing began at eight thirty and continued thru till twelve o'clock. Very good cider was to be had during the course of the evening and during the intermission which came at about ten o'clock fruit salad and pimento sandwiches were served. The music was provided by the "Sterling Six" of Williamsport. The majority of the members of the orchestra are members of the Williamsport post of the American Legion. The members of the Kappa Sigma fraternity were particularly pleased to have their friends from other houses accept their invitation to drop in and enjoy the dancing.

CAP AND DAGGER ELECTIONS

At the first Cap and Dagger meeting of the year ,the following officers were elected: President, Francis P. Reamer, '21; Vice President, Lewis G. Griffiths, '22; Treasurer, H. Le-Roy Heller, '21 and Secretary David H. Stewardson, '21.

CAP AND DAGGER TO HOLD TRYOUTS SOON

DRAMATIC SOCIETY WILL GIVE FRESHMEN AND SOPHOMORES A CHANCE TO COMPETE.

At the first Cap and Dagger meeting of the year, it was voted to hold tryouts for Cap and Dagger the first semester o feach term, instead of in the spring as formerly. This year, in as much as none were held last year, the tryouts for the present Sophomores and for the present Freshmen, will be at the same time in the near future. All those who handed their names in last year, who still intend to try out, and all new men who want to try out will give their names to Francis P. Reamer at the Phi Gamma Delta House before October 15th. Parts will then be assigned and a date for tryouts set.

For the benefit of the new men, it might be stated that Cap and Dagger is the men's dramatic society. It is limited in enrollment to 15 men. After a man has served three years he receives a pin of the society from the society. Each year Cap and Dagger gives several plays. Such plays as "Officer 666", "The Arrival of Kitty," "Truth", "The Doll's House," "The World and His Wife," "Strongheart," and "It Often Happens" have been presented successfully by the society.

A LATE START

Because of the inability of the Bucknellian staff to secure a place for the printing of the paper this season, the first issue has been held up. However, THE MIFFLINBURG TELEGRAPH, has consented to print the Bucknellian this year, and the editorial staff expects to see one of the best appearing of college papers in this section of the country. To get the news for the Bucknellian, it is necessary to have a staff of reporters. All men wishing to try out for a position on this staff should consult the editor immediately, as appointments will be made by the end of the present month. Positions on the Bucknellian staff are purely competitive, and candidates are selected by a committee of the English department of the University. This assures a "square deal for everybody," following out the policy of the Bucknellian.

SOCIAL SEASON STARTED

The Bucknell social season has started off with a rush, as nearly all of the fraternities have given dances, and it is understood that the sororities are planning similar events. In addition to the fraternities mentioned in other places in this week's Bucknellian, the following have already given at least one dance; Phi Kappa Psi, Sigma Chi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Gamma Lambda Sigma and Lambda Chi Alpha. Sigma Chi had also planned an elaborate dinner dance, but was forced to postpone it because of the death in the family of one of its members.

"Y" HOLDS FIRST BIG MEETING OF SEASON

TUSTIN GYM IS FILLED TO HEAR "LINDY" AND DR. HUNT MAKE FINE ADDRESSES.

According to ancient custom, the "Y" opened this present college year with a welcome to all college men giving the new men an opportunity to meet and get acquainted with the Sophmores and Upper-classmen as well as members of their own class. David Stewardson, this years "Y" president opened the mass meeting, which was held in the Gym, welcoming everyone back to college and sounded the slogan of this years organization. He said that the "Y" and its organization were at the command of the men on the "HILL" and that the officers hoped to make the "Y" a vital part of college life.

A large crowd of men attended the meeting and the cheering which took place brought back memories of last years' gridiron battles. Two members of the football team were present in the capacity of speakers and the remarks of both McDermott and Capt. Kostos were received with same earnestness and sincerety with which they were delivered.

A "Y" meeting would not be complete without one man of this University whom all old men know so well, Prof. Linderman. The speech which he gave was typical, and the shouts that came in response to some of his remarks gave evidence of the delight with which he was listened to. But with all fun, the seriousness of what he had to say in regard to holding up the standards of Old Bucknell and being real men did not fail in getting across.

President Mason of the Senior Class reminded the men that it was up to them to make things go. He pointed out that this year sees the largest enrollment the University has ever had and that new men and old alike, should work to keep the colors of the Orange and Blue as high and perhaps higher than ever before.

The last speaker of the evening was Dr. Hunt and the cheer which greeted him as he stood up was evidence of warm place that he had won for himself among the students. Dr. Hunt opened his remarks by repeating his invitation to any and all students who cared to come to him and he would be glad to give them his time. "I have nothing more important to do than to see any student who thinks he wants to see me," said Dr. Hunt. The rest of his remarks were in the nature of advice, pointing out the value of giving one's best. He said there was a time for giving and a time for taking and that to choose wisely sometimes meant the determining of one's whole life.

The meeting as a whole was a means of giving everyone present the necessary spur to make this year count for the most. Following the addresses refreshments of ice cream and pretzels were served cafeteria style and the remaining time was spent reading the identification cards on coat lapels which had been supplied by the committee earlier in the evening. The mass meeting in every way was one to be remembered and from present outlook the "Y" influence on the "Hill" looks as though it will surely be felt in the life of the student body this year. More definite information as to the program for the year will be sent out later.

1921 L'AGENDA IS NOW ON SALE AT KAPPA SIG HOUSE

There are still a few copies of the 1921 L'Agenda in the possession of Martin K. Mohler, the manager, and be secured from him at the Kappa Sigma house .This will give those who did not have the opportunity of getting a copy last year to get one now. There is perhaps no better way of preserving the memories of the college years than by looking over the L'Agendas; so every person who has ever been a student at Bucknell should have one. It is especially appropriate that members of the present Freshman class should have one of these books, as it shows better than anything else the activities of the school, and also enables the newcomers to get acquainted with the members of the present Senior class.

David J. Martin, '20, was a Phi Gamma Delta visitor Saturday and Sunday.

RED AND BLUE WINS HARD FOUGHT GAME

BUCKNELL HOLDS PENN DOWN TO ONE TOUCHDOWN IN GREAT FOOTBALL BATTLE

The University of Pennsylvania defeated the Orange and Blue on Franklin Field, Philadelphia, Saturday, October 2, by a score of 7-0. The score does not tell the story of the game, because the most conservative of the reports admitted that Bucknell played as well as the big Red and Blue team, while every loyal Bucknellian who witnessed the game asserts that Bucknell outplayed its heavier opponents. There are also those who insist that the penalties imposed upon Bucknell by the referee were unjust. At any rate, it was a game that made the Penn men feel dubious about the outcome until the final whistle had blown.

The game was in reality a punters duel, in which Captain Kostos had a slightly better advantage. The line plunging of Bowser, and the hard work of McDermott at end featured the game from the Bucknell standpoint, although every man on the team played such a steady, consistent game that it is hardly fair to mention any particular man as an individual star. The Orange and Blue line held like a stone wall, and made the celebrated Heisman shift look like the German line in the Argonne. Our backfield was a steady ground gainer, and matched Penn in the totals of first downs. Taken as a whole, our team was equal in every respect to the Red and Blue eleven, and only the breaks of the game made the score what it was.

Bucknell lost two good chances of scoring by unfortunate fumbles, one when only 14 yards from the Penn goal line. These fumbles, together with a total of 85 yards setback because of penalties for alleged off-side plays and holding were the only things which kept the Orange and Blue from crossing the Penn line on the other hand, Penn received very slight penalties for holding and off-side play, and received all of the breaks of the game.

The story of how Penn got its single touch down is very well told by the Philadelphia Record, under the heading "Plucky Bucknell holds Penn down."

The Heisman hike and Pennsylvania glided to a narrow triumph over the veteran Bucknell Collegians at Franklin Field yesterday, by a single touch-down—score 7 to 0.

In the second period, through some lucky breaks, the Red and Blue got the oval within eight yards of the Lewisburg contingent's goal post. On the last down Joe Straus heaved the oval to Carl Thomas, behind the goal post, and the Bridesburg youth clutched the ball safely as he tumbled for a score. Straus kicked the goal from touchdown.

This was the only opening that was really afforded Pennsylvania until the final throes of the contest when Rex Wray and Joe Straus began a triuniphant march down the field, and this pair had the ball within Bucknell's 10-yard line as the whistle blew. The battle reminded one of two famed gladiators who were very, very much afraid of each other. Both Penn and Bucknell feared the other's strength and kept with in safe bounds during the entire time. Only twice did both clubs essay the forward pass. The Red and Blue attempted it in the opening period when they were on the five-yard line but the play failed. The second trial gave the Quakers victory.

During the whole game, Bucknell demonstrated the fighting spirit which has made the Orange and Blue team feared by schools many times her size, and never once gave up the fight One of the things which surprised Penn the most was the way the Orange and Blue supporters of the team came straggling into Philadelphia, by means of freight trains, Fords, and hikers. It was estimated that there were over 500 Bucknell undergraduates and alumni in the stands that afternoon, and their cheers, while not rivaling the thunderous roar of Pennsylvania in

PHI GAM DANCE

The active chapter of Delta chapter of Phi Gamma Delta entertained a number of "Semi" girls Saturday evening, September 25th, with a dance given in itself by and for its pledged men. The house was very tastefully decorated with streamers of the fraternity colors, and colored lights added materially to the pretty effect.

Diffendafer's orchestra, with its wonderful "jazz" and customary "pep" made the dancers forget the disadvantages of the sultry evening, and greatly aided in making the dance one of the most pleasant ever given in the house. Miss Fowler and Miss Fitch were chaperones, and the customary refreshments were served at intermission, with the exception that elder took the place of the usual punch.

David J. Martin, '20. Robert N. Waddell, '20, William L. Schreyer, ex-'22, and Seth T. McCormick, Yale, ex-'22 were also guests of the active chapter at the dance. Dances were exchanged with members of the Kappa Sigma fraternity, as a dance was being held at theIh house at the same time.

RUSHING SEASON HAS NOW COME TO CLOSE

FRATERNITIES HAVE PLEDGED FEWER MEN THIS YEAR THAN AT ANY TIME IN LAST DECADE.

The fraternity rushing season for this year, perhaps the slowest in the past decade, has come to an end. On account of the large enrollment in the Freshman class and the leisurely arrival of the same, the various fraternities took more time to look over the "newly emancipated" high school seniors. After careful selection the following men have been pledged to the different fraternities:

CAMPAIGN PROGRESS

Subscriptions to the new Endowment and Equipment fund are still being received by the Treasurer of the fund, Dr. Judd. Just to show how farreaching the campaign is, a subscription, was received last week from Seattle, Washington. To date, Dr. Judd has issued 173 receipts covering about $28,000 paid cash out of about $147,000 subscribed.

Bowser, Dayhoff and Gdaniec Put First Home Game On Ice In Early Period.

The Bucknell varsity, assisted largely by the second team, defeated Ursinus Saturday by a score of 48-0 before the largest crowd ever assembled on the local athletic field. The game in itself was not a real test of Bucknell's strength, as the first quarter, in which the first team took a very active part, was just a continuous march down the field for four touchdowns. The first touchdown was made in exactly 3½ minutes after the game had started, and the second came three minutes after the first. Two more touchdowns were secured in the remaining eight minutes of the quarter. After this the second string men were put in, and the scoring did not pile up as fast as it had before. The one outstanding feature of the game was Bowser's goal from placement from the 45 yard line, which took the crowd, as well as the opponents by surprise.

The game started when Bowser kicked off to the Ursinus two yard line. Ursinus tried to advance the ball by playing straight football, but on the third play tried a forward pass which Dayhoff intercepted. Bowser andGdaniec each took the ball for a first down and then Bowser carried it over the line for a touchdown. Bowser also kicked the goal. Ursinus kicked off and Gdaniec received the ball, running it back 25 yards. Bowser,. Dayhoff and Gdaniec took it down the field until it was near the goal line, and then Dayhoff took the ball across on a forward pass from Bowser. Bowser kicked the goal. After this followed another parade down the field, in which Dayhoff made a pretty 50 yard run, and Gdaniec another for 20. Bowser made some fine line plunges, and Gdaniec took the ball over the line for another touchdown. Bowser missed the goal. Ursinus kicked off again, and Kostos received, running the ball back 20 yards. Bowser, Kostos and Gdaniec made another "peace parade" down the field and then Bowser took the ball over for the fourth touchdown of the game, afterwards missing the goal. Bowser kicked off, but the Ursinus runner fumbled on the 10 yard line and Biehl recovered the ball.

At this point Ursinus took a brace and held Bucknell for downs just as the whistle blew for the end of the first quarter.

In the early part of the second quarter Bowser made his field goal from the 45 yard line. After the kick-off, Gdaniec made two pretty 15 yard runs and then scored another touchdown. Bowsed missed the goal. In this quarter McGraw, who took Kostos's place, showed some speed in running the ball, and Bowser and Gdaniec executed a "double play" intercepting a Ursinus forward pass. A number of substitutions were made in the ends and backfield during this quarter.

Between the halves the students showed some of the old time Bucknell "pep" by getting off a big snake dance, in which the men were divided up into their proper classes, led by the class presidents. At the close of the dance they lined up by the gym door in two long lines, and cheered the Ursinus team as it came out on the field.

The second half started with a number of additional substitutions. It was shortly after the half started that Ursinus made their one first down, by a series of line plunges. Bowser took all the honors of the third quarter by getting off a pretty 35 yard run, and then ran 40 yards for a touchdown. Reed missed the goal. In the last quarter Bellac, Garrison and Bowser took the ball down the field and Bowser made another touchdown and then kicked the goal. Bellac and Behrleh both got off on pretty runs for 35 yards apiece, but were called back. The game ended with an exchange of punts.

The Bucknell line held like the proverbial stone wall, and every man on the team played a stellar game. Dooley, Wilshach, McDermott, Biehl, Homan, Hahn, Morrett, Reed and other linemen showed up to a very good advantage. Kostos, Bowser,

ATTENTION, FRESHMEN

To the members of the Freshman class ,the Bucknellian extends a hearty welcome. To you has been extended a great opportunity, and it is our earnest desire to see you make the most of it, for by so doing, you will bring honor to the name of Old Bucknell. Keep in mind that the more you put into your college life the more you will get out of it. Get into as many activities as possible, and never fail to support the athletic teams of the university. Live up to the rules laid down by Senior council, as obedience to them is a test of your manhood.

Perhaps it will seem to you that life during your first year at Bucknell is not a smiling path of roses. Yet alumni who come back are unanimous in saying that the years spent in college are the best enjoyed of a whole lifetime, and that the Freshman year is the best of all. You are really privileged by being in college, so try to do your best, and work for the honor and glory of Old Bucknell.

SHOW SOME SPIRIT.

This year Bucknell University has a football team of which it may indeed be proud. From the two games which have already been played, even the most pessimistic are unable to predict anything but the most promising outlook for the rest of the season. Under the careful coaching of "Pete" Reynolds, we may be sure that the Orange and Blue warriors will bring the greatest of credit on the institution whose name and colors they bear.

It is the duty of every loyal Bucknellian to support the team to the best of his ability by attending mass meetings and practices on the athletic field. The coach wants you to display your interest by coming out to watch the team prepare for the big games which are to come. Navy is the next. Let's go!

THE PENN GAME

The Bucknellian offers no alibis or excuses for the loss of the Penn game. It is over now, and there is no use crying over spilled milk. We insist, however, that Bucknell outplayed Penn in almost every feature of the game, and that if the game were to be played over again on a neutral field, with neutral officials, Bucknell would be the winner.

The Bucknellian, in behalf of the student body, wishes to express the deepest sympathy to Perkins, '24, who was called home because of the death of his father.

GLEE CLUB BUSY

SINGERS PREPARING FOR MINSTREL SHOW AND WESTERN TRIP

With somewhat of the same "pep" shown during the season last year, the Bucknell Glee Club is fast reorganizing for what looks like the best season yet known at Bucknell. Last season brought forth the best club that has represented the university in years—and this year the prospects point to an even more active and better year than last season proved to be. Professor Stolz, dean of the Music School, is again director of the club and Ralph Hartz is the manager. Any students desiring to try out for the club should attend the rehearsels as announced from time to time on the bulletin boards and consult with Prof. Stolz or Manager Hartz. There should be a wealth of material in the Freshmen class, and these new men, added to the remaining members of last year's club as a nucleus, should develop into a wonderful organization to represent Bucknell for the coming season. Students who can play the trombone, clarinet and flute are especially needed for the orchestra work under the direction of "Bobby" Hartz.

Plans for the year, as announced by Manager Hartz, include trips that cover practically the same ground as last year with quite a number of new cities added to the list. The usual local dates will be secured, too, for already the surrounding towns are asking for concerts and are anxious to hear the club again. The coast to coast trip looks very favorable according to the management, and will no doubt be taken.

Plans of the club also include a minstrel show to be given in the near future. The members of the club are practicing now for this event, which will prove of unusual interest to the college and the town. Rehearsals begin this week. Every student should be on the look-out for the date and back the event.

PEPPY MASS MEETING HELD BEFORE PENNSYLVANIA GAME

Part of the preparation of Bucknell for the big game with Penn was the super mass meeting held in Bucknell Hall last Thursday evening. For an hour the cheerleaders, Florin and Bechtell and a number of speakers, instilled confidence and enthusiasm into the minds of the members of the team and of the student body. The cheering threatened to tear off the roof and break out the sides of the building, while the stamping of feet would have completed the destruction. CLASS ELECTIONS

UNDERGRADUATES SELECT LEADERS FOR SCHOOL YEAR.

On Thursday and Friday, September 16th and 17th, Bucknell's eight hundred students entered upon the initial work of making this college year the success it purports to be when the four classes selected their leaders.

Every activity in the University is carried on thru its classes. All that Bucknell aims for in academic, athletic or social advancement comes primarily thru the student body.

So, interest in the election of a man to lead the school thru the Senior class was particularly high.

Standing solidly behind Dick Mason, who typifies in his office of senior president all that Bucknell represents, is the class of 1921.

Those officers of the senior class who were chosen are as follows:
Pres. Richard A. Mason
Vice Pres. William Baird.
Sec. Lydia Coene.
Treas. Victor Clare.

On Friday afternoon the Junior, Sophomore and Freshmen classes had their elections.

The results of Election day are:

JUNIOR CLASS
Pres. L. W. Ross.
V. Pres. Ralph Miller.
Treas. Marvin A. Scarles.
Sec. Suzanna H. Plummer.

SOPHMORE CLASS
Pres. Frank R. McGregor.
V. Pres. Alvin F. Julian.
Trea. Thomas Christley .
Sec. Marion A. Jack.

FRESHMEN CLASS
Pres. Seward Seybold.
V. Pres. Robert Gray.
Trea. Emile Coene.

PROF SMITH AND DR. HUNT SPEAK AT BIG MASS MEETING

A rousing meeting was held at Bucknell Hall Friday evening in preparation for the Bucknell—Ursinus game the following day. Songs and cheers swelled out, while the band played several "peppy" selections.

Mason, senior president presided, and after the football men had taken their accustomed places, called on the father of Athletics at Bucknell, Bromley Smith, to speak. Prof. Smith, to speak. Prof. Smith gave some amusing stories about several of the six-footers who played football for B. U. Some of the stories were quite obviously stretched.

Dr. Emory W. Hunt, president of the University, linked up his talk with Prof. Smith by saying that it was one of these old-time players who was the cause of Bowser's coming to B. U. Dr. Hunt then contrasted the spirit shown at English games and at American games. Football, he said, is largely a game of psychology, of determination. Three of the outstanding statements in Dr. Hunt's speech were "I like the spirit shown here", "I respected our men when they left the field last week," and "Tomorrow's game starts here."

A number of the football men spoke, each at more or less length. Cavalcante proved himself a silver tongued orator, and he thinks Bucknell's spirit is "marvelous." The men who spoke were Bowser, Willsbach, Cavalcante, Bellak, Jameson, Morett, Jullan, Gdaniec, Wargo,. Biehl, McDermott, and Hahn.

Arthur Harris announced that the election of head cheerleader would take place, and introduced Florin and Bechtel, the two candidates. When the vote was counted, Florin had 123 and Bechtel 126.

WAR RISK NOTES

Of the twelve former service men who were killed in the explosion in Wall Street, New York last Thursday noon, only two had maintained their government war risk life insurance after being discharged. One of these was Colonel Charles Neville, until recently in the Quartermaster Corps, U. S. A. and the other William T. Joyce, an employe of J. P. Morgan & Company, and a former member of the United States Signal Corps. Colonel Neville and Joyce each carried a $10,000 policy. The former officer named his wife as beneficiary and Joyce, who lived at 1806 Ditman Avenue, Brooklyn, made his mother, Mrs. Esther Payne Joyce, his beneficiary. Joyce entered the service March 8, 1918, and like more than 46 per cent. of the other men joining the colors, named his mother his beneficiary.

The other former service men, who met their death in the explosion, had allowed their insurance to lapse.

INTERCLASS TRACK AND RELAY

An interclass track and relay meet has been scheduled for the 16th of, October. The following events will be included in the meet: 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, 440 yard dash, 880 yard dash, 1 mile run, 2 mile run and 1 mile relay. Prof Bromley Smith will have general supervision of the arrangements, Williams, track captain, and the class managers and captains have been asked to cooperate with him to make this event a success Practice began last Monday, and every afternoon sees a good sized squad out preparing for the coming events.

Freshmen and Sophmores participating will be given credit for this work in their Physical Education requirement. The ability and interest displayed in this meet will have much to do determininging the policy of the Athletic board in field and track sports next spring.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS MADE IN COLLEGE PROPERTY DURING THE PAST SUMMER

Women's College Is Renovated And Many Additional Class Rooms Are Prepared.

More than $25,000 has been expended during the summer in improving the buildings of Bucknell University. The larger part of the work and the money spent, was devoted to work in the Women's college buildings.

More time, money and labor were put into the complete renewal of the sanitary plumbing conditions of the Women's college than any other individual piece of work .More than $10,000 was spent on the five wash-rooms alone. They are new in every respect. Everything possible has been done to better the sanitary conditions and to make things more cleanly and home-like for the "Semites."

First, all the fixtures were removed and the former unsanitary wooden flooring was taken out. All the plumbing under the floors was removed and the new system built in. Then a "mineral floor"—the latest thing in sanitary installation was constructed. That consists of a two-inch basic layer of concrete, a one-inch layer of finer concrete next, and above that the actual floor, a three-inch layer of a composition made up of fine cement and white marble-dust. The walls were built up for a distance of five feet above the floor with hard plaster and the remainder of the walls and the ceilings were constructed of ordinary plaster.

Another item which will be regarded with mingled feelings of joy and sorrow is the complete renovation of the reception-hall and parlor of the main building of the Women's college Formerly they were separated by a wall, but that has been torn out and a colonade substituted. Two beautiful new rugs adorn the floor. The walls and ceiling of the entire lower floor have been painted in pale buff and white. It looks a hundred percent better, but several chronic "fussers" will note with regret the passing of that private spot, especialy sfnce1 the "Holy Sanctuary" or "Lover's Retreat," that little room just off the second-floor parlor is closed while in the process of renovation.

Another welcome improvement is the installation of a new system of postal distribution consisting of three hundred and sixty-five lock-boxes. Previously the mail was just dumped on the table and the girls found their mail as best as possible.

A complete new outfit of china and glass-ware has been purchased and is now in use in the dining-hall.

The heating system in the Wolfe house was unsatisfactory last year, and during the summer the house was attached to the university steam-heating system at the cost of over $3,000. It has been promised that things will be kept warm for the girls at the Wolfe House this winter. If present plans are carried out, improvements of much the same nature will be carried out in the New building next summer.

There were also several improvements for the benefit of the entire student body. Professor Smith, assistant librarian, built in thirty tiers of six shelves each—a hundred and eighty shelves altogether—which only takes care of about half of the books which were laying on the floor of the library at the end of last term. More than as many shelves again are needed to take proper care of the remainder.

In the Academy annex the entire lower floor has been changed into Biology class-rooms according to the plans of Mr. Davis in order to accomodate the overflow of the increased enrollment in the Biology course. The basement is now devoted to the Doctor's guinea-pig farm. Many other improvements have been planned and next fall will in all probability see a new Engineering building and a new chapel on the campus.

ASSISTANT WANTED

An assistant in Physical Education will be chosen this week on a competitive basis. All candidates submit applications giving class, experience and schedule of classes to C. E. Glass gym instructor.

KAPPA SIG DANCE

The Kappa Sigma House was the scene of a very delightful dance, Saturday evening September 25. Dancing began at eight thirty and continued thru till twelve o'clock. Very good cider was to be had during the course of the evening and during the intermission which came at about ten o'clock fruit salad and pimento sandwiches were served. The music was provided by the "Sterling Six" of Williamsport. The majority of the members of the orchestra are members of the Williamsport post of the American Legion. The members of the Kappa Sigma fraternity were particularly pleased to have their friends from other houses accept their invitation to drop in and enjoy the dancing.

CAP AND DAGGER ELECTIONS

At the first Cap and Dagger meeting of the year ,the following officers were elected: President, Francis F. Reamer, '21; Vice President, Lewis G. Griffiths, '22; Treasurer, H. LeRoy Heller, '21 and Secretary David H. Stewardson, '21.

CAP AND DAGGER TO HOLD TRYOUTS SOON

DRAMATIC SOCIETY WILL GIVE FRESHMEN AND SOPHOMORES A CHANCE TO COMPETE.

At the first Cap and Dagger meeting of the year, it was voted to hold tryouts for Cap and Dagger the first semester o feach term, instead of in the spring as formerly. This year, in as much as none were held last year, the tryouts for the present Sophomores and for the present Freshmen, will be at the same time in the near future. All those who handed their names in last year, who still intend to try out, and all new men who want to try out will give their names to Francis F. Reamer at the Phi Gamma Delta House before October 15th. Parts will then be assigned and a date for tryouts set.

For the benefit of the new men, it might be stated that Cap and Dagger is the men's dramatic society. It is limited in enrollment to 15 men. After a man has served three years he receives a pin of the society from the society. Each year Cap and Dagger gives several plays. Such plays as "Officer 666", "The Arrival of Kitty," "Truth", "The Doll's House," "The World and His Wife," "Strongheart," and "It Often Happens" have been presented successfully by the society.

A LATE START

Because of the inability of the Bucknellian staff to secure a place for the printing of the paper this season, the first issue has been held up. However, THE MIFFLINBURG TELEGRAPH has consented to print the Bucknellian this year, and the editorial staff expects to see one of the best appearing of college papers in this section of the country. To get the news for the Bucknellian, it is necessary to have a staff of reporters. All men wishing to try out for a position on this staff should consult the editor immediately, as appointments will be made by the end of the present month. Positions on the Bucknellian staff are purely competetive, and candidates are selected by a committee of the English department of the University. This assures a "square deal for everybody," following out the policy of the Bucknellian.

SOCIAL SEASON STARTED

The Bucknell social season has started off with a rush, as nearly all of the fraternities have given dances, and it is understood that the sororities are planning similar events. In addition to the fraternities mentioned in other places in this week's Bucknellian, the following have already given at least one dance. Phi Kappa Psi, Sigma Chi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Gamma Lambda Sigma and Lambda Chi Alpha. Sigma Chi had also planned an elaborate dinner dance, but was forced to postpone it because of the death in the family of one of its members.

"Y" HOLDS FIRST BIG MEETING OF SEASON

TUSTIN GYM IS FILLED TO HEAR "LINDY" AND DR. HUNT MAKE FINE ADDRESSES.

According to ancient custom, the "Y" opened this present college year with a welcome to all college men giving the new men an opportunity to meet and get acquainted with the Sophmores and Upper-classmen as well as members of their own class. David Stewardson, this years "Y" president opened the mass meeting, which was held in the Gym, welcoming everyone back to college and sounded the slogan of this years organization. He said that the "Y" and its organization were at the command of the men on the "HILL" and that the officers hoped to make the "Y" a vital part of college life.

A large crowd of men attended the meeting and the cheering which took place brought back memories of last years' gridiron battles. Two members of the football team were present in the capacity of speaker and the remarks of both McDermott and Capt. Kostos were received with same earnestness and sincerety with which they were delivered.

A "Y" meeting would not be complete without one man of this University whom all old men know so well, Prof. Linderman. The speech which he gave was typical, and the shouts that came in response to some of his remarks gave evidence of the delight with which he was listened to. But with all fun, the seriousness of what he had to say in regard to holding up the standards of Old Bucknell and being real men did not fail in getting across.

President Mason of the Senior Class reminded the men that it was up to them to make things go. He pointed out that this year sees the largest enrollment the University has ever had and that new men and old alike, should work to keep the colors of the Orange and Blue as high and perhaps higher than ever before.

The last speaker of the evening was Dr. Hunt and the cheer which greeted him as he stood up was evidence of warm place that he had won for himself among the students. Dr. Hunt opened his remarks by repeating his invitation to any and all students who cared to come to him and he would be glad to give them his time. "I have nothing more important to do than to see any student who thinks he wants to see me," said Dr. Hunt. The rest of his remarks were in the nature of advice, pointing out the value of giving one's best. He said there was a time for giving and a time for taking and that to choose wisely sometimes meant the determining of one's whole life.

The meeting as a whole was a means of giving everyone present the necessary spur to make this year count for the most. Following the addresses refreshments of ice cream and pretzels were served cafeteria style and the remaining time was spent reading the identification cards on coat lapels which had been supplied by the committee earlier in the evening. The mass meeting in every way was one to be remembered and from present outlook the "Y" influence on the "HILL" looks as though it will surely be felt in the life of the student body this year. More definite information as to the program for the year will be sent out later.

1921 L'AGENDA IS NOW ON SALE AT KAPPA SIG HOUSE

There are still a few copies of the 1921 L'Agenda in the possession of Martin K. Mohler, the manager, and be secured from him at the Kappa Sigma house .This will give those who did not have the opportunity of getting a copy last year to get one now. There is perhaps no better way of preserving the memories of the college years than by looking over the L'Agendas, so every person who has ever been a student at Bucknell should have one. It is especially appropriate that members of the present Freshman class should have one of these books, as it shows better than anything else the activities of the school, and also enables the newcomers to get acquainted with the members of the present Senior class.

RED AND BLUE WINS HARD FOUGHT GAME

Burma University, of Rangoon, is building a new plant, and the government will pay one-half of the cost of construction. The Baptist Church, which controls the institution, is paying the remainder of the cost.

That the American students who go to study abroad have a decided power and influence has been well demonstrated in Sweden. Recent issues of the Postjarnan, official organ of the Swedish Students' Union for Total Abstinence, has carried a series of interviews with the twelve American students studying in Sweden under the Swedish-American Foundation. In each of these, emphasis has been laid on the difference in student life between American and Sweden, and how the difference has, on the one hand, brot about a sentiment in favor of prohibition, and in the other country created an atmosphere of utmost liberality on matters of personal custom.

The University of California has come that it is hardly fair to mention any particular man as an individual star. The Orange and Blue line held like a stone wall, and made the celebrated Heisman shift look like the German line in the Argonne. Our backfield was a steady ground gainer, and matched Penn in the totals of first downs. Taken as a whole, our team was equal in every respect to the Red and Blue eleven, and only the breaks of the game made the score what it was.

Bucknell lost two good chances of scoring by unfortunate fumbles, one when only 14 yards from the Penn goal line. These fumbles, together with a total of 85 yards setback because of penalties for alleged off-side plays and holding were the only things which kept the Orange and Blue from crossing the Penn line. On the other hand, Penn received very slight penalties for holding and off-side play, and received all of the breaks of the game.

The story of how Penn got its single touch down is very well told by the Philadelphia Record, under the heading "Plucky Bucknell holds Penn down."

The Heisman hike and Pennsylvania glided to a narrow triumph over the veteran Bucknell Collegians at Franklin Field yesterday, by a single touch-down—score 7 to 0.

In the second period, through some lucky breaks, the Red and Blue got the oval within eight yards of the Lewisburg contingent's goal post. On the last down Joe Straus heaved the oval to Carl Thomas, behind the goal post, and the Bridesburg youth clutched the ball safely as he tumbled for a score. Straus kicked the goal from touchdown.

This was the only opening that was really afforded Pennsylvania until the final throes of the contest, when Rex Wray and Joe Straus began a triumphant march down the field, and this pair had the ball within Bucknell's 10-yard line as the whistle blew. The battle reminded one of two famed gladiators who were very, very much afraid of each other. Both Penn and Bucknell feared the other's strength and kept with in safe bounds during the entire time. Only twice did both clubs essay the forward pass. The Red and Blue attempted it in the opening period when they were on the five-yard line but the play failed. The second trial gave the Quakers victory.

During the whole game, Bucknell demonstrated the fighting spirit which has made the Orange and Blue team feared by schools many times her size, and never once gave up the fight. One of the things which surprised Penn the most was the way the Orange and Blue supporters of the team came straggling into Philadelphia, by means of freight trains, Fords, and hikers. It was estimated that there were over 500 Bucknell undergraduates and alumni in the stands that afternoon, and their cheers, while not rivaling the thunderous roar of Pennsylvania in

The active chapter of Delta chapter of Phi Gamma Delta entertained a number of "Semi" girls Saturday evening, September 25th, with a dance given in honor of its pledged men. The house was very tastefully decorated with streamers of the fraternity colors, and colored lights added materially to the pretty effect.

Diffendafer's orchestra, with its wonderful "jazz" and customary "pep" made the dancers forget the disadvantages of the sultry evening, and greatly aided in making the dance one of the most pleasant ever given in the house. Miss Fowler and Miss Fitch were chaperones, and the customary refreshments were served at intermission, with the exception that cider took the place of the usual punch.

David J. Martin, '20, Robert N. Waddell, '20, William L. Schreyer, ex-'22, and Seth T. McCormick, Yale, ex-'22 were also guests of the active chapter at the dance. Dances were exchanged with members of the Kappa Sigma fraternity, as a dance was being held at theih house at the same time.

RUSHING SEASON HAS NOW COME TO CLOSE

FRATERNITIES HAVE PLEDGED FEWER MEN THIS YEAR THAN AT ANY TIME IN LAST DECADE.

The fraternity rushing season for this year, perhaps the slowest in the past decade, has come to an end. On account of the large enrollment in the Freshman class and the delayed arrival of the same, the various fraternities took more time to look over the "newly emancipated" high school seniors. After careful selection the following men have been pledged to the different fraternities:e

Phi Kappa Psi:—H. F. Brown, R. Gray, H. Butchlon, C. B. Hyatt, C. Kelly, S. Mengel, G. Wren, T. Wellbaugh, C. M. Hennen.

Sigma Chi:—F. D. Jemison, H. Eastman, D. M. Johnson, K. L. Saxon, T. M. Hammond, A. G. Stoughton, R. T. Perkins, H. T. Moore.

Phi Gamma Delta:—J. H. Beckley, E. Coene, W. O. Courson, C. P. Dawson, E. R. Deffibaugh, C. A. Dreaning, R. C. Helm, H. J. Holbert, M. G. Jones, W. L. Joseph, J. L. McKay, J. M Reed, M J. Stringer, C. L. Schultz.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon:—S. W. Seybold, R. F. Helser, A. S. McMurtrie, G. Bellac, O. N. Miller, H. F. Reed, J. S. Hobing, E G. Wilson.

Kappa Sigma:—Hunt, Hoffman, Smith, Vollmer, Crozier, Jones, Scorz, Reise.

Delta Sigma:—D. M. Villinger, P. N. Walker, C. N. Shaffer, L. F. Hartman.

The Forum:—J. P. Gardner, K. Budd, A. T. Zimmerman, C. Lowry, R. Livingston, A. Samley, L. Staunton, A. Kisbaugh, P. K. Stevenson, T. Bowan, P. Kinyon, E. Hopler, R. Fleming, F. Elliott, E. Miller.

Lmbda Chi Alpha:—C. W. Patton, A. S. Cooper, L. Selray, D. Murray, C. Wagner, R. Larson, A. V. Vandiuroun, J. K. Smith, R. A. Lehman, M. Martin, C. Kurtz.

Bowser, Dayhoff and Gdaniec Put First Home Game On Ice In Early Period.

The Bucknell varsity, assisted largely by the second team, defeated Ursinus Saturday by a score of 48-0 before the largest crowd ever assembled on the local athletic field. The game in itself was not a real test of Bucknell's strength, as the first quarter, in which the first team took a very active part, was just a continuous march down the field for four touchdowns. The first touchdown was made in exactly 3¼ minutes after the game had started, and the second came three minutes after the first. Two more touchdowns were secured in the remaining eight minutes of the quarter. After this the second string men were put in, and the scoring did not pile up as fast as it had before. The one outstanding feature of the game was Bowser's goal from placement from the 45 yard line, which took the crowd, as well as the opponents by surprise.

The game started when Bowser kicked off to the Ursinus two yard line. Ursinus tried to advance the ball by playing straight football, but on the third play tried a forward pass which Dayhoff intercepted. Bowser andGdaniec each took the ball for a first down and then Bowser carried it over the line for a touchdown. Bowser also kicked the goal. Ursinus kicked off and Gdaniec received the ball, running it back 25 yards. Bowser, Dayhoff and Gdaniec took it down the field until it was near the goal line. These fumbles, together with a total of 85 yards setback because of penalties for alleged off-sides plays and holding were the only things which kept the Orange and Blue from crossing the Penn line. On the other hand, Penn received very slight penalties for holding and off-side play, and received all of the breaks of the game.

Between the halves the students showed some of the old time Bucknell "pep" by getting off a big snake dance, in which the men were divided up into their proper classes, led by the class presidents. At the close of the dance they lined up by the gym door in two long lines, and cheered the Ursinus team as it came out on the field.

The second half started with a number of additional substitutions. It was shortly after the half started that Ursinus made their one first down, by a series of line plunges. Bowser took all the honors of the third quarter by getting off a pretty 35 yard run, and then ran 40 yards for a touchdown. Reed missed the goal. In the last quarter Bellac, Garrison and Bowser took the ball down the field and Bowser made another touchdown and then kicked the goal. Bellac and Deitrich both got off on pretty runs for 25 yards apiece, but were called back. The game ended with an exchange of punts.

The Bucknell line held like the proverbial stone wall, and every man on the team played a stellar game. Dooley, Wilsbach, McDermott, Biehl, Homan, Hahn, Morrett, Reed and other linemen showed up to a very good advantage. Kostos, Bowser,

ATTENTION, FRESHMEN

To the members of the Freshman class ,the Bucknellian extends a hearty welcome. To you has been extended a great opportunity, and it is our earnest desire to see you make the most of it, for by so doing, you will bring honor to the name of Old Bucknell. Keep in mind that the more you put into your college life the more you will get out of it. Get into as many activities as possible, and never fail to support the athletic teams of the university. Live up to the rules laid down by Senior council, as obedience to them is a test of your manhood.

Perhaps it will seem to you that life during your first year at Bucknell is not a smiling path of roses. Yet alumni who come back are unanimous in saying that the years spent in college are the best enjoyed of a whole lifetime, and that the Freshman year is the best of all. You are really privileged by being in college, so try to do your best, and work for the honor and glory of Old Bucknell.

SHOW SOME SPIRIT.

This year Bucknell University has a football team of which it may indeed be proud. From the two games which have already been played, even the most pessimistic are unable to predict anything but the most promising outlook for the rest of the season. Under the careful coaching of "Pete" Reynolds, we may be sure that the Orange and Blue warriors will bring the greatest of credit on the institution whose name and colors they bear.

It is the duty of every loyal Bucknellian to support the team to the best of his ability by attending mass meetings and practices on the athletic field. The coach wants you to display your interest by coming out to watch the team prepare for the big games which are to come. Navy is the next. Let's go!

THE PENN GAME

The Bucknellian offers no alibis or excuses for the loss of the Penn game. It is over now, and there is no use crying over spilled milk. We insist, however, that Bucknell outplayed Penn in almost every feature of the game, and that if the game were to be played over again on a neutral field, with neutral officials, Bucknell would be the winner.

The Bucknellian, in behalf of the student body, wishes to express the deepest sympathy to Perkins, '24, who was called home because of the death of his father.

GLEE CLUB BUSY

SINGERS PREPARING FOR MINSTREL SHOW AND WESTERN TRIP

With somewhat of the same "pep" shown during the season last year, the Bucknell Glee Club is fast reorganizing for what looks like the best season yet known at Bucknell. Last season brought forth the best club that has represented the university in years—and this year the prospects point to an even more active and better year than last season proved to be. Professor Stolz, dean of the Music School, is again director of the club and Ralph Hartz is the manager. Any students desiring to try out for the club should attend the rehearsals as announced from time to time on the bulletin boards and consult with Prof. Stolz or Manager Hartz. There should be a wealth of material in the Freshmen class, and these new men, added to the remaining members of last year's club as a nucleus, should develop into a wonderful organization to represent Bucknell for the coming season. Students who can play the trombone, clarinet and flute are especially needed for the orchestra work under the direction of "Bobby" Hartz.

Plans for the year, as announced by Manager Hartz, include trips that cover practically the same ground as last year with quite a number of new cities added to the list. The usual local dates will be secured, too, for already the surrounding towns are asking for concerts and are anxious to hear the club again. The coast to coast trip looks very favorable according to the management, and will no doubt be taken.

Plans of the club also include a minstrel show to be given in the near future. The members of the club are practicing now for this event, which will prove of unusual interest to the college and the town. Rehearsals begin this week. Every student should be on the look-out for the date and back the event.

PEPPY MASS MEETING HELD BEFORE PENNSYLVANIA GAME

Part of the preparation of Bucknell for the big game with Penn was the super mass meeting held in Bucknell Hall last Thursday evening. For an hour the cheerleaders, Florin and Bechtell and a number of speakers, instilled confidence and enthusiasm into the minds of the members of the team and of the student body. The cheering threatened to tear off the roof and break out the sides of the building, while the stamping of feet would have completed the destruction. Popular songs were roared out from lusty throats in the early part of the meeting. "Ray, Bucknell" and "Bucknell Warriors" were repeated more than once.

Cheers and yells for the team and for the speakers as they were introduced caused many a hoarse voice.

The Bucknell Band was on hand with plenty of harmonious racket.

When the Hall was practically filled, the members of the team who were not afraid to face the music marched up the aisle, while the student body exercised their lungs. Mason, President of the Senior Class, introduced as the first speaker, C. E. Glass, this year's graduate manager. Mr. Glass appealed to the students for their entire cooperation, telling them that his work and the work of all athletic promoters would be in vain without loyalty from the student body.

A number of the team spoke more or less briefly. One and all expressed confidence in the downfall of Penn. The men who spoke were Dooley, Captain Kostos, Reed, McDermott, Morrett, and Blehl, in the order named.

The two feature addresses of the evening were made by Prof. Leo Rockwell and Registrar B. F. Thomas. Prof. Rockwell called up some of Bucknell's old records and reviewed them in the light of present day events. He told of a team of twenty-five years ago, and of its hopes, successes, and failures. He concluded with the statement that Lewisburg residents were rumored to be taking out heavy insurance on all their movable wooden property. Registrar Thomas centered his talk upon a plea for fair, clean football all the time; and cited instances of dirty playing. Honesty, faithfulness, and clean playing were the points he emphasized.

It was announced that on Friday students were to assemble at the Pennsylvania station to give the team a rousing send-off. It was also announced that in case of a Bucknell victory, school would be "out" on Monday, and that in the evening a big bonfire would be built on the Athletic field.

Gdaniec and Dayhoff starred in the backfield, while McDermott starred as water-boy in the second half. The whole team played good football, and deserved to win.

The Ursinus team could not be compared to the Orange and Blue in weight and experience, but played a clean, hard game and as such deserved favorable mention. The Ursinus captain, Helfrich, stated after the game that Bucknell had the cleanest playing team he had ever come up against.

Other College Men and What Interests Them

New heads of institutions to be seen this academic year are Frederick C. Hicks, University of Cincinnati; William W. Henderson, Brigham Young College; John E. Cousens, Tufts College; H. M. Gage, Coe College; Harry W. Chase, University of North Carolina; and F. W. Hixsen, Allegheny College.

Incomplete registration figures from Columbia University indicate that their enrollment this year will exceed 31,000, a gain of over 35 per cent. over last year. Columbia will then be the largest educational institution in the world. Their enrollment at the past summer session was over 10,000, the largest in the history of the university.

That university training is highly regarded in Japan is evidenced by the fact that the government schools of college grade have for the past few years been unable to accept more than two-thirds of the applicants.

The University of London has fifty-three constituent colleges.

The Chinese Students' Alliance in America held three interesting sectional meetings in the late summer. The western section met at the University of California, the mid-western section at the University of Michigan, and the eastern at Princeton. A total of 590 Chinese students attended these conferences and took part in both Chinese and English in debates and oratorical contests.

At least 1,400 former soldiers, sailors, and marines and nurses are expected to take advantage of Wisconsin's soldier educational 'bonus law to attend the University of Wisconsin this fall, according to information in the office of the university officer who advises soldier bonus students.

Burma University, of Rangoon, is building a new plant, and the government will pay one-half of the cost of construction. The Baptist Church, which controls the institution, is paying the remainder of the cost.

That the American students who go to study abroad have a decided power and influence has been well demonstrated in Sweden. Recent issues of the Postljarnan, official organ of the Swedish Students' Union for Total Abstinence, has carried a series of interviews with the twelve American students studying in Sweden under the Swedish-American Foundation. In each of these, emphasis has been laid on the difference in student life between American and Sweden, and how the difference has, on the one hand, brot about a sentiment in favor of prohibition, and in the other country created an atmosphere of utmost liberality on matters of personal custom.

The University of California has, to date, a registration for 1920 of 9,444 students—50.3 per cent. being men and 49.7 women. Their enrollment in the correspondence courses of the university numbers 42,000.

Ravings of College Wits Worthy of Notice

DISCOVERED

I've read the plays of Shakespeare,
I've enjoyed the lays of Scott;
And the brutish melodrama
Turns the blood from cold to hot;
The "Red Book" I have oft perused,
And the wicked tales of Rupert Hughes.

The "Cosmo" has my patronage,
I truly love the "Post,"
I've pored o'er every magazine
They print from coast to coast.
Yes, the "Blue Book," and the Green Book,"
And every Motion Screen book.

But the greatest piece of fiction
To the unsuspecting reader
Is the college catalog;
It's a great, dense bank of fog.
It tells you you can get your meals
For dollars three a week—
I've searched the town of Lewisburg
And still that place I seek.

That books will cost you only eight
Is another thing I've seen,
I've bought but barely haf of minel,
They cost me seventeen.

So I call to all great authors,
From the modern to the past,
To doff their hats in mute defeat—
They've lost their throne at last,
For the greatest piece of fiction,
Is the calm collegiate diction.

DANDERINE AND POSTUM OR A Hair-Raising Romance

By the shores of Cutleura
By the Man-a-cean water,
Lived the prophylactic Chiclet,
Danerine, the Helmar's daughter.

She was loved by Klaxon Postum,
Son of Sunkist and Victrola,
Heir apparent to the Mazda
Of the tube Coca Cola.

Through the forests strolled the lovers,
Woods untrod by Anglo-Saxon,
"Lovely, little, wrigly Chiclet,"
Were the burning words of Klaxon.
"No Pyrene can quench the fire,
Tho' I know you're still a miss.
Oh, my prese-lite desire,
Let us wed, thmpken djer-kiss."

There is something the matter with any woman when she is willing to let a man do all the talking.

Hoax—"Did your garden win any prizes last summer?"

Coax—"Indirectly, yes. My neighbor's chickens took first prize at the poultry show."

How a bald-headed man does sneer at a woman who dyes her hair!

Slogans: Gov. Edwards—"Westward ho!"
W. J. Bryan—"Westward H 20"

"If you get it in the neck, be glad you are not an ostrich or a giraffe."

CLASS ELECTIONS

UNDERGRADUATES SELECT LEADERS FOR SCHOOL YEAR.

On Thursday and Friday, September 16th and 17th, Bucknell's eight hundred students entered upon the initial work of making this college year the success it purparts to be when the four classes selected their leaders.

Every activity in the University is carried on thru its classes. All that Bucknell aims for in academic, athletic or social advancement comes primarily thru the student body.

So, interest in the election of a man to lead the school thru the Senior class was particularly high.

Standing solidly behind Dick Mason, who typifies in his office of senior president all that Bucknell represents, is the class of 1921.

Those officers of the senior class who were chosen are as follows:

Pres. Richard A .Mason
Vice Pres. William Baird.
Sec. Lydia Coene.
Treas. Victor Clare.

On Friday afternoon the Junior, Sophomore and Freshmen classes had their elections.

The results of Election day are:

JUNIOR CLASS

Pres. L. W. Ross.
V. Pres. Ralph Miller.
Treas. Marvin A. Searles.
Sec. Susanna H. Plummer.

SOPHMORE CLASS

Pres. Frank R. McGregor.
V. Pres. Alvin F. Julian.
Trea. Thomas Christley .
Sec. Marion A. Jack.

FRESHMEN CLASS

Pres. Seward Seybold.
V. Pres. Robert Gray.
Trea. Emile Coene.

Brown—"What's old Jones doing now?"
Robinson—"Oh he's working his son's way thru college."

Stephen F. Dimilich, '20, employed at the Atlas Powder works at Tamaqua, was here for the Ursinus game.

Victor B. Luchsinger, '09, who is a member of the editorial staff of the Wilkes-Barre "Times-Leader", visited his Phi Gamma Delta brothers over the week-end.

PROF. SMITH AND DR. HUNT SPEAK AT BIG MASS MEETING

A rousing meeting was held at Bucknell Hall Friday evening in preparation for the Bucknell—Ursinus game the following day. Songs and cheers swelled out, while the band played several "peppy" selections.

Mason, senior president presided, and after the football men had taken their accustomed places, called on the father of Athletics at Bucknell, Bromley Smith, to speak. Prof. Smith to speak. Prof. Smith gave some amusing stories about several of the six-footers who played football for B. U. Some of the stories were quite obviously stretched.

Dr. Emory W. Hunt, president of the University, linked up his talk with Prof. Smith by saying that it was one of these old-time players who was the cause of Bowser's coming to B. U. Dr. Hunt then contrasted the spirit shown at English games and at American games. Football, he said, is largely a game of psychology, of determination. Three of the outstanding statements in Dr. Hunt's speech were "I like the spirit shown here", "I respected our men when they left the field last week," and "Tomorrow's game starts here.".

A number of the football men spoke, each at more or less length, Cavalcante proved himself a silver tongued orator, and he thinks Bucknell's spirit is "marvelous." The men who spoke were Bowser, Wilisbach, Cavalcante, Bellak, Jameson, Morett, Julian, Gdanele, Wargo,, Biehl, McDermott, and Hahn.

Arthur Harris announced that the election of head cheerleader would take place, and introduced Florin and Bechtel, the two candidates. When the vote was counted, Florin had 133 and Bechtel 126.

WOMEN

A woman is queer, there's no doubt about that.
She hates to be thin, and she hates to be fat.
One minute it's laughter, the next it's a cry
You can't understand her, however you try.
But there's one thing about her which everyone knows—
A woman's not dressed till she powder's her nose.

WAR RISK NOTES

Of the twelve former service men who were killed in the explosion in Wall Street, New York last Thursday noon, only two had maintained their government war risk life insurance after being discharged. One of these was Colonel Charles Neville, until recently in the Quartermaster Corps, U. S. A. and the other William T. Joyce, an employe of J. P. Morgan & Company, and a former member of the United States Signal Corps. Colonel Neville and Joyce each carried a $10,000 policy. The former officer named his wife as beneficiary and Joyce, who lived at 1506 Ditmas Avenue, Brooklyn, made his mother, Mrs. Esther Payne Joyce, his beneficiary. Joyce entered the service March 8, 1918, and like more than 46 per cent. of the other men joining the colors, named his mother his beneficiary.

The other former service men, who met their death in the explosion, had allowed their insurance to lapse.

INTERCLASS TRACK AND RELAY

An interclass track and relay meet has been scheduled for the 16th of October. The following events will be included in the meet: 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, 440 yard dash, 880 yard dash, 1 mile run, 2 mile run and 1 mile relay. Prof Bromley Smith will have general supervision of the arrangements. Williams, track captain, and the class managers and captains have been asked to cooperate with him to make this event a success Practice began last Monday, and every afternoon sees a good sized squad out preparing for the coming events.

Freshmen and Sophmores participating will be given credit for this work in their Physical Education requirement. The ability and interest displayed in this meet will have much to do determinining the policy of the Athletic board in field and track sports next spring.

FRILL AND FROWN HOLDS A COSTUME CELEBRATION

Organization Day was celebrated by Frill and Frown dramatic society in the Womens College living room on Wednesday last, when each "Frill and Frowner" came dressed to represent some actress or book character. The costumes were many and varied, one thought upon gazing upon some of Mark Sennett's Bathing Beauties, Mary Pickford, The Signorita Strongfeats, as well as little Peter Pan and Lord Fauntelroy.

Short extemperaneous sketches were presented by groups of two and three, such as the lifting of a five hundred pound weight by Signorita Strongfeat, the five hundred pound weight being a tennis ball. Then, too the bathing beauties gave a beach scene that assumed the onlookers that Mack Sennett is missing something when he does not have these fair co-eds in his company.

MANY NEW ADDITIONS ARE MADE IN THE UNIVERSITY FACULTY THIS YEAR

Six Bucknell Graduates Are Included In List of New Instructors and Professors.

The Bucknell faculty has been reinforced this year to meet the increased demands necessititated by the increased enrollment.

Prof. Ames L. Herold now occupies the chair of English Literature, made vacant by the death of Dr. Enoch Perrine last spring. In 1909 Prof. Herold graduated from Washington and Lee University with the B. A. degree. In 1912, after doing graduate work in English at Columbia, he received the M. A. degree from Washington & Lee. His connection with such universities as Cincinnati and Columbia brings him to Bucknell with a wealth of experience.

The department of Romance languages is particularly fortunate in having secured Prof. E. Belfort S. de Magalhaes, a native of South America. Prof. Belfort received his Bachelor's degree from Spencer College, Bohia state, Brazil. In 1905 he came to the United States and has done work in Richmond College, Ewing College, Colgate, University of Virginia, Harvard and George Washington University. From 1912 to 1916 he was a member of the staff of the Pan American Union at Washington, D. C., and has also been attached to the faculty of Richmond College Columbia and Lafayette. Prof. Belfort is the author of several books and in a short time expects publication of "Brazil the U. S. and Defense of the Monroe Doctrine." This book has been in the hands of the publishers since the spring of 1918, but owing to strikes and paper shortage it has been delayed until this fall.

Miss Genevieve Boland is an associate professor in the department of Romance languages. She received the B. A. degree from the University of Maine, M. A. and P. H. D. from Clark University. In addition to having taught in several colleges, the last of which was Hamlin College, Michigan Miss Boland has traveled and studied extensively in Germany, France and Italy.

This year Bucknell has added six of her own graduates to the faculty. In the Mathematics department John S. Gold and George L. Lowry are new instructors. Mr. Gold recently taught in the Towanda High school and Mr. Lowry was attached to the faculty here last year in the capacity of student-instructor. Herbert C. Greenland, class of '20, is in the English department. C. E. Glass takes the place of Malcolm Musser as physical director. Mr. Glass had been teaching in Columbus, Ohio. G. A. Irland is added to the Electrical Engineering department and R. J. Wilson to the Mechanical department. Both of these instructors have been doing special work with the Bethlehem Steel Company.

Miss Olive Douglas fills the vacancy in the Domestic Science Department caused by the resignation of Miss Rose Rainey. She is a graduate of West Chester Normal and also of Temple University. Last year Miss Douglass taught domestic arc in a Wyoming high school.

URSINUS WEEKLY PRAISES BIG ORANGE AND BLUE TEAM

The Ursinus Weekly gives the following account of the Bucknell-Ursinus football game.

"It was only during the first ten minutes of play that the Ursinus team looked as bad as the score would indicate. The Bucknell team started off with the kind of punch that had frightened the U. of P. team a week previous. The black line steadily retired to its own goal line, fighting all the way. Capt. Kostos scored within the first three minutes of play. It took the Varsity ten minutes to recover from the shock, after which recovery every inch of ground was vigorously disputed.

Bucknell scored 27 points the first quarter. The second quarter Bowser kicked a placement and made a touch down, thus totaling 9 additional units. In the third period they crossed the goal line but once, and in the fourth period crossed once more.

Bucknell outweighed and outplayed the Collegeville team, but Ursinus can find consolation in the statements of Beaver, the referee, and Reynolds, the coach of the Bucknell team. Beaver said, "That's the cleanest game of football I ever saw." while Reynolds stated, "there are some mighty scrappy men on that team." Anyone who has seen the Bucknell interference, would wonder how the visitors managed to keep the score down below fifty points, and yet Ursinus in the second half repeatedly made the larger team punt. However, the giant fullback, gained most of the ground for Bucknell, while Isenberg and Newitt was the combination which advanced the pigskin for Ursinus."

FROSH GIRLS HAVE INTERESTING RULES

FORBIDDEN TO WEAR SILKEN HOSE AND DISCUSS MEN. MUST WEAR GREEN RIBBONS AROUND NECKS.

Freshmen fellows are not the only ones up against it when it comes to obeying Freshmen rules, for several weeks ago in the Woman's College there was considerable excitement, and as a result each "Green One" found a copy of Freshmen Rules pasted on her mirror—the only mirror she has.

Those wicked Sophs to treat the Freshies so! Who wants to wear cotton hose all the time and how unbecoming a woman's hair is, without a hair net! Then too, Senuites just hate to wear hats down town, but if you see a co-ed adorned thusly, nine chances out of ten she's a Freshman.

The following are the rules which the Freshies must obey or pay the penalty:

FRESHMAN RULES 1920

1. Freshmen must at all times be courteous and show respect to teachers, upperclassmen and sophomores.
2. The Alma Mater must be learned within a week by all freshmen.
3. No high school, prep or other school insignia is to be worn.
4. Silk hose are not to be worn except on Sunday.
5. A green ribbon, one half inch wide, is to be worn tied around the neck with a bow, consisting of loops three inches long and streamers eighteen inches long. Attached to one end of this ribbon must be the freshman's name card.
6. Freshmen must give precedence to all sophomores wishing to use the telephone or to enter the post office.
7. Freshmen must not cut campus or cut corners when out walking.
8. Freshmen, when addressing sophomores, must say "Yes, Miss." or "No, Miss," as the case requires.
9. Freshmen must not be heard discussing men.
10. Freshmen must wear hats when off campus.
11. Hair nets or veils must not be worn except on Sunday.
12. All violations of the above rules shall be dealt with accordingly.

MASSMEETING HELD IN BUCKNELL HALL BEFORE NAVY GAME

FRATERNITY YELLS PROVE NEW FEATURE IN PROGRAM

PROFS. DAVIS AND MAGHALAES AND DR. HUNT GIVE TALKS

Enthusiasm Is Instilled Into Student Body For Coming Contest. Members Of Team Also Make Speeches.

A crowd that filled most of the seats in Bucknell Hall was the result of the announcement of last Thursday night's mass meeting. There were the usual preliminary cheers and songs, and selections by the band. Then the football men came in, marching up the aisles while cheers and yells of all sorts were flung at them.

Mason, senior president, presided over the meeting, and introduced as the first speaker, Prof. Edmundo Maghalaes. Prof. Maghalaes gave a short talk that brought forth more applause than any other made this year. He emphasized enthusiasm as a factor in football; and concluded by saying that although he had just come to Bucknell from Lafayette, he knew that Bucknell would loose victorious from the battle scheduled for November 6.

Two other members of Bucknell's faculty spoke at the meeting. Dr. Emory W. Hunt urged the student body to exercise control of themselves in their celebration of victory saying that the calmer we took things the more outsiders would gain the impression that victories are not uncommon. Dr. Nelson F. Davis gave two trite extmples of the impossibility of surpassing Bucknell men in a game of wits.

Several football men had their chance to speak. They were Captain Kostos, Johnson, and Mangan. A soon-to-be football man was also introduced by Mason, but he proved to be to bashful to speak.

Following the mass meeting, Fresh man roll call was held, to the huge delight of a number of members of the Class of 1923.

Two announcements of interest were made. The first was that no more mass meetings will be held until the Gettysburg game; and the second was that in case of a victory over the Navy, school would be "out" on Monday, with a big celebration in the evening. The student body was also asked to give theh team a rousing send-off Friday at 1:05.

MINISTERIALS ENTERTAINED

About twenty-five ministerial students of Bucknell were entertained at Dr. Hunt's home last Thursday evening. An informal conference was held fn which Dr. Hunt outlined his idea of the proper conduct and attitude of a student for the Christian University. Mr. Kruginan, of the Student Volunteer Movement met the Student Volunteer group at the same time. Both groups then joined in a very exciting game of Biblical Baseball, after which refreshments were served.

S. A. E. DANCE

To the pledges of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity the active chapter gave a delightful dance on Friday, October eighth. From nine till two the "Phi Gamm" orchestra provided their unique interpretation of the latest dance music for the gathering of Lewisburg young ladies and college men. Intermission brought forth tasteful sandwiches and grape punch.

The patronesses were Mrs. Henry Meyer and Miss Lavinia Bender.

FRILL AND FROWN ELECTION

Frill and Frown, the Woman's Dramatic Society, held election of officers a week ago which resulted in the choice of the following:

President—Emily Devine.
Vice Pres. Mary Appleman.
Secretary—Esther Flemming.
Treasurer—Susanna Plummer.

Frill and Frown, which is composed of twenty-five members chosen by "try-outs" in short plays, are planning to have their open week the week of Nov. 1, when all Freshmen and Sophomores desiring a place in the sorority will hand in their names to the President and receive a part in a play. Preparations are now in order for the Annual Hallowe'en party.

KOCH WINS FIRST B.U. TENNIS CUP IN TOURNMENT

DEFEATS PURNELL IN STIFF GAMES IN FINALS

BRANDT WILL BE TENNIS CAPTAIN AND KOCH MANAGER

Exhibition Match Will Be Played Saturday Between Undergraduates And Faculty Tennis Teams Of The University.

The finals of the school tennis tournament were played last Saturday afternoon on the Phi Gamma Delta court, when J. C. Koch defeated J. S. Purnell in straight sets, 6-0, 7-5. Koch won the first set rather easily but received stiff opposition in the second and won only after a determined fight. The University donated a silver loving cup to be the permanent award to the winner of turnament. It is hoped to make this fall tournament a permanent institution.

From the men who played in the tournament will be picked four men to meet a faculty team in a practice match this coming Saturday. The faculty contains the following prominent wielders of the racquet; Dean Phillips, Professors Ballentine, Everett, Rassweiler, and Rockwell. An interesting match is promised when the school team meets the faculty next Saturday.

C. F. Brandt will captain next seasons tennis team and J. C. Koch has been appointed manager. A worthwhile schedule is being arranged and some big matches will be played here. All men who are interested in tennis are requested to remember that another elimination tournament will be played next spring before the final selection will be made to represent the school.

The results of the fall tournament are as follows: Preliminary round: Gray defeated Vollmer, 6-1, 6-1; Beers, F. defeated Hill, 6-1, 6-1; Beers, J. defeated Mengle, 6-1, 6-0; Purnell defeated Brandt, 6-2, 3-6, 6-1; Mahoney defeated Rickenbere, 6-1, 6-2; Davenport defeated Buck, 6-1, 6-2; Caldwell defeated Lapp, 6-3, 6-1.

First Round: Gray, bye; F. Beers defaulted to J. Beers; Purnell defeated Mahoney, 6-1, 6-0; Caldwell defeated Davenport, 6-3, 8-6; Koch defeated Stein, 6-1, 6-1, Haslam defeated Courean, 6-0, 6-4; Hartz defeated Treadwel, 7-5, 6-4; Hoffa defeated Brown, 6-1, 6-0.

Second Round: Gray defeated J. Beers, 6-1, 6-3; Purnell defeated Caldwell, 6-2, 9-7; Koch defeated Haslam, 6-1, 6-1; Hoffa defeated Hartz, 6-3, 1-6, 6-2;

Semi-Finals: Purnell defeated Gray, 6-3, 6-1; Koch defeated Hoffa 6-1, 6-0.

Finals: Koch defeated Purnell, 6-0, 7-5.

MECHANICALS ELECT OFFICERS AT MEETING

On Monday evening the Bucknell bunch of Mechanical Engineers Society held its first meeting and reorganized for the coming year. Prof. Burpee occupied the chair, and for the benefit of the new men present, gave an outline of the society, including its plans and purpose, together with its relation to the national branch of the A. S. M. E. The importance of membership in the local branch was emphasized as was the cooperation and relationship between the engineer and the society. The talk was appreciated by the large number present.

At the close of the business meeting, refreshments consisting of pears, apples, cider and ice-cream were served. The "Apple Knockers" made merry over their "eats" and displayed plenty of pep and spirit.

The officers elected for the ensuing year are:

President—Eugene Kallay.
Vice Pres. Paul A. Weaver.
Treas. Richard A. Mason.
Secretary Fred A. Foxall.

John T. Shirley, one of our Pittsburgh live-wires, has been elected secretary of the Pittsburgh Alumni Club.

The celebrated Freshman Sophomore football game will be held on Armistice Day, November 11, instead of on November 6. Great rivalry is expected when the two lower-class teams clash on the girdiron.

BUCKNELL LOSES HARD GAME TO THE HEAVY NAVY FOOTBALL TEAM

CUT SYSTEM IS EXPLAINED BY THE FACULTY SECRETARY

The following regulations governing class absences were adopted by the faculty:

1. Only absences caused by the appointments of the University may be excused by the Dean. Students should present to the Dean in writing a just and sufficient reason for the absence It is understood that no Professor may grant an excuse of any character.

2. The total number of absences in each Semester shall be reported at the close of each Semester.

3. Grades shall be presented to the Dean at the close of each Semester showing the standing of the student for work done in class on a basis of 100 as provided for in the Catalog page $6.

4. Whenever a student shall have accumulated a total of 18 unexcused absences from class and chapel during a Semester, the Dean shall deduct one semester-hour from the student's total credits for graduation. He shall notify the student of such deduction and require him to register for additional work for the succeeding Semester.

5. If, in meeting the above requirements, the student must carry work beyond that allowed by the regulation in the course which he is taking, he shall be charged for the additional work in accordance with the rule governing "Extra Hours" as printed in the Catalog, page 84.

6. On the authority of the Chairman of the Committee on Standing and Attendance, each Professor is authorized to treat all absences up to October 11th according to his judgement.

DELTA SIGMA DANCE

Delta Sigma held its first dance of the season in the Seminary parlors on October 9. The dance was given in honor of the new "Demes" and was enjoyed by all present. Angstadt's Snappy Serenaders, furnished the best of music and provided the pep for a very successful evening. Prof. and Mrs. David Moyer chaperoned the dance, and called time at 10:30 much to the dismay of the dancers.

NEW FRATERNITY ORGANIZED

A new local fraternity, to be known as Beta Kappa Psi, has appeared at Bucknell. A group of students with the sanction and support of President Hunt have founded the chapter. A suite of rooms in the Harrison Building, Market Street, is being furnished and will be ready for occupation within two weeks.

Bowser Only Man Who Is Able To Penetrate Middie's Line For Large Gains--Orange and Blue Plays Good Game.

Bucknell bowed to a superior force Saturday at Annapolis when the Naval Academy team defeated the Orange and Blue by the close score of 7-2. The teams were almost evenly matched, with Navy having a little better of the argument in possessing a heavier line. The work of the Bucknell backs, especially Bowser and Bellas was commented upon in the metropolitan newspapers, and the Orange and Blue was given much credit in holding down the powerful Navy eleven. It is extremely probable that if the Navy had not tried its winning forward pass, and had stuck to straight football that Bucknell would have won by a 2-0 score, as the Bucknell line repeatedly held the Navy for downs in spite of the disadvantage of being lighter.

Various members of the team stated that the officials were absolutely fair in their decisions, and that the team received excellent treatement by the Middies. The game was a rough one, but on this score the Bucknell team gave as well as it received. According to reports received at the Orpheum during the game Dooley tackled the Navy man which gave Bucknell the safety, but newspaper reports credit it to Hahn.

The Bucknell scrubs played Mansfield Normal at Mansfield, and lost by a close score of 7-0. The winning touchdown was made in the last 12 seconds of play. It rained during the whole game, and the field was very difficult to play on. The week before this same Mansfield team defeated Rochester 20-0.

Yesterday's Philadelphia Record gave the following account of the game:

The Navy solved Bucknell's running attack and open game this afternoon and won by 7 to 2. The opening made by the Navy's heavy line when that team had the ball and its fierce charging on the defense were the telling factors, though the local backfield showed great improvement

All the scoring was done in the third quarter. Kessler and Nagle carried the ball effectively for the Navy and Bowser, the big full-back, was the only man who could make yards for the visitors.

Receiving the ball on the kick-off on their own 15-yard line at the opening of the second half, the Navy made a fine, sustained attack which carried the ball to Bucknell's 20-yard line in a series of plays at different points of the line inside the ends. Koehler did by far the best carrying that he has shown this year, while Noyes, the plebe, further justified the high opinion which has been formed of him here.

The Navy team received the benefit of three successive penalties of five yards each caused by Bucknell offside playing. On the 10-yard line, however, Bucknell rose to the occasion and held for four downs. A touchdown was scored on the next play, however, a forward pass from Koehler to Owen. King kicked the goal. Bucknell gained 30 yards on a series across and forward pass, and Bowser attempted a field goal from placement on the Navy's 45-yard line. This at an angle, it was finely directed, but fell little short, and Noyes carried the ball to the Navy's 20-yard line. The Navy was penalized 15 yards for holding and fumbled on the next play. Ewen recovered the ball, but was thrown by Hahn behind his own goal line, a safety being scored. Bucknell tried a spread-out formation in the final period, from which it attempted forward passes and wide end runs. The Navy team solved all of its attempts and had rather the better of the quarter.

EDITORIAL

PLAY THE GAME.

In order to accomplish great things man has found union of purpose to be of the utmost necessity. No great group of individuals ever won a battle unless they worked together as a unit. The only way man can work in unity is to select leaders and then follow the leaders. The popular way of choosing leaders is by election. We elected a cheer leader some time ago who will lead the parades and demonstrations. He is popular with the student body. Let every loyal student stand by him. Let's hear no whisper of discontent. The last year has brought great changes in the administration of the University. What it has come a shifting power in the student body. Former leaders have been retired in favor of men who have found popular favor. The change was due and it came. Good men will fall in line behind the new leaders. Stragglers will soon be lost from the line forever. Bucknell is going on, greater today than ever before, to greater things than ever before attempted. No man is big enough to be a leader unless he is big enough to take his place among the followers of his successor. No man is so great but what the world soon finds a greater.

We are going to have unity among the boosters of the University. If a man cannot stand with the majority, he is not playing fair toHimselfnor to his school. Get together and celebrate our athletic victories. Back everything the school attempts and you will be building for your own success. It is the boosters that run the world.

STUDENT'S FORUM

WORTHY COMMUNICATIONS FROM BUCKNELL UNDERGRADUATES AND ALUMNI WILL BE PRINTED IN THIS COLUMN IF PROPERLY SIGNED AND SENT TO THE EDITOR.

A GREAT NEED

If there is one need that is paramount for the success of Bucknell, athletics this year, it is development or organized and effective cheering. Coaches and players will testify to the fact that the vocal and spiritual support of a well trained and well led cheering section is an important factor in the winning of games.

Bucknell, long noted for her spirit and for the cheering ability of her student body, has been lax in maintaining this reputation in the past few years. This, like many other defects, may be blamed partly upon the effects of war, but not entirely so. Both cheering staffs and student body have been apathetic in their support of Bucknell's teams. The experience of the past year has proven that the substitution of individual witticisms for organized support is a failure.

It is the duty this year of the cheer leader and his assistants to develop and maintain a cheering body that is well trained and enthusiastic. This is not an easy task, but it is a necessary one, and it merits the support of every loyal Bucknellian. It is a task which must be begun soon and continued thruout the entire year. It is a task that coaches, players and alumni demand and expect to be accomplished. It is a task in which the greatest service is demanded of the Freshman class.

Bucknells athletic teams this year will fight to the limit of their endurance and ability, just in so much as Bucknell's men and women rally behind them with the full strength of voice and enthusiasm.

THE BLUSHING BRIDE

They tell us of the blushing bride
Who to the altar goes
And down the aisle of a church
Between the friend filled rows.
There's Billy whom she motored with
And Bob with whom she swam;
There's Jack—she used to golf with him—
And Steve who called her "Lamb."
There's Ted, the foot ball man she owned,
And Don of tennis days;
There's Hulbert, yes and blond Eugene.
They took her off to play.
And there is Harry, high school heavy
With whom she used to mush,
No wonder she's a blushing bride!
Ye Gods! She ought to blush!

WONDERFUL REDUCTIONS IN FALL MILLINERY

We would rather sell 100 hats and make $1.00 on each hat than to sell 20 hats and make $5.00 on each hat. You my think that is funny, but don't you see in the first instance we have a hundred satisfied customers, and in the second only 20—and we are after the volume of business, which counts most in our estimation.

Pick your fall hat from one of these special lots:

Children's hats—one lot at $1.00 and another lot at $1.50 choice.

Every hat in these two lots are from $1.00 to $1.50 under price.

Women's trimmed and tailored hats, former values up to $6.95, special $3.95.

Second lot, former values up to $10.95, for $5.95.

Third lot, former values up to $12.95, for $6.95.

Besides these special lots you will find different hats on display every day. In fact, we believe our display is the largest in this section, and at all times we try to keep our prices at the bottom.

NEW AND DELIGHTFUL FALL COATS, SUITS AND FINE DRESSES

It's easy to find your way to Seidel & Spangler's ready-to wear department, where your eyes will behold the largest and finest collection in this section.

Our latest styles, high grade tailoring and finest materials are attracting the attention of the very best dressers of this community. The many shades and combinaions are so beauutilful and so numerous that we are able to please the most tasty.

Moderte prices are the main features this fall. You'll be surprised at them when we quote you.

University of Wisconsin

One hundred and thirty-five students are earning their way while attending the University of Wisconsin this year. Stenographic work, clerkships in the University and Capitol, caring for children, serving at parties, doing ironing in private families, mending, making candy, and working in cafterias are among the occupations undertaken by these women.

Penn-State

Penn State has organized a Volunteer Student Fire Department. The entire company numbers about fifty men, including the chief and four captains. The campus has been divided up into districts, and the men of the department, organized into sections, will be assigned to supervise the work in these districts. In the near future a fire house will be furnished to house the apparatus. The chief and some of his captains will room here, so that there will be some one on duty at all times.

—o—

SWARTHMORE

Swarthmore students are returning this year to one of the best equipped colleges in the east. To the former good facilities have been added the new engineering building. Hicks Hall and an extension to the Science building known as the Trotter Memorial.

Hicks Hall has not as yet had all of the equipment installed, but within the next two weeks will be perfect order. Dr. Blessing, who was at the head of the department last year, has designed a building which for its utility is probably the best in the country.

The mechanical Laboratory and the electrical equipment are yet to be installed, and it is the plan of the heads of the department that the students themselves will do the greater part of this work, thereby obtaining some very valuable experience.

U. of Illinois

Seven men at Illinois are now wearing the flaming crimson pledge ribbons of the Lambda Tau Rho fraternity. This is an honorary redhead fraternity, with chapters at many of the leading universities.

Purdue

All cases of dishonesty reported at Purdue University, will be published in the Daily Exponent, each month. The Dishonest Committee and the Student Council are co-operating on this policy in an effort to eradicate all forms of cheating.

An industrial university to cost $5,000,000 will be erected in Shanghai, if the plans of Chinese educators and industrial leaders are attained. A novel feature of the proposed university will be the incorporation in it of a complete cotton mill which will employ its students and require them to perform productive toil as well as school work.

North Dakota Aggies

The students of North Dakota Agricultural College made an all-institutional average in all classes for the last semester last year of 79.2 per cent. The average of all the women was 82 per cent of the men 77.8 per cent. Fraternity men average 78.1 per cent while non-fraternity men averaged one-half of one percent lower. Sorority women averaged two percent higher than non-sorority women.

CHEMICAL ENGINEERING SOCIETY HOLDS MEETING

The first regular meeting of the Chemical Engineering Society was held in the Chemical Labratory last Thursday evening with a good number in attendance. After the usual preliminaries the meeting was turned over to the program committee. Mr. Merrill Dewire gave a very interesting talk on "The Production and Fabrication of Aluminum," as it is done in the Niagara Falls plant of the United States Alumnium Co.

He explained the whole process of the manufacture, from the time the ore is received until it is the finished product, sheet alumnium. The capacity of the plant at the present time is about two million pounds per month. The method of removing the metal from the ore is known as the "Hall Process" Mr. Dewire touched on the production and reduction of the ore, remelting, rolling, annealing, packing and shipping. He also brought in the lay out of the factory as well as the source of electrical power and methods of application. Samples were on hand and passed among the present.

The next meeting will be held on Thursday eve. Oct. 28, at which time Mr. Hobart Brown will give a talk on Phosphoric Acid. Any freshmen who are interested are invited to attend.

INITIATIONS HELD

Within the past two weeks the various sororities at the Woman's College have held their initiation. The following girls were taken into the sororities:

PI BETA PHI:—Morjorie Nichols, Geraldine Schmucker, Marguerlete Brieny, Dorothy Auer, Helen Ferguson, Elva Flannigan, Dorothy Markham, Natalie Musser. Louise Llewelyn, Dorothy Sholl, Gladys Emerick, Emily Kurtz, Margaret Small., Majorie McCoy, Anna Hill.

ETA SIGMA:—Margaret Morgan, Sue Post, Anna Coyne, Marian Murphy, Louise Hood, Florence Horam, Helen Kerstetter, Elizabeth Grove, Mabel Baker.

KAPPA DELTA'—Bertha Smith, Anna Flsher, Marian Jack.

DELTA DELTA DELTA:—Anna Althouse, Ruth Ruhl, Margaret Lees.

CHEMICALS MEET

At a recent meeting of the Chemical Engineering Society plans for a wide awake organization were discussed and perfected.

In the near future it is expected to hold regular meetings at which time interesting programms will be delivered. Various committees were appointed and the following officers elected for the ensuing year.—

President—Alan R. Haus '21
Vice President—Grant O. Herh '21
Secretary—Walter B. Shaw '23
Treasurer—Victor G. Clare '21

The Senior Chemicals accompanied by Professors Brown and Schuyler enjoyed all the pleasures connected with a "chicken and waffle" supper Monday night of last week at the Hopp Hotel, Mifflinburg. Much rivalry was shown in disposing of the waffes Anglstadt and Yarnall seemed to have the better of the argument, each having twelve to their credit, while 'Steve' Wargo with tears in his eyes stood by and watched the contest.

After everyone had eaten his fill, short talks were given by all those present.

"Cy" Haus was acclaimed the victor in this contest. The program was concluded by the singing of "Ray Bucknell."

ENDOWMENT SEEMS TO BE ASSURED

Treasurer Judd Makes Fine Report At Baptist Banquet In Williamsport On Tuesday of Last Week

Last Thursday evening a Bucknell banquet was held at Williamsport in connection with the Pennsylvania State Convention of Baptists in session there. One hundred and sixty eight Bucknellians, chiefly alumni, were present. Toasts were given by President Hunt, Dr. Martin, and Dr. Judd, treasurer of the university. The glee club journeyed to Williamsport for the occasion and lent the charm of music to the occasion.

Dr. Judd, in his toast told the following interesting facts about the progress of the Endowment Fund. Known subscriptions direct to the university to the present date amount to $146,700. About $30,000 has already been received in cash. The total amount represents subscription from 462 persons. Dr. Judd has not computed what percent this is of the whole alumni of Bucknell, but one fact is evident—that there is unlimited opportunity for Bucknell graduates to share in this work for their alma mater.

Bucknellians everywhere are asking the question, "What of our promised $1,500,000?" The answer is this If the Board of Promotion of Northern Baptists realizes their financial goal of one hundred million dollars in five years, Bucknell will receive the remainder of her $1,500,000 above what has been subscribed thru her own campaign. The Promotion Board now has $11,000 to be turned over to our treasury. $125,000 is promised us within ayear. Subscriptions of various amounts are constantly arriving. A new drive will be put on throughout the Baptist denomination in November to continue until Easter, at which time their financial goal will in all probability be reached. The endowment fund reports "Progress."

FOOTBALL CLASSIC

Moyers Hash Hounds were defeated by Ream's Bean Jugglers last Saturday afternoon in one of the most spectacular games ever witnessed on the local campus. The game was called at three o'clock and started at three forty-five. After a secret scrimmage held by moonlight the previous evening Moyer's delegation were ready for a hard battle. But "Mother" Ream's boys baffled them by a system of signals which positively could not be understood by anyone. Forward passes figured extensively, the game being won by a long pass to Klein, who ran forty yards for a goal in the first quarter.

Reams	Position	Moyers
Klein	Left end	Ransom
E. Coe	Left guard	W. Smith
Geddy	Center	Heronomous
M. Coe	Right guard	Sousley

FROSH GIRL DELIVERS NOVEL LECTURE ON MEN FOR SOPHS

"Freshies are not allowed to talk about men," so the Fresmen Rules read and the Sophs say, "Woe unto her who disobeys." This however did not phase some of the "green ones" and as a result, one poor little Freshie had to entertain the class of '23 with a lecture on "Men". Then too, some of the Freshies made the Sophs sit up and take notice when a sign "Sophomore Meeting Tonight" appeared on the bulletne board and lo! when the Sophs did appear they found their meeting but the work of the Freshies.

However, in all, Freshmen Rules are being given and taken in a very good spirit this year. One cannot help but honor the Sophs when one sees how good they are to the Freshies and the Freshies are reciprocating the good will of the Sophs by obeying the Freshman rules, which after all are one of the best parts of college life.

BUDGET SYSTEM IS NOW MADE CLEAR

METHOD OF GETTING MONEY FROM GENERAL ACCOUNT IS MORE FULLY EXPLAINED BY FACULTY COMMITTEE

Ever since the budget was voted in by the student body, it has been the subject of much discussion. Bills incurred by the various classes and organizations were delayed in payment last year until the system was thoroughly understood and the treasurers received the money due them.

This year, while the system is on the same basis, it differs from last year in that a common treasury has been established known as the general students' organization account.

The budget allotment of $13.00 is paid at the Registrar's office with the regular college bill. The first semester's division amounts to $7.00 and the second to $6.00. As soon as the budget is paid, the entire fund is turned over to Prof. Drum, chairman of the finance committee, and deposited by him in the Lewisburg National bank to the credit of the general students' organization account. Books are kept by the committee, showing the distribution of the budget to the various organizations.

Whenever an organization desires money the student treasurer of such organization fills in a check, stating the purposes of the disbursement desired. This check must then be countersigned by the faculty advisor of the organization in question. When the check is thus countersigned, showing the approval of the advisor to the expenditure, the finance committee cannot refuse to pay it.

It is the belief of the finance committee that this system should appeal to the students and that after it has gotten into working order it will prove as successful at Bucknell as it has in other colleges.

Organizations having funds aside from those collected from the budget may have separate accounts for these funds if they desire, but it is hoped that they will avoid the complexity of two accounts by placing this amount in the general students organization account. This amount will then be credited to the organization in question on the books of the finance committee. At the end of the year an itemized statement will be published showing the financial status of each organization.

NO PLANS YET

No definite plans for a program for Armistice Day have as yet been made, with the exception that the Freshman Sophomore football scrap has been scheduled for that date. The committee in charge has announced that it would be a few days or so until definite assurance that a program will be held could be given. If a program is given, the school will enjoy a holiday; if not, school will be in session.

NEWSPAPER MEN HOLD CONFERENCE AT PENN. STATE

BUCKNELLIAN REPRESENTED BY EDITOR AND MANAGER

COLLEGIAN A WONDERFUL HOST

Intercollegiate Newspaper Association spends Delightful Week-End at State College.

With the Penn State "Collegian" as host, the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association held its annual Fall conference at State College Friday and Saturday. The members of the "Collegian" staff proved to be ideal hosts, and everything possible was done for the convenience and entertainment of the visitors. The "Bucknellian" was represented by Manager Victor G. Clare and Editor George Schuyler, who made the trip Friday by automobile.

The first meeting was held Friday evening in the Liberal Arts building on the Penn State Campus, and after the meeting the members were entertained at a dance at the Sigma Chi house. Saturday morning the various newspaper representatives were conducted on a tour through the campus, and inspected the buildings with interest, especially the agricultural and dairy farms. They were also treated to a view from the top of "Old Main" from which point they could look into four counties as well as see a beautiful view of the Penn State campus.

Saturday afternoon the visiting journalists were taken to New Beaver Field, where, in a reserved box in the new stands, especially decorated for the occasion, they saw Penn State pile up a 109-7 score against Lebanon Valley, in a contest which seemed more like a track-meet than a football game. That evening a smoker was held for the I. N. A. members at the Phi Delta Theta house, following which the members went to dances at the Phi Gamma Delta, Alpha Zeta, and Pi Kappa Alpha houses, using the Penn State custom of visiting from house to house.

A very interesting business session was held in the Liberal Arts building on Friday evening, at which time it was decided to have the next conference at Gettysburg in May. The visitors were welcomed to Penn State by Dr. Stoddard, dean of Liberal Arts department, followed by a paper by H. C. Kiessling, of "Pennsylvania Grit", telling of the making of a weekly newspaper, and also telling the cause of the advance in the cost of printing different papers. The "Thielenian", of Thiel College, was admitted into the association by a unanimous vote of the members present. The design for the key of the association was selected, and will be sent to the individual members within a few weeks.

Among the colleges represented were Rutgers, Lafayette, Gettysburg, Ursinus, Muhlenburg, Thiel, Washington and Jefferson, Bucknell and Penn State. All of the delegates left the conference with nothing but the highest praise for the Penn State hospitality.

S. A. E. PARTY

Pennsylvania Zeta chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon entertained a number of college women last Saturday with an auto truck ride to the "Forest Inn," where a fine dinner of fried chicken and waffles with maple syrup was greatly enjoyed. The destination was reached after a ten mile ride in three auto trucks, in time to allow a six inning game of the national sport before the time came for the bounteous repast. The baseball game was intended to work up an appetite, but it was found useless, as the dinner was of such goodness that an appetite was unnecessary.

The afternoon was spent in gathering chestnuts, or, as one of the party expressed it, "Robbing the squirrels," and the day passed all too quickly for the happy pleasure seekers.

TRI DELTA'S INITIATE

Delta Delta Delta held its initiation last week in the Womens College when the following girls were initiated. Emma Kunkle, Margaret Lees, Anna Althouse and Ruth Ruhl. Later a dinner at Steininger's was enjoyed.

"BUCKNELLIAN" STAFF SELECTED FOR THIS YEAR

MANY NEW NAMES ARE SEEN ON LOCAL NEWSPAPER BOARD

SEVERAL PLACES STILL OPEN

New Members of Staff Give Promise of Developing Into Good College Journalists.

After three weeks of strenuous competition, the editor takes pride in announcing the names of those who have earned the right of a place on the staff of the Bucknellian. The new staff was selected by the committee of the English department, headed by Prof. L. L. Rockwell, and contains the names of many who have already distinguished themselves in Bucknell journalism, as well as a few who are breaking into the game for the first time. There are still places for a few more Bucknell students who wish to try out, providing their work comes up to the high standard of that already set by the new staff.

The position of Assistan: Editor, who automatically becomes Editor-in-chief next year has not yet been filled, although there are several promising candidates out for that position. It is probable that an assistant editor will be selected within the next month, as none of the candidates are prepared at this time for this difficult and responsible position.

Heading the list of staff members is Finley Keech, '22, Editor-in-chief of this years L'Agenda. Keech has had a great deal of journalistic experience, and has always been noted for being a faithful worker. Perry Rogers, '22, is another member having a good, clear journalistic style, and has already distinguished himself in English work at Bucknell. Fred A. Foxall, after working faithfully for a staff position, has received the coveted appointment and is making good in this line. One of the most promising members of the Sophomore delegation is John C. Koch, who spent his summer vacation taking an advanced course in journalism at Columbia University. He has also had several years experience along reportorial lines on the Harrisburg "Patriot." Herbert Haslam needs no introduction to readers of the Bucknellian. At the present time he is also engaged in publicity work for the University. E. E. Caldwell is just breaking into the journalistic game this year, but shows a particular aptitude for newspaper work. A. L. Wheat has had newspaper experience in New Jersey, and gives promise of developing into a first class journalist.

Daniel Villinger is the only Freshman who has so far made the staff. Villinger, however, comes well prepared, having spent several years as a reporter on the Williamsport "Gazette and Bulletin," and also having edited several High school publications in that city.

Because of the additional work thrust upon the Editor this year by having the Bucknellian printed outside of Lewisburg, it has been necessary to have a man to edit the exchanges, and to select suitable jokes and notes on other colleges. Francis F. Reamer, '21 has been selected to take the position of Exchange editor. Perhaps no one in the University is more capable to do this work. In the spring of 1918, when only a Sophomore, Reamer was appointed Editor-in-chief of the Bucknellian, and held that position until he was called into the service of his country. He was also Editor of the Commencement News of 1918, and held a place on the board of the 1921 L'Agenda.

A large part of the editorial work has been taken over by Nelson Rousley, '21, who has had previous experience on the Harrisburg "Telegraph", and has also been on the staff of the Bucknellian for several years, as well as the L'Agenda board.

The Womens College is being well taken care of by Emily Devine, '21, and Amorita Sesinger, '22. Both of these staff members have devoted much time to a study of the English language, and both have had previous journalistic experience. Miss Devine has been a member of the Bucknellian staff for three years, and as a result of her faithfulness has been appointed an Associate.

ORANGE AND BLUE WINS AT ALLENTOWN

FRILL AND FROWN COMPLETE PLANS FOR ANNUAL PARTY

Frill and Frown, at a meeting on Thursday night, made final preparations for the annual Hallowe'en party which is to be held Saturday evening, Oct. 30th in the Woman's College. All the ghosts and "spooks" will be present in the gym this year to greet the guests as they enter, and the gym, by the way, will look as it never did before.

Prizes are offered by Frill and Frown for the prettiest as well as the most original costumes.

Classes are well into the work of preparing their songs and yells, this being the first opportunity the Freshies get for telling the Sophs just what they think of them without standing aside in fear of their lives. No doubt the annual fried oysters and pumpkin pie will be present on that glorious occasion, the eve of Hallowe'en.

GLEE CLUB SCORES HIT AT MEETING

INITIAL APPEARANCE VERY WELL RECEIVED BY BAPTIST STATE CONVENTION AT WILLIAMSPORT LAST WEEK.

The Bucknell Glee Club journeyed to Williamsport on Tuesday evening and furnished the music for the services that evening of the Pennsylvania Baptist State Convention meeting in the First Baptist church. They were greeted by a large audience and gave with splendid effect at both the evening banquet and the general session of the Convention, and many were the words of commendation for their good work.

Manager Hartz and his assistant remained in Williamsport on Wednesday and Thursday in order to confer with the pastors and delegates from the various cities in regard to the possibilities of holding concerts in their cities, wonderful interest and co-operation were manifested on the part of all, the possibilities for concerts are so numerous that it may be necessary to hold two trips through western Pennsylvania and the usual eastern trip, aside from the general run of "near-by" engagements. In all, delegates and pastors from almost forty towns were interviewed and in almost every instance the conversation was favorable for a concert. Many towns visited last year are asking for return concerts, as well as the many new towns to be visited.

This makes an opening—a good opening—for what looks like Bucknell's best Glee Club year, and with an outlook such as was secured at Williamsport, every Glee Club man should be right at his best to help put across the program that is possible as a result of this trip to the convention. Definite dates for the various trips will be announced as soon as contracts are signed and the schedules arranged.

The next rehearsal of the club will be on Monday night at Bucknell Hall Every man should be in place to prepare for the first real concert of the season which will be held in Milton Baptist church on Thursday evening, October 28th. The lists for the trip will be posted early in the week.

The following clipping was taken from the Williamsport "Gazette and Bulletin," and shows the reception given to the Glee Club in that city.

Ralph Hartz and Merrill DeWire, memebrs of the Bucknell Glee club, which appeared so successfully at one of the evening sessions of the Baptist convention this week, have been in the city for several days arranging dates for future concerts. The organization has gained a state-wide reputation during the past few years, and the thirty-five members, who now compose the club are well equipped from the standpoint of talent to increase the fame and popularity of the organization during the coming season.

One concert will be given under the auspices of the High School during Thanksgiving season and other concerts are being arranged to be given for the local churches.

Heavy Muhlenberg Football Team Is Defeated By Fast Bucknell Warriors In Easy Game

In a game that did not show the greatest of Bucknell's possibilities, the Orange and Blue defeated Muhlenberg at Allentown Saturday by a score of 43-0. According to members of the team, the two features of the game were made by Bowser, the giant fullback. At one period of the game he astonished the crowd with a goal from placement from the 44 yard line similar to the one made here against Ursinus, and at another time he got off on a pretty 35 yard run through most of the Allentown team without any interference, there having been a hitch in the play. His kick-offs were also marvelled at by Muhlenberg, as each one of them sailed past the opposing team's goal line. Although the game was an easy one for Bucknell the Orange and Blue warriors worked hard, and each man played his best. Coch Reynolds seems to have picked out a winning combination in the present line-up, and it is possible that he will continue it with few changes for the remainder of the season.

The story of the game is told very well by the Philadelphia Record as follows:

Allentown, Oct. 23.—No machine ever worked with finer precision than the Bucknell football team in scoring a 43-to 0 victory over Muhlenberg here this afternoon. The visitors earned every point because they were good. There was a crowd of 5000, mostly Muhlenberg rooters. Before the game was far advanced they were fascinated by the splendid playing of the visitors, and most of the applause was for the Bucknellians.

Muhlenberg at that, was game to the core and fought every inch, but could not hold the powerful battering rams from Lewisburg. If there was any roughness it was on the Muhlenberg side. Possibly, man for man the Muhlenberg players are as good men as the Bucknell war-horses, but the Allentown eleven was minus the marvellous work that makes a gridiron squad a victorious machine.

Bucknell played straight football and made every one of its six touchdowns through tackle, after pushing their opponents down the field. In the very first period the visitors took the heart out of the home team by scoring two touchdowns, one by Bowser and one by Wilsbach. McDermott missed his goal kick, but Mangan scored. In the second quarter Bowser twice went over the line, Mangan kicking both goals.

Muhlenberg got aggressive when the finest play of the game was pulled off by the visitors. The ball was sent back and from the 44-yard line Bowser kicked a field goal right through the middle of the posts.

In the third period Muhlenberg braced up and held the visitors, but in the last quarter, one by Bowser and the last by Wilsbach, the goals being kicked by McDermott and Mangan, Bucknell had 15 first downs and Muhlenberg six. Penalties, Bucknell, 65 yards; Muhlenberg, 25. Muhlenberg made a few gains with a tandem foundation and more by some successful blocking by Bond. It was said Bucknell did not extend itself, owing to the presence of scouts from Lafayette.

The line up was as follows:

Julian	Left end	Parks
Homan	Left Tackle	Taggart
Bihl	Centre	O'Connor
Reed	Right Guard	Snyder
Dooley	Right tackle	Bond
McDermott	Right end	Crowley
Mangan	Quarter-back	Feldman
Kostos, Capt	R half-back	Anderson
Bowser	Full-back	Bright

Substitutions—For Bucknell: Wargo for McDermott, Bellac for Mangan, Morgan for Bihl, Dietrick for Bowser, Gdaniec for Wilsbach: for Muhlenberg: Wills for O'Connor, Wills for Maxim, Skean for Snyder, Shook for Anderson, Faher for Bright

Touchdowns—Bowser, 4; Wilsbach, 2. Goals fro touchdowns—Man-

"I regret to observe the decline of the debating society in our modern college life. It seems to me that we are giving too much attention to athletics and too little to the mental development which comes from the rough and tumble contest of the debating society."

These are the words of William G. McAdoo, universally regarded as one of America's brainest men, in a recent interview with a representative of the Yale Daily News. Whether or not Mr. McAdoo was justified in making such a sweeping assertion, it is nevertheless a deplorable fact that so little attention has in late years been paid to debating at Bucknell.

To say that there is no interest shown here in the subject or that there is no material with which to work would be fallacious.

If, as Mr. McAdoo holds, debating is just as important as athletics in the development of good citizenship and if it is the purpose of Bucknell to send forth good citizens from her halls, why then would it not be advisable for the school authorities to take a hand in the matter, giving some official recognition to those who would elevate the mental standard of the school and have a share in bringing honor to the institution?

STAFF SELECTED

(From Page One)

According to Prof. Rockwell, the faculty advisor of the Bucknellian, this staff is a very representative selection of the best material in the school, and with such membership, the Bucknellian should again take one of the prizes offered by the Philadelphia "Public Ledger" for excellence in collegiate journalism.

GENERAL MOTORS CO. OFFERS FINE COURSE

EXCELLENT CHANCE FOR COLLEGE GRADUATES TO MAKE GOOD IN TRAINING SCHOOL FOR SALESMEN.

As a result of the vastly increased uses and need for passenger and truck transportation, the automotive industry now ranks second largest in the world. The number of motor cars registered in this country has increased 400 per cent since the war.

The position of the General Motors Corporation in this industry is unequalled—in fact it is the largest producer of a finished product of any kind—its sales for 1919 having totalled $509,000,000 while for the six months ending June 30, 1920 they were $320,000,000.

In this great organization, the Export division is perhaps the youngest, but because of the strategic position of the United States with regard to foreign trade, has rapidly become one of the most important of the subsidiaries. From a personnel of less than 200 in August 1919, it has expanded until it now employs more than 600 persons; but it is still anxious to secure men of the right calibre—mental, morall and physical—to represent it abroad, in the branch offices which are being established throughout the world.

Realizing, however that the number of men who possess the desired experience is relatively small, the General Motors Export Company has already organized a Training School in which it seeks to develop men who possess the potential qualities desired Naturally the college graduate is a logical candidate. Although he has a valuable training and mental discipline, yet he is not immediately qualified to assume the responsibility that come with representing so great an enterprise abroad. Therefore, at great expense, the company gives each man a year's training, divided as follows:

Three months in which the student goes to school from 9 until 3 P. M. in the Company class room and has from 3 until 5 P. M. for study. During these three months he is given instruction in the principles of salesmanship, practical salesmanship, sales letter and report writing, cable messages, foreign trade, accounting foreign languages, advertising, and office practice.

The next three months are spent in the Company offices at definitely assigned duties in the various departments; while the third quarter is spent in the Technical Shop with two hours per day instruction in the theory of internal combustion engines, and four hours daily in actual work on all the chassis' made by the Corporation. Here each man gets a thorough training in the electrical starting and lighting equipment of the cars, as well as in the repair, tear-down and assembly of the various units.

The final three months are spent in the offices in New York City. During the nine months following the lecture and class room work each man gets three hours per week of foreign language instruction.

Factory trips, lasting about three weeks, are worked in where the schedule permits, and at the end of the year each student who has been able to finish the course is given a position as a regular employee of the Export Company with a minimum salary of $150 monthly. Here he is employed until there is a vacancy abroad which he can fill. Upon foreign assignment, the minimum is $200 monthly with all legitimate expenses paid while travelling.

During the one year training period the salary is $100.00 monthly and at present an emergency allowance of $25.00 monthly is made to help meet living expenses in New York City.

As can be seen from the foregoing schedule, a new group of 24 men enters the School every three months. Of these, 12 men will be trained for work as Field Sales Representatives, 6 for work as Field Technical Representatives, and 6 for work as Accountants.

Field Technical Representatives will travel the territory assigned to their Branch and see to it that all dealers and distributors maintain the prope rkind of service stations; and when necessary, to help a distributor or dealer train his mechanics and service men, as well as to advise with him not only on the aylout of a service station, but also on the installation of the proper machinery and systems for handling spare parts and repair work.

While the Accountants will necessarily remain at branch headquarters, their work will be varied and the more valuable they can make themselves in the way of handling various matters, the more latitude and responsibility they would probably be given by the Branch Managers. In the beginning they will undoubtedly have to keep the books of the Branch, and will conduct much of the correspondence with the Home Office. It is probably that they will do the purchasing for the office, hire the help, and talk to dealers or distributors when the Branch Manager and his Assistant are away. The Accountant can probably become Office Manager of his Branch if he develops sufficient executive ability.

With such an organization, and possessed of such training, the future is limited only by the capability of the individual himself.

Requests for application blanks or further information regarding the Training School should be sent to Mr. L. C. Wilsey, Superintendent, Training School, General Motors Export Company, 120 West 42nd street, New York City.

The personnel of the group which has just completed the following educational institutions: Harvard, Cornell, Colgate, Dartmouth, Columbia, Princeton, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Brooklyn Polytechnic, University of Virginia, Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration, New York University School of Commerce, University of Maine, Wesleyan, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, University of Illinois, Leland Stanford University, Johns Hopkins, Carnegie Institute, Rutgers, and the University of Pittsburgh.

A CORRECTION

Inadvertently in the last number of The Bucknellian a misstatement regarding the graduate studies of Prof. Herold crept into a news item. The facts are that, while his master's work in Anglo-Saxon, Dante, Milton, and the drama, including a thesis entitled "Four Typical Tragedies," was completed at Washington and Lee in 1911-12, he has since then devoted two years to graduate study in English and American Literature at Columbia University, holding a University Scholarship there in 1915-16 and more recently an instructorship in Extension English. He has also completed a considerable part of the research for his doctoral dissertation a work interrupted and delayed by his service in the Adjutant General's Department of the U. S. Army.

DELTA SIGMA HIKE

On Saturday Oct. 16th Delta Sigma conducted a hike to Shriner's Island. The weather was ideal for the outing and the hike out was very enjoyable. As usual, the dinner hour was very popular and everybody was "on the job" to do justice to the meal. The day was enjoyed by all of the participants, who were ably chaperoned by Miss Boland and Miss Douglas.

Ernest Cruse '19 spent several days with his Delta Sigma brothers last week.

WONDERFUL CHOOSING AMONG WOMEN'S WINTER COATS THESE DAYS
And with October well under way women are beginning to think in earnest about their winter wraps. In all around coats, suitable for all occasions, we have made special efforts to get the best, and we believe that the most of our coats in stock today could not be duplicated at our very moderate prices.
With the vast assortment of coats we have in stock, in all the very latest weaves and shades, combined with the latest styles, finest qualities and high grade tailoring, we can assure you greater values and more for your money than many other stores can give you.
STUNNING FALL AND WINTER SUITS
...They're all-weather suits, and jolly companions for any woman to own. Colorings are particularly soft, running in all the newest fall and winter shades. Trimmings are in buttons, braid and fur. Also those neat, plain tailored styles, always so popular.
A WONDERFUL GROUP OF ALL-WOOL DRESSES
It is good to know that there are plenty of these dresses within the reach of all ,and that the styles are right up to the very latest, with trimmings of braid, beads and embroideries. These dresses are unusual values, and would cost much more to buy the materials and have them made than we are selling them at.
FURS ARE SCARCE—BUT NOT SO HIGH AS YOU WOULD EXPECT
We have placed on display an unusually good assortment for this time of the year. We have the nobby little neckpieces that are becoming so popular. Come in and see the new things in furs.

Other College Men and What Interests Them

The formation of a world student anti-alcohol organization is the probable result of the recent international student anti-alcohol conference held at Karlstad, Sweden. Delegates were present from abstinent, temperance or prohibition student organizations of Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Finland, Germany, Switzerland, Esthonia, and the United States. The American representative was Harry S. Warner, Educational Secretary of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association.

Three significant actions were taken by the internation conference. They outlined a plan to call another such conference, of larger scope, early next year, in some central European country, to complete organizing an international student anti-liquor movement. The name of the present ad interim organization was changed from International Bureau of Abstaining Students to World Student Anti-Alcohol Federation, thus broadening the aspect of the question as it will be taken up by the university students of Europe. Lastly, the conference resolutions protested against the invasion by foreign liquor interests of countries now engaged in a struggle against the liquor traffic, especially China and Norway.

The executive work of the organizaton for the coming year was left in the hands of the Swedish student leaders, partly because that country's neutrality during the war placed them in a more favorable position for international activtiy, and partly because the student abstinent organization in Sweden has thus far been most active in all Europe.

DEPAUW

The Student Council of DePauw University expressed a decided disapproval of any sort of class fighting other than those organized, at its first meeting of the school year, says The DePauw.

"Resolutions denouncing the recent class fighting as "hazing long out-grown in America colleges," says the paper, "were drawn up by the Council, and signed by Wallace Welch, president of the Student Body

IOWA STATE

"Nothing But the Truth," a play by James H. Montgomery, which has gained widespread popularity since its release only last spring is to be presented to the students of Iowa State College by the Dramatic Club, November 19.

This play has been showing in New York for the past year and a permit to show it at the university was secured with great difficulty. The Samuel French Company who controls the rights would not even send a copy of the play for approval until the royalty of $75 was in their hands due to the heavy demands for permits.

U. OF ILLINOIS

Fifteen solid cast bells, composing the senior memorial chimes, a gift of the University of Illinois, classes of 1914 to 1921 inclusive, are to be on the campus for Illinois homecoming October 30-31, according to the Daily Illini.

This gift of seven graduating classes will be dedicated at homecoming in the Library tower, where they are to be installed this month, at Champaign. The complete set will cost twelve thousand dollars. This is to include the cost of installation. Of this fund, $5,800 was contributed by the classes from 1914 to 1919, and the remainder by the two following classes, in addition to the School of Military donating of its memorial fund.

4,000 ENROLL AT TEXAS

Enrollment of students registered for the Fall term of the University of Texas has not yet been completer, but it is assured that the number will be above the 4,000-mark. Registration began Sept. 22 and it has continually grown until the high-water mark has now been reached. It is expected that enrollment will continue for about two weeks more.

THREE SORORITIES BREAK RUSH RULES AT INDIANA U.

Three sororities will forfeit part of their dances for not observing rush rules this fall, according to the decision of the Woman's Panhellenic Council. At the time that the new rush rules were adopted by the Council last spring, no provision was made for imposing penalties for breaking of the rules. During the rush this fall it was decided that all complaints of rule breaking would be filed with a committee appointed from the Council and that this committee would then recommend the penalties.

This committee based its recommendations upon the previous findings of the Panhellenic Council. The Council appointed a committee to consider the present set of rules and, using them as a basis to formulate new rules and elminate the outstanding defects of the old ones.

Each sorority has presented to this committee a list of suggestions for strengthening the rules. The Council decided that rush will be open for the rest of the year.

NORTHWESTERN

The library committee at Northwestern College gave $1,600 for needed volumes to be used by the different departments in the year's work. This sum triples that of last year.

AT IOWA STATE

Because of connection with hazing disturbances on the campus here two sophomore students were suspended from school for the remainder of the year last week.

The faculty committee on student government held a special meeting the following morning, at which time two were suspended and others were heard. Donald Weir, sophomore agricultural, and Sgrll G. Fraser, engineer, were the persons suspended.

NEW QUARTERS FOR DEPT. OF JOUDNALISM

The Department of Journalism at Indiana University will occupy new rooms in the Journalism Building. Numerous changes have been made in the interior plan of the building to facilitate quick action and better accommodation to the pressroom.

Many students are taking an interest in this departmen and arrangements have been made for about sixty.

In a large percentage of the Eastern colleges no Freshmen is permitted to go out with a girl until after Christmas.

A Wabash College man, Norman Littell, won $4,500 Rhodes scholarship for expenses at Oxford University.

The students at Dartmouth recently refused to adopt the honor system by a vote of 573 to 436. Students at Columbia have recently been debating this same question.

Iowa sets a new record for increase in the student body. They have gained 10 per cent this year.

PUBLISHES PAPER BI-WEEKLY

With the issue of last Tuesday, "The DePauw," official publication of DePauw University, began publication of a bi-weekly paper. It will now appear on Tuesday and Friday afternoons. Daily publication was suspended because of the cost of newspaper material. The management was reorganized and the paper is now being edited under a publishing board.

HOW ABOUT IT, GIRLS.

She was crazy about Harry because he danced divinely, sang like an angel, and played tennis like a young god.

She was just wild about George, who had curly lashes and money in the bank.

She loved to motor in Reggie's imported runabout, and gloried in his pretty speeches.

She listened to Archie's poetry with fast-beating heart and cheek pink-flushed.

She confessed herself hypnotized by Henri—he was so—suggestive.

And Bob, dear old thing, had said she had small feet.

But she married Jack, who had none of these qualities, because she thought her dearest friend wanted him.

"Bobbie, you're very naughty . I heard you tell sister to go to the devil."

"You needn't worry, Mother. She never does what I tell her."

CULTIVATING A QUIETUDE

"Nobody rings "Landlord, Fill the Flowing Bowl!" any more."

"No" said Uncle Bill Bottletop. "It's best not to stir the landlord up if you can help it. All he's liable to do is to raise the rent."

A few months after the dry wave hit our beloved country, a citizen who sometimes imbibed freely was fortunate enough (so he figured) to purchase a pint of his favorite brand.

He started for home with the bottle in his pocket, and in crossing the street slipped and fell.

As he rose he felt considerable pain in his hip, where the bottle was located, and was conscious of something trickling down the side of his leg.

"Suffering cats," he exclaimed, "I hope that is only blood.!"

PLANS MADE FOR NEW OFFICERS CLUB

Leading architects of the country will be asked to submit competitive drawings of the $3,000,000 clubhouse the Army and Navy Club of America is to build in New York in memory of the 3,500 officers who died in the war. The Memorial will be a national one, dedicated to the commissioned men in all branches of the service who made the supreme sacrifice.

Charles Dana Gibson, Edwin Howland Blashfield ,Henry Bacon and Benjamin Morris with Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, president of the club form the committee appointed to select the design for the building.

Notable contributions have been made to American Art and architecture by members of the committee on design. Edwin Howland Blashfield decorated the great central dome of the Library of Congress. His war posters attracted international attention. His most recent important work was the design for the government's certificate of honor issued for every man who died or was wounded in service during the war.

The impressive Lincoln Memorial at Washington was designed by Henry Bacon .He formerly was a member of the firm of McKim, Mead and White. He is a member of the National Institute of Arts and Letters, and the National Academy of Design.

Benjamin Morris was the architect for the Junius Spencer Morgan Memorial at Hartford, the Westchester county Court House at White Plains, and is the designer of the new Cunard Building at 25 Broadway New York. He is president of the Society of Beaux Arts Architects.

Charles Dana Gibson is known throughout the world as an illustrator. He has a wide personal acquaintance among artists and architects. "Life" was recently purchased by Mr. Gibson and he is now its publisher.

The new clubhouse will be centrally located and will serve not only as a monument to the men who died, but also as a home for living officers active or retired, in the army, navy or state militia. Civilians interested in the nation's defense are also eligible for associate membership.

The committee on design will decide the rules governing the competitive drawings the club will request of all the leading architects. Only tentative plans have been decided on, but interesting features of the new building are included in these.

The memorial feature will probably take the form of a central court or hall with bronze paneled walls where the names of those who made the supreme sacrifice will be engraved.

The present clubhouse at 18 Gramercy Park has long been unsuited for entertaining the hundreds of officers who annually come to New York. During the war members found it very inadequate. Naval officers of this and other allied countries were entertained at the New York Yacht Club, but Army officers in New York during those trying days found hotels overcrowded and themselves without a home to which they could go for suitable accommodations.

Since the war the need has been even more emphasized. While enlisted men have canteens, huts and clubhouses, the officers have been without a place to go for meals, or lodgings, except the very expensive hotels. The moderate pay of our military leaders has made the cost of stopping at these hostelries almost prohibitive.

In the new clubhouse there will be at least 400 bedrooms. A large dormitory furnished with cots will also be provided for use on special occasions when the city is crowded with service men.

There also will be a large assembly hall and small rooms for meetings of patriotic societies. Women friends of members, or women relatives of the deceased men will find a dining rom and reception room for their exclusive use. Other features to be found in a modern clubhouse will be cluded in the plans.

The club recently broadened its scope so as to include in its membership all officers, ex-officers, and all commissioned men with the allied armies during the war, numbering ap proximately 200,000.

Among the men recently elected to life membership are: Henry P Davison, who is chairman of the civilian committee; Vincent Astor, lieutenant in the navy during the war; Elmer A. Sperry, inventor of the gyroscope; J. P. Morgan, Arthur Curtis James, Charles H. Sabin, Brig. Gen. Guy E. Tripp, Brig. Gen Samuel McRoberts and others of equal prominence.

PHI GAM HIKE

With Miss Walton as a chaperone.. a number of Phi Gams entertained their "Sem" friends on a hike to Chillisquaqua Saturday.

LEON NOLL KILLED AT EL DORADO, KAN.

Karl D. Smith, '19, of El Dorado, Kansas, sent in the following clipping from "The Empire," a newspaper devoted to the interests of the employes of the Empire Gas and Fuel Company. The clipping deals with the death of Leon H. Noll, '19.

Leon H. Noll, a junior engineer employed in the El Dorado field, was found dead Friday morning in the motor house of Well No. 12, Anderson lease, four miles from El Dorado. The discovery was made about eight o'clock. It is believed his death was caused by an electrical shock from the switch in the motor room where he was working.

Mr. Noll had been working out of the Barnhill sub-station two weeks before his tragic death, and had been in the El Dorado field a short time previous to his transfer to meter-reading work. He was 26 years old.

He was a graduate electrical engineer from Bucknell University, and also took a course in the United States Naval Steam Engineering School. He had been in the employ of the Empire Companies about fourteen months, coming to the Doherty organization as a junior engineer on his graduation from Bucknell. His home was in Lewisburg, Pa., where he has a mother and several other relatives, and to which place the body was sent for burial.

Mr. Noll's death came as a blow to his friends ,not only among his fellow junior engineers, but also to those whom he had come in contact during his year with the Empire organization.

Junior engineers of the El Dorado field, meeting shortly after the death of Leon H. Noll, who was killed last Friday morning by an electrical shock and have adopted the following resolutions in memory of their fellow engineer:

Resolution

WHEREAS, the Almighty God, in His infinite wisdom has seen fit to remove from our midst our highly esteemed confrere and co-worker, Leon Henry Noll;

Whereas, the deceased, during the period of his association with us, has evidenced to those about him the austerity of his conscience by practicing what is right and by doing what is just;

Whereas, it is common knowledge that in the death of our departed friend, the Henry L. Doherty Company has lost one of the most loyal, enthusiastic and promising Junior Engineers;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that we, the Junior Engineers of the Henry L. Doherty Company, in meeting assembled, while bowing in submission to the will of our Heavenly Father, do hereby express our most profound sorrow for the death of our dearly beloved associate, Leon Henry Noll;

RESOLVED FURTHER, that copies of this resolution be sent to all Junior Engineers of the Bartleville school, to the family of the deceased, and to "The Empire and the "Bucknellian" for publication.

PANORAMIC PHOTO TAKEN

A panoramic view of the student body of Bucknell University was taken last Monday afternoon on the athletic field. With few exceptions the entire body of students turned out for the picture which was originally scheduled for the forenoon. This is the first picture of this nature that has been taken since the year 1916. It is the custom to take such views of the students from time to time but no such picture has been taken since three years before the S. A. T. C. period.

Two views of the group were taken one of which will be used for this years edition of the "L'Agenda". Copies of the pictures will be placed on sale to the students at various central points as soon as they are finished. It is expected that the views will be completed within a very short time.

ARMISTICE DAY TO BE CELEBRATED HERE

General Clement, Dr. Harris and Dr. Hunt Will Speak at Ceremonies After Parade in Morning.

Armistice Day, Nov. 11, will be observed with appropriate services at Bucknell, This fact was made known to the student body at chapel exercises, at which time President Emory W. Hunt announced that at the request of Senior Council the faculty had decided to allow a holiday on November 11, instead of November 2.

A committee was appointed, composed of Mason, Davis, MacDermott and Quinn, to take charge of the activities of the day and to make up a suitable program of patriotic services and sports. This committee became active at once and by the end of the past week had a rough outline of the day's events ready. When this rough outline was made public, it was with the explanation that a detailed program would be ready for publication in another week.

There will be a parade in the morning. This is assured, although the lineup of the organizations and the time of starting are not yet definite. Several organizations will send delegations. They are the Lewisburg Post of the American Legion; Company M of the National Guard of Pennsylvania, with headquarters in Lewisburg; and the Civil War Veterans. The line will form at the Tustin gymnasium

After forming at the gymnasium, the line will march to the Baptist church so as to reach that place at 10 o'clock. The formation of the students delegations in the parade will be announced at a later date.

At the Baptist church, a patriotic service will be held. Dr. John Howard Harris will be the speaker of the day, but his subject has not yet been made public. The Glee Club Quartet has promised to sing several songs. Seats for the faculty and their wives and for the townpeople will be reserved. This fact and that of the entire plans for the Armistice Day celebration will be announced in all the churches of the town in ample time.

An attempt is being made to secure General Charles Clement, of Sunbury, for an address in the morning's service at the Baptist church. General Clement made an investigation trip of Europe before the World War, and upon the outbreat of the war was declared too old for active service. Since then he has been travelling and lecturing, and has gained for himself an enviable record as a lecturer. If the fact can be accomplished the committee will have General Clements here Nov. 11.

Dr.. Hunt will be in charge of the services at the church. It is expected that a very large number of people will be present; and, in fact, some doubt as to the ability of the seating capacity of the church to accomodate the crowd is entertained. However, every student of the University, together with the faculty and townpeople, is urged to attend the service.

In the afternoon the Freshmen-Sophomore foot ball game will be held on the athletic field, and at this time the organizations above mentioned will be the guests of honor. The game will be called at 2:30 o'clock, and inasmuch as a great deal depends upon the outcome of this game a record crowd is looked for.

In the evening the fraternity houses will keep open house and informal smokers will be held. The faculty will be the guests of the fraternities, and intervisiting will be encouraged.

Up to the present time, nothing more definite than the information given above is available, but next week's "Bucknellian" will contain the day's program in detail.

PHI GAM ALUMNI VISITORS

Over the week end Francis J. Beckley, of Nanticoke of the class of '15, David J. Martin, '20 Herbert S DeLong, '20 and Henry L. Fonda, '18, visited their Phi Gam brothers.

"Zwieby" Morrill, Penn State, '21, spent last night with his Phi Gamma Delta brothers on his way to State College, after a trip to Philadelphia where he witnessed the Penn—Penn State football game.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB STARTS ORGANIZATION FOR SEASON

The Girls Glee club which was reorganized last year, is taking definite form again this year and promises to become a real live-wire organization in Bucknell. Regular rehearsals are held on Tuesday evenings under the direction of Prof. Stolz, and several attractive numbers are under way. A girls' quartet has also been formed.

The reception which the Men's Glee club received at Williamsport a short time ago when they furnished music at the Pennsylvania Baptist State Convention, opens the possibility of a joint concert being given at the Convention next year. Try-outs for the Girls Glee club have been held, resulting in some excellent material from which to select.

The officers for 1920-21 are:—President, Cecil Hazen. Secretary, Nellie Baillet, Treasurer, Kathyrine Wagner, Manager, Esther Fleming, Asst. Manager, Ada Thomas.

MUHLENBERG SAYS WE HAVE FINE TEAM

WEEKLY NEWSPAPER OF ALLENTOWN COLLEGE GIVES BUCKNELL FINE WRITE-UP ON GAME PLAYED THERE LAST WEEK

What Muhlenberg thought of the big Orange and Blue team which caused such havoc at Allentown last week is shown by the following clipping fro mthe Muhlenberg Weekly. Incidentally, it is very fairly written, and shows that true ideals of sportsmanship are being lived up to at the Allentown college.

Bucknell brought their far-famed football team to Allentown last Saturday and after sixty minutes of play against the Cardinal and Gray, it was agreed by all present at the game, that the team had fully lived up to its press dispatch reputation. The final score was 43-0, the largest score rolled up against Muhlenberg on the home field in the last fifteen years.

Bucknell presented a wonderful team, consisting of a heavy line and backfield, but unusually fast, a team well-drilled in teamwork and using splendid interference. Bowser at fullback, was easily Bucknell's star, making four touchdowns and a 43 yard field goal. All credit must be given the Bucknel lteam which played a hard, clean game. Few penalties were inflicted, all being on technical grounds.

Despite the evidence of the score, the Muhlenberg team, showed shatches of its old-time brilliancy. The team started the game minus Wills, Lewis and Parks, but all three soon got in. Wills and Feldman easily shared the honors for the day with superb tackling. Feldman saved many a touchdown when he alone stood between the runner and the goal posts. Wills, despite an injured shoulder, made tackle after tackle on the line, and twice did the unusual feat of passing the ball on Bond who punted, Wills being the first man to nab the runner where he caught the ball. Freitag, Crowley, Parks and Lewis also shone.

Bucknell started off in the very first quarter, obtaining the ball on a fumbel by Anderson, after he had dropped on the ball on the five-yard line. Bucknell went clean down the field for a touchdown, repeating the process six times in the game. In the second quarter, Bowser kicked a beautiful field goal from the 43-yard line, directly after a fifty-yard run for a touchdown.

LAMBDA CHI HOLDS DANCE

The Annual Hallowe'en dance of Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity was held Friday evening with a large number in attendance. State College was well represented by Brothers. Turner, Curtis, Newhard and pledge brother Oliver of the Penn State chapter.

Professor and Mrs. N. H. Stewart chaperoned the merry makers.

The house was fittingly decorated for the occasion with corn stalks and pumpkins while the fraternity colors were distributed in marked contrast throughout.

UNDERGRADUATES WIN FROM FACULTY TENNIS CHAMPS

PROFESSORS TAKE NOTES ON GAME FROM VARSITY MEN

VARSITY LOSES ONLY ONE SET

Series of Fast Games Played on Local Courts When Students Win Tournament Doubles.

The first half of the tennis match between the faculty and the Varsity tennis team was played last week when the young men defeated their older opponents in doubles by the score of three matches to one. The singles matches of the tournament were not played due to the lateness of the day. They will be finished at an early date. Professors Ballentine, Ranseweiler, Rockwell and Mr. Burroughs upheld the honor of the faculty and Brandt, Purnell, Gray and Koch played for the Varsity.

This match was the initial appearance of Purnell and Gray on the school tennis team. Purnell was out for the team last year and displayed real merit at that time but such recent improvement in his playing has warranted him a place on this year's team. The other new man on the team, Gray, is a member of the Freshman class and bids well toward holding down fourth place on the team. He is rather undeveloped as yet but shows promises of becoming a valuable man.

Professor Ballentine played with his usual excellent form and with his partner, Mr. Burroughs succeeded in causing a strenuous match against Brandt and Koch which the undergraduates finally managed to annex by the scores, 6-2, 11-9. After this match the Ballentine-Burroughs combination defeated Purnell and Gray in a hard fought match, 7-5, 5-7 and 9-7.

Professors Rockwell and Ranseweller lost their matches but put up strenuous opposition in both. They were defeated by Purnell and Gray, 6-3, 6-3 and by Brandt and Koch, 6-4 7-5. Most of the games in this last match were deuce as the "Profs" came back strong after losing the other match.

PHI PSI DANCE

On Friday evening, Phi Kappa Psi entertained with a Hallowe'en dance, "Semitee" being the guests. The affair was held in the chapter house which was appropriately decorated with corn-stalks pumpkins, witches and hob-goblins. A miniature barnyard, containing rabbits and a live pig lent to a rural atmosphere, while sofe colored lights added to the general effect.

Two kegs of cider were always on tap and the regularity with which certain fair co-eds filled their cups was noticed and remarked upon by the pig, who expressed his approval with low grunts.

Dancing commenced at seven-thirty and lasted until ten fifteen when refreshments were served. Moore's orchestra furnished the music.

Among the guests were Charles W. Miller, John Dooley, Edwin W. Treadwell and Robert Wolf, the last named being from State College. Miss Armstrong and Miss Swartz chaperoned the party which was one of the most successful affairs of the season.

MATH CLUB MEETING

On Monday, evening, October 25th the Bucknell Mathematics club was reorganized and the following officers were elected:—

Pres,—Miss Elizabeth Weidner, '21.
V. Pres.—L. F. Worthington, '21.
Sec'y Treas.—Miss Elsie Watson, '21
Critic,—Professor Gold.

Ten "Program Meetings" have been scheduled for the year, five for each semester .The first will be held this Monday, November 1st, at 7 P. M. in the Chemical Laboratory. Professor Lindemann is to be the speaker and he has chosen as the topic of his lecture "Magic Squares; a very interesting subject. We all know what magic the name of "Lindy" can work, and it can be taken for granted that this discourse will be well-worth hearing. All persons attending are requested to bring with them several sheets of quadrille—(cross-section) paper.

FRILL AND FROWN HOLDS ANNUAL MASQUE PARTY

COLLEGE GIRLS' DRAMATIC CLUB GIVES BIG EVENT OF YEAR

MANY UNIQUE COSTUMES WORN

Women's College Scene of Great Festive Ball Saturday Night, With Many Unusual Features

Human beings in the form of a candlestick, an ear of corn, a "never too late to mend" costume, as well as a waste paper basket for Freshmen themes were but few of the many pretty and original costumes displayed at the annual Frill and Frown Hallowe'en party in the Woman's College on Saturday night. All the co-eds were "dressed up" for the occasion, and from the time the first dinner bell rang, until the final song, the "Sem" rang with cheers, songs and laughter.

First came the march to the dining room, headed by the faculty, many of whom were attired in Hallowe'en costumes which varied from the wee little girl to the old maid with spectacles perched on the end of her nose. Once in the dining room, it took the classes but little time to get started on their various songs and cheers which were led by the class presidents; namely Seniors, Emily Devine, Juniors, Jennie Burke; Sophomores, Louise Hood; Freshmen, Elizabeth Walker. The Freshies in their story lamented the fact that they must always step aside for Sophs, and must also go without hair nets and the Sophomores response was "You'll save your money and your necks if you just watch your step." The Juniors made the air lively with the songs of the Class of '22 and the Seniors displayed the usual pep and spirit for which the Class of '21 is noted. Yells were even given for "Chief" and "Phil," the watchman and janitor of the "Sem."

Ghosts and Goblins! my how they shrieked as they greeted the girls on their arrival in the cemetery! Yes, the cemetery, for that is what a certain portion of the gym represented. Tombstones were about and on them were signs such as "Reserved for Sunday Night." Another end of the "gym" was as a farmyard with the stone well in the center of it.

Dancing was enjoyed and then came the class stunts. The Seniors represented a dining table in the Woman's College with the usual "Sem" gossip. The Juniors gave a "Vampire sketch, while the Sophs presented a musical comedy and a production of "The Three Bears," "Tiny" Hazen playing the role of the little wee bear. The Freshmen gave an interpretation of "Paul Revere's Ride," which the judges deemed the best of all the stunts.

After a bit of dancing came the grand march led by Frill and Frown and then the prizes were awarded for the costumes. The prize for the most original was given to Myra Effinger who represented a burning candle in a candlestick. Honorable mention was given to Florence Cornwall '22 who was dressed as a waste paper basket for Freshmen themes. The prize for the most beautiful was given to Margaret Lees '23 while honorable mention was given to Mildred Clayton. Some others worthy of mention was Sue Post '23 dressed in a ragged costume which she sewed continually. This was "Never Too Late To Mend!" Also Grace Fry '23, as an ear of corn. Some pretty ones which were noted also were those of Elizabeth Middleton '24 and Ruth Brown '22.

Much credit is due Frill and Frown for the manner in which the affair was carried out under the direction of Emily Devine,. '21 as President and the various heads of the committees who were Matilda Bell, '21, Mary Appleman, '22 and Majorie Sprout, '21.

Frill and Frown announce their open week as the week of Nov. 2. All Freshman and Sophomore girls desiring to try out for places in Frill and Frown will kindly hand their names to Emily Devine, '21.

KAPPA DELTAS FOUNDER'S DAY

Kappa Delta celebrated their Founders Day on Saturday when a social time was enjoyed at their suite in the Womens College.

ST. BONAVENTURE SUFFERS BAD DEFEAT

PHI GAMMA DELTA HOLDS MINIATURE HOUSE PARTY

Starting with a dance on Friday night and ending up with a big dinner at the house on Sunday, the Phi Gams held what may be termed a miniature house party.

The dance was held in the Lewisburg Club, lasting from 9 to 2. The hall was prettily decorated with Hallowe'en effects. The music, furnished by "Diffy's Collegiate Five" was all that could be asked in the line of "Jazz". Its peppy syncopation being a feature of the dance. At midnight, refreshments appropriate to the season, were served. Mrs. J. V. Loos of Philadelphia, and Mrs. A. W. Johnson of Lewisburg were the chaperones. Professor and Mrs. Lindeman were guests.

On Saturday afternoon all enjoyed the Bucknell—St. Bonaventure game and after the game, dinner was served at the house. The evening was taken up with another dance, this time at the house.

GLEE CLUB SCORES BIG HIT AT MILTON

INITIAL APPEARANCE IN UP-RIVER TOWN IS VERY WELL RECEIVED. RESULTS OF PRACTICE SHOWN IN CONCERT.

The Bucknell University Glee Club rendered a concert under the auspices of the First Baptist Church of Milton last Thursday night to a large sized crowd of musical enthusiasts. The Glee Club plainly showed the results of their nightly practice which have been held during the past two weeks. One selection, "Hunters Bold and Free," rendered by the entire organization was most acceptable to those present.

A vocal solo by Hobart Brown entitled, "The Magic of Thine Eyes," was also most favorably received. Brown's rich baritone completely filled the church and was decidedly one of the best numbers of the evening. Finley Keech's usual humorous "line" accompanied with his clever sketches also proved a huge success.

The quartette were graciously received in lieu of their rendition of "Drink to Me only with Thine Eyes" and "Twas Eleven o'clock." The quartette which is composed of Hartz, Hartz, Cloward and Appleton shows promise of large development and should be one of the features of the Glee Club.

Robert Hartz's interpretation of "Meditation" from Thais was extremely well performed. Hartz used a mute on his instrument which produced an effect extremely well pleasing to the ear.

SIGS HOLD FINE DANCE

Amid a setting of corn shocks, pumpkins, spooks, moons, subdued lights of orange and blue and gold and Hallowe'en streamers of orange and black, the active chapter of the Kappa chapter of Sigma Chi fraternity held a dance given in honor of its pledged members. Saturday evening, October 30th.

The music furnished by Quinns orchestra tingled the toes of all from the first "Jazz" to the last strains of "Good Night Ledies. Feature dances were numerous. The hurling of streamers, the snapping of snappers, and vividly colored hats helped in the expressing of the spirit of the night.

During intermission a Hallawe'en lunch consisting of sandwiches, salad, good old pumpkin pie, and three-day old cider was served.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Glass and Mrs. E. W. Eastman, of Wilmington, Del. were patrons. The guests were Messers D. S. King and G. G. McClure Williamsport; J. B. McClure, Danville; S. E. Bolten, Philadelphia; G. E. Meixwell, Duncannon, Torrance Peiffer, Lehigh; L. T. Botts, '20, S E. Dimilch, '20, D. R. Dunkle, '17..

Heavy Bucknell Football Team Scores Easily On Lighter But Plucky Opponents In Fast Game.

Using only four different plays, the heavy Orange and Blue football team rolled plucky St. Bonaventure in defeat Saturday, on the local grounds by a score of 51-0. The game was better than the score indicates, and some real football was displayed during the last quarter, when the scrappy visitors held the big tem scoreless. There was no particular individual star in the game although the whole Bucknell backfield displayed some unusual speed and line-bucking ability.

"Tommy" Mangan played the best game of his life on Saturday. Time after time he got away for pretty runs around right end, which seldom netted less than ten yards, and often more. "Mose" Wilsbach in a series eof line-bucks showed that he is a coming Bowser. Kostos, the fighting captain, proved that he was a worthy man to lead his team to victory, and was equally as good on the defense as on the offense. Bowser, the giant fullback, treated the fans to some real football, with his powerful punts, long range kick-offs, ability to hit the line or run the ends and wonderful defensive play.

McDermott, the scrappy end, was right in his element, during the whole game, and made a pretty touchdown on a forward pass. Julian who held down the other end of the line, showed up unusually well, keeping his eye on the ball at all times and getting some difficult tackles. "Chief" and "Phil," the watchman and janitor of the "Sem."

Ghosts and Goblins! my how they shrieked as they greeted the girls on their arrival in the cemetery! Yes, the cemetery, for that is what a certain portion of the gym represented. Bowser, the giant fullback, treated the fans to some real football, with his powerful punts, long range kick-offs, ability to hit the line or run the ends and wonderful defensive play.

McDermott, the scrappy end, was right in his element, during the whole game, and made a pretty touchdown on a forward pass. Julian who held down the other end of the line, showed up unusually well, keeping his eye on the ball at all times and getting some difficult tackles. "Tiny" Homan and "Pie" Morrett played their usual steady game at their line positions, while Biehl ruined one St. Bonaventure center to such an extent that his passes were all wild, causing his removal. Mar Reed pulled one of the surprises of the game when he caught the ball on a poor kick-off and ran it back 30 yards before he was downed. Dooley, the skyscraping tackle, smeared play after play, and his hard playing caused much consternation in the camp of the enemy.

The game started when Bowser kicked off to the St. Bonaventure 15 yard line, and one of the visitors advanced the ball ten yards. Bucknell settled down to work, and did not give an inch of ground, forcing the visitors to punt. Mangan received the ball and carried it ten yards before he was downed. Kostos made ten yards, and Mangan five through right tackle, and Wilsbach five more through right guard. Kostos, Bowser and Wilsbach each took another turn at the ball, and then Bowser carried it over the line for the first touchdown of the game. In actual time, this took less than four minutes. After this touchdowns came thick and fast until the last quarter, when St. Bonaventure settled down to a steadier galt.

The second touchdown was scored after Bowser had pulled off a pretty 20 yard run and Wilsbach, Kostos and Mangan had carried the ball down to near the goal line, after which Wilsbach obligingly carried it across. During the procession down the field Julian made a pretty rescue of the ball after

DEBATING

In an article printed under the Student's Forum of last week's issue a student expressed regret at the decline of debating in Bucknell. 'Why,' he says, "would it not be advisable for the school authorities to take a hand in the matter, giving some official recognition to those who would elevate the mental standard of the school and have a share in bringing honor to the institution?" In Bucknell's case the question is already answered. Bucknell does give official recognition to her debaters in the form of a debating B, similar to our athletic B. Insignia for last year's team have been ordered and will be issued by Francis Reamer, manager of that team, at an early date.

Granting that Mr. McAdoo's observation concerning the decline of debating in college is correct, in the case of Bucknell with whom does the fault lie? The triangular debating league of last year, between Bucknell Dickinson, and Penn State, showed that Bucknell has the making of a debating team. Arrangements are now being made for this triangular league to be continued this year and for dual debates to take pince with other Eastern colleges. Professor Rassweiler now has a promising class in advanced debating and the same time is able and willing to give aid to any one who wish to try out for the team. At a meeting of the debating board, held October 18th, Ellis Smith '21 was elected manager and Wm. Sugden '22 assistant manager of this year's team. Debaters of high school or college experience and any who are interested in debating are urged to hand their names to one of the managers or to Professor Rassweiler without delay. The college has recognized debating, the board is organized and ready for business the only element remaining for a successful debating year is the interest and participation of the student body.

A PLEA FOR THE MODERN

The late Professor Perrine was wont to say, "Literature reflects the thoughts and aspirations of the good and great men of all ages." Yet the best thoughts and aspirations of what age are so important to us as those of our own age? He insisted that we study the thoughts of dead men in order to throw light on the future. And yet the thoughts of what men are so related to the problems of the future as those of the men today? Are the reactions of great men's minds on problems of the eighteenth century or onthe problems of the twentieth century the more important to us? In short, " Is not the study of contemporary literature as important as that of classic literature?"

Let us see in what contemporary literature consists. Of late years fiction has been the most prolific form of literature.

Still more lately has sprung up the short story. Professor Fries has expressed the opinion that a new age of drama is about to dawn. In this period of world reconstruction there should be just as spontaneous an outburst of poetry as has succeeded every great war of world history. In response to the situation two new courses have been added to our catalogue. Last years English A course came as an innovation and as a shock to some of our educators. But Prose Fiction, the outgrowth of English A, and a course in the Modern Drama have come to stay.

Having admitted the importance of contemporary literature to this extent let us see what the University has to offer to hose whose curriculum does not include these two courses? Aside from current magazines the showing is pitiful. Over in and above of the library two small sections, in dust and disorder, represent our entire collection of fiction .Less than twenty of these have been written within the twentieth century. Great authors of modern times such as Winston Churchill, Henry Van Dyke, John Galsworthy, and H. G. Wells, are represented by one or two books each. Harold Bell Wright, Zane Gray, and Gene Stratton Porter, acknowledged by the Freshman questionaire of reading as the most popular American novelists, are not represented at all. Foreign novelists are almost unrepresented. Other forms of modern literature are totally missing. No collection of worthy contemporary drama or of contemporary verse is found in our library.

We offer these observations more as a plea than as a criticism. Wherever the blame lies, it should be remedied unless we are to concede that the muse of literature, and hence the muse of thought, suddenly died about fifty years ago, something should be done and that right quickly.

ST. BONAVENTURE GAME

scoring distance and then Wilsbach made another touchdown. St. Bonaventure kicked off again, and this time it was Mangan who made a fine 30 yard run. Bowser and Kostos started to take the ball down the field, but Bowser grew tired of fooling, and, putting his head down, ran almost 30 yards for a touchdown. In this same half McDermott, in a very difficult play, scored another touchdown on a well thrown forward pass. Shortly after this the half ended.

The second half started off with a bang when Bowser received the St. Bonaventure kick-off and ran 35 yards before he was downed. Mangan got off several pretty runs, and with Bowser and Kostos, carried the ball within scoring distance, where Wilsbach came to the rescue and carried it over the line for the sixth touchdown of the game. Another touchdown was scored in this period when Bowser ran 25 yards to cross the goal line.

The line-up was as follows:

Bucknell	Position	St. Bonaventure
Julian	Left end	Gavigan
Rihl	Center	Kelley
Reed	Right Guard	Robinson
Dooley	Right tackle	O'Meara
McDermott	Right end	Martineau
Mangan	Quarter	Mann
Kostos	Right-Half	Lucco
Bowser	Full-back	Lynch

Referee, E. E. Miller, Penn State; Umpire, Charles Miller, Penn; Head Linesman, Moffatt, Penn State.

Touchdowns, Bowser, 2; Wilsbach, 2; McDermott, 1; Julian, 1; Goals from touchdowns, Mangan, 6; McDermott, 1. Substitutes, Dettrich for Kostos; Lauster for Reed; Bellac for Bowser; Wargo for Julian; McGraw for Dooley; Dayhoff for Dettrich. Time of quarters, 15 and 12 minutes.

ETA SIGMA HOLDS DANCE

Eta Sigma entertained at a Hallowe'en dance on Saturday night last in the living room of the Womans College. The place was prettily decorted with pumpkins, cornstalks, and everything that indicates the approach of that glad season when ghosts and goblins appear.

Misses Walton and Boland as well as Prof. Magalhaes acted as chaperones while present also were Mrs. Eugene Kerstetter, Mrs. Charles Fertig, Mrs. Jacob Horam,. Mrs. L. R. Glase, Mrs. Clara Spotts and Mrs. John B. Fretz.

"Dieffies College Five" furnished the music for dancing.

THETA ALPHA PHI ELECTION

At the first meeting of the year of Pennsylvania Alpha Chapter of Theta Alpha Phi, the national dramatic fraternity, H. LeRoy Hellar '21 was elected President; Martha Lelser, '21 V. President and Secretary; and Francis F. Reamer, '21, Treasurer.

Due to some changes in the constitution of the fraternity, those who were bid last Spring were not initiated. There, the initiation of these and of several others who have since become eligible, and who will be bid, will be held shortly.

Theta Alpha Phi was founded in 1909 at the University of Oklahoma, Pennsylvania Alpha Chapter was founded here at Bucknell on February 23, 1920. The purpose of the fraternity is to foster an interest in wholesome dramatics and provide the means for uniting socially students, alumni, and instructors, who have historic talent. The local chapter does not aim to supplant the combined dramatic clubs, but to assist them wherever possible. Professor Rassweiller, Frater in Facultate, is the adviser of the local chapter.

Aravilla Peters 23 and Mary Heilman '23 had their mothers as their guests during the week.

PITT

A call for candidates for the various debating teams has been issued by Professor Lane, head of the Department of Public Speaking, and coach of Pitt's varsity debaters. The trials will be held at 211 State Hall Wednesday evening, October 13, at 7:30. Candidates will be asked to make a six-minute speech affirmatively or negatively on the question, "Resolved, That the University of Pittsburg Should Adopt the Honor System in Conducting Examinations.' Dean Thompson of the Law School, Professor Lane and Mr. Coffey of the Department of Public Speaking, will act as judges. Three teams are to be selected, one of which will consist entirely of girls.

Manager Louis Dussere, Col., '21, will announce his schedule in the near future. It is expected to contain the names of many leading Eastern colleges. Each of the three teams is assured a trip away from home. College criditi will be given to those who make places on the varsity teams.

Varsity debaters will meet on Friday night of each week to discuss the principles of argumentation. Intensive training will be given in collecting evidence, constructing the brief, and rebuttal work.

OHIO STATE

Ohio is in the midst of a campaign to build a stadium. Plans call for a magnificient horseshoe-shaped structure costing a million dollars.

When completed it will be the largest open-air theatre in the country and it will have a seating capacity for 63,000 people. A movable stage is to be placed at one end of the stadium and this will be used for concerts and pageants. The alumni throughout the country are organizing to raise the funds. Their slogan is: "Every man is on the stadium."

PURDUE

Students of Purdue University were in Bloomington last week in the interest of the Purdue Union Building Fund. They succeeded in raising $1,200 among the Purdue alumni in Monroe county. The goal set by the Purdue Union Board is $1,000,000, which they hope to raise by the time of the Indiana-Purdue game.

IOWA STATE

Plans are rapidly taking shape at Iowa State to organize for a memorial fund campaign. The students and alumni are getting together for a drive, when they intend to raise funds for a memorial.

THE INDIANA STUDENT DAILY SETS NEW RECORD

Just five minutes after the whistle blew for the end of the game last Saturday, the first paper of the extra edition of The Student was off the press.

Telephone connections with the reporters at the field, coupled with the accuracy and team work of the boys at the office, made it possible. Six hundred copies were printed. Carriers sold all the copies to rooters as they were leaving the field.

JOURNALISTIC CLUB MAKES GOOD START

The first club of its kind to be organized at Iowa State makes its debut. The purpose of this club is not only to promote good fellowship, but also to further the interest of the department and those interested in journalism.

EASTONIANS NOT TO HAVE SOCCER TEAM

Lafayette College will not be represented by a soccer team this Fall. This was made known on Oct. 18, following the decision of the trustee athletic committe to concentrate their interest on the development of the six sports now at Lafayette. The trustee committee feels that the time is not yet ripe to have a soccer team. Attention will be turned to football and cross country running, basketball and indoor track during the winter months, and baseball and outdoor track in the Spring.

LEHIGH

According to reports from the officers in charge of the Department of Military Science and Tactics, the work of the Lehigh University unit is progressing very nicely. There are in charge of instruction three commissioned officers and three non-commissioned officers. For the second year of its existence, the R. O. T. C. unit has a record enrollment of 595 students, the enrollment of all Freshmen being compulsory by Faculty rule..

PRESS BUREAU AT URSINUS

A special committee, elected to establish a College press bureau, has completed its plans and submitted them to the Ursinus authorities for approval. It is hoped there that the work will soon be inaugurated.

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA

Three women in the medical school and probably two in law and five in the graduate department will be the roll of Females at the University of Virginia during its first term as a co-education institution.

CARNEGIE TECH

Arrangements are being made to organize a debating society at Tech. Students of all four divisions are eligible for membership.

REPORTERS' CLUB

The Davidsonian Reporters' Club is an interesting feature of Davidson College, N. C. It is composed of the best and most faithful reporters on their college weekly, who are recommended by the staff for membership. The purpose of this club is carried forward by discussions, which are held once a week to determine the best means of improving the reporting.

A man tells of a professor who started poor twenty years ago and has retired with the comfortable fortune of $50,000. This money was acquired through industry, economy, conscientious efforts to give full value, indomitable perseverance, and the death of an uncle who left the Prof. $49,999.50.

"Don't give up the ship," encouraged the kindly gent to the leaners on the rail.

"Who ate it?" gulped a sufferer.

"I'm afraid I'm stuck on this lot of pocket knives."

"What's the matter with them?"

"They've got corkscrews."

"That man started in life on $50 he borrowed." "And made a fortune eh? "No. It ruined him. He found getting that so easy that he's been living on borrowed money ever since.

"I had to kill my dog this mornin."

"Was he mad?"

"Well, he didn't seem any too well pleased."

DO COLLEGE MEN THINK

An editorial by Franklin G. Dunham, Columbia, University.

(Mr. Dunham was Editor of Columbia Spectator, 1914-15; President of the Eastern College Newspaper Ass'n. 1915-16; President of Pi Delta Epsilon, Honorary Journalistic Fraternity 1916-18; Chairman Intercoll. Newspaper Conferences 1917-1919.)

At no time in the intellectual development of the citizens of our country has the obligation of the college and University towards politics been so great. The guidance of the ship of State is in the hands of men who have tried to sense public opinion in order to make fair and equitable decisions in matters of public policy. This has always been so in our country and is the secret of the permanence of the Nation. Public opinion is largely generated by the attitude of men for whom the great masses of people have sincere admiration and unqualified respect. How many men who mold public opinion are products of or are at present living in our great college communities?

John Erskine in "The Moral Obligation to the Intelligent" would have those of us who have been trained at great cost to our families, ourselves, or University Endowments, return in some measure, the results of that training to the community in which we live—the Nation to which we owe allegiance. This Nation demands of us that we bear arms in time of war; Why can it not demand that we use our minds in time of peace? There is a vast fund of evidence for and against the League of Nations. There are many minds whose mental convolutions are not affected by evidence nor by the digging into the propaganda or truth, (as the case may be behind it.) Propaganda is not always a whole cloth of lies, but its origin does not bespeak its sincerity.

It is part of the training of the College University man to be in a position to make his decision on the basis of the facts in the case. What those facts are can only be found by a clear analytical study of the causes, the occasions and the events which have led up to the crisis before us in the settlement of the greatest war the world ever engaged itself in. For what? For aggrandizement, for imagined wrong, for commercial supremacy of a group of Nations, for reprisal on a war-crazed foe—no, none of these but for the purpose of preventing future wars in this world of ours where men might live together in peace, in perpetuating great constructive enterprises, living as God wished his children to live.

Do College Men think? Yes, college men are capable of thinking. Are they thinking in this political crisis when the world's security rests on a preference in Presidential candidates in one country? Unless they do, there is little hope that the rest of the vast electorate will receive from the University and College communities any help, only guidance in making this Nation's Great Decision.

ATTENDED CONVENTION

Among the delegates to the Union County Christian Endeavor convention held at White Deer last week was William H. Sugden '22 Sugden attended as the representative of the Christian Endeavor of the Lewisburg Presbyterian church, and in addition was one of the convention speakers, delivering a talk upon the subject, "How to interest young people in Christian Endeavor." The convention was well attended and Sugden returned with some ideas that will materially aid local church workers.

MU PHI CELEBRATES

CAP AND DAGGER TRYOUTS

All those who ahve given in their names as trying out for Cap and Dagger will be notified in a few days as to what parts they have been assigned for trial parts. Any one who not as yet given their names in for a tryout, and who desire to should do so at once. The names should be given to F. F. Reamer, at the Phi Gamma Delta House.

The society is working at present on the casting of the play to be given this Fall, in which the present members of the society, alone, will take part.

PROWANT GIVES TEAM BLANKETS

Among the thousands of Bucknell enthusiasts, there has always been manifested an almost unanimous inclination to improve our athletic department. The attempts to assist have as a rule taken the form of advise and criticism of those in charge. It is very significant that the volumes of advise and criticisms, given and heeded in the past, have effected the efficiency and strength of the Athletic organization very very little. And consequently, while those in charge appreciate the value of intelligent advice and constructive criticism and welcome them, they, do not value their effectiveness very highly, and feel very certain that as a general rule the only way to really help, to improve our athletics is by material contribution.

Among our friends in Lewisburg, there is one man at least who shares this view with the authorities and who has always acted accordingly. This is John F. Prowant, better known as "Johnny on the Corner." In the dim past when Bucknell football players had to sit and shiver when not in the play, Johnny was instrumental in raising a fund, among the members of the old Lewisburg Club, to provide them with blankets. When funds were needed to secure the canvas which now encloses our field, Mr. Prowant was ready with his share. In every instance in which any funds of any kind were solicited from him, he was "Johnny on the spot," and several contributions have come from him without any solicitation whatever. It was therefore not at all surprising, although it was a very pleasant surprise, when just before the game last Saturday, a set of eleven new foot ball blankets were presented to the Athletic Association, with the compliments of John F. Prowant and Son.

It is a great pleasure to acknowledge this gift and to express, thro these columns, the heartiest appreciation of Mr. Prowant's thoughtfulness and liberality in furnishing this much needed equipment. And in this gratious acknowledgement we are sure that we are voicing the sentiment of the entire student body, the faculty and the alumni.

DELTA SIGMA DANCES

On Saturday evening the Lewisburg Club was the scene of a Hallowe'en dance held by the Delta Sigma fraternity. The hall was appropriately decorated for the occasion with corn stalks, pumpkin faces, and realistic ghosts, which gave the affair a decided Hallowe'en atmosphere. Dancing commenced at 8 o'clock and during the intermission the entire party adjourned to Wainies for refreshments. Dieffenderfer's orchestra provided the music for the festivities, which lasted until 12 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Kramer, of Lewisburg, were the chaperones.

DEBATERS ORGANIZE

Manager Ellis Smith, '21 of the University Debating team is working on the debating schedule for this season. It was decided by the Debating Board to remain in the Triangular League with Penn State and Dickinson. Besides these debates, debates may be arranged with Rutgers, Lafayette, Washington and Jefferson and other colleges in the Pittsburg vicinity.

The University Debating Board is composed of Professor Rassweiler, Coach; Miss Emily Devine, Manager of Girls team; Mr. Ellis Smith, Manager of Men's team, William Sugden, Asst't Manager of Men's team, and Francis F. Reamer, representative of the student body.

Announcements of the date for tryout for the Debating team and of the subject or subjects to be debated on will be announced later, as well as the announcement of the schedule.

WAR RISK NOTES

Endowment insurance policies as issued by the government are regarded by at least one insurance man and world war veterna, to be the most advantageous form of life insurance to meet his particular requirements, according to Director R. G. Cholmeley-Jones of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance in announcing that Felix Rothchilds, secretary of the Sun Life Insurance Company of America, of Baltimore, Md. had converted his $10,000 term (war time) insurance into a 30-year Endowment United States Government Life Insurance policy.

"After careful consideration of Government insurance," said Mr. Rothschild, "I believe it to be to the advantage of every ex-service man to convert on the particular plan which most suits his individual requirements."

VOL. XXIV LEWISBURG, PA., NOVEMBER 8, 1920 NUMBER 5

PROGRAM COMPLETE FOR ARMISTICE DAY

Parade, Patriotic Service and Football Game Are Features of the Holiday.

Plans for the big celebration of Armistice Day Thursday are practically complete. A few details remain to be settled up, and that will occupy the attention of the committee for the next few days. Nearly all the details, however, are in such shape as to assure a successful day on November 11.

The committee in charge of the work is composed of Mason, Davis, McDermott, and Quinn. They have announced the following schedule for the day:

9:30 A. M.—Parade from the Tustin gymnasium to the First Baptist church on Third Street.

10:00 A. M.—Patriotic service at the First Baptist Church.

2:30 P. M.—Freshman Sophomore football game.

Open house at all fraternity houses during the entire evening.

General Charles Clement, of Sunbury, is expected to be one of the speakers of the day. He will be met at the bridge by Company M, N. G. P. who will escort him to the gymnasium, where he will be introduced. The parade will start immediately after this, the sections marching in the following order:

Company M, National Guards of Pennsylvania.

Speakers' cars.

Lewisburg post of the American Legion.

Senior Council

College Women

Overseas men

Senior men

Junior men

Sophomore men

Freshman men

At the church, the regular ushers will be secured to attend to the seating of the crowd that is expected. There are to be three speakers; Dr. John Howard Harris, Dr. Emory W Hunt, and General Charles Clement.

Dr. Harris has promised to give a thirty minute talk, but he has not announced his subject. However, those who have never had the pleasure of hearing Dr. Harris speak are assured by those who have that his speech will be of the highest order.

Dr. Emory W. Hunt, president of the University is so well-known and his ability as a speaker so recognized by every student that it is needless to say that his talk will be unexcelled. Dr. Hunt has not yet announced his subject.

General Charles Clement is a traveler and ecturer of considerable note. He was a member of General Leonard Wood's inspection detail to the Western Front before the United States entered the war; and upon his return to this country at the outbreak of the war was declared to be too old for active service. Since that time he has devoted himself chiefly to lecturing and he has made a name for himself.

A crowd that will overtax the capacity of the church in which the services are to be held, is expected. Every possible measure to insure the comfort of those attending will be taken.

In the afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, the Freshman-Sophomore football game will be played, and it will doubt less be a gory affair. The Frosh can see things only their way. A great deal depends upon the outcome of this game, so a record crowd is looked for. The organizations enumerated above, except the various classes, will be the guests of honor at the game. This will help swell the already great number.

In the evening the eight fraternity houses will keep open house, and hold informal smokers. The faculty members are to be the guests at the various houses and intervisiting will be encouraged.

Announcement of the plans for the celebration was made in all the churches yesterday.

Miss Betty Patterson '20 visited her Pi Beta Phi sisters and other friends over last week-end. Miss Patterson is now teaching in West Chester.

COLLEGE CALENDAR TO BE DEFINITELY ARRANGED

In order to avoid conflicts between college events the Committee on Student Activities will maintain this year a schedule of college functions.

All organizations which have regular stated meetings throughout the year or are planning public exhibitions are urged to enter these upon the schedule.

This may be done at the Alumni Office afternoons between 2:30 and 4:00 from Monday to Friday, or at the Woman's College Office.

A calendar made up from this schedule will be posted in Main College, at the Womans College and published in the Bucknellian.

Organizations holding regular meetings throughout the year are requested to make reservation of time and place at the earliest possible opportunity. This is especially important for those which wish to meet in Bucknell Hall or Tustin Gymnasium.

NEW IMPETUS TO CHEERING SECTION

"CHIC" FLORIN INTRODUCES SOME NEW YELLS AND ASKS FOR BETTER SUPPORT

Cheering practice last week on the Athletic field developed several pertinent points concerning that important phase of all the games; namely, cheering our teams on to victory. Cheer leader Florin realizes this necessity and consequently has developed several new yells and is working on some more which he hopes will urge Orange and Blue gladiators on to greater deeds. However, yells galore are of no avail unless properly executed and they can only be put over when the student body stands behind the cheer-leaders at practices and at the games. Florin makes a plea for greater interest and better attendance at cheer practice by the entire student body.

Some new yells which were tried are,

Of paticular force is the new hand-clapping yell which is difficult to put idown on paper. The best way to get acquainted with it is to come out to the next cheering practice and hear it.

MEDICAL SOCIETY ENTERTAINED

On Thursday evening of last week the Medical Society was entertained in royal style by Prof. and Mrs. Stewart at their home. The society has started this year with lots of enthusiasm and about fifty young men and several young ladies who are pursuing that course were present at the gathering. After a short business meeting conducted by President Harry Thomas, Prof. Stewart pleased everyone with his usual enjoyable stories and jokes. Then followed a general social time until refreshments were served by Mrs. Stewart and the young ladies present. These were fine and enjoyed by everyone.

MECHANICAL ENGINEERS MEET

The chief feature of the Mechanical engineer's meeting held last Monday was a lecture by Benjamin Wilson, of the local faculty. The talk was upon the subject: "The Modern Steel Plant" and was very interesting and easily followed as it was devoid of excessive technical terms. Mr. Wilson took as his model the Bethlehem Steel Co.'s plant at Sparrows Point, Md, and illustrated his lecture with pictures secured during his two years service with that company. The meeting was well attended.

TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

Miss Matilda Bell, 21, President of Women's Student Government and Miss Elizabeth Couffer '22 will leave this week for Elmira College, Elmira, N. Y. to attend the National Student Government Council at that place.

ALUMNI MONTHLY CONTAINS MANY NEW FEATURES

UNDERGRADUATE SECTION

Professors Rockwell and Everett Put Monthly "On the Map"

The October issue of the Alumni Monthly has just made its appearance It is indeed a periodical of which Bucknellians may be justly proud and it may be counted upon to uphold its present high standard under the able leadership of Leo L. Rockwell, '07, and H. S. Everett, '12. It is carrying sixteen pages this issue and it is promised that there will be at least that much material in every issue from now on.

One gratifying departure from the old order is the presence of six cuts, one a half page picture of the 1920 foot-ball squad. There is quite a lot of space devoted to sporting news, principally foot-ball. Other interesting features are a page devoted to the various alumni organizations, a page and a half given over to the various alumni organizations a page and a half given over to the doings of our alumni who are continually in the "Public Eye," and three pages of "Personals." The two pages consisting of notes "About the Hill" are featured by another innovation, the cuts of two representative undergraduates, "Dick" Mason, President of the Class of 1921, and George Schuyler, Editor of the "Bucknellian" for the year of 1920-21, along with accounts of the services which they rendered to their country and their University. Similar columns containing the works of other undergraduates will be run from month to month.

The last four pages are entirely devoted to advertising. This is commented upon as follows in the editorial setting forth the new policies of the "Monthly": A new departure this year will be the admission of advertising. It is planned not only to make thisa feature a means of partial support for the undertaking, but to make of it a real service to the Alumni. Professor H. S. Everett, '12, has consented to take charge of the development of this service.

In short, it is the purpose of the Staff to make the Monthly Indispensible to any Bucknellian who is not content to remain an ignoramus inr egard to his Alma Mater as it is to-day, and to shirk his clear responsibility toward the old college on the hill."

PROCLAMATION FOR OBSERVANCE OF PILGRIMS LANDING

ANNIVERSARY FALLS DEC. 11TH

President Wilson Requests Fitting Celebrations in Schools and Colleges

President Wilson has issued a proclamation in which he requests the observance by schools, colleges, and universities of the three-hundredth anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims. At the same time he named three members of the United States Pilgrim Tercentenary Commission. Six members had already been appointed by Congress.

The text of the proclamation follows:

"My Fellow Countrymen: December 21, next, will mark the tercentenary of the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth in 1620. The day will be becomingly celebrated at Plymouth under the auspices of the Plymouth Pilgrim Tercentenary Commission and at other localities in Massachusetts. While this is proper and praiseworthy, it seems to me that the influences which the ideals and principles of the Pilgrims with respect to civic liberty and human rights have had upon the formation and growth of our institutions and upon our development and progress as a nation, merits more than a local expression of our obligation, and makes fitting a nation-wide observance of the day.

"I therefore suggest and request that the 21st of December next we observe throughout the Union with special patriotic services, in order that great events in American history that have resulted from the landing of these hearty and courageous navigators and colonists may be accentuated to the present generation of American citizens. Especially do I recommend that the day be fittingly observed in the universities, colleges, and schools of our country, to the end that salutary and patriotic lessons may be drawn from the fortitude and perseverance and the ideals of this little band of church men and women who established on this continent the first self-determined government based on the great principles of just law and its equal application to all, and thus planted the seeds from which has sprung the mighty nation.

"In witness thereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done in the District of Columbia the fourth day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and forty-fifth.

MATH CLUB NOTICE

The next meeting of the Bucknell Mathematics Club will be held Monday evening, November 17th, at 7 o'clock in the Chemical Laboratory. The topics to be presented to the club are as follows:—"The geometry of paper folding" and "The origin of the number zero."

There were fifty-two out at the last meeting, a fine attendance for the second meeting of a reorganized club. Professor Lindeman presented his topic, "Magic Squares," in his usual clear and interesting way. Refreshments, consisting of cider, apples, and pretzles were served and enjoyed by all.

The membership of the club has increased appreciably since the initial meeting of the year. There is now in motion a new drive for additional members. There are two kinds of membership to the organization, active membership, to those who have had up to anaytle geometry and one subject in advance, pure or applied geometry, and associate membership to those who wish to be identified with the club, regardless of what mathematics they have had, including also persons who have no conection with the University.

All "Program Meetings" are open to all and persons not holding membership to the club are cordially invited to attend.

JUNIOR HIKE

The class of '22 enjoyed a hike on Saturday last. This is the frist hike given by the co-eds this term and the Juniors had the honor of giving it. Misses Fowler and Fitch acted as chaperones.

BUCKNELL LOSES HARD GAME TO LAFAYETTE

Lafayette Is Victorious In Brilliant and Spectacular Game.

Last Saturday afternoon Bucknell was defeated by Lafayette at Easton in the most spectacular game played this season. The play was exciting and uncertain from beginning to end. Lafayette's team was well coached and well generaled. They had a variety of fast plays, some of which were new to their own students. A triple pass play and a play in which the ball was quickly passed without signals, the whole team acting as defense, were their chief ground gainers. Gazella's run in the 3rd quarter was spectacular and Brennan shone in the tripple pass.

For Bucknell, every man played his best. Bower's playing especially on the defensive was exceptionally good. Willsbach made repeated gains thru the line. In defense, Reed broke thru the line and nailed his man time after time. Mangen handled his men like a good general. Our "fake" placement play in the fourth quarter let Julian over for a touchdown.

In receiving punts we were unfortunate, but all in all, every man deserves credit for his playing at Easton. The story of the game is told by the Philadelphia Ledger as follows—

Bucknell opened the contest with a flash of offensive strength along straight football lines which carried the ball well into Lafayette's territory and caused consternation in the minds of the Lafayette spectators.

Lafayette got possession of the ball and showed herself the strongest team. Twice in the first period the Maroon and White forced the ball into the 25-yard zone. On each of these occasions there was a noticble lack of unity between the play of the line and the backfield and this is a measure accounted for Lafayette's inability to score in the first fifteen minutes of play.

The superiority of the Eastonians showed itself in the second quarter when the ball was worked up to the 20-yard line largely through the means of the first successful pass of the game which Lehecka enfolded in his arms after Brennan's accurate throw. Brennan then tried a field goal, but the ball hit the crossbar. Again Lafayette pressed forward and Brennan tried again from the 34-yard line only to have the ball fall short of the mark.

Soon after the resumption of play came the first Easton score. Lafayette had been pushed backward by penalties and the ball was on the Bucknell 49-yard line with a seemingly impossible number of yards to go for first downs. The ball was snapped to Gazella. With splendid interference he started on a run around the Lewisburg right end. He saw a hole and cut in away from his interference and dashed away for a touchdown.

Shortly after this Brennan was successful with a goal from field and in this play lay the Lafayette victory for almost immediately Bucknell changed the policy of her game and resorted to open play.

It was on her first play of this sort that she scored her touchdown. The formation was for a placement kick and Bowser took his place for it. The ball was passed to the prostrate form of McDermott who, instead of holding it for the boot tossed it to Wilsbach on the left. The latter criss-

"REHAB CLUB" AT STATE

One hundred seventy former soldiers who were disabled while in service during the world war are now enrolled at the Pennsylvania State College, receiving an education made possible by the government through the Federal Board of Vocational Training.

Sixty new rehabilitation students enroled at the recent college opening are pursuing courses that will fit them as experts in special lines. Seventy-eight of the total engineering courses, and the balance are distributed thru the various other schools.

Many of the men have but one leg, others but one arm, some had been gassed or otherwise disabled. Some are former college students, others have had no high school preparation, yet all have adapted themselves into the routine of college life, and in spite of their physical ailments, are enjoying every minute of it. They established the first "Rehab Club" of any college training this class of men and have become recognized as a vital part of the institution.

E. Collins Cupp '19 has been successfully operated upon and is now well on the road to recovery in the Sunbury hospital.

TRI DELTS ENTERTAIN SPEAKER

Miss Marjorie Jean Wilson, national vocational advisor of Delta Delta Delta visited at Woman's College this week. Miss Wilson spoke at Y. W. C. A. on Tuesday night when she gave a talk concerning vocations and the vocational conference which is to be held at the University of Pittsburg the week end of Nov. 11.

At Student Government meeting on Wednesday night it was decided that Bucknell should send a representative to this conference, Esther Flemming, '22 being the representative elected to attend.

A tea was given on Thursday afternoon to the Greek World by Tri Delta's when Miss Wilson again gave a short talk.

EDITORIAL

The Story That Was Never Published

One of the famous stories of Edgar Allan Poe is entitled, "The Imp Perverse." The circumstances recorded are of a man who committed a crime undetected and was driven by this Imp of Perversity to confess his guilt. This Imp Perverse, or the tendency to do a thing simply because we know we should not, is a strange but true phenonenon of human nature, noted by lesser men than Poe. There is a tradition in literary circles however, that this tory is the second writing and that the circumstances of the first writing, which was refused by the printer, were wierd and imaginative.

In his original draft Poe is credited with dealing with the psychological reaction of a group of college students. In common circumstances he represents them as being normally intelligent, God-fearing, and gentlemanly. It is in the daily assemblage for worship that the author turns loose his Imp Perverse. He tells a strange tale of young men who are normally well conducted coming into this chapel service singing and shouting. Educated gentlemen are represented as singing harmonious and unharmonious chords in unison with the chord struck on a piano as a signal for silence. Men who are musically gifted are seized by the Imp and refuse to sing or else shout discordant notes. Christian gentlemen, under the spell, keep up an undertone of conversation slurring remarks about the leader, or actual profanity while the word of God is being read. Many who are seldom accustomed to open text books are stimulated by the Imp with a violent desire to study during the devotional service. Other bright wide-awake fellaws are represented as suddenly feeling the dire need of a nap. To cap the climax the author credits the Imp with exciting such a desire to return to recitations that young gentlemen push and trample on the heels of young ladies in leaving the chapel.

This story, according to unauthentic tradition is supposed to have been refused by the publishers as being untrue to life in the American colleges of this day.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

Jolly Santa Claus, with an even jollier child, appears on the Christmas Seal which is with us again this holiday season.

The use of this Seal on your letters and packages carries good cheer to your friends and means improved health for your community.

The proceeds from the Christmas Seal and from the Health Bond are used by citizens tuberculosis organizations in fighting tuberculosis a preventable disease. The Seals are provided in each community through a local committee and these committees retain more than three-fourths of the money they realize for their work in the home community.

Progress in eradicating tuberculosis is necessarily slow but the death rate is being lowered. One of the surest and most effective means now being used is the work in the schools. The value of these efforts is recognized to such an extent that a health instruction course will soon be made part of the curriculum in Pennsylvania. This course will contain some of the features of the Modern Health Crusade which is now being conducted by citizen tuberculosis committee.

Men and women get training in college that makes them leaders in many walks of life. Their assistance in the Christmas Seal sale, which has a very vital part in the present health movement, will help fit them for leadership in public health.

Leadership in health is a thing to be sought as much as leadership in business or religious lines.

STUDENT'S FORUM

WORTHY COMMUNICATIONS FROM BUCKNELL UNDERGRADUATES AND ALUMNI WILL BE PRINTED IN THIS COLUMN IF PROPERLY SIGNED AND SENT TO THE EDITOR.

ADVERTISING!

Everybody appreciates the spirit shown at Bucknell by the chalking on the floors. However some care seems to be lacking, in several respects. The Class Memorials hardly seem a fitting billboard. The stairs in Main Building also seem to have received an over-abundance of the coral product. It seems fitting to say that the top of the steps might be chalked, because there it will soon disappear. The sides of the steps, however, present an entirely different side of the issue. There the chalk must stay until the janitor scrubs it off.

A little discretion in advertising may save time and labor for the other fellow. Lets cooperate!

—A Senior.

OUR NEW SPIRIT

The Following article written by "Bobby Waddell, '20, and published ina Pittsburg paper expresses to my mind the new spirit of Bucknell ,

"Bucknell is no longer a trial horse for the big colleges. We have a big team this year, and we are starting to grow. We had more students than we could handle when college opened in September. Many extra acres of land have been acquired lately upon which to build. Athletics at Bucknell have been carried along just so-so, but there is a revival on and it won't be long until we will be up with the leaders. You know it doesn't take long to get to the top these days."

BOOST

There are a certain few wet blankets in every institution in the country whether that institution be prison, asylum, hospital or school and in Bucknell we have our few who have long since adopted the common, ordinary hammer as their mainstay of equipment.

These few fellow beings refuse to turn the clouds inside out. They seem to feel that the only difference between school and jail is that in jail you have hopes of shortening your sentence while in school you work only for clemency. They hover over every bit of sunshine ready to swoop down and destroy it like a bunch of hawks. They set up a wall at every opportunity, equal to that of the hound dog in Huckleberry Finn, who sat and howled at the moon because it was bright.

These fellows accomplish nothing, amount to nothing, are are worth nothing minus to the school and to their fellow students. The hammer is a great instrument for driving nails but a poor one for driving a-head. Constructive critiesm has accomplished wonders, but destructive critiesm has never accomplished any thing. Let's get together and learn to take things as they come. Forget about the thorns on the roses, think only of the fragrance of the blossom. If things are going wrong don't sob, but get out and change them. Be alive and smile a bit and strive to make your surroundings the brighter for your presence.

Remember, an optimist is a person who sees a light where there isn't any and a pessimist is a person who blows it out, so look about you and see the lights of opportunity and then cast aside your hammer to lend your efforts toward a better Bucknell.

DR. BATTEN, '85, ON STRIKES

Dr. Samuel Zane Batten, in an interview granted the Public Ledger of Philadelphia, in July, made some interesting comments on the famous report of the Interchurch Committee appointed to investigate the steel strike. His statement, as published in the Public Ledger of July 30, is in part as follows:

"Doctor Batten was interviewed at his office in the Roger Williams Building, Seventeenth and Chestnut streets, in reference to the report that after a committee of the Interchurch World Movement had pronounced in favor of the strikers the opposition of certain capitalists to the publication of that report led to the withdrawel of their financial support and the collapse of the Interchurch World Movement.

"It was unfortunate that the strike was lost, but it was inevitable, Doctor Batten said. "The special interests had access to the press, and by means of propaganda and appeals to prejudice they aroused public sentiment against the strikers, who were just in their demands."

The report of the steel strike was very carefully studied by a representative committee of church leaders, who based their conclusions upon information received from both sides. The report shows the value of first-hand and disinterested study of these industrial questions.

CARNEGIE TECH
Scarab Installed at Tech

Announcement has been made of the Installation of a chapter of Scarab in Tech. Scarab is the oldest Architectural Professional Fraternity and has chapters in practically every school of architecture in the country.

The charter was granted to the former Gargoyle Society in the school of Architecture, Division of the Arts, and was installed on June 22nd, at the Fort Pitt Hotel The installation ceremony was under the personal direction of the members of the High Council.

Membership is taken from the upper third year of the Junior Class and elected during the latter part of that year, after approval of the Faculty.

GEORGIA TECH.

Georgia Tech has a co-operative course modeled along the lines of the one started some time ago by the University of Cincinnati. Through this course Georgia Tech aims to give the engineering student a practical training in shop practice, to offer more than she could give in her own shops. The course is open to a limited number of men, the men being divided into groups according to their preferences for study. Half of these groups are placed on jobs furnished by the large industrial plants around Atlanta. The other half of the groups pursue a course at the Tech. At the end of the set period, the two halves of the groups change places, the men thus alternating on the jobs during the entire course. Georgia Tech claims to turn out better engineers with this course.

FOOTBALL CAPTAINS

Line men are in the majority as captains of college football teams in this ection of the country, a list of sixty-two teams showing thirty-nine line players against twenty-three backfield men. In the list are thirteen ends, thirteen tackles, six guards, seven centers, seven quarterbacks, nine halfbacks, and seven fullbacks. An unusual condition prevails in eastern football, that of having brothers captaining four of the leading elevens in the collegiate group. The Callahan brothers will lead Yale and Princeton, while the Robertson brothers have been chosen to captain the Syracuse and Dartmouth teams.—

Ravings of College Wits Worthy of Notice

TALKED LIKE A TAILOR

The members of the choir were practicing the well-known anthem "As the Heart Pants After the Water Brook."

The rendering of the open stages was apparently not quite to the satisfaction of the gentleman who wielded the baton.

He considered it necessary, therefore, to tended some advice to the tenors, and caused great consternation and not a little embarrassment among his little flock by the following announcement:

"Gentlemen, your expression is simply splendid, but the time is very poor—really, your pants are far too long."

Jones used to raise some garden sass, the H.C.L. to jar, but now his garden's gone to grass. He's workin' on his car. Jones used to like to shoot some pool and play on his guitar, but now you'll find him hot or cool a-workin' on his car. One day he started for a ride but hadn't gone so far until he pulled up to one side a-workin' on his car. Jones used to like to sit around and smoke a good cigar, but now he's lying on the ground a-workin' on his car. Jones used to say some day he'd "hitch his wagon to a star," but now he never will be rich—he's workin' on his car.

"That is my hired man asleep up there in the crotch of that oak tree," said Mr. Piffle Shooter. "You are entitled to one guess as to whether he climb up there to slumber or went to sleep on the ground on top of an acorn which grew up with him."

He: "My ancestors were people of brains."

She: "Too bad you were disinherited."

Considerate Mule.

A negro was trying to saddle a fractious mule, when a bystander asked: "Does that mule ever kick you Sam?"

"No, suh, but he sometimes kicks where I'se jes' been."

A Passing Fancy

I passed her on the Campus.
She was a dream.
I sensed a rare perfume as she swept by.

"How dare you, sir?" said the young ady as she slapped his face for kissing her.

"Well, if thats' the way you feel about it, get off my lap."

A REALLY TRULY ONE

Prof. Hamblin (in Greek Civilization) "The old saying is "It takes three Turks to beat a Jew and three Jews to beat a Greek."

Markowitz '22—"That ain't true, I often walked out without paying for a shine."

MERCY!

The school room was rather chilly and the school teacher from Boston sent this written complaint to the principal: "There is hardly calorie enouch in this room to attitudenize the mercury above the freezing quotation."

BEEN THROUGH THE MILL

"Brown acknowledges that he knows nothing about women."

"What an immense experience experience with them he must have had."

Co-ed—"You should change your style of dancing a little."
Fresh—"In what way?"
Co-ed—"You might occasionally step on my left foot."

PHILANTHROPY

When a rich man wants to get rid of his money, he gives a million to charity, or sends his son to college.

"You can lead a student to lectures but you cant make him think."

"A co-ed is known by the dates she keeps."

For a nonce our eyes met.
She smiled and glanced down.
And blushed,
My heart knocked in my chest.
Sweet sentiments filled my mind.
Then I glanced down also.
I blushed also.
I became aware
That one of my garters was not giving me the proper support.

—Pelican

Fresh—"What became of that shimmy dancer you used to go with?"
Gordy—"She shook me."

A little hand I held last night;
It made my nervous heart-beats rush,
My blood ran hot and cold by turns,
Ten bucks it won—my royal flush!

He (despairingly)—"Oh, why did I ever learn gambling?"
She—"That's the trouble; you never learned."

The Spice o'life

If the saying, "Brevity is the soul of wit," is true then there is something ridiculous about the costumes of some of our fair enchantress.—

The Blue Stocking.

A man had a quarrel with his wife. When asked why, he said— "She drinks."

"Do you drink yourself?" asked the magistrate.

"That's my business."

"Any other business?" asked the officer.

"It says here that if you want to develop anything you should exercise it regularly," said Old Fogy, as he looked up from his paper.

"Huh!" commented Grouch. "If that was a fact, a woman's jaw would be as big as her chest."

I'll say
"It's a friendly pipe"
"This pipe is friendly to your tongue and friendly to your purse—a good reliable pipe at a low price." Men warm up to this pipe more quickly than any pipe we sell.
The MOROCCO
You will not realize how much your pipe money will buy until you see this pipe. Fitted with nickel plated rings and solid rubber bits. No trouble to show the MOROCCO.

A MID SUMMER NIGHTS REALITY

She and I went walking
O'er the beach of sand,
The winds were whispering softly.
As I held her little----------Cape.

Yes, I held her little cape,
We watched the full moon rise,
And she gave me back my look,
As I gazed into her -----Vanity box.

As I gazed into her vanity box,
She closed it up with haste
We sat down upon the beach
My arm about her-----tennis raquet.

Clasping thus the raquet
My soul was sunk in bliss,
As with the utmost passion
My love returned my--------frat pin.

TUSTIN, '84, ADDRESSES LAWYERS

Ernest L. Tustin , '84. addressed the American Bar Association at its anual meeting in St. Louis, in August speaking very earnestly on the need for the establishment in all cities of municipal legal aid bureaus such as he has recently established in Philadelphia of which we elsewhere give an account.

He said in part, as reported by the Philadelphia Public Ledger, "The duty of the municipality to conduct a legal aid bureau is just as much a civic duty as cleaning streets and approviding water. A bureau to investigate and defend impositions upon the poor and ignorant, and to furnish a proper and rational defense for men women and children without means is just as much an obligation as to fill the office of district attorney for the prosecution of crimes, or to provide a city solicitor to enforce health mandates and building restrictions."

Mr. Tustin's appeal was seconded by Charles E. Huges, who declared "The legal aid society is the poor man's lawyer and gives him the essential assistance he cannot obtain elsewhere.

PHOTOPLAY TECHNIQUE IN A COLLEGE COURSE

Announcement is made that a course in the technique of the moving picture will be included in the curriculum of Columbia University in New York City. The course is a part of the Department of English and was tried out this summer with signal success—so go the reports received.

"The course is still in an experimental state," says Dr. Hunt, who is in charge of this department. "What we are attempting is to determine for ourselves the value of the motion picture as an air to instruction in biography, history and whatever other studies lend themselves to picturization.

The course in the writing and construction of the photoplay, given under Mr. Patterson, take up the motion picture from on entirely different angle.

"We are going to try to teach those students who show talent the actual technical points connected with the writing of photoplays," said Mr. Patterson, "We have our laboratories for this right in the motion picture theatres of the city and in our own classrooms, where from time to time we show current films and attempt to analyze them from all points that could be of interest to writers for the screen. This will include all of the camera tricks and devices. The student must have a pretty fair knowledge of the limits and possibilities of the camera, and use of the close-up, the fade-in and fade-out in the development of the story, adaption of the story and dramatization of setting."

—Photoplay Magazine.

Louis F. Lyns, '14 who is President of the Oil Specialties & Supply Co. of New York City has been visiting his Sigma Chi brothers and friends in town for the past week. Mr. Lynes is now preparing for the McGraw Publishing Co. a treatise to be called 'Lubrication of Lubricants.' Incidentally with his visit here, he has submitted to the Committee on Degrees a thesis which will, if approved, give him his M. E. degree.

VOL. XXIV LEWISBURG, PA., NOVEMBER 15, 1920. NUMBER 6

ARMISTICE DAY IS CELEBRATED BY BUCKNELL UNDERGRADUATES

Memorial Services Held At Baptist Church On Thursday Morning

Fraternity Smokers Are Well Attended. ---- Class Scrap Forms Unexpected Attraction.

Armistice Day was fittingly celebrated at Bucknell this year with special services at the Baptist church, a parade, the annual Frosh-Soph football game, a scrap that was not scheduled in the catalogue of events, and a general good time in the evening at fraternity smokers. Dr. Harris and President Hunt made appropriate addresses at the church in the morning, and the parade was also carried out, with Troop "M" making a very attractive showing. The Sophomores won the football game by a 16-0 score after a thrilling battle, but lost out in the scrap which took place between the halves. Things would have gone very badly with them had not "Dick" Mason, president of the Senior class, intervened and brought the fight to an end.

Armistice Day saw the greatest class spirit shown here in recent years, both sexes taking a very active part. Early Wednesday evening the Sophomores gathered at the flag pole on the campus, and thereupon hung a red banner bearing the numerals of 1923. This was carefully guarded by armed sentries all night long, and as an extra precaution the top part of the pole was greased after the flag had been run up. Husky Sophs, perched in the rungs of the pole with paddles and long pieces of iron pipes, kept careful watch, while others walked posts in true military fashion armed with an assorted collection of artillery. No attempt, however, was made by the Frosh to take the flag down.

A short time before the game was called the big green horde swept down from the hill and surrounded the flag pole, pulling all the Sophs in reach to the ground, where others sat upon them to keep them out of the conflict. The two underclasses battled mightily for nearly twenty minutes, when "Art" Harries and "Dick" Mason decided it was time to call the game. The fight was then declared adjourned, but during the halves the Sophs surrounded the pole again and prepared for defense. The Frosh at this time were given the freedom of the Athletic field in a snake dance, but like the Union forces at Lookout Mountain in the Civil war, started a charge while still on dress parade, and made a clean sweep to the base of the pole. Here the fighting grew hotter, but the Frosh, having the greater advantage of numbers, gradually pulled all of the Sophs except one from the pole. Here Mason stepped in again, and called the one remaining defender down to terra firma. In order to remove the cause, and to prevent the scrap from starting up again, "Hub" Derr, '21, climbed the pole himself and cut down the offending banner with neatness and dispatch.

Both sides suffered heavy casualties in the scrap, especially one Sophomore, who sought in vain for a barrel to go home in. Many minor bruises were received by the warriors, but with the exception of a few damaged garments, the execution was small.

In the evening the various fraternities held smokers, and intervisiting was encouraged. Nearly everyone went the rounds, and enjoyed the refreshments, smokes and card games. The Delta Sigma house was quite popular as a refreshment center, as cider and pretzels were on tap for all guests, with the Lambda Chis, S. A. E.'s and Phi Psi's arranged on similar lines. Phi Gamma Delta and Kappa Sigma ran more to pinochle and other card games, while the great event of the whole night was a card game at the Sigma Chi house, in which each of the participants removed various and sundry parts of his wardrobe every time he was "low

GLEE CLUB HAS A NEW SCHEDULE

PLANS FINALLY MADE FOR WESTERN TRIP, WHICH WILL BE TAKEN DURING THANKSGIVING VACATION.

The Bucknell University Glee Club will make its first initial appearance at Lewisburg next week, when the club will give its first concert at the local Methodist Church on Thursday evening, November 18th, at 8:15 o'clock.

The program will be filled with the old-time pep and variety for which the club was noted last season. The numbers by the Glee Club as a whole will be more in evidence than heretofore. The solo work will be carried by the same artists that did the work last year, Hobart Brown will render one of his favorite selections, Ralph Hartz will be the tenor soloist, and "Bobby" Hartz will use his violin to good advantage and "Bobby" this year is better than ever as was shown by his playing at the Baptist State Convention at Williamsport the other week. Keech, the cartoonist of last year's club, will have a new selection of drawings for his audience. The quartet has a group of new selections that cannot help but please. In short, it is the same old variety and pep with new numbers to express it with. Remember the date and be on hand. The small admission fee of 35c will be charged. Be on hand to back up the organization that is doing so much to bring Bucknell before the public in all parts of this and other states.

The first western trip of the Glee Club begins on November 23 with a concert at Harrisburg. The trip will continue through the western part of the state until the 3rd of December, when a concert will be given at Kittaning, Pa. The concert at Lewisburg will be a preliminary to the western trip. The itinerary of the trip will be as follows:

November 23—Harrisburg, Pa.
24—Hollidaysburg
25—Cresson
26—Jeannette
27—Vandergrift
28—Connellsville
29—Connellsville
30—Pittsburg
December 1—Linesville
2—Greenville
3—Kittanning

The list of the names of the men making the trip will be posted within a few days, and intensive rehearsals for the big occasion will be held daily. With the present prospects for concerts, every man should be on hand and work his best to make this trip one of the best yet.

CO-EDS ARE POPULAR

Are the Bucknell co-eds popular? Judging from the goodly number of the B. U. fair ones who acted as H. P.'s at the annual Pennsylvania day at State College, one would answer with a decided "Yes."

A few of the many at State over the past week-end were: Hattie Fertig, '21, Kathryn Spotts, '21., Dorothy Spangler, '21, Harriet Kinsman '22, Katherine Pettigrew '22, Phoebe Davis. '22 Emily Kurtz, '22. Anna Althouse, '22, Margaret Small, '23, Louise Hood, '23, Mabel Baker, '23, Helen Kerstetter, 23, Anna Fisher, '23, Freda Mackrett, '21, Florence Dare, '24, Eleanor Berry, '24, Laura Smith, '22, Mary Halderman, '24, Geraldine Smucker, '23 and Hulda Heim, '22.

BANQUET FOR 524

S. S. U. 524 held its annual banquet at the Penn Harris hotel in Harrisburg after the game Saturday, with a goodly number of the members of that famous organization in attendance.

Diffy's College Five played for two dances in Harrisburg over the week-end.

FROSH LOSE TO HEAVIER SOPH FOOTBALL TEAM

SECOND YEAR MEN GET BREAKS AND WIN BY SCORE OF 16-0.

FRESHMEN ARE HARD FIGHTERS

Game is One of the Best Ever Played On Local Athletic Field In History of Class Rivalry.

The Sophomore football team won the annual Frosh-Sophomore gridiron classic of Armistice day by a score of 16-0. The second year men outweighed the plebes considerably, but the plucky Freshmen made up in fight what they lacked in weight, and put up one of the best battles of its kind ever played on the local field. The Sophs also had the advantages of the breaks with them, and had it not been for some hard luck on the part of the first year men the Soph score would have been nine points less. An interesting feature of the game was the unusual number of forward passes attempted by both sides, several of which worked to perfection.

For the Frosh, back-field honors were evenly divided between Henning, Bellak and Seybolt, while Coene, Larson, Jennison and Butler held the line like a stone wall and frequently broke through and made tackles. Hall also played a good game. Dayhoff, Hahn, Gdanlec and McGraw played best for the Sophs in the order named.

The game by periods:

First period—The Sophs won the toss and elected to receive. They received on their fifteen-yard line and Gdanlec ran the ball back to the thirty-yard line. They failed to make their ten yards, whereupon the Freshmen made a first down on two off-tackle plays. The Sophs then held and Seybolt missed a field goal from the thirty-yard line by three yards. The ball was brought out twenty yards and the Frosh held and received the ball on downs. On the next play, Gdanlec intercepted a forward pass intended for Butler and raced almost the entire length of the field down the west side uptil Henning dropped him on the five-yard line. Seybolt and Henning mussed up two attempts at forward passes and the Frosh got the ball on downs. Seybot punted. Failing to gain, Gdanlec attempted a field goal from the thirty-five yard line, failing short of the cross-barr by five yards. Seybolt got off a punt good for forty-five yards before it went out of bounds. A moment later he downed Wrenn for a loss when the latter tried to gain around the right wing. Hall broke through and nailed Gdanlec for a loss just as the quarter ended with the Sophs in possession of the ball on their thirty-five yard line.

Second quarter—On the second play Chapman was penalized fifteen yards for off-side. Gdanlec punted forty yards to Bellak, who was downed on his forty yard line. After several minutes of even battling Bellak punted to the Sophs' twenty-five yard line. Here the Sophs braced and started a wonderful come-back. Gdanlec went off tackle for twelve yards and the Sophs first down. Wrenn went through for three yards and Gdanlec followed with eight more. For a couple of minutes it looked like a complete route. As soon as they got within striking distance. Dayhoff used his head and called for the pretty forward which caught the Frosh unaware and resulted in a touchdown, after which he booted a clean goal. Coene received Dayhoff's kick-off on the twenty yard line and ran it back eight yards be-

PHI GAMM'S BANQUET

The Gettysburg and Bucknell chapters of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity held a joint banquet at the Penn Harris hotel in Harrisburg at 6:30 Saturday evening. Both chapters were well represented, and much friendly rivalry was exhibited over the outcome of the game.

BOWSER MAY BE MENTIONED FOR ALL-AMERICAN

POWERFUL FULLBACK RECEIVES PRAISE IN NEWSPAPERS

WONDERFUL FOOTBALL PLAYER

Ross Kauffman, of North American, Says Bowser is Best Fullback Seen on Franklin Field.

Arda C. Bowser, Bucknell's giant fullback, is rapidly coming into his own in the press notices of the large metropolitan newspapers. He has already been mentioned in several dispatches as All-American material, and his title seems assured next year if not this. His all-around playing and general usefulness, both on the offense and defense, has caused him to receive favorable consideration in all games played so far this year, and in the remaining games, his average should climb still higher. Last season his wonderful strength caused much comment, but owing to the wealth of backfield material on hand here at that time, he did not have a real chance to show his sterling worth. This year, however, he grasped his opportunity early in the season and immediately won for himself a secure place in the backfield, as well as a spot of endearment in the hearts of all Bucknell undergraduates and alumni.

Ross E. Kauffman, special sporting writer on the Philadelphia North American, pays Bowser the following tribute:

"The three players who starred on Franklin Field on successive Saturdays would form a mighty sweet backfield trio for any coach to work with and added to that all that would be needed to round out a remarkable backfield would be Bucknell's star fullback, Bowser. Any college in America would welcome such a backfield quartet as this:

Leech, Virginia, M. I.
Haines, Penn State.
Davies. Pitt.
Bowser, Bucknell.

Bowser is not getting all the credit that he is entitled to. He played a remarkable game here early in the season, but his work at Annapolis against the Navy was even better.

Lieutenant Commander Joe Morrison, of the United States Naval Academy, recently had the following to say about Bowser: "He's one of the greatest fullbacks seen at Annapolis in years. With a man like him in our backfield we could have won the Princeton game. On one of the big eastern teams his praises would be sung from one end of the country to another. He is big and strong and can do anything."

The Philadelphia Record of October 31 gives him a royal send-off, and elaborates quite extensively on his many virtues as follows:

"One of the individuals whose effectiveness is contributing very largely to the success of the Bucknell football team this year is Arda C. Bowser, varsity fullback. He is a product of the Ford City, (Pa.) High School. While attending school there, he was a member of the football, basketball and baseball teams, and was captain of the ofotball team in 1917.

Ardis is 6 feet 2 inches tall, and tips the scales for 195 pounds. He entered Bucknell last year and made his "B" in football at once, but his success was due mainly to his great size and strength. But Coach C. W.

BUCKNELL CRUSHES GETTYSBURG IN ANNUAL GAME SATURDAY

Bowser, Julian, Kostos and Wilsbach Are Leading Stars In Big Battle

Great Growd Sees Orange And Blue Defeat Battlefield Collegians at Harrisburg.

Bucknell completely outclassed the big Gettysburg team in the annual football classic at Harrisburg Saturday, winning by a score of 45-0. This was the second game Gettysburg has lost this season, the first being to Penn State by a 12-0 score. In the various Harrisburg, as well as the Philadelphia papers, Bowser is given the credit for being the star of the game. Certain it was that his field goal and brilliant run for the first touchdown of the game in the second quarter completely smashed the Gettysburg morale, and enabeld the big Blue team to pile up its unusually high score. Bowser's two additional touchdowns, his terrific line plunging, his speed in running the ends and his powerful kicks brought him a fame in Harrisburg that will live for many years.

CAPTAIN EMANUEL, Gettysburg

Wilsbach, the husky half-back, lived up to his reputation as a Harrisburg Tech star, and made a series of wonderful gains through the line, as well as showing up very well on the defense. His townspeople were quick to recognize him, as well as Bihl, Lauster, Morret and Dayhoff, and every play brought many favorable remarks from the large crowd. Captain Kostos, as usual, played his very best game against Gettysburg, and made some fine gains at the necessary time. "Tommy" Mangan played a brilliant game at quarter, and the loss of his leadership was keenly felt when he was removed the varsity for his work during the because of injuries.

Julian earned a regular place on game and showed that he was born with his eye on the ball. Twice he picked up Gettysburg fumbles, scoring a touchdown on one after a 40 yard run, and bringing the ball into scoring position the other time. Steve Wargo held down the other side of the line with the same hard, fighting spirit that he used back in '17 and '18. Homan also got his name printed in big letters by grabbing a Gettysburg fumble and carrying it 25 yards for a touchdown.

Reed, Bihl, Morrett and Dooley all came in for their share of the glory. "Wink" Gdanlec, who took the place of Kostos in the last period, scored a pretty touchdown, and played a good general game. Every man in uniform got in the game in the last quarter, and succeeded in holding Gettysburg as safe as the varsity.

Captain Emanuel, of Gettysburg, won the toss from Bucknell and elected to receive, defending the west goal. Bowser kicked off at 2:50 to Phillips on his five-yard line and he brought it back to his three-yard line. Smith gained five yards through left tackle. Smith failed to gain. Fuhrman took the ball through right guard for a first down. Smith gained a foot. Fuhrman failed to gain through center. A forward pass from Phillips to Emanuel grounded.

GIRLS HOLD SCRAPS OF THEIR OWN

SOPHOMORES DEFEAT FRESHMEN IN THE FIRST ANNUAL ARMISTICE DAY RACE AROUND "FOUR MILE."

"Ray Freshman!" "Ray 1924!" The Freshman and Sophomore fellows may fight their battles out in football, but when it comes to the co-eds—"Aye! there's the rub!" Freshman and Sophomore spirit predominant about the "Sem" all week due to the Fresh-Soph football game on Thursday made its outburst, when on Wednesday night the walls about the Women's College were adorned with chalk signs such as "1924, "Ray Freshman" and the like. Ere long the Sophs had the Freshies erasing these marks when suddenly it was announced that twas not the work of the "green ones" but rather that of the Juniors. Next the Seniors took a hand in and for a time it seemed as if there would be a "free for all" However all was calmed when the Juniors and Freshman decided to amalgamate and clean up the work done. Thus passed Wednesday night.

However Thursday morning found flags of the Class of '24 on top of Main Building and Bower House. The Sophs tried to persuade the Freshman to take the flags down but the Freshies in "Rasey's" Cheery had learned never! Never! NEVER! and so made practical use of the term.

"Compromise—get rid of Some of the surplus energy" the two classes were urged, and so after a lengthy class meeting of both classes the following agreement was drawn up: at 7:45 P. M. both classes clad in bloomers and middies were to set out for a hike around the four mile. The class having the greater proportion back within 15 minutes after the first one arrived, were to be treated to ice-cream by their opponents. Class Presidents, Emily Devine '21, and Jennie Burke, '22 as well as Miss Carey, were to act as referees.

All was excitement about the Woman's College—after each girl had registered, the Freshies with Miss Carey, and the Sophomores with Emily Devine, then President Hood, '23 and Walker, '24 clasped hands and the race was on The Sophs went by way of Sigma Chi house, returning by the Athletic field and the Freshman vice versa.

Can girls run? Can they walk fast? Within 54 minutes from the time set out on the 4 mile hike, the Sophomores had returned 100 per cent strong and the Freshies 77 7-9 per cent. The first of the competetors arrived 43 minutes after starting time, which by the way is not a bad record for a co-ed, 4 miles in 43 minutes. Among the first to arrive of the class of 1921 were Ruth Ruhl, Louise Hood Elizabeth Hurst, Marguerite Brierly, Stella Domsalski, Cornelia Boyd and Dorothy Auer. Of the class of 1924 came Elva Homer, Rose Gimmell, Mildred Caver, Mary Braumiller, Mildred Houseman, Eleanor Kingsbury, also Jennie Burke '22 who acted as Freshman coach.

After a final count it was decided that the Sophomores were the victors, the Freshman buying the ice cream which was enjoyed at a party held in the parlor of the Woman's college after the hike.

The tally was as follows.
Time of starting 6:42 P. M.
Time of first arrival 7:25 P. M.
No. of Sophs set out 28.
No. of Freshman set out 49.

At 7:36 P. M. 38 (100 per cent.) Sophs had arrived, at 7:36 P. M. 42 (77 7-9 per cent Freshman had arrived.

At 7:40 when race ended, Sophs had all arrived four minutes previous while Freshmen were not all in.

Thus ended thae competition Sophs and Freshies both pledging to stop rivalry henceforth and forever more.

It is rumored that this hike will become a yearly custom.

IN MEMORIAM

In behalf of the student body of Bucknell University, the Bucknellian carries a message of sympathy to Marvin Ayres Searles, '22, on the death of his mother last Saturday. We realize how fitile any words we may say will appear in this time of deepest distress, especially when a manly man has lost his best and dearest parent, but hope that he will find a true spirit of consolation and collegiate brotherhood in them in this his hour of greatest trial.

BEAT DICKINSON

The Bucknellian urges every loyal follower of the Orange and Blue to see the Dickinson-Bucknell game at Williamsport on Thanksgiving Day. Last year Dickinson held the vastly superior Bucknell team to a 6-0 score, and we will never have a better chance to make a defent really decisive. The Athletic Held at Williamsport will readily accommodate all followers of the big Orange and Blue team who are unable to go to their homes that day, and the game usual itself promises to be one of unusual merit. Williamsport is only thirty miles away, and the train service is excellent on both roads, so there is no logical excuse for anyone staying away.

STUDENT'S FORUM

WORTHY COMMUNICATIONS FROM BUCKNELL UNDERGRADUATES AND ALUMNI WILL BE PRINTED IN THIS COLUMN IF PROPERLY SIGNED AND SENT TO THE EDITOR.

A NEW DEPARTURE

A number of students and professors have been lamenting the fact that there was no longer a literary society in Bucknell where students would spontaneously show their appreciation of literature and art. What people do with their leisure time is the test of their characters and tastes. It would certainly be unfortunate if Bucknell would fail to develop a taste for the true and the beautiful.

So an effort is being made, not to reorganize the defunct literary societies, but to provide a place, a time, a means, whereby the whole University can function culturally, a sort of open forum, to be called the Bucknell Lyceum. It is proposed that it be co-education having, besides the literary and musical portions of the program, a perfectly democratic, university broad social feature. The plan will be explained at a special meeting to be held in Bucknell Hall Wednesday Nov. 17, at 4:30 P. M. There will be special music, and an address by Prof. A. L. Recold. Other members of the faculty and student body will speak, and if it meets the aproval of those present, officers will be elected.

Every one is urged to be present.

Bucknell's 25-yard line. Kostos gained three yards on a fake kick. Wilsbach gained two yards through left guard. Bowser gained three yards around left end. Bowser kicked in the air and the ball went out of bounds on Bucknell's 38-yard line. McDowell gained three yards through right tackle. Smith lost a half-yard. Fuhrman gained three yards through center. Fuhrman failed in an attempt to kick a goal from placement. Bucknell's ball on the 36-yard line. Wilsbach lost one foot. Kostos gained four yards through right tackle. Bowser gained two yards through left tackle.

Smith caught Bowser's punt and brought it back to Gettysburg's 45-yard line. McDowell gained one yard. Smith gained 3 yards around right and on a wide formation. Phillips' pass went out of bounds. Fuhrman kicked to Mangan who returned the ball to Bucknell's 25-yard line. Wilsbach failed to gain. Bowser gained two yards on an end run. Bucknell fumbled and Kelser fell on the ball for Gettysburg on Bucknell's 33-yard line. Fuhrman failed to gain. Phillips failed to gain. Phillips' pass to Emanuel grounded.

Fuhrman attempted another goal from placement which went wide Bucknell was given the ball on her own 20-yard line. Wilsbach gained 2 yards through the line. Bowser carried the ball 10 yards. Wilsbach gained 2 yards. Bowser gained one yard. Mangan's attempted forward was knocked down. Bowser kicked out of bounds on Gettysburg's 45-yard line. Fuhrman kicked on the first play over Bucknell's goal line, and the ball was brought to Bucknell's 20-yard line. Wilsbach gained 2 yards. Kostos gained 5 yards, Wilsbach carried the ball for a first down. Kostos squirmed through the Gettysburg line for a first down. Mangan gained 2 yards, but Bucknell was penalized 5 yards for being of-sides. Bowser gained 10 yards. Bowser punted to Smith who ran it to his 30-yard line. Smith gained 7 yards around right end. Fuhrman failed to gain, and the quarter ended. Score, Gettysburg, 0; Bucknell 0.

Gettysburg has the ball on her 20-yard line. Phillips gained one foot. Fuhrman gained two yards. Phillips gained one yard. Fuhrman punted and Mangan was downed on his 30-yard line. Gettysburg was given the ball on Bucknell's 40-yard line, when a Bucknell man tripped a Gettysburg player. Smith gained two yards. Phillips' pass grounded. Mangan intercepted Phillips' pass on his 36-yard line. Wilsbach gained twenty yards through the line. Bowser gained five yards. Wilsbach crashed through left tackle for four yards. Kostos gained a first down on Gettysburg's 35-yard line. Wilsbach gained two yards through right tackle. Wilsbach failed to gain. Mangan's attempted forward grounded. Bowser kicked a goal from placement from his 42-yard line. Julian held the ball. The line held well. Score, Bucknell, 3; Gettysburg, 0.

Gettysburg elected to receive and Bowser kicked off. Phillips caught the ball on his 5-yard line and gained ten yards, Phillips gained two yards. McDowell gained one yard. Kostos received the kick on his 50 yard line and carried it six yards. Larew was hurt on the play, but gamely resumed play after several minutes. Bower broke through left tackle on the first play and, after eluding several players, carried the ball over the line on a 44-yard run. Kostos kicked the goal. Score: Bucknell 10; Gettusburg 0.

The second half started out like a whirlwind, and Gettysburg was never dangerous from this point on. Bowser's great running with the ball, as well as his long distance kicking, and Wilsbach's line plunging made a series of steady processions toward the Gettysburg goal line. Julian Homan and Gdaniec each made a contribution to the score, and put the game safely on ice.

Smith and Captain Emanuel were Gettysburg's best performers. Smith made many long gains around end and thru tackle, while Captain Emanuel was a mainstay on the defence.

The first quarter was a punting duel between the opposing forces. Fuhrman, of Gettysburg, and Bowser, of Bucknell, matched toes and the former had a big advantage until Bowser started to kick from placement. Several times his kicks went 75 yards. In the early stages of the game Gettysburg missed several chances to score when they missed two placement kicks, both from the 40-yard line.

Bucknell then changed tactics and by means of strong interference, rushed Gettysburg completely off their feet.

The line-up was as follows:

Gettysburg		Bucknell
Kelser	le	Julian
Larew	lt	Homan
Gingrich	lg	Reed
Richards	c	Bihl
Derr	rg	Morrett
Dulebohn	rt	Dooley
Emanuel	re	Wargo
Smith	q	Mangan
McDowell	lh	Wilsbach
Phillips	r	Kostos
Fuhrman	f	Bowser

Touchdowns—Bowser, 3; Homan, Julian, Gdaniec. Goal from placement—Bowser. Goals from touchdowns—Kostos, 4; Dayhoff, 2. Substitutes—Stewart for Kelser, Kyle for Stewart, Fuhrman for Larew, Gilland for Zeigler, Houtz for Phillips, Welgle for Fuhrman, Jamison for Homan, Lauster for Reed, Morgan Bibl, Hall for Morrett, Coene for Hall, McGraw for Dooley, Dayhoff for Mangan, Gdaniec for Kostos, Henning for Bowser.

BOWSER

P. Reynolds saw his possibilities and held him out of several important games, and then put him in on the line in order to arouse him to his greatest effort.

He stands today as one of the greatest fullbacks in the country. He has been the outstanding individual performer in every game this year.

"Bowser is an all-round football player. His ability is not confined to particular phases of the game. He performs equally well as a kicker, line-plunger, open-field runner, forward passer and defensive man. His line plunging and open-field running are very spectacular. Seven of his eight touchdowns against Ursinus and Muhlenburg were made by straight line plunges, within their 10-yard lines, where the defense is always the stiffest. The eighth was made on a crossed signal. When he found himself in possession of the ball, with no one to receive it from him, and no interference, he dug out for himself, and unaided, tore thru the entire Muhlenburg team, shaking off a half dozen tacklers and carrying the ball fifty-five yards to the goal line.

His kicking ability allows opponents scant reason for any feeling of security. He sends kickoffs high into the air and rarely drops them short of the goal line. His punts are usually forty-five or fifty yards, and kicks the ball high enough to allow the ends ample time to get down the field and drop the receiver in his tracks. His ability to accurately direct placement kicks between the goal posts from any distance less than half the length of the field, makes his team dangerous every time they push the ball into their own territory.

Playing as a defensive halfback, not a single play has got past him in the four games played this year. In several instances he has crossed to the other side of the line and stopped the runner on off-tackle plays. He has also knocked down every forward pass which has been thrown into his territory. In the four games against the University of Pennsylvania, Ursinus, Navy and Muhlenburg, he scored eight touchdowns and two field goals (43 and 52 yards). He has scored 54 of the 94 points which Bucknell has piled up as against their opponents' 14."

ARMISTICE DAY

man." "Bill" Irvin was the first to reach the neutral stage, followed closely by "Soup" Davis and Frank Townsend. Others gradually fell by the wayside until "Red" Jones and "Al" Mahoney were the only survivors. Lack of time and a surplus of clothes prevented a fight to the finish. "Soup" Davis' Phi Gam adherants rushed to his aid with a bathrobe, and the day was saved.

On the whole, the evening was the best thing in the history of the college for the promotion of better fraternity spirit, and may be added to the already long list of events which prove that Armistice Day was a complete success.

Following the parade from the Tuestin Gymnasium composed of the Bucknell Band, students and cavalry troops, a fitting celebration of Armistice Day was held in the Baptist Church at 10 o'clock in the morning. A large crowd turned out to pay tribute to the boys who so gallantly served their country during the late war.

President "Dick" Mason of the Senior Class was the presiding officer of the meeting. The opening prayer was made by Rev. Peacock, followed by the singing of "America" by the audience.

Dr. Hunt made the first address, taking as his theme "What does Armistice Day Really Mean." He said in part:

"We would all like to understand the heart and the meaning of Armistice Day. No one of us knows how much Armistice Day ought to mean to us. Who knows what would have been the situation if Armistice Day had not come? If autocracy and militarism had conquered, what then? Who of us can tell; but we can merely raise the question, do something to open our minds to the significance of this great day.

What does it mean to everyone of our men who were over there? No one of us who was not over there can picture the feelings of the men when they thought, "shall I ever see the Statute of Liberty again; shall I ever see the good old United States again?" And the morning of November 11th, two years ago everyone of our men over there felt that these questions were answered for him. Before that, every morning the question was, what may happen to-day; to-day may settle it. The morning of November 11th two years ago meant that in all probability they would be permitted again to see America and the home and the loved ones. All that Armistice Day has meant therefore, personally to those who were over there, we can only imagine. What it ought to mean to everyone of us is to mean one thing, simply that we will see to it that America lives up to the highest ideals for which she engaged in this fierce struggle. But if we are going to forget all that and adopt the spirit and methods of the enemy, seeking for ourselves all we can get and all we can hold, we'll have no right to celebrate this day; there will be no reason why we should rejoice in the downfall of the foe if we are going to adopt the spirit methods and principles of the foe. However, our ideals are not so clear; we are not quite so certain that they are worth fighting for as we were before. That means that we lost ground to regain and nothing except absolute loyalty to the truth will open the way for us into larger and higher truth. That is just as true of the nation.

About two generations ago an American admiral cast anchor in the harbor at Japan. He wasn't invited. He had distinct notice that this nation was quite willing to remain a hermit nation, but the American representative was not willing that they should and he had a heavier gun to support his point of view. That nation which did not care to enter into a treaty with any other nation on earth was induced, practically forced to make a treaty, with the positive would have equal treatment with the most favored nations with which America was then in treaty. When California got tired of the Chinese and excluded them, they went to Japan to seek labor. Then the state of California began to take the same attitude toward the Japanese. They worked too hard and were too frugal and saved their money too fast. There were 50,000 Japs in California. They seemed to be afraid that 50,000 would swamp the state. They made so much fuss that the Japanese voluntarily stopped the immigration from Japan. Six months ago they stopped the practice which prevailed of permitting Japanese young women to come over to this country to be married.

Lastly, a blank fact is that at the recent election the people of California, by a very large majority, voted to refuse the ordinary rights of citizens, of residents even, to Japanese in California. Even the native-born American children of these Japanese shall not be permitted to hold land in the state of California. This free country that's the melting pot of the nation with the equal right and opportunity for all, I confess to you I hang my head in shame. If we're going back on that policy, that principle, more than a policy, which has been American, and resort to the petty, selfish method of living in this world, we're laying up for ourselves wrath against the day of wrath, and that nation, relatively inexperienced in the international affairs, is entitled to the highest admiration for the self-control, the peace, the dignity, with which they have endured the bullieying of this big neighbor next to them, across the Pacific. Let us advise our people of just what is going on so there may be no ignorance. Shall it be thtat these significant, epoch-making years shall be filled with such memories? If so, we'll be worse of than we were before."

At this point Mr. Grover Short rendered a very beautiful vocal solo which was much appreciated.

It was a disappointment that Major General Clements was unable to be present at the serivce, but his place was more than ably filled by Dr. Harris, who said in part:

"We are celebrating to-day the second anniversary of the close of the great war, a day of the greater rejoicing to all the nations of the world. We will inquire first into the cause of the great struggle and then into our own America's part in it and then to some results that flowed out from it.

Now it so hapened that in Central Europe there was a people who had been divided up into a large number of independent political units. At one time there were as many as three hundred. There were four kingdoms and some five or six duchies, four or five dukedoms, some free citizens and the imperial province of Alsace Lorrace. A great man set himself to uniting Germany. He would combine in one great structure in Central Europe; divine rights of kings, sovereignty of the house of Hohenzollern. They shall have universal suffrage; every man over twenty-five shall vote. There shall be universal education; every man taught to read and write and taught a trade nd we will bind this system of government to the throne and every professor shal be appointed or removed by the emperor and every teacher shall owe his appointment indirectly to the same source. We can have universal education and we can have a despotism, but we will call it an empire. And so Bismarck built up that mighty structure and supporting it all was universal military service; compulsory service. Then it began to degenerate. Socialistic tendencies began to set in. The emperor notified everyone that whoever voted that ticket would be his enemy and an enemy to the state. The Social Democrats gradually disintegrated the government. Only one thing saved despotism from the beginning; that is that it had to be cemented with blood. In the emperor's palace in Potsdam they decided on war. There were four long years of intense struggle. Our part in it was settled when the Pilgrim Fathers landed at Plymouth Rock with their organization of government; and at Bunker Hill and Yorktown and the constitutional convention at Philadelphia and at Gettysburg and Appomattox, and the thirteenth amendment which decided where we were to stand.

There were three great events for us in the war; first in 1917 when the manhod of America from eighteen to forty-five walked up and enrolled for the conflict. The second great event was when the first American troops marched through London, looking straight ahead. They landed on the other side two million men. The effect of the landing of these men will never be forgotten. Third, when our men showed the Allies and our enemy and the world what kind of men had crossed the ocean. Of the Lewisburg boys we can mention Baker Spyker, Bromley Smith and Capt. O'Brien. Capt O'Brien was captain of the foot-ball team here and he said to his men "Come on in, we'll go through." But he fell dead on the way.

The greatest result of the war, as I take it, is a great moral and spiritual uplift on the American people which will never go back, which has come to stay and stay for ever."

SEATS ON SALE

Because of the limited number of seats available for the game to be played with Dickinson at Williamsport, Thanksgiving Day, only a limited number of reserved seats have been placed on sale. Of this amount, there has been a number allotted to the Bucknell student body and the towns-people of Lewisburg. These tickets have been placed on sale at Johnny Browant's Gent's Furnishing Store, "on the corner," where they may be purchased from now until the twenty-third of November.

MECHANICALS HEAR NOTED ENGINEER

The last meeting of the Mechanical Engineering club students was one of the best in the history of the organization. Professor Burpee had charge of the meeting, and the attendance of the Electrical Engineers' Society swelled the attendance. The organizations were addressed by Mr. N. G. Reinicker, who is, at present, the superintendent of operations of the Pennsylvania Power and Light Company at Allentown. He spoke of power stations in general and then touched upon and explained "Superpower" systems and stations. He spoke more in detail of the steam boiler operation end of the game and explained the details of the 2500 h. p. boiler located in the Detroit Edison Company's plant in Detroit with whom he was employed during their construction. These are the largest and most powerful of their kind in the world.

His talk was very interesting and entertaining, and his information first-hand and concise. Mr. Reinicker is blessed with a pleasing personality and can give the information he possesses in such a way that one can hardly help but understand it. He is a Cornell graduate, class of 1911, and has had very wide and varied experience in the line of power plants. He was employed by the Detroit-Edison people during the construction of their big, new plant, and aso by the Newl York-Edison Corporation. During the war, he was employed by the Old Hickory Powder Plant, in Tennessee, and since then has been superintendent of the company in whose employ he now is.

At the conclusion of his talk he answered many questions arising from it, and before leaving he offered to come again and give another talk.

Mr. C. W. Bell, Superintendent of the Milton plant was also the guest of the associated societies.

The presence of both of these gentlemen was due to the effort and invitation of Howard J. Hann, '20, who is at present employed in the Milton plant.

FROSH-SOPH GAME

fore he tripped and fell. The Frosh failed to gain and Seybolt punted, in running down under the punt Butler was taken out so hard that he was compelled to leave the game, Arnold taking his place. A minute later the half ended with the ball in possession of the Sophs in midfield.

Third period—The Sophs kicked off to Henning who ran the ball back five yards. Dayhoff intercepted a forward pass and the Frosh held for downs. On the third play Gdaniec intercepted another forward, but the Frosh line held again and Dayhoff was forced to punt. Bellak was downed on his fifteen yard line. When he attempted to punt out of danger, Walker's pass went wild, and by the time Bellak had adjusted himself to kick, McGraw had broken through and blocked it. The ball rolled over the line and McGraw touched it down. Dayhoff kicked the set-up goal. Tony Covalcante went in at end for Arnold. Seybolt received the kick-off and ran it back thirty yards. Two plays later, Gdaniec intercepted a forward, but fumbled, Covalcante recovering for the Frosh. A moment later Wrenn intercepted a forward, only to be downed immediately. Bellak broke through and threw Kostos for a loss of eight yards. Then Coene intercepted a forward and made fifteen yards before he was downed. On this play, Henning was injured, Butler taking Tony's place and Tony going in at half-back for Henning. Several plays later Butler's ankle went back on him and Smith took his place at end.

Fourth quarter—With Gdaniec clear of the field, Smith batted down a pass that looked as if it would surely have resulted in a touchdown. Seybolt intercepted a forward but was downed on his five yard line. When he attempted to kick out of danger the pass went wild and by the time he had recovered the ball, Hahn tackled him behind the line for a safety. The ball was brought out to the twenty yard line, and on the very first play, Seybolt nailed a forward and got away for twenty more. An aerial—Bellak to Drory—was good for ten more. But the Frosh attempted to use the air line once too often, and the next was intercepted by Dayhoff. The Sophs came right back with the same stuff, and Gdaniec to Wrenn netted twenty yards. After another attempted forward the game ended with the ball on the Frosh forty yard line. Final score, 16-0.

PRE-MEDS MEET

On Monday, No. 8, Dr. Gundy gave an interesting talk before the Pre-Medical society. This is one of the first of a number of speakers planned to address the society during the present year.

On Tuesday Prof. Hilliard is expected to give a demonstration in the chemistry laboratory on the dislocation of joints. Dr. Hilliard has toured Europe and America for some years, spending his entire time giving exhibitions before medical students in the large institutions. Bucknell is very fortunate in securing Dr. Hilliard at this time. He is on his way west and is favoring Bucknell thru the efforts of Dr. Davis.

All students are invited to attend the demonstration Tuesday, while the medical students are urged to be present, this meeting being a substitute for the meeting of Monday, No. 22. A silver offering will be collected Tuesday at the demonstration.

TO TRY OUT SOON

Open week for Frill and Frown closed on Monday night at which time 55 names were in as competitors for the 8 places left vacant by last year's graduates. Frill and Frown has a standing number of 25 and at present 8 girls are necessary to make up that quota. From the present outlook there will be some keen rivalry and the chosen eight will indeed be fortunate, considering the number trying out.

Parts are being assigned and all roles will be assigned by the beginning of the week. Presence at play practice will be one of the chief essentials in the try-outs.

BASKETBALL SCHEDULE FOR SEASON ANNOUNCED BY MANAGER

Pitt, Carnegie Tech, Temple, Juniata and Gettysburg Are Included In List

Eight Games Of Good Quality Are To Be Played On Home Floor--Prospects For Team Are Good.

Francis F. Reamer, '21, manager of the Basketball team, has announced the schedule for the coming year. There are eighteen games scheduled, with another pending. Eight of these games are to be played at home.

In many respects the schedule differs from that of last year. In place of the Cornell, Colgate, and Syracuse trip, which was a bad one for the team on account of illnery, is the Pittsburgh trip. Besides the Pittsburgh trip, there are two others, Dickinson,Gettysburg and the Philadelphia trip. It has also been deemed best not to open the schedule, as last year, before Christmas, but instead, the first week in January.

The schedule—

Jan. 7. Dickinson, here
Jan. 8, Susquehanna at Selinsgrove.
Jan. 13, Franklin and Marshall at Lancaster.
Jan. 14. Temple at Philadelphia.
Jan 15, Swarthmoreat Swarthmore.
Jan. 22, Gettysburg, here
Jan. 28, Albright, here
Feb. 5, Franklin and Marshall, here.
Feb. 10, Susquehanna, here
Feb. 11, Dickinson at Carlisle
Feb. 12, Gettysburg at Gettysburg
Feb. 19, Temple, here
Feb. 24, Juniata, here.
Feb. 25 and 26, Open
March 1, Juniata at Huntington.
March 2, Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh
March 3, Carnegie Tech at Pittsburg
March 4, Duquesne U. at Pittsburgh
March 11, Alumni, here

The first practice is called for immediately after Thanksgiving recess, Nov. 30. With three of last year's letter men, Captain Dorris, Bibi and Dietrich, and a number of promising men from last year's subs and Freshmen team, as well as one good prospects in this year's Freshman class, a successful season looks assured.

LAMBDA CHI ENTERTAINS

Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity opened its doors to the girls of the Women's College for the first time of the current term, on Saturday of last week. The program started about two o'clock in the afternoon when the fellows called at the "Semi" and proceeded to the game between Susquehanna and Bucknell.

After the game, the girls accompanied by their male escorts went to the fraternity house where a course dinner was served to about forty persons.

Several out of town visitors were present among whom were Miss Beth Davis, of Wilkesbarre, Miss Helen Sowers, of Steelton, brother Mac Donald, of Rhode Island State College and pledge brother Hayes Mattern, of Penn. State. Miss Bergstresser and Miss Fowler, of the Woman's College Chaperoned the party.

The house was very appropriately decoratedfor the occasion, the fraternity colors, purple, green and gold being the color design throughout.

Immediately after the dinner a dance was held that lasted until ten-thirty, at which time the party broke up.

TICKET PRICE REDUCED

Student tickets for the Bucknell Dickinson game, which will be held in Williamsport Thursday, will be on sale at the Athletic Office on the Hill, between the hours of 9 A. M. and 3 P. M. Tuesday. The special price for students has been placed at $1.50, plus war tax, and Budget tickets must be presented to secure these special seats, which will be reserved in the Bucknell section. The regular price for these tickets is $2.20, but the management has made a special offer of $1.50 to students.

NO ISSUE NEXT WEEK

PHI GAMS CELEBRATE

Phi Gamma Delta celebrated its annual Thanksgiving Day dinner at the chapter house yesterday, with nearly fifty members present. Roast turkey, with all the trimmings, made a bountiful meal, which was rounded out by singing fraternity songs. In addition to the active members, Professors Hehn, Hallentine and Smith were present, together with the following alumni, G. Walter Lees, '20, Damond W. Copeland, '20, Herbert S. DeLong, '20, Howard J. Hann, '20, and Myron B. Savidge, ex '21.

Y.M.C.A. LYCEUM COURSE OPENS

DR. GEIL DELIVERS INTERESTING ADDRESS ON HIS TRAVELS THROUGH AFRICA.

The first number in the Y. M. C. A. Lyceum course was given in the Baptist church Friday evening by Dr. Geil. Dr. Geil is a widely known traveler and explorer who has searched out all the "dark corners of the earth" with the exception of the Amazon. Dr. Geil is indeed an unusual man being a commanding speaker as well as an explorer. The emotions of the audience were very evidently within the hand of the lecturer. He often held the breathless attention of the listeners with graphic word pictures and again he would set them back in their seats roaring roaring with laughter.

"Thru Africa in Quest of Pigmies" was the subject of the lecture. Starting at the Eastern coast of Africa in the region of the equator Dr. Geil pictured the civilized portion of the dark Continent then the semi civilized parts further inland and finally the regions of the very primitive people in the heart of the forest or Eternal Twilight.

He spoke at length concerning the Pigmies who dwell in this forest, telling of their weapons, utensils and mode of life. The Pigmies, he stated, are the most jovial of all the peoples of the earth and also the most dangerous. They have as keen intellects as even the whites of Europe and America can boast. Dr. Geil claimed that the problem of civilizing Africa will be solved when these people are given a written language and a literature. For having education themselves they will branch out and spread it to all other inhabitants of the continent.

The lecture continued for an hour and a half and besides being entertaining it was unusually informative and educational. If the other numbers of the "Y" course measure up to the standard set by Dr. Geil, no one can afford to miss them.

SIGS ENTERTAIN SEMITES

Following the Bucknell-Susquehanna game the Sigs and their numerous Semite "Better Halves" repaired to the Sigma Chi house and enjoyed the excellence of a tasty and delectable buffet dinner.

Immediately following, the subjects of Terpischore did homage to that personage. Enjoying every number of the music "par excellence" rendered in the best manner by Geigs Orchestra of Altoona.

The guests, Coach Reynolds, John Dolley, Arda Bowser, "Frizize" Frazier, Thomas P. Guth, of Susquehanna, George Irland, Alvin Julian, James R. Pettitt, '19, and the chaperonage of Miss Pitch helped make this dance down. On the next play, Henning encircled the right end for twenty-eight yards and a touch-down. Dayhoff missed the ensuing goal. Score:—Scrubs, 6; Mt. Carmel, 0. Diehl received the kick-off on his fifteen yard line and ran the ball back to his twenty-five yard line. After a short gain by Diehl the visitors uncorked the first of many trick plays.

PHI KAPPA PSI ENTERTAINS AT MINIATURE HOUSE PARTY

Pennsylvania Gamma chapter of Phi Kappa Psi held a miniature house party during the past week end, the feature of which was the second annual dance given by the pledges of the fraternity to the active men.

The party opened Friday evening with a dinner, served in the chapter house. Later all repaired to the Lewisburg Club where the above mentioned dance was held. The ball room of the club was tastefully decorated in black and white. The affair which was formal began at nine and lasted until two.

Geig's Orchestra of Altoona furnished a fine program of music. The prize number was an interpretative dance given by three of the guests, the Misses McCloskey, Nisely and Wheeler, all of Harrisburg.

The guests included Dr. N. R. Rowland, Mr. N. W. Baker, and Mr. C. W. Reynolds, Mrs. A. W. Johnson, Mrs. N. W. Baker and Mrs. N. R Rowland acted as patronesses.

Saturday afternoon all attended the football game between Bucknell and Susquehanna which was made especially enjoyable by the triumph of the Orange and Blue

Diffy's College Five, featuring A. R. Mahoney, drummer, furnished real, peppy syncopation as advertised on Saturday evening at a dance held in the chapter house. This began at eight and lasted until the town clock struck the midnight hour. The Phi Psi string quartet entertained during intermission. Mrs. N. W. Smith and Mrs. A. W. Johnson were the chaperons.

SCRUBS DEFEAT MT. CARMEL HIGH FOOTBALL TEAM

SUBSTITUTES GET MORE BREAKS AND WIN BY SCORE OF 13-7

COAL MINERS HARD SCRAPPERS

Visitors Have Wonderful Team For A High School and Make Specialty of Long Forward Passes.

In a game replete with sensational plays, innumerable trick plays which worked, and a wonderful exhibition of gameness and uphill fighting on the part of the losers, the Bucknell University scrubs barely succeeded in nosing out the Mt. Carmel High school foot-ball contingent by the score of 13 to 7 last Saturday morning on the Athletic Field. A very laudable quality in the play of the visitors was the remarkable variety of tricks and subterfuges resorted to. Forward passes of at least four distinctive kinds, all of which were more than reasonably successful, plus tripple and delayed passes of infinite variety with plenty of straight football tactics mixed in almost brought victory to the plucky visitors. Superior weight and experience saved the scrubs from defeat. Forward passes—Diehl to Phillips, Singly to Phillips, and Phillips to Miller, gained scores of yards for the 'coal-breakers." Phillips, half-back for the visitors, was easily the shining light of the game, while Captain Singely, and Miller backed his efforts admirably. "Mutt" Morgan, Henning, and Bellak saved the day for the scrubs.

The play by periods:—

First Period:—Strausser received Morgan's kick-off on his twenty yard line and was downed in his tracks. After Diehl gained eight yards on a double pass fake end run, the Scrubs held for downs and obtained the ball on the visitors forty yard line. Short gains—two by Bellak and one by Dayhoff—gave the scrubs a first down. On the next play, Henning encircled the right end for twenty-eight yards and a touch-down. Dayhoff missed the ensuing goal. Score:—Scrubs, 6; Mt. Carmel, 0. Diehl received the kick-off on his fifteen yard line and ran the ball back to his twenty-five yard line. After a short gain by Diehl the visitors uncorked the first of many trick plays.

CAP AND DAGGER TO PRESENT NEW COMEDY BY OSCAR WILDE

Cap and Dagger dramatic society is now at hard work on its first play of the year, which is to be given in the OrpheumTheatre, December 13th and 14th. The play is 'The Importance of Being Earnest", by Oscar Wilde. It is exceptionally clever, being one of Wilde's best plays, described as "A trivial comedy for serious people."

The caste of characters includes H. LeRoy Heller, '21 as leading man, supported by Emory Dieffenderfer, '22; F. S. Beers, '23, D. H. Stewardson, '21; and L. G. Griffiths, '22 and Martha Leiser, '21, as leading lady, supported by Susanna Plummer,'22. Carolyn Hunt, '23; and Ray Seaman, '22.

David Stewardson, '21, besides having a part in the play, is also manager. His plans are to give two performances, the first, on the 13th for students only. This is the budget performance, all the seats being at one price, reasonably low. The second performance will be for the public, regular Cap and Dagger prices prevailing.

PLANS FOR GAME

There will be no special train to Williamsport Thursday, for the Bucknell-Dickinson game. Those who intend to go by train should purchase their railroad tickets at least twenty-four hours in advance so that the station master can arrange for accomodations. The game will be held on the Williamsport High School Field. Reserve seats, $2.20, each: general admission, $1.10 each.

1922 L'AGENDA GETS OFF ON FLYING START

EDITOR KEECH IS COMPLETING PLANS FOR ANNUAL

PICTURES NOW BEING TAKEN

Class Year Book Gives Promise of Being One of the Best of Its Kind Ever Put Out Here.

Work on this year's issue of the Junior class publication, the L'Agenda, is progresing rapidly according to reports of the editor, Finley Keech, and his staff of competent assistants. Many new and original ideas will be featured in this years publication which promises to surpass these issues of other years

As a criterion of the "new" features, may it be noted that the cuts of the faculty and the school "views" will be modern. This years L'Agenda will be divided into various departments with the omission of the book system which was used last year. Another new feautre this year will be the addition of the Music School in a department of its own. Heretofore this part of our institution has been neglected.

A ful lpage memorial wil be dedicated to the late Dr. Perrine and another page will be reserved for the four men who died here at Bucknell during the S. A. T. C. period.

The literary department will be handled in a new manner this year and will contain the "Jack London" attempts of our budding authors. The athletic department will contain pictures of all the varsity teams and include on seperate pages the "Wearers of the "B" who are members of the Junior class. The customary "Fussers page" will not be neglected and many really remarkable photographs have been secured for this interesting page.

The manner of handling the different classes will also be taken care of in a different way this year. The members of the Freshmen class will have to make a very careful search in this book before they will be able to find their class roll., although it will be there.

The members of the Junior class will have their usual "write-ups", Oval inserts, about five or six to a page, will contain the faces of this years graduating class. Opposite their

SUSQUEHANNA LOSES HARD GAME TO HEAVIER BUCKNELL ELEVEN

Bowser Individual Star In Battle Between Rival Teams On Wet Field

Great Crowd Sees Orange And Blue Defeat Ancient Rivals On Local Athletic Field.

Bucknell defeated the heavy, hard-fighting Susquehanna team on the local field Saturday afternoon by a score of 28-7, which does not show the way the Orange and Blue outclassed its old rivals. The field was wet and slippery, and most of the Bucknell plays were greatly hampered on this account, while Susquehanna had a very heavy line and a fast but light backfield. It was the same Susquehanna team that held Colgate to a 0-0 score, and defeated P. M. C. 35-0. Bowser was without doubt the individual star of the game being a tower of strength on both the offense and defense, while Kostos and Wilsbach played their customary excellent games. Mangan threw a number of pretty forward passes, quite a few of which netted good gains. The presence of McDermott was greatly mised in the line, although Julian and Wargo did excellent work.

Bibi and Reed each made several fine tackles, while Homan, Dooley, and Morrett held down the rest of the line to good advantage. After the first half, the game resolved itself into a forward passing duel, Bucknell having the better advantage in this department. Sweeley and Sweeley did the best work for the visitors, both being fast and dependable backs. Their gains were all deserved, and were rewarded with applause from both sides.

Susquehanna moved their whole college from Selinsgrove to see the game, and some of their co-eds attracted the eyes of more than one follower of the Orange and Blue. The Bucknell Band was out in force, and played several fine numbers during the game and between the halves.

FIRST QUARTER

Bowser kicked off to Guth who ran the ball back 20 yards. Sweeley got thru for 5 yards. Guth went for 4 more. Sweeney fumbled but recovered. Bannon punted to Kostos. Wilsbach gained six yards. Kostos made a first down. Bowser gained 12 yards. Wilsbach made 4. Kostos made one more and then Bowser made another first down .Kostos went thru for 4. Bowser made another 4 yard gain. Bowser got another yard and Wilsbach gained a first down, Kostos fumbled, but Mangan recovered the ball. Bowser gained eight yards and then made another yard, the ball then being on the 1 yard line. Wilsbach gained a foot and Kostos took the ball over for the first tochdown of the game. Kostos kicked the goal, score Bucknell 7, Susquehanna 0.

Bowser kicked off again, this time to Bloom. Bannon gained three yards Bowser nailed Bannon for a loss. Bannon punted to Kostos who ran the ball back 15 yards. Bowser made three yards, and Julian received a pretty forward for 30 yards, then Bowser ran twenty more for the second touchdown. Kostos kicked the goal. Score 14-0.

Bowser kicked off over the Susquehanna goal line, and the ball was carried out to the 20 yard line. Bloom gained 5 yards on an end run and Sweeley made a first down. Sweeney made eight yards on another end run. Bannon made first down. Guth was thrown for loss by Reed. Sweeeyfalled to gain. Bowser spoiled a Susquehanna forward. Bannon punted to Mangan, who ran it ten yards. Kostos gained eight yards and Wilsbach made one yard. The quarter then ended.

SECOND QUARTER

Bowser plunged through for 12 yards. Kostos made five. Bowser dashed for 25 before he was thrown out of bonds. Kostos gained 5 more. Mangan gained 4 on a triple pass. Wilsbach made first down. Kostos out of bounds. Wilsbach gained 6.

MATH. CLUB

"Some interesting number properties and number puzzles" will be the subject at the next meeting of the Bucknell Mathematics Club to be held on Monday, December sixth at seven o'clock in the Chem. Lab. Professor John S. Gold will be the speaker.

There will be no meeting this week on acount of the Thanksgiving vacation. All, including non-members, are cordially invited to attend the meeting on December 6.

GLEE CLUB TRIP STARTS TOMORROW

NEW MUSIC READY FOR JOURNEY IN WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA AND MEMBERS ARE SELECTED.

The combined Musical Clubs of Bucknell University will leave tomorrow afternoon at 1:05 o'clock for Harrisburg, at which place the first concert of the Thanksgiving trip will be given. The trip will continue until December 3, when the last concert of the trip wil be given at Kittaning, Pittsburgh will be the most western point to be reached on this trip. The itinerary is as follows:

November 23—Harrisburg
24—Hollidaysburg
25—Cresson
26—Jeannette
27—Vandergrift
28—Connellsville
29—Connellsville
30—Pittsburg
December 1—Linesville
2—Greenville
3—Kitanning

The following men will make the trip, First Tenors, Igen, Ralph Hartz, Robert Hartz, Willman, Haus and Rounsley. Second Tenors, Gardner, Joseph, Hoffman, Wright, Maybood, Lowry, Dieffenderfer, and Metz. First Bass, DeWire, Cober, Eaton, Kimball and Reed. Second Bass, Davenport, Appleton, Keech, Christley, Sisserson, Swetland, Harding and Nichols. Pianist, Fred Moore.

This trip is part of the yearly program of the Musical Clubs, which endeavor to bring Bucknell University before the eyes of the public. Football and other sports do this in large measure, but not completely, for there is a considerable percentage of the public which does not rate a college according to its sports but in proportion with its musical and literary ability. Both sports and music are indispensible in this effort of advertising Bucknell, but they must work hand in hand to secure the best impression. With one absent, the public gets an idea of a school poorly-balanced.

In addition to advertising Bucknell in this manner, the members of the club will be on the outlook for good material for future Freshman classes for the university. This is one of the best works of the Musical Clubs for Bucknell when on trips.

The repertoire of the club has been increased by several new songs this year, and these will be used in giving the club as a whole more appearances on the platform. Requests that the entire club apepar more often during the course of the program, than has been the custom have been made from nearly every town in which concerts have been given.

The solo work on the trip will be taken care of by Ralph Hartz, "Boby" Hartz. Don Clowarda nd Hobart Brown. All of these men are sufficiently well known to dispel any doubt as to their ability. And last, but very far from least, will be Keech, the cartoonist with the irresistible smile and "Hine."

LET'S MAKE IT DECISIVE

According to a dispatch in last Sunday's Public Ledger, Bucknell has not defeated Dickinson since 1907. According to our statistics, this seems to show a considerable lapse of memory on the part of somebody. At any rate, it is time that Dickinson comes to a decisive let-down, and it up to Captain Kester' aggregation of fighting wildcats to see that the job is properly done. From what happened to Gettysburg not long ago, the prospects seem pretty good, but every student should try to arrange to see the game, and see that these idle boastings are piped down." Dickinson has no mean team, having defeated Allegheny 6-0, and making good scores against other teams. Let's go to Williamsport and see the team win.

THE LYCEUM COURSE

Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, as a college town has its advantages and its draw-backs. We are all acquainted with the familiar praise of its virtues. It is a quiet little country town removed from the distracting life and activity of the busy cities. It is an ideal nook in which to shut ourselves up from the hurrying world and engage in the finer pursuits of the intellect. Very well for our immediate courses, but what of our other interests? While we are engaged in our quiet retreat the world is moving by at a terrific rate. Students of the city colleges keep in touch with the modern world during their hours of recreation, during the hours when the student relaxes his mind from his individual pursuits of study. What has Lewisburg to offer to the student in his hours of relaxation?

The student who seeks a good evening of entertainment in the town of Lewisburg has a sorry time of it. Two places of public entertainment are offered, the pool room and the movies. The Orpheum is well managed for a house of its size, but after all movies are only movies. The fact is that Lewisburg cannot support a good theatre. The size and character of the town prohibits anything in the line of higher entertainment.

Realizing these facts and realizing the need of filling this gap in the student life the Y. M. C. A. of Bucknell has arranged a Lyceum course, consisting of first rate lectures, musicals, and readings, to be presented during the winter months. Only the best of talent has been solicited in order to provide a thoroughly interesting and high grade series of entertainments.

Care has been taken to vary the character of the programs in order that their educational value may be as well-rounded as possible. Such a course of education entertainment no student at Bucknell should allow himself to miss.

But in this matter is evidenced the lamentable tendency of so many students to reply, "But that does not concern me." The engineer is so often heard to argue, "This intellectual stuff is all right, but I owe it to myself as an engineer to concentrate all my energies on matters of engineering." Perhaps the arts student is just as loathe to attend an engineering lecture but that the tendency is reciprocal does not help matters. The question to both classes is not, "What do you owe yourself as an engineer?" but "What do you owe yourself as a Man?" Engineers are made more quickly and at less expense by an L. C. S., course and a few years "out in the works" than in a long course in college. Remember Dr. Hunt's measure of a man by "the height of his aspirations, the depth of his convictions, and the breadth of his interest." Every time you investigate something for instruction or for entertainment, which lies outside the line of your particular profession you are broadening your interest. Every student of Bucknell owes it to himself or herself as a man or as a woman to attend the lyceum course offered by the Y. M. C. A. this winter.

THE COLLEGE AND THE PILGRIMS
By
Ethel Armes

Shall the American colleges let the twenty-first of next December pass without any recognition by pageants, plays tableaux or ceremonials of any sort?

Are American institutions of learning to permit the Pilgrim Tercentenary to go unobserved, when for this three hundredth anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers there have been prepared, as never before, both the materials and the methods of observing the Day by striking community activities?

The opportunity of linking hitsory with drama and pageantry lies before hundreds of American colleges and universities which can translate to the present day the historic events and episodes of 1620 that are commemorated in this harking-back to the great early adventure in Americanism.

The three hundredth anniversary of the first American legislative assembly and of the signing of the Pilgrims' Mayower Compact will take concrete form through an extensive program of dramatic activities prepared as early as last whinter through the bureau of educational dramatics of Community Service, Incorporated. During 1920 this program has been distributed freely throughout the country to churches, colleges, schools, libraries, clubs and communities.

One noteworthy pageant, having intellectual substance and rare artistic beauty, which may be adapted as a Masque in American colleges is entitled, "Raleigh, Shepherd of the Ocean." It was produced in October at Raleigh, N. C., under the direction of Elizabeth R. Grimball of Community Service and may be locally adapted to other places. Players from the Folk Theater of the University of North Carolina, together with several hundred citizens of Raleigh presented it as a community enterprise and as part of North Carolina's Pilgrim Celebration.

A spectacle play of exquisite workmanship which includes a pageant of the American universities, and which, like the Raleigh masque, is especially adapted to college communities, is "The King's Progress," by Constance Smedly Armfield. This play deals with an incident in the life of the boy king, Edward VI of England, (1548-1553) and with the repeal of the laws which enabled strolling players to spread the New Learning.

It gives a vivid picture of the genesis of freedom in England and the establishment of universal education, and ends with a prediction that the light will spread to the "New Worlds beyond the Seas' in the Mayflower that is building at Southampton. The play is noteworthy for its pure Tudor English and its picturization of historical data.

"The Pilgrims," a pageant published in the April number of the Woman's Home Companion was written by Constance D'Arcy Mackay especially for the Tercentenary Celebration. This pageant deals with the early settlement of the Pilgrims at Plymouth, where one of the Pilgrims, half dreaming over his book, sees a vision of America in the future years. Through this vision all the great men and women of America appear, thus making the pageant relate definitely to the whole country, north, east, south and west. The pageant contains dialogue, pantomime, tableaux and processional effects as well as symbolic dances and folk dances. Full stage directions and practical suggestions for the costumes accompany the pageant text. There is no royalty.

Several Pilgrim plays of interest are "A Rose O' Plymouth Town," by Beulah Marie Dix and Evelyn Sutherland; "Standish of Standish," by Annie Russell Marble; "Sojourners," a one-act play by Anna Harnwell and Isabelle Meeker, published in a September number of The Drama; "The Scarecrow," by Percy Mackaye; "Children of Earth," by Alice Brown; "Governor Endicott," and "Giles Corey, Yeoman," by Longfellow; "Superstition," by James Nelson Barker; and "The Courtship of Miles Standish," by Eugene W. Presbry. "A pageant of Pilgrims," by Esther Willard Bates, and "Faith of our Fathers" by Annie Russell Marble, are two other pageants dealing with Puritan New England.

Clearly there lies before the American colleges and universities an opportunity and a duty. The Pilgrims were the early seekers after freedom and light, and the right to think and learn according to their desires and tenets. The American college today perpetuates the vision and the high ideals of the Pilgrim Fathers. It is fitting that upon American college soil the commemorative exercises of this Tercentenary should find special footing.

BUCKNELL GIRLS FORM A NEW ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION AT SEM.

An Athletic Association, with a long drawn out constitution, in fact a regular Athletic Association has been at last formed by the Co-eds. Annual dues are to be paid which will give the girls the privilege of tennis, basket ball, baseball and hocky. Class numerals are to be awarded for the various activities, each act making up so many points to led toward obtaining of numerals.

This is indeed a fine idea for at the present time the co-eds have no means of obtaining numerals, except by basket ball and that gives but few a chance. Formerly Gymnasium "B's" were given for excellence in Gym, but this precedent was discontinued when the present Seniors were Freshmen.

All the co-eds are enthused over this Athletic Association and with the co-operation of al lthe girls, led by Jennie Burke, '22, it should be a great success. Miss Burke was elected as Representative to go to an Athletic Conference which will take place soon.

FISHER—McCLURE

Miss Margaret McClure, the only daughter of the late Judge Harold M. McClure and Mrs. McClure, of Lewisburg, and Howard Voelkler Fisher, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor E. Fisher, of Reading, were married Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Presbyterian church by the pastor, Rev. F. B. Everitt, assisted by Dr. J. B. Focht, of Selinsgrove, an uncle of the bride.

Mrs. William Nell Baker, of Lewisburg, was matron of honor. The groom was attended by Anthony J. Murray, of Scranton. The ushers were Elmer E. Fairchild, of Lewisburg; Harold Beatty, of Shipensburg; Albert W. Glasemire, of Philadelphia, and Raymond F. Nichols, of Tamaqua.

Following the ceremony a large reception was held at the home of the bride on University avenue.

"Sal" Fisher is remembered by all Bucknellians as a basketball star of several years ago, while his wife was formerly a French intructor on the University faculty.

James K. Petitt, '19 is visiting Sigma Chi brothers. 'Jimmie" is now employed in the sales department of the United States Rubber Company and is located in New York City.

Phillips snatched a long, high forward on the left wing, thrown from a trick open formation, from the air and six chalked lines passed beneath his feet before Henning downed him on the scrubs forty yard line. On the next play, Phillips reeled off twelve more on a short over-the-line pass. Morgan grounded another attempt, and on the next two plays the scrubs were penalized for off-sides. Henning grounded another forward, and it was the scrubs ball on their ten yard line. Bellak tore through left tackle for twenty yards ,and on the very next play, Henning went through the same hole for the remaining seventy yards for a touch-down. This time Dayhoff kicked the goal. Score:—Scrubs, 13; Mt. Carmel, 0 Singely received the kick-off on his ten yard line and made a pretty run-back to the thirty yard line as the period ended. Score:—Scrubs 13, Mt. Carmel, 0.

Second Period:—With the ball in Mt. Carmel's posession on their forty yard line, Phillips cut loose with another forward and had gained twenty yards when he lost his feet and was held down. On the next play, Mt. Carmel received a deserved penalty of fifteen yards for holding. Held for downs, Bridy punted to Henning on his twenty yard mark, from where he ran it back ten yards. Henning and Bellak reeled off two first downs in four plays, then Mt. Carmel held for down. Failing to gain, Bridy punted fifty yards to the scrub's goal-line, from where Hall ran it back twenty yards. Dayhoff tore through left tackle for twenty-five yards and Bellak followed with another first down. Here the half ended. Score:—Scrubs, 13; Mt. Carmel 0.

Third Period:—McGraw received on his twenty yard line and made a pretty thirty yard run-back. The scrubs were penalized ten yards because the crowd interfered with an attempted forward pass. Bellak and Hall reeled off a first down, and then Mt. Carmel held for downs on the fifty yard marker. Failing to gain an attempted aerial plays, Phillips was forced to punt. Bellak ran the pig-skin back from his ten yard line to the visitors forty yard mark for one of the prettiest runs of the day, before he was forced out of bounds Johnson got clear with a forward and when he was downed the ball had advanced to the twenty yard line. It looked like another touch-down for the scrubs. Henning gained six and Bellak eight yards through the line, but the visitors held for downs inside their five yard line. Contrary to all foot-ball "horse sense", they essayed a forwardpass, taking the scrubs by surprise, and Phillips reeled off twenty yards before he was downed. Mt. Carmel was penalized fifteen yards for holding, and on the next play, the same forward, Singely to Phillips, was tried again. This time it was good for forty yards. But they tried it once to often, and on the next play, Lauster intercepted the oval on the scrubs thirty-five yard line. Henning and Bellak reeled off seventeen yards on end runs, and Hahn stole some of the visitors thunder when he got clear with a forward for eighteen yards. The scrubs were penalized fifteen yards for holding and Miller blocked Bellaks' attempted punt, Singely recovering for the visitors. On a fake kick, Diehl reeled off twenty yards. Bellak and Lauster grounded three attempted forwards and it was the scrub's ball on their twenty yard incl. Henning went through tackle for fifteen yards—then Bellak punted to Phillips on his twenty-five yard line from where he ran it back to the scrubs forty-five yard line, just as the period ended. Score:—Scrubs, 13, Mt. Carmel, 0.

Fourth Period:—Diehl went through the line for ten yards. The scrubs were penalized ten yards for unnecessary roughness. Koropchack gained fifteen yards on a delayed forward. From there, the ball was carried to the scrub's eight yard line by straight foot-ball tactics, Koropchack fumbled but recovered, and a short over-the-line pass to Miller again put the ball on the eight yard line. Penalized for off-sides it was the visitor's ball, first down, on the four yard line. Bridy fumbled, but Singely recovered on the twelve yard line. Failing of any material gains, a forward pass was essayed, Walter's catching the pig-skin behind the line, but before he could touch it down, Hahn through him out of the goal-zone and the touch-down was not allowed. The scrubs were penalized again for off-sides and the ball went to the visitors, first down on the one yard line. NO the fourth down, Diehl carried theh all over the line through center. He missed the goal. Score:—Scrubs, 13; Mt. Carmel, 6. After the kick-off the visitors held for downs, and then, in five plays, carried the ball to the eight yard line for a first down. Hall intercepted an attempted forward pass and the visitor's hopes of a tie score went glimmering. Here the scrubs started a procession up the field, and the game ended a few moment later with the ball in the possession of the scrubs on the visitors forty yard line.

Score:—Scrubs, 13; Mt. Carmel, 6.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

The old family flivver is surely a long liver in theland of the brave and the free. Despite its usefulness and longevity it is ever the butt of the newspaper and stage jokesmith. And, always, such flivver funniment registers with us all. Newspaper humorists have penned some sure-fire comments which have been screened in theatres in 'Topics of the Day" films. Whether you pilot a flivver or merely play passenger once in a while, the Bucknellian believes that you will find the following funyisms smooth running:

"What do you think of my car?" "I see you've got a good horn. Why don't you jack it up and run a new car under it?"

NAGRO NOW AT ALBRIGHT

Gustine Nagro, who graduated here in music in 1917, is making good as a teacher of music at Albright. While attending Bucknell, Nagro was pronounced by many musical celebrities as the best violinists this institution had ever turned out, which was saying a lot.

The Albright Bulletin gives him the following noteof welcome in its November issue;

"The Bulletin heartily welcomes Professor Nagro as our new teacher in stringed instruments. In 1916 he came to America from Castagnole Lanze, Piemonte, Italy. He was graduated in 1917 from Bucknell University as honor student in violin, receiving the gold medal. He took a post-graduate course at the same institution and received a teacher's diploma in violin. Several seasons were spent by him in New York, where he was taught by the great Belgian master, Ovide Musin. At the completion of his study in New York, Professor Musin fully authorized him to teach according to his methods. Our hope is that Professor Nagro will soon have a large number of eager students taking courses under him."

FIRST HOME CONCERT BY GLEE CLUB PLEASES BIG AUDIENCE

The annual concert of the Bucknell University Musical Club was given at the Beaver Memorial Methodist church last evening, beginning shortly after 8 o'clock. The church was practically filled with townspeople and students of the University when the orchestra played the overture "La Tosca," by Willard. This was the only appearance of the orchestra, due to a series of mishaps "behind the scenes."

The Glee Club appeared several times, singing Macy's "Ho, Gallant Sailors," Goibles "Tis Morn," Heroe's "Hunters Bold and Free," and Bucka "In Vocal Combat." Encores were "Sunset," "The Musical Font," and "Whose Dwelleth," In the order named. The club sang "Alma Mater" at the conclusion of the program.

The solo work was of the best. Ralph Hartz sang "Spirit Flower," by Campbell-Tipton, a song of much beauty. He responded to an encore with "Because."

The quartet was on hand with a lively collection of quartet songs, the feature being "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes."

Allen Haus made a big hit with his "Ballads", which were popular songs of the day. Haus has the right voice for this sort of work, and he knows how to use it.

Don Cloward sang a baritone solo, "I Hear You Calling Me," and responded to an encore. Fin Keech, the jokester of the organization, was on hand with a new collection of cartoons and cartoonists tricks. Keech drew many hearty laughs.

"Bobby" Hartz played Jurre's Pierrot Serenade," a violin solo, and responded to two encores. Hartz's handling of the violin is counted as among the highest grade at Bucknell.

BUCKNELL DEFEATS DICKINSON IN SEASON'S FINAL BATTLE

Bowser Individual Star In Battle Between Rival Teams On Wet Field

Carlisle Collegians Put Up Hard Fight But Weight of Orange and Blue Is Winning Factor

Williamsport had its first taste of college football since the days when State college and the Carlisle Indians staged their battles on the Seminary athletic field, when Bucknell and Dickinson lined up on the High school athletic field Thanksgiving day. Bucknell won by a score of 20 to 6. The field was wet and that part used as a baseball diamond was muddy when the game started. Before the end of the first quarter both teams looked like painted Indians, mud from head to foot, not forgetting their faces.

Captain Joe Kostos played his last game for the university, and made it a good one. "Tommy" Mangan was out of the game because of an injury to his leg received the night before in practice, but his position as quarterback was ably taken by Dayhoff, who ran the team very well. McDermott, the fighting end, was also missed on the line, although Steve Wargo filled the gap in his best manner. Bower, however, was the real star of the game, and there might have been a different story told, had it not been for his plunges, runs and long distance kicks.

The playing of the team on the whole, however, was not up to the standard set in the games with Penn, Navy, Lafayette and Gettysburg, and the wet wield mussed things up still more. Added to this, Dickinson fought hard for every inch of ground and although considerably outweighed, put up a wonderful defensive game. Some newspaper critics went so far as to say that Bucknell was outplayed in the first and fourth quarters.

Bucknell had by far the heavier team, its line averaging twenty-three pounds to the man and its backfield twenty-eight pounds to the man heavier than Dickinson. On a wet field this gave them a decided advantage and they used it in battering the Dickinson line for consistent gains.

The audience was enthusiastic and impartial. It cheered both teams alike the one making the play that met approval getting that approval loudly.

The ball quickly became so wet as to almost prohibit open play. Bucknell tried nine forward passes, four of which were completed and netted 47 yards, one was intercepted and four grounded. Dickinson tried four forward passes, only one of which made good and that for seven yards. One was intercepted and two grounded.

Bucknell scored eleven first downs and Dickson five. In 67 rushes Bucknell carried the ball 137 yards, while Dickinson, in 33 rushes carried it 113 yards.

Bucknell punted six times. Two of these were blocked, once Dickinson falling on the ball. The remaining four tries aggregated 160 yards, three of them going out of bounds and one being run back 15 yards. Dickinson punted six times for 201 yards. All went out of bounds but one, and it was a run back of ten yards.

Bucknell was penalized six timese for a total of 80 yards, the most serious being 30 yards, half the distance to the goal line, when Reed was put out of the game, Dickinson was penalized twice, a total of 20 yards.

Bucknell was thrown for a loss four times, a total of 14 yards and Dickinson twice for eight yards.

THE GAME OPENS

Dickinson opened the game by kicking off to Bucknell and then forcing a punt which it blocked but Bucknell recovered the ball. Failing to make the required gain Bucknell again punted, the ball going out of bounds.

Dickinson then started a march up the fiel- Brophy and Pippa doing

OVER FORTY CANDIDATES

At first basketball practice, over forty candidates came out. Captain Dorris has been running the squad, perhaps the largest in Bucknell's history, through preliminary practice. Conch Glass will be out this week to look the squad over.

ALUMNI MONTHLY APPEARS AGAIN

OFFICIAL PUBLICATION FOR BUCKNELL GRADUATES COMES OUT IN SECOND ISSUE OF YEAR

The second number of the present years' volume of the Bucknell Alumni Monthly has made its appearance. The paper is in its entirety an excellent sheet for one of its type and purpose. Its status among the publications of the college has never been questioned but the showing that it is making this year will go far towards raising it a number of notches in the estimation of both alumni and undergrads.

Prof. L. L. Rockwell, '07, is the editor of the Monthly, and it is due largely to his efforts that the editorial portion of the paper is at its present high stage of development. Prof. H. S. Everett, '12, is the business manager, and is making his department perform its work creditably.

What is easily the feature of the issue is a cut of the football varsity of 1895, the cut occupying the position of honor on the first page. In a brief explanation below are given the names of the members of the team, together with information concerning their present positions. There are no records of two of the men. One face familiar to all Bucknellians of the present day is that of B. F. Thomas, registrar.

Under the head of editorials is one which asks the question: "What is an Alumnus?" After asking the question the writer goes on and answers it in a clever way, ending up, however, with an appeal for all those who have fallen under the definition to become members of the Alumni Association immediately.

The various football games which had been played between the issuing o fthe first and second numbers of the paper, are treated fully. In every instance, the lineup for the game is given, thus adding much to the interest of the writeup.

Two interesting departments are the "Alumni Organizations" and the "In the Public Eye." The former gives news of the affairs of the Bucknell alumni association, and of the various local Bucknell alumni associations throughout the state and country. The latter devotes its space to printing interesting facts concerning graduates who have made good, or who are in the process of making good.

Seven columns of space are devoted to personals, the arrangement of these being made according to classes The earliest class represented is that of 1876. Instead of including the last class, 1920, in this list, a special page is set aside for a resume of the activities and occupation of the class after graduation.

On the pge headed "About the Hill," is a brief summary of the most important events occurring at that place. The group of representitve undergraduates being published in the Monthly is continued in this issue by giving the cuts and list of activities of two members of the Class of 1921. They are Victor G. Clare and David H. Stewardson.

Another song, the work of Dr. Robert Lowry, '54, and written for the Jubilee Anniversary in 1896, occupies the last page given over to the editorial staff. Of this song the Monthly says that it seems to combine the qualities an Alma Mater should have. Four pages of advertising complete the Monthly.

CAP AND DAGGER PRODUCTION IS TO OPEN SOON

WORK ON THE ANNUAL PLAY MAKING GOOD PROGRESS

EXCELLENT CAST IS SELECTED

The Importance of Being Earnest, By Oscar Wilde, Will Be Presented At The Orpheum Next Week.

Cap and Dagger Society will give two performances of "The Importance of Being Earnest", as its first production of the year, in the Orpheum Theatre, the first on Monday evening, Dec. 13, and the second on Tuesday evening, Dec. 14.

David H. Stewardson, the manager of the play, has arranged to sell tickets on the "Hill" this week, and to the public at the Orpheum. The time and place of the sale of the tickets on the "Hill" will be announced on the bulletin boards.

The play is a comedy in three acts by Oscar Wilde. The plot is, briefly, as follows—Mr. John Worthing, a young Englishman, lives in the country with his ward, Miss Cecily Cardew, a sweet young girl. In order to get to town, he has pretended to have a younger brother, by the name of Earnest, who lives in town, and is always getting into scrapes. Jack's friend, Algernon Montcrieff, who lives in town, has invented a permanent invalid, called Bunbury, whom he must visit often, thus enabling him to get to the country.

Jack becomes engaged to Algy's cousin Gwendoline Fairfax under the name of Ernest. This provokes Lady Bracknell, Gwendolines mother, who considers an engagement by Gwendoline a matter to be promoted and managed by her.

Algy makes a surprise visit to Jack's place in the country and meets Jack's ward Cecily, who believes him to be Jack's reckless brother, Ernest. Meanwhile Jack having determined to get rid of his pretended brother, Ernest has returned to his country home with an explanation of his brother's death. This he relates to Miss Prism, Cecily's tutor and Dr. Chausable, the rector. Cecily then appears and informs Jack of his brother Ernests' presence in the country, whereupon Algy appears, much to Jack's discomfort. Jack feigns a reconciliation with his reckless brother. While Jack is arranging to have Algy sent away from the country, Algy again meets Cecily and they become engaged, she thinking him Ernest. Gwendoline then arrives. Cecily still thinking that Algy is Jack's younger brother, Ernest, informs Gwendolin that Ernest has an elder brother who is her guardian and also that she, Cecily, is engaged to Ernest. Gwendolin informs Cecily that she is engaged to Ernest Worthing. This disclosure causes a quarrel. At this stage the play has reached its climax and the author works the plot out in a most clever and interesting manner.

STUDENTS PREPARE PETITION FOR LONGER XMAS VACATION

FIJIS ENTERTAIN NEIGHBORS

On Thursday night, Delta Chapter of Phi Gamma Delta gave a smoker to Alpha Phi Chapter of Kappa Sigma, thus renewing the custom of mutual smokers between the two fraternities. After a round of general good fellowship and an evening filled with card games, music, clog dances and humorous talks, refreshments were served. Each chapter advanced out of the cloud of smoke, and gave the other a yell, and called it a night.

BOWSER AND MCDERMOTT ARE HONORED

BOTH MEN ARE PLACED ON ALL-STATE TEAM BY WRITER

BOWSER ALSO ON ALL-EASTERN

Ross Kauffman Gives Orange And Blue Football Heroes Positions On His Mythical Elevens With Other Stars.

Ross Kauffman, special sport writer of the Philadelphia North American, gives Arda Bowser, the powerful bullfack of the Orange and Blue, a place as fullback on his All-Eastern team, and mentions Bowser for fullback and McDermott for right end on his All-Pennsylvania team. Kauffman is one of the best known, and most reliable sporting writers in the United States, and the fact that he has selected Bowser and McDermott for these positions of honor shows that these men are really worthy of note. His special article in yesterday's North American should be given careful attention by all lovers of the great autumn sport. The fact that two Bucknell players have been so signally honored also goes to prove that the past football season was really a success. It means a lot to the institution to have the names of Bucknell players linked with those of the stars from such universities as Princeton, Pittsburgh, Penn State, Syracuse, Yale, Harvard and Dartmouth. A portion of the special article in yesterday's North American is included below:

"Backfield material far surpassed linemen in brilliance this season and it would seem extremely difficult to pick out the quartet on the first All-Eastern team, but there are four men who stand out stronger than the rest and naturally should be given the preference.

Don Lourie, of Princeton, gets our call at quarterback; Tom Davies, of Pitt, and French, of the Army at halfback ,and Bowser, Bucknell, fullback.

Bowser is not as well press-agented as the other three. In fact, his exploits are not very well known outside this state, but the brand of football that he played all year stamps him as one of the greatest fullbacks in the entire United States of America.

Playing on a Big Three team or other big eleven. Bowser would have been the most discussed player in the east. This big boy, who weighs 190 pounds, scored 113 of Bucknell's 245 points. One hundred and four of these points were made on touchdowns and nine on long field goal, frm the 41, 43 and 53 yard marks, respectively.

Bowser started his sensational playing on Franklin Field against Penn and followed it up with an even greater game at Annapolis. Coach Folwell and his assistants declared in mid-season that the Bucknell fullback was the best all-around back seen on the Navy field in years. He was extremely hard to stop, being a powerful line bucker, good off-tackle, ground gainer and open field runner.

With a mythical backfield made up of Lourie, Davies, French and Bowser, you could pull off almost any kind of a play. Any one of the quartet is a good punter, Lourie, Davies and Bowser are topnotchers in forward passing and also skilled in receiving the ball, and Bowser could kick after the line bucking.

In selecting an All-State team our backfield would consist of: Quarter-

BUCKNELL LYCEUM IS ESTABLISHED

ORGANIZATION TO DEVELOP LITERARY TALENT STARTED WITH PROF. HEROLD AS LEADING FACTOR

On Wednesday afternoon, October the twenty-seventh there was a meeting held in the chapel for the purpose of organizing a society to be known as the Bucknell Lyceum. Dean Phillips presided at the meeting, at which a goodly number of students were present. The principal speaker of the afternoon was Prof. Herold, who gave a general review of the growth and breadth of literature and of the growth and expansion of the college literary societies. Prof. Rasweiler and Dr. Hunt spoke briefly and favorably of the new project. After this it was unanimously decided by those present that such a society should be organized and that it should meet every Wednesday afternoon in the Chapel at four-thirty. Nominations were then made for the officers and the following were elected.

President—Donald Cloward.
Vice Pres. Clara Casner.
Secretary—Vivian Livingston.
Treasurer—Sturgis Beers.

The officers, to-gether with certain members of the faculty, were to complete the organization. Two committees have since been appointed, a social committee of which Jennie Burke is chairman and a program committee with Lawrence Lawson as chairman.

The chairman of either of the committes or any of the officers will be only too glad at any time to receive suggestions from any of the students. It is to be distinctly understood that this is a student organization, of which every student is a member. It is open to everyone and they are all welcome and urged to be present and give their support. The officers whis to feel free to solicit aid from any one and hope for ready cooperation. The meetings will start promptly at four-thirty and will be limited to one hour, so everyone is requested to be there promptly. The next meeting will be Wednesday, December the tenth, at which a very interesting program is expected.

The first regular meeting was called to order by the president last Wednesday in the Chapel. A varied but very interesting program was presented to the society. A short time was devoted to a social program, and then the literary progress was begun. An original short story by Mary Appleman was very well handled and was thoroughly enjoyed. Marion Murphy gave an O'Henry story which was quite appropriate for the Christmas period. It was well delivered and greatly appreciated. A recitation entitled, "Thirteen," given by Miss Horner, proved very entertaining. The afternoon's program was topped off by "Gus" Short who sang, "Ye People Rend Your Hearts." He pleased everyone with his fine tenor voice. The concluded a much enjoyed programme.

DEMIES HOLD DANCE

On Friday Dec. 3rd Delta Sigma held a dance in the Seminary parlors. Diffendafer's College Five furnished the music and left nothing to be desired from the dancers. The dance began at seven-thirty and continued with very little intermission until the usual hour of departure, ten-thirty. A good time was enjoyed by all present, under the able chaperonage of Misses Carey and Bergstrasser.

Petition With Signatures of Almost Every Student Is To Come Before Senior Council Tonight

A petition is being circulated around the "Hill" and at the different fraternity houses today to secure an additional five days vaection at Christmas time. A similar petition was unanimously signed by the "Semitet" and the two will be presented jointly to Senior Council at its regular meeting this evening, with the idea of having that body take action on the plan with the faculty. The points set forth in the petition are indeed excellent ones, and should receive the fullest consideration. Perhaps the strongest argument in favor of the extended vacation is the fact that a great majority of the students need the extra days for work at home during the Christmas rush, the financial outcome of which will enable them to return to school for the second semester.

The students who arranged the petition believe that the five extra days could be granted by the faculty without resulting in too much loss of time to the student body as a whole, as Monday, December 20th and the morning of Wednesday, December 22nd, being the only days in which classes could be held, with the possible exception of the few scattered classes held Saturday morning. From the general attitude of the student body already expressed, it is believed that the petition will be signed unanimously. The petition itself follows:

PETITION

In view of the fact that Senior Council is the official representative of the Bucknell student body, we, the undersigned, present this petition to Senior Council to have proper action taken upon the following:

WHEREAS, the Bucknell University catalog states that Christmas vacation starts December 22nd, and

WHEREAS, other first class colleges, such as the University of Pennsylvania, Penn State, Cornell, Princeton, Syracuse, Lafayette, Lehigh and others of similar high standing are having three weeks vacation, and

WHEREAS, these first class colleges also begin later in the fall, have a week between semesters, and close earlier in the spring, and

WHEREAS, the President of the United States has proclaimed December 21st a legal holiday, and

WHEREAS, with these added five days of vacation, only two of these are taken up by class recitations, and

WHEREAS, the majority of the Bucknell student body find it necessary to work at home the week before Christmas for concerns which are very much rushed during that time;

BE IT THEREFORE CONCLUDED that we, the undersigned student body of Bucknell University, respectfully petition that the Christmas vacation shall extend from noon Friday, December 17th, to noon Wednesday, January 5th.

55 GIRLS TRY OUT

Frill and Frown tryouts are to take place Saturday, December 11, as announced at a recent meeting of that organization. Practices are being held morning, noon, and night, as some very valuable material has been discovered in both Freshman and Sophomore classes. From the fifty five contestants only eight will be chosen to complete the twenty five which is the quota of that organization. It is anticipated that several of the plays now under way will be given at a later date before the Lyceum, the plays being coached by the following Frill and Frown members: Jennie Burke, Mary Appleman, Lydia Coene, Emily Devine, Matilda Bell, LeRue Unger, Marie Chambers, Sue Plummer, Helen Kitlowski, Marjorie Sprout, Esther Fleming and Ray Seaman.

LOOKING BACKWARD

The footbal season is over. Last September when we came back to Bucknell from far and near we all turned out to football scrimmage, the team looked promising, hopes ran high. Coach Reynolds was given a welcome which all but took him off his feet. Rousing mass meetings placed the whole student body behind their team. But now that the season is over, as the smoke begins to clear from the field of battle we can look back to see what we have accomplished.

In spite of the fact that we were disappointed in our high hopes of "beating Penn," in spite of the fact that our three great games were "almosts," what is there in this years record which makes every Bucknellian proud of his football team?

The fact that our total of scores amounts to 244 as against 27 for our opponents and the fact that no team scored more than one touch down on us during the season speaks for the consistent playing of the Orange and Blue eleven. The fact that at the back of our line-up stands a man who holds the second highest individual score in this year's football records of America strikes a note of response in the heart of every Bucknellian. And the fact that every player respects his coach and every student is proud of his team makes Bucknell football a unit to be reckoned with.

Back of our whole football organization stands "Pete" Reynolds, the greatest coach Bucknell has ever known. A driver and a master he commands the respect rather than the familiarity of his men. The spirit with which his squad does those "four laps around the track and under the cold showers" after three hours of steady drill is the greatest tribute possible to his ability. His arrival in Lewisburg this fall, riding with President Hunt, in a cab drawn by a mob of willing students, was an index of his place in the heart of Bucknell.

Behind him have stood a host of loyal supporters, all responsible for the success of the season. Graduate-manager Glass has filled his office honorably and well. Only those who have dealt with "Art" Harris as student comptroller know what praise he deserves. And "Bill" Willman as manager—well, suffice it to say that Bill has managed as only the "Kaiser" himself could. Last but not least in the machine, we may mention Captain "Joe" Kostos who silently fights his fight with all the fight that is in him, and who, thru many hard bumps has never been permanently disabled.

And finally in back of the coach and in back of the team has loomed something which is bigger than both, the spirit of Bucknell. Bowser's talons are on every lip and they may well be. We might mention the individual prowess of every man on the squad. But they each function as individuals only as members of a unit. What we love to refer to as the Bucknell spirit binds the player to his fellows and the student to his team. Back in the days when Bromley Smith broke Bucknell records, when "Benny" Thomas played football, and when "Christy" Mathewson tossed the horse-hide this same spirit functioned as a stimulus to athletic effort. And in the morrow when "Pete" Reynolds has passed on and when Bowser's name appears only in resumes of our athletic history may the same "spirit of Bucknell" carry on.

STUDENT'S FORUM

WORTHY COMMUNICATIONS FROM BUCKNELL UNDERGRADUATES AND ALUMNI WILL BE PRINTED IN THIS COLUMN IF PROPERLY SIGNED AND SENT TO THE EDITOR.

WHY NOT?

In previous years the Xmas vacation was of three weeks duration. School closed on or about the 17th of December, and opened about January 6. This year it is closing the 22, and opening January 6th, or nearly one week later. I wonder why vacation is so arranged this year?

The other colleges and larger high schools of the east close Wednesday December 15, or not later than the 17th. Why can't Bucknell do the same and fall in line? In the negative we are told: Bucknell must have a certain number of days upon which we shall hold classes to maintain her high standard. The writer knows that other colleges open later in in the fall, have a vacation just as long as our own at Xmas, and still dismiss at an earlier date in the spring. How do they do it? Do other colleges fall below the standard?

Dec. 21, has been proclaimed a national holiday, as the 300th anniversary of the landing of our Pilgrim Fathers. Will classes be held upon that date? If classes are not held should classes be resumed upon Tuesday and Wednesday following? It doesn't seem right.

Students, why not talk it up and endeavor to obtain a vacation from December 17th to January 6th? Lets all pull together.

THE TEACHER SITUATION

From Reports By Those Who Know

An impression prevails that the teacher shortage throughout the United States is no longer a serious problem. Recent reports received from county and district superintendents in every State clearly indicate that such a conclusion is erroneous. While the average condition is slightly better than last year, due to marit improvement in States where salaries have been greatly increast, the general situation hemains practically unchanged. The number of schools with out teachers and the still larger number taught by incompetent teachers who what a very serious situation still exists, particularly in those States where salaries are lowest.

On September 1, 1920, the National Association sent a letter to every county and district superintendent of schools in the United States, enclosing a return postal card upon which were askt ten questions regarding the teacher situation in their respective counties. The following is a tabulation of the replies received to three of the questions asked (1) The number of teaching positions in the country or district covered by the report; (2) the shortage of teachers at the opening of school in September, 1920; (3) the number of teachers below standarad whom it had been necessary to accept in order to keep as many schools as possible open. The standard referred to is, of course, the minimum for the given county or district, and teachers below standard are admittedly incompetent. The real shortage is, therefore, the sum of the actual shortage and the number of teachers below standard.

Inquiries were sent to 3,468 superintendents and 1,492 replies had been received at the time this tabulation was made, October 12. very report is signed by the county or district superintendent making it, and the information is, therefore, the most reliable that can be obtained. The figures given in the first five columns are taken directly from the signed reports. The "estimated shortage and below standard" given in the last column is based on the assumption that the unreported counties of a State would show conditions the same as those reported.

Unquestionably the greatest educational problem before the American people is the securing of competent, well-trained teachers for every teaching position in the country, in rural as well as in city schools. At least two years of professional training beyond a four-year high school course is the generally accepted minimum standard for teachers. The replies of county and district superintendents to the question, "What per cent of your teachers have had two years or more of training beyond high schools show that in only a few States have one-half the teachers had that amount of training, and that in a large majority of the States less than one-half had that much. Some superintendents report as few as ten per cent o ftheir teachers having attained that standard.

The drive should be for a competent, well-trained teacher for every boy and girl in America. Until this shall have been accomplisht, approximately, it cannot be said that the teacher situation is not a serious problem.

LUZERNE COUNTY CLUB

There has recently been re-organized in the University an organization that bids fair to place the word "Bucknell" before the eyes of its home locality. This organization is the Luzerne County—Bucknell Club. Luzerne County ranks third in the Counties with students at Bucknell, having over sixty-five students enrolled. One of the big affairs planned by the club is a dance to be held in Wilkes-Barre during the Christmas vacation. This dance is not a strictly Luzerne County affair, and every Bucknell student is welcome. The Sterling Hotel Ball room has been engaged for the 27th of Dec. and a good orchestra secured. The committee in charge consists of James Brown, Raymond Dorris, Stewart Williams, Baden Thomas, and Gail Young.

Subscription for the dance is $2.50 Tickets may be secured at the S. A. E. or the K. S. house.

CO-EDS PLAN VOCATIONS

What are you going to do when you leave school? The "Semites" were asked this on Wednesday night when Esther Flemming, '22, gave a report on the vocational conference held at University of Pittsburg last week. Each "Semite" wrote on a card what she wished to be, and literature will be distributed to each girl from time to time on the subject of her choice.

The list of desirable vocations were many, teaching getting the largest vote and then too there were many would be lawyers, doctors, missionaries, newspapers and social service workers, writers engineers and the like.

Grace Swan, "22 who also attended the conference, talked on the programme and speakers at Pittsburgh.

Misses Matilda Bell, President of the Womens Student Government and Elizabeth Cauffer, reported on their trip to Elmira College where Women's Student Government was held. From their report we deem that old B. U's student government is not at all a bad one but there are many ways in which it can be bettered. The girls are of the opinion that it will be better "eventually—but why not now?"

LUZERNE COUNTY CLUB

Almost sixty students, residents of Luzerne County, have organized the Luzerne County Bucknell Club. At a meeting for organization held last Wednesday afternoon James A. Brown of Pittston was elected president of the club. Plans are now under way for a big dance to be held in Wilkesbarre between Christmas and New Years. Further activities planned will make this one of the live-wire organizations of Bucknell.

CAP AND DAGGER TRYOUTS

All parts for tryout will be given out immediately after the Thanksgiving recess. The tryouts will be held at the end of the week of December 13th.

Lyle Anderson, of Johnsonburg, has been visiting his cousin "Chick" Florin, for the past three days.

ENTERTAINED PRESIDENT

Sig Alphs are proudly entertaining for a few days, William C., or the famous "Billy" Leverre, E. A., of the entire S. A. E. fraternity. "Billy" typifies in his personality all that S. A. E. should be and the local men are fortunate in having him over the week end.

The College Inn

Would have been found cleaning spittoons after money and friends had vanished together. For it is obvious that the dirtiest, filthiest, and most degrading job today is "wallowing in the mire of the human hog with a long handle brush. Since the days of Sir Pipe Face Raleigh our friend Porker has been outclassed by his human competitors, and has buried his snout in shame. The College Inn employs no Prodigal Son and out of respect for all concerned we detest the presence of that abominable target of filthy weed marksmen.

This advertisement is in part answer to the question why we gave the filthy weed the full count, why we favor a policy of segregation for eating places, and is a necessity garbed in the language of the gutter as its loathsome character.

DICKINSON GAME

most of the carrying, the latter making one plunge into the line for 17 yards. Brophy finally carried the ball over the line for a touchdown but the try for goal failed.

Bucknell then started to hammer Dickinson's line, using Bowser and Kostos principally, making two first downs in seven plunge. Two more tries only netting four yards. Dayhoff sprung a forward pass to Julian for a 15 yard gain. Wilsbach followed this with 11 yards and then Dickinson held, receiving the ball on its two yard line after a magnificent stand, just as the period ended.

THE SECOND PERIOD

When Dickinson tried to punt out of danger at the opening of the second period the ball only cleared 20 yards and this, as much as anything contributed to the first Bucknell touchdown. Five plunges carried the ball to Dickinson's one-foot line. Here Dickinson took a brace and Bucknell had to go the limit before Bowser went over for a touchdown and Kostos kicked the goal.

Dickinson kicked off and then held forcing a punt. Bowser drove the ball up the field and put 40 yards between it and Bucknell's goal line. But Reed was disqualified for alleged kicking, Dickinson was given as a penalty half the distance to Bucknell's goal, 30 yards. McGraw took Reed's place.

After trying the line three times for six yards Dickinson tried a forward pass which was intercepted by Homan.

Bowser carried the ball five yards but a penalty set it back 15 yards, two tries at the line and an incomplated forward pass forced a punt.

Dickinson gave up the ball on downs, losing out by three inches. Short gains by the backfield and a ten-yard penalty on Dickinson gave Bucknell a first down on Dickinson's 30-yard line. Kostos hit the line for five yards and then Bowser went thru for 25 yards, the longest run of the game, for a touchdown. Kostos kicked the goal.

The kickoff and two plays ended the first half.

THE THIRD PERIOD

Dickinson opened the third period by kicking off to Kostos. A two-yard gain by Kostos was followed by two forward passes, both of which grounded. Then Bowser kicked 50 yards and out of bounds.

It was Dickinson's ball on her own 12-yard line. On the first scrimmage Brophy went thru the line for 18 yards. Failing to make a first down Dickinson punted 30 yards to Kostos who was downed in his tracks. Wilsbach, Dayhoff and Bowser netted a first down. Kostos, Dayhoff and Bowser added another. Kostos and Bowser netted five yards and a forward pass to Julian gained another 10 yards. Bowser carried the ball four yards to Dickinson two-yard line. Wilsbach gained one yard and then Bowser carried the ball over but a five yard penalty nullified the gain. Kostos was held for no gain and then Dayhoff tossed the ball 10 yards to Julian, who was behind the line. Kostos failed to kick the goal.

Dickinson again kicked off. Bowser gained two yards, a forward pass grounded, Kostos was thrown for a five-yard loss and then Bowser kicked 45 yard and out of bounds.

A fake kick gave Dickinson one yard and a try at right end resulted in no gain. Dickinson punted 30 yards out of bounds and a penalty on Bucknell added another 10 to it.

Dickinson held and received the ball on downs. Two five-yard gains gave a first down. Another nine yards were added in three downs when the period ended.

FOURTH PERIOD

Dickinson had 28 yards to go and one yard to go for a first down. six yards were gained in three downs and then a forward pass grounded, giving the ball to Bucknell on downs on her own 18-yard line.

Bucknell gained six yards in three downs and Bowser dropped back to kick but Dickinson broke thru, blocked the kick and Geltz fell on the ball.

Dickinson gained five yards and was thrown for a loss of all it gained A forward pass grounded and then a pass gained seven yards, but ten were needed and the ball went to Bucknell on downs. Bowser promptly kicked to midfield.

Two plunges netted Dickinson ten yards but a penalty set the ball back again and a punt gave Bucknell the ball on the 25 yard line.

Bucknell gained four yards in two efforts and then a pass to Julian gained 12 yards. Kostos and Bowser in three tries, made a first down. Bowser and Gdaniec added another first down. Kostos lost six yards and then gained five yards.

A forward pass was intercepted by Dickinson which tried right end for no gain. Bucknell was penalized 15 yards. Two gains of two and four yards put the ball in midfield, in Dickinson's hands, when the game ended.

KAPPA SIGS HOLD DANCE

On Friday night of Thanksgiving vacation Kappa Sigma entertained with a dance in their house, to which they invited men from all the other fraternities and the non-fraternity men, who had stayed over for the vacation. Dancing lasted from 8 to 12.

Harry Cassler, '18, and David J. Martin, '20 visited their Phi Gamma Delta brothers over the week-end.

Warren Slocum, '20, now employed with the Eastman Kodac Co., at Rochester, N. Y. visited his Detal Sigma brothers last week.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

TELLING IT TO THE JUDGE.

His Honor hears many sad tales of woe in court but now and then some humor "springs up" to relieve the monotony of serious routine. Such occasional outbursts of funny comment attract smiles even from those people who have to "tell it to the judge." In theatres throughout our United States, audiences have enthused over the witty wordings about judges and their cases presented on the motion picture screen in "Topics of the Day" films. With the firm conviction that all our readers are good judges of humor, the Bucknellian places the following pungent paragraphs on trial for your approval:

"WELL, well, that's a frightful case. What made you marry 14 wives?" asked the judge. "Well your honor, I didn't like the number 13."
JEFFERSON (TEXAS) NEWS

Judge: Where did the automobile hit you?"

Rastus: "Well, judge, if I'd been carrying a license number it would have been busted into a thousand pieces."
SCHENECTADY (N. Y.) Union Star

"Officer, what is the prisoner charged with?" asked the judge. Cop: "Mostly soda water, sir."
BOSTON RECORD

Prosecuting Attorney (to opponent): "You're the biggest bob in the city." Judge (rapping for order) "Gentlemen, you forget I am here."
SYRACUSE HERALD

Magistrate: "But your wife says you haven't spoken a word to her for over a year." Polite prisoner: 'No, your worship, I didn't want to interrupt her."
PEARSON'S WEEKLY

"Repeat the words the defendant used," said the lawyer. "I'd rather not. They were not fit words to tell a gentlemen." "Then," said the attorney, "Whisper them to the judge."
PROGRESSIVE FARMER

To new maid: "This is my son's room. He's in Yale." "Ya? My Brudder ban there too." "What year?" "No year, da judge yust say: "You Axel, 60 days in Yail."

B

NO MATRICULATION

The old custom of matriculation for Freshmen will be done away with entirely this year at Bucknell. In former years all Freshmen who were receiving passing grades in their work at the end of ten weeks, were required to sign a slip pledging themselves to obey the laws and regulations of Bucknell University as long as they were members of the same. The student was not considered a member of the institution until after matriculation.

Last year a list of the Freshmen who were up in their work was posted at the end of ten weeks, but this year the list will not be posted.

B

A NEW FRATERNITY

A local fraternity has, with President Hunt's consent, made its appearance at Bucknell under the name of Phi Theta Sigma.

The majority of the members of the fraternity have been in association for the past two or three years as a boarding club. Due to the friendship that has existed among the club members during this period, some new form of closer relationship was desired and although the promoters of the fraternity had discussed the proposition at length last spring, no definite steps were taken toward complete organization until the opening of school this fall.

B

CONNECTICUT AG.

Freshmen co-eds of the Connecticut Agricultural College did not get off scot-free from initiation into college life. They were ducked in a lake at mid-night on a Friday and then taken into a nearby cemetary to hear some advice from "ghosts" perched on tombstones.

COLLEGE MAN HEADS WAR RISK

Director R. G. Cholmel-Jones made public last week the appointment by Secretary of the Treasury of Dr. Haven Emerson, formerly Commissioner of Health of New York City, to the position of Medical Adviser and Assistant Director, Bureau of War Risk Insurance.

The appointment of Dr. Emerson with so notable a record in professional and administrative training in the promotion of public health will be regarded as an event of importance not only to the medical profession but to the disabled service men and women the provision for whose future welfare is vitally-interwoven with the scientific and sympathetic conduct of the Medical Division of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance.

Dr. Emerson comes to the work singularly equipped to serve the ex-service man's interest.

From 1899 to 1914 he served as demonstrator and instructor in the departments of physiology and medicine at the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Columbia University, New York City, and as assistant attending physician at Bellevue Hospital, in the meantime engaging in the active practice of general medicine. As a member of the New York Health Committee, the Public Health Committee of the New York Academy of Medicine, and of the New York Tuberculosis Association, his contact with the problems of preventive medicine, of public health services, and relief of the sick was firmly established.

In 1914 Dr. Emerson was appointed Sanitary Superintendent and Deputy Commissioner of Health of New York City under the administration of Mayor Mitchel, and from 1915 to 1917 he was Commissioner of Health. During the epidemic of infantile paralysis in 1916, the work of the Department of Health of New York City gained general appreciation of the state and federal public health officers.

Entering Army service as Major, Medical Corps, in January 1918, Dr. Emerson served in the American Expeditionary Force until June 1919, during which period he was in charge of the office of epidemiology of the Chief Surgeon. He was advanced to rank of Lieutenant-Colonel, and in March 1919 to the rank of Colonel, and received decorations from the French Republic of Chevalier of the Legion d'Honneur, and the Medaille desc Epidemies.

During the past year, Dr. Emerson organized the Department of Hygiene and Preventive Medicine at Cornell University, and directed the Hospital and Health Survey of Cleveland, Ohio for the Cleveland Hospital Council.

Dr. Emerson has recently returned from Europe, where he attended the International Conference on Certified Causes of Death, as a representative of the Bureau of the Census, and the International Conference on Tuberculosis as a delegate of the National Tuberculosis Association.

Dr. Emerson holds the degrees of A. B., Harvard, 1896, and A. M. and M. D., Columbia, 1899.

He has contributed numerous articles of technical, medical character dealing with problems of public health education, in medical periodicals.

GLEE CLUB RETURNS FROM CONCERT TRIP

Made Profitable Journey Into Northern Pennsylvania And New York State During Holidays.

During the Christmas vacation the Bucknell Glee Club made its second successful trip of the year. The first trip was made to the western part of the state at Thanksgiving time, while this trip included the northern tier counties of Pennsylvania. Another trip will be taken at Easter time, including the eastern part of the state, and New Jersey.

Leaving Lewisburg Monday morning, December 27, Manager Ralph Hartz had something under ten men with him. However, at Williamsport this number was increased to over twenty, and by the time Canton was reached nearly every man was accounted for. The first concert was given at Canton, the high school platform being used and the appearance being under the auspices of the senior class. It was Canton that swung the men into their regular trip stride, what with the dance after the entertainment, and all the rest of the things that went with the dance. It was at Canton that the program received the alterations under which it operated for the remainder of the trip.

The club as a whole sang "Ho, Gallant Sailors," "'Tis Morn," "Hunters Bold and Free," and "In Vocal Combat," using some of their popular encores after each. "The Owl and the Pussycat" took particularly well. The vocal solo work was taken care of by Homer Eaton, Donald Cloward and Norman Appleton. "Cy" Haus kept the houses in good humor with his popular songs. The stringed trio, after undergoing many trials of various sorts, finally emerged triumphant from all of them. The trio was composed of "Bobby" Hartz, Appleton and Harding. The quartet, composed of Hartz, Hartz, Cloward and Appleton, was successful in their work. "Bobby" Hartz played his violin to perfection. "Fin" Keech with a new easel, did better work than ever, and was disgusted with his audience only once.

The second stop was made in Troy, just a few miles north of Canton, where the concert was not quite so successful as that of the evening before. The next day the club went on to Elmira, N. Y., thence to Corning, and then back into Pennsylvania to Lawrenceville. Knoxville, the objective, was reached after traveling all day. In fact, the worst feature about this trip was the poor traveling accommodations. The railroads were for the most part slow, while cars had to be changed frequently. A trolley line was used once, and in another instance, motor cars were used for a trip of 24 miles over bad roads.

At Knoxville "a good time was had by all." The concert there was given in the church under the auspices of the senior class of the high school. The concert was followed by a dance at which a twelve-piece orchestra furnished the music. Any one of the club can tell you what wonderful music was played by this twelve-piece orchestra.

By retracing its steps somewhat, the club reached Wellsboro about noon on December 30. It was here that the club rechristened the popular song "Margie" so that its name became "Virgie." The concert at the Bach auditorium was perhaps the best thus far on the trip. It was followed by a dance at the Armory hall. This was the largest dance of the trip.

Coudersport was the next stop, it being taken on the schedule in place of Waverly, N. Y., which cancelled shortly before the trip was begun. The concert was given in the church. Most of the men went home to bed immediately after the concert, as there was but one dance in the town, and that was a Masonic affair. However, the Masons among the club attended the dance.

Port Allegany was visited for two days, Saturday and Sunday. It was here that the club found the greatest number of Bucknellians. Saturday night, a concert, followed by a dance, was given in the hall

ATTENDED CONVENTION

At the national convention of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, held December 28-31, at Kansas City, Mo., were Francis F. Reamer, '21, and Karl D. Smith, '19, representing the active chapter and alumni, respectively, of Delta Chapter, Bucknell.

1921 SCHEDULE IS ANNOUNCED

CONTAINS THREE NEW TEAMS OF HIGH CALIBRE, WITH FINE LIST OF GAMES ON HOME GRID.

Graduate Manager Glass has announced the Bucknell football schedule for the year 1921, containing a number of new teams, and dropping several old ones. West Virginia, Catholic University and Washington and Jefferson are the new teams on the schedule and are all hard games. The game with Catholic University will be played on the local field, as well as the return game with Lafayette. Contrary to all reports, Gettysburg has not dropped Bucknell from her schedule, and the old rivals will meet next year at Harrisburg as usual. Penn is not on the schedule at all but Muhlenburg, Susquehanna and Dickinson still remain.

As can be easily seen, this list is considerably heavier than last year, but it is believed that with the prospective material in view, and the men from this year's team who will be back next year, the team will be better than ever. Coach Reynolds will be back, as he recently signed a three year contract with Bucknell, and it is understood that he is to have an assistant next year.

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE—1921

Sept. 24—Open—home game.
Oct. 1—W. & J. at Washington.
Oct. 8—Muhlenburg at Allentown
Oct. 15—Lafayette at Lewisburg.
Oct. 22—Uni. of West Virginia, at Morgantown.
Oct. 29—Catholic Uni. at Lewisburg.
Nov. 5—Navy at Annapolis.
Nov. 12—Gettysburg at Harrisburg.
Nov. 19—Susquehanna at Lewisburg.
Nov. 24—Dickinson at Carlisle.

DEBATING SCHEDULE

The program arranged by the debating managers for this season is as follows:

Dual debate with Lafayette March 4. Question: "Resolved, That the Use of the Injunction Should be Abolished in Labor Disputes."

Triangular debate with Penn State and Dickinson. Question: "Resolved, That a More Stringent Japanese Immigration Law Should be Enacted."

Debate with Swathmore.

Girls' debate with some college.

Annual Junior debate.

The debating teams, under the management of Smith and Sugden are promising a successful season. Hartz and McGregor are veterans of last year's team. The underclassmen are showing especial promise. Admission to the debates, unlike some other things on the Budget, is free.

AUDITOR'S REPORT

The accounts of Selah Sutton, treasurer of class of 1921, for last year have been audited and found correct.

Those desiring tryouts for second assistant in football hand all applications to President Larson of the Athletic Association by January 17.

PLANS MADE FOR INTERFRATERNITY BASKET BALL

ELEVEN TEAMS IN LEAGUE FOR WINTER SEASON.

GAMES BEGIN TONIGHT AT GYM

Reported That Athletic Association Will Defray All Expenses of the League, Including Winner's Cup.

At a recent meeting of the Interfraternity basketball committee, rules governing the league and the contests were made up and adopted, and a schedule made out. The rules for the coming season are as follows:

Rule 1. Games shall start at 7:15 and 3:30, with 15 minute halves. Games shall be forfeited if delinquent team does not appear within 15 minutes after scheduled time.

Rule 2. Games may be postponed upon consent of both managers, but these games must be played off in the seven days following scheduled date of such postponed game.

Rule 3. Intercollegiate basketball rules shall govern all contests.

Rule 4. Any man who is not among the first seven on the varsity squad, as picked by the coach, is eligible to play.

Rule 5. Any dispute, disagreement or misunderstanding of any of the above rules is to be settled by the Interfraternity basketball committee.

It was announced Friday by Graduate Manager Glass that the University Athlette Association had decided to defray all expenses of the league.

ORANGE AND BLUE TAKES FIRST GAME

THREE- GAME TRIP

The basketball team takes a three-game trip this week, playing F. and M. Thursday night at Lancaster, Temple Friday night at Philadelphia, and Swarthmore Saturday night at Swarthmore. The next home game is Gettysburg, January 22.

SUSQUEHANNA MEETS DEFEAT

BUCKNELL WINS FROM OLD RIVAL ON ITS HOME FLOOR BY 24-14 SCORE IN ROUGH GAME.

The fast Susquehanna basketball team fell before the Bucknell five on Saturday night not Selinsgrove, 24-14. The game was close, but spoiled by the constant fouling by Susquehanna, and the continual "riding" with hisses and remarks by the crowd for the calling of fouls on Susquehanna, which to anyone knowing the game, were well deserved.

The playing of the Bucknell team was a great improvement over that shown on our floor Friday night. Wren caged three field goals and Julian and Bihl each one. Bihl made 14 out of 28 fouls. Rogowicz, for Susquehanna, had three field goals and Sweeney had two.

The first half was very close, being nip and tuck throughout, Bucknell's first five points were scored on fouls, Susquehanna's on two field goals and a foul. A field goal by Wrean towards the end of the half put the Orange and Blue in the lead which the Selinsgrove five never overcame. The half ended with Bucknell leading, 9-7.

In the second half Susquehanna kept fouling and Bihl continued making half his tries. Both teams had better luck in locating the basket, Bucknell ringing 4 goals from field, and Susquehanna ringing 7. Bihl's basket was one of the prettiest of the game. He made it by dribbling down the floor through the opposing team, and shooting from a bad angle. The teamwork of the Lewisburg quintette during this half was of up-to-date style.

The Line-up

Bucknell-24		Susquehanna-14
Wren	f	Leidig
Julian	f	Sweeney
Dinn	c	Rogowicz
Bihl	g	Sweeney
Dietrich	g	Rayner

Referee—Miller, of Harrisburg. Field goals—Wrean 3, Julian, Rogowicz 3, Sweeney 2. Fouls—Bihl 14 out of 28; Sweeney, 4 out of 9.

DRAMATIC TRYOUTS

It is planned to hold tryouts for Cap and Dager society on January 22. All who have not been assigned parts, see F. F. Reamer at the Phi Gamma Delta house.

NEW ASSISTANT EDITOR

The Bucknellian at this time takes pleasure in announcing the appointment of Perry Rogers, '22, as assistant editor. Much longer time was required this year in selecting an assistant editor because of the many candidates in the field, and the amount of time required to develope the editorial talents of these candidates. In the future, it will be the policy of the Bucknellian to have the tryouts for assistant editor take place in the school year previous to that one in which the appointment is made by the faculty committee. For this reason, all men who desire to try out for this position should present their names to George Schuyler at the Phi Gamma Delta house in the near future.

Hayes L. Person, '20, is now on the faculty of the Williamsport high school.

"Jimmy" Copeland, '20, and "Bill" Williamson, ex'22, were married in Pittsburgh at Christmas time, with Robert N. Waddell, '20, as best man.

China has 20,000 students in the universities of Japan. 2,000 in the colleges and universities of the United States, and nearly a thousand in the universites of France.

Dickinson Goes Down In Defeat To Bucknell In Opening Contest Through Bihl's Eye.

The 'lid of the 1921 basketball season at Bucknell was pried off last Friday night when the representatives of the Dickinson College went down to defeat by the score of 25-17.

The game was rather loosely played and at times was inclined to be rough, especially in the second half. In this style of play Bucknell had the advantage, our men being much the heavier. The work of the veteran guards, Dietrich and Bihl, was especially good.

Both teams showed a lack of offensive strength, Bucknell being noticeably weak in this department.

The splendid work of Bihl from the 15-foot mark was the only thing that kept us in the lead in the first half. His record was 13 out of 17, with a run of six at the very beginning. Dickinson fell down miserably on fouls for out of 19 chances only 7 were converted into points. No less than four men made 4 fouls apiece, but all were equally poor.

Bucknell started the game with Julian and Wren at forward, Coe center, and Dietrich and Bihl guards. The last named scored the first point with a foul. Dickinson, however, evened matters up shortly after and then went ahead when Wallace pushed in a field goal from a scrimmage under the basket. Bihl added two more points on fouls and the teams were tied at 5. At this point Wren received a pass from Dietrich and shot a pretty field goal, placing the home team in the lead, 7-5. A spurt just before the half ended placed the orange and blue well in the lead and when the bell sounded the points stood 16-7.

In the second half the wearers of the White D outscored Bucknell from the field but the lead gained in the first half was too much for the visitors to overcome and the game ended with an exhibition of fine playing."

Julian and Wren were tied for field goal honors, each having two. Wallace was Dickinson's best man. Dinn and Deffibaugh entered the game in the second half and made a good showing.

This begins the 6th consecutive season the Bucknell team has been undefeated in Trinity organization. Hugh Baxter's Albright team was the last to accomplish the feat. Let us hope the team receives no reverses again this year. We can help by coming out and cheering. Cheer Leader Finein requests that his Royal Rooters be in the northeast corner on the 22nd when Gettysburg is the attraction.

Bucknell	Position	Dickinson
Julian	f	Beighley
Wren	f	Irwin

Field goals, Julian 2, Wren 2, Wallace 2; Bihl, Irwin, Beighley, Smith. Goals from foul, Bihl 13, Beighley 2, Irwin 2, Wallace 1, Carter1.

Substitutions: Dinn for Coe, Deffibaugh for Julian.

Referee: Ernest, of Williamsport. Score keeper, Schuyler. Time of halves, 20 minutes.

SIGMA CHI DANCE

On Wednesday evening, December the fifteenth, from nine to two, the Club, tastefully decorated with banners and pennants, thus giving it a very collegiate air, was the scene of the Sigma Chi Xmas dance. The special feature of the evening was a superb and delectable lunch served at family tables set off by cleverly placed green splits.

The dance was highly enjoyed by all. Joviality and good spirit predominating the entire evening.

The music was furnished by Diff's College Five and was of the unusual calibre that they always put across. The melodies especially being a delight to the ear as well as the toe.

The affair was ably chaperoned by Doctor and Mrs. Gearhart and Dean and Mrs. Phillips.

INTERFRATERNITY GAMES

Perhaps nothing promotes better feeling among the men of the school than do the coming interfraternity basketball contests. The friendly rivalry exhibited at these games makes the contestants and onlookers realize that Bucknell, the school, is bigger than the confining influences of the individual fraternity groups. This feeling does not come often enough in these days of cut-throat rushing and rotten politics, as the welfare of the school is lost sight of in the individual greediness of the different groups. No one group is to blame for these conditions, yet they still exist. Perhaps through the medium of such games, and other sports which bring the members of different fraternities together, the men will come to think, not less of their fraternities, but more of Bucknell.

B

THE BASKETBALL TEAM

Some, it is said, was not built in a day. Neither can Coach Glass develope a good basketball team in such a short time, and with such little practice. Those of us who witnessed the game with Dickinson Friday evening knew that the game was won only through accurate foul shooting of "Vic" Bihl. However, do not be too hasty in judging the team on its first exhibition, for the material is there, and all that is needed is the practice of playing together to mould it into a winning combination.

STUDENT'S FORUM

WORTHY COMMUNICATIONS FROM BUCKNELL UNDERGRADUATES AND ALUMNI WILL BE PRINTED IN THIS COLUMN IF PROPERLY SIGNED AND SENT TO THE EDITOR.

HANDS

To-rest without: within, the mellow glow
Of swinging lamp and firelight over all—
Reddens and water colors on the wall,
Cushions and curtains of clear indigo,
Rugs, enmeshed and blue as Tyrian seas,
Deep chairs, black oaken settles, hammered brass,
Translucent porcelain and sea-green glass—
Color and warmth and light and dreamy ease.

And I sat wondering where are now the hands
That wrought at anvil, easel, wheel and loom—
Hands slender, swart, red, gnarled—in foreign lands,
Or 'English shops to furnish this sesuoly room:
And all the while, without, the windy rain
Drones like dead fingers, tapping at the pane.

Note: The picturesque and evocative sonnet entitled "Hands" was composed by Wilfrid Wilson Gibson, who, with Masefield, De La Mere, Davies and others, belongs with the English authors of the twentieth century. For those who toil, Mr. Gibson is a lyric poet, and in "Hands" he has incomparably pictured the finished work and the worker. The poem is remarkable for what it suggests.

The Bucknellian will publish, from time to time, such bits of poetry by modern authors as space will permit.

GLEE CLUB TRIP

under the auspices of the senior class of the high school. It seemed that most of the concerts were given under the auspices of high school senior classes endeavoring to raise money for a trip to Washington. It was in Port Allegany that some of the men were quite affected by the natural gas, the hall being lit with that gas. Sunday night a sacred concert was given in the church. Port Allegany deserves considerable mention, for it was there that the lone "Turtle" on the trip lost a pledge pin, while various others succombed to the wiles of the sirens of the town. Most of the men missed Sunday morning's breakfast, which is another fact of interest.

With but three more concerts ahead of them, the men set out to have a good time while it lasted, and at the same time made the determination to steer clear of all unbuckled, flapping ancles. Monday night was spent in Kane, where after a successful concert, the men were introduced to the intricacies of three deep, winkum, and other such strenuous games. Imagine playing such games in "hollerplate." However, the men came out unharmed, and also made the acquaintance of several Bucknell alumni.

Bradford quite hypnotized the men as "Fin" for one, can tell. Here a short program was given in the high school in the afternoon, while the concert in the evening was a big success from all points of view. Bradford had not forgotten "Cy" Haus, as they demonstrated when he appeared for his popular songs. The last concert was given in Renovo on Wednesday night, and was followed by a short dance. Shortly after midnight the club entrained for Montandon, where they were met and brought over to Lewisburg, and back to work. Such a short account as this cannot hope to tell of the fine times, the close shaves, and the many other things which went to make up the second successful trip of the club for the current year. From beginning to end, every man enjoyed himself thoroughly, and at the same time did his part in making the trip a real advertisement for Bucknell.

Dr. Maurice Goldshimith, '06, of Pittsburgh, has been active recently in getting Bucknell "dope" in the Pittsburgh papers.

General Brett, Commander of the Eightieth Division in France, addressed the Pittsburgh alumni at their luncheon on Oct. 26.

B

Her red cheeks held him quit spellbound,
A much devoted man;
Until one day a rain came up,
And the colors up and ran.

B

A peach came walking down the street;
She was more than passing fair,
A smile, a nod, a half-closed eye,
And the Peach became a Pair.—Ex.

B

I felt his soft breath on my cheek
And the gentle touch of his hand
His very presence near me
Seemed a breeze on the desert sand;
He deftly sought my lips,
My head he did enfold,
Then he broke the silence with,
"Shall the filling be silver or gold?"

U. OF MICHIGAN

Robbers are molesting fraternities at Ann Arbor.

Fraternity robberies are exciting the students at Ann Arbor, Mich. As yet no definite clews as to who the criminals are have been uncovered. The police believe it to be the work of professional thieves and not that of students. This is quite likely in view of the large number of unemployed men in Detroit and other neighboring cities at the present time.

The Modern Prodigal Son

Would have been found cleaning spittoons after money and friends had vanished together. For it is obvious that the dirtiest, filthiest, and most degrading job today is wallowing in the mire of the human hog with a long handled brush. Since the days of Sir Pipe Face Raleigh our friend Porker has been outclassed by his human competitors, and has buried his snout in shame. The College Inn employs no Prodigal Sons and out of respect for all concerned we detest the presence of that abominable target of the filthy weed marksmen.

This advertisement is in part answer to the question why we gave the filthy weed the full count, why we favor a policy of segregation from eating places, and is of necessity garbed in the language of the gutter as befits its loathsome character.

Ravings of College Wits Worthy of Notice

Mary doesn't rouge her lips,
Neither does she paint.
Is she a bit among the men?
You know darned well she aint.

Ted—This paper says the human body contains sulphur.
Bob—How much?
Ted—Oh, in varying quantities.
Bob—Well that probably accounts for some girls making better matches than others.

'23—Molly sat on the stove.
'24—How did it feel?
'23—Hot t' Molly.

No one knows why a kiss is such a pleasant thing, but the matter is being constantly investigated.—Carlyle.

The nearest approach to the old woman that lived in a shoe is John Barleycorn, who survives in bootlegging.—Toledo Blade.

In spite of all this can
I think 'twill be agreed,
It is a friend in funds we want
And not a friend in need.
—Lehigh Burr.

If flies are flies
Because they fly,
And fleas are fleas
Because they flee,
Then bees are bees
Because they be.—Yale Record.

It isn't always a big guy that gets along best. A fly can tickle a mule's ear and get away with it. You're a heap bigger than a fly, but don't try it.—Penn State Froth.

Midge—"What do you think of a fellow who makes a girl blush?"
Lu—"I think he's a wonder."

Tramp (to lady of the house): "I just came back from the front and—
Lady (interrupting): "Indeed. And what success did you have there?"
Tramp: "None, ma'am. That's why I came around to the back."—Boy's Life.

I'll say one thing about my brother, he never comes into the house dead drunk."
"You don't say so."
"Of course sometimes we find him in the gutter."—Froth.

Gladys—"Mabel is two laps ahead of Emily in their leap year race."
Phyllis—"Two laps?"
Gladys—"Yes, Harry's and Bob's."

"What makes your cat so small?"
"I've always fed it on condensed milk."—Ex.

"What makes the leaves turn red in the fall?"
"They are blushing to think how green they have been all summer."

EXCHANGE EDITOR'S NOTE

In reviewing our exchanges it is noted that the publication of the Bucknell Women's College, Freshmen Rules has made quite an impression on other editors. In quite a few of the college papers they were quoted, and in several put forth as an example of stringent and unique rules.

CAP AND DAGGER SCORES SUCCESS

PLAY SO WELL RECEIVED THAT IT IS TO BE PRESENTED AT WILLIAMSPORT HIGH SCHOOL.

Cap and Dagger society produced "The Importance of Being Earnest" on both Monday and Tuesday nights, December 13 and 14, with great success. The cast received much well deserved praise on its splendid work. Cap and Dagger society's well founded reputation for presenting high class plays in a high class manner was greatly enhanced by this presentation.

So well did the play take, that it was decided by the society to take the play out of town. Permission was granted by Dr. Hunt, and on Tuesday, Jan. 25, the play will be produced in Williamsport high school under the auspices of the Williamsport high school "Cherry and White."

H. LeRoy Heller, '21, was very convincing and natural in the title role of John Worthing, who learned the "Importance of Being Earnest," which was no less than gaining the hand of Gwendoline Fairfax, played by Miss Martha Leiser, '21, who made a stunning picture in her part.

The collateral love story was enacted most delightfully by Miss Susanne Plummer, '22, and Emory Brfendafer. Miss Plummer represented little Cecily Cardew with just the right amount of modest simplicity, while "Diffy," as Algernon Montcrief, was his own charming self to the delight of his audience.

Walking in solitary grandeur thru the play came Lady Bracknell, enacted by Miss Caroline Hunt, '23, with all the art and finesse that the most critical could demand. The third set of lovers fell to Miss Ray Seaman, '22, as Miss Prism, duenna to Cecily, and Sturgis Beers, '22, as Rev. Chasuble. Both carried out their characters in a faultless manner. The two butlers, David Stewardson, '24, and Frank Griffiths, '22, completed a well rounded performance by their skill in these minor roles. Altogether a most praiseworthy and excellent performance reflecting great credit on those in charge.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

HELP WANTED

Presumably all ad-lets in the "help wanted—male" columns of our newspapers are bonafide items expressing needs for men workers. When persons advertise for help they usually have a serious purpose prompting their action. But, there are some exceptions which prove the rule. Very often little mistakes in wording and punctuation would make would-be serious ads quite comical. Remember how the audience at the movie theatre laughed and applauded the last time you saw one of these funny ads on the screen in "Topics of the Day" films? The Bucknellian has found the following ad-laughs in "help wanted—male" columns and feels sure they will tickle the risibles of our readers:

WANTED—Man who can run car and wife. (American Medical Journal.)

WANTED—Man to look after garden, milk cow with a good voice accustomed to sing in the choir. (Connecticut Country.

WANTED—Bartender capable of mixing mince pies. (Dallas, Texas News.)

WANTED—Fifty bricklayers; highest wages, plenty of parking space for automobiles. (New York Daily News.)

WANTED—Minister of the Gospel for lumber camp. Must be a good crap player. (Winnipeg, Canada, Telegram.

WANTED—At Hotel Randolph, first class porter; room furnished; also chambermaid. (Providence Journal.)

WANTED—Bookkeeper and assistant to CLUB manager. (Meriden, Conn., Record.)

WANTED—Man to collect accounts not over 40 years old. (Piqua, Ohio, Daily Call.

WANTED—Gentleman who can furnish one-half dozen eggs to my one-half pound of ham. Object—matrimony. (Montreal Star.)

WANTED—At once in Pittsburgh—An honest lawyer to prosecute a crooked one. (Pittsburgh Dispatch.)

B

JAZZ

It seems to be a species of music in a state of rebellion against the general order of things. It is produced by a double jointed, long winded musicians, who give an excellent interpretation of a dish of jello gone Bolshevikl, and who jump on the notes with the same unabashed joy as a chorus girl into a Rollo-Royce. It will soon come to pass that jazz bands will be substituted for the solemn pipe organs in our churches, whence it will probably follow that the elders will perform a Terpischorean check-to-cheek with the collection plates, while the sermon wil be interpreted with a suppleepinal chord. Needless to say, attendance would be increased.

VOL. XXIV LEWISBURG, PA., JANUARY 17, 1920 NUMBER 11

INTERFRATERNITY GAMES ARE NOW WELL UNDER WAY

FAST GAMES PLAYED LAST WEEK SHOW NEED OF PRACTICE

S. A. E. LEADS WHOLE LEAGUE

Bucknell's inter-fraternity cage sport got under way for a good start last Monday evening when the S. A. E. quintette and the Deme's five wrestled with the ball for a 20 to 17 score in favor of the Sig. Alpha, and the Non-Frats staged a good runaway against the neophytes from Phi Beta Sigma, to the tune of 29 to 13.

Willard Collins called to clash the S. A. E. and Deme warriors promptly at 7:15, and the teams lost no time in mixing things up in the old-time manner which bids fair to provide as great an interest in inter-fraternity as inter-collegiate basketball. Ech five was lacking in smooth team work, duc no doubt, to the small amount of practice they had in preparation for the contest. Both teams developed flashes of championship spirit under the cheering of the spectators, and if anybody looked good on the two teams it was Seybold for the S. A. E.'s and Walker for the Deme's. Both men are centers and members of the Freshman class. Pete Rooney shot five out of six fouls and then one out of three. Walker and Tingley in the first half failed to take advantage of the eight fouls committed against them. In the second period Foxall showed up better than did Bellack, who did the S. A. E. tossing. The teams on the whole were well matched and more practice will see some very good material developed from the clubs.

Between the periods of the first game the Non-Frats and the Phi Thets Sigma runners got under way and showed a bit of team work. In the first half the Non-Frats got away with a seven-point lead after Rob, a Freshman, was put in. Captain Treadwell's men scored 17 points to the 7 captured by the Phi Sigs in the second period. Miller scored well for the Non-Frats in the last fifteen minutes, dropping five two-counters through the net at intervals frequent enough to dmnpen the spirit of "come back" which the opposition endeavored to stage.

The tallys for the game are as follows.

S. A. E.		DEME'S
Williams	f	Weaver
(Bellack)	f	(Ross)
Rooney	f	Foxall
Seybold	c	Walker
Dory	g	Tingley
Holsing	g	Beers

Field goals—Walker 3, Tingley 1, Beers 2, Williams 2, Rooney 2, Seybold 3; foul goals—Walker 1 out of 3, Foxall 3 out of 7, Tingley 0 out of 3, Rooney 5 out of 9, Bellack 1 out of 6.

NON-FRATS		PHI SIGS
Brown	f	Heironimus
(Hemp)	f
Copenhaver	f	Gandy
(Wood)	f	(Reiter)
Coe	c	Jolly
Kline	g	Yiengst
(Hemp)	f
Miller	g	Taylor
Robb.	g

Field goals—Coe 3, Kline 2, Miller 5, Robb 2, Heironimus 3, Jolly 1. Foul goals—Miller 7 out of 15. Heironimus 2 out of 7, Jolly 1 out of1, Yiengst 2 out of 4.

PERTINENT POINTS OF THE GAME

A few fussers ventured across the campus and enlivened the gallery.

Sig Alphs blossomed out in brand new jerseys of purple body with letters in gold across the breast.

A fair-sized crowd of spectators filled the chairs and the benches.

Captain Treadwell of the Non-Frats hossed from the side lines.

The spirit in the Gym gives us ground to predict a season of intense isterest for the inter-fraternity games.

Beta Kappa Psi made its first appearance on the interfraternity floor last Wednesday evening, against Lambda Chi Alpha, losing by a 24-11 score. The game was cinched from the start, Lambda Chi drawing first blood and following by consistent team work and good shooting.

BUCKNELL LYCEUM ENJOYS MEETING

"TINY" HASEN STARS IN TWO ROMANTIC EPISODES BEFORE LARGE AUDIENCE.

On last Wednesday afternoon the Bucknell Lyceum held a very interesting meeting at which about seventy students were present. The program was one of an entire social nature and an atmosphere of real fun prevailed. It is seldom that the students get an opportunity to get together outside of their respective groups and it was an opportunity that all who took advantage of thoroughly enjoyed.

The presentation of "The Three Bears" was given with "Tiny" Hasen as the "little wee bear." We can all imagine "Tiny" as the little bear and with her voice to match it certainly was a scream. Laughter flowed freely during this number. "Curly" Lawson then rendered several ditties accompanying himself on the banjo. They were very well given and appreciated by all. "Tiny" Hasen was again featured in a mock opera scene from Romeo and Juliet. "Tiny" had to keep up her established reputation and she certainly did. The crowd was then divided in half in a contest to see which sides could think of the most slang expressions in ten minutes. The king's English was murdered. One side thought of about eighty ann the other about fifty. Anything from "Where do you get that stuff," to "Stand back, you'll get your money," was used. Sue Post then gave a reading entitled "The Courtier." It was well acted out and showed marked ability. The afternoon closed with the singing of several popular airs and was one of real fun.

The next meeting will be held this Wednesday afternoon when an afternoon will be spent with Rudyard Kipling. The whole school is invited and it is hoped that a large number will avail themselves of this opportunity.

MAY PETERSON SCORES BIG HIT

May Peterson, the first of the artists presented in the course by Mu Phi Epsilon, delighted and captivated a very large audience last Friday evening at the Baptist church.

The soprano has made herself known as one of the most gracious and winsome of the younger singers before the public, both in concert and at the Metropolitan.

Her voice is beyond reproach in warmth, beauty and technique, and is always on pitch, a virtue of few singers. Style, irreproachable taste and finish, combined with great musicianship, impart to every phase of her work a delicate distinction and great artistry.

One of the charming things about her concert was the description she gave before her songs. It seemed to bring her audience closer and gave them a more personal feeling towards the singer.

Credit is certainly due Stuart Ross for his finished accompaniaments.

It is hoped that Miss Peterson will return for another engagement.

A. E. F. PICTURES

A catalog of the official A. E. F. photographs, taken by the signal corps, is now on file in the library. It contains a list of 75,000 photos, indexed as to persons, places, military units and subjects. Men who saw service overseas will find the volume of value in selecting photos of their foreign experiences.

VARSITY LOSES TWO GAMES ON LAST TRIP

Wins From Franklin and Marshall But Goes Down In Defeat Before The Fast Temple and Swarthmore Cage Teams

The varsity basketball team won but one of its three games on its trip, this from F. & M. by a score of 20 to 14. The other two games went against us, the Temple game by a close margin of 27 to 24, and the Swarthmore game by a larger margin of 21 to 11.

The team's defence on all occasions proved strong, our weakness being in the offense, the forwards being weak in advancing the ball, as well as in shooting.

F. & M. GAME

The first half of the game was close, with Bucknell having the advantage thru Bihl's excellent foul shooting. "Vic" caging 7 out of 10 this half; while his opponent got but 5 out of 11. Wren made the only field goal of the half just before the whistle blew. The score at the end of the period being, Bucknell 9, F. & M., 5.

The second half saw Wilsbach substituted for Dinn and Dayhoff for Julian. Both teams kept up their work of the first half in the scoring line, each playing a defensive game. Each team scored two field goals, Wren and Dayhoff contributing ours. Bihl again got 7 out of 10 fouls. Dinn went back in the game at the middle of the half, replacing Wilsbach. Just before the whistle blew, F. & M. caged a goal, making the final score 20 to 14 in our favor.

The lineup:

Bucknell		F. & M.
Dietrich	g	Williams
Bihl	g	Garvey
Dinn	c	Madison
Wren	f	Weaver
Julian	f	Housman

Substitutions—Bucknell: Dayhoff for Julian; Wilsbach for Dinn; Dinn for Wilsbach; F. & M.: Waugaman for Madison; Madison for Garvey; Groff for Housman; Savage for Groff; Housman for Savage. Field goals—Wren 2, Dayhoff 1, Weaver 2. Fouls—Bihl 14 out of 20, Madison 10 out of 20. Referee: White. Scorer, Reamer.

THE TEMPLE GAME

The team played its best game of the season here, and well deserved a victory, because of the brand of ball shown. Temple, however, has a strong team, and was in tip-top shape. The game was anybody's until the last ten minutes, when Temple shot in the lead with three field goals, and was never overtaken although the Orange and Blue staged a strong fight. Bihl scored our first 7 points on 5 fouls and a goal from field. Temple held us even with two field goals and three fouls. Temple took the lead on two fouls, but Dietrich's field goal tied matters up. Bihl's two fouls, and a field goal by temple kept the score even at 11. Each team scored a foul, and Temple took the lead with a field goal. Dayhoff's field goal made it tie at 14, and Bihl's foul put us one point in the lead, when the half ended.

The second half went much as the first 7 minutes, Wren scoring a field goal and "Vic" a foul. Temple scored two fouls and caged one two-pointer, making it even at 18. Temple then shot in the lead with two goals from field and a foul. The Lewisburg quintette fought hard, but were unable to overtake their opponents, their best being to cut down the five-point to a three-point lead. The game ended, Temple 27, Bucknell 24.

The lineup:

Bucknell		Temple
Dietrich	g	Grey
Bihl	g	Herzog
Dinn	c	Griffin
Dayhoff	f	O'Brien
Wren	f	Macpeak

Substitutions—Gross for Herzog, Hughes for Grey. Field goals—Wren, Dinn, Dayhoff, Bihl, Dietrich, O'Brien 4, Macpeak 3, Griffin, Herzog. Fouls—Bihl, 12 out of 20; O'Brien 12 out of 14. Referee, Emory. Scorer, Reamer.

THE SWARTHMORE GAME

The team displayed its poorest brand of basketball in this game, being unable to break thru the opposing offense with any amount of success, and being forced to resort to long shots, few of which were to any advantage.

Our team played ragged ball the first half, scoring but 4 points, on field goals, by Bihl and Dayhoff. "Vic" missed the only foul which we had to shoot. The opposing team, meanwhile, ran wild, getting 6 field goals, and 3 out of 11 fouls. The score at the end of the half was Swarthmore 15, Bucknell 4.

The second half saw quite an improvement in the playing of the Orange and Blue. The defense tightened, Swarthmore scoring but one goal from field. Our defense was too weak to overtake the opponents lead. We scored two field goals and three fouls. The game ended with Swarthmore on the long end, 21 to 11.

The lineup:

Bucknell		Swarthmore
Dietrich	g	Larkin
Bihl	g	Yarnall
Dinn	c	Benjamin
Dayhoff	f	Kemp
Wren	f	Place

Substitutions—Julian for Dayhoff. Field goals—Bihl 3 out of 7, Dietrich, Benjamin 6 out of 13, Place 1 out of 4. Referee Nicholai. Scorer, Reamer.

Notes of the Games

Bihl shot 8 straight fouls against Temple in the first half.

Many Bucknellians attended the Temple game, among whom were R. K. Bell '20, Weber '20, Bitner '21, Helen Bodine '20, Ethyle Culbert '20, G. W. Lees '20, C. A. Zeller '21, Margarette Fowler ex'23, Reynolds Elliott ex'18, and Robert Grone ex'23.

FORUMS ENTERTAIN

On Saturday evening, the Gamma Lambda Sigma fraternity entertained a number of its friends in other fraternities at a dance given in the chapter house, with an excellent orchestra furnishing the music. Guests from other fraternities were as follows: Richard Mason, Kappa Sigma; Robert Lepperd, Sigma Chi; Samuel H. Rickard and George J. B. Schuyler, Phi Gamma Delta; Allan Haus, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; and William S. Johnson, Phi Kappa Psi. Dancing lasted from 8 to 12, and a number of out-of-town girls were present. The dance was chaperoned by Dr. and Mrs. Breisch.

B

LOST BOTH GAMES

The Freshman basketball team made a two-day trip to northern Pennsylvania, playing Wyoming Seminary and Nanticoke high school, but losing both games.

MET WITH ACCIDENT

On Saturday morning last Miss Elizabeth Peffer of the class of 1924 met with an accident while coasting on the college hill. The recent snow and subsequent thawing and freezing had made ideal coasting and a large crowd of enthusiasts were taking advantage of this opportunity to enjoy the sport. The smooth condition of the hill made steering a very much more difficult task than ordinarily, so that when the sled on which Miss Peffer was coasting turned toward a tree she was not able to change its course. The full force of the blow was fortunately turned aside, so that the side of the head and right shoulder received the worst injury. Miss Peffer was immediately carried into the home of Dr. Hunt and a physician sent for. She was soon revived and after a thorough examination the physician gave assurance that no serious injury had been sustained.

CONDITION IMPROVED

The condition of Dr. John Howard Harris, who underwent an operation at the Geisinger hospital at Danville last Wednesday is very good, and steadily improving, according to the latest reports that have been received. Dr. Harris was taken to the hospital last Tuesday, and was operated upon the following day. Due to his age, cocaine was injected instead of the application of ether being made. Dr. Harris came out of the operation very well, and immediately began to improve. He is remaining at the hospital only at the insistence of the physicians. Reports yesterday indicated that he is now well on the road to health.

SHERWOOD EDDY TO COME HERE

FAMOUS COLLEGE WORKER WILL VISIT BUCKNELL FOR THREE DAYS IN MARCH.

To those Bucknell students who attended the Student Volunteer Convention in Des Moines last year, the announcement of the coming of Sherwood Eddy to this University will be received with great pleasure.

Arrangements have been made for Mr. Eddy to be at Bucknell for three days, March 8th to 10th. Previous to the Des Moines Convention he was engaged as one of the leaders in a nation-wide campaign of evangelization for China and he came from this work with truly an inspiring message for the student body of America. Those who were interested in the recent visit of Dr. Foster will look forward to his coming with more than usual interest.

Sherwood Eddy has just returned from a campaign among the students of Europe and the Near East. He made a special study of the social and industrial problem in Europe during the present unrest. He has held conferences with students of the University of Berlin, and studied present conditions in Germany and Austria. He was with the Poles in their last stand before Warsaw, flew with their flying squadron, and studied conditions among the Bolshevik prisoners. He conducted the first student conference ever held in Czechoslovakia, and made two journeys through Turkey in the midst of the present strife between Nationalists, Armenians and Greeks.

In Egypt the attendance at his meetings rose from twenty-five hundred a night in Cairo where two theaters were filled every night, to over six thousand a night in Assuit. After entering the industrial centers of the Balkans and Italy, and the devastated areas of France and Belgium,

OLD OFFICERS ELECTED AGAIN

On Monday night Matilda Bell, '21, who has served so well during the past term, was re-elected to the office of Student Ex. president.

Nominations for the executive board had been made, as was the custom, by the nominating board, composed of the various class presidents and the president and vice-president of Student Government. All was set for the election of these nominees on Wednesday night, when to the surprise of many, and to the astonishment of the present "student exes," a motion was made to re-elect the present board.

After some discussion, which was mostly "pro" it was decided that the girls who acted as "chiefs" during the past term should continue. This idea of serving two terms is an entirely new one, having never been done since Student Government has existed at Bucknell. Therefore, this would show that the present "student exes" are indeed popular ones and should be highly complimented by the honor which the student body has conferred upon them. The Board consists of Matilda, Bell, '21, president, Emily Devine '21, Emma Fuller '21, Emma Kunkle '22, Elizabeth Couffer '22 and Marjorie Nichols '23.

NOTICE

All men wishing to try out for the position of assistant editor of the Bucknellian must hand in their names in to George Schuyler at the Phi Gamma house before January 20.

1922 L'AGENDA UNDER FACULTY SUPERVISION

JUNIOR CLASS ANNUAL WILL BECOME REAL COLLEGE BOOK

ALL CLASSES MAY RUN PHOTOS

Plan Now Arranged Whereby Sophomores and Freshmen May Appear In Individual Pictures This Year.

The business manager of the Nineteen twenty-two L'Agenda wishes to announce through the columns of the Bucknellian that the 1922 L'Agenda will be under faculty supervision.

All moneys collected have been and will be deposited in the Lewisburg National Bank in the Student Activities fund of which fund Professor M. L. Drum is trustee. No money will be disposed without the consent of Professor Drum.

The 1922 L'Agenda has been placed on this status by the management in an effort to put the L'Agenda management in a different light in the eyes of the student body. Heretofore the L'Agenda has been more or less of a gamble with the management usually credited with making untold hundreds of dollars out of the business transacted, when such was not the case. To avoid such a conception of the L'Agenda business, a statement will be issued at regular intervals showing the money collected and disbursed and also bills still owing with a separate itemized account of bills not collected, in an effort to promote prompt payment of bills to the L'Agenda management.

The management and faculty advisor hope that the open treatment of the business affairs of the 1922 L'Agenda will put the book and its affairs in a different light in the college life than it has been heretofore.

Don't forget to boost your college year book which is your only record of a year of intimate relation with all your fellow students. A year to be remembered when college life is set aside for sterner things.

An effort to make the annual a college book issued by the Juniors instead of the Junior book issued by the Juniors is also the aim of the present management.

This will be made possible with only a small expense to each undergraduate. When their photographs are taken by some local photographer two ($2.00) dollars will be deposited by the student with the photographer, one of which will go to the photographer, and one to the management for the engraving and paneling for the book. Special prices will be given the student on all pictures ordered.

It is hoped by the management that all Sophomore and Freshmen will seriously consider the movement on the part of the management to make L'Agenda THE college year book, and cut out and sign and return the blank below to H. D. Kyttle at the Kappa Sigma house or to Miss Seelinger at the Seminary.

I will or will not have my picture taken for the purpose of appearing in the Nineteen twenty-two L'Agenda.

CO-EDS TRY BASKETBALL

Basketball has begun, not only at Tustin "gym," but in the Women's College as well, for every day finds the girls' "gym" filled with aspirants for the various class teams which will begin their contests in the near future in Tustin gym. Keen rivalry is being manifested and each team vows they will put the other "on the gallis."

Last season the class of '23 came out as victors, and following them as a close second came the class of '21, and next, the class of '22, while the class of '20—well, they are no longer with us.

Freshies and Sophs are out in great numbers, and unless the Juniors and Seniors become alert to the situation the "green ones" will doubtless show them "who's who" in basketball.

Miss Virginia Walton, physical director, is working with the various teams, so some good games may be looked forward to.

THE McDERMOTT FUND

No worthier cause has ever been brought before the student body than the plan to help Francis P. McDermott in his hour of trial and illness, and while no student has been ordered, or shall be asked, to give one cent to help "Mac," it is understood that a goodly sum has already been subscribed. If any student has not already enjoyed the privilege of contributing his share in this cause, he may do so to any of the members of Senior Council, or to President Mason of the Seninor class .

The very fact that "Mac" sustained the injuries which now incapacitate him, in the interest of the University should be taken into consideration by the student body. As "Lindy" pointed out in chapel, "Mac" has always been known as a fighter, and is also a wearer of the coveted Distinguished Service Cross for unusual heroism displayed under fire. "Mac" also used his powerful fighting spirit in winning games for the University, and his presence on the line on the football team, or in the field or at bat in baseball season bolstered up the courage of his teammates, and earned him a name of great respect among his opponents.

With this issue, a copy of the Bucknellian will be sent to "Mac" every week, so that he may keep in touch with the school for which he has worked so hard.

WORTHY COMMUNICATIONS FROM BUCKNELL UNDERGRADUATES AND ALUMNI WILL BE PRINTED IN THIS COLUMN IF PROPERLY SIGNED AND SENT TO THE EDITOR.

STILL GOING STRONG

I am sure that the following from a Youngstown paper would interest the readers of your noble sheet:

"One real star of the American League team is their captain, Mathewson. There is not a think about baseball that this man can not do. He is a accurate passer, a sure shot at the bat, and a power on defense. Matty also ranks with the best basketball players seen in this city. The Giants are fortunate to have landed a player of his caliber. He is a welcome addition to the ranks of the basketball players of Youngstown."

TO THE WINNERS

We extend a cordial invitation to the winning team of the basketball tournament to a "feed" on the night of the last game of the series.

May the best team win.

Signed,

SHERWOOD EDDY
From Page One

He made a special study of the labor problem in England during the coal strike, and attended the Trade Union Congress at Portsmouth, meeting the principal labor leaders, employers, and young intellectuals of England. He brings a message concerning the present industrial crisis in Europe, a possible solution for America's industrial problem, and the basis of a new social order. Few men of our time have had such an opportunity to study both the student situation and the industrial problem in Europe, Asia and America.

ONE MORE ISSUE

There will be one more issue of the Bucknellian before the midyear examinations.

INTERFRAT GAMES
From Page One

Aleshouckas was "in form" and equipped with a nose-guard and leather bit to keep him from biting his opponents, played a whirlwind game. On the other hand, Henry Mussinia lead his team in starring. Caudrich made both field goals for Beta Kappa Psi.

Beta Kappa Psi		Lambda Chi
Caudrich	g	Martin
Wolfe	g	Carlson
Geist	c	Larson
Mussinia, H.,	f	Aleshouckas
Mussinia, M.	f	Caldwell

Substitutions—Patton for Martin. Goals from field—Aleshoukas 3, Caldwell 2, Larson 1, Carlson 1, Geist 1, Caudrick 2.

On Thursday night three more games were played in the Tustin gym. "Doc" Gerhart was on hand as referee and his calling decision was mighty good. The first game was between the Phi Kappa Psi's and the Kappa Sigs. The game started off with the Kappa Sigs on top but they were not able to hold the lead. Poor passing and muffs on both sides marked the first game for each team. Bunting was good on caging fouls and also did some clever floor work. The game grew close at the end of the first half and ended with a ten-nine score and the Phi Psi's in the lead. The game ended 24-20 in their favor. Hahn and Hoffa played the best game for the Kappa Sigs while Bunting and Henning featured for Phi Kappa Psi. Bunting caged 14 out of 19 fouls. The lineups were:

Kappa Sigma		Phi Kappa Psi
Crozier	f	Henning
(Jones)	f
Mohler	f	Gray
Morgan	c	Smith
(Hahn)	c
Hahn	g	Bunting
(Arnold)	g
Hoffa	g	Morret

The second game was the most exciting and the greatest surprise of any yet played. The S. A. E.'s played the Sigs and the game was exciting from beginning to end. The great teamwork of the S.A.E. team was able to defeat the individual playing of the Sigs. The Sigs were man to man superior but they could not overcome the marvelous team play of the S. A. E.s. The crowd was on its feet and yelling throughout the entire game. The S. A. E.'s took the lead at the beginning, were never headed, and near the close of the first half there was some wonderful basketball exhibited. Seybold played some fast ball and Woodring did most of the effective playing for the Sigs. The first half ended 15-7 in favor of the S. A. E. team. In the second half the Sigs had numerous tries for baskets but few were effective. Bellac played a fast and clean game and Rooney also contributed to the S. A. E. score. The last few minutes of play were slow.

Bellac proved himself a good foul shooter by only missing one try. He caged 6 out of 7 tries. Townsend for the Sigs caged 4 out of 7 tries. The game ended in a 23-15 score in favor of the S. A. E. The lineups:

S. A. E.		Sigma Chi
Bellac	f	Mangan
Rooney	f	Townsend
Seybold	c	Dorriz
		(Wagner)
Holsing	g	Mathieson
Dorey	g	Woodring

The last game was between the Phi Gams and the Forums, the Forums winning in the last few minutes by a score of 20-16. There was a lack of teamwork on both sides, and the Phi Gams lost out because no member of their team could shoot fouls. The lineup was as follows:

Phi Gamma Delta		Forum
Deffibaugh	f	Butler
Koch	f	DeCoursey
(Beckley)	f
Brandt	c	Wolfe
Reed	g	Fry
Eaton	g	Gehret

DATE SET FOR "COLLEGE GIRLS"

Are you going to "College Girls?" Boys, get ready, because the annual reception, givenby the fair ones to the male sex, is to be held February 18 at the Women's College. Various means and manners of entertaining were discussed by the co-eds, but "College Girls," as it is familiarly called, was thought perhaps the most elevating for college women or men. So when "she" asks you to be present at the solemn occasion, the idea that you do not like a "Prince Albert" or "Tuxedo" will not necessitate your saying "no," for, as in the last three years, the reception is to be informal. Various committees are working on the affair and doubtless it will be as great, if not a greater success, than it has been in previous years.

The Modern Prodigal Son

Would have been found cleaning spittoons after money and friends had vanished together. For it is obvious that the dirtiest, filthiest, and most degrading job today is wallowing in the mire of the human hog with a long handled brush. Since the days of Sir Pipe Face Raleigh our friend Porker has been outclassed by his human competitors, and has buried his snout in shame. The College Inn employs no Prodigal Sons and out of respect for all concerned we detest the presence of that abominable target of the filthy weed marksmen.

This advertisement is in part answer to the question why we gave the filthy weed the full count, why we favor a policy of segregation from eating places, and is of necessity garbed in the language of the gutter as befits its loathsome character.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

MYSTERY OF GIRLS EARS

Woman's crowning glory, her hair, receives at her hands the very best care. Every up-to-date girl prides herself on her tresses and how she wears them. The young lady of today is particularly fond of those little bunches of hair with which she conceals her ears. However, the ear muffs that Miss Flapper-age wears now are nothing new. History relates that they were part of the headdress of the French lady of the Restoration Period. Her coiffure was crowned with an amazing edifice of curls, combs and lace. Now, in modern times, the hearty laughter that is accorded the witty wordings about ear puffs, et cetera, screened in the popular "Topics of the Day," films, is evidence of the general interest in the subject of hair dressing. Whether or not you, dear reader, are interested in how the girls wear their hair, the Bucknellian feels sure that your laughter at the following paragraphs will penetrate even ear puffs:

NEWS ITEM—The crushes on the Selby cars at 6 p. m. are getting to be something awful. Last night a woman was so jostled that one of her ears became uncovered.—St. Paul News.

It is our masculine notion that fashion might compromise and let the girls wear one ear each.—Toledo Blade.

The way they dress now, some of the girls show about everything but their ears and their judgment.—Ohio State Journal.

Perhaps it is to disprove the saying "little children should be seen and not heard" that modern girls decree their "little ears shall hear but not be seen."—Rutgers.

There, little ear puff, don't you cry, you'll be a bustle, bye and bye.—Syracuse Herald.

"Will side whiskers ever come in fashion again?" asks a reader. Ans. "They're in fashion now. The girls are wearing 'em over their ears."—Regina, (Sask.) Post.

A donkey has two great, big ears, and keeps them standing in the air. I think a girl's a donkey too, who covers hers with wads of hair.—North Adams, (Mass.) Herald.

It is all right for a girl to imprison her ears under her hair, but she ought to let them out sometimes for exercise.—Galveston News.

"I notice Susie's wearing her hair a la Robert." "How's that?" "Bobbed."—N. Y. U. Alumnus.

"I'm sure crazy about my gal's puffs." "Wear her hair pretty?" "Nix; cigarette smoker."—The Sun Dial.

"Speaking of ears, of course, you know why they've been keeping 'em covered." "Yes! Why?"—N. Y. Daily News.

EMBREY-HARRIS

At four o'clock on Friday afternoon, December 31, the wedding of Mis Ruth E. Embrey, '16, and Stanley Newton Harris, '18, was solemnized at her home, 213 Virginia Ave., Mt. Washington, Pittsburgh. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Chas. Embrey, father of the bride, assisted by Dr. John H. Harris, father of the groom. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Dr. M. C. Embrey, '15, and attended by her sister, Miss Martha Louise Embrey. James Pardon Harris, of Wilkes Barre, acted as best man. Preceding the ceremony Miss Jane E. Embrey, another sister, sang, "Oh, Promise Me," accompanied by Ernest E. Welles, of State College, who also played the wedding march.

The bride wore a white taffeta gown and tulle veil and carried a shower of white roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore a grey taffeta gown and carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris will make their home in Phillipi, West Virginia, where Mr. Harris is a member of the faculty of Broaddus College.

Among those present at the wedding was Karl K. Halley, '18, of Phillipi, West, Va.

A NEW SYSTEM

A new system of class admission will be in vogue with the opening of the second semester on February 1. Heretofore it has been the custom for students to obtain class admission cards from the Registrar's office and present same in their respective classes. No class admission cards will be issued to the student, but a list of students in each class will be presented to the professor in charge. Students are advised to verify their schedules so there will be no confusion when classes open on February first.

GLEE CLUB TRIP PROVED SUCCESSFUL

The single feature which distinguished the recent ten-day trip of the Bucknell Glee Club from all other trips, was the manner in which the men put across the series of concerts in the absence of Prof. Paul Stolz, the director of the club, who was unable to accompany the men on the trip. Fired with their usual enthusiasm, the men, under the able leadership of Ralph Hartz, manager of the club, staged ten successful concerts in nine towns in the northern counties of the state. Manager Hartz, in the absense of the regular director, assumed that position, and filled both it and his own place as soloist and tenor in the quartette in a highly satisfactory manner. Much credit is due every man who made the trip, and especially to Manager Hartz for his part for the way in which they entered into the work. It was the first time in Glee Club history at Bucknell that the club has opened on a tour without a member of the faculty accompanying them.

The factors contributing most greatly to the success of the concerts were the cooperation shown by the men and the spirit of responsibility exhibited. Each one seemed to realize that it was up to him to do his utmost to make things run smoothly in the absence of Prof. Stolz, and that he must at all times enter into the work at hand with a will. The morale of the men was also excellent, for, while the trip was beset with difficulties, such as poor traveling accommodations, getting up early to make train connections and so on, there was not a murmur of discontent. Their being well-fed at all times doubtless had a great deal to do with keeping up the morale.

That the concerts were successful is given added proof of a different nature when the letters of appreciation which have been received by the manager are taken into consideration. Letters of praise have been received from various towns, and praise is both for the excellence of the concert work and for the excellence of behavior on the part of the men. Many return concert dates for next year were booked as a result of the trip.

At Port Allegany, the members of the club took entire charge of the Sunday evening union services, in the Methodist church, after which a sacred concert was given.

Another feature of the work of the club, which is carried out on every trip, was the securing of names of prospective students for Bucknell. The club is one of the best advertising mediums at the disposal of the University, as it is ever talking up the University and urging high school students to come here. The club did not fail in this department of its work on the recent trip. In fact, taken all in all, the recent trip was among the most successful in the history of the organization.

PLEDGES GIVE SIGS DANCE

On Friday evening, January 14, from nine to three, the pledges of Kappa Chapter of Sigma Chi entertained the active chapter with a dance noteworthy for several features, namely, decorations, the lunch the splendid music by Diffy's College Five, and the appearance of Miss May Peterson. Mis Peterson sang a few folk lore songs and told an interesting story. Her marvelous voice and attractive personality made her instantly liked by everyone.

The decorating scheme was that of blue. Throughout the house was hung artistically cut blue crepe. The same effect was continued by subduing the lights with the same material. A lunch consisting of magnolia flavored ice cream and golden cake covered with icing of the same magnolia blue completing a decorating scheme such as is seldom seen at a function of this kind. As to the music, the fact that Diffy's was at its best is sufficient. The affair was chaperoned by Mrs. Albert W. Johnson. Arda Bowser and "Tommy" Christly were the guests.

Great Rivalry Shown In Sigma Chi—Phi Psi Game Last Week, With Five Prospective Games Yet To Be Played

Delta Sigma staged a walk-over against Phi Theta Sigma last Monday evening, scoring 31 to 5. The game started promptly and for the first half looked interesting. In the second half, however, the Demies came back with a vengeance, securing nineteen points and holding their opponents scoreless. Delta Sigma used good, consistent team work, Foxall, Ross and Walker each finding the basket several times. Walker and Landis shot fouls and Tingley's passing was commendable. Terring Heironimus, tearing about the floor, tore down every point for Phi Theta

The Non-Fraternity giants ran away with Lambda Chi Alpha on Monday evening in the most spectacular game of the season by a score of 21 to 15. Hard, fast playing prevailed on both sides, the Non-Fraternity men, however, showing the better team work. Miller proved himself a wildcat in floor work and foul shooting. Treadwell played his usual clever, good-natured game, leading in field goals, while "Milt" Coe towered above all possible guarding. Caldwell lead the Lambda Chi's in field goals, Aleshouchas having left his horse-shoe under the spreading chestnut tree for repairs. In foul shooting, however, Alex scored five out of nine attempts while Miller scored four out of eight. Four substitutes finished the Non-Frat game. The audience was large and appreciative.

Wednesday evening saw two closely-watched contests. In the first of these the Forum won from Beta Kappa Psi 15 to 10. The game was rather loosely played, lots of dribbling and fouling prevailing. Butler and Wolf, for the Forum and Long and the Mussina brothers for Beta Kappa Psi, succeeded in disturbing the basket. The game was won by the spectacular foul shooting of Fry, who caged eleven balls out of 16 attempts.

In the second game of Wednesday evening the Kappa Sigs snatched 16 points against the Phi Gam's 14. In the first period of this indoor football classic, Purnell fell against the cage and sustained a cut on the scalp which retired him from the game. Plenty of individual stunts, poor passing and many fouls were registered on both sides. Mohler, Morgan and Hoffa won for Kappa Sig by their field goals, while Deffbaugh almost saved the day for Phi Gam by his consistent foul-shooting. A large number of Semites thronged the gallery to witness the contests.

MEET TUESDAY EVENINGS

Pan-Hellenic Council, at the Women's College, decided last week that beginning February 1, all sorority meetings will be held on Tuesday nights. Formerly meetings were spread out from Monday to Thursday, each sorority taking a separate night which made it rather inconvenient, due to the fact that whenever a lecture, game or something of the sort was held, one sorority was at a disadvantage. The idea of sorority meetings all on Tuesday evenings is doubtless a good one and will prove advantageous to the co-eds as well as the school in general.

D. S. C. MAN IS GAINING HEALTH

FRANCIS P. McDERMOTT NOT AS BAD AS REPORTED, AND IS RECOVERING RAPIDLY

As a result of repeated examinations and the most careful study of the results of these examinations, it is now definitely stated that Francis P. McDermott is not suffering from tuberculosis.

When McDermott was under observation and treatment last fall the indications were such as to justify the conclusion that the trouble was unquestionably tuberculosis, for, upon aspiration, a serous fluid was drained from the peural cavity, and this, according to accepted medical teaching, indicated tuberculosis.

Upon returning to his home, McDermott again went to a hospital for relief from his suffering. After most thorough examinations by a number of physicians in consultation it was concluded that tuberculosis was not present, and in order to determine the nature of the haze which appeared on the radiograph of the left lung below Baetger's Line, aspiration was again resorted to, this time with the accompaniament of flouroscopy, so that the size and shape of the cavity might be outlined while the trocar was used as a probe. The exploration resulted in the discovery of a sac of pus which had become encysted in the lung through the localized adhesions between the pleural and paretla pleura. This discovery was not only very encouraging, but it explained why the diagnosis at first was obscure.

A pulmonary specialist with army experience in the treatment of diseases of the lungs, to whom McDermott was to be sent for a confirmation of diagnosis, has reviewed the data resulting from the latest examinations and observations of the patient and concurs in the opinion of his physician now treating the case. He further states that the treatment and examination the patient is receiving compare favorably with what might be obtained at the most widely known clinics.

Upon learning of the intention of the student body to send Mac to a sanitarium, the surgeon who has him under his care, expressed great admiration for the spirit of the Bucknell students, and sent them this word: Tell them they are interested in a fine, real man in F. P. McDermott."

Mac writes thus: "Ten minutes after they had drained out the pus I was a changed boy. I now have no pain and no trouble to breathe. I have gained five pounds in ten days, and the doctor tells me that I am a well man."

It is gratifying to note the manner in which the student body responded in McDermott's case. Prof. C. A. Linderman has already received over $450.00 in cash subscriptions. This does not include the $100 voted by the Glee Club or the money raised in the Women's College. In addition to this, Diffy's College Five was planning to offer their services free for a college dance, the money from which was to go to help McDermott. It is thought that over $1,000 would have been raised, as the faculty subscriptions had not yet come in at that time.

RUMOR REPORTED

According to a rumor around the college this morning, which could not be verified because of the lateness of the hour, Arda C. Bowser, '23, was elected football captain for the coming year, and Victor Bihl, '23, for the year following. At the time of the regular football election, the ten letter men voted a tie for Bowser and Bihl, and the election was left to the Athletic Board.

VARSITY WINS GAME FROM GETTYSBURG

Battlefield College Passers Lose Out In Hard Contest Here When Two Bucknell Subs Run Wild In Basket Shooting

The Bucknell basketball team braced up after the two defeats of last week, and with two new men in the line-up, defeated Gettysburg in the local gym Saturday night by a score of 31-30. The two new men, Bunting and Searles, had a great deal to do with the close victory, and will probably receive regular places on the varsity. The game was the most exciting seen on the local floor in many years, as both teams were evenly matched, and the score of one team was never over three points in advance of the other. The winning point was made in the last minute of play, when the score was 30-30, and was made by Bunting, who shot a clean foul.

Bunting was the surprise of the evening. Put in as a substitute for Dietrich at the last moment, he made 13 out of the team's 31 points, single-handed. In spite of his disadvantage in size, he was all over the floor, and it was his foul shooting that saved the day for the home team. Searles, another man who had not played on the varsity before, shot three pretty baskets, although he was heavily guarded, and played such a whirlwind game that he was instrumental in helping in the scoring of the other members of the team. Dayhoff played an excellent passing game, but was rather unlucky in finding the basket. Bihl was a little off on his shooting, but his close guarding and wonderful work on the floor more than made up for it. Dinn, who worked hard, and gained the jump on his man, did some excellent all-'round playing.

For Gettysburg, Mundorf and Gantz proved to be a pair of fine forwards, working well together, and getting the majority of the field goals. Gingerich was unable to find the basket in the first half, but shot 9 out of 11 fouls in the second period. No substitutions were made in either team during the whole game.

It looked for a time as if Bucknell was going to lose the first home game in six years on her own floor, as Gettysburg came here with a record of five straight victories on foreign floors. Gettysburg had no trouble in defeating Temple at Philadelphia, while the local team lost to that school by a small margin two weeks ago.

Indications seem to point out that Coach Glass has picked a winning team at last, and that the present combination, with the aid of Dietrich, will go through the remainder of the season with better results than those made on the recent eastern trip.

The line-up was as follows:

Bucknell	Place	Goal	Foul	Points
Dayhoff	f	1	0	2
Searles	f	3	0	6
Dinn	c	2	0	4
Bunting	g	4	11	19
Totals		10	11	31

Gettysburg	Place	Goal	Foul	Points
Mundorf	f	2	0	4
Gantz	f	5	1	11
Miller	c	1	0	2
Zeigler	g	0	0	0
Gingerich	g	1	11	13
Totals		9	12	30

BANQUET GIVEN FOOTBALL MEN

The banquet tendered Bucknell's gridiron warriors last Monday night, at the home of President Hunt, was unique in many respects. In the first place, it was one of the largest banquets ever given a football team representing the Lewisburg institution.

About forty-five men were present, including the football squad, representatives of the faculty, of the alumni and of the coaching staff.

It was also the first time that ever a Bucknell football team was entertained by the president under the roof of his own home, and it was unique in that it did justice to a very hard schedule, scoring more points—244—than any Orange and Blue eleven since 1883, since which year no season has been completed in which the enemy has not invaded the home camp for a larger score than during the last season, when a total of only 37 points were yielded.

In the season's background stands a field goal of 57 yards—the record for the season—and it was made by a man who plays a unique game, and incidentally, who was recognized by the best writers of sports the country over, in their respective mythical elevens—Arda Bowser, who also kicked a field goal from each of the 43 and 41 yard marks, both of which were difficult angle boots.

Greetings were sent to Head Coach C. W. "Pete" Reynolds, who was unable to attend the banqet; also to Patrick F. McDermott, the scrappy end, recently released from the Gelsinger hospital at Danville, Pa., and to "Big Six Christy" Mathewson, Ace of baseballdom, King of the diamond and an alumnus of Bucknell.

ENTERTAINED PATRONESSES

Eta Sigma entertained its patronesses at a "movie party" on Tuesday night, and after it a luncheon was served at "Wainies." Misses Carey, Walton and Bolton, of the faculty, accompanied them.

CAP AND DAGGER PICKS NEW MEN

Last week the Capp and Dagger society held tryouts for new members. Nineteen men participated in the tryouts, of which eight were chosen. The society limits its membership to fifteen, but due to the fact that no tryouts were held last year, and since eight of the members had graduated during the past two years, it was necessary to choose eight new ones.

The following men were successful—F. H. Gibson, '23; A. L. Wheat, '23; S. H. Rickard, '23; W. A. Hoffman, '23; H. C. McGraw, '23; M. J. Stringer, '24; J. C. Koch, '23; and F. U. Davis, '23.

For the tryouts, parts were taken from the plays—"The Importance of Being Earnest," "Stop Thief," "It Pays to Advertise," "Officer 666," and "Why Smith Left Home." Each man was given two parts, one a character role and the other a straight role.

In choosing the men, their previous experience was taken into account. In grading the men, vocal expression could be rated at maximum, 20; face and body gesture, 20; stage manner and bearing, 10; diligence, ability and memory, 25; and impersonating, 25.

It is the intention of the society to present the next play early in May, when some of the new men will be given parts. The play has not as yet been chosen, but the society is considering several. The secretary will inform all the members when the next meeting is to take place.

BASKETBALL NOTICE

Hereafter, all students must present their athletic tickets for admission to basketball games. Those not doing so will be charged general admission. Reserved seats from No. 1 to 131 are in the balcony. All others are on the first floor, in the corner marked "Reserved." Friday night's game is with Allbright, whom Gettysburg recently defeated by one point, 29 to 28.

NEW STUDENT "EX" BOARD

A new "Student Ex" board has been elected, much to the relief of the last board, who, though they were grateful to the student body for doing them the honor of re-electing them, were not at all anxious to serve two consecutive terms. A student government meeting was held Tuesday night, at which time the case of the re-elected board was presented to the girls. As a result a new board was elected, which is composed of President Matilda Bell '21, Marjorie McCoy '21, Mary Reed '21, Anna Althuse '22, Esther Fleming '22 and Louise Hood '23.

1922 L'AGENDA MAKING PROGRESS

FEATURE SECTION COMING A-LONG WELL. FEW REPLIES IN FROM UNDERCLASSMEN

The work of editing this year's college annual—the 1922 L'Agenda—is moving along nicely, and slowly the material for what looks like the best annual that has appeared at Bucknell for years is growing into some kind of shape. The members of the staff are hard at work and no efforts are being spared to make the book live up to the reputation that it is said to have in store for it. The book will be bigger this year, too, as plans are being made for it to contain 300 pages of good college material, including the whole university. Every phase of college life will be touched, and if any suggestions can be made to enrich the various departments of the publications, they will be gladly received by the board.

One of the features of the book will be the new Cameo plate view section containing a number of entirely new views on and about the campus. Some of them will be snow scenes of last season, which make superb photos for such an important section of the book. The pictures of the various phases of college life, including many of the fellows and girls in groups, will also have several pages devoted to it, and will prove one of the interesting features. You may be in the section yourself—you had better keep your eyes open, for the board has promised that there will be plenty of surprises when the book comes out. Aside from these feature pages, the usual "fussers" section will be very unusual. Two pages at least will be devoted to this part of college activities, and if necessary, this can be extended. Judging from the manner in which material has come in thus far, the extension will be necessary.

A majority of the individual write-ups for the Juniors have been completed, and they contain a wealth of literary effort, showing much originality and cleverness on the part of the authors and authoresses. The printing of the individual pictures of the Seniors will be carried out, giving them the distinction that rightly belongs to them as the leaders of college life. The plan to print the individual pictures of the Sophomore and Freshman classes is still undecided, as not enough of the questionaires have been returned to judge whether it will be worth while to work the idea. Every member of the underclasses should return the slip printed in last week's Bucknellian as soon as possible, so as not to delay the plan for the pages of the book.

The cover design for the book has been approved, and returned to the printers. This makes it so that it will not be so very late in the next semester when the completed cover will be ready for exhibition, and then the ordering of the book will be the next move. The cover design includes a view of one of the entrances to the campus arranged neatly in the center of the cover, and the words, "L'Agenda, 1922" arranged artistically above by one of the artists of the Baker-Jones-Hausauer Co., who are printing the book. The design for the running head of the pages has also been approved and returned to the printer.

PLANS ACCEPTED FOR TWO NEW BUILDINGS HERE

NEW ENGINEERING BUILDING AND ADDITION TO CHEMICAL LABORATORY

EXPECT TO COST OVER $130,000

Building Will Begin Soon With Prof. Burpee in Charge of All Construction Work—Approved by Board of Trustees

The vision of a bigger and better Bucknell University has now assumed tangible form. Action on several propositions was taken by the Board of Trustees of the University at its last meeting a short time ago. As a result, plans for an addition to one of the buildings and hte building of the first wing of another new one, were approved.

The addition which is to be built will be made to the chemical laboratory, and will be about one-half the size of the present building. It will be built on the east side of the laboratory, extending over the creek which flows past it at that point. The cost is estimated at $30,000. Work will be started in the spring, and the building will be open for use by next fall.

The other building to be raised will be placed on the "Hill" immediately across the street from the conservatory. It will, however, be but one wing of the building which when finished, will be known as the engineering building. The structure will face west, and the wing to be built will be the north wing. When complete, the engineering building will have a greater frontage than Old Main. The wing will cost in the neighborhood of $100,000, according to present estimates. It will serve as a home for the mechanical engineering department, which at present is sadly in need of better accommodations. This structure will also be complete in the fall.

The money for the financing of these two buildings will come from the Baptist Promotion Board, which recently succeeded in raising $60,000,000 for the purpose of bettering the conditions of those schools which are supported by the Baptist denomination. Bucknell University was included in a survey made to determine just which schools should receive shares of the money, and to will benefit, although to just what definite extent is not known at present.

The work will be in charge of Prof. Frank E. Burpee, head of the mechanical engineering department. Prof. Burpee will have entire charge of the work. Already he has ordered the materials for the buildings, so as to insure early spring delivery. That Prof. Burpee is well fitted to take charge of the undertaking is evidenced by the fact that he built both the East and West Colleges, as well as a number of the other buildings on the campus.

It is the belief of the Board of Trustees that the great growth of Bucknell University in the past few years is not an abnormal condition which will soon correct itself, but that it is an enlargement only preliminary to that which will yet occur. In line with this view, the Board is steadily working to the end not only to relieve the present congested conditions, but also to prepare for the coming influx of students. Plans for the future of Bucknell University indicate that the time is coming when the "Hill" will be the center of the campus, when East and West Colleges and Old Main will be the old buildings with newer, more modern structures filling the fields to the west. In fact, the plans are drawn. The money for expansion needs yet to be raised.

AWARDED PINS

Last week the Cap and Dagger society awarded the society's pin to seven of its members. This pin is awarded to a member of Cap and Dagger after he has given three years of service to the society. The pin given to the president is crowned with pearls. Francis F. Reames, '21, the present president, and H. LeRoy Heller, last year's president, each received the pearl set pins. Emory Diffendafer, '22, David Stewardson, '21, Sturgis Beers, '22, Hobart Evans, '21, and Frank Griffiths, '22, each received the plain pin.

BAD LIGHTING SYSTEM

Gettysburg athletic teams are not, as a rule, prone to offering alibis for a defeat. Their basketball quintette is no exception to the rule and when any criticisms are made by them relative to a game or to the conditions under which it was played it may be taken for granted that their remarks are not without some basis of fact.

Between the halves of Saturday night's game the Gettysburg men complained that the lighting system in the local cage is entirely inadequate and that it handicapped their playing to a considerable extent. The lighting, they claimed, is so poor that they could scarcely see the ball when it was tossed to them from either end of the floor, the dark background and the bad lighting forming a combination that made them fumble many passes.

The Dickinson team, which played here two weeks ago, also spoke of the inefficient lighting system and it is generally understood that Lehigh refused to play again in the local gymnasium for the same reason.

In view of all these protests, it would seem that the only thing to do is either improve the old lights or to install new ones. Perhaps steel reflectors would solve the problem; or again, it may be that the number of lights should be increased.

The trouble, whatever it may be should be remedied as soon as possible so that in future games, the Varsity and their various opponents may not be handicapped in this manner.

UNSPORTSMANLIKE ATTITUDE

The Bucknell tradition for sportsmanship is liable to suffer a severe setback if there are any more exhibitions like the one at the Gettysburg game Saturday evening. Liberal minded people are trying to excuse the fact that Bucknell students jeered at the Gettysburg player who was shooting the fouls in the last half of the game by saying that this breach of athletic etiquette was due largely to the excitement caused by the closeness of the contest. Yet there was absolutely no noise when a Bucknell man was shooting. A continued practice of such things will soon undo the school a bad reputation which will take years to live down.

WELCOME NEWS

Bucknell's enemies will read with pleasure the announcement that Phineas D. McDermott's illness is practically at an end. Everyone here wishes him the best of luck, and if he is as successful in his work as if those around him had done a great deal of good.

INTERFRAT GAMES

final score of 35 to 9 does not tell the weire tale. Discounting the weakness of the opposing team, S. A. E. played a game strange to behold. To the casual observer it looked like a crowd of men in purple jerseys all scrambling for the right to throw the ball into the air. It was with difficulty that "Doc" Gerhart preserved the dignity becoming his office. Bellack distinguished himself by a one hundred per cent. record in foul shooting.

The largest crowd of the interfraternity season assembled at the gym last Thursday evening to see the Phi Psi take over the Sigma Chis to the tune of 18-12. And they saw a real basketball game. They saw clever passing, dogged guarding and some good shots. The first half was an even game, Julian and Willsbach, and Dorris and Townsend each scoring. After the intermission the Phi Psi's came back strong and scored three goals. Bunting's foul shooting and Dorris' long shot in the first period were noteworthy. DeCourcey refereed the game.

BUCKNELL LYCEUM ENJOYS MEETING

The weekly meeting of the Bucknell Lyceum was held as usual last Wednesday afternoon in the Chapel, with a large number of students in attendance. The first number on the program was an extemporaneous expostulation on "Superstition." A great amount of personal experience was brought into this talk which made it very interesting. The next was a comic verse by Hattie Fertig, which pertained to a proposal and was very well rendered. Roy Stein then favored with a violin selection. All who have heard Roy before need no reminder of his excellent playing, and he was at his best in this selection. This was followed by another extemporaneous speech on whether or not compulsory chapel had been successful at Bucknell university. This was well given by Markwitz. This began a general discussion both pro and con, and everyone seemed to have an opinion regarding the way chapel was conducted. This terminated the meeting, which was a very profitable one to all.

On account of examinations there will be no meeting this week and the next meeting will be on Feb. 2, at the usual time in the Chapel. An afternoon will then be spent with James Whitcomb Riley.

MATHEWSON RECOVERING

After a long struggle against the ravages of tuberculosis, Christy Mathewson, '02, is now showing such improvement that he will be able in a day or so to leave his bed at the San Tomond Apartments, Saranac Lake, N. Y., and take to a reclining chair on the outside. His physician has informed him that he can stop in the routine of the cure.

"Big Six" was in a rather serious condition for some time, but he is now in good spirits. After a short time in the chair the big pitcher will be put on exercise, and, after that, if he progresses, he will become what is classed as an "arrested case."

C. E. A. DANCE

C. E. A., an organization composed of the co-eds, danced to the strains of "Duffy's College Five" in the Women's College Saturday night last. Many invited guests were present as well as Misses Fitch and Fowler, who acted as chaperones.

MATH CLUB MEETING

A large attendance enjoyed an interesting meeting of the Math club held last Monday evening. Two special features were presented. Alden Derk gave a clear and interesting explanation of the principle and use of the planimeter. Paul Malay described and explained a new instrument for the measurement of the volume of a cube.

The next meeting will be held February 14th.

Omar DeWald, '23, is visiting friends in Jersey Shore.

Carl Metz, '20, is visiting friends in Hazelton.

Thomas Umlauf and Walter Roos, members of last year's graduating class, visited their brother Sig Alphs over the week-end. Both men returned to their duties in Williamsport Monday.

The Modern Prodigal Son
Would have been found cleaning spittoons after money and friends had vanished together. For it is obvious that the dirtiest, filthiest, and most degrading job today is wallowing in the mire of the human hog with a long handled brush. Since the days of Sir Pipe Face Raleigh our friend Porker has been outclassed by his human competitors, and has buried his snout in shame. The College Inn employs no Prodigal Sons and out of respect for all concerned we detest the presence of that abominable target of the filthy weed marksmen.
This advertisement is in part answer to the question why we gave the filthy weed the full count, why we favor a policy of segregation from eating places, and is of necessity garbed in the language of the gutter as befits its loathsome character.

OTHER COLLEGES

ANNAPOLIS

Hazing has reached such a point at this institute as to cause the authorities to take drastic measures for its prevention. Several of the "plebes" have sent home complaints to their parents in an effort to be relieved of these outrages. At the present time, the "plebes" are confined in one building and the upper classes in another. It is expected that a few dismissals will result.

SWARTHMORE

The Fifty-First Founders' Day celebration was greatly marred by the announcement of the resignation of President Swain. Dr. Swain has fulfilled faithfully and very commendably the duties of the president of Swarthmore for the last twenty years, and it is with great regret that the student body of the college receives he news of his departure.

DEPAUW

The Student Council of Depauw University has expressed a decided disapproval of anything except organized class fights. "Resolutions were drawn up and signed by the president of the student body, saying 'indiscriminate class fighting is a form of hazing long out-grown in American college.'"

IOWA STATE

Two members of the Sophomore class have been expelled by the college authorities as a result of recent hazing.

MICHIGAN AG.

Steps are being taken to secure a new athletic field and stadium. A committee headed by the president and appointed by the State Board of Agriculture will investigate and select a site for the proposed field.

TEXAS STATE

The students of Texas State "I" own a factory in which everyone is given an opportunity to put in spare time. Automobile bodies, box cars and ready-made houses are products of this factory—as well as real men.

At a recent religious census taken among 2,000 students at the University of Chicago it was revealed that there was only one atheist, only two agnostics, and that more men go to church than women.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

HUMOROUS HOMEBREW HERESAY

Some of our thirsty citizens have embraced homebrewing as their favorite "indoor sport" since prohibition has become arbitrary. Just as was the case when automobiles first became the rage, the amateur brewer loves to spout about various experiences and experiments(?) with his outfit. The maxim that silence is golden has been over-run by babblings about golden brew. Ever on the job to reflect, in a jovial vein, the popular tastes and happenings, the press paragraphers and jokesmiths have concocted some 100 proof laugh stuff. When comic comments on home-made booze are shown on the screen in "Topics of the Day" films the spirit of mirth ripples through audiences in leading theatres. Just to show you, readers that our heart is in the right place, the Bucknellian is uncorking some of the best humorous homebrew hearsay for your refreshment:

WHEN you have made your first booze in the kitchen, pour a little in the sink. If it takes the enamel off it is ready to bottle.—Kansas City Star.

LITTLE drops of water, little raisins too—but Uncle Sam won't let us—tell you what the'll do.—Washington Herald.

Something Doing

Delegate: "Why is a case of homebrew bottles with corks being raised out like a convention of our fathers?"

Alternate: "I'll pass—"

Delegate: "Because they are all POP-pers."—Rutgers.

NO matter how trifling a man gets he is always willing to help his friend get rid of a bad bottle of liquor.—New Orleans Item.

LIPS that touch liquor shall never—be allowed in my cellar—New York Mail.

I feed my cow on hops, I give her raisins too; Oh boy, down with the cop, she makes me my home brew.—Washington Times.

Trouble Brew

FATHER, he is busy, fooling with home brew, with concoctions dizzy, he proceeds to stew. Mother is for pitchin' his stuff in the brook, she can't get in her kitchen, long enough to cook.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Farmer: "Would you like to buy a jug of cider?"

Tourist: "Well-er-is-it- ambitious and willing to work?"—New York Evening World.

IF you want something with a kick, try table meat.—Shreveport, (La.) Times.

HERE lies in peace Sylvester Stew. He learned to make his own home brew.—American Legion Weekly.

"ARE the farmers allowed to make cider since prohibition went into effect?"

"Surely, haven't you heard of the freedom of the press?"—Penn. Punch Bowl.

FEATURE OF PERMANANCE

The reception of the Faculty and Student Directory, which was published and placed before the students of Bucknell immediately after Christmas vacation, and the manifest need which the booklet fill in college life has led to the decision by the publishers, Davis and Floris, '22, to make the publication a yearly feature of Bucknell's university life.

Difficulty was experienced in having the directory printed and as a consequence the issue did not appear as early in the school year as the publishers intended it should, but plans are now being arranged so that the Directory for 1921-22 can be ready for distribution within three weeks after the opening of the first semester next fall. Many new departments are to be installed ro that at the Seminary, up the "Hill" or in the fraternity houses the Directory will be as indispensible as a study table.

Some of the things which will enhance the value of the book will be pictures of Bucknell, summary of 1920 football, summary of 1921 basketball, college songs and yells, data of college fraternities, local addresses of member sof the faculty, home and college addresses of all the students, and the student organizations to which they belong.

"TENNY" GET HITCHED

The marriage of Ursula, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Leeser, of Sunbury, to Alfred Tennyson Steininger, '21, was recently announced. The marriage took place in New York City on November 29, 1920. Mr. and Mrs. Steininger will make Lewisburg their place of residence.

AMERICA'S NEEDS

(Printed by Request of the U. S. Treasury Department.)

The economic necessities of America and the need for safeguarding the financial independence and safety of each individual citizen has determined the Treasury Department to continue the issue of Government Savings Securities throughout 1921, according to an announcement by Secretary of the Treasury Houston.

Those necessities, widely recognized among college men have also committed the Treasury to continuance and intensification of the work of the Savings Division of the Treasury in a broad campaign to make saving, and safe investment, a national habit.

The savings securities of the government, familiar in every household, will be augumented in 1921 by two new issues, a $1 Savings Stamp and a $25 registered Treasury Savings Certificate. In announcing the issue of these securities, Secretary Houston says:

"Two new Treasury savings securities will be issued during the coming year, a $1 Treasury Savings Stamp and a $25 Treasury Savings Certificate. The $1 stamp will be non-interest bearing, will be bright red in color, imprinted on a green tint, and will bear the portrait of Alexander Hamilton, the first Secretary of the Treasury. The $25 certificate will be similar in design and terms to the $100 and $1,000 Treasury Savings Certificates, which will also be offered in 1021, to mature January 1, 1926.

"The new securities will supply a $1 unit for saving and a registered Government security in the $25 denomination, which can be conveniently purchased through the accumulation of the $1 Treasury Savings Stamps. More important still, the new securities will complete a most attractive line of Government savings securities, the $1 stamp and the $25, $100 and $1,000 registered Treasury Savings Certificates, and thus place the Treasury Savings movement on a solid peace-time basis. The small denomination short time securities, the $5 War Savings Stamp, in a 1921 series, and the 25-cent Thrift Stamp, will also be offered during the coming year.

"Notwithstanding the reaction since the armistice from habits of saving, and the natural tendency during the past year to invest funds in Liberty bonds and Victory notes at current market prices, the demand for the savings securities has continued strong in many parts of the country. As the security markets become more settled, Treasury Savings securities, bearing interest at 4 per cent compounded quarterly, exempt from State and local taxes and from the normal Federal income tax, and redeemable substantially on demand, should prove increasingly attractive to the multitude of small investors.

With these considerations in mind, the Treasury is committed to the continued sale of Government savings securities, and feels that as time goes on continuous sales of savings securities over the counter, at postoffices and banks throughout the country, should play an increasingly important part in the current financing of the Government.

"To this end, the Treasury is also committed to the continuance of the work of the Savings Division, in Washington and in the several Federal Reserve districts. This organization endeavors to promote the popular purchase of Government Savings Securities; develops and protects the secondary market for Liberty bonds and Victory notes and other war issues of Government securities, and unites the efforts of all helpful agencies and movements, financial, industrial, educational, commercial and social, in a broad savings campaign to make permanent habits of saving and investment in United States Government securities. Its work along these lines will be intensified in 1921.

"The Treasury Savings Movement has already demonstrated its usefulness by its efforts to promote sound economic conditions throughout the country and disseminate sound economic doctrine. In fact, the work of the Savings Division this year, not only in promoting the sale of Government Savings Securities and in strengthing the secondary market for Liberty bonds, but in establishing wide-spread habits of thrift and saving, has been frequently recognized as meeting a great national need. That recognition has been strikingly emphasized by the requests of great national organizations that the savings work be continued and by their offers of active cooperation in the movement.

"The work of the Savings Division has been splendidly successful in the schools, with the children as well as with the leaders of educational thought in America. As a result, the committee of State Superintendents of public instruction, which has just met in Washington, has decided to urge every State Superintendent and Commissioner of Education to install thrift courses in every school and at the same time provide for the practice of the principles taught by offering means for sound investment.

"In responding to these demands the Savings Division will intensify during 1921 its campaign to spread broadcast the essential facts relative to wise savings and spending and investment and the continued development of new capital."

PLANS FOR JUNIOR WEEK

At a meeting of the Junior class held in the chapel last Friday preparatory plans for the annual Junior Week were discussed. No definite plans were decided upon, but the committees for the various activities were appointed by President Willis Ross. The committees will have some matters to decide soon, when more details can be given. The plans at present include a reception, smoker, and the annual Prom, with further events hinted at by those in charge. No definite report can be given until the committees have conferred with President Hunt and the Student Activity committee of the faculty. At the meeting Miss Mary Appleman was elected class poetess. President Ross announces the following committees:

Reception—L. W. Lawson, chairman, E. C. Crowl, W. Irvin, L. Stuntzner, R. Hartz, C. Hoffa, N. Appleton, H. Seaver, T. Stein, P. Campbell and J. Thompson.

Smoker—E. Miller, chairman, G. Short, E. Sisserson, J. Hughes, P. Bechtel, F. Keech, R. Estelow, L. Klingman, A. Klein, J. Case.

Prom—C. Diffendafer, W. S. Johnson, Geo. Mathieson, L. Worthington, J. G. Myerly, H. G. Florin, D. A. Dallman, I. C. Carlson, J. A. Brown, W. D. Galbraith

HELD FIRST INITIATION

Pennsylvania Alpha Chapter of Theta Alpha Phi, the national dramatic fraternity, held its first initiation on Wednesday, January 20, 1921. Eight candidates were initiated—Sturgis Beers '22, David Stevenson '21, Susanne Plummer '22, Ray Seaman '22, Amorita Sesinger '22, Jennie Burke '22, Clara Casner '21, and Emily Devine '21.

In order for a person to become eligible to be bid, he must have played two major or four minor parts in college plays. The charter members of the Bucknell chapter are Harry Warfel '20, Elthera Corson '21, H. LeRoy Heller '21, Martha Leiser '21, and Francis F. Reamer '21. Prof. Rassweiler, frater in facultate, was recently elected national vice president of the fraternity.

PROF. RHODES GIVES TALK

Friday night at the monthly meeting of the Electrical Engineering society, Prof. Rhodes gave an interesting talk on "The Advantages of Electrical Engineering." He pointed out some of the many things an engineer should train himself for, and their advantages. He closed his talk by emphasizing the fact that college is the place for a young engineer to develop his ingenuity and not depend on some other person for all his work.

This was followed by an illustrated lecture on the F. W. D. motor truck, giving in detail its advantage and construction.

These meetings are open to anyone wishing to come. There will be several interesting meetings in the future, including moving pictures and lectures. Watch the bulletin board for notices of these meetings.

Herbert Grice, '18, who is situated at Claymont, Del., paid his Phi Gamma Delta brothers a visit Sunday.

INTERFRATERNITY BASKETBALL GAMES BRING OUT CROWDS

FAST GAMES PLAYED LAST WEEK SHOW GREAT IMPROVEMENT

PHI KAPPA PSI HEADS LEAGUE

Great Rivalry Shown in Phi Psi—S. A. E. Game Last Week, With Other Contests of Quality In a Few Days.

The students and the faculty staged classroom contests during examination week and interfraternity basketball gave way to "mid-year's." However, on Monday evening preceding examinations two games were played. The Beta Kappa Psi team entered into their second game of the season with unlooked-for ability and won from the Non-Frats. The contest was full of surprises, the biggest being the score, which was 18-22. Long and Mussina brothers connected with the basket frequently enough to offset the good work of Treadwell and Miller for the Non-Frats.

Under the capable lead of Bucknell's bandmaster the Lambda Chi Alpha team succeeded in carrying off honors from the Forum five in a game of spirit and dash. Closely contesting the Lambda Chi men the Forum fought every minute of the game. The final whistle found the Forum team but a few points behind and going strong.

There was, however, great activity in Tustin gym during the week of February 1. Seven games of basketball were played in the inter-fraternity league and some of them proved interesting. Phi Kappa Psi played three games during the week without a defeat and were still able to retain the honor of a clean slate. They have plenty of material, have been playing a hard and fast game and are bidding strongly for the handsome cup that will be donated to the winning team. The Non-Fraternity team also has a mighty fast aggregation, having suffered but one defeat in the hands of Beta Kappa Psi. Much depends on the results of the game between these two teams. The S. A. E. team, which began the season by a series of victories, stands next in the list, but has recently suffered two defeats.

On Wednesday night the first game was between the Beta Kappa Psi team and the Phi Gamma Delta team. The Beta Psi team carried off the bacon with a one-point lead. The Phi Gams took the lead, scoring ten points before the Beta Psi team got under way. M. Mussina missed five tries at fouls and then Long began to do the foul shooting for that team. The Beta Psi team took a spurt but were unable to catch the Phi Gam team before the end of the first half, which ended with a 16-12 score. The Beta Psi team started the second half of the game with a rush and soon tied the score at 18. The game from there on was very exciting with first one team and then the other in the lead. The game ended in a 24-23 score with the Beta Kappa Psi team in the lead. Defflbaugh and Purnell played a fine game for the Phi Gams and did most of their scoring Defflbaugh shot 7 out of 10 foul goals. Long and the two Mussina boys played a crack game for the Beta Kappa Psi team. They were, however, weak on foul shooting, caging only 6 out of 17 fouls.

The second game was of a milder nature between the Sigs and the Delta Sigmas. The Sigs kept the scoring pretty much to themselves, winning by 21-8. The Sigs appeared in new uniforms and Treadwell took over the refereeing job. Woodring played an all-round game for the Sigs and contributed largely to their victory. The Sigs scored 13 points before the Demis were permitted to score. Ross threw a foul just before the whistle announced the end of the first half. At times the game tended to be a little rough.

Tingley caged 2 field goals and Rose shot 1 out of 3 fouls and Walker shot 3 out of 9 fouls for the Delta Sigma team. Jones and Woodring played a fine all-round game for the Sigs.

The game between the Phi Psi team and the S. A. E team held the center of interest. Neither of these teams had previously been beaten and it was looked on as a deciding game. A great deal of pep and en-

DEBATING LETTERS

It was decided last year to give letters to all men taking part in an intercollegiate debate. These letters have been secured, being a block "B" 4 inches by 3½ inches, with a small "D" alongside. Eight men won letters last year. They are D. H. Evans, '21; C. M. Emerick, '20; Finley Keech, '22; Robert Hartz, '21; Evan Ingram, '20; F. R. McGregor, '23; Walter Roos, '20; and G. W. Van Dyke, '20. Those who are in college now will receive their letters from F. F. Reamer.

OLIVER DENTON CHARMS AUDIENCE

FAMOUS PIANIST PLAYS BEFORE LARGE CROWD AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH

The second concert of a series of four, given under the auspices of the Mu Phi Epsilon sorority, was given by Oliver Denton on Thursday evening, February 3rd at the Baptist church. The high musical standard set by the first concert, given by May Peterson, was in evidence again on Thursday evening.

Mr. Denton at once charmed and delighted his audience with his clear, well-defined technique which gave him the greatest freedom in the interpretation of his program. His success with his audience was evidenced by the hearty applause which compelled him to give three encores.

Many people from the surrounding towns were present and the church was well filled. Those who have failed to attend these two concerts have surely missed two of the best musical treats that have been given here in many a day. Two more concerts still remain of this series. Rafaelo Diaz, a tenor of the Metropolitan Opera company, will give a recital on February 15th, and Thelma Given, a violinist, on March 3rd, will give the last of the series. Both of these musicians are of the highest rank and the music-loving public can not afford to miss them.

The Mu Phi Epsilon sorority of Bucknell university deserves a great deal of credit for undertaking the task of securing these musicians with the financial risk involved.

PHI PSI DANCE

Phi Kappa Psi entertained the university co-eds with a dance on Monday night, the 31st. The music furnished by "Eggie" Quinn's" Harmony Quartette, was very pleasing to the guests and to the many visitors. Miss Fowler and Mr. Ballist served in the capacity of chaperones.

CO-EDS FROLIC AT CAGE GAMES

Breathes there a "Semite with soul so dead,
Who ere to anyone hath said—
"I did not see the game Friday night"

On Friday night last the campus at Bucknell echoed with the shouts and shrieks of the "Semites" as they witnessed the games between the girls from the various women's buildings. Faculty and students filled the gym, all out to cheer on their teams.

The New "Machine Gunners," as they termed themselves, made New Building people proud of them as they conquered the Main "Sharp Shooters" by a score of 12-11. Wolf "Hounds" were defeated by Annex "Bums," the final score being 9-10.

It was good basketball, too, since the fair ones did not indulge in any hair-pulling, and there were no knock-outs. Boys' rules with girls' guarding rules was played, which added a great amount of "pep" to the game and at the same time prevented any so-called "rough house."

As to the game itself, Main "Sharp Shooters" had a hard time guarding Forwards Fuhrer and Scholl, as they caged basket after basket. Elva Horner did good work for "Main" until Emily Devine went in as guard and from then on she found it rather hard to locate the basket. The work of C. Conrad at guarding, Darl Davis, Main's snappy forward, and also the playing of Domsalski, Wunkerburg, Jack and Keough was worthy of mention.

The Annex "Bums" with L. Idlewlyn and R. Ruhl as forwards had no difficulty in piling up points for their

VARSITY WINS TWO GAMES IN HOME GYM

Defeats Franklin and Marshall In An Easy Contest But Has Trouble In Winning From Haps Benfer's Albright Passers

Running even with the Gettysburg game of the week in respect to being the most exciting game seen on our floor in years, was the Bucknell-Albright game of January 28th. Haps Benfer's five was defeated by a score of 28 to 23. The two biggest factors in defeating Albright were the five field goals by Dayhoff and the remarkable foul shooting of Bihl, he making 14 out of 17 tries. The opposing foul shooter, on the other hand, made 5 out of 16.

The scoring during the first half ran even, with the visitors ringing six goals from field, many of which were sensational shots, to our three. Our eight successful fouls to Albright's three made up for the difference caused by the field goals. All this half the score see-sawed back and forth with one or two points difference, and the half ended with the Orange and Blue on the short end of a 1 to 14 score.

The second half saw Coach Glass' men guarding closer and consistently breaking up their opponents' short passes. At the same time, Searles got going, ringing two pretty field goals, while Dayhoff also contributed two and Bihl continued his foul shooting, making all six chances good. Wilsbach, making his first appearance at center on the home floor, continued his excellent work of the first half, aiding greatly in getting the jump and in retrieving the ball under the baskets. With Bihl and Dietrich putting up their usual bang-up game at guard, Albright could cage but three baskets this half. As a result, the Bucknell quintette nosed their fast opponents out.

Albright was by no means an easy team, but rather the contrary, presenting a team strong in both defense and offense, as well as possessing speed. Our team, in defeating them, played real basketball and deserved the hard-fough victory. For a time it appeared that the Albright five would spoil our record of no defeat on our home floor since 1917.

FRANKLIN AND MARSHALL

An easy victory was gained over the Franklin and Marshall basketball five on our floor Saturday night, 22 to 12. Aided by the pretty passing of Dayhoff and Searles, Wilsbach caged four baskets the first half. Dayhoff contributed two, Searles and Bihl each one. The superior guarding of Bihl and Dietrich prevented the visitors from getting a single basket this half. Besides the eight baskets made this half, four fouls made by Bihl added to the score. As a result of the fast floor work of the Orange and Blue, the score stood 20 to 5 at the end of the period in Bucknell's favor.

To start the second half, George Cockill, who had charge of the team in Coach Glass' absence, substituted Dinn for Wilsbach and Bunting for Bihl. This combination continued the scoring of the first half, Dinn and Bunting caging two two-pointers each and Searles one two-pointer and two fouls. The visitors succeeded in finding the basket, but only to the extent of two baskets. Towards the end of the half, Julian was substituted for Searles and Miller for Dayhoff.

YOUNG PEOPLE GET TOGETHER

Thirty student members of the Baptist congregation were entertained Saturday evening at an informal dinner at the church. Representatives of the various fraternity and non-fraternity groups of the college were present.

After the dinner, Pastor William J. Peacock briefly explained the purpose of the meeting. It was, he said, an effort to formulate a program which would bring the young people's work of the church into accord with the general preparatory campaign for the coming of Sherwood Eddy.

After a general discussion it was decided to organize a young people's society to supplement the work now carried on by the Sunday school and the discussion groups. Officers were chosen to carry out the work of the organization.

The meetings of the Young People's society are set for Sunday evenings at 6:30. Other hours are being arranged for the various discussion groups.

Hayes L. Person, editor of last year's Bucknellian, and at present a member of the faculty of the Williamsport high school, visited his Delta Sigma brothers Sunday.

KAPPA SIGMA WINNERS

Kappa Sigma basketball five played the interclass champions of Susquehanna university on January 20, 1921, winning by a score of 26 to 24. Morgan, Hoffa and Hahn played a wonderful game for Kappa Sigma, while Susquehanna players held their own till the last minute of the game, when Hahn scored by placing two fouls for a victory for Kappa Sigma. Arnold and Crosier substituted. Manager Myerly reports a return game to be played February 8 in Tustin gym.

COMPETITION TO BEGIN THIS WEEK

CANDIDATES FOR POSITION OF ASSISTANT EDITOR WILL WORK OUT

Four men have already handed their names to the editor of the Bucknellian for consideration in the tryouts for the assistant editorship. February 12 will be the last day names will be received, and the competition will then start. The requisites for the position consist of good work in studies, a natural talent for composition work, a good, working knowledge of the English language and facility of expression.

The competition will be conducted in a new manner this year, according to plans worked out by Prof. L. L. Rockwell and the editor. Each man will be given reportorial assignments on the same topic, and the work will be compared. In addition to this, practice will be given in head writing, editorial writing, mechanical and technical newspaper work, and all other features which have to do with an editorial position. Later on these men will write their own copy, prepare it for publication, write heads for it, read proof on it and assign it a definite place in the make-up of the paper according to its news value. Several weeks will be spent in proofreading, and the matter of finding and selecting news will also be given proper consideration.

The men in the competition will be judged on all of the points mentioned above, and the one receiving the highest average will receive the position of assistant editor. The other men will also receive positions on the staff, such as exchange editor and associate editor. This contest is open only to members of the Sophomore class, and a similar one will be conducted shortly by the business manager to determine next year's assistant. All Sophomores who are journalistically inclined are urged to try out and make the competition a real one.

BASEBALL SCHEDULE IS ANNOUNCED

The 1921 baseball schedule has been completed and was announced by Manager Johnson last week. It is by far the best schedule that has appeared at Bucknell in years. Twenty-two games are called for, nine of them to be played on the local diamond. Included in the list are some of the best college baseball teams in the East. Among them are Swarthmore, Pitt., Carnegie Tech., and Penn State. One of the striking features is the opening game with Gettysburg, scheduled for April 7th, an extremely early date for this section of the country.

Quite a blow was delivered to baseball here recently when Calhoun, varsity outfielder for two years and captain-elect for the coming season, announced that he would not return to school. However, with four letter men as a nucleus, the prospects for a winning team are bright.

The schedule follows

April 7—Gettysburg at Lewisburg.
April 13—Delaware at Lewisburg.
April 22—Lebanon Valley at Lewisburg.
April 27—Duquesne at Lewisburg.
April 30—Dickinson at Lewisburg.
May 5—Open game.
May 6—Swarthmore at Swarthmore.
May 7—Lebanon Valley at Annville.
May 11—Saint Vincents at Latrobe.
May 12—Pittsburgh University at Pittsburgh.
May 13—Carnegie Tech. at Pittsburg.
May 14—Duquesne at Pittsburgh.

DEATH CLAIMS PROFESSOR HOWARD

Professor Mortimer Howard of the music department, died at 4:30 Sunday afternoon at the home of C. P. Lippet, where he has been residing during his stay at Lewisburg. Death was caused by a stroke of apoplexy. He returned from his teaching Friday afternoon feeling all right and sustained the stroke Friday evening. His strength continued to decrease till the end on Sunday afternoon.

Professor Howard, who was born in Springfield, Mass., came here from Halifax, Canada. Previous to his work in Halifax, where he taught in a small college, Professor Howard sang in the First Presbyterian church in Pittsburgh, for a number of years. Following this, he succeeded Evan Williams, the noted tenor, in the quartette-choir of the Marble Collegiate church of New York City. After ten years' service in the Marble Collegiate church, he sang in Boston for six years and when his health failed, he went to Halifax for a few years.

Professor Howard was a man of some fifty odd years, which were filled with extensive travel. He received his musical education in New

ORANGE AND BLUE JOINS NEW STATE ATHLETIC LEAGUE

ACCEPTS MEMBERSHIP IN TWO ORGANIZATIONS FOR PENN. STATE INSTITUTIONS

C. E. GLASS ELECTED TO OFFICE

Conference Will be Similar to Famous Western League, and Will Take Eight Pennsylvania Colleges.

The following self-explanatory notice was taken from yesterday's Public Ledger, and gives promise of better sporting possibilities among the various Pennsylvania colleges:

"Representatives from eight Pennsylvania colleges met here this afternoon and organized two collegiate athletic bodies, both of which will decide by competitive games, championships in each sport. The first to be organized was the Central Pennsylvania Collegiate Track Conference. Later, six of the eight colleges constituting charter members of the track body went into session and revived the old Central Pennsylvania Collegiate Basketball League.

The first meeting was called to order by F. E. Craver, director of physical education at Dickinson college, who issued the call for the conference. Mr. Craver was made temporary chairman and D. R. Leathers, director of physical education at Gettysburg college, was made temporary secretary. On permanent organization Mr. Craven was elected president of the new track body and Mr. Leathers vice-president and C. E. Glass of Bucknell, secretary-treasurer.

The following colleges are represented: Albright—H. A. Boner; Bucknell—C. E. Glass; Dickinson—F. E. Craven; Gettysburg—D. R. Leathers; Juniata—J. C. Steese; Lebanon Valley—P. F. Wagner; Muhlenburg—G. F. Affenbach and A. C. Fasig; Susquehanna—C. G. Adams and J. B. Harmon. The executive committee will be composed of the three elective officers and Messrs Wagner and Affenbach.

The new organization will hold an annual track and field meet, and selected Harrisburg and Memorial Day as the place and date for this year's competition. It was not decided to make this city or Memorial Day as the permanent place or date for the championship event, but the general opinion that this city, being central for all the colleges, no better place could be selected. Also a majority favored Memorial Day as a permanent date. These questions, however, will be decided later, as there was a sentiment in favor of holding the meeting at one of the colleges, if such college financed the meet.

V. Grant Rorer, superintendent of the Department of Parks and Public Property of Harrisburg, was introduced to the meeting by President Craver. Mr. Rorer assured the association that the citizens of Harrisburg would not only welcome the holding of a track and field championship meet here annually, but that such a meet would be financed by the citizens to the extent of providing all medals, officials, etc. The meets here will take place on the island, on which there is a large, well-kept track.

The committee to draft a constitution and bylaws for the track conference body is composed of Messrs. Craver, Wagner and Leathers.

The list of events for all championship meets will consist of the regulation number and kind, save that of the hammer-throw.

The latter was eliminated and the discus substituted in its stead. The javelin throw was discussed, but voted down.

The association voted to limit the number of contestants from each college to the number of point places, which was set at four. In point scoring, first place will count five, second place three, third place two and fourth place one point.

The association voted to make student enrollment the qualification for the admission of new members by passing a resolution that any college seeking admission to the conference must not have more than 500 male students. It is the desire of the new organization to have Haverford, Franklin and Marshall, Ursinus, Drexel institute and other institu-

A GREAT TRIBUTE

In a recent issue of the Literary Digest appeared an article which was a great tribute to Christy Mathewson, a Bucknell graduate and the most famous of her athletes. This article says that baseball supermen rise from time to time to the pinnacle of baseball fame but eventually sink into obscurity. Only one great player has been able to retain, in practically undiminished measure, his place as a popular hero in the minds of the fans. That player is Christy Mathewson, the famous pitcher. He is in a class by himself, occupying a niche in baseball no other man ever did, and probably never will. Matty is more than a pitcher. He is a clean, right-living man. That is the reason for his great popularity.

"Matty" is now at Saranac Lake, having a hard fight with death itself in the form of tuberculosis. The affection in which he is held was demonstrated at Christmas time by the fans still applauding him in the form of cards bearing words of encouragement. Cards poured in from men of all walks of life, testifying to the sincere admiration and sympathy of the fans. What a great tribute to "Matty" and how proud the college should be and is of this great athlete and man who calls her his Alma Mater! Our sincere admiration and sympathy goes out to him in his great fight.

B

THE TRACK CONFEERNCE

The solons of eight Pennsylvania colleges went into executive session at Harrisburg and the result of said session was a brand-new association which is to be known by the somewhat impairing title of "The Central Pennsylvania Collegiate Track Conference."

Very few of the Undergraduates were aware of the fact that any such organization was contemplated, so coming, as it does, out of a clear sky, it is rather difficult to get the conscious of opinion as to the degree of enthusiasm with which the idea should be received.

Personally, however, we believe that a Track Conference should be of inestimable value in raising the standard of this branch of athletics. If any college is faced with the problem of making a creditabel showing in a meet such as the proposed annual Memorial Day affair, it is a moral certainty that it will spare no efforts in bringing out and developing all available tlent. Furthermore, real interest and concern would take the place of the more or less perfunctory support which has hitherto been given to Track.

In other words, Track, as any other sport, must possess a certain degree of permanence and a background of tradition to enjoy the unqualified support of the student body. A year or two of regular annual meets with natural rivals will do far more towards putting Track on a par with other athletics than dozens of season punctuated with occasional meets of the sporadic, cat-as-catch-can variety.

We sincerely trust that all events held under the auspices of the Conference will be characterized by clean-cut sportsmanship and purely friendly rivalry. Intercollegiate athletics are a good only as long as they are based upon mutual good-will and greet.

This present, there are few finer things.

A RESOLUTION

At a recent meeting of the Senior Council the following resolution was passed upon motion:

"The Senior Council, as representatives of the undergraduate body, is mindful of the fact that Benjamin F. Thomas has endeared himself personally to all who have come to know him best while he has lately been connected with the University as Registrar.

"In testimony of this fact, the Council directs that copies of this resolution be sent to Professor Thomas, to "Alumni Monthly," and to the 'Bucknellian.'" thusiasm was exhibited by both sides. The Phi Psis started their scoring early in the game and had scored heavily before the S. A. E. team got under way. Rooney started their scoring by making a pretty shot from the middle of the floor. He scored another pretty shot later with his back to the basket, throwing the ball over his head. The first half ended with the Phi Psi team in the lead and the score 16-6. Phi Kappa Psi had a wonderful playing combination while the S. A. E.'s lacked their former great attack and offensive. The Phi Psis had numerous tries for foul goals, due to the roughness on the opposing team's part. Henning played a wonderful game during the latter part of the second half, scoring field goal after field goal. The game ended victoriously for the Phi Kappa Psi team, the score being 24-12.

INTERFRAT GAMES

On Thursday night the Phi Psi team defeated the Forum team by the overwhelming score of 41-8. The whole Phi Psi team played nice ball as a unit and their team work from the tap-off was very good. The Forums played a hard game but were no match for the fast Phi Psi combination. The first half ended in an 18-6 score. During the second half the Forums succeeded in scoring only 2 points. Lapp and Smith went into the game at the end of the first half and again in the second half with 5 minutes still to play. Henning played a wonderful game, and Wren and Julian also played fast ball. Morrett surprised the crowd by caging three field goals in succession. Derr and Hopler were put in in place of Julian and DeCoursey, who were taken from the game. The game ended with a 41-8 score. DeCoursey and Geheret played a fine game for the Forums and did most of their scoring. Fry caged 4 out of 8 fouls while Julian caged 3 out of the same number of tries.

The second game of the evening was between the Non-Fraternity team and the S. A. E.'s. The teams were evenly matched and this made the game fast and exciting, although at times a little rough. The Non-Frats started with a rush and scored 7 points before the S. A. E.'s first tally. They then tied the score at 7 points, again at 9 and still again at 10. The first half ended with the S. A. E. team having a slight lead, the score being 12-10. Miller started the second half by tying the score. Horan and Miller played a fine game, Horan proving himself one of the fastest floor men ever seen in the interfraternity league. Rooney played a consistent game for the S. A. E.'s. The game ended with the Non-Fraternity men in the lead of a 22-18 score. Horan shot 5 out of 8 foul goals, while Bellae shot 4 out of 6 tries.

On Saturday afternoon the Phi Psi team met and defeated the Phi Gam team. The Phi Gams did not endanger the Phi Psis to a great extent but playing a hard, clean game. The score at the end of the first half was 20-10 with the Phi Psis in the lead. Numerous substitutions were made in the Phi Psi lineup and Lauster made his debut on the basketball floor. Henning, Julian and Wren did the Phi Psi scoring and Purnell and Beckley did the scoring for the Phi Gams. Henning again was the individual star of the game. The final score was 41-29.

The Modern Prodigal Son

Would have been found cleaning spittoons after money and friends had vanished together. For it is obvious that the dirtiest, filthiest, and most degrading job today is wallowing in the mire of the human hog with a long handled brush. Since the days of Sir Pipe Face Raleigh our friend Porker has been outclassed by his human competitors, and has buried his snout in shame. The College Inn employs no Prodigal Sons and out of respect for all concerned we detest the presence of that abominable target of the filthy weed marksmen.

This advertisement is in part answer to the question why we gave the filthy weed the full count, why we favor a policy of segregation from eating places, and is of necessity garbed in the language of the gutter as befits its loathsome character.

CONN. AGGIES

An interesting feature of bidding at the Conn. Agricultural College this year, including the manner in which the Freshmen will be pledged to the fraternities of their choice, is the adoption of a period of 24 hours of absolute silence between Freshmen and upperclassmen prior to the bidding. The purpose of this action is to think solemnly and quietly upon their choice without interference by upperclassmen.

INTERCOLLEGIATE JOURNAL

Editors of the Wellesley, Radcliffe and Vassar student journals are contemplating the idea of an intercollegiate magazine. The plans provide for a regular cooperative publication of the six colleges, Smith, Vassar, Holyoke, Radcliffe, Barnard and Wellesley. The editors felt that by combining the efforts of the six schools in a single publication, a journal of higher literary standard and broader scope would be possible.

PENN. COLLEGE LEAGUE

tions of the size and class become members. Invitations to Haverford and Franklin and Marshall to participate in the forming of the new body were sent them, but neither sent a representative.

Eligibility rules were discussed informally. No hard and fast set of rules was proposed. The trend of opinion, however, was that no prep school students, and no man with a degree should be eligible to compete. Of course no student will be allowed to compete more than four years. The text of the eligibility rules will be included in the draft of the by-laws.

Following immediately the completion of the track association meeting the basketball league was organized. All the colleges participated in the organization of this association save Dickinson and Gettysburg.

They both stated that, while they favored such an association, they had not been authorized to become members of a collegiate body. H. A. Benfer, director of athletics at Albright college, a graduate of that institution and one of the most wonderful all-around athletes of his day, was elected president of the Central Pennsylvania Collegiate Basketball League which is the official title of the new body. C. G. Alkens, of Susquehanna university, was elected vice-president and G. F. Affenbach, of Muhlenburg, was named secretary-treasurer.

The new basketball league decided to limit its membership to eight members. The six which participated in the organization are Lebanon Valley, Muhlenburg, Juniata, Albright, Bucknell and Susquehanna. The secretary was instructed to communicate with Dickinson and Gettysburg formally inviting them to enter as the seventh and eighth members. If the latter institutions are opposed to entering, two other members will be selected from several available colleges.

It was decided to have the executive committee composed of a representative from each college. The three officers were instructed to prepare a schedule of games for next season, make arrangements to assure competent officials and make a report to the league Memorial Day, the date set for the championship track and field meet in this city. The details of expenses, guarantees, eligibility, etc., will be worked out later. The general sentiment on eligibility rules was that those governing the track association should obtain as to basketball."

TOPICS OF THE DAY

OODLES OF OSCULATION

Kisses, like grapes, bananas and trouble, usually comes in bunches. After the first good-night to lovable Lucille they kiss and then linger longer for some more osculation. Truly, kisses come in oodles. At the birthday party, our young lovers carefully contrive to play "post office" and make ever so many "special deliveries." They stick together better than one of Uncle Sam's stamps adheres to a letter. When young engaged couples attend our national indoor amusement, the motion picture, they, and all others in the audience, enjoy the kiss jokes in "Topics of the Day" Films. After the wedding bells ring forth, kissing loses some of the "old-time flavor," and wife and hubby practice economy. This reminds us of the following newspaper headline that we read the other day—"Says Wife Wouldn't Give Him One Kis." Such stinginess seems hardly fair. Well, the Bucknellian is not so selfish in giving kiss jokes and presents some nice ones for you to pick a few tasty smacks.

Small girl: "Give me a bite of your candy, Jimmie."

Small boy: "No, but you may kiss me while my mouth's sticky."
—Atlanta Constitution.

Old Mother Goose—"Georgie, I hear that you kissed the girls and made them cry."

Georgie Porgy—"Aw shucks! They were just crying for more."—Montreal Star.

Tionette—"Why are kisses like grapes?" Tony—"I wonder!" Tionette—"Because they are best when you get them in bunches."—Rutgers.

He—"What woul you do if I should kiss you on the forehead?"
She—"I'd call you down."—Carolina Tar Baby.

The Grouch—"My wife's kisses are just like old maid's kisses."
Old Fogey—"Howzat?"
The Grouch—"No kick to 'em."—Vaudeville News.

Co—"Well, why don't you kiss me?"
Ed—"I was in doubt—"
Co—"Why not give me the benefit of it?"—Kansas Lawrentian.

Ada—"No man can kiss me by force."
Helen—"No, you're always willing."—Princeton Tiger.

He—"If I should kiss you, would it be petty larceny?"
She—"No, it would be grand!"—Columbia Jester.

Teacher—"Some terrible things can be caught from kissing."
Bobby—"Right! You out to see the poor fish my sister caught."—Cornell Widow.

Oh, mamma! There's a man in the nursery kissing the nurse!"
Mama dropped the sewing and rushed for the stairway.
"April Fool!" said Bobby gleefully. "It's only pa."—Wisconsin Foolscap.

BOARD WILL MEET

A meeting of the Athletic Board of the school will take place within a short time at Harrisburg. At that time the football captaincy for next year will be decided. The present result is a tie between Bibl and Bowser, both members of the Sophomore class.

The meeting of the board will be called as soon as the individual members have had sufficient time to consider a new form of constitution, which has been just recently drawn up.

VISITED FRIENDS HERE

George Morgan, of Nesquehoning, Pa., visited friends at the Gamma Lambda Sigma house over the week-end. Mr. Morgan was a student at the Bucknell academy during the first term of the year 1915. At present he is an assistant mine foreman for the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Co., stationed at Nesquehoning. While he was here he renewed many acquaintances he made during his stay at the academy.

HOLD FOUNDERS' DAY BANQUET

On Friday evening, January 28, Delta Sigma celebrated its Founders' Day with a program that included a banquet, speeches and a general good time. About a dozen Delta Sigma alumni were back to aid in the celebration. A larger number had been expected to return, but several were unexpectedly detained at home at the last moment. Those who did return, however, were well representative of the various classes that have been graduated since Delta Sigma's inception, as the numerals ranged from '02 to '20. The alumni who returned were L. J. Ulmer '02, W. Lee Sprout '10, C. W. Lotte and J. W. Rice '14, F. R. Hamlin '15, Herman Reich '17, T. J. S. Heim and H. L. Person '20, and Alvin Shaw, ex-'22. Dr. T. F. Hamblin was the guest of honor.

Formal festivities began at 7 o'clock, although the house had been more or less merry for some hours before. For perhaps an hour a royal banquet claimed the attention of the men, as was evidenced by the silence in the rooms. About 8:30, however, D. H. Evans arose and extended a welcome to the alumni, and introduced the toastmaster, C. S. Roush, '09. Mr. Roush introduced the speakeres of the evening, who were all the alumni and the following active class representatives: E. L. Kohler '21, W. H. Sugden '22, H. C. McGraw '23 and P. N. Walker '24. The program of speeches was interspersed with songs.

At the conclusion of the banquet the active chapter did its best to keep the Semites across the street awake by means of a jazz orchestra. Most of the men reached bed at a more or less early hour. This did not end matters, however, for the alumni who stayed over were entertained the next day.

MEETING WEDNESDAY

Last week no meeting of the Bucknell Lyceum was held. This was due to the fact that most of the students were just recovering from examinations and had had no time to spend in preparation of a program. It was therefore thought advisable to hold the meeting in which the afternoon will be spent with James Whitcomb Riley, this coming Wednesday, rather than last Wednesday. This should prove an interesting and valuable meeting and it is hoped that a good-sized crowd will turn out to help this worthy organization start the new semester right.

PHI PSIS HOLD LEAD IN LOCAL BASKETBALL GAMES

STAND FIRST IN LEAGUE WITH SIX VICTORIES AND NO DEFEATS

FRIENDLY RIVALRY IS SHOWN

Games to be Played This Week Will, In All Probability, Decide the Interfraternity Championship.

During the past week eight games of basketball were played in the Tustin gymnasium among the different fraternities to further decide the possession of the cup to be given to the winning team of the inter-fraternity league. The Phi Psis with five games still to play, maintain a clean slate. They have defeated six teams and are making a strong bid for the championship. The Non-Frats and Lambda Chis rank next with four victories and only one defeat. The defeat of the Lambda Chis came at the hands of the Non-Frats so the game between the Phi Psis and this team will in all probability decide who shall get the bacon.

The first game of Moday night was between the Lambda Chi team and that from the Delta Sigma house, the latter appearing on the floor with new uniforms. The teams were well matched and at the beginning of the game very little scoring was done. Six minutes of scoreless play had passed before Aleshouckas began the scoring with a field goal. Walker followed this by scoring for the Demies, and for the remainder of the half the score was a tie until just before the blowing of the whistle for the end of the half, when the Lambda Chis forged ahead by one goal, ending the period with a 7-5 score. The Lambda Chis further increased their lead early in the second half. As the game proceeded the playing became rough and the refereeing by Doc. Gerhart was not close. The game ended with a 16-10 victory for the Lambda Chi Alpha team, Walker and Ross did the scoring for the Delta Sigma team but Tingley assisted greatly with his floor work. Caldwell, Aleshouckas and Larson did the scoring for the victors. "Ales" caged 4 out of 8 tries for foul goals, while Walker succeeded in getting 2 out of six.

The second game was between the two new fraternities at Bucknell—Beta Kappa Psi and Phi Theta Sigma. The game was slow and lacking in excitement and fouls were quite frequent. The first half ended with a 9-3 score in favor of the Beta Psi team. The second half was started by Jolly scoring a field goal. Heironimus played the best game for Phi Theta Sigma. The Beta Psi's presented a well-balanced team and all played a good game Long and the two Mussina boys playing especially well. The game ended with the Beta Kappa Psis the victors of a 24-8 score.

The last game of the evening was a postponed game between the Kappa Sigma team and that of the Forums. Mohler opened the scoring and De Coursey followed by scoring a pretty one from under the trapeze. The game was fast as the teams were well matched. The Kappa Sigma team lacked ability to work the ball up under the basket. The Forum team played a wonderful game and did some fine shooting. The first period ended in a 15-5 score with Forum in the lead. The second half was hard and rough on the part of the Kappa Sigs. The Forums continued to outplay their rivals who were still unable to work the ball up the floor but shot from a distance. The Kappa Sigs improved the score near the last when they had a slight edge, although the Forums were never in danger as the score was not close. Every man on the Forum team played a high class game. The game ended in a Forum victory to the tune of 24-5. Mohler did most of the Kappa Sig scoring, while Davis, De Coursey and Wolfe held up that end for the Forum tems. Fry caged 3 out of 12 tries at fouls while Mohler only found 1 out of 5.

On Wednesday evening three more games were played. The first was a victory for the Non-Frats against the Forum team. Deitrick acted as referee in the absence of Doc. Gerhart. Ed. Mahoney made the first score of the evening, and followed with another from the tap-off. Gehret made the first score for the Forums with a pretty shot from past the middle of the floor. VOLUNTEERS WILL CONVENE

The sixteenth annual convention of Student Volunteers of Eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey will be held this year at Lafayette College, Easton, Pa., from February 25 to 27. The only expenses will be car fare and registration fee. Class cuts will be provided for. To those who attended the convention at Hunt. ingdon last year no recommendation is needed. New delegates can be assured a royal time. All who wish to go should hand their names to Miss Emma Kunkle at teh Women's College or to S. Perry Rogers at 47 West College. Fifteen delegates are allowed Bucknell.

TOWN ALUMNAE HOLD MEETING

CELEBRATE FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF FOUNDING OF LOCAL CLUB AT SEM.

A very large number of alumnae of Bucknell Institute and University convened at the Women's college on Tuesday evening, February 8th, in celebration of the 40th anniversary of the founding of the Alumnae Club of Lewisburg. The meeting was opened with a piano solo by Mary Reed '21.

It was altogether fitting that President Emeritus John Howard Harris should be present to address the club. The theme of Dr. Harris' address was the progress of Bucknell since he entered it in 1865, at which time Justin R. Loomis was president of the University. After graduation, Dr. Harris went to Keystone Academy and upon completion of twenty years' service there, he returned to Bucknell. A principle which he tried to instill into the institution was the principle of progress. "There is nothing in the world which can't be made better and which ought not to be made better." Dr. Harris was instrumental in getting the Board of Trustees to pass a resolution that every year there should be some advance. Speaking of football, the team of 1893 which defeated Cornell State and Lafayette, was declared the best.

Everyone was enthused by Dr. Harris' declaration that we ought to make Bucknell's Women's College the Bryn Mawr of central Pennsylvania, but he pointed out the fact that it cannot be done on a three-acre lot. A hundred acres would not be too much. Dr. Harris was lavish in his praise of the School of Music and said that there was nothing that contributed more to the spirit, advancement and good-will of the University than the School of Music. The opportunities to hear concerts brought here by the School of Music were many. "If I had enough money," said Dr. Harris, "I would first put it into the endowment of the School of Music and secondly into a building for the School of Music."

Following Dr. Harris' address, a trio composed of Mrs. Moyer, Miss Pines and Mrs. Blair, sang "Wake Miss Lindy."

All former presidents and founders of the club then formed a receiving line, after which refreshments were served.

TEAM BREAKS EVEN ON RECENT TRIP

Defeats Dickinson At Carlisle Without Much Trouble, But Loses Extra Period Game at Gettysburg By One Point

CHALLENGES GETTYSBURG TO THIRD GAME ON NEUTRAL FLOOR

Bucknell lost its hardest fought game of the season at Gettysburg on Saturday night in an extra period of five minutes, by a score of 29-28. With the calibre of ball played by the Orange and Blue on the small Gettysburg floor, a victory, instead of a defeat, was deserved. Those who witnessed the Bucknell-Gettysburg game on our floor, the score of which was 31 to 30 in our favor, would have witnessed an even greater battle had they seen this game. From the beginning, it could be seen that both teams were going at their best, and that the game would be a close one. Such a defeat can well be considered a victory, for the Gettysburg coach himself made the remark before the game that if Gettysburg did not defeat a team by five points on that floor, it was practically a defeat.

Because each team defeated the other on its own floor by one point, the Bucknell management challenged Gettysburg to a third game to be played on a neutral floor. Gettysburg has not yet answered the challenge.

The first half ended with the score 12 to 9 in Gettysburg's favor. Both teams were fighting hard, but the Orange and Blue had not yet become accustomed to the floor, the forwards being unable to locate the basket. Our points this half were as a result of a field goal and 5 fouls by Bihl and a field goal by Dayhoff.

Gettysburg started the second half with two field goals and a foul. The Bucknell tossers located the basket and made a spurt, scoring four field goals, tying it up at 17. From then on, until the last minute of the half things were nip and tuck. With thirty seconds to go and Gettysburg ahead, 26 to 24, "Vic" Bihl dribbled up the floor and shot the basket, tying the score. A second later the whistle for the end of the game blew. It was then necessary to play a five-minute extra period.

This five minutes saw some heart-breaking, hair-raising basketball. Bucknell scored first when Dietrich rung one in from the side. Over a minute passed, with no other score, both teams missing shots at the basket. A foul was called on Bucknell which the Gettysburg foul shooter made, leaving the Orange and Blue one point in the lead. After the next toss-up, Gettysburg worked the ball under the basket and scored. But a minute and a half was left for play in which time Bucknell had three shots roll around the basket, but fail to drop through. With the ball in Bucknell's possession under the basket, the whistle blew.

The line-up:

Bucknell	Place	Goal	Foul	Points
Dayhoff	f	3	0	6
Searles	f	1	0	2
Wilshach	f	2	0	4
Bihl	g	3	8	14
Dietrich	g	1	0	2
Totals		10	8	28
Gettysb'g	Place	Goal	Foul	Points
Mumford	f	4	8	8
Gantz	f	1	0	2
Miller	c	2	0	4
Gingerich	g	2	11	18
Zeigler	g	0	0	0
Totals		9	11	29

Referee Saul of Harrisburg. Fouls: Bihl 8 out of 15; Gingerich 11 out of 17.

Through its ability to break through Dickinson's five-man defence, the Bucknell basketball team defeated the Dickinson team at Carlisle, 25 to 20, on Friday night. Bihl was high scorer for Bucknell with 7 fouls and a field goal. Searles and Wilshach each had three two-pointers, while Dayhoff had two. Kreps, the captain of the opponents, was their star with five field goals.

BID DAY QUIET AT SEMINARY

Sorority "Bid Day," perhaps the biggest day in the life of the Freshman co-ed, was held on Saturday at the Women's college. Contrary to usual custom, all went on very quietly, the sororities remaining about the college all day. As usual, the bids were distributed early in the morning by Pan-Hellenic council and the reply received about 11 a. m. The "biddies" of the various sororities are:

PI BETA PHI—Florence Dare, Lillian Edmunds, Elizabeth Middleton, Kathryn Owens, Mildred Clower, Ruth Peck, Grace Peterson, Myrtle Sharp, Margaret Smith.

DELTA DELTA DELTA—Louise Bencheff, Margaret Everett, Lillian Greenland, Lola Hamblin, Ida Heller, Eleaner Little, Anna Heysham, Mary Lape, Mary Weiter, Ruth Weldenhamer.

ETA SIGMA—Dorothy Bissell, Eleanor Berry, Elva Horner, Geneva Gerlach, Margaret Holter, Mary Curry, Elizabeth Wurtenburg.

KAPPA DELTA—Helen Dunsmore, Adelaide King, Mary Llewelyn, Maggie Martin, Elizabeth Moore, Elizabeth Peifer, Ruth Raker, Martha Watkins, Emily VanDyke.

ZETA NU—Miriam Halderman, Mildred Houseman, Mildred McGann, Ruth Porter.

TEAM VISITS BATTLEFIELD

On Saturdya afternoon, before the Gettysburg game, the basketball team hired cars and guides and paid a visit to the battlefield of Gettysburg. Stops were made at points of special interest.

DEMONSTRATION OF LIQUID AIR

A very interesting lecture and demonstration on the properties and qualities of liquid air was given in the Chemical Laboratory by Dr. Brown last Friday evening. The lecture included a thorough demonstration of the various effects of liquid air on different substances. The chemical laboratory was crowded to the doors by those who wished to see the experiments with liquid air.

In the beginning of his lecture, Dr. Brown explained the process of making liquid air and told his audience that the liquid in his possession was equal in frigidity to 155 degrees below zero on the Centigrade scale, or approximately 250 degrees below zero on the Farenheit scale, with which we are more familiar.

The first experiment Dr. Brown performed was that of boiling liquid air on a cake of ice. He place a piece of beef-steak in the "air" and withdrawing it, showed his audience that it was frozen stiff. He then froze an egg, onion and potato. He explained that all the experiments gave the impression of extreme frigid condition and that the effect of liquid air always produces a phenomena of winter conditions. The effect of the "air" on different substances produced various results, ranging from a completely frozen flower to a piece of lead wire which attained elasticity from contact with the "air." Several demonstrations of liquid air were given in surrounding towns by students in the Chemistry department on Saturday.

DIAZ CONCERT POSTPONED

The recital of Rafaelo Diaz, which was scheduled for next Tuesday evening, February 15th, will not be given until the following evening, Wednesday, February 16th.

Mr. Diaz telegraphed that he could not appear in Lewisburg on the 15th owing to his contract with the Metropolitan Opera Co. The illness of Caruso makes it necessary for Mr. Diaz to appear in Philadelphia on the 15th with the Metropolitan Opera company, but it is assured that he will be in Lewisburg on the 16th.

It is hoped that all of the members of the student body will be on hand to hear this operatic star.

SHORT SKETCH OF SHERWOOD EDDY

ONE OF THE REALLY BIG MEN OF THE WORLD WILL SPEND THREE DAYS AT BUCKNELL

The coming of Sherwood Eddy to Bucknell, March the 3rd to 10th, will be a landmark in our history. We scarcely appreciate the value to us of the many big men who visit us from time to time. But Sherwood Eddy is more than a missionary, more than a traveller, more than a statesman. He is a man of world vision and positive opinion on world problems. His ability you may judge from the following biography.

Mr. Sherwood Eddy was graduated at Yale in 1891. He went to India in 1896 at his own charges. After fifteen years of work among the students of the Indian empire, he was called to be secretary for Asia for the International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Associations. Nine years of service in this capacity among the students and officials of India, China, Japan, the Near East and Russia have been characterized by the brillince, energy, judgement and devotion so singularly combined in this young statesman.

In 1912-1913 Mr. Eddy was engaged with Dr. John R. Mott in conducting meetings for students throughout Asia. In June, 1914, Mr. Eddy returned to China for an extended campaign among the student and official classes there. Notwithstanding the war, the audiences that year averaged 3,000 a night. In Hongkong, for instance, 4,000 students and business men attended, and it was necessary to hold three meetings in three successive hours in one of the largest theaters of the city to accommodate the crowd. The officials of China from the President and Vice-President down to the governors and local officials received Mr. Eddy, sometimes sending out official proclamations of the meetings. During the early years of the war, Mr. Eddy was with the British army in France, and during the closing year on the American British and French fronts. Since the armistice, his regular work has taken him across Asia, including Egypt, Palestine, Syria, Mesopotamia and Turkey, through the stricken countries of Europe, and around the world. His twenty-four years of service in lands abroad have fitte him to deal in truer perspective with the present world situation as a moral challenge to America.

In years filled with untiring activity, time has been found for useful authorship, beginning with his "Supreme Decision," there followed the books on "The Awakening of India," "The New Era in Asia," "The Students of Asia," "With Our Soldiers in France," "The Right to Fight," and his latest book, "Everybody's World," interpreting present conditions in Japan, China, India, the Near East and Russia, showing America's relation to present world problems.

Sherwood Eddy has just completed a tour through eighteen of the principal countries of Europe and the Near East. Leaving France after the Armistice, he completed a tour of the World, crossing Asia, Europe and America. He has made a special study of the social and industrial problem of these three continents. In Great Britain he interviewed representative employers, capitalists and labor leaders. He attended the Trade Union Congress at Portsmouth, and studied the labor situation in connection with the recent coal strike. He revisited the devastated areas of France, and the students of the ruined University of Louvain in Belgium. He made a special study of student conditions in Germany and Austria after the War, holding conferences with the students of the

ORANGE AND BLUE WINS GAME FROM SUSQUEHANNA

DOWN RIVER RIVALS UNABLE TO BEAT BUCKNELL'S FAST TOSSERS

SEARLES IS INDIVIDUAL STAR

Throws Seven Baskets When Varsity Holds Selinsgrove Five in One of Season's Best Cage Games.

Basketball of all sorts was displayed last Thursday on the Tustin gymnasium floor when Susquehanna succombed to Searles' superior shooting, 33 to 25. "Dutch," through the excellent work of his running mates, succeeded in making three more baskets than the rest of the team, which, however, was the result of clean, quick playing by every man. Execution of signals from the center position worked smoothly, the team playing in fine form, but repeatedly when Bucknell men were left free down the floor with the ball, baskets were missed. In fact, Searles dropped all of his seven goals from almost impossible positions and amid the greatest tangle of men.

Starting out with a dash, both teams were halted in their speed almost immediately after the opening whistle was blown, as Referee Taggert detected two fouls committed by Susquehanna, Bihl counted both of these. Immediately Ropewicz got going and out-reaching Wilshach tossed the ball directly over the head of the big center for a clean basket. He repeated this in the next minute and the game was on. Bucknell guarded more closely than did Susquehanna, and passed more accurately, but the foul shooting of Leidich was a notable factor for his team. He shot nine out of nine, missed one and shot two out of two.

Each of Bucknell's five counted at least once in the first period, Dayhoff rating two and Searles three. Susquehanna's center scored from the ring position in a beautiful shot just as the whistle blew for the end of the first twenty minutes.

At the resume of play Bucknell was but eight points in the lead. At the end of the game she was, also, just eight points ahead. To maintain this ratio she was called upon to show some excellent floor work, as at times Susquehanna crept to four, three and even two points behind.

It was in this period that basketball games with the university rivals of Selinsgrove took on a new note of importance. No more was a Bucknell man left down the floor with the ball for Captain Sweeney's attack was man for man. Covering up quickly, using the early years of the war, Mr. Eddy was with the British army in France, and during the closing year on the American British and French fronts. Since the armistice, his regular work has taken him across Asia, including Egypt, Palestine, Syria, Mesopotamia and Turkey, through the stricken countries of Europe, and around the world. His twenty-four years of service in lands abroad have fitte him to deal in truer perspective with the present world situation as a moral challenge to America.

In years filled with untiring activity, time has been found for useful authorship, beginning with his "Supreme Decision," there followed the books on "The Awakening of India," "The New Era in Asia," "The Students of Asia," "With Our Soldiers in France," "The Right to Fight," and his latest book, "Everybody's World," interpreting present conditions in Japan, China, India, the Near East and Russia, showing America's relation to present world problems.

Sherwood Eddy has just completed a tour through eighteen of the principal countries of Europe and the Near East. Leaving France after the Armistice, he completed a tour of the World, crossing Asia, Europe and America. He has made a special study of the social and industrial problem of these three continents. In Great Britain he interviewed representative employers, capitalists and labor leaders. He attended the Trade Union Congress at Portsmouth, and studied the labor situation in connection with the recent coal strike. He revisited the devastated areas of France, and the students of the ruined University of Louvain in Belgium. He made a special study of student conditions in Germany and Austria after the War, holding conferences with the students of the

SOME IMPORTANT QUESTIONS

In the catalogue on page 13 we read in paragraph four, "One of the rooms in West College is a hall for the use of the Young Men's Christian Association." The hall in West has been set aside for a reading room, but there are no magazines or reading material of any kind to be found there. Last year students about the Hill found it to their profit to drop into the "Y" room for there were to be found periodicals suiting every taste and need. Scientific magazines, sporting magazines, daily newspapers and the like were there, and were used by them. We do not know if the Y. M. C. A. cabinet is providing for the reading material or not. If they are, where are the results of the money expended? If they are not, why not? Such a room fills a real need and gives material manifestation of the Y. M. C. A. as an organization.

B

DO YOU KNOW HIM?

If you have never read that tale of college life entitled, "Petey Simons at Siwash," you can never understand all the humor and meaning of the life you're living. Of course you feel it, but you cannot interpret the spirit of these four years. A great author, upon reading the book remarked, "If I could write a book as humorously true to life as Petey Simons, I would consider myself a success." The story is particularly applicable to Bucknell. Read it, laugh over it, feel it, and we won't have to mention the need of school spirit.

VARSITY GAMES

The work of the Orange and Blue forwards in breaking through the opponent's defence, and the close guarding of Bihl and Dietrich, with Wilsbach getting the jump, proved all that was needed to gain the victory.

Two pretty baskets by Searles in the first few minutes of play gave Bucknell the lead, in which they were never overtaken. Baskets by Dayhoff and Wilsbach, and two fouls by Bihl, put the score at 10 to 1. Dickinson having secured a foul. After this, each team made five points, the half ending with Bucknell leading, 15 to 6.

In the second half Dickinson located the basket, making three baskets and a foul, putting the score at 15 to 13. Bihl's two fouls and Wilsbach's basket increased our lead. From then on, the orange and Blue was satisfied to play more of a guarding game, at the same time registering two fouls and two baskets, while Dickinson made seven points. The game ended at 25 to 20.

PLANS MADE FOR BIG EASTER TRIP

Plans for the Easter trip of the Bucknell Musical Club, which will begin on March 23, are now well under way and being pushed steadily. Manager Ralph Hartz has been busy securing dates and lining up other towns in the hope of securing engagements, for the past few weeks. He has announced the above date of departure from Lewisburg, which date, incidentally, is the same upon which the spring recess commences, and has also named four towns with which contracts have been signed, Three of these towns are in New Jersey, and are Vineland, Bridgeton and North Plainfield. The fourth town is in this state, and is West Chestre. These places were visited last year, at whihc time the club made a favorable impression upon the people, and the people upon the club, so that the men look forward to the time which they will spend there.

Just how long the trip will take is not decided as yet, as no decision can be reached until the matter of engagements is settled. However, the men are assured of a trip lasting at least eight or ten days, and perhaps longer. Whether or not dates for New York, Philadelphia and Washington can be secured remains to be seen, but the manager is striving hard to get them.

Inasmuch as the Easter trip is considered among the men to be the most pleasant of all, in addition to being superior to the others in more than one way, there is considerable interest being shown in the preparations for it. Some new numbers are being worked up, which fact adds still more interest.

A week-end trip for April 28 and 29 has been settled by the manager. On Thursday night, which is the twenty-eighth, the club will sing at Pottstown, and on the following evening, at Reading. The good work of the club when it sang at these towns last year made the signing of the contracts for this year easy.

At the meeting of the club last Monday evening several announcements of interest were made. The first of these was that intensive rehearsal for the remainder of the time before March 23 will be held. This means that at least one rehearsal will be held each week, on Monday evening at 7 o'clock in the Chapel. Members of the Glee slub are requested to be prompt in their attendance.

University of Berlin. In Czechoslovakia he conducted the first student conference in that new republic, five hundred years after John Huss, the rector of the University of Prague, was burned at the stake.

He has crossed the interior of Turkey since the armistice and more recently visited the principal centers of the Near East, making a study of the present war between the Nationalists, Armenians, Greeks, and the threatened Bolshevik invasion. In Poland he flew with the air force, and witnessed the relief of Warsaw and the advance against the Bolsheviste. He in Egypt during the agitation for independence and the discussion of the new constitution. In Cairo two theatres were filled each night, and the attendance rose from over twenty-five hundred a night in that city to more than six thousand in Asiout. Mr. Eddy had special opportunities for interviews with the leading men of Europe including President Masaryk of Czechoslovakia, the King of Bulgaria, members of cabinets, employers and labor leaders as well as students and professors of the universities of Europe. He has had unusual opportunities to study also the social and industrial problem of today.

B

THINGS YOU MAY NOT REALIZE

Bucknell has a registered student body of 987.

2,500 letters are received at the Post Office every week for students.

Penn. State will debate here Friday week.

Baseball schedule provides for six straight games at home.

College Girl's is this Friday.

The new Registrar's name is Theron Clark.

Freshmen have but seven days to go until the 22nd.

"Bid Day" is over. It will be interesting to see what new speculations will be adopted for dormitory diversion.

"Can a co-ed vamp her way thru college," was the subject of serious discussion by the faculty of N. Y. U. The recent mid-year marks would seem to disprove the possibility of such a thing at Bucknell.

MUSICIANS TAKE NOTICE

Would-be musicians will not perform any grand opera sleections after nine o'clock on the "Hill," according to a motion passed by Senior Council at its last meeting. Hereafter, all who wish to play any of the world's great musical masterpieces after that hour will do so at their own risk, as "Taps" blows promptly at nine.

The Modern Prodigal Son

Would have been found cleaning spittoons after money and friends had vanished together. For it is obvious that the dirtiest, filthiest, and most degrading job today is wallowing in the mire of the human hog with a long handled brush. Since the days of Sir Pipe Face Raleigh our friend Porker has been outclassed by his human competitors, and has buried his snout in shame. The College Inn employs no Prodigal Sons and out of respect for all concerned we detest the presence of that abominable target of the filthy weed marksmen.

This advertisement is in part answer to the question why we gave the filthy weed the full count, why we favor a policy of segregation from eating places, and is of necessity garbed in the language of the gutter as befits its loathsome character.

SUCCESSOR TO PROF. HOWARD

Miss Grace Jenkins, who is now filling the vacancy caused by the death of Prof. Howard, attended what was known at that time as the Broad Street Conservatory of Music but now known as the Coombs Conservatory of Music. She studied under Gilbert Raynolds Coombs. Since her graduation from there she has been teaching voice and piano at Milton, Pa.

Mortimer Howard, late professor of music at Bucknell, was born in North Brookfield, Mass., on December 19, 1863, and died in Lewisburg, Pa., on February 6, 1921.

He began to study music at an early age and came to New York, where he studied under Emelio Bellari, a then famous teacher. He later went to Pittsburgh, where he sang in the first Presbyterian church of that city. He then came to New York again, where he succeeded the famous Evan Williams as tenor soloist of the Marble Collegiate church of that city. He again returned to Massachusetts and taught music, and at the same time sang in the Arlington street church of Boston. From there he went to Halifax, Nova Scotia, where he remained for four years before coming to Bucknell. He came to Bucknell at the start of the school year, 1919.

BUCKNELL LYCEUM ENJOYS MEETING

BUCKNELL LYCEUM

Bucknellian lovers of literature enjoyed a wonderful treat in the form of an afternoon with Riley last Wednesday in the Chapel. A large number of students were present. The program ushered in a new and successful attempt in the appreciation of literary genius. The first number on the program was an excellent biographical sketch by George Hunt. The splendid manner in which Mr. Hunt presented Riley has left an impression of the poet's human sympathy in the minds of not a few of us. This was followed by a recitation "The Liz Town Humorist," by C. B. Jackson, after which Hobart Brown rendered a vocal selection in excellent manner. This was followed by a recitation "Orphan Annie," by Sue Plummer, a reading, "Farmer Whipple," by Florenie Cornwall, and a recitation, "The Raggedy Man," by Helen Graham. Ada Thomas then favored with a piano solo, which was enjoyed by all. The meeting was concluded with a reading, "Knee Deep in June," by William Hoffman

It is hoped that the student body will take advantage of the excellent program offered at these meetings. Come and be convinced. The next meeting will be on Wednesday, February 16, at which time there will be a debate upon the Japanese question.

of both sides was good. The first half ended with the Non-Frats in the lead, 10-5. Coe started the second half with two successive field goals. Treadwell injured his ankle and was removed from the game, Robb taking his place. DeCoursey and Gehret played a nice game for the Forums and did most of their scoring, while Horan continued to play high class basketball. The game ended a Non-Fraternity victory, score 19-10. Neither team's foul shooters were up to par, Horan getting 1 out of 6 and Ty 4 out of 9.

The second game was between the Delat Sigmas and the Phi Psis. The teams were more evenly matched than was expected. Walker made a pretty field goal that Julian followed immediately in a long one that did not touch the rim of the basket. During most of the first half the Psis were superior. Julian gave a good exhibition of basketball and put his team in the lead by his shooting both from the field and from the foul line. The first half ended score in a 14-1 score with the Phi Psi team in the lead. The second half was clean and hard and the game ended 27-10, with the Phi Psis still undefeated. Walker played a fine game for Delta Sigma and did most of their scoring. Henning, Julian and Smith did the scoring for the victors. Walker caged 2 out of 7 and Julian 7 out of 9 tries for fouls.

The last game of the evening was between the Lambda Chis and the Phi Theta Sigma team. Clare and Caldwell each scored a field goal at the start of the game. The crack Lambda Chi team outclassed the Phi Theta Sigma team and the game was one-sided, though the losers played a fighting game. The game was inclined to be rough in places. The Lambda Chi team played such a good passing and shooting game that the Phi Theta Sigs got very few shots at the basket. Yeingst made the only score for them of the first hlaf in the form of a foul goal. The hair ended in a 16-1 score. The Phi Theta Sigmas were not allowed a field goal and got all their 5 points on fouls. Caldwell, "Ales" and Larson played a nice game for the Lambda Chi team. In fact, their whole team played well and all succeeded in scoring. Aleshouckas missed three tries at fouls, while Yiengst made 3 out of 3 and Jolly 2 out of 4.

Thursday afternoon Sigma Chi defeated Phi Gamma Delta in a weird game, in which several players were hurt, by a score of 32-16.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

CINEMA COMEDY COMMENTS

"Where Pleasure Reigns" is a slogan of a popular movie theatre, and it can be aptly applied to all picture houses which daily furnish entertainment to the American public. People go to the movies to be entertained and amused. It is the comedy element of the program that furnishes the real amusement. Screen comedies, whether of the so-called polite class or the slap-stick variety, always find favor with the fans. Then, too, the animated cartoon comedy has many followers. But one of the most popular forms of screen comedy is the famous little reel known as "Topics of the Day" Films. This presentation of wit and humor from the press of the world, daily gathers grins, gigles and laughter at theatres from coast to coast. So, let us take a reading trip along the "Topics" route under the guidance of the Bucknellian.

Some Influence.

Gertie—"Whom do you know in the movie game?"

Mazie—"I know every picture machine operator in our neighborhood."—Vaudeville News.

When a man tells you he's fond of pictures you never know whether he's a student of art or a movie fan.—North Adams (Mass.) Herald.

A Royal Reel

Tony—"I hear that the 'Topics of the Day' Films are going to appear before royalty."

Tionette—"How do the witty wordings qualify?"

Tony—"There are so many good 'titles.' "—Rutgers.

Wife—"I'd like to see a good movie, but don't know just what to see."

Hubby—"Go to 'The Devil.' "

Wife—"Brute."—Zit's Weekly.

'Twas Ever Thus.

Cynic—"Just saw another movie with an unhappy ending."

Jolly—"Hero lose the girl"

Cynic—"Naw; married her."—Ohio Sun Dial.

Susie is a maiden sweet who at the movies grabs a seat and on the next one parks her hat. Now I ask you what is worse than that—A. M. P. A. Bulletin.

Even as Eve.

Doctor—"I'm afraid I will have to operate for appendicitis."

Little Beauty—"Oh doctor, will the scar show"

Doctor—"Not unless you go into the movies."—Loew's Weekly.

S. S. Teacher—"Where do little boys and girls go to who don't put their pennies in the collection box?"

Pupil—"Please, M'm, to the picture shows."—Chicago Herald & Examiner.

PLEDGES ENTERTAIN FIJIS

The pledges of Phi Gamma Delta entertained the active chapter of the fraternity with an excellent dance at the Lewisburg club last Friday night. The dancing continued from eight till two with the customary intermission period at midnight, at which time refreshments were served. Diffy's College Five furnished the music for the dancing. The hall was decorated with various pennants and banners.

NOT SUCH A LARGE PLACE

It seemed that when Rastus and Sam died they took different routes, so when the latter got to heaven he called Rastus no the phone.

"Rastus," he said, "how yo' like it down thar?"

"Oh boy! Dis here am some place," replied Rastus. "All we has ter do is to wear a red suit wid horns, an'ebery now and then shovel some coal on de fire. We don' work no more than fo' hours out ob de twenty-fo' down here. Sam, how is it with you up yonde.' "

"Mah goodness! We has to git up at fo' o'clock in de mawnin' an' gathad in de stahs; den we has to haul in de moon and hang out de sun. Den we has ter roll de clouds aroun' all day long."

"But Sam, how comes it yo' has ter work so hard?"

EUROPEAN RELIEF

Lack of space prevents our printing a longer appeal for the European Relief Fund, so we confine ourselves to the following letter from Mr. Hoover to John R. Mott, head of the Y. M. C. A.

"My dear Dr. Mott:-

"The independent surveys of your Association and of ours as to the condition of students and faculties in the Central and Eastern European universities makes it imperative that we should undertake at the earliest possible moment further endeavor to meet their needs. There are over one hundred thousand students, both men and women, also professors, who in the whole upset of economic equilibrium are suffering greatly, and unless we can continue to bring to them adequate food, fuel, clothing, housing facilities, and every possible means for worthy students to continue their studies in as favorable an atmosphere as possible, we shall se a decadence in the intellectual fibre of Europe by the faiure in attendance at many European unversities. I find that your committees at present at work among students of European universities are doing wonderful work encouraging self-help, in holding the staffs and students together, and in maintaining the morale of the universities. We have also parallel problems of distribution; we should give funds for the benefit of destitute and under-nourished children in the university towns as a part of our whole problem of child relief in Europe.

"In order that we should get most effective organization both for the recruiting of support in the United States and in the handling of the problems of distribution, we should like to send out to you the following plan:

"That the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., and such other organizations in each of our colleges as may be best, should at once erect the necessary machinery for a continuous appeal to American students over the winter and to help their brothers and sisters in these European universities and also to give such help as they can to the children in the university towns.

"Our organization, conducting as we do a regular shipment, warehousing, and distribution of food and clothing for relief purposes, will undertake this portion of the work of primary distribution.

"In the matter of the organization of distribution, we will be glad to cooperate with your committee in ways which will fit in with the plans which you already have under way, helping to select for these purposes the American representatives to cooperate with the Student Fdration with ate with the Student Federation within the European universities.

"Under this plan, with the remittance of money direct from each of our university and college committees to Mr. Alexander J. Hemphill, (care of) The Guaranty Trust Company, New York, Treasurer, "American Relief Administration European Students' Fund," the use of our administrative machinery on shipment and direction, and the facilities of the World's Student Christian Federation, the total administrative cost of the entire operation should not amount to 2½ per cent.

Yours faithfully,
HERBERT HOOVER."

HOLDS FIRST MEETING

On Sunday evening, February 6, at 6:30, the newly organized C. E. society of the Baptist church held its first meeting. An informal program had been arranged consisting of singing, a talk by a leader and special music. Mr. Hobart Brown added to the pleasure of the meeting by singing a solo which was thoroughly enjoyed by all. An open forum was held at the close of the meeting and the response made in the form of testimony promises well for the life of the society. The attendance was exceptionally fine, for about sixty college men and women were present. It is the plan of the officers in charge of the society to make the organization one of real Christian Endeavor and to make the meetings on Sunday evenings interesting and helpful. An invitation is extended to all college men and women to attend the meetings and enjoy the early Sunday evening hour in a gathering that is entirely their own.

VOL. XXIV LEWISBURG, PA., FEBRUARY 21, 1921 NUMBER 15

FEW GAMES ARE PLAYED DURING WEEK AT GYM

PHI PSIS FIRST IN LEAGUE WITH SIX VICTORIES AND NO DEFEATS

INTEREST IS STILL VERY STRONG

Games to be Played This Week Will, In All Probability, Decide the Interfraternity League Championship.

On Wednesday night last, three interfraternity games were played in the Tustin gym which resulted in victories for the Kappa Sigma, Beta Kappa Psi and Lambda Chi Alpha teams. The first two games, those between the Kappa Sigs and S. A. E's. and the Delta Sigs and the Beta Psis, were very close and exciting. The other game between the Lambda Chi Alpha and the Phi Gams was somewhat one-sided and unexciting after the other two games.

The first game, in which the Kappa Sigs sprung a grand surprise by defeating the S. A. E's., was one of the kind that one reads about but seldom sees—one of the kind that make one's heart stand on end every once in a while. Hahn started the scoring with a foul goal and Mohler followed with a goal from the field. The Kappa Sigs were superior at first, scoring 7 points while their opponents obtained 1, but both teams gave a poor exhibition of the game until late in the first half. The first half ended in a 9-8 score with the S. A. E team on top. Hahn opened the scoring again in the second half with two field goals. From there on the score ranged to both sides and it was anyones' game. It was fast, exciting and rough. During most of this half the crowd was on its feet yelling as if life itself depended on it. The score was again tied at 17. Kappa Sigma then obtained the lead and then the S. A. E's. obtained it. About a half a minute before the final whistle, Kappa Sigma again scored, which was the last score and put them in the lead. The work of the victors' guards contributed largely to their victory. Bellac was high scorer for the S. A. E. team but Rooney and Seybold played wonderful games. Hahn, Mohler and Jones contributed most of the points for Kappa Sigma. Bellac was not up to usual high class foul shooting, getting only 2 out of 8 and Hahn caged 3 out of 5 for the other team. The final score was 21-20.

The lineups:

S. A. E.		Kappa Sigma
Bellac	f	Mohler
Rooney	f	Jones
(Williams)		(Arnold)
Seybold	c	Morgan
Dorey	g	Hoffa
Hoshlig	g	Hahn

The second game was a victory for the Beta Kappa Psi team over the Delta Sigma team by a 21-19 score. In the first half Beta Psi had things their own way and scored 14 points to their opponents' 3. They had their eye on the basket and seldom missed a shot, while the Delta Sigs, with frequent opportunities for scoring, seemed unable to locate the basket in this half. But in the second half the tide changed. The Delta Sigs staged one of the greatest rallies ever seen in fraternity games when they scored field goal after field goal in rapid succession. They scored 15 points at the beginning of this half without allowing their opponents a single tally. This gave them a 4-point lead and from then on the game was as fast and exciting as the one that had just preceded it. Foxall and Walker played wonderful games in this half and made their great rally possible. Their opponents now found opportunity to shoot, and soon the score was tied at 19. For a long time no scoring was done, due to the close guarding, and then Beta Psi made the last and telling field goal, giving them the victory. Mussina had his eye on the ball at all times and was greatly assisted by Long and Geist in winning the victory. Foxall was the high scorer for Delta Sigma and Walker and Ross also contributed largely to their score. Both teams played well, however, and individual playing was replaced by teamwork.

The lineups:

Delta Sigma		Beta Kappa Psi
Walker	f	M. Mussina
Foxall	f	Long
Tingley	c	Geist
Ross	g	H. Mussina

VARSITY DEBATERS MEET PENN STATE

STATE COLLEGE TEAM WILL BE HERE THIS WEEK FOR ANNUAL CONTEST

"Resolved, That the Federal Government Should Enact a Rigid Japanese Exclusion Law," will be the subject of the annual triangular debate to be held at Bucknell Hall Friday, February 25th, at 8 p. m.

Penn State will defend the negative and Bucknell will uphold the affirmative side of the question. At the same time Bucknell's negative team will debate Dickinson at Carlisle, Pa.

A just and equitable solution of the Japanese problem is of the utmost importance to both Japan and the United States. The problem is a difficult one to solve since there are over one hundred thousand Japs in the state of California at the present time and they are still migrating to our shores at the rate of 16,000 per year.

The California Alien land law makes the situation more critical, since over 458,000 acres of farm land are cultivated by Japanese in various forms. Drastic measures are being submitted to the House by the Immigration committee, and they are endeavoring to remedy the situation in such a way as not to affront Japan.

All the latest developments on this timely question will be brought forward in the coming debate and things heretofore unknown will be brought into discussion.

Under the careful guidance and training of Professor C. F. Rasweiler, the squad has been working with a zeal that spells victory for the Orange and Blue. The members of the squad are as follows: Ellis S. Smith '21, Robert P. Hartz '21, Homer T. Eaton '21 Finley Keech '21, Wm. Herbert Sugden '22, Forrest F. Dagle '22, A. Leonard Wheat '23, Robert Markowitz '23, Lawrence M. Kimball '23, Paul B. Cooley '23, Donald B. Cloward '23, John E. Lenox '23, Harry F. Roye '24, Wendell H. Woodside '24, Alfred G. Stoughton '24, Edward G. Williams '24.

The negative team which will journey to Carlisle will be composed of Leonard Wheat, Ellis S. Smith, Paul B. Cooley and Wendell H. Woodside as alternate. The home team will be composed of Homer T. Eaton, Forrest F. Dagle, Wm. Herbert Sugden and Lawrence M. Kimball as alternate.

It is hoped that every student will be out to lend encouragement ot the representatives of the Orange and Blue.

COEDS FROLIC AT "MOVIE PARTY"

"The Surprise Motion Picture Company will be on third floor, New Building, Woman's College, on Monday, February 14," read the invitations which were received by the "top-story people" last week. "Come dressed to represent your favorite actor or actress."

Third floor "New" people were all present in the persons of Tom Mix, Wallace Reid, Theda Bara, Louise Glaum and countless other celebrities and the Surprise Motion Picture company took motion pictures under the direction of Stage and Scenario Directors Mary Appleman, DeEtte Edgette and Miss Virginia Walton. The affair turned out to be a valentine party given to New Building people by Miss Walton, physical director, assisted by Miss Douglass.

An extemporaneous movie play was acted out as the camera (an ice cream freezer) clicked. The characters were: Percival (hero), Emily Devine; Belinda (heroine), Dorothy Wilhelm; Roland (villain), Charlotte Conrad; vamp (ballet dance), Lottie Dietz; drunken father, Hilda Coates; angry foreman, Helen Johnson; preacher, Marion Murphy; gate, Dorothy Davis; fly paper, Myre Effinger; washing, Angela Kessinger; twins, Phoebe Davis, Verna Smith.

On Thursday night, February 24, Juniata will play here in basketball.

DEVEREUX PLAYERS WILL APPEAR HERE

Famous Organization Will Present A Dramatization of Ibsen's 'Ghosts' Under The Auspices of The Theta Alpha Phi

ZINITA GRAF, WITH DEVEREUX PLAYERS

On March 1, Theta Alpha Phi Dramatic fraternity will present in Bucknell Hall "The Clifford Devereux Players," in Henrik Ibsen's big success, "Ghosts." This is the fraternity's first attempt to bring dramatic offerings of a high class before the students of Bucknell university. It is the purpose of this organization to offer from time to time plays of a high educational type. Because of the type of plays produced by Clifford Devereux, his presentation of "Ghosts" was selected as the first offering.

With the belief that plays should form a part of the life of the Nation from a combined literary and dramatic standpoint, Mr. Clifford Devereux is bringing them to present-day audiences in a manner that is intelligible and interesting to all classes of people. No effort is spared to make the productions attractive in every detail; the costumes in the fashion of the period; the stage settings pleasingly suggestive; the manners and the customs of the time carefully observed. In a masterly fashion Mr. Devereux interprets the minds of the authors whose names are immortal. With scholarly insight he grasps their dominant motive, and in directing the productions he vitalizes and modernizes their movement, yet in no way impairs their quaintness and tradition. With broad sweeps and deft touches he creates pictures that are gorgeous in color, and charming in harmony and proportion—pictures that would delight the eyes of the authors themselves.

In these performances Mr. Devereux is ably supported by a representative company including Miss Zinita Graf. The work of the organization is characterized by a fine distinction. The actors read their lines with rare comprehension, never obtruding their personalities but living their respective roles. To you who appreciate the most entertaining plays, to you who are fond of the finest in dramatic art, to you who love the theatre, and to you the student, these productions will be welcome, for they are revived with a freshness and an animation that make them live in a spirit of vigorous youth.

Mr. Devereux has presented his plays in all the most important colleges of the United States, and he has met with big approval wherever he played. Most productions meant the signing of a return contract for his company.

The tickets for the above production will go on sale Wednesday of this week. Any one desiring tickets or further information call 62 Bell phone and ask for H. L. Heller, '21.

The price of the tickets is seventy-five cents.

FOOTBALL MANAGER ELECTED

At a meeting of the Athletic association on Tuesday, Evan Ross, '22, was elected manager of the football team for the season of 1921. Harry Schaffer received second choice as manager of the scrubs, while Elmer Worthington will manage the Freshman team.

Earle DeCoursey, Harold Hunsicher and Hayden White were chosen as first-assistant managers.

Charles Weber and Page Mealing of Williamsport were guests of Delta Sigma friends over the week-end.

MATH CLUB MEETS

The regular meeting of the "Math" club was held on Monday evening, February 14th.

At this meeting Mr. George Lowry spoke on the subject of "The Diaphantine Analysis."

The next meeting of the club on February 28th, at 7 o'clock, will be addressed by Dr. Nelson F. Davis. Dr. Davis has chosen as his subject, "Mathematics in Biology."

Fred Foxall, '22, spent the week-end at his home in Wilkes-Barre. He was accompanied by Paul Walker, '24.

COLLECTIONS REPORTED

It is reported that the collections taken by Dr. Morton last Sunday and Monday evenings amounted to more than $340. About $265 was taken in at the Baptist church, and about $75 at Bucknell Hall.

"COLLEGE GIRLS" A FINE SUCCESS

SEMITES ENTERTAIN MASCULINE FRIENDS IN ANNUAL SOCIAL EVENT

Dame Nature adorned herself in her loveliest robes on Friday night, for she knew the college women were holding their annual reception. 'Twas a wonderful night, those of the masculine sex observed as they wended their way to the abode of the fair ones, and there they were not encumbered by the stiff "Prince Alberts" or "Tuxedos" as was the custom in former years.

Some of the "Freshies" called at the "Sem" for their first time on Friday night and one could not blame them if their knees were a bit shaky and their pep mostly lacking by the time they had entered the reception hall, and after being directed here and there, passed down the long reception line and murmured in weak tones, "delighted to meet you," etc., etc., when down deep in their hearts many of them would have been delighted to have been nestled snugly in their own little rooms, away from all the turmoil. All this feeling soon passed away, however, as they repeated on each promenade that they were ministerials instead of engineers or vice versa, or that they were Juniors instead of Freshmen or doubtless vice versa.

But the reception itself was what can be termed in every sense of the word a success. As to the decorations, the Womans' college never looked lovelier. The color scheme was pink and green, decorations being of palms, flowers and crepe paper. About the room were sweet peas and one had to admit that the parlors and living room were cozily arranged with college cushions and palms. As to the dining room, credit is indeed due to the decoration committee, for about the room were vines and arbors, to which were attached imitation wild roses and honeysuckles. The pillars were wound with pink and green crepe paper while the lights also reflected the same hues.

Wilson's orchestra filled the place with melodious strains as the promenaders made merry. About 10:30 p. m. a light luncheon was served and then, lest you forget, College Girls is the one big night in the co-ed's life. Well, because of that night, the "Semites" are allowed to have their gentlemen friends remain with them until 12 p. m., and the lights are not extinguished until 1 a. m. This fur-

KAPPA SIGS WIN FROM CLASS TEAM

On Tuesday, February the eighth, the Kappa Sigma basketball team defeated the Senior class team from the University of Susquehanna, who claim the inter-class championship of that college, in a spirited game in the Tustin gym by a score of 28 to 21. The teams were evenly matched and the Kappa Sigmas played one of their hardest games of the season. Doc Gerhart acted as referee and called the fouls close to keep down the roughness which had a tendency to spring forth. During the first half the visitors were on the better half of the score and seemed to have a slight edge on the Kappa Sigs. The first half ended in a 14-12 score but the home boys came back strong in the second half and cinched the game. The visitors played a hard and fighting game, but could not stop the scoring, and the effective work of Hoffa and Hahn kept their own score down. Bogar and Cole did most of their scoring and played a fine game for them while Morgan, Mohler and Hahn did all of the scoring for the Kappa Sigs.

The lineups:

Kappa Sigs		Susquehanna
Jones	f	Cole
(Crosier)		Knoor
Mohler	f	(Streamer)
Morgan	c	Bogar
Hoffa	g	Lecrone
Hahn	g	Dunmire

GIRLS' CLUB TO SING

Two out-of-town concert dates have been secured by the manager for the Girls' Glee club. On March 4th the club will sing in Winfield and on the following evening, March 5th, in Watsontown.

Rehearsals are being held almost daily in preparation for these trips and the girls are working hard in anticipation of their first trip.

DELTA SIGMA DANCE

On Friday evening, February 11, Delta Sigma held a "Semi" dance at the usual place for such functions, Quinn's orchestra furnished some excellent music for the "toddlers." Punch and cakes were served. The chaperones, who were popular until the fateful hour of 10:20 arrived, were Misses Fowler and Brungtresser.

BUCKNELL LYCEUM ENJOYS DEBATE ON BIG QUESTION

SMALL CROWD HEARS VARSITY ORATORS ON THE JAPANESE EXCLUSION TOPIC

THE NEGATIVE SIDE WINNERS

Attendance at Meeting Not Up to Usual Standard in Spite of Fine Program—Mark Twain Feature This Week.

Last week's session of the Bucknell Lyceum, held at the usual hour in Bucknell Hall, was very poorly attended. Part of this may be explained by the fine weather which prevailed that day, but most of it remains unaccounted for. The fact that the days' topic was one of extreme importance seemed to make little difference.

The meeting was opened by Paul Rasweiler, who presided. "Ting" Hasen sang a solo, accompanied by Mary Reed, and was then forced to respond to an encore.

The afternoon was devoted to a debate on the question, "Resolved: That the United States should pass a rigid Japanese exclusion law." The affirmative was argued by Donald Cloward and Lawrence Kimball, while the negative was upheld by A. L. Wheat and E. S. Smith. The judges, Professors Rasweiler, Rockwell and Hamilton, decided in favor of the negative side of the question.

Some of the important points brought out follow. Cloward, as the first speaker, dealt with the early history of Japanese immigration, and discussed the effect of the Alien Land Bill of 1913 and the conclusion of the recent war on the question at hand. He brought out clearly the seriousness of the question, and stated that the law must provide for a total exclusion except in the case of students, commercial men, etc. Such a law, he said, is logical, just and feasible.

Wheat, as first speaker for the negative, stated that his side of the question would strive to prove that the Japanese question is one of honor and equity, and mentioned the existence of the so-called "gentlemen's agreement" with Japan. Two of Wheat's strongest statements were that such exclusion is unnecessary, as the Japanese have proved themselves to be desirable immigrants, and that statistics show that there is little or no danger that the Japanese will come to control a majority of the land of California, in which the greatest proportion of Japs live. He concluded with the statement that most of the propaganda against the Japs is merely sensationalism.

Kimball, speaking for the affirmative, directly contradicted the speaker before him by offering statistics showing a remarkable increase in Japanese landholdings in California in the last ten years, and by showing that the Japanese are undesirable immigrants because of their habits of living, and the questions of racial equality and racial preservation which they offer. Kimball's statement declared that the Alien Land Bill was a return to the feudal system of the middle ages.

Smith, second speaker for the negative, stated that the propriousness of the Japanese immigrants is not unnatural. Smith's greatest argument, however, was that an exclusion law is not necessary. In its place he proposed a broad, comprehensive immigration exclusion law, non-discriminative, as a solution to the problem.

MARK TWAIN FEATURE THIS WEEK

Next week's session of the Lyceum will be a Mark Twain feature. Professor Rockwell will read a paper on the life of Mark Twain, and Professor Rasweiler will read one of Twain's humorous stories.

A TIP FOR A SENIOR CLASS

In these days of prohibition, a need comes to mind more quickly and more forcefully than at any other time. But we understand that long before the days of prohibition, in the dark ages of three years ago, this need was evident at Bucknell. We cannot conceive how the faculty suffered such a condition of affairs to go uncorrected for such a long time. This terrible state of affairs is being laid open to the eyes of the public in this column; yet on another of this same paper the university is being advertised as a "Twentieth Century Institution."

There is not a sanitary drinking fountain anywhere on the campus or in any of the buildings!

Did you ever stop to think how humorous, ridiculous and inconsistent it is for a fellow to stick his head under a faucet and half drown himself in order to obtain a drink? The need we are exposing speaks for itself. Why not erect a "fountain of youth" at Bucknell?

WORTHY OF CONSIDERATION

How often in life you have heard some one say "Oh I could only do that again, I would know how" or "If I could make it I would." Or take the case of a person who has experienced four years of life that is in a way a repetition of preparatory days in high school. These four years spent at college are probably the only years of life one have the privilege of repeating. We can, therefore profit by our mistakes in pre-college days and make the time in college count for something really big. Your college days should be much more of a success than your days in high school. Are they?

COLLEGE GIRLS

unless time for both parties after bidding each other and each other's friends a fond adieu, to go to their rooms to discuss the evening's mirth, which is doubtless done both "pro" and "con."

That College Girls was a success was the opinion, not only of the students, but of the professors and their wives as well. But one thing marred the pleasure of the evening and that was the absence of Dean Anna R. Carey, who was unable to be present due to serious illness.

POVERTY SOCIAL

Poverty social! The Junior girls needed money and they got it by means of a Poverty Social held a week ago last Saturday night in the living room at the Woman's College. Everyone dressed in their poorest, "raggediest" costume to attend, for a tax was levied for having a shoe shine, wearing a hair net, jewelry of any sort, invisible hair pins, silk hosiery and the like. Consequently if you did not look poverty-stricken it cost you a slight sum to enjoy the evening's entertainment, which consisted of many various stunts by Misses Van Cleaf, Hesen, Hunt and other members of the Junior class. Home-made candy, sandwiches, lemonade, apples and such were sold, all of which yielded considerable profit to the class of '22.

Juniors, lead on by their clever president, Jennie Burke, are to be complimented for their original idea and the success attained by it.

KAPPA SIGMA CONCLAVE HERE

The annual conclave of the fifth district of the Kappa Sigma fraternity was held over the past week-end at the house of the Alpha Phi chapter at Bucknell. The program included a dance in the club on Friday evening, a business meeting on Saturday and a smoker in the fraternity home on Saturday night. The fraternity was quite honored to have as one of its delegates and guests, Frank J. Shea, the greatest quarter-miler in the United States. He is intercollegiate champion and was a member of the Olympic team that competed last summer in Belgium. He was the delegate from the University of Pittsburgh. The other delegates were J. Harold Strickler and William W. Shultz from State College; Donald R. Hart and John Q. Robinson from Washington and Jefferson; Roland R. Lehman from Dickinson; and Joseph R. Carder, William S. Price and John Kennedy from the University of West Virginia.

At the dance on Friday night Diffy's College Five furnished their usual brand of syncopation to the dancing couples. It was a wonderful dance and thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lindeman, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Blair, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Baker, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Griffith, and Judge and Mrs. A. W. Johnson.

On Saturday the business meeting of the Conclave began at 10 o'clock and lasted through until 4 o'clock, with the exception of a short period that was taken off for dinner. The visitors were then taken to the movies and after the evening meal a smoker was given in the house. A spirit of brotherly friendship was everywhere in evidence which made the smoker one not soon to be forgotten. It was a great conclave and one that Alpha Phi is proud of.

The third game was a 24-8 victory for the Lambda Chis over the Phi Gams. The Phi Gams had but two of their regular men in the game and presented almost a new line-up. Neither team was able at first to locate the basket. Largon made the initial score and shortly afterward Alechourkas found his long-lost basketshoe and raced a couple of points also. Both teams guarded close and the half ended with the score 6-6. The Phi Gam team was no match for the Lambda Chi aggregation, who played a wonderful passing game. The first half ended in a 15-6 score.

Purnell scored first in the second half and played wonderful basketball throughout the entire game. Carlson played a good game and from guard position assisted greatly in the scoring. Caldwell and Clare played a good floor game, although they missed many shots at the basket. Reed played a good game at guard for the Phi Gams and prevented their opponents many times from scoring. Purnell and Helm did most of their scoring, while the whole Lambda Chi team succeeded in finding the basket. "Alex" caged 2 out of 7 tries at foul and Purnell missed his two tries.

The lineups:

Phi Gamma Delta		Lambda Chi
Purnell	f	Alechourkas
Helm (Schulz)	f	Caldwell
Drenning	c	R Larson
Reed	g	Clare
McKay (Rentz)	g	Carlson

On Thursday evening the Forum basketball team defeated the Phi Theta Sigmas in a loosely-played game by a 17 to 12 score. Gehret and Davis played best for the Forums, while Jelly did most of the scoring for Phi Sigs. DeCoursey was forced to withdraw from the combat near the close of the first half because of a pulled tendon.

The feature of the game was the passing of the Forum combination. In spite of the fact that they were off in shooting, time after time they worked the ball down the floor with a series of short, snappy passes.

The lineups:

Forum		Phi Theta Sigmas
DeCoursey	f	Ylengst
Davis	f	Heironimus
Wolfe	c	Jolly
Frye	g	Smith
Gehret	g	Entz

PENN

A profit of $87,000 was made on football at the University of Penn in the 1919 season. While accounts have not as yet been completed for the 1920 season, a gain of close to $100,000 is expected to be announced. Track is also a paying sport there, $16,000 having been realized at last spring's relays in which the Oxford-Cambridge runners participated.

SYRACUSE

Three coaches will direct the fortunes of the Syracuse swimming team this year. No definite schedule has been arranged yet, but already the candidates have been called out and practice is going on.

The Modern Prodigal Son

Would have been found cleaning spittoons after money and friends had vanished together. For it is obvious that the dirtiest, filthiest, and most degrading job today is wallowing in the mire of the human hog with a long handled brush. Since the days of Sir Pipe Face Raleigh our friend Porker has been outclassed by his human competitors, and has buried his snout in shame. The College Inn employs no Prodigal Sons and out of respect for all concerned we detest the presence of that abominable target of the filthy weed marksmen.

This advertisement is in part answer to the question why we gave the filthy weed the full count, why we favor a policy of segregation from eating places, and is of necessity garbed in the language of the gutter as befits its loathsome character.

SPRING IS PEEPING OUT ALL OVER
SEIDEL & SPANGLER'S STORE

In every department you can see something new for the Easter season.

There are the new coats, dresses, sweaters and shawl scarfs, waists, skirts, silks, shirtings, cloakings, suitings, millinery, voils, ginghams, neckwear, underwear, hosiery, etc.

Never before did spring merchandise tell such a complete story of spring than it does right now. The colorings and varieties are so gay and beautiful that they appear to be big rose gardens in their June bloom.

DIAZ CONCERT DELIGHTS MANY

Everybody looked forward to the appearance of Rafaelo Diaz in concert at the Lewisburg Baptist church. The singer is a past master at program arrangement, a skillful interpreter and possesses a most pleasing personality. As the program progressed he did not waver from his high standard of excellence. Encore after encore showed how Diaz had delighted the audience that filled every available seat. His admirable diction and perfect enunciation in the French Italian and English songs delighted all who were privileged to enjoy the superb evening of song.

Program

1. (a) "By Dimpled Brook," Augustine Arne, 1710-1777. (b) "My Days Have Been So Wondrous Free," (c) "Beneath a Weeping Willow Tree," (d) "My Generous Heart Disdanes," Francis Hohlensen, 1737-1791. (First American songs composed in America, dedicated to George Washington.)
2. Aria, "Cleio e mar." from "La Giaconda," Ponchiello.
3. (a) "Martorio d' Amour." (b) "La Resalada," Spanish Folk Songs arranged by Kurt Schindler; (c) "La Partida," (d) "Pesares," Spanish songs, Alvrez.
4. (a) Aria "Elucevan le Stelle," from "La Giaconda," Ponchiello; (b) "Elegie," J. Massenet; (c) "Jes Yeux," Rabey; (d) "Vieni," Denja.
5. (a) "Marie," Franz; (b) "A Vision," Grieg; (c) "The Way of the World," Grieg; (d) "My Days Are Strung in Amber," Elizabeth Winchell.
6. (a) "Tears," Walter Kramer; (b) "On Erthega Island," O. Osgood, (c) "A Little Drab Wren," Minetta Hirst; (d) "At the Well," Hageman.

FROSH-SOPHOMORE GAME TOMORROW

The annual Freshman-Sophomore basketball game, to be played Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 in the gym, appears promising as a battle. All week both teams have been staging stiff practices, after which scrimmage has been had with the varsity.

As is always the case, this game will be without doubt a close one. Those who have witnessed the games of the past few years know what is to be expected of this annual clash. Last year's game was won by the present Sophomore class by one point, thru a field goal by Julian in the last few seconds of play.

The probable lineup for the game is:

Sophomores		Freshmen
Julian	f	Bellas
Wren	f	Hennigs
Dion	c	Horan
Bunting	g	Reed
Worthington	g	Deffebaugh

Admission to the Freshmen-Sophomore game will be by the Athletic Association ticket, or 25 cents. Holders of reserved seat tickets will be entitled to their usual privileges. The game will be handled by the first and second assistant managers of the varsity.

VASSAR COLLEGE ORGANIST PLEASES

One of the most charming organ recital heard in Lewisburg rendered by E. Harold Geer, organist of Vassar college, on Thursday evening, February 17, at the Lutheran church. His clear, well-defined technique gave him freedom of interpretation which charmed and delighted his audience from beginning to end.

Many people from the surrounding towns were present and the church was well filled. Those who failed to attend missed one of the best musical treats offered the people of Lewisburg for some time. The program was as follows:

Jongen—Choral in E Major in Canon Form.)

Wagner—Liebestod, from Tristan and Isolde.

Guilmant—Scherzo, from the fifth sonata.

Yon—Eco—Double Canon in the Unison Humoresque—The Primitive Organ.

Bach—Toccata and Fugu in D minor.

Borodin—Au Couvent.

Vierne—Scherzetto. Carillon—(The Carillon theme is that of the carillon at the chapel of the Cateau de Lonzpoint, Aisne.)

Sibelius—Romanze in D flat.

Stoughton—Idyl, from In Fairyland.

Sturges—Meditation.

Bonnet—Variations de Concert (with pedal cadenza.)

CO-EDS PLAY IN GYM

Tustin Gym was the scene of girl basketball games on Tuesday night when various pick-up teams battled against each other. This was the first time this year that the "Semites" have played in the men's gym, having had all their games in the Women's College, where they are slightly hindered by a low ceiling and a small floor. Games are to be scheduled in the men's gym on Tuesday nights hereafter.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

DANCING IN LAUGH-TIME

Dance and the world dances with you. Be a wallflower and you wilt alone. It is the keeping in step faculty of Americans that makes the world go 'round. Dancing is an important recreative factor in the daily routine of healthful living. From the barn-like town hall in Mud Hollow to the elaborate palaces on New York's Broadway, the dance is in full swing. Whether they prance to the tune of a harmonica or glide to the strains of an accomplished orchestra, pleasure seekers always whirl happily. As people become more and more proficient in the art of dancing their enjoyment increases in equal ratio with their skill. Even those of us who are only occasional dancers appreciate the fun expressed in the salient sayings about dancing that is screened in "Topics of the Day" films in our favorite theatres. Dancing and the "Topics" appeal to us all. They enthuse us and raise our spirits, that's agreed. So, strike up the band and let us step out on the floor to enjoy a full card of dance wit and humor, introduced by the Bucknellian.

Beastly!

The fox and the lion both loved her; she was a little bear; the lion made the fox-trot home, and got the lion's share.—Dance Review.

"Let it too bad about Peggy?"

"Why, what happened to her?"

"She's been to so many dances lately she's muscle-bound from her waist up!"

Tionette—"Why did the police raid that dance?"

Tony—"They heard they were going to run robber dances."—Rutgers.

Fair and Warmer.

Mabel—"George, when I dance with you, it seems as though I'm going straight to heaven."

George—"Shall we reverse, dear?"—Dance Review.

Ned—"Does she dance badly."

Fred—"Yes, if the chaperones are not looking."—California Pelican.

Willie—"I knew that you would lose the blues if you came to this jazz palace."

Eddie—"Well, you see, that shimmy artiste has shouldered all of my troubles."—Harvard Lampoon.

Sammy Swellhead—"I am considered one of the best dancers in the country."

Gertie Gush—"What's your rating in the city."—Vaudeville News.

GLEE CLUB PLANS NOW COMPLETED

Numerous changes in the plans for the coming eastern trip of the Bucknell Musical club were announced at the last meeting of the club on Monday. Due to the fact that it was found impossible to secure dates during the week preceding Easter, the start of the trip, which had been set for March 23, has been postponed until March 28. The late start in turn made it imperative that the length of the trip be shortened, with the result that the trip will consume only five days.

The following dates have been secured for the trip: Pitman, N. J., Vineland, N. J., Bridgeton, N. J., West Chester, Pa., and North Plainfield, N. J., this being the order in which the appearances will be made. In this way, only two days of school will be missed by the men who make the trip, thus making much more material from which the director may pick his men. Twenty-five men will make the trip.

Because of the new announcement concerning the trip, much more interest is being shown. A number of the men felt that they could not afford to miss the number of days of school which they would have under the old plans and so had said that they would be unable to go. With the new plans, however, many of these men have said that they will be able to accompany the club on the trip.

In addition to the above dates as announced, the manager of the club, Ralph Hartz, announced that he had secured a date for Sunbury for April 7. This date, together with a week-end trip at Pottstown and Reading later in the same month, is giving the men something to look forward to.

PRE-MEDS GIVE FIRST DANCE

The medical Society of Bucknell university held the first dance that it has ever given in the Forum home, on Saturday evening from 7:30 until midnight. The dance had the distinction of being the first dance ever given by a society of this kind and of being the first dance this year in which there were members of all the fraternity groups. The work of the committee, which consisted of Paul Harding, Frank Davis, Russel Wolfe, Roy Stine and William Lewis, and the kindness of the Forum fraternity in loaning the society the use of their home for the occasion, were responsible for the success of this dance.

Wilson's Forum Jazz Quintette furnished the music in wonderful style. Misses Bergstresser and Swartz chaperoned the dance until 11:30 when the girls from Women's College had to go. Prof. and Mrs. Norman Stewart were guests at the dance and served in the capacity of chaperones after the hour of 10:30.

The dance was a great success and it is hoped that more of its kind can be held in the near future. Especial credit is due the Gamma Lambda Sigma fraternity for the democratic spirit shown in offering their house for such a cosmopolitan affair—a spirit which may be well copied by other college groups.

QUESTIONS ON HUMAN ANATOMY

Where can one find a cap for his knee
Or a key for a lock of his hair?
Can his eyes be called an academy,
Because there are pupils there?

In the crown of his head what jewels shine forth?
Who travels the bridge of his nose?
Can he use for shingling the roof of his mouth,
The nails from the ends of his toes?

Has he dual nature like Jekyll and Hyde
Because each foot has a "sole?"
Does his heart beat the blood because it is bad?
Will it stop when it's good as gold?

Has he eye teeth to see what food is best?
Do dates grow on his palms?
Does he keep his clothing in his chest?
Do his ear drums call to arms?

Can the crook of his elbow be sent to jail?
And if so, what did it do?
Where can he sharpen his shoulder blades?——
I'll be switched if I know, do you?
—The Skull Gang.

—B—

Impudence.

Ella—"I'm mad at Jack."

Bella—"So soon? What's wrong?"

Ella—"He knows so many naughty songs."

Bella—"Does he sing them to you?"

Ella—"No, the mean thing, he just whistles the tunes."—Puppet.

ADDED TO THE PROFESSIONS

—By—
Berenice C. Skidelsky

What profession? What line of life work?

Though these questions have been disposed of by some college men and women at the outset of their college careers, to many they are still insistent problems as graduation draws near. The students stand at the crossroads, one signpost pointing to business, the other to the professions.

Never before in the world's history has the road to professions forked off into so many branches. And one of the latest that has been added to the group is one of the most appealing, both because of the work, itself, and because of the gratification that comes with worth-while achievement. It is the avenue of "community service."

Masterlinck has said that "It is the way in which hours of freedom are spent that determines, as much as war and labor, the moral worth of a nation." The leisure times is enormously potent, for good or for ill. And it is the purpose of this new movement, Community Service, to bend it to the former. Its aim is to organize the community for play—to give the members, in other words, such direction as will enable them to make the most of these precious leisure hours wherein their spirits may expand and their personalities flourish and grow vigorous.

Thanks to the labor-saving devices and legislation, the twenty-four hours of each day are generally divided into three equal periods—for labor, for recreation and for rest. Days gone by provided for the first and for the third, but took no cognizance of the fundamental importance of the second. Today, however, the term recreation is being analyzed back to its essential and literal meaning, and the process itself recognized as indeed an instrument of "re-creation" that cannot be overlooked.

This new understanding, together with the unprecedented conditions under which modern humans live, has created a wide field for specialized workers who will give proper direction to the re-creative activities. It has thus established a new profession for earnest and intelligent men and women anxious for a constructive part in humanity's progress.

Not only have the people of today taken en masse, more free time, but they have also more money and more temptations and a wider vision which results in more insistent demands on life. They live surrounded by commercialized amusements. Theatres, pool-rooms, race tracks, dance halls, baseball games, cabarets and sundry other places of diversion are run in great numbers with a keen eye to profits, and a hit-or-miss attitude in the matter of their reactions upon their patrons.

All these things are well enough in their way, and within their limits, but with the exception of the dance hall and the pool-room, both often questionable in their moral tone)—they provide purely passive forms of recreation, and are therefore not adequate for the full recreational needs of the individual. These needs involve activity as well. A warning has been sounded that the American nation is in danger of becoming a people of "bleacherites," not only as regards the great American game, but figuratively. The old-time "hike" is being supplanted more and more by some artificial means of locomotion. Baseball, itself, which used to exercise the muscles of its great numbers of enthusiasts, now—except for lung exercise and whatever can be had from wildly waving one's arms—confines its exercise value to the eighteen men, who, under thousands of eager eyes, compete for victory at the big game parks.

The individual as an alert spectator gains much. But the individual as a participant gains more. A nation of participators is bound to be a stronger, more vital unit than a nation of onlookers. The capacity to do is strengthened by doing. Observing is contributory; but performing is the main source of growth.

There is an unique satisfaction in the mere doing of a thing. Most people would prefer to be actors rather than observers, but facilities are not always at hand and they do not know haw to arrange them on their own initiative.

Enter at the point—Community Service.—Its task is to clear up the bewilderment and to provide the facilities. Or rather, it directs the community in providing its own facilities. And right in this distinction is the real value of the work. Community Service is not something superimposed upon a community. It is a structure built by the community itself.

What a city manager is to the civic life of a community, the community service director is to the leisure time life of a community. He (or she), is a consultant and an advisor. He has an opportunity to give consciseness and direction to what might be otherwise fumbling and tentative moves of community members who would bring to bear upon their work more of enthusiasm than of experience.

The director's interests cover the entire field of community recreation. His imagination is confronted with no less a task than helping his multi-minded constituency to evolve a satisfactory leisure time program. And he may sigh for other worlds to conquer when he shall have organized those forces at hand in his community which will translate such plans into realities. His working days are crowded with the details of planning, of promoting and of financing such activities as community singing, community drama, pageantry, dancing and all of that long list of ever-varying activities that come under the general heading of outdoor and of indoor sports.

It can at once be seen that such a profession offers an acceptable invitation to candidates of many temporaments and with diversified channels of interest. The work may be in rural communities, or in special districts of larger cities. But wherever it is, it challenges all of the latent powers of the worker and brings him into contact with many people.

Young men and women, desirous of entering this new field will receive help and advice if they will communicate with Community Service (Incorporated) One Madison Avenue, New York.

STANDING OF LEAGUE

The Phi Psis still hold the lead in the inter-fraternity league after another week, which was not very active along basketball lines. The Lambda Chis and the Non-frats seem the only other possible contenders for the trophy, each team having lost but one game. The standing of the teams is as follows:

Team	W.	L.	P. C.
Phi Kappa Psi	6	0	1.000
Lambda Chi Alpha	5	1	.833
Non-Frats	4	1	.800
Beta Kappa Psi	4	3	.800
Kappa Sigma	2	2	.500
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	3	3	.500
Sigma Chi	2	2	.500

TEAMS ARE EVENLY MATCHED

First Year Men Gain by Foul Shooting of Bellack, Eagle Eye of Horan and Close Guarding of Reed in Great Game

In one of the best class basketball games ever seen on the local floor, the Freshman basketball team defeated the Sophomores in the annual classic by a score of 30-26. The game was hotly contested throughout, and was not decided until the last few minutes of play. The Freshmen started well, ringing in three points before the second year men got going well. After this, however, the Sophs took a spurt. This lead was not kept during the entire game, because the closeness of the playing did not allow either team to gain much of an advantage in score.

The Frosh had a great advantge in the foul shooting of Bellack, who missed only two out of 14 tries. The timely shooting of Horan, and the guarding of Reed also aided greatly in establishing the victory for the first year men. Reed also caged two pretty baskets from near the middle of the floor. Henning played an excellent game, shooting two goals when they were most needed.

Julian was the high scorer for the Sophomores, with 14 points to his credit, while Bunting was next with 8. Woodring was probably the most consistent player for the second year men, as he broke up many plays which seemed to indicate a sure score, while Morrett made his weight felt in his guard position. Wren played a hard game, but was a trifle off on his shooting. The teams were quite evenly matched, so it is probable that the ear-splitting cheering of the Freshmen on the sidelines had a great deal to do with the final outcome. The Frosh, with their cheerleaders and organized cheering, showed that they were backing their team to a man, even the first year co-eds taking an active part in this department.

Between the halves, the Frosh secured permission from Senior President Mason to hold a snake dance on the floor, but the Sophs intervened and for a while the basketball floor looked like Ireland on a busy day.

When the slaughter became too pronounced, Mason and a number of other Seniors stepped in and put an end to the demonstration.

The lineups were as follows:

Freshmen	Place	Goal	Foul	Points
Bellack	f	1	12	14
Henning	f	2	0	4
Horan	c	4	0	8
Hall	g	0	0	0
Reed	g	2	0	4
Totals		9	12	30
Sophomore	Place	Goal	Foul	Points
Julian	f	3	8	14
Bunting	f	2	4	8
Wren	c	2	0	4

BASKETBALL TRIP

Starting with a game at Huntingdon on Tuesday night, with Juniata, the basketball team takes its last trip of the year, the Pittsburgh trip. On Wednesday night, the University of Pittsburgh team will be met. Pitt has an unusually strong team this year. Thursday night, Carnegie Tech, though not as strong as Pitt, will give our five a hard tussle. On Friday night, the Duquesne University team will be met. Duquesne is going strong, having recently defeated Marietta, one of the best teams in the East. All of these games will be played in Pittsburgh.

On Saturday night the Pittsburgh Alumni association will have the team as its guests at its annual banquet.

DEVEREUX PLAYERS TOMORROW

Tomorrow evening, March 1st, at 8:15 p. m., the Devereux players will present in Bucknell Hall Henrik Ibsen's "Ghosts." This is Ibsens' greatest play, one that has met with big approval wherever presented. It is a play that no college tudent can afford to miss, a play in which the tense scenes have held audiences spellbound. Unless one knows Ibsen he cannot guess the type of play that will be presented. We could give a short resume of the story, but in the language of the stage, "the play is the thing." See it and form your own opinions. If we know anything at all about Ibsen we at least are sure that you will have quite a bit to say about the subject fter you have seen the production. Tickets are moving, and in order to be sure of a seat, get yours early. They may be purchased from any one of the following or at the Chapel on night of production: Misses Plummer, Devine, Casner, Burke, Seaman, Sessinger, Leiser and also Stewardson, Reamer and Beers. The price of the tickets is 75 cents.

PENN STATE WINS IN LOCAL DEBATE

BUCKNELL ORATORS LOSE CLOSE DECISION IN FRIDAY EVENING CONTEST

In the triangular debate held on Friday night between Dickinson, Penn State and Bucknell, Dickinson was victorious. Each college had one team at home and one team away, the affirmative team being the one at home. The question was: "Resolved that the United States should enact a rigid Japanese Exclusion Act." Dickinson defeated Bucknell at Dickinson and Penn State at Penn State, while Penn State's negative team defeated Bucknell here.

In the debate here, the affirmative pointed out the seriousness of the problem that exists, and that because of the fact that the Japanese cannot be assimilated, the only remedy is restriction. The negtive admitted the existence of the problem, but insisted that it is, through politics and "Yellow Journalism," largely exaggerated. They pointed out that, because the "Gentleman's Agreement," now in existence, is successful, such an act is not necessary; because of Japan's and our own position in world politics, it would be unwise; and because a plan of conference over the problem would furnish a better remedy, the act was not practical. Penn State clinched their arguments better than did the Bucknell debaters, besides presenting a better organized and smoother debate.

Hon. H. M. Showalter of Lewisburg was the presiding officer. The judges were: Mr. D. M. Glover, Mifflinburg, Pa., Mr. H. S. Knight, Sunbury, Pa., Mr. Clarence L. Peasley, Willimsport, Pa.

The teams were, affirmative, Bucknell: Homer T. Eaton '21;

"MARK TWAIN" AT LYCEUM MEETING

Last Wednesday's meeting of the Bucknell Lyceum was one of the best from all points of view, that has been held since the inception of the organization. The afternoon was spent with Mark Twain, a biography and reading s from the works of the great author being given.

C. B. Jackson gave a talk lasting about half an hour upon the life and works of Mark Twain, pointing out prticularly the presence of a touch of pathos throughout all the wit and humor of the writings. Mr. Jackson also discussed Mark Twain's place in the ranks of great American authors and in the hearts of the American nation. Readings from the works of the author were given by Esther Dodson and Carolyn Hunt. Ella Simth gave readings from "Huckleberry Finn." Donald Cloward sang two solos, Foster's "Good-Bye," and "Where My Caravan Has Rested."

While the attendance at last week's meeting was a great improvement over that of the previous week, it was still some distance from being as large as might be expected. Students of Bucknell should realize what an opportunity is given them in this series of meetings, and make every effort to be present at them. Watch the bulletin boards for announcement concerning this week's meeting.

JUNIATA BOWS TO ORANGE AND BLUE

Bucknell Passers Take Fast Game From Down River College Stars In Thursday Night Contest By Score Of 31---23

On Thursday night our varsity basketball team met and defeated the team representing Juniata College in Tustin gymnasium in a close and hard-played game by a score of 31-23. The victory was in doubt until the last few minutes of play as the teams were quite evenly matched and neither was able to hold the score long in their favor. Earnest, of Williamsport, officiated and his refereeing was of the best. The visitors presented a fast aggregation and their wonderful teamwork and clever floor work came near sounding defeat to the home team. Our team was without the services of our dependable guard, "Vic" Bihl, and his loss was greatly felt although Bunting, who took his position, played a fine game.

Juniata scored four points, a foul, field, then another foul goal, before our team made a score. Wilsbach made the initial score for Bucknell when he caged a pretty goal from the field. The score was tied at 5 points each, but Bucknell shot in the lead when Dayhoff caged two field goals in rapid succesion. The visitors then took their turn at finding the basket and the score was again tied at 9 points. Wilsbach, heavily guarded under the basket, put the ball through the iron ring with a pretty back-hand shot. Both teams then tallied up a foul goal and Searles made a goal direct from the tap-off. But our opponents were not to be left behind and did their share of the scoring, forging into the lead by one point. Just before the whistle ending the first half, Dayhoff, after missing a long shot, followed it up and made two more points to our benefit. This ended the half with Bucknell one point in the lead, score 15-14.

Between halves the cheer-leaders appeared on the floor and led some cheers for our team and for the visitors. Yelling and singing filled the whole intermission and was of first-class quality. The harmony that was given forth in one of the corners from a few of our most singers was especially enjoyed by the gathering.

The visitors started the second half by tying the score with a foul goal. Bunting succeeded in scoring a field goal but we were not allowed to long remain in the lead, for Wolfgang scored two pretty goals for the opponents with one-hand shots while closely guarded. This put them in the lead, but Bucknell again forged in the lead with a field goal and a foul goal by Bunting. Then for a short period neither team scored and the passing was poor and the game loosely played. Our lead was further incressed by a field goal by Bunting. Field goals were then made at regular intervals by Wolfgang, Dayhoff and Wilsbach. Bunting, after missing a chance to tally up one point, succeeded in making a field goal, scoring two points. For the last few moments of play the ball was passed under the opponents' basket and no effort made to work it down the floor. The game ended with a Bucknell victory and a 31-23 score.

In the latter part of the second half Bucknell was superior, but did not seem inclined to play hard ball. The loss of Bihl on the foul line was felt by our team although Bunting succeeded in caging 7 out of 13 tries. Our opponents' foul shooter, Donelson, was very good, getting 11 out of 14 tries.

The lineups:

Bucknell	Place	Goal	Foul	Points
Dayhoff	f	4	0	8
Searles	f	1	0	2
Wilsbach	c	4	0	8
Bunting	g	3	7	13

FRILL AND FROWN MIMICS FACULTY

"Should the girls at the Women's College be Allowed to Eat Peanuts?" was the discussion at faculty meeting on Thursday night last. Read on! good reader, lest you misunderstand, for on said night Frill and Frown was initiating its new members, and the latter took the part of the learned professors nobly and discussed the question both pro and con. Many of the good professors were initiated, their names not being announced, but nevertheless it took the "Semites" but a few minutes to detect whom the girls were trying to impersonate, for the little mannerisms and the tone of voice left little doubts as to their identity.

After a lengthy discussion, it was decided that eating peanuts was not collegiate; also that one did not get any polish from peanuts unless they were salted peanuts, and that was naught but lard or oil. To end the discussion it was decided that Prof. Lowry be sent out to buy some peanuts and thus have the faculty see whether or not they were harmful.

Afterwards a business meeting was held for Frill and Frown to give a play in the Orpheum, aided by Cap and Dagger. This is the first time that such an affair has been attempted by the women's dramatic fraternity, which is surely a sign that Frill and Frown is a progressive organization. The prospects of a dance in the near future was also discussed. It was decided that regular meetings will be held the first and third Thursdays of the month at 7 p. m., Women's College.

DEBATERS MEET SWARTHMORE

Resolved, "That Labor Through Representatives of its Own Choice, Should Share in the Management of Corporate Industry." will be the subject of the debate to be held in Bucknell Hall Friday, March 4th, at 8 p. m. Swarthmore will uphold the affirmative side of the question and Bucknell will defend the negative.

This is the first opportunity that the Orange and Blue has had for some time of meeting Swarthmore. Her past record in literary endeavor places her among the foremost institutions of the country, hence the contest will be a lively one.

It is hoped that the student body will again lend their loyal support to both teams. The presence of the large audience last Friday night proves that intercollegiate debating is again coming into its own.

Swarthmore will be represented by Allan C. Valentine, William M. Blaisdell and William P. Kemp. Bucknell will be represented by Finley Keech, Wm. Herbert Sugden and Robert P. Hartz.

BOWSER TO BE FOOTBALL CAPTAIN

REPORTED THAT DECISION WAS MADE AT BOARD MEETING SATURDAY

At a meeting of the Athletic board, held in Harrisburg Saturday, a number of important things were brought up and passed upon. As Graduate Manager Glass had not returned to Lewisburg at a late hour last night, a definite outline of the action of the board could not be learned, but it is understood that Arda C. Bowser, '23, was elected football captain for next year. The reason for the board's action in this case was said to be due to the fact that the ten letter men on the football team had cast a tie vote at the election held some time ago, leaving the selection up to the board. It was reported also that Robert N. Waddell '20, had been elected to the position of assistant coach in football, and that Bucknell had withdrawn from the basketball league of Pennsylvania colleges. However, as these reports could not be verified, the Bucknellian publishes them only as rumors. In spite of the fact that these reports came from a member of the board, the lack of verification prevents them from being altogether authentic.

The members of the board who were present at the meeting at Harrisburg Saturday were: Dr. Hunt, R. W. Thompson, E. M. Helm, B. W. Griffith and C. E. Glass, all of Lewisburg; Edwin M. Green, of Huntington; Paul G. Smith, of Harrisburg; Dr. M. L. Goldsmith, of Pittsburg; G. W. Cockill, of Steelton; Dr. A. L. Gomer, of Norristown; F. B. Jackel, of Doylestown; and John Davis, of Nanticoke.

PHI PSIS ENJOY FOUNDERS' DAY

Pennsylvania chapter of the Kappa Psi fittingly observed "Founders' Day,' February 19, with a banquet held in the chapter house on Third street. Promptly at nine o'clock forty hungry men repaired to the dining room wher justice was administered to the roast chicken.

The after-dinner program was made up of speeches and songs. Rev. Joseph R. Wood, '94, was toastmaster and handled the affairs of the evening as only a Joe Wood can. Charlie Clement, '97, the well-known mayor of Sunbury, spoke, and in addition led the singing. Dr. William C. Bartol, '71, and Prof. William G. Owens '80, spoke for the older alumni and enlivened the evening with stories of "the good old days." George Lowry '20, instructor in mathematics on the hill, and Morris D. Hooven '20, represented the younger alumni on the floor. Other Alumni guests were Hiram Bloom '18, J. Orville Fraker '20, Henry Pontius '20, Hayden Evans ex '22, Harold Dentler ex '22, and Kenneth Kenedy ex '22.

Greetings were received from many other alumni brothers and all expressed their regrets at being unable to attend the banquet.

The evening closed with a loud "High-High-High" and the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

MORE NEWS OF SHERWOOD EDDY

Two weeks ago Sherwood Eddy spent four days at the University of Missouri, leaving on Thursday, the 18th, for the University of Kansas. A telegram sent from the University of Missouri to that of Kansas on Wednesday the 16th, is indeative of the force with which Eddy grips every college audience.

The telegram was as follows: "Eddy meetings greatest ever held at University of Missouri. Citizens of town not permitted to attend. Hundreds of students turned away from every session. Meeting tonight on 'Moral Problems" attended by 2500. Eddy's social message called by Professor Elwood and entire faculty, 'scholarly and prophetic." Hundreds of students attend after-meetings. Eddy will surpass your expectations. Get ready for him. E. R. Kinley, State Secretary of Y. M. C. A."

This brief message is indicative of what we may expect at Bucknell. We cannot too fully appreciate our opportunity of contact with such a man. Let's check off March 8th, 9th and 10th on our calendars. Full program for those three days will be published in the next issue of the Bucknellin.

A BUCKNELL VISITOR

C. Palmer Bateman, a member of the Senior class at Wesiyan University, was a Washington's birthday guest at the Phi Gamma Delta house. Bateman will be remembered by many as a lieutenant in the S. A. T. C. who was stationed here for a short time and later at Susquehanna. He is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

MASS MEETING WILL BE HELD SUNDAY NIGHT

EVERY COLLEGE GROUP GIVEN CHANCE TO BE PRESENT IN CHAPEL

PREPARE FOR SHERWOOD EDDY

Interesting Program Will be Given and Final Plans Will be Made for Coming of Great College Evangelist.

Plans are now complete for an undergraduate mass meeting to be held this coming Sunday evening, March 6th, in the Chapel at 6:15. The purpose of the meeting will be to get together in our responsibility to each other and to ourselves in the Eddy meetings which will begin Tuesday evening, March 8th, in the Chapel, and run through the next three days.

It is hoped that each college group will be there in a body in order that the entire student organization might receive the spirit of cooperation necessary to the success of the meetings held later in the week. An invitation has been sent to the faculty of the University inviting them to be present in a body as well, since the meetings will be of as much interest to them as to the students.

Arrangements have been made with the various church groups in town to postpones or omit their early evening service in order that all the college men and women of the Hill might find themselves free to attend the mass meeting. The importance of being ready for the meetings and the message of challenge that will surely be there cannot be overestimated, and since the success of these rests upon the entire student body, it is natural that such a meeting for discussion and final arrangement be held.

The program for the meeting includes good music and a timely address. However, everything about the service will tend to impress upon our minds the responsibility and opportunity that is ours. Since Sherwood Eddy will be here for only three days, it will be the wisest course to be ready to plunge into the spirit of the meetings upon his very first appearance.

Sherwood Eddy is coming to us from just such a series of meetings as he will conduct here, and the wonderful impetus which these institutions received is evidence enough of the power of the speaker. From Illinois University this message has been received: "It will take a correspect of years to get a full appreciation of values accrued. The leadership was magnificent. The speaker overcame opposition by his transparency; sincerity and directness of speech. His messages met the questions of the confused and doubting, and made a profound impression on the university."

From Kansas State University there comes this tribute: "One of the most remarkable results of the campaign seems to be the lack of criticism. The explanations seems to lie in the fact that Mr. Eddy cut through all questions of dogma and creed to the actual heart of man's relationship to God through Jesus Christ."

Full announcement of the particulars of the meetings and all other arrangements for Mr. Eddy's stay with us will be given next Sunday in the mass meeting. Of particular interest to the women will be the announcement that Mrs. Eddy will be with her husband for the first two days of his visit. The Bucknellian of next week will also have a complete program.

PHI GAMS SHOW OUT

Delta chapter of Phi Gamma Delta entertained a number of Semites at a dance given in the chapter's house Monday evening, February 21, from 7:30 to 12. The dance being given in the honor of our first president, the house was tastefully decorated with red, white and blue streamers and electric lights of the same colors, while a large illuminated picture of George Washington hung over each fireplace. Miss Fowler and Miss Schwartz proved excellent chaperones while Diffy's College Five, who furnished the music, were never better. C. Palmer Bateman Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Arda C. DEBATE WITH SWARTHMORE

Swarthmore college will send a debating team here Friday, March 4, to present the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved, that labor, through representatives of its own choice, should share in the management of corporate industries." Bucknell will support the negative side, Robert Hartz, Finley Keech and William Zeigler being the members of the team.

It is hoped that the large number who supported the debate with Penn State will again be on hand to hear an able an discussion of this question as they heard of the Japanese question.

STUDENT'S FORUM

WORTHY COMMUNICATIONS FROM BUCKNELL UNDERGRADUATES AND ALUMNI WILL BE PRINTED IN THIS COLUMN IF PROPERLY SIGNED AND SENT TO THE EDITOR.

Every student has some pet aversion in his course of study. Ask him how he is getting on, and he replies: "Oh, very well, thank you; except for the three conditioned and wholly blighted Physics." Perhaps he drags his conscience by redoubling his efforts in "A+." Maybe he decides that the listed Physics is "out o' my class anyhow!" and grows reconciled to the idea of flunking it. This is the hole. Day by day it widens, as he loses his confidence in his ability to stop up that gap. Presently, he faced that duty with a sinking heart, tho he put more work on preparation than the thing would normally deserve—proving again Solomon's remark: "He who wields a dull ax must strike hard."

Every student knows that he has some weak spot in his character. If he doesn't, that in it—just the failure to realize what his defect is. Perhaps he is careless of other people's rights or free with other people's property, or inclined to pass hasty and severe judgments upon his comrades, or sullen under just rebuke, or disrespectful in his attitudes toward persons and things deserving of chivalrous or reverential regard. Maybe there is some habit playing the very mischief with his life.

It helps very little for the chap, inclined toward dishonesty, to take comfort in the fact that he has genius moments when he would do almost anything for a pal in trouble. He can't offset the damages of a bad habit by working midnights on a scientific thesis. If he proposes to win the game he is playing, he must stop up that hole in his defense—and he mighty well knows exactly where that hole is, too! He has hours when he tries to make himself believe that there is something else wrong with his technique; but, down inside of him, there is an annoying little voice that keeps condoling: "Don't be a fool! Stop up that gap! You know where it is, all right! Its right there where they've been going through you for gains ever since the game started."—A Senior.

Gettysburg, Pa.
Jan. 25, 1921.

Editor of Bucknellian,
Lewisburg, Pa.
Dear sir:-

Enclosed you will find an article which you can throw in the waste basket if you so desire or can run in your paper to be read by the students of the institution.

By the import of this article, written by myself, you will see, no doubt, that the people down here were more surprised by the unprecedented report of the treatment of the local team received than by the one point defeat. Until Saturday, Bucknell, I am safe in saying, was the most respected rival on Gettysburg's schedule.

Hoping that your team receives a fair and square deal here next month and that Gettysburg gets the same in Lewisburg in future years, I am,

Yours in sport,
C. WILLIAM DUNCAN.
Sporting Editor, Times.

P. S. I have been the sporting editor here for nearly three years and I never heard a Gettysburg College team complain of poor treatment away from home until Monday. If you read the article carefully you will see that six years, the term of Coach Leathers here, is mentioned.
C. W. D.

DID BUCKNELL WIN OR DID THEY LOSE?

Did Bucknell gain or did Bucknell lose by their 31-30 victory over Gettysburg in Lewisburg on Saturday night?

As far as the casual newspaper reader is concerned the contest was merely an ordinary one-point victory of one rival quintet over another. But to the veteran Gettysburg sport followers it carries with it a vast significance.

For twenty years Bucknell has been a leading rival of Gettysburg. Even before the days of the historic battles on Island park in Harrisburg, the two rivals met first in Lewisburg, then in Gettysburg. Always the relations between the two, although at times bitter in their rivalry, were always fair. The better team nearly always won. Getysburg admits fairly that the Bucknell elevens led by the agile Tip Topham, the great end Jordan, and others of more recent years have always played superior ball to the boys from the battlefield.

The cry "we got a raw deal" is as old as sport itself. From a constant cryer it atracts no attention.

This situation, however, is different. For the past six years no Gettysburg basketball team has ever returned here in defeat or victory with the alibi ofreceiving poor treatment.

Monday morning, however, the honest opinion of the men was that they had lost to Bucknell because in the last few minutes of play Referee Earnest, a young man from Williamsport, who was not a Central Board official-such as is provided for visiting teams in Gettysburg, persisted in calling fouls until Bucknell tallied the necessary point to win.

Such treatment as was afforded Gettysburg at Lewisburg topples Bucknell from the high pedestal where she once stood in the minds of all Gettysburg sportsmen and places herein a class with Carlisle High School where Gettysburg scholastic teams perpetually receive poor treatment.

All of which leads to the question, is it better to win in point of score or in point of sportsmanship?

B

The following contribution was sent to the mechanical drawing assistants, and was not intended by the authoress to be used for publication. P. D. K. has requested that her name be kept out of the notice, and as the editor is only a mere man, susceptible to the wiles of women, he was forced to heed her urgent request. It is reported that this little gem of American literature was inspired by the criticisms of the assistants, who used such words as "abominable," "terrible, a'nd "awful" in marking the young lady's lettering sheets. As you read it, let your conscience be your guide.

LETTERING SHEET

"See no evil, hear no, evil, speak no evil,"
Is a motto tried and true—and
A good one, Mr. Bashore, for you.
Who authorized you, sir, to attack
My lettering sheets behind my back?
Criticising is a worthy task—but
Who gave it to you, may I ask?
You're only a Senior, Mr. Bashore
And others beside you have talent to draw.
Your grin is now explained to me,
I've seen your helpful notes, you see.
Is this "abominable" practice your only diversion?
By quoting religion I might work your conversion.
Won't you abandon this "scandalous" chore?
If you do I'll never quote Spanish o're more.
If you don't something "terrible" will come:
Something so "awful" you'll wish your life done.
A word to the wise is sufficient advice—
Before marking up papers,
Just stop and think—twice.
Signed, sealed and delivered January 1, 1921, in the Borough of Lewisburg, County of Union, State of Pennsylvania.
Signed by Sheriff.

What Shall I Wear?
IS ON THE MIND OF EVERY WOMAN AND MISS.
The question of SPRING GARMENTS is easily solved at SEIDEL & SPANGLER'S

Our new suits, coats, wraps, dresses, waists, skirts and latest millinery, in their vast assortment, bring out every becoming style for spring. The question: "What shall I wear?" fades away and is lost sight of when once your eyes rest on these beautiful ready-to-wear togs.

Again, we hear another lot of women and misses say: "I want a new coat-suit, waist or skirt made this spring, but cannot decide which color and style I like best.

This is also solved at SEIDEL & SPANGLER'S store, where you will find every new weave in silks, in hundreds of different patterns and shades for spring, and these, combined with all the new trimmings and the latest patterns in both Pictorial and McCall fashions, make the complete selection a very easy task.

Remember, every day brings something new to our store. You owe it to yourself to see our full lines of new wool dress goods, cloakings, suitings, skirtings, voiles, ginghams, percales, etc. Never were our assortments more complete; never were qualities better, and in many cases prices are as low as they ever were.

The Modern Prodigal Son

Would have been found cleaning spittoons after money and friends had vanished together. For it is obvious that the dirtiest, filthiest, and most degrading job today is wallowing in the mire of the human hog with a long handled brush. Since the days of Sir Pipe Face Raleigh our friend Porker has been outclassed by his human competitors, and has buried his snout in shame. The College Inn employs no Prodigal Sons and out of respect for all concerned we detest the presence of that abominable target of the filthy weed marksmen.

This advertisement is in part answer to the question why we gave the filthy weed the full count, why we favor a policy of segregation from eating places, and is of necessity garbed in the language of the gutter as befits its loathsome character.

PHI BETA KAPPA PLANS UNDER WAY

An effort is being made, and has been made, to secure for Bucknell a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, the greatest of all honorary Greek letter fraternities. A committee of alumni has been working on this undertaking for some time and have succeeded so far in their endeavors. Mrs. Lewis Theiss, a daughter of Dr. Bartol, who after her graduation from Bucknell secured her key while doing graduate work at the University of Michigan, is a very active member of the committee. The committee has been and is now in correspondence with the chapters in various intsitutions, seeking endorsements for the granting of a charter here. The required number of endorsements have been secured but the committee is still endeavoring to obtain more, as a large number are desired. The council, which has the granting of charters in its power, meets every three years and will not meet again until the fall of 1922, when our petition will be presented to them. The matter is quite uncertain, as the fraternity has lately been quite conservative in the granting of new charters.

Concerning Phi Beta Kappa itself, it might be well to say that it is an honorary fraternity based almost entirely on scholastic standing. However, personal qualifications are taken into consideration in the bidding of new members. There is generally a certain percent of those standing at the top of their class taken into the fraternity where there is a chapter. A certain number of Seniors who rank high and a very few of the supreme scholars of the Junior class find themselves eligible to Phi Beta Kappa.

While the granting of our petition is uncertain, the student body and the faculty sincerely hope that Bucknell may have the honor and the fortune to have a chapter of the honorary fraternity, known throughout the entire country for its high scholastic standing, Phi Beta Kappa.

PROF. SMITH TELLS OF BRADY HISTORY

On Tuesday evening, February 15, Professor Bromley Smith entertained the students and other residents in the Brady Apartments by giving them a history of their home. To an interested group assembled in Mrs. Sale's apartment, he indicated in detail the connection of the old mill with local history, which he traced from colonial days down to the present. He stated that through grants made by King Charles in 1662 to Connecticut, and to Pennsylvania in 1681, these two colonies received conflicting English titles to a strip of land extending across northern Pennsylvania; that each colony tried to strengthen its claim by purchasing the territory from the Indians, whose chiefs with a business accommodation becoming modern profiteers sold the same region twice; and that when settlers from the mother provinces entered the territory, strife arose and even during the Revolutionary war the pioneers engaged in one pitched battle. In 1782, however, after 30 years of bitter contention, a commission appointed by Congress unanimously sustained the claim of Pennsylvania for the beautiful valley.

In 1772, according to the speaker, Ludwig Derr, for whom Lewisburg was named, built on the present site of the Brady Apartments a flour and lumber mill operated by water power and in succeeding years he had a prosperous business here in the barter of guns, powder, axes, rum, cloth and so on with the settlers as well as with the Indians. It was on this spot that John Brady, a brave pioneer who lived on the opposite side of the Susquehanna, began long ago a daring campaign against the liquor traffic. It appears that a large group of unfriendly Inidians was assembled here around a case or keg of the white man's "firewater," drinking and threatening to attack the settlers. With the hope of preventing such a disaster, Brady canoed across the river, courageously entered the circle of grim warriors, kicked over and spilled their liquor, and then somehow escaped the savage Red Men.

That Professor Smith has an intimate acquaintance with local history and tradition is also shown by a published narrative entitled "Plunket, the Pennamite."

S. A. E. CELEBRATES

George Washington's birthday holds more memories than usual to Sig. Alphs and certain young ladies of the seminary who attended a dance given the evening before in the parlors of the Women's college. "Gardner's Banjo-Pep" orchestra from Harrisburg made the affair a unique one by providing music and vaudeville from eight until twelve.

WHY GIRLS WEAR FLAPPING ARCTICS

Owing to the prevalance of the flapping arctics, or "galoshes," as they are more often called, the Bucknellian thinks that this clipping from a nearby newspaper is decidedly appropriate at this time.

"Why do pretty young girls wear actics with tops flapping.

"The answer to this question had puzzled the office boy for some time.

"Being a shy young man not versed in the often peculiar mental processes of the gentler sex, there seemed to be no way of definitely relieving his mind of the perplexing question.

"His heart leaped against the roof of his mouth when the city editor propounded the question to him and said curtly "Find out." That settled it. He must find out. His job depended on it. Yet he would almost rather lose his job than approach with such a question any of the sirens who, he had heard, delighted in annoying bashful boys.

"With a blush at least a quarter of an inch deep and running from his vibrating Adam's apple to his back collar button he timidly propounded the riddle to a reincarnation of Eve in the person of a comely brunette who, in the parlance of the day, "rolled a mean eye."

With a giggle that did nothing to soothe the already agitated emotions of the office boy she replied, "You're a nice boy, if you do ask funny questions and I'll tell you. It saves time and a lot of effort." She may have said more, but the office boy, rattled beyond control, had fled.

"After a period of mixed emotions of delight with the compliment from the brunette and anger at the city editor, he sought out another fair young damsel and with slightly more composure, again asked the question. The answer from the somewhat conventional blonde was:

"That's the way they're all wearing 'em, and you gotta keep in style y'know."

"He wasn't satisfied and as he could now be almost brazen in his quest, he continued. The next response was from a stenographer, who was frank in her avowal.

"'I leave 'em unfastened for ventilation,'" she said. "My feet get hot and I gotta have air.'"

On went the office boy in his quest and during the afternoon the following additional solutions to the mystery were recorded:

"'I like to hear 'em jingle when I walk,' said a young miss with a violin case and a music roll.

"'Every time I fasten 'em I break a couple of finger nails,' complained a blue-eyed youngster with a hand an artist would love.

"'It's too much work to bend over,' admitted one whose contour bore out her declaration.

"'It attracts attention to my feet and I've got pretty feet. Don't you think so?' This from a roughish, dimpled charmer with a delight for teasing.

The office boy's embarrassment returned. He gulped, colored, tittered, stammered, 'Y-y-y-es' and dashed to the office to make his report to the city editor."

LAMBDA CHI FROSH ENTERTAIN

A semi-formal dance given by the pledges to the active chapter of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, was held last Monday evening at the Lewisburg club from 9:00 until 2:00. The house was turned over to the women from Saturday until Tuesday as most of the fellows were entertaining girls from home. The hall was pleasingly decorated in the fraternity colors, streamers being run from the walls to a point in the center, forming a large arch. Ribbon confetti was introduced during the progress of the dance, which served not only to liven up the party but to tangle up many of the dancers as well. During intermission an elaborate lunch was served. Jduge and Mrs. A. W. Johnson, and Mr. and Mrs. William Kramer acted as chaperones. Music of the better class was furnished by Quinn's augumented orchestra.

B

Prof. John A. Davis, of Nanticoke, stopped off to pay a short visit to his Alma Mater on his way to Harrisburg where he attended a meeting of the athletic board Saturday.

POOL GAMES ARE DRAWING CARDS

The Lambda Chis have pushed the other members of Bucknell's interfraternity pool sharks off the "green" in three fast games, wherein Christley ran 15 and 17 to the delight of the spectators. This great work was the "que" for the cheer leaders, who immediately got going and, waving green sticks donated for the occasion, led the bystanders in a rousing yell of "jelly, jelly."

However, the S. A. E.s claimed they were always getting a "house rack" when they played the Lambda Chis so they "blew" a lot and said they had a "deuce" of a time.

The "sixteen" ball always worried Irwin, so he brought the new one over from Walnies and ran 13 without once visiting the copper bowls along the side wall. Kally ran 12, too, but he used so much chalk in doing it that the "referee" put him "on time" and charged the petrified powder up to the club.

Stahl has a little pasteboard behind the counter and is keeping the standing of the clubs. He's offering a prize to the winner, but he won't tell what it is to be. However, Christley says he just bets it will be something he can't use, like cigars or pipe tobacco.

Here's what Stahl's pasteboard shows:

	Won	Lost	Percent
Lambda Chi	3	0	1000
Sigma Chi	2	1	666
Phi Psi	2	2	500
Phi Gam	2	2	500
Kappa Sig	1	4	200
Sig Alph	0	1	000

'Most any night after ten, you can find back amid the smoke in Stahl's a crowd of consistent rooters watching one or the other of the following teams trying to break the lead of the Lambda Chis, for the schedule calls for the following:

Sig. vs S. A. E.
S. A. E. vs Phi Psi.
Lambda Chi vs Sig.
S. A. E. vs Phi Gam.
S. A E. vs Lambda Chi

DEBATERS LOSE AT DICKINSON

Debating upon the same question of Japanese exclusion as the affirmative team in Bucknell hall last Friday evening, a negative team represented the University at Dickinson and met defeat at the hands of the law students. The case of the Japanese was forcefully argued by the men from Bucknell, popular opinion being that they had a better case in presentation and refutation, until the last speaker for Dickinson had swept the audience in an appeal to emotion and popular beliefs. The affirmative had the last speech in rebuttal and Homer L. Kreider, a senior, handled very well indeed the climatic summary for Dickinson. His argument was not so much logic as it was a clever analogy of the conditions necessary for Japanese exclusion.

The affirmative advanced strict exclusion, cementing their plan with arguments of necessity and justice. Opposing this the Bucknell team, laying the burden of proof upon the gentlemen of Dickinon, argued a strengthening of the "Gentlemen's Agreement." They showed that such a plan would, from facts and figures, work to the better advantage and would at the same time save an affront to Japan. The case of the negative was based upon the permanence of justice, the judgment of necessity and the feasibility of excinding a people from any land on earth plus the plan of a treaty and distribution of the Japanese.

President James H. Morgan of Dickinson presided at the contest, which was held in Bosler Hall.

FEW GAMES RUN OFF LAST WEEK

The Lambda Chis and the S. A. E.s opened hostilities Wednesday evening with one of the closest guarding games of the season. It was fast and rough throughout, both teams being very much in evidence in the ferocious tactics. Aleshouckas started the scoring by tossing a foul after about four minutes of hard basketball. It was then clearly evident that the score would be low as neither team seemed able to work the ball under the basket for a shot. The first half ended with the score 6-4 in favor of the S. A. E.s. When hostilities were again resumed, Caldwell, the Lambda Chi forward, seemed to have taken on new life, and by caging three pretty baskets, put his team in the lead and practically decided the game. He was without doubt the star of the game, but due credit must be given the other players, as they all gave a good account of themselves. Beltak was the star of the S. A. E. team. The game ended 13-11, with the Lambda Chis on the big end.

The other game of the evening was between the Phi Psis and the Beta Kappa Psis. This game, like the other, was filled with fast and rough basketball to a very great degree, flying tackles being a specialty. The Phi Psis, without Jullan, played their usual scoring game, with Wren the best point getter, having four baskets in both the first and second half. He was the prize winner of the evening with his close guarding, rapid passing and accurate shooting. M. Mussina was the Beta Kappa Psi star, playing a very hard and consistent game, but the grade was too much for his team to make. This game ended as have all former games ended, with the Phi Psis on the candy end of a 33-11 score.

The C. E. A. girls furnished the entertainment of the evening in the form of eight weirdly dressed young women, so costumed as one of the requirements of their public initiation. A big laugh was brought forth from the large audience when they marched around the floor singing, and then each one in turn took a shot at the basket, only one of which hit the coveted ring on the inside. This afforded the male population of Bucknell their only chance of seeing the "Sem" girls in action.

"THE SUSQUEHANNA" TELLS OF GAME

Last week's issue of the "Susquehanna," contained the following clipping, showing how a more friendly feeling is growing between the Orange and Blue and it down-river rivals.

"A game of greatest skill was that on the Bucknell floor last Thursday night. The the Orange and Maroon lacked nine points for the victory, does in no way say they were beaten or outplayed; but filled with burning eagerness to get even in the next contest, is the essence of it all.

The old and bitter rival of the Orange and Maroon, challenging the utmost power and skill, ambition and hopes, started the game at a fast and energetic pace. The close calling of fouls and scrimmage together with the good sportsmanship of the student body made the game clean and interesting.

Bucknell took the lead in scoring by means of two fouls, but were soon left behind by the rapid scoring of Rogawicz and Leidick. Thus during the first half it was a question to the spectators who would win, (for the close alternating score varied but little. The half ended with the score favoring Bucknell 22-18.

After a rest, and sharp criticism by Coach Stahl the second half began. With a lead of four points and the accurate shooting of Searles, Bucknell was barely able to keep in the lead until the end.

The contest was hard fought and every man did his utmost. Sharp and quick plays by means of signals were frequent by the ability of Rogawicz at center; his locating of the basket for four goals in the first half adds more to his superior capability, but playing with a badly sprained ankle in the second half, handicapped him severely. The skillful floor work of Leidick, both defensive and offensive, was exceptional, his caging of fouls is a record seldom seen, which added much to the total score. The close guarding of Sweeley held Dayhoff to two goals. Sweeney and Raymer fought hard throughout the game and demonstrated fine floor work.

The close guarding on the part of Bucknell made it difficult on the part of the Orange and Maroon to score. Searles' fast working and ability to locate the basket did most of the scoring for Bucknell. Good team work and fast passing was a feature throughout the game."

CHANGES ARE MADE IN LOCAL SCHEDULE

Because of the number of postponed games, and also the fact that Sherwood Eddy is coming next week, the interfraternity basketball council has arranged a new schedule for the remainder of the season, as follows:

COLLEGE READY FOR EDDY CAMPAIGN

Chapel Filled Last Evening In Final Preparatory Service. Dr. Hamblin Delivers Splendid Address Before Students

Sherwood Eddy's campaign opened last evening with a mass meeting which crowded the chapel. D. F. Stewardson, who acted as chairman opened the meeting with the singing of the Alma Mater, followed by several hymns, interspersed with several special musical numbers. Miss Carolyn Hunt and Mrs. David Moyer sang a beautiful duet, "The Lord is My Shepherd." The men's Glee Club rendered "Whoso Dwelleth." A quartette composed of Miss Statler, Miss Bubb, Mr. Brown and Mr. Short sang "Unfold, Ye Portals Everlasting." The Girls' Glee Club made its first appearance before a home audience with great success, judging by the applause. Mr. Stewardson read a portion of scripture and several students offered prayer.

The address of the evening was made by Dr. Hamblin. Our beloved professor of Greek languages and literature, always ready to render any help asked of him, put forth his best for the occasion. For the benefit of those who could not attend, we will try to reproduce a mere outline of his message. His theme was the importance of morality in the development of civilization. He began by contradicting the prevalent idea that morality, or religion, concerns only Sunday school children and old people about to die. He drew a very fitting parallel between the components of a nation and those of a man, comparing the legislative body to the mind, the executive body to the physique, and the judiciary, the most important in government, to the morality or spirit of man.

Dr. Hamiblin referred his hearers to history, a sphere in which he is well versed. Taking us back into the ancient world, he pointed out the fact that the Greeks and the Hebrews have left the greatest marks on civilization because they were moral teachers. The moral life of Greece at its best was equal to that of the present day. The laws of Moses are an outline of common law, of the relations of man to man and to property, all of which are summed up in Christ's Golden Rule. The disregard of moral teaching is what brings ruin. When civilization forgot its moral teaching and turned to the doctrine of "eat, drink and be merry," the dark ages ensued. When the church forgot its morality the long age of stagnant materialism resulted. And coming with more recent history, he pointed out how Germany, neglecting her moral teaching for thirty years, almost wrecked civilization.

In the field of sociology, Dr. Hamblin dwelt on the obligations of individuals to society, taking as an example Robinson Crusoe, a man with all the necessities and even riches of life except society. 'Tis a poor sport, he said, who will not return the treat.

Dr. Hamblin closed his remarks with two very interesting memories of his youth. He pictured the old horse-power driven threshing outfit of the early West in which the feede had to keep a steady stream of sheaves pouring into the cylinder in order to maintain an even speed in the whole outfit. His other memoir was of an early tradition on the Mississippi. Whenever two of those early steamboats came near each other it was a signal for a race. Full steam was called for and in order to obtain greater speed the old slogan, "Tie a nigger to the safety-valve," was resorted to. With safety valves tied down, many boilers blew up, many vessels sank to the bottom of the great river and many lives were lost. The more modern invention of the governor controls these pent-up forces. The governor of humanity he indicated as the moral or spiritual nature of man.

SMOKY CITY GRADS HOLD BEST BANQUET

The basketball team was the guest of the Pittsburgh Alumni Association at its annual banquet in Pittsburgh on Saturday night. Over 175 alumni attended, this being the largest number ever attending such a banquet in that city. Besides the basketball team, Dr. Hunt, Professor and Mrs. Lindeman and Arda C. Bowser '23, were guests.

Roy Boswick '05, was toastmaster. Dr. Hunt discussed plans for a bigger and better Bucknell, emphasizing the building campaign and the movement to strengthen the faculty. Professor Lindeman's talk was one of praise and commendation for the work done by the Pittsburgh Alumni society. Arda C. Bowser and Graduate Manager Glass also gave short talks.

After the speeches, the younger members and a few of the older ones danced, while the rest spent the time getting acquainted with new Bucknellians, and reacquainted with old ones.

This "get-together" was one of the best ever held by an alumni organization. It went far to help maintain the Pittsburgher's reputation for being the "peppiest alumni organization of them all."

DIFFY'S COLLEGE FIVE FINE HOSTS

Diffy's College Five and Phi Gamma Delta acted jolnily as hosts to the different fraternity men of the college at a dance given Saturday evening at the Phi Gam house. As this event was not arranged for until noon Saturday, no elaborate preparations could be made by the hosts, but every person who attended remarked at the good feeling demonstrated and also at the excellent brand of music given by the orchestra. The dance lasted from 8 until 11, with at least one representative from every fraternity present, while Mrs. A. W. Johnson and Miss Florence Fowler acted as chaperones.

The following students comprise Diffy's College Five: C. E. Diffendafer, manager, pianist; Dorris, violinist; Melhuish and Woodring, Saxophones, and Brandt, drums.

LAST GAME SATURDAY

Due to inability to get together a team for the alumni game scheduled for Saturday, the varsity will close its season by palying a team composed of the best interfraternity teams. Those to play will be notified early this week. This game will be under varsity management, with the usual requirement of athletic tickets for admission, and the usual recognition of the privileges of the reserve seat holders.

MECHANICAL PICTURE TUESDAY

At a meeting of the Mechanical Engineering Society held Friday afternoon, it was decided to have the society picture taken on Tuesday at one o'clock at the studio of Miss Shields. As this is the picture to be published in the L'Agenda, a full turnout of all Mechanical Engineers is requested. Robert Hulsizer gave a complete report of the A. S. M. E. convention held in New York City. Mr. Hulsizer was the representative of the local branch at those meetings, and his report was interesting and instructive, and was well received by those present.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB DELIGHTS WINFIELD IN FIRST CONCERT

ASSISTED BY A FEW MALE ADMIRERS THEY INVADE A NEARBY TOWN

NUMBERS ARE WELL RECEIVED

"Tiny" Hazen and Carolyn Hunt Bring Down House with Comic Interpretation of Carmen.

The inhabitants of the little city of Winfield awoke from their long winter's nap on Saturday evening and welcomed the Girls' Glee Club of Bucknell University. This was the initial appearance of this organization, a novel experience for the girls and one long to be remembered by all who made the trip. Representatives of the men's glee club proved to be loyal devotees and Messrs. Cloward, Hratz, Keech and Slsserson were much in evidence, especially when it came to applauding, "smashing baggage," and helping in other ways.

From beginning to end the concert was a huge success, and much credit is due Prof. Stolz for his untiring efforts as director. Every number on the program was rendered in true college style, full of pep and enthusiasm, and all were well received. The hit of the evening was "Scenes from Carmen," rendered by Carolyn Hunt and "Tiny" Hazen. The impromptu costumes and dramatic impersonations are beyond description and must be seen to be appreciated. In encore "Tiny" was introduced as Madam Tetrazinni, while Carolyn Hunt introduced herself as Madam Shumanheink, Jr.

Miss Susanne Statler pleased her audience with "Mon Desir" and Miss Esther Fleming and Miss Mary Reed were well received in their solos. Th work of the octette and quartette is noteworthy and lacked nothing in pep and snap. Miss Carolyn Hunt rendered Scotch ballads very effectively.

Next Friday evening, March 11th, the club will sing in the Reformed church in Milton.

The programnh was as follows:

1. "De Coppah Moon," Shelley, chorus.
2. "Mon Desir," Nevin, vocal solo, Susanne Statler.
3. "Sleep, Ma Honey," Wilson, octette.
4. "Rigoletto," Verdi-List, piano solo, Mary Reed.
5. "Two Marionettes," Cooke, chorus.
6. Scotch Ballads—vocal solo, Carolyn Hunt.
7. "Souvenir de Wieniawski," Haesche, violin solo, Esther Fleming.
8. "The Shoogy Shoo," Ambrose, chorus.
9. "Little Boy Blue," Adams, Cecil Hazen, Ada Thomas, Frances VanCleaf, Carolyn Hunt.
10. Scenes from "Carmen," Cecil Hazen and Carolyn Hunt.
11. (a) "The Snow." (b) Humoreske, "Swanee River," Dvorak-Wilson, chorus.

WORK WELL UNDER WAY

True to the promise that work upon the new buildings for the university would be started as soon as weather conditions permitted, preliminary construction on the addition to the Chemistry Laboratory is under way. About two weeks ago, when fair weather seemed assured, a number of the fine trees to the east of the laboratory were felled and cut up. Hauling of materials was also begun shortly before the heavy snow of a week since. This storm delayed work for a few days, but the middle of last week hauling had been resumed.

INTERFRATERNITY SEASON DRAWING CLOSE TO END

ONLY A FEW SCHEDULED GAMES REMAIN TO BE PLAYED THIS WEEK.

PHI PSIS STILL RETAIN LEAD

Lambda Chi Alpha and League Leaders to Tangle in One of Season's Best Games This Evening.

The day of 1921 Interfraternity basketball is passing; clubs are playing their last few games, elimination for the championship is being completed. But the contests are not, however, losing interest, for each team is desirous of standing as well as possible in the final count and the last few games even among those somewhat low on the percentage scale have proved fast and close.

Such were the game of the Phi Gams and the Delta Sigs,[?] and the contest between the Kappa Sigs and the Beta Kappa Psis, played last Thursday evening in the gymnasium.

The Delta Sigs got away to a running start in the first half and continued the lead of three or more points through the entire first half. In the second half the Phi Gams secured only one point but the Delta Sigs caged one two-counter and four fouls, finishing with sixteen points to eight held by the Phi Gams. Foxal was the scorer for the Delta Sigma five and Reed high man for the Phi Gams.

The second game of the evening was the more exciting and the members displayed more concerted attack and united teamwork. Shots from all angles on the floor frequently dropped through the baskets of both teams. Mohler and Morgan for the Kappa Sigs and Mussina for the Beta Kappa Psis played their usual active floor games and caged repeatedly for their teams.

The Forum team succeeded in winning from S. A. E. after a hard struggle Saturday afternoon by the score of 17-14. S. A. E. started the scoring, Rooney dropping in a foul basket immediately after the game began. This was followed by a good exhibition of floor play by both team in which Davis succeeded in scoring twice and Seybold once. The S. A. E.'s were leading 11-8 at half time. The Forums came back strong in the second half, Gehret scoring twice on long shots from the center of the floor, followed by a nice two-pointer by Davis, which put the Forums in the lead. A basket by Kishbaun clinched the game, the score standing 17-14 at the final whistle. The all-around paying of the Forum team was the feature.

The Demies and Non Frats fought out a hard game Saturday afternoon, the Non Frats finlaly winning out by the score of 25-24. The Non Frats started right off at the beginning and baskets by Robb, Coe and Miller gave them quite a commanding lead which the Demies were unable to overcome. Immediately after the opening of the second half, the Demies seemed to locate the basket, Foxall netting the ball four times in this period and Walker three times, bringing both teams on nearly an even footing. The Non Frats then began to score again and succeeded in keeping in the lead until the end of the game. Foxall Walker and Talgley were the heavy

WESTERN TRIP IS A GREAT SUCCESS

Pitt, Duquesne And Juniata Bow To Orange And Blue Passers, But Carnegie Tech Noses Out A Two Point Victory

Bucknell, in its first game of its western trip, defeated Juniata 27-19 at Huntingdon on Tuesday night. The game was quite fast, each team putting up a high calibre of ball, far superior to the game played between the two at Lewisburg last week.

Dayhoff was high scorer for Bucknell with four baskets; Searles had three, Dietrich two and Bihl and Wilshach each one. Donelson was best for Juniata with five field goals and five fouls.

Juniata scored first with a field goal. After Bihl had shot a foul Dietrich caged two pretty baskets from the center of the floor, putting the Orange and Blue in the lead, of which they were never overtaken. Two baskets by Dayhoff and one each by. Bihl and Searles, all of which were pretty shots from difficult angles, added to our score. The half ended with Bucknell 15, Juniata 9.

In the second half Juniata was more fortunate in locating the basket, getting five field goals. The teamwork of the Orange and Blue was even better this half than it was the first, and as a result, five more baskets were gained.

The splendid floor work of the team received praise from the crowd, as did the accurate shooting of the forwards, Dietrich and Bihl, were, on hand with their close guarding, while Wilshach was getting the jump on his man at center.

The lineups:

Bucknell	Place	Goal	Foul	Points
Dayhoff	f	4	0	8
Searles	f	3	0	6
Wilshach -	c	1	0	2
Bihl	g	1	5	7
Dietrich	g	2	0	4
Totals		11	5	27
Juniata	Place	Goal	Foul	Points
Donelson	f	5	5	15
Griffith	c	0	0	0
Wolfgang	g	1	0	2
Oller	g	1	0	2
Totals		7	5	19

Fouls—Bihl 5 out of 9; Donelson 5 out of 8. Referee, Neff, Penn State.

In the second game of the trip Bucknell surprised the strong Pitt team, beating them 23 to 29. The game was slow, but this in now way detracts from the victory which was well deserved, resulting from a hard-fought game.

The victory brought joy to the large number of Bucknell alumni who were on hand and who hoped for a win, but hardly expected it over such a fast rival.

There was no individual star for either team. Each man deserves credit for the game he played. Both teams were off in foul shooting, and both had many hard luck misses at baskets.

Searles was heavy scorer of the game, with five baskets and three fouls, a total of thirteen points. Dietrich can perhaps be considered Bucknell's star, for he held Pitt's best bet, Jordan, to one basket. All year Jordan has been scoring eight and ten in every game.

The first half was even as far as scoring, ending 9 to 9. Bucknell frequently "froze" the ball under its own basket, which succeeded in making the Pitt team play a different style of ball than its usual fast game. This was necessary, too, because of the five-man defense used by the Panthers.

The game was faster in the second half. Both teams kept even, until it stood 18 to 18. Dietrich passed one the length of the floor to Searles, which the latter caged. The pass and shot were both neatly executed.

After this the Orange and Blue

FORUMS ENJOY RECENT PARTY

A most enjoyable week-end party was held by Gamma Lambda Sigma over the week-end of February 25-26 and 27. The affair was begun with the annual winter dance of the fraternity, which was given at the Lewisburg club on Friday night. The ball-room was made most attractive for the occasion by menas of banners and soft-colored lights. The music was furnished by "Diffy's" harmonizers and was of the highest order.

Among the guests were Messers C. B. Moore, Sigma Chi; A. R. Hain, S. A. E.; H. S. Eisley, Delta Sigma; H. A. Larson, Lambda Chi Alpha; G. J. Schuyler, Phi Gamma Delta; S. A. Epler, Phi Kappa Psi; E. Kallay, Kappa Sigma; W. T. Jolly, Phi Theta Sigma; S. T. Wargo, Kappa Sigma; W. D. Galbraith, Beta Kappa Psi; and R. A. Mason, president of the Senior class.

The dance was chaperoned by Dr. and Mrs. L. H. Breisch, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Birchard and Professor and Mrs. A. L. Herrold.

On Saturday evening an informal dance was given at the house, the music being furnished by Wilson's Jazz Hounds. A feature of the evening was a moonlight waltz, a "moon" having been hung at each end of the room. "Cy" Haus and "Soup" Moore were welcome guests.

THELMA GIVEN PLEASED STUDENTS

Thelma Given, well-named the "Rhapsodist of the Violin," appeared before a large and appreciative audience in the Baptist church, Lewisburg, on Thursday evening, March 3rd. Her numbers were among the finest compositions for the violin.

The "Chaconne" (Vitali,) the brilliant Tartini number, the beautiful "C Minor Sonata" of Grieg and the Paganni "Caprice," all of which possess manifold difficulties, were each given a virile and artistic interpretation. "In a Boat," was realistic and the "Song of India," possessed much charm in beauty of tone. The Brahms waltz was brilliantly executed.

Miss Given's program throughout was artistic and masterly in style. The program was as follows:

1. "Chaconne," Vitali.
2. "Sonata, C Minor." Grieg.
3. (a) "In a boat," Debussy. (b) "Nocturne," Chopin. (c) "Variations," Tartini-Kreisler.
4. (a) "Caprice," No. 20, Paganni. (b) "Song of India," Rimsky, Korsakoff. (c) "Hungarian Dance," Brahms.

U. U. ATHLETICS ADVANCING

The Pittsburgh Leader, of Thursday, March 3, published the following editorial. This goes a great way in showing how Bucknell stands in the "Smoky City:"

BUCKNELL GETS AWAY

"The Bucknell university basketball team opened up its invasion of local territory last night by beating Pitt. Tech will be played tonight and Duquesne tomorrow night. The collegians from Lewisburg are just showing their prowess, and it is a forerunner of what they will do in years to come hereabouts.

"Bucknell will surely take its place in Western Pennsylvania intercollegiate athletics, along with the other topliners, a position it is entitled to."

DEVEREUX PLAYERS SCORE BIG HIT

On Tuesday night the Devereux Dramatic Company presented, under the auspices of Theta Alpha Phi, the play, "Ghosts," in Bucknell Hall. The play was a grand success from all points of view. The chapel hall was almost filled and the acting was of the highest quality.

Devereux was absent from his company and his place was taken by Dan Keilth. This was his first appearance in the role of the son and too much credit could not be given him for the fine way he acted the part. Zinita Graf, as Mrs. Alving, fully lived up to her reputation and her portrayal of the character was perfect. Edmund Forde, as Pastor Manders, was so much in his part that it was impossible to separate him from it. The other two characters, Walter Filson and Percy Longstreet, as Jacob Engstrand and Regina respectively, carried out their parts in great style and added greatly to the play. The play was very interesting and instructive and was greatly enjoyed by everyone.

LYCEUM MEETING

In accordance with plans under which the Bucknell Lyceum was founded upon its work, the next meeting of the organization will be the last this year. When formed, it was decided to begin late in the fall and end early in the spring, after and before any outdoor activities were in progress. No meeting will be held on Wednesday afternoon, March 16. Further announcement will be made later.

She coiled her locks,
Lily arm
Encircled her
"Do you love me?"
She murmured.
A kiss
Was my reply.
The door slammed!
Her father!
No go!
My ear was caught
In her hair net!—Pelican.

Now Ain' It?

Remember Brother Freshmen!
One night
After twelve o' lock
You were lyin'
On your bed
Trembling
As the Night Riders
Came stealthily down the hall
And they banged at the next door
And then
Passed yours by—
Ain't it a grand and glorious feelin'?

KIPLING DAY AT BUCKNELL LYCEUM

Last week's meeting of the Bucknell Lyceum was devoted to Rudyard Kipling. The program was quite varied and interesting, and those who gathered in the chapel were well pleased with it. While the audience was not so large as it should have been, it was appreciative.

Prof. L. L. Rockwell gave a very comprehensive review of Kipling's life, his works, and his present-day reputation. Following are some of the high lights from the speech: Rudyard Kipling was born in Bombay, India, in 1865, of very able parents. At the age of five he was sent off to England for his education; and at eighteen returned to the country of his birth with the intention of pursuing a journalistic career. After a year or two, however, he entered into what was destined to become his life work, when his first book came out in 1886. Three years later he returned to England by way of the United States, from which trip the "Impressions of America," emerged. In 1890, his first novel, "The Light that Failed," appeared, it being remarkable because Kipling wrote two different endings to it. After his marriage to an American, he resided for four years in Vermont. Then he took his trip through the British colonial possessions, his writings concerning these winning for him the title of the "Hight Priest of the British Empire." Kipling's later work, however, has been deteriorating, and is far from being equal to his earlier writings. The works of his youth have been criticised as being unfair to women, containing few philosophical ideals, and being overdrawn.

Lawrence Kimball sang "On the Road to Mandalay," accompanied by Kathryne Wagner, and responded to an encore with "Banjo Song." Harry F. Roye recited Kipling's "If," and was followed by Clara Casner, who gave a parody on "If." Emily Devine recited "Gunga Din." All of these numers where well delivered and added much to the enjoyment of Kipling.

The last feature of the afternoon was the giving of "The Incarceration of Mulvaney," by Prof. G. F. Rassweiler. The professor's handling of this story almost converted some of his Frosh students in the audience to his standard. For those who had never read the story, the number was a delihtgful treat, while for those who had read it, a new insight into some of the parts and a general better understanding of the whole spirit of the story resulted.

DEMIE'S PARTY GREAT SUCCESS

Washington's birthday was a happy day for Delta Sigma, when about fifteen of the men raided the "Sem" and took their fair prizes on a lengthy sleigh ride. The objective was Forest Inn, which was reached about one o'clock, after a three-hour ride. Two sleighs were needed to carry the couples. The asinine quadrupeds attached to one of the sleighs caused much trouble to their passengers both coming and going, forcing them to dismount and plod up the hills in the cold, deep snow.

Discomforts were forgotten at Forest Inn, however, for there was warmth and food. The lads and lassies had their fill of chicken and waffles and ice cream, and all the fixin's. One "lad" held the record with twenty waffles downed, in addition to the rest of the stuff.

The ride home was uneventful,—that is to say—it was no better and not worse than the going out. Under the careful manipulation of the chaperones, Prof. and Mrs. Harrold, the "Sem" was safely reached by seven o'clock.

BASKETBALL TRIP

played safe while Pitt fought hard to start some scoring, but Pitt's best was two fouls, while Coach Glass' five got one foul and one field goal.

The Pittsburgh Dispatch gives the following account of the Bucknell-Pitt game, showing the excellent calibre of the work done by the Orange and Blue:

"The Pitt basketball team was defeated by Bucknell last night in Trees gym, the score being 23 to 20. Neither team appeared to have much of an advantage during the first period of the game, the half ending in a deadlock, 9 to 9.

The one big factor in the Bucknell victory was the excellet shooting and footwork of Searles, who succeeded in netting five field goals for his side. Close guarding held Jordan to one lone field goal, and the lanky forward was considerably off form on the foul line, registering but 8 out of 17 attempts.

Considerable enlivenment was occasioned during the interval between periods by the arrival of sophomore banqueters, regaled in colorful costumes and Hallowe'en noise-making instruments."

The lineups:

Fouls—Jordan 8 out of 17; Bihl 0 out of 6; Searles 3 out of 6. Referee, Baird.

In what was the fastest game of the trip, Carnegie Tech defeated the Orange and Blue, 34 to 31. With one and one-half minutes to go, the score stood a tie at 31, when the Skibos nosed out Bucknell with a field goal and a foul. The Tartan victory was well earned, and was gained by a last-minute punch which the Orange and Blue, the strain of the hard trip showing, was unable to produce.

Bihl showed up best for Bucknell with four baskets and 13 fouls, a total of 21 points. Searels contributed three baskets. Dosey was Tech's best, scoring 22 of their points with three baskets and 16 fouls.

A fair writeup of the game, as it appeared in the Pittsburgh Gazette-Times, follows:

"The basketball game last night between Carnegie Tech and Bucknell, on the locals' floor, for the most part resolved itself into a foul-shooting duel between Dosey of the Tartans and Bihl of the visitors, the former getting 16 out of 21 tallies, and the latter 13 out of 17. The game was close, and hard-fought from the first whistle, with the Techites having the upper hand during the majority of the struggle. Carnegie won the game, 34 to 31, but it was anybody's game from the last 10 minutes until the final whistle blew.

Both teams started off at a furious clip and were pretty well used up at the conclusion of the first half of play, which ended 15 to 14 in favor of the Plaid. The Skibos returned for the second period with grim determination to score a decisive victory over the conquerors of the Pitt squad, and succeeded in running the score up to 22 points in about two minutes. From then on they were never headed by the invaders.

"Dosey and Bihl, aside from brilliant performances on the foul line, aided materially in running up the scores of their respective sides, the lanky blond netting three double-deckers and his competitor from Lewisburg registering four.

"The teamwork of the Tech team showed vast improvement over anything seen this year, and the wares they displayed last night would have made them a worthy opponent for any quintet in the state."

Fouls—Bihl, 13 out of 17; Dosey 15 out of 21. Umpire, Daugherty; referee, Baird; scorer, Reamer; timer Waddell.

Two baskets by Bihl in the last two minutes of play defeated the strong Duquesne University team in the last game of the Pittsburgh trip, 26 to 25. This game was not as well played as that of the night before, Bucknell being a trifle off in floor work, while the "Dukes" were shooting poorly until the last ten minutes, when they overcame the lead of the Orange and Blue, with several field goals in quick succession.

Bihl showed his best for Bucknell with three field goals and 12 fouls. Searles got two baskets and showed up well in floor work. On Dietrich's withdrawal from the game, due to injury, Bunting took his place. Bunting guarded Clinsing, the "Duke's" best man, holding him to one basket in the last part of the first half, and one in the second.

The first half was all Bucknell's, ending 12 to 8 in our favor. Duquesne was unable to locate the basket this half, getting but two baskets.

When the second half opened, they determined to cut down the lead and staged a rally, which by the middle of the half found things a tie. From then on both teams were fighting to gain a sufficient lead to enable them to "freeze" the ball. With two minutes to go, it stood 24 to 22 in favor of the "Dukes," when Bihl came thru with his two goals from field. Duquesne scored a foul, and the whistle ended the battle.

The lineups:

VOLUNTEERS MET AT LAFAYETTE

The sixteenth annual convention of Student Volunteers of Eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey met at Lafayette College, Easton, on Friday, February 25. Four hundred delegates, representing twenty colleges, were present. Delegates from Bucknell were Samuel Rickard, Donald Cloward, Perry Rogers, Preston Bechtel, Merl Colvin, Elizabeth Conffer, Laura Smith, Nellie Balliet, Jennie Burke, Dorothy Davis, Caroline Hunt, Esther Dodson, Ruth Brown and Harriet Kinsman.

The program was as usual, inspiring and enlightening. At the meeting Friday evening Dr. J. A. Haas, president of Muhlenburg College, made the opening address. A series of addresses and conferences occupied Satruday morning, afternon and evening. At eight o'clock Saturday evening the conference adjourned to enjoy a concert given by the combined musical clubs of Lafayette and Rutgers. The conference closed at six o'clock on Sunday. Prominent among the speakers were Dr. Robert E. Speer, D. D., Ll. D., secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian church of U. S. A.; Dr. Wm. D. Mackenzie, D. D., LL. D., President of Hartford Seminary Foundation, Hartford, Conn.; Dr. U. B. Anderson, secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions of the United Presbyterian church and Dr. Harry P. Dorman, M. D., medical missionary to the Near East.

The delegates were royally entertained by the College and by the citizens of Easton and such geniality and friendly rivalry reigned among the different colleges, that every delegate pronounces the conference a pleasant as well as a helpful success.

Echoes of the conference will be heard in the Christian Endeavor of the Baptist church, probably Sunday evening, March 20th.

PLANS FOR SHERWOOD EDDY

According to schedule, Sherwood Eddy will arrive at Bucknell Tuesday afternoon. His program is in part tentative but several things are assured. His first address will be delivered in Bucknell Hall on Tuesday evening at 7:30, to men only. At the same time Mrs. Eddy will speak to the girls in Women's College. It is also sure that Mr. Eddy will speak at Chapel both Wednesday and Thursday mornings. The time and place of other meetings are pending the arrival of Mr. Eddy. Attend the meeting Tuesday evening and watch the regular bulletin board for later developments.

INTERFRAT GAMES

From Paeg One

scorers for the Demies while Coe, Miller and Robb kept the scorers busy chalking up their baskets.

On Tuesday the Demies and Forums tough out a very close game, the Demies winning by the score of 23 to 21. The game was hard fought all the way, the score first being in favor of one team and then the ohter. The game might have ended in a tie had DeCoursey shot a few seconds earlier, as the ball dropped thru the net immediately after the whistle blew, but the basket did not count. Foxall, Tingley and Ross played a fine game for the Demies, while DeCoursey was the leading point scorer for the Forums.

On Monday night the Non-Frats suffered their second defeat in the hands of the Sigma Chi quintete. The team work and accurate passing and shooting was too much for the Non-Frat aggration, which was not up to its usual form. Dorris made the initial score and later Mangan further added to it. Hall intercepted a pass and shot a basket, thus making the first score for that team. Townsend made a field goal and Horan a foul goal, making the score 7-3 in the Sigs favor. But the Non-Frats were not to be left behind, for Treadwell made a pretty basket from the middle of the floor and Coe followed with another one, thus tying the score at 7 points. However, Woodring broke the tie with a field goal and Mangan further increased their lead with two more goals before the end of the first half, which ended in a 14-7 score.

In the second half Townsend and Miller scored two points for their respective teams, thus starting the scoring. The Sigs proceed to greatly increase their lead and the game soon became spiritless when the Non-Frats apparently lost their old-time fighting spirit. The Non-Frats succeeded in scoring 3 points in the second half and the game ended in a Sig victory with a score of 32 to 10.

In the second game Lambda Chi defeated the Kappa Sigmas by a score of 22-20 in a hard and close game. Aleshouckas started the scoring with a field goal and Doc Mohler in turn made the initial score for Kappa Sigma. The Lambda Chi team played a fine passing game while the passing of the Kappa Sig team was poor. The score was tied at 4 points. The Kappa Sigs obtained many tries at foul goals but lacked an accurate foul shooter and were not able to tally up many one-points. The Lambda Chis went in the lead and then the Kappa Sigs advanced to the front rank. The score was again tied at 8 points. Dinn made a field goal just before the whistle ending the half which nded in a 8-11 score.

Caldwell began the scoring in the second half with a field goal and the Lambda Chis further increased their lead with 3 more field goals while the Kappa Sigs were getting one field and one foul goal. Hahn and Aleshouckas were taken from the game and Arnold and Martin put in in their places. The scoring again became close at 20-19 and then Clare made the final score by cacing a pretty one from the middle of the floor. Caldwell played a wonderful game for the Lambda Chis, as did Mohler for the Kappa Sigs.

The S. A. E. shooting squad opened their guns on the diminutive Beta Kappa Pals on Wednesday afternoon, but their eyes did not seem to be in good condition and they won only with a margin of two points after a pitched battle. Bullock was the star of the game, scoring 18 of the S. A. E.'s 24 points. H. Mussina was the best scorer for the Beta Kappa's, caging 4 baskets, and with the able assistance of Long with 3 baskets, kept his team in the running. The first half ended with the S. A. E.'s on the small end of a 14-7 score. During the intermission, Dorey was switched from guard to forward and Williams went back to guard. After this change the S. A. E.'s woke up and forged ahead, thus capturing the honor end of a 24-22 score.

On Wednesday night the Kappa Sigs started the evening with an easy victory at the expense of Phi Theta Sigma, 47-7. The game was very uninteresting, due to the unevenly matched teams, but some enjoyment was gleaned from watching "Doc" Mohler and Hahn pile up the points. Mohler was the big scorer of the evening, caging 13 field goals. Hahn ran second with seven. The first half ended with the score 19-1. The Theta Sigmas finally located the basket in the second half, but not often enough.

The second game of the evening, between the Phi Gams and the Non Frats, was the most hotly contested of the three. It started off with the Phi Gams taking the lead and looked like another deftat for the Non Frats but the boys soon got their eye on the basket and forged ahead, never to be again overtaken. Miller was the star of the game with 5 baskets. Credit is due "Flatwheel" Lewis who was substituted for Rabb at the start of the second half. He practically won the game for the Non Frats by caging three weird shots from the center of the floor. Reed was the star of the Phi Gams with his close guarding and rapid passing. The first half ended with the Non Frats leading, 20-13. The second half was practically a repittition of the first with the Non Frats again outscoring their opponents. The game ended in favor of the Non Frats with the score of 33-23.

The third game, between the Sigma Chis and the Forum was an easy victory for the Sigs. They had their shooting eyes and every man on the team contributed something to the score. The Sigs seem to have hit their regular stride after two early season defeats. The passing of the Sig team was pretty to watch and Townsend made it worth while by caging 7 baskets. Gehret played a fine game for the Forums, but could not beat the Sigs single-handed. The first half ended with the score standing 19-9. The second half the Sigs increased their lead and the game ended with the score 36-13, the Sigs taking the bacon, eggs 'n ev'rything.

AN APPRECIATION

The management of the basketball team wishes to take the opportunity here to express its appreciation of all the kindnesses rendered the team on its recent trip to Pittsburgh. The alumni organization not only entertained the team members as its guests at the banquet, but also stood the expense of having the team stay for it. Besides his, they lunched the team Thursday noon, and aided greatly in its successful trip by turning out to all the games and being ever present to render innumerable favors. It can be truly said, "they have a Spirit."

NO NEW PLANS

When asked about the truth of the rumor that the new Engineering building would not be built this spring, Dr. John T. Judd, treasurer of the Univresity, replied that it was not worth denying it. Plans, he said, were made to begin work on the new addition to the Chemistry Laboratory as soon as possible, and then if possible to go ahead with the other building.

PLANS COMPLETE FOR BIGGER AND BETTER L'AGENDA

MUSICAL DEPARTMENT MAKES FIRST APPEARANCE IN THIS ISSUE

DEDICATED TO PROF. STOLZ

Time-Worn Campus Views and Faculty Cuts Are Relegated to Scrap Heap

With the sending of over half of the material to the printer the 1922 "L'Agenda" made its first definite step towards completion. In fact, plans for the book are nearly perfected, only a few minor details remaining to be settled. The book itself, while much the same in outside appearance as its predecessors, will be greatly improved in all departments in addition to having one or two new ones. The editor-in-chief, Finley Keech, together with his staff, has put much work on the new "L'Agenda" and prospects are that the work will not have been in vain. The manager, Hugh Kyttle, has had his difficulties with the labor market, etc., and he is by no means through.

The book is to be dedicated to Professor Paul George Stolz, head of the Music School. Prof. Stolz has been with Bucknell University for many years, and his untiring efforts in its activities, such as the musical organizations, are highly deserving of this recognition. The dedication is to be written by Dean Phillips. Following the dedicatory will be a memorial page for Dr. Enoch Perrine.

Eight pages of cameo-plate views are to be included. With but one or two exceptions, these views will be from fresh points of view, and photographs of the campus that have appeared in "L' Agendas" in the past will find no place. The editor has a novel way of indicating these views that is too good to spoil by explaining beforehand.

The faculty section will show another departure from the old way of doing things. Instead of the shop-worn, stiff photographs which have appeared, snap-shots will be the order. This section will occupy six pages.

The four classes are to be arranged in order of their importance and will have individual photogriphs placed in panel form, with seven pictures to a panel, and one panel to a page. Names, home towns, college organizations, etc., will appear opposite the pictures. The Junior class, will of course occupy the greatest space and be given the greatest consideration in all matters, as the book is essentially a production of this class. Of the two remaining classes the Sophomores will have considerable space devoted to them, while the Frosh will get all that is coming to them.

A new feature of this "L' Agenda" will be the Music School Department. There will be individual pictures of the Senior Musicals, while in this department will also be included the Glee Club, the Girls' Glee Club, and other organizations of like nature. The enrollment of the school will be included. This step has been taken because of the fact that this department in the cirriculum is as of vital importance as any other and should be accorded deserved recognition.

Fraternities and sororities and College Activities will be fully dealt with. Athletics will have a big department, and will include the records of all the seasons, and in addition the records of the interfraternity basketball season. The department will be headed with a full history of the beginnings of Athletics at Bucknell as written by Prof. Bromley Smith. Prof. Smith is fully capable of doing proper justice to an article of this sort, and he has done much research work in its preparation.

The Literary section, as prepared by the capable hands of Miss Nellie Balliet, will be the best in many years. The Calendar, on which most of the work has been done by Carl Geerlitz, will be another department of note, as those who know Geerlitz' skill will believe.

The Feature Section and the Fusser's Section will include many surprises for many of the students. The gum-shoe artists of the book have been busy clicking the cameras ever since the beginning of school last fall, and the pictures that are to

GROUPS ORGANIZE TONIGHT

Sherwood Eddy has come and gone. The question now is, "What are we going to do about it?" Fifty-one students have expressed a desire to join a Bible-study group. One hundred and thirty-five have signed for a class in social-industrial actudy. Forty-five have signed for summer work in nearby cities, to study the industrial situation.

A meeting is called for 7:30 this evening, in Bucknell Hall, for the formation of these study groups. The work will be discussed and leaders chosen. All who are interested, are invited.

TRACK SCHEDULE IS ANNOUNCED

CANDIDATES CALLED OUT FOR FIRST PRACTICE TODAY

Today Coach Glass has issued a call for candidates for the track squad. This form of athletics, once holding forth in Bucknell in a supreme place, is again to be taken up with full strength. No other sport can boast of such a history as track has had, starting in Greece many centuries ago with the ancient Olympics and continuing through time down to the modern Olympics. No other sport can boast of such a history of athletics of the various countries of the world to engage in international competition such as is held every four years by the Olympiad committee, including all the greatest and most progressive nations of the earth. No other sport can boast of such individual competition, based entirely upon skill, ability and condition. It is the fairest and hardest of them all—the best man wins. Track and field competition flourished at Bucknell years ago and upon track more than any other sport was based the athletic prestige of this institution in the latter years of the nineenth century. It continued, although not holding such a prominent position, until about 1912, when it again sprung forth with great force and for about four years mighty strong teams were produced. During the period of the war, track was given up. It was revived to some extent last year and this year it is hoped it will resume its former prominent place among the other forms of athletics at Bucknell. Let us all get behind the coach and the aspirants for the team and give them our full support! Let us help to put track where it belongs here! All who have ever engaged in this sport, come out and give the coach a chance to see what you can do. All who have never worn the spike shoe, come out and give the thing a chance—there is lots of chance for development. Track is so varied that, though of no value in one event, you can find some event which hard work will make you proficient in. Let us have a good number of men out tomorrow and the succeeding days. Practice will be held daily any time after three o'clock that is convenient. The coach will be at the gym and all should report to him.

Of the ten letter men from last year, eight of them are still in college. We lost Lovejoy, who entered Cornell, and Lighton, who graduated from college. But we have a nucleus of eight letter men around which to build a team. Haslam, who last year twice broke the Bucknell pole-vault record, can well hold down that event and should again break his own record. Treadwell, a good hurdler and high jumper, will again appear in track uniform and we know he can be depended upon. Williams, this year's captain, will again be in the narrow ring and he has a mighty heave. Hahn, a quarter-miler and dash man, will be on deck and will make the cinders fly and make someone step to beat him. Davis, a consistent tenpoint man last year, will again be out for the mile and two mile. Dinn, last year's star broad jumper and a mighty good one, will again leap for honors in this event. Moore will be out for the quarter and the half-mile. Dayhoff, who last year broke the low hurdle record, which was not, however, recognized, will again compete in the low hurdles and in the quarter-mile. Besides these letter men are such good men from last year's squad as Wren, Chapman, Morgan, Ross, Sisserson, Schmidt, and Jones. "Cy" Morgan, a former Bucknell track man, has decided to try a come-back and will

HEARTY RESPONSE TO SHERWOOD EDDY

Commencement Hall Crowded For Every Address--Townspeople Excluded. Mrs. Eddy Meets The Girls. Resumes Of All His Addresses

Sherwood Eddy, a world-figure in Christian work, delivered a series of fine addresses at Bucknell this week. Tuesday evening he spoke to the men in Bucknell Hall, while Mrs. Eddy met the girls at Women's college. On Wednesday and Thursday mornings he spoke in Commencement Hall during the Chapel period and the hour following. On Tuesday and Wednesday he spoke to practically the entire student body at the same place. The result of it all has been that the student body has awakened to a new sense of its personal needs and responsibilities; a new spirit is on foot for a bigger and better Bucknell.

In the addresses of Sherwood Eddy we have had the greatest messages which it has been the privilege of the student body to hear. The Bucknellian would be glad to print every one of them in full, especially the one on campus problems, delivered Wednesday night. Unfortunately, however, space permits only the barest outline of speeches which in themselves were concentrated.

THE WORLD PROBLEM

Returning from a visit to twenty countries in Europe and the Near East in hunger and famine, in war and revolution, Sherwood Eddy asked "What is wrong with the world? What does the world need today?" He enswered the question by saying the world needs bread, the world needs peace, the world needs God.

Mr. Eddy spoke of the world's need of bread among the two hundred millions suffering Europe, the atrocities in Armenia, and the famine in China. He spoke of the starvation and hunger in Russia, Poland, Austria, Germany, the Near East, and the famine district of China. He endorsed the appeal of Herbert Hoover on behalf of the students and starving children of Europe, pointing out that ten dollars saves a student.

Speaking of the need of peace, Mr. Eddy told of the strife on three fronts—national, racial and class strife. The ultimate issue of the War was between autocracy and democracy, militarism and freedom, might and right. Now, in the period of reconstruction, the world is struggling blindly on toward the realization of those three ideals for which men fought—Democracy, Liberty and Righteousness. We are in the midst of one of the great crises of all history, in a decade of transition, in one of the great migrations of the human spirit. Great as was the change produced by the French Revolution in France, so great will be the change for Europe and the world after the present war. Just as the period of Robespierre, the Guillotine and the Red Terror discredited France and threw England into reaction, so the present period of tyranny and the Red Terror in Europe is producing reaction. But when the smoke of battle cleared away and the ideal aims of Liberty, Equality, and Fraternity, with a republican France and a freer Europe, emerged, men realized the lasting gains of the French Revolution. So will it be after the great War in Europe, not only in the political spheres, but in the social and industrial realm. One sees the irresistible onward march of democracy in the world today. Following the Bourbons of France, the Romanoffs, the Hapsburgs, the Hohenzollerns—all the great autocracies of Europe. The social and industrial problem will be the crucial question before Europe and America in this decade. Mr. Eddy showed how Britain is finding a solution for the industrial problem not by revolution, but by evolution. He showed how capital and labor are getting together.

In closing, Mr. Eddy spoke of the final issue between idealism and materialism, between the spiritual and the pagan view of life. He showed how the students of Europe, after the War, are seeking to find a personal and vital relation to the source and ground of existence, and to a personal God. He referred to the students of Czecho-Slovakia, Egypt, Turkey, and other lands seeking with tremendous earnestness to find the meaning of life, and to realize the three great relationships, in a new relationship to God, a new standard of character, and a new spirit of service for humanity.

THE NATIONAL PROBLEM

Mr. Eddy devoted Wednesday morning to the solution of the problem of industrial strife. The world emerging from a war against war is making extensive preparation for more war. All solutions of the problem may be boiled down to two. One is summoned in the teaching of Jesus Christ. The other is offered by materialism. In outline they are:

SOCIAL	ANTI-SOCIAL
Personality	Property
Brotherhood	Strife
Service	Profit
Liberty	Repression
Justice	Injustice
Stewardship	Selfishness
Golden Rule	Rule of Gold
Love	Hate

Every student is going out to live, and is living now, one of these kinds of lives.

Labor is justly demanding five things:

1. A fair, living wage.
2. Regulation hours.
3. Insurance against unemployment.
4. A growing share industrially.
5. A fair share in profits.

Case after case was sighted in which industry, recognizing the human element in labor, was prospering. Capital is strongest recruiting officer for the I. W. W., by pushing its open-shop drives and other efforts to crush labor instead of recognizing it. The test of the sanity of a nation as well as of an individual, is whether in case of danger they remove the cause. We have the choice of seeing labor rise by evolution, by a period of Russian anarchy, or by the observence of the teaching of Jesus Christ.

CAMPUS PROBLEMS

On Wednesday evening Mr. Eddy spoke in an interesting, vital way of the problems of our own campus. He defined the test of education as its ability to develop all-round manhood and womanhood. He addressed himself to the problems of college life, basing his judgments on three fundamental principles of character.

1. Are you honest? Honesty in athletics means clean play for the team, no grand-stand stunts. Honesty in social relations means the expulsion of jealousy and pride, the promotion of real brotherhood among college groups. Honesty means the beginning of that life of service you are looking forward to, right now. China is tottering today because of the graft of her officials, most of whom are college men. Hughes traced the insurance scandals back to cheating learned in college. Honesty in classes means an inborn honor, higher than any honor system. Honesty to your own personal character means honest speech, the elimination of idle words, and honesty with the values of life, not the trust to chance which is fostered by petty gambling.

2. Are you in earnest? A realization that only one boy in a thousand gets through college should make us earnest. The habit of success is formed in college. Downright earnestness includes not only our

SWARTHMORE DEBATE

The intercollegiate debate with Swarthmore college, postponed last week, will be held Friday evening, March 18, in Bucknell hall. The question is, "Resolved, that labor should share in the management of corporate industry." Finley Keech '22, William H. Sugden '22, and Lawrence M. Kimball '23, will represent Bucknell on the negative side. Those who heard Sherwood Eddy on industrial reform will welcome this opportunity to hear able debaters thresh out what is considered one of the leading methods of securing the cooperation so essential between capital and labor. Admission is free.

PHI PSIS WIN BASKETBALL CUP

INTERFRATERNITY BASKETBALL ENDS—LAMBDA CHI SECOND

Monday evening's games were started by the Lambda Chis and the Phi Psis. This game might be termed the championship game of the season and it was certainly a fitting climax for the work of both teams. Neither team seemed to have any noticeable advantage over the other as the game was hard-fought from beginning to end. First one team would take the lead, hold it for a few minutes, and then the other would assume leadership. Thus the game see-sawed during the whole time and neither team was sure of victory until the final whistle blew. Aleshouckas started the scoring by tossing in a foul and the Lambda Chis maintained the lead through the first half which ended with the score 14-12.

In the second half the Phi Psis took more advantage of their free tosses and in so doing were able to carry away the honors of the evening and also the honors of the season. The game ended with the score standing, Phi Psis 22, Lambda Chis 20.

The game resolved itself into a foul-shooting contest in which Julian of the Phi Psis held a decided advantage over Aleshouckas, Julian making 8 out of 11 while Aleshouckas made only 6 out of 15.

Julian kept the Phi Psis in the running with 4 field goals and practically won the game by his wonderful shooting. The other members of the team deserve much credit as they all played hard and no man on the team seemed to have anything in view except that his team must win.

Dinn was the outstanding light on the Lambda Chi ship and really could be termed the star of the evening. With his wonderful floor work and good shooting he steered the Lambda Chi destroyer through very rough waters and was mainly the reason for their coming through the storm as successfully as they did. The other players also deserve honorable mention, in fact every man on the floor deserves credit, as they all played hard, clean and consistent basketball.

The second game was between the Sigs and the Beta Kappa Pels but due to the especially good game played before, it seemed to lag in interest and it really was very listless all the way through.

The Sigs held the upper hand all the way through and at no time did the Beta's played hard, against big odds. The game ended with the score standing 20-13.

At this juncture the crowd seemed to realize that interest was lagging and almost everyone left. Only one more game was to be played and as it could have no possible bearing on the championship, why wait?

The third game found the Kappa Sigs and the Non Frats coming together. This game started with a rush and before the Kappa Sigs knew what happened the Non Frats had scored 10 points. At this point the game began to lag, and it resulted in a slow-moving, free-shot contest. The Non Frats seemed to blow up with conceit at this stage of the game and like all other bubbles, they broke, with the usual result—that of coming out on the small end. Mohler was in again and scored 6 baskets and was practically the reason for the Kappa Sig's victory. The score at the end was Kappa Sigs 22, Non Frats 18.

VARSITY BEATS "VULTURES" IN CLOSE BATTLE

TRAINED VARSITY TOO MUCH FOR INTERFRAT CAGE STARS

MUCH INDIVIDUAL INTEREST

This Game Marks the End of a Successful Basketball Season for Bucknell

1921 basketball season for both varsity and interfraternity teams came to a close last Friday evening in Tustin Gymnasium when a representative team from the fraternities succumbed to the varsity combination. The score was 37 to 24. It was nothing more or less than the combination of the varsity, which had been working perfectly for the entire season, defeating some of the best college fives in the East, that won for the wearers of the "B."

Men from four fraternities composed the representative team which ran under the name of the "Vultures." Phi Psi, Lambda Chi, Forum and Kappa Sig men played against Bucknell's best and gave Coach Glass' men a game worth while.

For five full minutes after the opening whistle neither team caged a field goal. The first score of the game was made by Caldwell for the fraternities, when receiving a clever pass from Wren he ran down the floor, eluded the varsity guards and threw a goal with one arm. Dihl however, immediately followed suit for the varsity and from then on until the last few minutes of play in the first period the fraternity men led by one or more points. At this time Boating connected with the basket three times in succession and put the Varsity ahead so at half time the score stood 16 to 8.

Fraternity men started the game with a dash which showed in sharp contrast to the playing of the varsity which was always a bit listless until they were shown that the "Vultures" were worthy contestors of their fame.

From the opening of the second half, on until the final whistle, the contest took on a new note of importance to the Varsity for the fraternity men climbed to within one point of their score. For the larger part of the second half they hung tenaciously to their postings, but a few points behind. But in the last minutes of play the varsity got going and maintained a lead of eight to more points.

The "Vultures" played a hard game and a good game. It was the first time they had been together. The varsity as a team and as individuals outplayed their opponents but only became for weeks and weeks they had been working together under a competent coach. For the first half the varsity got the jump on the fraternity men, but quick, conscientious work by the representative team more than once hindered the execution of signals.

The game is over. Basketball for this year is finished. Bucknell has through her varsity basketball team established an enviable record of many victories and few close defeats. The interfraternity league has shown more real material for future varsities. The mid-winter cage sport at Bucknell has indeed been a success.

Y. W. C. A. ELECTS OFFICERS

Y. W. C. A. election of officers took place at the Women's college on Monday night with the result that Emma Kunkle is president, Esther Flemming vice president, Eleanor Little secretary, and Aravilla Peters treasurer. Installation of officers will take place on Monday night. Doubtless a great many girls will be out for meeting, due to Sherwood Eddy's lectures the past week. It looks as though the Y. W. will be in for an era of success. Best wishes and success to the newly-elected officers as well as much thanks and appreciation to the retiring ones.

STUDENT FORUM

Dear Editor:-

Just a few remarks anent the article, "Did Bucknell win or did they lose?" which appeared in a recent issue of the Bucknellian.

It seems that through the courtesy of Editor Duncan, we have been accorded the rare privilege of "seeing ourselfs as ithers see us"—a privilege which is, in these superheated days, unfortunately quite rare indeed.

The article, with admirable frankness, voices what is evidently believed to be a legitimate kick. An honest expression of opinion is always entitled to some consideration; the amount of which it is entitled depending, of course, upon the nature and worth of the opinion. (We believe this to be a good rule if we ARE temporarily repudiating it by devoting so much space to the "Times" effort.

You see, friend Ed., we object to said article. In fact, we may even go so far as to say that it makes us hopping, mad. According to the "Times," the "honest opinion of the Gettysburg players was that Gettysburg lost to Bucknell because * * * Referee Earnest * * * who is not a Board official * * * practiced in calling fouls on Bucknell tallies less necessary points so often." We are further informed that "Such treatment * * * topples Bucknell from the high pedestal," etc., infuriating, it would seem, that the official was bought, coerced or otherwise influenced into favoring Bucknell. Such an allegation is unworthy of Gettysburg and it is to be regretted that they have allowed themselves to detract in the least from the ethics of intercollegiate sports.

The last paragraph of the article is worthy of notice. It is as follows:- "All of which leads to the question, Did Bucknell win in point of score or in point of sportsmanship?" Our judgment would be that in this case Gettysburg has won in neither. In both the game and in the aftermath of the same they have failed—in the former pluckily and honorably, while in the latter * * *

A SENIOR.

Dear Editor:-

I generally manage to steer clear of this heavy restriction stuff, but when the exigencies of the occasion demand, I can be galvanized into swinging a verbal shillalah, or heaving half- coherent brick-bats with the best (or worst) of them.

When Gettysburg paper gives space and credence to statements of opinion between the Bucknell basketball team and a referee, it becomes painfully obvious that their sense of proportion and decency has become so far atrophied and that any remodelling influences in Gettysburg must needs be introduced in the place from outside sources. I have nominated me to be one of said sources.

Their inference of cahoots between referee and the varsity is too ridiculous to be given any consideration whatsoever. Furthermore, their protest that Earnest was not a Board official can be considered only a technical one in view of the fact that, we hear, Earnest was admitted to the central Board only a few days after the game in question.

So it all resolves itself down to this—Gettysburg was chagrined at losing a hard-fought game by the narrow margin of one point. They said that the better team had been cheated out of an earned victory. In the good old days, before newspaper space became so cheap, athletic teams had a crude, rough, uncultured way of settling such differences of opinion by the simple process of playing a deciding game.

The score now stands 1 and 1, and we understand that Gettysburg has been challenged to a third deciding game on a neutral floor, but so far we have failed to detect any loud chorties of joy coming from the south-west.

Let's go, gents—it's no trouble to show goods. Signed,

VOX PUBLICAE.

STUDENT CHAPEL

The crowning event of the Sherwood Eddy campaign was the chapel service held in Commencement Hall Friday morning by the student body, faculty excluded. Led by "Dick" Mason, Senior president, the meeting resolved itself into something like an old-fashioned "experience meeting." No less than twenty students arose and told frankly what they had received from the addresses of Sherwood Eddy. Two worth-while reforms were discussed. One was an honor system of examinations. The other was a new system of "Coeducational Student Government," aimed to exclude "rotten politics" from the circles of Bucknell. President Mason expressed a desire to see a more democratic form of student government in which the power of one man, the Senior president, is more restricted. He will appoint a committee of leading men and women of the college to formulate a constitution for such a government. Announcement of the results of this action will be published in the near future.

GIRLS HOLD STUDENT CHAPEL

Student's Chapel was held in the living room of the Women's college on Sunday night, resembling that held by the student body on Friday morning. Results of Sherwood Eddy's lectures were discussed as well as suggested reforms about the school. Dorothy Devine was leader.

S. A. E. FOUNDERS' DAY

All that the Fourth of July means to us as a part of America, Founder's Day means to a fraternity man, and Sig Alphs experienced the thing last Wednesday, March 9. The affair was more than one which savored of the most unique and sumptuous repast imaginable; it had the flavor of a symposium, combined with an evening of smokes and music and good fellowship. Recalling memories around the founding of S. A. E. the toastmaster at the banquet brought forth points of interest and introduced speakers who put such things before the members to make the future of the Fraternity more in keeping with past ideals.

The entire affair was arranged into a banquet and smoker. The older fellows started dropping in all day long and at seven thirty grace was murmured above a board set with all the delicacies of the season. Wilcox '04, acted as toastmaster. Lewis '98, Butler '98, McNitt 1900, Tyson '10, Bender '18 and Stewart ex '22, were back for the occasion. The menu was striking in itself and was as follows:

New Spring Fashions

In many details, they will be much finer than you are accustomed to seeing in our Milton stores, or even much larger cities.

In the main, these gowns are modern, with all the beauty and grace and slender loveliness the term implies—beautiful, wearable, womanly clothes; and as for variety and individuality, there will be not only a style for every woman, but something to suit her every mood.

—Glittering Paillette gowns for evening wear.
—Beaded Georgette dance frocks.
—Dinner frocks of every kind.
—Crepe de Chine frocks—many in light shades.
—Aristocratic Canton crepe dresses—tailored and trimmed.
—Plain tailored suits—plenty of smart styles.
—Check flannel skirts, with tweed sport coats.
—Tailored English looking tweed top coats.
—Sport coats and capes.
—Misses' tailored wool dresses for street wear.
—Silk novelty over-blouses.
—Lace-trimmed blouses to wear with jackets.
—Wraps and skirts in the Harding blue.

technical studies but our religious education. That "faith of our fathers" demands regular Bible study and regular prayer. The despair of history is not the murderer, but the indifferent man, the man who cares for no moral issue, who has no moral enthusiasm. Don't be a clam.

3. Are you pure? In speaking on this subject to men only in Russia several hundred women came. Why should he not speak candidly to a mixed audience in America? A man cannot play with his passions, with his imagination, and get away with it. As a man thinketh, so is he. The pure in heart see God. Impurity will surely find a man out, sometimes in his body, sometimes in his family, sometimes in a whole society or nation, always in his character. To the girls he said, "Set a high price on your self-respect and your character."

In closing, Mr. Eddy recited two incidents from his own life, one of his turn in life under the influence of Mr. Moody's question: "Are you honest?", and one of his own son, a strong, pure boy, whose death drew him closer to the heart of every boy, every man.

THE PROBLEM OF RELIGION

The address of Thursday morning was addressed to questions of religion. The students of Bucknell today are asking questions, the same questions that the students of Russia, Egypt and China are asking—the same questions that the philosophers of Greece and the ancient world have asked. They are summarized in Ruskin's "Whence Came All?" "Why Am I Here," and "Where Am I Going?" or in the one question—"What is the Meaning of Life?" Any system of philosophy professing to answer this question must satisfy five things—man's mind, his heart, his will, his conscience and his religious nature. It must satisfy the three relations of man—that to his God, to himself and to his fellow-men. At the last ditch there are only two theories of life—the idealistic and the materialistic. As they were applied to national problems they can be applied to the personal problem of religion, and with the same result. The materialistic theory ends in chaos. On the other hand, belief in a personal God of love satisfies all five demands. God is just as real as the invisible personality of a person. The God revealed by Jesus Christ fulfills the five-fold demand of man's nature, the God of wisdom his mind, the God of love his heart, the God of power his will, the God of holiness his conscience, and a combination of them all his religious nature. The God of Jesus Christ satisfies man's relation to his Maker, to himself, and to his fellow-man. Mr. Eddy closed this address with an appeal to each of his hearers to try a simple experiment, to test this God for three months and watch results.

THE PERSONAL PROBLEM

The address of Thursday evening was a summation of the whole series. The central theme was the personality of Jesus Christ. He was first considered as a factor in world development. Plato taught forty years and Christ three, yet His teachings are now foremost in the world. Shakespeare has been translated into thirty languages, Tolstoi into forty. Jesus Christ, not an author, has been translated into seven hundred languages. Jesus was no architect, yet the finest architecture of the world has been reared in His honor. He was no poet, no musician, yet the greatest poetry, the greatest music has been written in His praise. Although he had no wife He was the Savior of women; although He had no child, He was the Savior of children. How strong? He was strong enough to give strength to you and me. How pure? Pilate found no fault in Him; He is able to cleanse the blackest sinner.

Even the places He touched were sanctified. Wicked Nazareth is known as His home. A Russian peasant woman walked a thousand miles to kiss the place of His birth. What are we doing to sanctify our places of contact with college life?

In the personalities He touched we find greater wonders. He makes men. The Peter who swore at the servant girl in the outer porch, touched by Christ, preached repentence to the Jews for killing their Messiah. James and John, regular thunderers who wanted to call down fire from Heaven, became His favored disciples. The woman of Samaria, Saul of Tarsus, Augusta, the young libertine of a later day, all had their lives changed. Florence Nightengale, John Howard, Francis Willard, all who have left the world a changed place, were touched by Him. If we are willing, we can be changed by Jesus of Nazareth. Him, who is our Savior and best Friend, we should not be ashamed to recognize.

These two sections will undoubtedly prove to be the most read in the entire book, and years from now the pages which contain them are sure to be black with thumbprints, while the remainder of the pages retain their state of lily-whiteness.

The Art Work on the book is being done by Myra Effinger and Finley Keech. The drawings are in spirit with the remainder of the book, novel and fresh, yet with a certain amount of dignity.

The price of the books has been set at $5.00. This price is very moderate when the fact that in other schools books of like character are sold for eight and nine dollars is taken into consideration. The book, in view of its completeness, will easily be worth that price. On April 8 and 9 will occur "L'Agenda" days, when everybody in the University will be given the opportunity of subscribing to the book. At this time a depoit of $2.00 will be made with the subscription, and a receipt will be issued. Then, about the first or second week in May, by which time the finished books are expected to be on hand, a designated time and place will be arranged when the subscribers may bring their receipts and the additional $3.00 and receive their copies. This method of subscription is expected to prove popular.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

On Friday evening, March 11, the Girls' Glee club gave a concert in the Reformed church at Milton before a fine audience. The club was very favorably received and the program afforded an enjoyable musical evening.

It was greatly regretted that Prof. Stolz, the director, was unable to accompany the girls to Milton, owing to illness. Miss Cecil Hazen acted in the capacity of director in the absence of Prof. Stolz, and is to be congratulated on the success of the concert.

'RAY! DISHES!

Did you hear the big commotion at the Sem Saturday night? The cause—the new dishes. With the old white dishes laid aside and prettily designed ones in their place, the co-eds, "dolled" in evening clothes, sat down to a real, "honest to goodness" chicken dinner. The dining room echoed with cheers for Miss Carey, whom the girls are pleased to have back, for Mrs. Sales, who made this celebration possible, and for the cooks. After dinner the girls danced a bit to music rendered by Misses Small, Fisher, Smith and Thomas, but this was broken up all too soon by the arrival of the Saturday night "fussers."

"Here's to the new dishes,
May their parts never sever.
If we take care of them
They'll last forever."

ENTERTAINS SHERWOOD EDDY

Phi Gamma Delta entertained Dr. and Mrs. Sherwood Eddy, Dr. and Mrs. Emory W. Hunt, and Mr. William Shipp, Mr. Eddy's secretary and Miss Carolyn Hunt, at an informal reception Thursday evening after the services in Commencement Hall.

YOU HAVE WRITTEN POEMS!

Do you care to have them revised or constructively criticised by successful authors? If you do, then send us your manuscript (stories, articles or poems.) We will criticise, and place them should they prove to be acceptable for publication.

There is no actual charge for our services. If, however, you have not previously enrolled with the advisory department of this association, we request that you enclose the initial fee of two dollars, which we must ask of each new contributor. There is no additional expense, no future obligation.

It must be realized that we can only be of aid to those of serious intent. If you do mean to strive for literary success, we can help you in many ways. Our services are yours until we have actually succeeded in marketing at least one of your manuscripts. Send something today!

MANAGERIAL COMPETITION

With this issue, Victor G. Clare, '21, manager of the Bucknellian, issues the annual call for candidates for assistant manager for next year. All candidates must be members of the present Sophomore class, and must have good marks in all studies. Previous experience, while not necessary, is a considerable asset. Candidates must be ready to give at least one day a week of their time to work on this highly important branch of Bucknellian business.

After a candidate has entered his name in the competition, he will be assigned a number of things which he must do to demonstrate his fitness for the position. He will be given a chance to try his hand at the mechanical features of newspaper work, including the different processes which are necessary to get out a finished paper. In addition to this, he will have a chance to get advertisements for next year, or secure contracts for advertising space.

Another important feature he will have to learn is the handling of the subscription list, which includes wrapping and mailing copies of the Bucknellian to alumni subscribers and other college papers on the exchange list. He will learn a great deal about second-class mail matter from the post office department; in short, he will get a good knowledge of managing a paper. Candidates must not get the impression that the work is easy, as such is not the case. A regular period of time each week will have to be devoted to work on the Bucknellian.

The successful candidate will become assistant manager his Junior year, and manager in his Senior year. This entitles him the privilege of becoming a member in the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association, along with the Editor-in-Chief, in his Senior year. The competition will be run along the same lines as the present editorial race, and the winners will be announced in the Commencement News. All names must be handed in by April 1, to Victor Clare, at the Lambda Chi Alpha house.

BOOKS RECOMMENDED BY SHERWOOD EDDY

Sherwood Eddy has left a list of books which he advises for the study of current problems. They can be obtained from the Association Press, 347 Madison Ave., New York. They are as follows:

1. The Social Principles of Jesus; Rauschenbusch, W., $1.15.
2. The Church and Industrial Reconstruction, $2.00.
3. The New Social Order; Ward, H. F., $2.50.
4. Socialism in Thought and Action; Laidler, H. W., $2.75.
5. Proposed Roads to Freedom; Russell, B., $1.50.
6. Interchurch Report on Steel Strike of 1919, $2.50.
7. Labor in the Commonwealth; Cole, G. D. H., $1.50.
8. An aequistive Society; Tawney, R. H., $1.50.
9. What's on the Worker's Mind?; Williams, W., $2.50.
10. The Frontier of Control; Goodrich, C., $2.00.
11. A Short History of the American Labor Movement; Beard, Mary A., $1.50.
12. Worker's Education; (Bureau of Industrial Research) Gleason, A., 50 cents.
13. What the Workers Want; Gleason, A., $4.00.
14. Property; Bishop Gore and others, $2.00.

Mr. Eddy has written a book himself, which we would especially recommend for the study of present-world problems. It is called "Everybody's World." The price is $1.90, at the University Book Store.

BEWARE OF HOME BREW

Somebody sent the editor of the Poketown Gazette a few bottles of home brew. The same day, he received for publication a wedding announcement and a notice of an auction sale. Here are the results:

William Smith and Miss Lucie Anderson were disposed of at public auction at my farm one mile east of a beautiful cluster of roses on her breast and two white calves, before a background of farm implements too numerous to mention in the presence of about sixty guests including one bob sled. Rev. Jackson tied the mitch cows, six mules and one nutial knot with 200 feet of hay rope and the bridal couple left on one good John Deere gang plow for an extended visit with terms to suit purchasers. They will be at home to their friends with one good baby buggy and a few kitchen utensils after about ten months from date of sale to responsible parties and some fifty chickens.

INTERFRAT POOL

The Lambda Chi pool sharks maintained their lead on Stahl's tables against all comers. But two games have been played in the past week, however, as cancellations of all sorts were in vogue because of Sherwood Eddy.

Windsor and Christley for the Lambda Chis and Larbarger and Seybold for the S. A. E.'s met Wednesday on the green. The Sig Alph representatives led when the score was 76 to 74 at which time Windsor ran 19 and the game came to an abrupt close.

Phi Gam men met defeat Monday evening at the hands of this same combination of sharp-shooters from the Lambda Chi house. The game was forecasted as "Christley's" from the very beginning. He had repeated runs of 8-12-14. The final score was 100 to 82.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

POPULAR POLICE PATTER

Of course, it is complimentary to call the policeman a "copper" because he shines as a man of metal. The dictionary says that this term is slang but in the pralance of the great American public "cop" or "copper" is a friendly everyday name for the policeman. We do not deny that some of the highbrows designate him as "officer," while some of the lawbreakers call him a "bull." But, the big, robust, healthy fellow who escorts the school kiddies across the thoroughfare and sends them on their way with a smile is "de cop." Like all people who serve the public the policeman comes in for his share of "kidding" and jokes. Most of the humor concerning friend "copper" that is penned by the press humorists is as good-natured as the genial enforcers of the law. On the screen in hundreds of theatres "Topics of the Day" Films often present "cop" comics with laughing success. You will find plenty of laughs if you walk along the "beat" of the jokes "arrested" by the Bucknellian.

PROGRESS IN THE FINANCES FOR NEW COLLEGE BUILDINGS

SIXTY THOUSAND DOLLARS NOW AVAILABLE FOR THIS PURPOSE

NEW CHEM. LAB. PROGRESSING

Stakes Driven Last Week for First Wing of New Engineering Building.

Bucknell's campaign for one and one-half millions of dollars in five years, which was inaugurated last April in a pageant upon the streets of Lewisburg, is moving on apace as is evidenced in the following real facts and figures. The enlargement of the Chemical Laboratory is visible to everyone, and the steady construction being carried on by Professor Burpee establishes beyond a doubht that Bucknell's forward movement has really begun.

Much money has been collected already, more is promised and yet again several prospects are in view for obtaining more of the million and a half. The Board of Directors is not asleep and the new Bucknell University catalogue will show a layout, proposed, for the entire acreage recently purchased by the University. This will present tentative plans for the athletic field, new buildings, etc.

Dr. Judd, treasurer of the institution, has received thus far from alumni friends of the school, $28,288. From the Baptist Education Board he has received $21,898, or a total of $50,000 in round figures. All this has been done since April.

Excitement was current on the campus when Professor Drum was seen to invade the large field beyond the Library Saturday morning with a set of surveying instruments and a force of men. He was, indeed ,beginning a bit of the vast amount of preliminary work necessary for the construction of a wing to the engineering building. The field must be leveled and a grade established for the foundations of the structure. It is estimated that $30,000 will be necessary for the grade work alone some 6½ feet of earth must be removed all over the site of the building and it is problematical conjecture as to what sort of earth, rock or sand, will be found at such a depth.

Stakes are already in position, plans have been drawn up by Cararre and Hastings of New York, but no work is to be done until everything is certain to the smallest detail. However, we may be sure that Bucknell's new era of increased importance as an institution of higher learning has truly started.

DEATH CLAIMS CHAPLAIN KANE

Chaplain James J. Kane, Rear-Admiral, retired, of the U. S. Navy, a graduate of the Theological department of the class of 1867, died Thursday, March 10, at the Philadelphia Navy Yard Hospital, and was buried at Arlington cemetery, Va., Saturday.

Chaplain Kane was 84 years of age. Born in Ottawa, Canada, he entered the United states navy as a volunteer seaman in 1861, rose to the command of a gunboat and saw service in several battles—notably in Mobile bay, under Farragut. In 1865 he entered the Theological course here and was graduated with the class of 1867. Later he pursued the law course in Harvard, graduating in 1870. He was chaplain in the navy until his retirement in 1896, with the rank of rear-admiral, retired.

He resided in Brooklyn for many years, but more recently at Asbury Park, N. J. He was a cosmopolitan by travel and sympathy, interested in humanity and in progress, devoted to his friends, and to the cause of Christ throughout the world. He was a loyal alumnus of Bucknell, having a daughter a graduate of the Institute, and a grandson a graduate of the College.

To promote excellence in public speaking, he established the "Kane Prize for the best oration on Commencement Day"—a gold watch.

Chaplain Kane was a gifted conversationalist, a prized guest in many a circle of distinguished people. His memory was stored with incidents of travel and personal experience, which enlivened conversation and

PHI PSI'S ENJOY WAINIE FEED

Shortly after the interfraternity basketball league got under way, Wainie volunteered to give the winners a "blow-out." Such an offer touched the very souls of some players, and no doubt was responsible, in a large measure, for the triumph of the Phi Psis.

On Tuesday evening, the winners, together with "Doc" Gerhart, official referee, repaired to the store "around the corner," and did justice to a very tasty lunch. Herbert Tareyton's completed the menu and the affair ended with a loud "High-High-High" for the generous host.

SWARTHMORE WINS IN LOCAL DEBATE

DEBATE WAS OF VITAL INTEREST TO ALL WHO HEAR SHERWOOD EDDY

Upholding the negative side of the question, "Resolved, that labor should share in the management of corporate industry," a debating team representing Bucknell lost the two to one decision to three orators from Swarthmore last Friday evening in Bucknell Hall.

That Bucknell lost once more is a matter of history to go down along side of the other two defeats of this year, but as a medium of getting at the basis of very real problems, the debate was shown to be very efficient. Sherwood Eddy brought before the student body some real issues concerning social labor problems, and the subject under consideration Friday night, being right in line with the thought of the students, was the subject of more than a little interest. Some valuable facts on either side of the proposition were brought forward.

The affirmative side of the question was ably introduced by the captain of the Swarthmore team, Allan C. Valentine. He declared that representation in industry was to be compared with representation in government, and that taxation without representation was tyranny. The affirmative attack as a whole was upon the principle of the fact that the workers were entitled to a voice in management. They pointed out that the existing conditions were far from satisfactory and produced sharing plans, such as is in use by the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, to support their contention that to give labor a voice in the management was to solve the problem.

On the other hand, the negative argued from a legal basis and showed according to the law of the case, representation in management was not legal. They upheld the case of the public, the great body of people who are neither capital or labor, and demanded justice for them. They argued that sharing in management was not feasible, that it was undemocratic and that it was against American initiative .

It was perhaps the last speaker of the affirmative who won for Swarthmore. He, in a forceful presentation, set over against the legal argument of the negative the human side of the case, and wound up the plea for his side in an appeal to the rights of labor against capitalism.

The program was as follows:

Prof. Amos Lee Herold, presiding officer. Affirmative, Swarthmore: Allan C. Valentine, captain, William M. Blaisdell, Herbert L. Hutchinson. Negative, Bucknell: Finley Keech, Captain, William Herbert Sunden, Laurence M. Kimball. Judges: Mr. Roger North, Selinsgrove, Pa.; Prof. Herbert Allen Allison, Selinsgrove, Pa.; Mr. Walter Wilson, Milton, Pa.

NEW FACULTY MEMBER

Prof. O. S. Groner has been announced as a new member of the faculty beginning with September, 1921. He is to be connected with the Chemistry department.

Prof. Groner is, at present, professor of Chemistry at Transylvania University, Lexington, Ky. Previous to his professorship at Transylvania, Prof. Groner taught at Ottawa University. The Board of Trustees voted an additional professor for the Department of Economics, but the appointment has not as yet been made.

"L'AGENDA DAYS" APRIL 8th AND 9th

First Proofs Of 1922 Year Book Give Promise Of Best Book In Years. Copies Must Be Ordered On Specified Days At Reading Room

The first proofs of the 1922 L'Agenda have arrived from the Baker-Jones-Hausauer Co., Buffalo, the printers of the book this year, and with them the board begins to see some material gain and results from their long endeavors throughout the year. If the rest of the book can be judged from these first proof sheets, it bids fair to surpass anything in the L'Agenda line that has appeared at Bucknell in recent years. The material for the book is being forwarded to the printers as fast as it can be gathered together by the board, and put into shape on the copy sheets. It is expected that all the material will be gathered and placed in the book before April 1st, which will likely make it possible for the books to be delivered the first week in May.

Taking into consideration past experience in the L'Agenda work, and the changing conditions this year, Manager Kyttle has devised a new plan for the selling of the book. All efforts are to be concentrated, and two days set aside for the particular work of ordering the college annual by the students.

These two days designated are April 8th and 9th, the week following our return fro mthe Easter recess. They will be known as "L'Agenda Days" and the business staff of the book will establish headquarters in the reading room in Main Building, and there will be ready to receive orders for the book. The Hill will be covered with information concerning the days, and gentle reminders that the drive is on to make this year's L'Agenda the most read book in college for days to come. When the L'Agenda is ordered, a deposit of $2.00 will be asked and a receipt given. Then when the books arrive, the receipt and an additional $3.00 will entitle those who ordered their book in advance to their copy. Following the L'Agenda Days the final order for the number of books will be forwarded to the printers, it being only a limited number of copies beyond the number ordered by the student body. The same plan has been announced heretofore in this one regard, but Manager Kyttle says he means business this year, and that if any of the students are unable to secure their books after the special ordering days are over, they will have themselves to thank for their negligence, and ask to borrow a copy from another more fortunate.

Remember the days—April 8th and 9th—and touch "dad" for the extra "two-spot" while you are home for your vacation. It is going to be worth twice the price in future years in recalling reminiscences of your college years, and the price of the book will then appear insignificant compared to what it will mean to us in the days to come.

DIETRICH ELECTED BASKETBALL CAPT.

At a meeting of the letter men of the basketball team, John Dietrich, '23, was elected captain for the coming year. The following men received letters: Dietrich, Bibl, Willbach, earles, Hayhoff, Dinn, Bunting, and F. F. Reamer, manager. George Mathieson ,'22, was elected manager for next year, and H. L. Lapp manager of the Freshman team. The three first assistant managers are Ilentz, Gehret, and F. U. Davis, all of the present Sophomore class.

This winds up a very successful basketball season for Bucknell. The outcome was very much in doubt at the beginning, but after the first few games had indicated to Coach Glass the outstanding players, the team was picked. After the team had been finally selected, only two games were lost, both of them being played on foreign floors with teams of the very highest calibre. Only four games were lost during the entire season, and these were all away from home.

On the other hand, Pittsburgh, Juniata, Gettysburg, Franklin and Marshall, Dickinson, Susquehanna and other teams fell before the excellent passing and shooting of the Orange and Blue. Much credit goes to the team and the fine record it has left behind. It must be remembered, also, that Bucknell loses no men this year through graduation, so that the same combination will be on hand next year to take up the game where they left off this year. It is hoped that a good schedule will be worked out, so that the Orange and Blue will pile up further honors in this collegiate sport.

B

NEW ALUMNI CATALOG

The Alumni Quinquennial catalog for 1920 is now on press and is expected to be ready for distribution about the end of April. This catalog will contain a wealth of information. All trustees, presidents, faculty, graduates and matriculates are listed on its pages. Graduates and matriculates of college, institute and music department are arranged according to classes, alphabetically and geographicelly.

BASEBALL MEN SHOW PROMISE

With a nucleus of a few varsity men from last year's team about which to build a winning combination, Bucknell's baseball team should put in a profitable season. Julian, Kostos, Beatty, Captain Linker and DeCourcey should furnish a substantial background for a fast organization. DeCourcey did not play all of last year, but should put forth a good bid for the second sack. Captain Linker's work in the outer gardens will be remembered as excellent while Kostos at the third cornerstone allowed as many drives to get past him as a junk dealer does nickels. Julian receives them from all angles behind the plate and has a peg to second that resembles a colored pentleman going for gin.

Quite a few embryo "Babe Ruths" from the yearling class have been out on the "engagement ring," throwing the horsehide around and attaining a few sore arms, but some of them give very promising appearances.

B

INTERFRAT POOL

There are pool games, and then again there are pool games, and those two or more contests which are being staged weekly on Stahl's "long green," are developing more and more interest. A cup for the winning fraternity and a prize from Stahl himself to the winning players are the stakes for which these tenoclock contests have taken on a new note of importance.

During the past week the Kappa Sigmas surprised the league by defeating the leaders of the tournament, the Lambda Chis, in a close contest, full of fine runs. The score was 100 to 98. Then the Phi Psis won from the S. A. E.'s by twenty points and fixed the present standing of the teams as follows:

	Won	Lost	Percent
Lambda Chi	6	2	.750
Phi Psi	4	2	.667
Phi Gam	3	3	.500
Sigma Chi	2	2	.500
Kappa Sig	2	4	.250
S. A. E.	0	4	.000

NEW CATALOGUES READY

The new University catalogues, which have been in preparation for some time, are now ready for distribution. All students desiring them are requested to call at the college office. The aim has been to make the new issue a real catalogue of college activities, rather than the proverbial "joke book." A special request is made that students take several copies of the catalogue with them on their Easter vacation in order to talk "Bucknell" to prospective students in an intelligent manner. If you are proud of your Alma Mater, take this opportunity of serving her.

B

DEMIE PLAY AN UNCOMMON SUCCESS

TALENTED CAST PRESENTED CHARLES KENYON'S PLAY—"KINDLING"

Saturday evening saw the presentation of Delta Sigma's annual play. The fraternity is host at such an occasion each year, and this year the play proved to be among the best that the fraternity has ever put on. The affair was held in the Lewisburg club the ball room of which had been altered so as to serve quite efficiently as a theater.

The play began at 8 o'clock and lasted slightly over two hours. It was Charles Kenyon's "Kindling," of which the following description as given on the program, says: "'Kindling' " is admirable as a work of art; but it is even more important as a social document. It is a sincere and sympathetic study of the emotions of the desperate poor. The play reminds us with a pang that each of us is at least a tacit partner in a social organization that is guilty of infanticide upon an enormous scale. After we have lived the life of Maggie Schultz for an evening in the theater or library, we can scarcely recede to our own more snug and comfortable lives without asking ourselves a few serious questions."

The cast is to be congratulated upon the excellent work which they did throughout the entire action of the production and upon the sympathetic interpretations they gave to the parts. Every member was at his or her best, and the results of their fine work was apparent in the attitude of their audience. Much of the success of their efforts is doubtless due to the excellent coaching of Prof. G. E. Rassweiler. Following is the cast of characters:

Heinrich Schultz, a stevedore, Harold McGraw; Maggie Schultz, his wife, Miss Mary Appleman; Mrs. Bates, a neighbor, Miss Mary Lelwellyn; Steve, Mrs. Bates' son, Frederick Foxall; Mrs. Burke-Smith, owner of the tenement, Miss Carolyn Hunt; Mr. Howland, her business manager, William Sugden; Alice, her niece, Mrs Anna Heysham; Dr. Taylor, an interne from a public hospital, Lawrence Lawson; Rafferty, a plain clothes man, F. Sturgis Beers; Donovan, his assistant, John Beers.

At the conclusion of the play, refreshments were served. Then followed a short half hour until tenthirty, when the evening was declared officially closed.

Delta Sigma had as guests representatives of the various fraternity groups, and members of the faculty.

The following faculty members were present: Dr. and Mrs. Emory W. Hunt; Dr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Phillips; Prof. and Mrs. M. L. Drum; Prof. and Mrs. H. S. Everett, and Prof. G. F. Rassweiler.

KAPPA DELTA DANCE

Phi Tau chapter of Kappa Delta entertained at a dance in the Phi Gamma Delta house on Friday evening, March 18, in honor of their Freshman "biddies." Decorations of green and white trimmed the house in festive attire. At the close of the dance each "biddie" was presented with a beautiful basket of sweet peas. Diffy's College Five was at its best, and ten-thirty came all too soon for the dancers.

ZETA NU STEPS OUT

The town girls, otherwise known as Zeta Nu, entertained their friends at a St. Patrick's Day dance in the Lewisburg club bon Thursday evening, March 17. About fifty couples were present and danced to the strains of Diffy's orchestra from nine until two. The patronesses were Mrs. William Lelser and Miss Elbina Bender.

LOCAL VOCALISTS GIVE ORATORIO IN LUTHERAN CHURCH

RECEIVED BY A LARGE AND APPRECIATIVE AUDIENCE ON SUNDAY EVENING

DIRECTED BY HOBART BROWN

Several Requests Are Made for a Repitition of the Same Program at Other Places.

Under the personal direction of George Hobart Brown, '21, the specially augumented choir of the Christ's Evangelical Lutheran church gave an excellent rendition of Stainer's Crucifixion" last evening. Almost every student was on hand to hear this musical treat, and the church was crowded with visitors from Mifflinburg, Danbury, Milton and other nearby towns, as well as the regular congregation and other Lewisburg churchgoers. The main auditorium of the church was completely filled three-quarters of an hour before the services actually began, and the Sunday school room, with its balcony, was then opened When it came time to start the services people were standing all around the church, even out on the front steps, and several hundred more had to be turned away. It is estimated that there were nearly 1500 people present.

The oratorio was executed in the best possible style, due to the able direction of Brown, and the solo work of Brown and G. C. Short, '22. J. Leo Hess, '21, the organist, also added greatly making up the program the great success that it was. Brown and Short carried the bulk of the solo work, and pleasantly surprised the congregation with their wonderful interpretation of the music, and with the range and power of their voices. Brown lived up to his reputation of being an unusual baritone soloist, while Short established a name for himself in his role of tenor.

The work of the mixed chorus was in keeping with the rest of the production, and was greatly appreciated. The volume and quality of the music produced was of the very best, and the interpretation and technique of the chorus was unusual. The following Bucknell students were in the choir: Esther Dodson, Mildred Hegden, Cecil Hazen, Florence Horner, Sarah Kerstetter, Helen Kerstetter, Martha Leiser, Dorothy Markham, Ada Thomas, Frances VanCleef, Kathryn Wagner, Helen Fisher, Carolyn Hunt, Arthur Gardner, Alan Hans, Robert Hartz, Donald Johnson, William Joseph, Daniel Villinger.

EDDY GROUP MEETS WEEKLY

On Thursday evening, about fifty students met at the Women's College and organized a social discussion group. The purpose of the group is to meet once a week and discuss social problems as presented by representatives of local and foreign manufacturing concerns.

The following officers were elected: President, Gordon Bechtel; vice-president, Lewis Hutchinson; secretary and treasurer, Anna Althouse; reporter, Carmault Jackson.

The organization is distinctively a student group and as such, the cooperation of all the students is solicited. These meetings should be of special interest to all those who signed up for summer work during the Eddy campaign. The group will have an open forum every other week and this feature promises no small amount of interest

Put your resolves of the Eddy campaign into action and give us your loyal support by your presence and participation. The next meeting will be held Thursday evening, March the thirty-first. Watch the bulletin board for the announcement of the program.

OUR BEAUTIFUL CAMPUS

Spring is noted for a number of things, including what it does to a young man's fancy; and poets sing its praises with great zeal. However, the Spring of 1921 has brought a disgraceful condition of our campus to light. Now that the snow has melted off, it has left a glacial drift of newspapers, old shoes, boxes and all sorts of odds and ends on the campus in front of Main college. This shameful condition is due almost entirely to the efforts of the students to make a public dump out of one of the most beautiful campuses in the state. Perhaps these bits of trash are considered ornamental by some, but the general opinion of the student body is that such a condition is an eyesore. This is clearly a case for Senior Council.

Y. W. C. A. CABINET

To keep the spirit of the Eddy meetings alive at Bucknell is the aim of the new Y. W. C. A. cabinet, which was initiated last Monday night in the living room of Women's college.

The initiation ceremony, in which all the old and new members, dressed in white, stand facing each other, and the old officers pass over some emblem of their offices to the new members, is in itself very beautiful and solemn; but it attained a new meaning last Monday night because of the renewed spiritual interest that has been awakened.

The Officers of the Y. W. C. A. which were initiated are:

President, Emma Kunkle.
Vice-President, Esther Fleming.
Secretary, Eleanor Little.
Treasurer, Arvilla Peters.
The chairmen of committees ar:
Social, Margaret Small.
Bible Study, Rhea Burgett.
Conference, Carlotta Conrad.
Publicity, Mary Appleman.
Social Service, Emily Kurtz.
Missionary, Louise Hood.
Music, Frances VanCleaf.
Religious Meetings, Phoebe Davis

YORUMS ENTERTAIN SEMITES

On Friday night Gamma Lambda Sigma entertained a number of the Seminary girls at an informal dance at the house. The music was furnished by Wilson's orchestra, and the dance was chaperoned by Misses Armstrong and Bergstresser. Delightful refreshments were served at the intermission. The guests were Prof. Hall of the faculty and L. A. Eaton '20, professor of chemistry at Lincoln university.

PLEDGES ENTERTAIN ACTIVES

On Saturday night the Gamma Lambda Sigma pledges entertained the active chapter with a banquet and smoker. A wonderful four-course banquet was prepared and was regaled with vim and vigor. Small pipes with cards marked the places. The color scheme of the evening was green, even to the ice cream. Short after-dinner speeches were made by class representatives and while the meal was in progress, a flashlight picture was taken.

After dinner, smokes were passed and card games were started. At one table, DeCourcey was saved from complete discomfiture by the stopping of the game. The feature of the evening was an interpretative Spanish dance by Buell, '24. The affair closed with the singing of the fraternity song.

SCHOLARSHIP AND ENGINEERING

A close correspondence between good scholarship in college and eminence in engineering is shown in an investigation made under the auspices of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars by Prof. Raymond Walters of Lehigh University, who presents a report in the current issue of "School and Society."

It was found that, of 392 distinguished engineers graduated at 75 technical schools, colleges and universities, 182 or 46.4 per cent stood in the highest fifth of their class scholastically upon graduation; 109, or 27.8 per cent stood in the second highest fifth; 72 or 18.3 per cent in the middle fifth; 14 or 3.6 per cent in the next lowest fifth, and 15 or 3.8 per cent in the lowest fifth.

Figures for a group of 189 alumni of five Eastern engineering schools were somewhat different in the upper classes, the second highest scholastic fifth having the largest percentage. In all groupings of the eminent engineers, there were less than 4 per cent in each of the two lowest scholastic fifths.

Of 730 names on the Registrar's Association list of distinguished engineers, practically 80 per cent were found to be collegiate graduates, 16 per cent men of secondary school education and practical training, and less than 5 per cent men who started in college but did not finish.

The arbitrary basis of eminence in this study of a professional group was taken to be the holding of office, membership in important committees and service as representatives of the four "founder" engineering societies, civil, mechanical, electrical, and mining and metallurgy, for five years, 1915-1919.

DR. HUNT SPEAKS AT "Y" MEETING

A meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held in Bucknell Hall on Saturday afternoon. Stewardson presided at the meeting and after the singing of a hymn, and prayer, Dr. Hunt spoke to the meeting. He spoke of what the "Y" ought to be and ought to mean to men here. Rather than an organization of poorly attended meetings, it should be an organization of service. Among many other services that he mentioned was a student committee that should meet all trains at the beginning of the school year and should take care of the new students, seeing that they become acquainted, helping them in the arrangement of a schedule and help them in any way possible. That would be real service. Another service that could be performed would be the collecting of information regarding employment of students who are helping themselves through college. The "Y" could keep a list of places where employment might be obtained and students could then simply file their names with them. This would be real service, also. Dr. Hunt emphasized the fact that the "Y" was the one college organization where the students could get together on a common basis. Cards were passed out to be signed in support of the "Y." Then there was an open discussion on what organization could do, what service they could perform at Bucknell.

Separation from the budget was brought up and discussed. A meeting of the cabinet is to be held and it is to act as a nominating committee to nominate officers to be elected after our return from Easter vacation. These new officers will be sent to Penn State to a "Y" convention held there in the spring.

"SNOWFLAKES" WELL RECEIVED

On Wednesday night the movie, "Snowflakes," was given in the chapel by the Electrical Engineering society. The picture was given before a large and appreciative audience of engineers and others. The first part of the picture was taken up with natural water power in the Rocky Mountains. The scenery shown was marvelous. The mountain streams with their background of snow-capped peaks made wonderful pictures. The canyons, the high mountains, the peaks, the streams, the falls and rapids, all helped in making wonderful scenic pictures.

Construction for the purpose of conserving the water power and turning it into electricity were shown. Concrete viaducts were shown in their construction. Los Angeles is supplied with electricity obtained from water power two hundred and fifty miles away. All was controlled in the office by a large map with plugs. It was a very interesting picture and very valuable to the engineers.

Carl Geiger, '15, and Clinton Sprout, '17, members of the faculty at Peddie Institute, were the guests of their Delta Igma brothers over the week-end.

Thomas J. Heim, '20, and Hayes J. Person, '20, members of the faculty of the Williamsport high school, visited their Delta Sigma brothers over the week-end.

COLLEGE MAN AND BUSINESS

The following article was written for the Washington and Jefferson 'Red and Black' by John A. Mathews, Ph. D., W. & J., '93, president of the Crucible Steel Co. Its general information and excellent thought makes it suitable for this college as well, so the Bucknellian is printing it for the application of its readers:

"The Value of a College Education to Big Business."

The value of education to big business is the same as to small business or to law, medicine or statesmanship. The only difference is that this value has not always been recognized. Formerly a man without sufficient brains or ability to get through college was supposed to be "cut out for business," providing he possessed a certain amount of shrewdness, a fairly elastic conscience and not too many scruples as to the inviolability of contracts and obligations. That day has passed. The master builders of our great industries in the past generation for the most part were not college men. It is hardly right, however, to say that they were "uneducated." Education is not always a matter of schooling, and the school of hard knocks has a brilliant body of alumni. Lack of schooling is not synonymous with lack of mental capacity, and with mental capacity men learn valuable lessons without the aid of books or teachers.

While our great captains of industry have been in a narrow sense "uneducated," they have shown their mental capacity by deploring lack of education and have shown their appreciation of educational training in most practical fashion by their magnificent endowments to colleges and research institutions. Their recognition of education is further evidenced by their selections of assistants, and successors. The big business of today is largely in the hands of college men, and business ethics, morals and standards are higher than ever before.

The value of education to big business I believe is undisputed; the kind of education for business is a debatable question. My own experience and observation lead me to believe that the present tendencies are toward too great specialization or beginning specialization upon insufficient foundations. There is too much anxiety upon the part of our youth to pick special courses of supposed immediate application to the business of earning money. We do not commence building our houses with the purchase of a lightning rod and the plumbing and hardware trim. The foundation is not only of first but of fundamental importance; if it isn't right, the plaster will crack, the doors will stick, and the roof will leak. For a good job, build upon a rock.

Whatever rank or reputation I have attained is not based upon any great business acumen, selling ability or managerial talent, but upon sound technical training based upon the liberal education received at Washington and Jefferson. I believe implicitly in the liberal college education as a foundation for professional studies, and as a teacher in a professional school I had ample opportunity to compare the men who had such training and those who had not. I have watched some of these men since they acquired their professional degrees, and so strongly do I feel the need of sound foundations that I regret the tendency toward combination courses, leading to two degrees in six years. I would like to see all professional schools "graduate schools," where the equivalent of an A. B. degree is necessary to entrance. The American small college is a national asset of inestimable value.

Like all college boys, I used to ask "What's the use" of many of the subjects in the cirriculum, and, like all college boys, I held in small regard the experience and judgment of my elders on these matters. Looking backward, I do not regret one of those tasks, and am glad I took the advice of my elders, even though unwillingly at the time.

Education for big business should afford the broadest possible training in the fundamental principles of science and economics. The lessons of history, and not the facts and dates of history, are of value. Languages, ancient and modern, afford mental discipline and help the all important study of English, and there is no better aid to the study of English than the English Bible. Prof. Phelps, of Yale calls it "the best-written book in the English language; greater than the work of any philosopher or novelist because it contains in its own pages the greatest novels, the greatest short stories, the greatest essays, the greatest philosophy and the greatest beauty of thought that were ever combined in any language—greater than all other books in the world."

The principles of life and conduct in it are a part of the education desired in big business. Education for business should develop the power of reasoning, of intense concentration and of straightline thinking. The mind of the student should be filled with a knowledge of usuable principles of conduct, science, economics and civics, and not with a heterogeneous collection of facts. There is something wrong with the education received at a Christian college which turns out unchristian and anti-christian faddists, dreamers and socialists. socialism is the science of selfishness; the falalcy of failure. Education should instill in the mind a passion for service, for constructive effort. Desire to serve is a more noble trait than a desire to get. Financial returns should be viewed as the return that society makes for well-directed creative effort, and not something that the recipient takes from the less fortunate. Earning money is not a crime; making money sometimes is. Some people make money, but never acquire a fortune. Other qualities than those which result in earning must be cultivated. The distinction between hoarding and saving and the profitable use of savings or capital, is important for the young man to know. Opportunity has to be looked for and even created. Probably no one here inherited the major part of his capital or his job. The laborer of today is the capitalist of tomorrow. As Prof. J. Lawrence Laughlin says: "The creation and legitimate possession of capital requires certain personal qualities—willingness and imagination to weigh the future gain over against a present indulgence, self-control, patience persistence, foresight and prudence. Those who possess these homely virtues become possessors of capital and hence employers of others; those who have them not and own no capital must seek those who have capital and hence are employed by others. The separation into two great classes of the employers and the employed is due to differences in human qualities; differences, however, of a kind which can be removed by training, environment, and the development of character and civilization." This great distinction between those who acquire and those who do not should be realized by every educated man.

Education for pure business—buying, selling, negotiating or manufacturing as distinguished from the technical and scientific aids to the conduct of business requires the broadest general training because very few students actually know in advance what line of business they will take up, and experience shows that most of them change their employment one or more times before getting established. Possibly if their preparation was of the best so many changes would not be made in the earlier years out of college, and these various positions are in reality post-graduate courses in getting what was lacking at graduation. Finally the man gets into a place where he can "earn his salt" and, if he sticks, possibly a little more, until education plus experience bear full fruit.

With education that confers the judicial mind, reasoning ability and sound thinking, along with clean living and a passion for service, one becomes a powerful instrument for good "to strive, to seek, to find and

It was the unanimous verdict of many critics that the "Crucifixion" was one of the best oratorios ever given in Lewisburg. Giving The People What They Want
The secret of success is furnishing the people what they want.
America has given a most absolute demonstration that it WANTS "Life Insurance" by paying three hundred fifty million dollars for new policies alone in 1920; twice as much as it paid for it in 1919; four times as much as in 1900 and sixteen times as much as in 1880, and this in spite of haphazard sales methods.
Translating this history into prophecy indicates tremendous opportunity for tomorrow.
College men and women are peculiarly adapted for success in this fruitful field—a fact proved by figures.
To those who can qualify, a Post-Graduate College Course in Life Insurance Salesmanship at Carnegie Technical School at Pittsburgh is offered.
The rewards are immediate, substantial and cumulative.
The Edward A. Woods Company desires to tell you the experiences of some college-trained men and women who are making a big success with it.
Your inquiry will receive careful attention.

GLEE CLUB TRIP STARTS MARCH 28

Beginning Monday evening, March 28, the Bucknell Glee club will make its third extensive trip of the year, the final concert being given on the evening of April 1. The first trip made was to the western part of the state at Thanksgiving time; the second in the northern section; while the present one will include eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey with most of the dates in the latter. A series of five concerts has been arranged for by the manager, Ralph Hartz, as follows: March 28, Pitman, N. J.; March 29, Vineland, N. J.; March 30, Bridgeton, N. J.; March 31, West Chester, Pa.; and April 1, North Plainfield, N. J.

The following men are to make the trip under the direction of the manager and Prof. Paul Stolz: First tenors, Hartz, Hartz, Rounsley, Willman and Hgen; second tenors, Diefenderfer, Lamborne, Hoffman, Gardner, Villinger, and Wright; first basses, DeWire, Courson, Eaton, Cloward, Kimball and Galbraith; second basses, Schaefer, Appleton, Harding, Keech, Swetland, Melhuish, Sisserson, Davenpart, Moore.

The program which is to be given has been enlarged and rearranged, so that it now is as follows:

Part One

"Ho, Gallant Sailors" Macy
Glee Club
"The Greatest Wish in the World" Del Riego
Bariton solo
Donald Cloward
"Serenade" Schubert
Trio Hartz, Harding, Appleton.
"Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes" Old English
Quartette
Hart, Hartz, Cloward, Appleton
"My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" Saint-Saens
Saxophone solo
J. H. Melhuish
"'Tis Morn" Gebble
Glee Club

Part Two

"Danny Deever"
Damrosch
Bass solo
"Hunters Bold and Free" Herve
Glee Club
"Cartooning" Finley Keech
Violin solo
"Pierrot Serenade" Jurre
Robert Hartz
"In Vocal Combat" Buck
Glee Club
Alma Mater - "Dear Bucknell"

From this program, it is easily seen that the former high grade work of the club is to be maintained in the forthcoming trip. The club numbers are really good, while there are in addition several new and highly effective numbers which have recently bee nowrked up. The various soloists are all well-known for the grade of their work. The addition of the saxophone soloist will also prove to be a big drawing card for the concerts.

The largest portion of the club will leave Lewisburg early next Monday morning on the Pennsylvania railroad, and will go to Pitman by way of Philadelphia, arriving at the former place early in the afternoon. There they will be met and will meet others for whom it would be too costly or too inconvenient to travel to Lewisburg and so to Pitman. In addition to this trip, there is another scheduled for April 7 and 8, to Pottstown and Reading.

TENNIS SEASON BEGINS SOON

Prospects for the Bucknell tennis team appear very prosperous for the coming season due to the return of several good men and the arrangement of a promising schedule. Manager Hugh Sowers has arranged a schedule which will include Penn State, Swarthmore, Susquehanna and pending matches with Lafayette, Moravian, Pitt, Carnegie Tech, Gettysburg and Dickinson. The tennis team is handicapped by financial disadvantages, which cause the arrangement of a schedule to be a very difficult matter.

Two men are left from last year's team, Captain Brandt and Koch, but a team was picked last fall which played the faculty and included Brandt, Purnell, Gray and Koch. Captain Brandt has announced that an elimination tournament will not be played this spring, as the time used in that manner will be needed to condition the men, but anyone in school has the privlege to challenge any member of the team for his position.

"Bill" Lybarger, a member of the tennis team of a few years ago, has returned to the institution and bids fair to capturing a place on the team. Goho, a member of the Sophomore class, is also reputed to be a clever wielder of the racquet, and will probably make the present members of the team hustle to retain their positions. Challenges are open to anyone at any time.

B

GIRLS' CLUB TO SING

Don't miss the concert at 8 o'clock tonight in the Evangelical church by the Girls' Glee club. This is the first appearance of the club in concert at Lewisburg, and it promises to be well worth the admission of 35 cents.

The program is varied and interesting, consisting of five chorus numbers, interspersed with vocal and instrumental solos. A quartette and octette also render clever numbers. The soloists of the club are Susanne Statler and Cecil Hazen, sopranos; Carolyn Hunt, contralto; Esther Fleming, violinist; Mary Reed, pianist. The accompanist is Ada Thomas.

ETA CHAPTER OF ALPHA CHI OMEGA HOLDS INITIATION

PRESENT ORGANIZATION WAS KNOWN LOCALLY AS ZETA NU

REALLY A RE-ESTABLISHMENT

Alpha Chi, As A Musical Fraternity, Became Inactive Here In 1899

Eta Chapter of Alpha Chi Omega was first established at Bucknell University on June 16th, 1898, with Belle Bartol, Amy Gilbert (Allison,) Jessie Steiner (Hunsh), Mary Wood (Kerstetter), and Ida List as charter members. Three of these women graduated two days after initiation, and the others did not return to finish their courses, At this same time, a faculty ruling reguiring Sophmore pledging was passed. As the result of these difficulties, Eta became inactive June 1899, and the charter was withdrawn in 1904.

In 1920 the National Council of Alpha Chi Omega wrote to the college authorities asking if a suitable group could be found to undertake the re-establishment of Eta Chapter. The ten girls who were chosen were considered favorably by the National Inspector who visited the college in May. No further steps were taken until October 1920, when permission to petition for a charter came from the extension board. Mrs. Irving Brown, the Atlantic province president, came in November to organize the group as Zeta Nu. The formal petition was sent in January, and a charter was granted February 11, 1921.

The week-end of April 1 and April 2, was devoted to the re-establishment of Eta Chapter of Alpha Chi Omega. The installing officers were: Mrs. S. D. Graff, Grand President, Mrs. Irving Brown, Atlantic Province President, Mrs. Ethel Moore Miller, Miss Josephine Lee Meek, Miss Ruth Titue, Miss Edna Fulton and Miss Ruth Lassen. Mrs. Allison and Mrs. Kerstetter, original charter members of Eta Chapter also were guests of the fraternity. A formal reception to representatives o fthe faculty and of fraternities and sororities was held from 3 to 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, April 2, in the Women's College parlors. In the evening a banquet was served at Hopp Inn, Mifflinburg.

Alpha Chi Omega was founded Oct. 15, 1885 at Depauw University, Greencastle, Ind. as a musical fraternity. In 1908, at a national convention, the constitution was amended, making Alpha Chi Omega a general fraternity, emphasizing scholarship, and the development and practise of the allied arts. Alpha Chi Omega was admitted to Panhellenic Congress in

PHI GAMS GIVE HOUSE PARTY

Phi Gamma Delta enjoyed the best house party since its establishment at Bucknell, during the recent Easter vacation. The party started at noon on Wednesday, March 23, and closed Saurday afternoon, giving those present a chance to get to their homes in time to enjoy Easter day. Much of the success of the house party was due to Waring's Banjo orchestra and the music they furnished, which, as usual, was of the very highest grade. Dances were held Wednesday and Thursday evenings at the chapter house from eight to one, and Friday night at the Lewisburg club from nine to five, with a breakfast served afterward at the house. At intermission on Friday night, a four-course supper was served, during which time the orchestra gave several of its specialties.

Many of the Phi Gams imported girls from out of town and from other schools—Cornell, Columbia, Beechwood and others figuring in its list. The favors were unique and yet useful, being leather scrap books, stamped in gold with the seal of the fraternity, and containing a large picture of the Phi Gamma Delta house on the first page. Mrs. Henry Meyer, of Lewisburg, acted very efficiently as chaperone, and won the good will of her charges from the very start. Mrs. E. M. Heim, Mrs. F. G. Ballentine, Mrs. Bromley mith, Mrs. M. E. Edwards and Mrs. A. W. Johnson served as patronesses

MOYER RECITAL

A treat of unusual excellence is in store for music lovers in the piano recital to be given this week by Professor David E. Moyer, of School of Music faculty. The recital will be given in the Baptist church on Thursday night, April 14, at 8:00 p. m. Admission is free to all.

Professor Moyer needs no introduction to Bucknell audiences, who have, from time to time, been delightfully entertained by his recitals. Those who have heard him before will hear with pleasure the announcement of this recital. Those who have not yet been fortunate enough to hear him can well take advantage of this opportunity to do so.

JUNIOR PROM ON APRIL 29

ALL ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR SEASON'S BEST SOCIAL EVENT

The Annual Junior Prom of Bucknell University will be held on Friday, April 29, at the Lewisburg club. In other years this affair has been the crowning social event of the season, and if the efforts of the class of 1922 are any standard by which to judge, this year's prom will be even able to attain the esteemed heights of its predecessors.

The newest, and probably the most pleasing feature of the coming Prom, will be the presence of college women. Hitherto, the college girls were not allowed to attend the Prom, but this year President Hunt has been kind enough to allow the girls to participate with the college men.

The Lewisburg club has been chosen as the place for Prom because of the condition of the floor. There is no doubt that the Lewisburg club has the best floor for dancing and also the best accommodations for the guests of any of the places that could be selected. In order to insure ample dancing space for those attending, the sale of tickets will absolutely be limited.

As is the custom, the Prom will be strictly formal. Now, right here is "the" opportunity for the "fussies" to give their "Sem" girls a treat. Just bear in mind that this is the only formal dance of the season at Bucknell and you will be able to be in delightful association with your girl from 7:30 to 12—so just put that date down as one you cannot afford to miss.

The committee in charge has been working very earnestly to make this Junior Prom the equal of any that has been held yet and all arrangements are about completed.

Let's see the students turn out and support the Junior class in endeavoring to make this Junion Prom just what it should be. Tickets may be had from the committee at the different fraternity houses. Don't forget, as soon as the limited number is sold, there are no more .

DELAWARE HERE WEDNESDAY

Coach Cockill is devoting all efforts to eliminate the weaknesses of the Bucknell baseball team, which were brought out in the game with Gettysburg this week. Several shifts in the lineup and the improvement which is bound to result from the constant batting practice, which is on the daily program, are expected to greatly increase the effectiveness of the team.

The game this week will be played on the Campus on Wednesday afternoon at 3:3 o'clock. The visitors, Delaware University, raised their stocks considerably in college baseballdom this week by decisively defeating the strong Dartmouth team. They have a strong team, and the game on Wednesday should be well worth witnessing. The usual admission will be charged.

Thursday evening at seven o'clock in Womens college the assistant manager of the American Car and Foundry Company, of Milton, will discuss the labor problems o fthat concern.

ORANGE AND BLUE LOSES FIRST GAME

Battlefield Boys Take Season's Opening Contest On Local Field By Score Of 6-1--Gettysburg Pitcher Shows Excellent Form On The Mound

Good base running and timely hitting enabled Eddie Plank's Gettysburg nine to slip a surprise to Bucknell when the Orange and Blue men covered the home diamond for the first game of the season last Thursday. The score was 6-1.

Things looked bright for Bucknell during the first part of the game when Jones ran the circuit from first under the protection of Captain Linker's three-base hit, deep to center field. In fact, Gettysburg carried a goose egg in the run column until the 5th. At that time Julian's passed ball permitted Schulis to come home from first. The visitors carried the impetus of this success over into the next period, when a clean hit by Gingerich and a walk given Redcy allowed those men to tally for Gettysburg as Keiser took a two base hit and Hersh a three base hit from Bellak.

It was the old story of the hoodoo 6th. The score book looks pretty bare in any place except the 5th, 6th and 7th times up for Gettysburg. The visiting nine was not able to place the skids under Cockill's crew until the 6th. In the first periods the Bucknell men took the measure of the slower Gettysburg nine and counted one run, a three base hit, a clean single, and a pretty steal by Jones. While they were doing this Gettysburg, slow in getting started, piffed the pill for three hits and that was about all.

In the 7th Gingerich clouted into deep center and circled the gravel for Gettysburg's fifth run, pushing Kyle before him across the pan. That was the last scoring they accomplished, demanding only two questionable singles from Bellack in the next periods. Pitching his first game for Bucknell, Bellack looked good on the mound, handling himself and the new sphere like a veteran. The hits he drew did not show his performance. All things considered, the Orange and Blue nine worked fairly good. Better base running and more careful connection with the pill ought to see Bucknells' ability to win from Delaware this Wednesday.

FRILL AND FROWN PLAY - APRIL 26

"Lady Windimere's Fan," one of Oscar Wilde's productions will be the play, given by Frill and Frown in Commencement Hall on April 26th, Frill and Frown are this year planning to do something never attempted in their twenty-one years as a dramatic organization and that is to give a play with members of Cap ad Dagger playing the male roles. The play chosen is an exceptionally good one and a strong cast has been chosen to play the leading roles. As to the business end of it Frill and Frown intends to leave no stone unturned that would make the play a success. Every fraternity house, the Hill and every house in town will be canvassed in order that everyone might have an opportunity to see the co-eds give a play, such as will make people sit up and take notice. The committee in charge, Emily Devine, Pres., assisted by Mary Applenan, LaRue Unger, Majorie Sprout, Marion Murphy and Helen Graham, have affairs greatly under way so that a success may be looked forward to.

CATALOG WELL RECEIVED

The catalog of Bucknell University for 1920-21 has made its appearance, and was carried my many students to their home high schools to interest students in entering Bucknell in the Fall.

The catalog itself is a very compact voume of one hundred and sixty pages. The one-time "joke book" has almost become a thing of the past, for in the pages of this catalog real information is to be found.

One thing which has attracted attention is the print of the plan of Bucknell University with the addition of the new buildings, stadium, athletic field, etc. While at present this plan is more or less of a dream, according to the progress now being made, it will shortly be a reality.

"FRESH" HOP TO BE IN GYMNASIUM

The annual hop of the Freshman class will be held next Saturday night, April 16th, in Tustin Gymnasium, from seven-thirty to eleven-thirty. Diffy's Five will furnish the syncopation. Subscription is $2.00 plus tax. Tickets are for sale by the committee, consisting of Heiser, chairman, R. W. Gray, R. R. Gray, Jennison, Arnold, Hartman, Summerville, Cooper, Kenyon, Heironimus, Coun and Misses Raker, Heysham, Sharp, Holter, Houseman and Smith. Business manager and scaffold artist is Williams, '21, well known in Wilkes-Barre circles as the genius who draped the Sterling Hotel for the Luzerne "Country" club dance, last Christmas. He guarantees to make the gym look like Mr. Hardings' ballroom.

The first Freshman Hop was given by the class of '21 in Lewisburg club '22 followed with their memorable dance at Milton Park. The hop last year, in the gym, was a success.

We would call special attention to one feature—the presence of girls on the committee. Quite a little dust has been raised from time to time about the inability of girls to participate in class functions. Here is a chance for any aspiring girl to purchase from one of the committee and invite a man. In fact, we know several fellows who would not resent such an invitation.

CHANGES IN TENNIS LINE-UP

Two changes in the tennis team line-up occurred during the past week when Lybarger defeated Koch in straight sets, 7-5, 6-1, and Goho defeated Purnell, 6-3, 6-2, in challenge matches. Other matches during the week resulted in Koch's winning a close victory over Goho, 6-4, 6-3. This match was very close, practically every game being deuced. Capt. Brandt defeated Purnell in straight sets, 6-3, 6-4, leaving Capt. Brandt, Lybarger, Goho and Koch in the line-up.

Challenge privileges will be closed in a short time and the team will play together for a week or so in order to be in the best possible form for the opening match on April 30.

B

GLEE CLUB TAKES TWO BIG TRIPS

EASTER TRIP TO NEW JERSEY AND ONE TO READING LAST WEEK

Seven men leaving Lewisburg early on the morning of March 28, formed the beginning o fa splendid, the short, trip o fthe Bucknell Glee Club. These men gradually accumulated more and more on the way to the first stop in Pitman, N. J., until when that point was reached all of the twenty-five men who were to make the trip were gathered together. At Pitman the first successful concert of the trip was given, and although there was no dance after the concert, the men were entertained royally at their overnight homes. This concert was the first of a string of the most successful concerts the club has ever put on. In every instance the members putting their best into their work.

The club was at its best with its collection of numbers of varying seriousness; and manager Hartz filled the office of director very acceptably in the absence of Prof. Paul Stolz. The quartette had a revised series of songs and the duet by Willman and Rounsley, although of grand opera, was well received. Keech's cartooning again proved itself the best of the light numbers on the program. Robert Hartz played his violin to perfection and the vocal soloists—Donald Cloward and Homer Eaton, were at their best. One of the big hits of the trip was the saxophone soloist, J. H. Melhuish. This was "Mel's" first appearance with the club and his work, both classical and jazz, took wonderfully. He was ably accompanied by Fred Moore at the piano.

The second concert was given in Vineland. Here, in the afternoon, cars were furnished and the members of the club were taken to various points of interest. One of these was the State Hospital for the Insane, with its companion institution, under private management, immediately across the road. This latter institution, through its able heads and earnest work, has gained a world-wide reputation. The men were also taken to a scientific glass works, where they were shown the processes of making glass instruments for scientific use. At Vineland a dance was given after the concert.

In Bridgeton, no elaborate preparations for entertainment had been made, but one or two of the men went to the glass works here on their own hook, while others were initiated into the mysteries of the raceway. Following the concert a social was held in the church. It was at this concert that a most regrettable incident occurred. Following the duet between Willman and Rounsley, they were called back to the stage by prolonged and vociferous applause. When they had gone out to bow their acknowledgments, they were presented with a splendid bouquet, consisting of one large cauliflower. Willman immediately began a search for the perpetrator of the foul deed, and with what result was evidenced by a scene at the next concert.

Rainy weather the next day somewhat dampened the spirits of the men, but after they had been fed in the church at West Chester, they revived considerably. Here the last successful concert of the trip was given, annd here occurred the evidence of the "Kaiser's" detective work. Homer Eaton was presented with a stupendous bouquet, consisting of one large rubber plant, when he came onto the platform for his encore.

"OH GEORGINA" PRESENTED BY AMERICAN LEGION

BROADWAY PRODUCTION UNDER A DIFFERENT NAME NOW AT ORPHEUM

MANY STUDENTS IN THE CAST

Bowser and Martha Leiser Appear In Leading Roles. Music By Diffy's College Five

The musical comedy, "Oh Georgina," being presented Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of this week by the Lewisburg post of the American Legion, has the distinction of having with few exceptions, undergraduates of Bucknel university as its cast. With one exception, the male members of the cast are also veterans of the World War.

Arda C. Bowser, Bucknell's star football captain, takes the leading role and handles it to perfection. Martha Leiser plays opposite him, and makes a winsome leading lady. "Hack" Gibson and Edna Baker also hold down their positions as one of the honeymoon couples, while George Jones and "Tiny" Hazen act just as efficiently as the other pair. "Doc" Gerhart, Harry Mathers, George Schuyler and Carolyn Hunt complete the cast of principals, and guarantee to keep the audience in perpetual laughter. The chorus is composed of the following: Misses Natalie Musser, Kathryn Wagner, Anna May Speare and Louise Mathers, and "Bill" Irvin, "Doc" Speare, "Johnny" Johnson and Ben Kauffman. The cast is rounded out wit hDoctor Miller of Milton, as the ever-present hotel clerk, and Miss Ashya Himmelreich.

Miss Hunt is especially good in her part—that of a middle-aged music teacher taking her pupils to a hotel in the mountains for the summer. Weber Gerhart is seen in a dual role that of a nurser of a river steamer and later as a minister. George Schuyler is a colored steward on the steamer, who has trouble getting his tips, and Harry Mathers is a Frenchman of uncertain vintage.

The play opens on a Hudson river steamer, and ends in a summer hotel in the Catskills, and will keep the audience in one continual round of merriment from the time the curtain rises in the first act until it falls for the last time. The situations are all funny, and complications set in soon after the start. The musical numbers are lively and catchy, and will be recognized by the audience at once. Indeed, the whole musical comedy ran for several years in New York not so very long ago under another name, and was considered one of the greatest successes of its time. Students will make no mistake by seeing it ,as its local presentation is of the very highest caliber. Diffy's College Five will play for the show.

SIGMA CHI HOLDS SPRING DANCE

On Wednesday evening, March the 23rd, to the languid melodies and merry syncopation of the Mason Dixon Seven, Kappa Chapter of Sigma Chi stepped their way thru their Annual Spring Dance. The scene of the dance, Miller's garage, was cleverly decorated by a scheme of black and white crepe paper and streamer hangings. Breaking these solid colors at regular intervals were banners giving a correct degree of college atmosphere. Palms and an old fashioned moss-green well, and special kaleidoscopic dances contributing to the decorations. At intermission a very tasty lunch was served on tables lit by candles holding black and white shades. The orchestra rendered a remarkable entertainment at this time.

The patronesses were: Dr. and Mrs. Phillips, Dr. and Mrs. Davis, Prof. and Mrs. Simpson, Dr. and Mrs. Gerhart, Mr. and Mrs. Townsend, Prof. and Mrs. Linderman, Mr. and Mrs. Musser, Col. and Mrs. Follmer, Mr. and Mrs. Glass, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Birchard, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Baker, Dr. Charles Miles, of Milton and Mr. James Zellers, of Lock Haven, were the guests.

EDITORIAL

One of the features of the opening game of Bucknell's baseball season was the participation of President Dr. Emory W. Hunt tossing up the first ball. This is typical of Dr. Hunt's attitude toward athletics. He is an enthusiastic believer in the value of wholesome sports, both to the individual and to society ,and in spite of his busy life as an educator and churchman, he never fails to find enough time to lend his encouragement to athletics. He is a very regular attendant at practices, and rarely misses a game. He enters heartily into the spirit of sports, and uses sports methods in the performance of his duties as President of the University. He plays the game fair and hard, and the enthusiasm he injects has a telling effect on the morale of his constituency. His broad-mindedness and effectiveness have won for him the approbation of all who come in contact with him and his methods.

"KINDLING" WILL BE REPEATED

The presentation of Charles Kenyon's "Kindling" by the Delta Sigma fraternity will be repeated this week under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. The performance will be given in Commencement Hall, Friday night, April 15, at 8:00 p. m. The admission price is 50 cents.

So successful was the play when presented before the fraternity and its guests on March 19, that the Y. W. C. A. asked to have it repeated, given this tiem before the student body at large. The presentation, as given on March 19, was among the best pieces of dramatic work given in college of late. The cast successfully portrays many intensely emotional and highly dramatic scenes. All in all, it is a smooth and well-finished production.

A description of the play reads—"Kindling' is admirable as a work of art; but it is even more important as a social document. It is a sincere and sympathetic study of the emotions of the desperate poor. The play reminds us with a pang that each of us is at least a tacit partner in a social organization that is guilty of infanticide upon an enormous scale. After we have lived the life of Maggie Schultz for an evening in the theater or library we can scarcely recede into our own more snug and comfortable lives without asking ourselves a few serious questions."

The cast of characters is—Heinrich Schultz, a stevedore, Harold McGraw; Maggie Schultz, his wife, Miss Mary Appleman; Mrs. Bates, a neighbor, Miss Mary Llewellyn; Stevo, Mrs. Bates' son, Frederick Foxall; Mrs. Burke-Smith, owner of the tenemen, Miss Carolyn Hunt; Mr. Howland, her business manager, William Sugden; Alice, her niece, Miss Anna Heysham; Dr. Taylor, an interne from a public hospital, Lawrence Fawson; Rafferty, a plain clothes man, F. Sturgis Beers; Donovan, his assistant, John Beers.

WHO WILL BE MAY QUEEN?

Who will be May Queen? Make your guess. The Seniors voted for May Queen on Wednesday night, last, those having taken part in three May Days and consequently ineglible for May Queen are: Lydia Caere, Barbara Coe, Marguerite Coe, Elizabeth Davis, Emily Devine, Lottie Dietz, Kathryn Fulford, Emma Fuhner, Ruth Mount, Elizabeth Woldner, LaRue Unger, Martha Leiser, Freda Mackereth, Mary Reed, Verna Smith, Marjorie Sprout.

LYCEUM CLOSES WITH A FLOURISH

The Bucknell Lyceum closed its season last Wednesday evening in a very successful meeting. An exceptionally large audience was present in the Chapel to hear the stories of early Pennsylvania as presented by Miss Kathryn. Bennett. This meeting marked the close of what has been rather, an innovation at Bucknell.

The Lyceum was organized last fall in response to a long-felt need for a literary group in which those who felt disposed could delve into the true and beautiful in literature. Under the leadership of Donald Cloward this group has grown and prospered. The meetings were planned o run only through the winter months when outdoor sports were not the all-absorbing interest. The large attendance Wednesday evening was a fitting climax for such a worthy effort.

Miss Kathryn Bennett is a librarian in the Brown Library, of Williamsport. She is a popular story teller of the National Story Teller's League. Her services are in demand by women's clubs, libraries and literary societies of all kinds. She has made special research into the folklore and traditions of Pennsylvania. Personally Miss Bennett was not at her best last week because of serious illness and a recent operation. Her collection of stories, however, was excellent. It included many interesting tales of different stages in Pennsylvania history.

Miss Bennett commenced with the Indian legends of how things came to be, such as how the robin's breast got red. She followed with the tale of a Swedish girl, the sweetheart of a naturalist who was forced by her community to marry a missionary to America, because the missionary needed a wife and she was the most likely girl in the community. They came to Pennsylvania, the missionary died and their daughter died. The naturalist, hearing that the missionary and his wife had died, came to America to honor their grave, found his sweetheart and married her. They traveled up and down the coast studying the plants and America and finally returned to Sweden. The final act of the great epic, Evangeline was enacted in Pennsylvania. This story was beautifully narrated by Miss Bennett. The last story was of a romance of John Penn, the Grandson of William Penn. John Penn fell in love with the daughter of a chieftain who lived somewhere in the vicinity of Sunbury. He gained her father's favor and returned to Philadelphia for the wedding preparations. While he was gone the Indian maid was seduced by a young outcast of her tribe. She attempted an elopement with him but afterward turned from him to return to her people but was murdered by the outcast. John Penn arrived for his bride but was forced to return to Philadelphia alone.

Spring has closed and a successful season for the Lyceum is closed. But next winter we may look for an even greater interest in this organization.

COLLEGE PAPERS SELECT ADVISOR

Prof. Arthur J. Weston, of the faculty of Stevens Institute of Technology, has accepted the position of executive secretary of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association, according to an announcement in The State, the weekly publication at that institution. The Bucknellian is a member of this association.

The Intercollegiate Newspaper association is an organization composed of representatives from 18 college papers located in this section of the country. Two meetings are held each year and the editors-in-chief and business managers attend and discuss policies of editorial and business topics. In addition a prize is awarded to the board that issued the best paper during the previous year. The judges of this competition have formerly been members of the staff of the Philadelphia Ledger.

Prof. Weston's duties as executive secretary will be chiefly that of an adviser to the various editorial boards. He will take charge of all records of the association during the vacations or at any other time when the new boards are being elected. His principal duty will be the issuance from time to time of bulletins containing the best articles published in the various papers as well as criticisms and suggestions for improvement. The task of judging the best issue for the prize in the annual competition is also taken care of by the executive secretary.

Hayes L. Person, '20, visited his Delta Sigma brothers recently.

Song in Octaves?

The proud and recent mother of twins was receiving a call from her more newly married friend.

"Do you know," she sad, "It was a strange co-incident that they played a duet at my wedding?" "Why, what's the matter?" she exclaimed as her friend grew pale.

"Not much," gasped the newlywed. "Only they played the sextette from Lucia at my wedding."Ladies Home Journal.

Harry—"Did you feel the earthquake last night?"

Carry—"No, I was at the dance and we were shimmying."

ECHOS FROM LAFAYETTE CONFERENCE

The Lafayette conference was a great success in inspiration, according to the delegates who made a report at the last meeting o fthe Y. W. C. A. held Monday evening, March the twenty-first, in Women's College. Those who attended brought back messages of interest to all.

Miss Dorothy Davis gave the essence of a lecture intended primarily for student volunteers, but which was helpful to all and especially to those persons who have lately made decisions for Christianity. She summed up the lecture in three main points: 1. We cannot live out spiritual food without taking it in, by Bible reading and prayer; 2. It is easier to make the decision than to keep it; 3. Religion's value is to teach us to live together in peace.

Miss Jennie Burke and Miss Harriet Kinsman spoke about the great need for foreign missionaries. Miss Ruth Brown told of the life of a missionary in the wilds of Africa. Miss Elizabeth Couffer reported on a lecture called the "Awakening of Africa" which told of the spiritual unrest in that great continent. She brought out the fact that the world is in a crisis or twilight, as she called it. She said there are two twilights, one from day to darkness, and one from dark to day, and completed her talk by askig the question "Which twilight is this in which the world is at present?"

Harry C. McCormick, '07, formerly a member of the New York Giants, visited his Phi Gamma Delta brother over the last week-end.

At Vineland, two extra numbers were placed on the program by popular request. These numbers were vocal solos by Ralph Hartz and Hobart Brown. Vineland folks were much pleased with their work last year and asked that it be repeated.

Following the West Chester concert, the organization was disbanded, the men receiving enough money to get them to Lewisburg in comfort. However, a number of the men went to Philadelphia, New York, and other points to whither their fancy led. All of them were back at school by Monday morning, ready for work and ready for the trip to Pottstown and Reading.

About twenty-five men made the two-day trip to Pottstown and Reading with the Bucknell Glee Club last Thursday and Friday. The club left Lewisburg late Thursday morning, arriving in Pottstown in the afternoon. The concert at that place was given in the Opera House under the auspices of the Philelis Club of the Baptist church, and was quite largely attended. The men were entertained at various homes after the concert.

Early the next morning the men entrained for Reading, arriving there in time to sing at the morning assembly of the boy's High School. This audience was one of the most responsive and one of the largest that the club has had for some time.

In the evening the concert was given in the Women's Club on North 5th Street. Following the concert a danse was held until midnight, with music furnished by five Bucknell men: Hartz, violin; Mellnish, saxophone and trombone; Lybarger, banjo; Kostos, traps; and Moore, piano.

The program given this trip was much the same as that of the Eastern trip, as printed elsewhere in this issue, with the exception that the duet "Salome in Quest' was outlawed and "Cy" Haus appeared with his popular songs.

The Cumulative Value of Selling Life Insurance
Men and women who are preparing for a career, will do well to recognize at the outset, the fact that in most pursuits income ceases immediately when the worker ceases his efforts.
In most professions time adds only valuable experience, which must be converted by actual practice into financial reward.
Unlike most other professions, the Life Insurance Business does not exhaust your energies "Today" and eject you "Tomorrow." A forced suspension of your activity does not suspend your income in our business.
This is well worth considering in choosing your career.
The Edward A. Woods Company of Pittsburgh wants to tell you the wonderful success trained men are meeting in the field of Life Insurance.

TRACK TEAM GETS READY FOR MEET

Coach Glass is rapidly forming a track team out of the experienced and inexperienced men who have been reporting to him. He is working hard on the men who are out for the relay team, as the University of Pennsylvania relay carnival is practically the first meet of the schedule and he is anxious for the relay team to make a good showing. We are classed in that meet in class 2, which includes such teams as Gettysburg, W. & J., F. & M., Muhlenburg, Catholic University, etc. Bucknell is graded with some good schools and will have to produce four fast quarter-milers to come out with a place. Hahn, Moore, Morgan, Coene, Chapman and Dalhoff are the most promising quarter men out now. Davis was running well until he was overtaken with a severe cold the beginning of last week.

The track at the present time is in poor condition, and it is impossible for the runners to maintain a stride. However, Manager Martin K. Mohler and his assistants are working on it and are doing their best to put the track in good condition. The track has been partly raked and it is planned by the manager to cover the whole track with a layer of sieved cinders. This means quite a lot of work and the cooperation of the student body is earnestly desired.

It is hoped by the coach that a team can be developed which will be capable of winning the championships. Of course, we hope to defeat Dickinson and Gettysburg in our dual meets with them but it is also hoped that by producing a strong all-round team we can pile up enough points to win both the Middle Atlantic States Intercollegiate Championships Track Conference. The first of these big meets will be held at Baltimore by John Hopkins and the second one will be held at Harrisburg. There will be some mighty strong teams in both these meets and it cannot be hoped to secure many first places but by scoring heavily in second and thrid places we hope to secure a large number of points. In every event we have two good men and should bid strong for points in every event.

FROSH ORATORS PICKED

A very encouraging number of Freshmen, both men and women, entered the tryouts for the Freshman Declamation Contest. It was a difficult thing for the judges to select the six best from each group, for even those who were not selected showed such merit that the judges hesitated about not including others, and were sorry that more than six could not be selected.

Among the women, the following received the highest marks: Ruth Weidenheimer, Alice Ruhl, Lois Hamblin, Helen Graham, Jessie Wendell and Rose Curtis.

Among the men, the following received the highest marks: Raymond Faus, G. M. Lenox, Harry Roy, Roland Wendell, Ebeneezer Williams and Wendell Woodside.

The contest will be held the latter part of May, the men and women contesting for separate prizes—the men declaiming orations, and the women giving narrative declamations.

CHINESE FUND.

What the war did to the universities and colleges in this country and in England, the present great famine is doing to those in China. The students are forsaking their classrooms in response to a call for need.

Several of the Chinese colleges already have closed, and the students have gone to the stricken districts in the quickly mobilized arm of relief workers through whose efforts many among the millions left destitute by flood and drought are being kept alive with food rushed in from the outside world.

In other institutions, where some students still remain, they are dividing their food with the starving folk of the five stricken provinces on the "stint yourself to save" plan.

And this is one of the striking signs of the awakening in the new republic for which our own American colleges are largely responsible. Whatever progressive Western spirit China has today, she owes to the young men and women educated here and in Europe, many of whose expenses at American universities and colleges were paid for out of Boxer indemnity money. Her hope for the future rests with them and with the students in the Chinese colleges modeled after our own.

Before the call for men and women willing to endure hardship and hard work in famine relief became so urgent, the 500 students of the University of Nanking petitioned the authorities of that institution to reduce the amount of food served at the student table in order that what should be saved might be sent to the famine victims.

They saved $800 during the first half of the school year, besides contributing more than $3,000 in cash. $800 is a lot of money in China. Board at the U. of N. costs about $3.50 a month. No, not a day, or week—a month! Figure up and you'll see that the Chinese students really stinted themselves. They saved a good many lives. At current prices in China ,their $800 would buy 20 tons of sweet potatoes, 13 tons of millet, 5000 pounds of meat, or 8000 pounds of fish.

Everywhere Chinese students are throwing themselves into the organized effort to save their starving countrymen. In Soochow University Number three, a much smaller institution than the U. of N., they saved $120 in a month by denying themselves meat and fish. Many of these same students are now in the famine provinces busy with the the tremendous work of distribution.

Frow Huchow comes word that the government schools in that vicinity raised a large amount of money by giving a series of entertainments which lasted a week. In New York City they produced a Chinese play and turned the proceeds over to the fund.

And the cry of the starving is bringing a generous response from other students than those in Chinese colleges or of Chinese birth. In Syria, two thousand miles from the stricken and, a group of Christian students gave substantially to the famine fund from their scant means.

In this country, contributions are now being received from the universities and colleges by the American Committee for China Famine Fund, whose treasurer is Vernon Munroe, Bible House, New York City; and in several institutions the adoption of the "stint yourself to save" idea borrowed from the U. of N., is helping to swell the fund.

No contribution is too small to be welcomed by the relief organization, and none is too large. For three cents, a famine victim, man, woman or child, can be supplied with food sufficient for a day; $1 will keep one alive thirty days; and $5 a month will support a family. But the need is great ;there are so many millions who will have to be carried through to the next harvest by outside aid or starve.

—B—

They had just become engaged.

"I shall love," she cooed, "to share all your griefs and troubles."

"But darling," he purred, "I have none."

"No," she agreed "but I mean when we are married."—Goucher.

Somethings in moderation are worse than others in excess.

LIKED GLEE CLUB

The following is an extract from a letter from West Chester, Pa., to Pres. Hunt.

"It gives me great pleasure to give to you a report of the concert given here last week by the Bucknell Musical club. The program given by the boys was high class and gave universal satisfaction. Many words of commendation have come to me from those competent to express a judgement o nthe merits of the work done b ythe club. The concert made much sentiment for Bucknell. In the afternoon of the day the concert was given, the boys gave a short program before the high school, which was excellent indeed and won the student body.

There will, I feel quite certain, be more students for Bucknell from West Chester hereafter.

The boys won the confidence and esteem of everybody. Their conduct was of the highest order and reflected favorably the characterof Bucknell. I would earnestly advise that the college, faculty and student body, give the musical clubs next year, the best possible support and encouragement. The work of the clubs is a very effective way to advertise Bucknell."

WE DID BETTER THAN DARTMOUTH

VOL. XXIV LEWISBURG, PA., APRIL 18, 1921 NUMBER 21

1922 L'AGENDA MOST COMPLETE IN MANY YEARS

WILL PROBABLY BE READY FOR DISTRIBUTION SECOND WEEK IN MAY

EVERY ACTIVITY REPRESENTED

Orders May Still Be Placed With Manager Kyttle Until the End of This Week.

The 1922 L'Agenda has been completed! The final copy sheets have been forwarded to Baker-Jones-Hausauer, Inc., of Buffalo, the printers of the book this year, and thus has been completed what has all the appearances of being the best year book that has been published at Bucknell for some years. Finley Keech, the editor, aided by his staff, has been working hard for several months in an endeavor to make the book the very last word in college annuals for the year, and a book of which the college may well be proud. Word comes back from the printers that work on the book is progressing nicely, and that the proof sheets will be forwarded in the very near future. An effort has been made to get the book published before the contemplated printers' strike, which is expected the first of May.

The book is arranged in twelve sections, or departments, consisting of the new view section, the faculty, the classes, the music department, the fraternities, the girls' fraternities, publications, college activities, literary department, athletics, feature sections and the advertising section. Of most of these, much has been said in previous material on the obok, but there is much that has not been said about the book that cannot be expressed until the publication is distributed to those who have subscribed. Every department is complete in itself, and covers the life of the college from the issuing of last year's book until the 15th of March, this year.

In the department of publications will be included the L'Agenda, The Bucknellian, The Alumni Monthly, the Commencement News, and last, but not least, the staff (?) of "The Woodpecker," the announcement of which will be awaited with much anxiety on the part of many.

The view section contains only three pictures that have appeared in former L'Agendas. Thus, covering eight pages, many new views of the campus and buildings will be presented, making a splendid change in the book from previous years. Special mention should be made of the snow scene across the athletic field and the sunset view of the "Hill" from across the Susquehanna river. This view section is headed by a beautiful plate entitled "Campus," which has been prepared by the printers, and which shows the Sixth Street entrance to the campus to good advantage.

The departments of college organizations and activities of former years have been combined in one department this year, thus giving the whole range of college and student activities in one section.

The literary department, covering nineteen pages, is headed by a literary masterpiece entitled, "Nature's Setting for Bucknell," written by Dr. Martin in commemoration of the 75th anniversary of the founding of the university. Four pages are devoted to this article. The remaining pages contain the efforts of several of our budding authors, two of these endeavors being illustrated to add to the novelty of the department. Several are of a more serious turn, and have real literary ability displayed in them.

The athletic department is complete, covering football, baseball, track, girls' athletics, the letter men of the class, and a splendid article on "The Beginning of Athletics at Bucknell," by Prof. Bromley Smith, written after a great deal of research work along this line, going back as far as 1879. Accounts and photos in connection with the Sophomore-Freshman football and basketball games are also included in this section.

Of most vital interest will be the feature sections, headed by a neat drawing of one of our amiable freshmen, and entitled, "Diabolitques." And the section is all the name implies. With appropriate dedication of the department where it rightfully

INDUSTRIAL GROUP HEARS FINE SPEECH

MR. B. B. CANNON, MANAGER OF A. C. & F. ANALYZES PROBLEMS

The regular meeting of the Social and Industrial group was held in the reception room of the Woman's College last Thursday evening. The meeting was addressed by Mr. B. B. Cannon outlined some of the labor Car and Foundry Co., of Milton. Mr. Cannon outlined some o fthe labor problems that had arisen in his plant and mentioned the steps that his firm had taken to meet them. Starting from his boyhood he traced the gradual development of the labor unions up their present day organization, and along with their development the growth of the antagonistic spirit entertained toward them by capitol. He handled the situation in an absolutely unbiased manner as is shown by his explanation of what he thinks is the cause of the gradually increasing gulf between capital and labor ,and in what he thinks is a solution to the problem. He gave the following causes for the present crisis:

(1) Alternate abuse of power.
(2) Suspicion and distrust
(3) Failure to realize that their interests are mutual.

In support of the first cause he cited the manner in which labor, when the demand for manufactured articles is great and man power is scarce, sets exhorbitant prices upon its services. Then upon the other hand the procedure of capital when the opposite condition obtains and workers are plentiful.

The second cause needs no expla-

PROF. MOYER GIVES FINE RECITAL

The piano recital of Mr. Moyer, given last Thursday evening in the Baptist church proved to be one of the outstanding features of the season. The church was filled to capacity with a warmly appreciative and enthusiastic audience.

In the opening number of Etude Symphoniques of Schuman, Mr. Moyer's rhythmic sense was superb. His tone, singing at times, brittle at others, made the Schuman pieces indeed memorable.

The Chopin numbers, including a Ballade, Nocturne and Polonaise, were an exposition of fine feeling and adequate technique.

The group of modern compositions were given with real charm and true understanding. The Scherzo, written by a young American composer now dead, was weird and fantastic and presented much food for the imagination.

In the last group the Paganini-Liest Etude deserves particular merit, while the Nocture for left hand alone was unique. The closing number, La Campanella, was most brilliantly executed. The clarity and smoothness of the trills were truly remarkable. Mr. Moyer was obliged to respond with frequent encores during the evening, the last of which was a massive composition in itself Bucknell University as well as the people of Lewisburg, can well be proud of such a brilliant and gifted pianist.

Mr. Seaman, a new member of the music faculty, gave several vocal numbers which were well received. He was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Moyer.

STILL TAKING ORDERS

The management of the L'Agenda is still soliciting orders for that annual. One hundred more orders must be taken in order to cover all expenses and come out on top. Lets get behind it and see that more orders are turned in. Only 325 copies, out of 938 students, have been ordered.

Everyone should have a copy by which, in after years, to remember their college days and college activities. There are still 60 members of the Junior class who have not ordered a L'Agenda. Surely they should have the annual of their own class, their own class publication. Everyone should have a L'Agenda and more than the needed hundred should be ordered. Manager Kyttle, or any member of the board will take your order.

ORANGE AND BLUE DEFEATS DELAWARE

Victors Over Dartmouth And Johns Hopkins Are No Match For Hard Hitting Bucknell Nine. - No Unusual Playing Is Featured.

With a week's additional practice and with loose ends, as were shown in the Gettysburg game of last week, gathered up by Coach Cockbill Bucknell's varsity nine struck it's stride and handed a 15 to 3 defeat to the baseball team of the University of Delaware. The vanquished was the same team which clouted Dartmouth's gladiators over the Delaware field to the tune of 5 to 2. Delaware carried the same hard-hitting short stop who knocked two home runs against Dartmouth. But nevertheless the scalp of the Delaware collegians hangs in Bucknell's trophy room, a symbol of the game which was one of hard hitting.

The Orange and Blue nine took the heart out of the visitors in the first inning by bunching six hits for a score of four runs; after which success Ramsey was replaced by Grubb. Bucknell nor connected with most of the deliveries of this second twirler and he was replaced in the sixth by Carll.

Donoho and McDonald for Delaware and Linker and Julian for Bucknell each clouted pretty three-base hits, scoring men for their respective teams in each instance.

Bucknell's first inning lead was a factor in smashing the morale of the men from Delaware. This advantage coupled with excellent cheering by the student body and pep-inspiring music from the college band aided and enabled the men to count at least one run in every inning but the second and fifth.

There was no doubt at any time but that the victory was for Bucknell. Bellack pitched a steady game and although the visitors took 14 hits from him they were all well scattered and would have resulted in very little scoring, but for very costly errors.

The fielding on the part of both teams was loose at times. Yet again there were many good bits of fielding which are worthy of featuring. Such was the fly which Schultz nabbed between thumb and fore-finger as he leaped into the air and stopped the drive of Underwood as it sailed swiftly by, tagged for center field.

Bellak had in all, ten strike-outs, just twice as many as the total of the combined pitching staff of Delaware.

Coach Cockill is well pleased with the development of the Bucknell baseball team during the last week. The hitting in the Delaware game on Wednesday was a great improvement over the showing of the week before. The fielding of the team generally also showed the results of the week's work in the confidence with which

PICK MEN FOR PENN RELAYS

Track and field has taken on new activities during the past week. Next Saturday at 2:30 there is to be a handicap meet on this track. Last Wednesday after the base ball game, in which we defeated Delaware, the try-outs for the relay team were held.

A large number of men reported for the quarter-mile try-outs and these men were run individually and the time of each taken. Coach Glass and Manager Mohler acted as timekeepers. Of the men to run the following men, in the order named, made the best time: Hahn, Moore, Joseph, Davis, Chapman, Rosenbloom, and Dayhoff. These tryouts, however, are not final and quite a few changes may be expected. Five men will make the Penn trip with the relay team, four men to run and one as a substitute.

The handicap meet on Saturday is open to all members of the university and handicaps are to be given according to experience and ability. The men who have already made names for themselves will be on scratch. Entries will still be received by Manager Mohler, up until Tuesday at noon and entrance blanks can be obtained from him or at the gym. The list of events includes the 100, 220, 440, 880, mile, 2 mile, 120 high hurdles, 220 low hurdles, shot put, pole vault, high jump, broad jump, and the discus throw.

It has been requested by the management that all automobiles, bicycles and vehicles of any kind keep off of the tracks. The base ball men are also requested to use the outside of the track, as their spikes cut up the track considerably.

The young boys from town are found on the track or walking across it at the entrance to the home stretch during track practice, and several of the runners have been hurt thru collision with them while running. It is hoped something will be done about this before there is more serious injury.

LAMBDA CHI DANCE

Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity entertained at a formal dance Friday evening at the chapter dance. The decorations were superb, each room representing different institutions, in color. One room was decorated in our own national colors to represent our country; another in orange and blue for Bucknell and then purple, green and gold, which are the fraternity colors. The whole house scheme with a mass of color and lights which were especially arranged. The music was furnished by Diffy's College Five, who rendered unsurpassable music—just the kind the boys like. During the intermission, lunch was served, the porch being especially arranged for that purpose. At three o'clock the joymakers departed. Judge and Mrs. A. W. Johnson acted as chaperones.

SOPH BANQUET GREAT SUCCESS

SECOND YEAR MEN ENJOY BIG FEED AT MIFFLINBURG ON THURSDAY EVENING

The annual banquet of the Sophomore class was held at the Hopp Inn at Mifflinburg on Thursday evening, April the fourteenth. The affair was a great success and everyone present had a wonderful time. Jack Hellewell, the chairman of the committee, and the rest of the committee, certainly deserve much credit for the wonderful way in which everything was carried out and for the elaborate preparations that were made in order to make the affair a success. The rest of the committee was composed of Donald A. Davis, Richard W. Shefer, Nevin H. Grieb, Marcus M. Chapman, Eugene Biddle, Elmer Custer, Alfred V. Jacobs, Carl F. Goerlitz, and J. Harold Watson.

The crowd met at the Phi Gamma Delta and the Kappa Sigma houses at eight o'clock and journeyed to Mifflinburg in two large trucks. The trucks were crowded, and shortly after leaving Lewisburg it began to rain but the spirit of the crowd ran high and even these discomforts could not succeed in putting a damper on the pep.

The tables were prettily set with flowers in the center and with a menu program at each plate. Eighty-four plates were served during the evening—a few more than had been expected, but all were accommodated, the student body and pep-inspiring music from the college band aided and enabled the men to count at least one run in every inning but the second and fifth.

There was no doubt at any time but that the victory was for Bucknell. Bellack pitched a steady game and although the visitors took 14 hits from him they were all well scattered and would have resulted in very little scoring, but for very costly errors.

DR. OWENS TALKS AT SUSQUEHANNA

Dr. W. G. Owens, who recently made a visit to Japan, spoke at Susquehanna last week. The following account was taken from "The Susquehanna":

Dr. Owens of the Bucknell University faculty gave to the students of Susquehanna a very inspiring and educational illustraied lecture on "Life in China and Japan,' 'last Thursday afternoon. Dr. Owens was one of the delegates representing the United States at the World's Sunday School Convention held at Tokio, Japan. Through his wide experience and personal contact with the people of the Orient, he was able to bring to his audience a lecture of great interest. The lecture was supplemented by the use of well-selected slides. Dr. Owens said in part:

"Japan's highly developed educational system was introduced and established by men of our own colleges and universities. Military tactics play an important part in their education and when drilling they make a very impressive looking body. For the younger students there are well directed methods of recreation.

Agricultural pursuits are devoted chiefly to the growing of rice and the silk worm. A total of 17 per cent of the land is irrigated for the cultivation of rice. The tillage of the soil is intensive, altho greatly handicapped by the lack of modern implements. Work of this kind is done to a large extent by the coolie who as a rule possesses great strength and vitality.

Religion in Japan is gradually becoming Christianized. The exquisite beauty and artistic effect produced by their many temples is proof that the Japanese people have not lost their artistic temperament.

Dr. Owens pictured the wretched and unhappy condition of the people of China. In the more densely populated districts the famine has increased to such proportions that hundreds are dying daily. There seems to be an abundance of food in the land but no money with which to purchase it. To the United States with its great wealth, China looks for salvation. The lecturer made a strong plea in their behalf.

Y. W. DOCTORING FOR PARALYSIS

"We are all suffering from paralysis of good intentions," said Miss Carlotta Conrad, the leader of Y. W. C. A., last Monday night, giving a diagnosis of the ailments of that organization. She told first of the great work of the national organization and explained the meaning of the Y. W. C. A. triangle, the training of the mind, body and spirit. At Bucknell the training of mind and body is taken care of, and the important work of the Y. W. C. A. is to look after the spiritual welfare of the girls.

"Before we went home," she said, "we had a spiritual awakening, but over vacation we lost some of this enthusiasm, and it was at this time that this paralysis of good intentions set in."

A good doctor not only diagnoses a disease, but also prescribes a cure, and Miss Conrad's suggestions for arousing enthusiasm were: to attend all the Monday evening meetings, to attend morning watch, ao attend the conference at Eaglesmere or to help send others .to willingly serve on some committee.

Miss Conrad concluded by saying if the school would cooperate with the new cabinet in all these things the Y. W. C. A. would soon recover and become a very flourishing organization.

COLLEGE INN GIVES SENIOR COUNCIL BANQUET

GUY PAYNE HOST TO AUGUST BODY LAST FRIDAY EVENING

FACULTY MEMBERS PRESENT

Dr. Phillips, Registrar Clark, and Professors Rice and Rhoads Give Short Addresses

Guy Payne, the genial proprietor of the College Inn, "On the Quadrangle," treated Senior Council and a number of guests to its annual banquet at his place of business Friday evening. It will be remembered that Payne started this custom last year when Senior Council issued an order that the brigade of ducks kept by "Payne," should either be kept off the campus or executed. Payne responded by killing the ducks and then asking Senior Council as his guests to feast on the cause of the disturbance. The dinner Friday evening was even better than the initial banquet, and was served in the best possible style.

Promptly at 7 o'clock the following Seniors met at the Inn, ready to do battle with the tempting viands: Dick Mason, president, Doc Mohler, Soup Moore, Holmes Douglass, Sarz Smith, Chelt Smith, Nels Romndey, George Schapter, Ted Salaczynski, Burp Shelley, Doc Kohler, Harry Thomas and Corky Lewis. The guests of the evening were Dr. and Mrs. Phillips, Registrar and Mrs. Theron Clark, Prof. Rhodes and Prof. Rice. The banquet unwittingly served a double purpose, as it turned out that Friday was the birthday of Dr. Phillips, dean of the University, and congratulations were extended to him by the Council.

The dinner itself was an epicurean delight. Sliced oranges, tomato salad, roast guinea hen, mashed potatoes and a host of other good things to eat were placed before the hungry seniors and their guests, and the empty plates after an hour's battle testified as to their goodness. After the main part of the dinner each diner was served with a huge slice of pie with the nickname of each guest upon his special piece. Even the professors were not spared, as Prof. Rhodes proudly exhibited his piece with the name "Dusty" upon it in large letters, while Prof. Rice held his aloft, showing to all the world that "Jack" has been inscribed thereon. Following the pie came ice cream and a demi-tasse, which completed the last expiring sigh to the gastronomic exhibition.

After the dinner had been served President Mason acted as toastmaster and introduced Dr. Phillips as the first speaker of the evening. In a few words, Dr. Phillips told of the organization of Senior Council eleven years ago, and commented on its growth, both in numbers and influence. He said he believed that the present Senior Council had done ev.-thing in its power for the betterment of Bucknell, and that he was very well pleased with the work that it had accomplished during the present school year. Registrar Clark was next called upon, and told how he had come to have a great love for Bucknell in the short time that he had been here, and that this was increasing every day. Professors Rice and Rhodes each gave excellent talks, carrying out the same general theme that Dr. Phillips had given. It was remarked afterward by various members of the council that these men seemed more like congenial alumni than members of the faculty.

During the entire banquet the Forum orchestra played selections of popular music, which was greatly enjoyed by the diners, as was demonstrated by the loud applause which followed every piece. At the close of the dinner, each Senior and guest was presented with a beautiful rose, and the dinner ended with a snappy "Bucknell-ol-e!" for "Payne."

TO RESUME TOURNAMENT

Fraternities have pooled their interests in the spring society functions and have left unfinished the winter's work of deciding the champion pool stick pushers of the school. No games of the tournament have been played for some weeks. The standing of the teams remains the same as was given out in the Bucknellian four weeks ago, the Lambda Chis leading at one end of the list and the S. A. E's heading from the other.

BOOST THE BAND

The Bucknellian has ever been a booster organization, and at this time there is a feature of college life worthy of space in its columns and one which we wish to promote, finished into the background, ignored by the student body, and the butt of many witticisms, the College Band has almost disappeared from the campus.

Despite, however, these reverses, the Band makes its appearance at times, and at some varsity games under the leadership of a capable captain, it strives to brighten defeat by cheer players on to victory.

We have in mind what this Band might become at Bucknell. We are acquainted with some institutions where the whole center of most every function is the college band: uniformed and active. The Band is an important function of the campus organization which the student body does left undeveloped. There is in the school enough talent to promote a real, honest-to-goodness band which can provide music, morale and something besides a mere show of noise.

DELAWARE GAME

they executed their plays. Two shifts have been made in the line-up which are very likely to be permanent. Dietrich replaced Gdaniec in right field and if he keeps up his present stride he is sure to hold the place. Carl Harris covered the initial sack in good style in spite of the fact that he was thrown in there as an emergency measure, and without any practice at that position. He replaced Wilsbach, who will be out of the running for some time on account of a badly split finger. It is rather questionable whether he will be able to win back the job when he comes back, for Harris has the advantage of an unusually long reach, and has a lot of baseball ability and experience. A few days or weeks may bring him out as the logical man for the job. This is especially probable because Harris and Schultz have been running neck and neck for the short-stop berth, and both of them have too much baseball in them to be dropped.

The pitching staff is also gradually increasing in strength. Bellack, Vollmer, Wagner, Beatty and Hunt are developing their control and curves. A new aspirant, Grieb, who shows a lot of promise, also reported for the squad this week. He has not completely recovered from a recent attack of la grippe, but will probably be in shape in another week. His speed and benders are of a high order, and unless present indicaitons are deceiving, he will be a great asset on the pitching staff.

In support of the third cause he stated that capital must be made to realize that without the support and cooperation of labor, its finance and brains will be worth nothing, and that labor must be brought to realize that in order to function properly as a unit it must have the support and cooperation of capital. Until both sides realize these facts a solution is impossible.

He then outlined the possible solution to the problems, a solution which if followed, will lead to a Social Democracy.

(1) Liberal pension system.
(2) Thrift.
(3) Religion

He explained that thrift today would mean the accumulation of dollars and cents tomorrow, and that a pension system, a system which would retire a man at a reasonable age with a liberal pension, would do much toward decreasing the existing gulf between the contending parties. Such a system would remove the fear existing in the mind of labor, of some day being disabled and being forced to depend upon charity for support.

In closing Mr. Cannon said," Until you instill more of the religion and teachings of Christ into both capital and labor you are going to have them clashing with each other and a condition of dissention and chaos thruout the world. The only solution to the problems of this suffering old world is a re-birth o fthe old-fashioned prayer meetings and faith in Christ.

Many students claimed that Sherwood Eddy was approaching the present day crisis from a purely theoretical angle and that religion and politics, or religion and business, would not work together. But right here we have the very same solution offered by a practical man, a man who comes into actual contact with social and labor problems every day.

The next meeting of the group will be held next Thursday evening at 7:00 o'clock, in the usuasl place. The problems introduced by Mr. Cannon will be discussed at length and an interesting and profitable time is assured to all who attend.

belongs, it will prove one of the most used sections of the book. Seven feature and "fusser's" pages have been placed in the book, as well as several other individual photos, some serious and some not, with comments by the masters of the department. With this abundance of material but few have escaped the camera man during the year, and we await the surprises with bated breath. Of interest, too, will be the faculty record of chapel attendance, composed by one of our watchful and observant number. Included in this section also is the calendar of the year's events, ably illustrated by the clever Goerlitz, and covering twelve pages o freal interest. Those who might have been overlooked in the feature pages, can look for "theirs" in the pages devoted to the calendar.

These, and many others, are some of the features of the book, and much interest is being shown in the time when the deliveries will be made, which it is hoped will be the second week in May. If the anticipated printers' strike does not interfere. It is now too late as yet to order your copy of the book from Manager Kyttle at the Kappa Sigma house—telephone 62—but it must ot be delayed, for the order must be in the hands of the printers this week, before the complete proofs are returned to them. A deposit of $2.00 is asked with the order, the remaining $3.00 to be paid when deliveries are made. Show your college spirit, as well as givin gyourself a complete record of your college year, by purchasing a copy of the annual—the 1922 L'Agenda.

Tom Christley, who was the toastmaster of the banquet, opened the speeches with a few short and sweet remarks. He very fittingly introduced the class president, "Mac" McGregor, who gave the welcome to the members of the other classes that it was the honor of the Sophomore class to have them present. He gave a short review of the history of the class of '23, since their entrance a year ago last fall and told of the numerous victories of the class and of the wonderful spirit that they had always shown in support of old Bucknell. He thanked the class for the wonderful support that its members had always given, and told of his sincere appreciation. Just previous to his talk he had been called to the telephone and he concluded with a message from an unknown Frosh that he and the whole class could go — somewhere. "Herb" Haslam was introduced by the toastmaster and he told of the wonderful spirit of '22 and expressed his belief and desire that the spirit would continue with the class through the coming years. He used two myths to illustrate his points, which were well chosen. He said that every man should be out—that there was something for everyone to do. Here he was interrupted by a remark from one of the boys, "We are going to run brewries." Al Mahoney was the next one to take the floor. He said that some Frosh had crooked his speech and, his topic being the three Graces, he did not know whether they were Faith, Hope and Charity, or Wine Women and Song. However, that did not make much difference—he talked right on. He said he felt out of place on the program succeeding such promising speakers, but when reminded that Bowser came next and then Custer, he, no doubt, felt better. At the conclusion of his talk he proposed the idea that a banquet again be held next year during Junior Week and this was later put in the form of a motion, seconded, thirded and passed with three long "'Ray, Sophomores." Bowser, '23, future All-American full-back, gave a talk on the class place in Bucknell athletics. He was loudly cheered at the start until he told one of his fellow actors to shut up. He took up each sport separately and told of '23's prominent part in each of them. In football this year they had 5 letter men and last year, only the Freshman year, they had four letter men. In basketball this year they had six men to make the Western trip and four out of the seven letter men were Sophomores. In track last year, in the Gettysburg meet, 5 first places out of 11 events were taken by men of that class. Seven out of ten letter men in track were Sophomores. In the inter-class meet that class scored more points than the other three classes put together. In baseball this year we had four men to start the first game and it looks as if they would all hold their positions. "Red" Custer, after a superfluous beginning, recited 'Gunga Din," and he certainly did it well. When he announced the title, one of the audience missed and that he said, "Drunk Again." Mason, Senior class president, and "Bob" Williams, were then called upon and spoke briefly. They had nothing but praise for the class of '23. Grieb, Richards and Chapman, ably assisted by Jones, also spoke briefly.

After giving the class yell and singing "'Ray, Bucknell," the party broke up and returned to Lewisburg on the trucks in the rain. But, oh, boy! What a wonderful time! Everybody was happy!

RAIN SPOILS MATCH

A tennis match scheduled last Saturday between the varsity and the alumni was halted by rain. The alumni team included Speare, captain of last year's team, Getrich, also a member of that team, Professor Ballentine and Mr. Linn. Lybarger, Brandt, Goho and Koch played on the school team. The matches which were started resulted as follows: Lybarger defeated Getrich one set, 6-3. Brandt and Koch, in doubles, lost the first set to Professer Ballentine and Mr. Linn, 6-2, tightened up and won the second set, 6-0, and were tie at 1-1 when the rain interfered.

The alumni will probably be played off some afternoon this week in preparation for the Susquehanna match on Saturday. The S. A. E., Phi Gam, McClure and Linn courts will be used. The following Saturday the team will meet the State College aggregation at State.

More Than Money

There is a supreme satisfaction not to be measured by dollars and cents which comes with the knowledge that you are engaged in a busines contributing to a permanent fund of human happiness. The sale of Life Insurance is such a business.

Life Insurance is thrift and protection, two fundamental elements in the scheme of a happy life, and to promote this is a work worthy of any man or woman.

That the public appreciates this service is best told by the fact that the volume of life insurance purchased doubles every ten years.

You may possess the qualifications which will enable you to render this helpful service and permit you to share in the profits arising from the sale of this increased volume.

Write the Edward A. Woods Company, the largest Life Insurance Agency in the world, about the wonderful opportunity in its business for aggressive young men and women.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

MATRIMONIAL MIX-UPS

And they lived happy ever after—that is the way romances end in the fairy tales. In reality, married life is not always one joyous holiday. Debates and discussions of a more or less serious nature are frequent factors in the lives of married people. Witty and humorous wordings in the public prints often reveal every-day happenings in the household. The press humorists show that those petty little arguments and misunderstandings are only trivial after all. In a pleasant, satirical vein, "Topics of the Day' Films present the little ups and downs of married couples, and audiences laugh in sympathy with the people joked about. Married couples, present and future, and everybody else will have a jolly time if they read the following funnies announced below by the Bucknellian.

Appreciation Minus

Better Half—"Don't you adore that necktie I gave you for your birthday?"

Other Half—"No other eyes than mine shall feast themselves on its loveliness."—N. Y. Univ. News.

Husband—"Why do you wear that dress? It looks like half mourning."

Wife—"Well, you're always complaining that your's half dead."—Boston Transcript.

His Moment

Wife—(At the breakfast table)—"Oh, Henry, I dropped my diamond ring off my finger and I cant' find it anywhere."

Hubby (triumphantly)—"It's alright, dear. I found it in my trousers pocket."—Ayer, (Mass.) News.

She—"People are saying that you married me for my money alone."

He—"They are mistaken. You had quite a lot of real estate."—Boston Transcript.

Nice Tie-Up

Tony—"I understand that Marie is well-groomed."

Tionette—"Do tell?"

Tony—"She embridled poor Charlie."—Rutgers Nellson.

Missie—"I wonder why Adam ever called her Eve?"

Mister—"Oh, I suppose he saw his day of happiness ending when she came around."—Voodoo, Mass. Tech.

So Informal

The wife—"I must dress at once dear, the Browns are coming over. Shall I put on the percolator?"

The husband—"Don't bother, you look all right the way you are."—Chicago Tribune.

Wifie—"When you walk, why do you make so much noise, John?"

Hubby—"I've got my heavy underwear on."—N. Y. Univ. Medlyl.

NEW VIEW BOOK

The 1921 view book of Bucknell University made its appearance last week, and was very favorably received by the student body. Prepared by Dr. Emory W. Hunt and Prof. L. L. Rockwell, it is a more attractive booklet than any of a similar nature sent out in the past. Many of the cuts are new, and the printing is excellent—the whole booklet being one that will be a great drawing card for new students. These books may be secured at the college office, and will also be sent to prospective students a the expense of the institution.

FINE PRIZES FOR BEST ESSAYS

In order to arouse an interest in the study of topics relating to commerce and industry, and to stimulate those who have a college training to consider the problems of a business career, a committee composed of Prof. J. Laurence Laughlin, University of Chicago, chairman, Prof. J. B. Clark, Columbia University; Prof. Henry C. Adams, University of Michigan; Hon. Theodore E. Burton, Washington, and President Edwin P. Gay, New York Evening Post, has been enabled, thru the generosity of Hart, Shaffner & Marx of Chicago, to offer in 1922 four prizes for the best studies in the economic field.

The subjects are printed below. Attention is expressly called to the rule that a competitor is not confined to topics proposed in the announcements of this committee, but any other subject chosen must first be approved by it.

1. Undetected monopoly as affecting cost of living.
2. A classification of Federal expenditures for a national budget system.
3. A programme for the industrial transformation of China.
4. Protectionism as affected by the War.
5. The effects of price-fixing by the Government during the War.
6. The function of capital.

Class B includes only those who, at the time the papers are sent in, are undergraduates of any American college. Class A includes any other Americans without restriction; the possession of a degree is not required of any contestant in this class, nor is any age limit set.

A first prize of one thousand dollars, and a second prize of five hundred dollars are offered to contestants in class A.

A first prize of three hundred dollars and a second prize of two hundred dollars are offered to contestants in Class B. No prizes will be awarded if, in the judgment of the committee, essays of sufficient merit are not submitted. The committee reserves to itself the right to award the two prizes of $1,000 and $500 of Class A to undergraduates in Class B, if the merits of the papers demand it. The committee also reserves the privilege of dividing the prizes offered, if justice can be best obtained thereby. The winner of a prize shall not receive the amount designated until he has prepared his manuscript for the printer to the satisfaction of the committee.

The ownership of the copyright of successful studies will vest in the donors, and it is expected that, without precluding the use of these papers as theses for higher degrees, they will cause them to be issued in some permanent form.

Competitors are advised that the studies should be thorough, expressed in good English, and although not limited as to length, they should not be needlessly expanded. They should be inscribed with an assumed name, the class in which they are presented and accompanied by a sealed envelope giving the real name and address of the competitor, together with any degrees or distinctions already obtained. No paper is eligible which shall have been printed or published in a form to disclose the identity of the author before the award shall have been made. If the competitor is in Class B, the sealed envelope should contain the name of the institution in which he is studying. The papers should be sent on or before June 1, 1922, to J. Laurence Laughlin, Esq., University of Chicago, Chicago, Ill.

A BASEBALL CLASSIC

On Saturday afternoon, Gamma Lambda Sigma played an inter-class baseball game on the Athletic field. The Seniors and Sophomores were arrayed against their brother Juniors and Freshmen. Rounsley and Gehret were the points for the Seniors and Sophomores, while they in turn liked the slants of Zimmerman and Steenton so well that the Juniors and Freshmen decided to put Shaffer in the box to ward off defeat. Jackson did the catching for the Juniors and Freshmen. The game started off with the Seniors and Sophomores scoring a 7 run lead before the Juniors and Freshmen could push a lone tally across the plate. After this, the scoring was done at intervals, the Juniors and Freshmen climbing up on the Seniors and Sophomores, and when the game ended were only 6 runs in the rear. The game ended with a score of 17 to 11, with the Seniors and the Sophomores on the long end. The game was kept well in hand by the umpires, Koch and Linker.

PROM PLANS COMPLETE

Plans for the Junior Prom to be held April 29 are coming along well, according to Chairman Emory Dieffenderfer. It is planned to make this prom one of the best in years. As has been announced, only a limited number of tickets will be sold on account of the dancing facilities of the Lewisburg club, so those who plan to attend are urged to obtain their tickets early. "Diffy's College Five" will furnish the music for the occasion; and while we haven't learned yet just where this "Diffy's College" is, we hear they're very good, and are the bunch who put the "Sin" in syncopation.

FRILL AND FROWN WILL PRESENT PLAY

"LADY WINDERMERE'S FAN" TO BE GIVEN SHORTLY, BEFORE LOCAL AUDIENCE

CAP AND DAGGER WILL ASSIST

Production Will Be One of Unusual Merit, and Should Be Well Worth Seeing

"Lady Windermere's Fan" by Oscar Wilde, the play chosen by Frill and Frown to be given in Commencement Hall on April 26, is well under way, and a very fine production of it may be looked forward to.. Frill and Frown, as has been displayed on various occasions, has some very talented young women in its midst; and this year being assisted by members of Cap and Dagger, the men's dramatic fraternity, should surely produce an excellent play.

"Lady Windermere's Fan", dealing with the inside doings of society life, and tells the story of a "good woman"whom thru society gossip is believed to be otherwise. However, the story brings about the woman's true character, but nevertheless at the end of the play one is left with various problems in mind as to whether the outcome should be as it is. It has to a certain extent the "lived happily ever after" ending, but proves that it is a play really worth while, in that we cannot sit back and say "and so it should have been", with comment or discussion.

Emily Devine will play the role of Lady Windermere, while that of Mrs. Evlynne, the good woman, will be taken care of by Mary Appleman. Other female characters are distributed among Dorothy Wilhelm, Lydia Coene, Matilda Bell, LaRue Unger, Marjorie Sprout and Helen Graham. The role of Lord Windermere will be taken care of by Bill Hoffman, and "Bobby" Hartz will be cast as Lord Darlington. D. H. Stewantson, F. S. Bees, F. F. Reamer, and Harry F. Roye wil also have considerable part in the play.

Tickets will be on sale this week at the Women's College, the fraternity houses, the "Hill" as well as the town, which the co-eds expect to canvas. Admission will be Fifty cents with budget ticket, Seventyfive cents otherwise.

The caste—
Lord Windermere, W. J. Hoffman, '22
Lord Darlington, R. P. Hartz, '21
Lord Augustus Lorton, F. S. Beers,'22
Mr. Cecil Graham, H. F. Roye, '24
Mr. Dumby, D. H. Stewardson, '21
Mr. Hopper, F. F. Reamer, '21

TENNIS MATCH WEDNESDAY, 2.30

The Bucknell tennis team will play their first match this year, Wednesday afternoon when they meet the Susquehanna four on the S. A. E., Phi Gam, Lynn and McClure courts. It is not known as yet who will represent Bucknell as Lybarger, Brandt Goho, Purnell, Freeman and Koch have been making strong bids for the four places.

The four men who play Wednesday will probably make the trip to State College on Saturday. Last year Bucknell lost to State, at State but were on a fair road to victory in the match here when rain interfered, so every effort will be made to defeat State this year inasmuch as only one match has been arranged.

SPEAKS AT CONFERENCE

Prof. Bromley Smith, of the local faculty, spoke at a recent gathering of the Eastern Conference of teachers of Speech at Princeton, on "The Relation o fthe Library to Debating." Prof. Smith was elected vice president of this organization at the same session.

FORUM THEATRE PARTY

On Saturday night the Junior Class of Gamma Lambda Sigma entertained the Active Chapter and the Pledges to an informal theatre party at the Orpheum. After the show, the party returned to the chapter house where cigars and cards were enjoyed.

During the course of the evening music was furnished by the Gamma Lambda Sigma Orchestra, featuring Jackson and Indigo as soloists. The party came to an end with a long 'Ray Juniors'. Among the guests were Professors Hall and Greenland of the faculty and Robert Jadwin, 23, State College.

SENIOR PLAY IS SELECTED

"SEVEN KEYS TO BALDPATE" TO BE GIVEN ON JUNE 13 BY CLASS

Plans for the Senior Class play are progressing in fine shape and the committee under "Abe" Heller, is working hard to make it a big success. The play to be presented is "Seven Keys to Baldpate," which is one of the biggest comedy successes of the American stage. It has run for a long time in our larger cities and everywhere was met with great enthusiasm. It has just been released for stock production and used by stock companied for two year running. Everywhere it has been a great success and we are assured of a great treat.

The play will be presented in Commencement Hall on June 13. The leads will be taken by Martha Leiser and "Abie" Heller and all who have seen them in numerous plays before presented, in which they took the leads together, know that their acting is unsurpassable. The supporting cast will be the best ever picked in a class play here, because of the large amount of talent in the class, both men and women. Rehearsals will begin the first week in May. The scenery will be entirely new and made especially for this production.

Next week further announcements concerning "Seven Keys to Baldpate" will be made thru the Bucknellian.

FIJIS DEFEAT S. A. E.

Inter-fraternity pool contests were resumed last week and received a startling surprise when S. A. E. fell beneath the table and registered only 57 while Phi Gamma Delta counted 166.

This is one of eleven games which must be played before a winning team can be chosen. With but six weeks remaining of school, it is supposed that these games will soon be counted to somebody's credit.

RELAY MEN ARE READY FOR PENN

The Bucknell Relay team is shaping up rapidly for the Penn Relays this week. The four men who will probably do the stepping are Hahn, Moore, Davis and Joseph. All of them are making the lap in time that should bring home the banner. Chapman and Roosenbloom who are entered as substitutes ,were beaten in the tryouts by very narrow margins, and neither of them are definitely eliminated.

Track activities are very flourishing at Bucknell. Although in training for a comparatively short time, many of the candidates are showing promise of being a very well balanced aggregation. Daybeff is going fine in the low hurdles, and Wren and Treadwell are making good time in the high. Sprinters and long distance men are plentiful and show real class. In the jumps the main strength is in Dinn and Morgan in the broad, Wren, Treadwell and Joseph in the high, and Haslem, Ross and Courson in the pole vault. The only weakness now is in the weights, but several new candidates are progressing rapidly, and will quite likely produce the necessary strength before the season is far advanced.

LEBANON VALLEY BOWS TO BUCKNELL

Dietrich's Homer In First Inning Saves Day For Orange and Blue Team. Bellack Pitches Wonderful Game And Is Given Fine Support

Opening matters for Bucknell as lead-off man, Johnny Dietrich's drive deep into center field, allowing him to circumnavigate the sacks, registered the only score in the game against Lebanon Valley last Friday on Tustin Field. Dietrich on this initial trip to the plate ignored the first offers of Witmere, pitcher for Lebanon Valley, and with two strikes called against him, stepped into the third pitched ball with a wealth of weight and rounded the pill clean over the center fielder's head. Niftily stepping around the circuit, Johnny "D" was home long before the relayed ball came to the waiting catcher.

This first inning score was a gold nugget for Bucknell, for in the remaining eight periods the Orange and Blue men could connect with Witmere's offers for only one single. Bellak allowed only four hits which his running mates, with excellent fielding, quickly discounted. Both pitchers kept the lid tightly on the opposing team and retired man after man in 1, 2, 3 order. The contest was a struggle for eight innings with the result always in the balance.

Kostos drew the other hit from Witmere and progressed to the third bag, but got left when Witmere stiffened and threw just eight balls for two strike outs. In fact, the twirler for Lebanon Valley seemed to have excellent control of his low inshoot and he used this to good advantage, stranding four Orange and Blue men during the game and retiring 12. Bellak equalled this performance striking out 10 and walking none as against two who were given walks by Witmere.

Linker faced for the first time this season a left handed pitcher and failed to draw anything. Jones sprinting ability saved what would have been the only three base hit of the game when he rushed over to "Doc" Bartol's and nabbed Moore's fly. The infield for Bucknell worked with out an error in close effort with their pitcher. It was a real baseball game, with the home run the winning factor for Bucknell.

"OH GEORGINA" MAKES BIG HIT

"Oh Georgina!" the play previously presented by the Kratzer-Dull Post of the American Legion, was again presented on Wednesday at the Orpheum theatre before a large and appreciative audience. The play was one of the best amateur plays ever seen and the cast deserves much credit for their good work.

The work of Charles T. Miles as the clerk at the "Rip" Van Winkle Inn was especially good and he never failed to get a laugh from his audience whenever he spoke. George Schuyler as the steward on the "Catskill" acted his part to perfection. He certainly was a typical colored steward and added much to the production. Arda Bowser and Martha Leiser, in the leads, were very good in their portrayel. George Jones and his "sweetie," Cecil Hayes, were a screan and one could not help but laugh when they appeared. Francis Gibson, commonly known as "Hack" but sometimes as Percy Darling, and his wife, (in the play of course) Edna Baker, showed lots of experience on the stage. Caroline Hunt, in the part of a middle age woman as usual, played her part in the great perfection by which her acting is always characterized. Harry Mathers, Weber Gerhart and Anlyn Himmelrich completed the cast and added greatly to it.

The chorus, which contributed greatly to the success of the presentation, was composed of Louise Mathers, Anna May Speare, Kathrine Wagner, Natalie Musser, Wm. J Irwin, Ben Kauffman, Donald Johnson and William Speare.

NEW OFFICIALS

With the next issue o fthe Bucknellian, Perry S. Rogers and Roy H. Landis will have charge, under the direction of the present officials. This arrangement will continue for the remainder of the semester.

DELTA SIGMA PLAY DELIGHTS HEARERS

This year's Delta Sigma play was repeated last Friday evening in Commencement Hall for the benefit of the Y. W. C. A. The audience of four or five hundred was delighted. The play itself was even better than when presented before the fraternity and it's guests three weeks ago. Bucknell seldom has the opportunity to witness a play of deeper significance.

"Kindling" is admirable as a work of art; but it is even more important as a social document. It is a sincere and sympathetic study of the emotions of the desperate poor. The play reminds us with a pang that each of us is at least a tacit partner in a social organization that is guilty of infanticide upon an enormous scale. After we have lived the life of Maggie Shultz for an evening in the theatre or library, we can scarcely recede to our own more snug and comfortable lives without asking ourselves a few serious questions.

Following is the cast of characters: Heinrich Schultz, a stevedore, Harold McGraw; Maggie Schultz, his wife Miss Mary Appleman; Mrs. Bates, a neighbor, Miss Mary Lewellyn; Steve Mrs. Bates' son, Frederick Foxall; Mrs. Burke-Smith, owner of the tenement, Miss Carolyn Hunt; Mr. Howland, her business manager, William Sugden; Alie, her niece, Miss Anna Heyshan; Dr. Taylor, an interne from a public hospital, Lawrence Lawson; Rafferty, a plain clothes man, F. Sturgis Beers; Donovan, his assistant, John Beers.

The entire receipts of this play were turned over to the Y.W.C.A. much of this money will be used to send delegates to the annual conference at Eaglesmere, this Summer. The Y. W. wishes to publicly thank the Delta Sigma Fraternity for their generous effort, and everyone who attended, for their cooperation.

"Y" ELECTION

The Cabinet o fthe "Y" announces that a meeting has been arranged to take place at the time of the regular Chapel exercises next Thursday. The meeting has been called in order that the officers for next year might be elected and that these men might begin now to get their program outlined and working for 1922. The meeting coming at this time of the day will run into no conflicts, and it is hoped that all who are interested will make this plain by their presence at Chapel on Thursday. Further announcement of this will be made in the first two chapel periods of the week.

PLANS MADE FOR JUNIOR WEEK

SMOKER, RECEPTION AND PROM ALL FEATURE IN COMING SOCIAL EVENTS

Plans for the various activities of Junior Week now practically complete, with the definite and final announcement of the functions by President E. W. Ross. Plans include three major events: the Reception, the Smoker, and the Prom.

The Reception will be given in Women's College on Wednesday evening of this week, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. "Curly" Lawson, chairman of the committee in charge of the reception, has been planning some innovations, with the result that the affair will be as different as possible from those of past years.

The Smoker will be held in the Tustin Gymnasium on Thursday night, beginning at 8 o'clock.

"Dutch" Miller has been in charge of preparations for this event, and he promises surprises for everybody. In addition to regular exhibition matches of boxing and wrestling.

The Junior Prom will be held in the Lewisburg Club on Friday night at 7:30 o'clock and will, of course, be formal. "Diffy" has been given full power in making preparations for the Prom, and the results of his labors will be apparent Friday night in every detail.

Juniors are urged to come to life, and realize that this week is to be an important one in the history of the Class of 1922. Every Junior should attend each of the several functions that are to be held, and get behind all preparations and push.

S. A. E. STEPS OUT

Friday evening from eight until one, Sig Alphs and ladies danced at the Lewisburg Club, opening their Spring Social Season, with an affair long to be remembered as one of good music, delightful refreshments and beautifully decorated hall.

"Dinty" Moore's "Milten Maids," provided excellent music for the programme which was concluded to the "tears" of the dancers.

FACULTY MAKES NEW RULINGS

The following regulations were adopted by the Faculty at a meeting held April fourteenth:

A student who shall fail in fifty per cent. of the registered work for any semester shall be put on probation during the succeeding semester, and parents or guardians notified. At the option of the Dean, the registered hours for the succeeding semester may be fewer than the minimum regularly required, and the failures repeated if possible and if satisfactory to the professors concerned. If the work of this semester is unsatisfactory, the student is to be requested to withdraw from the University.

If any senior becomes liable for an extra semester hour through absences incurred during the second semester, the awarding of his or her diploma shall be deferred until after Commencement: this provision to go into effect in the school year 1921-22.

FOUNDER'S DAY CELEBRATION

On Friday evening, April 22, Delta Chapter of Phi Gamma Delta celebrated the Seventy-Third anniversary of the founding of the national fraternity. After enjoying a chicken dinner, at which Professors Helm, Bullenline, and Smith of the faculty were present, speeches were made from alumni and actives.

MAY DAY WILL BE CELEBRATED MAY SEVENTH

ORIGINAL MASQUE WILL BE PRESENTED BY GIRLS OF ALL FOUR CLASSES

WRITTEN BY EMILY DEVINE, '21

Coeds Are Working Hard On the Dances and Intend to Make This Year's Celebration the Best Ever

May Day, which is celebrated by the Bucknell Co-eds, as one of the festal days of Spring, will take place as usual on the first Saturday in May this year being May 7th. The Senior girls expect to carry out the customs started by the Class of '19, that of making the "Minuet" the dance of the Seniors. Miss Walton, physical director at the Woman's College, is having daily practices with the various classes, for each is striving to win the loving cup given yearly for the prettiest dance, with the greater per cent of the class participating.

At present the cup is held by the Class of '23 and it is understood that they are particularly keen about retaining it.

However, the question of everyone is" Whom shall be May Queen" This year sixteen people, more than ever before, were eligible for it. So this leaves ample room for discussion as to whom it shall be. Seniors eligible are Clara Casner, Barbara Coe, Marguerite Coe, Lydia Coene, Elizabeth Davis, Emily Devine, Lottie Dietz, Emma Fuhrer, Martha Leiser, Freda MacKreth, Ruth Mount Marjorie Sprout, Elizabeth Weidner, Verna Smith, LaRue Unger and Mary Reed

"The Season's Strife," written by Emily Devine will be the mask or playlet presented this year by the Bucknell co-eds in their annual May Day Pageant which will take place on May 7. This year a novel idea is in vogue, that of having the playlet written entirely by one of the students and given to the public under the supervision of Professor Herold. Several plays were written for the occasion, but Miss Devine chanced to be the fortunate one in that her play was chosen for production.

"The Season's Strife" deals with the struggle between the seasons, (each class representing a season) as to which shall hold the throne of Nature for "good and aye." After considerable strife, with the Goddess of Nature acting as interlocutor the decision is finally reached when the May Queen tells them that as it takes all things to make the world, so also, it takes all the seasons to please the world's inhabitants and consequently each season is given three months in which to reign. Then comes the planting of the Senior Class tree by the attendants of Spring (Seniors), and the day is ended.

The characters in the playlet will be as follows:
May Queen— "?"
Goddess of Nature—Helen Kitlowski
Mother Earth—Esther Flemming
Spring—Verna Smith and Seniors
Summer—Helen Graham and Freshmen
Autumn—Margaret Lees and Sophomores
Winter—Sue Plummer and Juniors

The Senior Tree Oration will be given by Emily Devine, President of the Senior Class, and will be accepted by Jennie Burke, President of the Junior Girls.

Various committees have been named to take care of May Day affairs which are: Scenery,Lydia Coene Chairman; Tree, Emily Devine, Chairman; Music, Emma Fuhrer, Chairman; Chain, Phoebe Davis, Chairman; Decoration, Clara Casner, chairman; Program, Mary Appleman, chairman; Costume, Myra Effinger, chairman.

S. A. E. HOLDS "DAD'S DAY"

Sigma Alpha Epsilon inaugurated "Dad's Day", this year and observed the occasion last Saturday at the chapter house. The inter-class track meet was to have been a feature of the program arranged, but a smoker and get-together took the place of that event, and tales "ran the track" from fishing experiences by the Dads to war stories by the boys. An edible banquet closed the day which the following Dads all voted should be repeated next fall: A. L. McMurtrie, C. H. Parmley, R. L. Heiser, O. N. Miller, T. S. Hughes and J. P. Moore.

BOOST THE "Y"

Stop a moment and recall the meeting o fthe Student Body that was held in Commencement Hall the morning after Sherwood Eddy left us. Do you remember the earnest spirit of it all and the evident desire on the part of the majority to make their own influence count for something worthwhile about the Hill? In the short time that has passed the cabinet has met to plan for the reorganization of the "Y" that it might play its part in the lift o fthe students.

The time has come for action, and a meeting has been called for Thursday morning to be held in the Chapel at the regular chapel time. No roll will be taken but all the men who are interested in making the "Y" stand for something about the Hill, are asked to attend for that half hour. The regular election of officers for next year will be the business taken up. It is essential that the men chosen to be the leaders for next year be the best that are available.

The Pyramids of Eygpt are the work of a countless number of men and they stand as colossal memorials of time spent and energy transformed. The Literature and Art of the Greeks are our treasures and they are ours, not because a few men were inspired for the moment to make their contribution, but because a race of mankind had slowly developed in body, mind and spirit, until they reached a high water mark and such an outpouring was the natural expression. The Law of Rome was not produced at a single sitting nor has the Christian Church grown up over night.

The test of our interest and of our work will not be while we are here in college, but that test will come when the "Y" will have to meet the needs of the student body of tomorrow. The foundations that are now laid will have to be strong. This is the work before us and is our share in the building. We cannot help but see that our Alma Mater is growing. The beginning of new buildings, the addition of new lands, the plans of the architects, are all evidences of the Bucknell of tomorrow. Other than the responsibility we owe to each other, is there not a still larger responsibility to that great number of students that are coming after us in those next years?

To start the "Y" on a path of service and influence is the work that lies before us. The first part of that program takes place on Thursday morning in the Chapel at ten o'clock. Mr. Eddy said that he had never seen such spirit as was displayed at those meetings in Commencement Hall. Was he right about the spirit of Bucknellians, or was he blinded by a temporary outburst of vocal spirit?

ANNOUNCES ENGAGEMENT

D. Hobart Evans, of Wilkes-Barre, who will graduate with the Class of '21, has announced his engagement to Miss Anna B. Daniels of the same city. Mr. Evans is a popular member of his class, a thorough student and an earnest worker. In September he expects to continue his preparation for the ministry at Princeton Theological Seminary.

Miss Daniels is a trained nurse, in which profession she is at present engaged. She is a splendid young woman and worthy of the highest esteem. The wedding will take place some time in June.

STUDENT'S FORUM

WHY IS IT?

Now that the baseball season has begun, every student, whether he is an athlete or not, takes great pride in having a winning team. Having a winning team he likes to see the score of his team in important newspapers so that his friends may see what his school is doing. The Philadelphia papers are not only willing but glad to publish any scores that are sent to them. All the nearby colleges and even the high schools have their scores printed but Bucknell does not. Why is it?

When we were defeated in our first game our score appeared the next day, but, when our team played a wonderful game, and won, nothing was published. This has occurred two times so far during the present season.

Why is it? Is some one neglecting his duty?

OPPORTUNITIES FOR SERVICE

"Many college girls, while at home in the summer, see their mothers working hard and do not realize that there is their chance for service: to help make their mother's burdens lighter" said Miss Nina Grace Smith, leader of the last Y. W. C. A. meeting during her common-sense talk on "Service."

After a violin solo by Miss Eloise Hill, Miss Smith began her discussion of whother we are getting the ideals we should from college life, which are: a broader outlook, a deeper insight into human nature and a definity aim of service. She said the tragic part of college education is that so many leave, not with these high ideals and aims, but with a desire to have a good time ,or to get money and fame.

To do efficient service we cannot let college make snobs of us, for a servant cannot be a snob. We must be familiar with world happings and broadened by world interests. College should raise our estimate of our fellow men, that we may have faith in them and desire to serve them.

She then continued to discuss the practical ways that every one of us can serve. First she mentioned the great field of missions, and that of social work in cities. But she said tho many of us are not able to serve as missionaries, there is plenty to do right in our own home towns.

Those of us who live in little towns she cautioned against going home with a snobbish and superior attitude, which would make people resent any service we would try to do. We should show them we have grown bigger, not smaller. We have a chance to do church work and missionary work at home, and as guardians of Camp Fire organizations and as teachers we have great opportunities to influence the young for better, truer service, consists in doing the homely tasks of every day life cheerfully and lovingly and serving each other, no matter where we happen to be.

MOUNT UNION

Mount Union College claims to be the originator of collegiate basketball. A tablet in the gym of this Ohio school has an inscription to the effect that the first game was played there in March 1892. "The Dynamo," the student publication says: "We know of no college in the United States which can establish the claim that basketball was played previous to this date."

NOT SO BAD

The study of English by Chinese students is bearing fruit. Thomas V. Lamont, at a dinner in Pekin recently questioned the Chinese Minister of the Interior continually thru an interpreter. Imagine his surprise when later the official asked him in perfect English: "Mr. Lamont, who is pitching for Pittsburgh now?"

MICHIGAN

The authorities of the University of Michigan have ordered that the "J-hop," a tradition of 50 years, be discontinued. Reasons for the action were that excessive drinking and smoking in the building during the hop, combined with a tendency on the part of the students to disregard all university laws at the hops were making the hop of bad reputation. The statement declared evidence of reform on the part of the students.

SYRACUSE

With the demand for children's clothing increasing and the price remaining high, women students at Syracuse University in the School of Home Economics have undertaken a project aimed to combat this condition. They have organized a junior clothing department to make clothing for children between the ages of 4 and 14 years. When the clothes are finished, parents will be invited to view the display before they are placed on sale.

BOSTON U.

"Chinese students are forming a new middle class in their country and taking the lead in fighting political graft," says Prof. Marshall Perrin of Boston University, recently returned from Nanking University, where he was an exchange professor last year. "Officialdom has been cut out of Chinese life and the students are coming up from the common people to take a hand in political affairs," he reports. "Under the empire graft was encouraged and it has not been stampeded out of the republic. Students object to this system and desire to purify the government. The fighting last summer aroused by the attitude of the students was successful in that it turned out the entire government except the president and had new, honest officials put in power."

BRITISH UNIVERSITIES

According to a recent issue of "School Life," Germany's characteristic academic degree, the Doctorate of Philosophy will hereafter be conferred by British Universities. This determination is the result of a recognition made early in 1918 by the Prime Minister's Committee, upon the position of Natural Science in the educational system of Great Britain. Whether this will result in the dethronement of the traditional British Master of Arts is not now estimated. It may be regarded, however, as a step devised to lure American students in increasing numbers from the German universities which they frequented for half a century before 1914.

The announcement is made that the degree is offered by the University of Oxford and the municipal universities of Birmingham, Bristol, Durham, Leeds, Liverpool, London, Manchester and Scheffield; by the University of North Wales, Bangor; by the Universities of Edinburgh and Glasgow, and by Trinity College, Dublin. It was worthy of note that Cambridge was not included in the announcement.

LIBERALS TO HOLD MEETING

All students interested in the discussion of contemporary political, social and international affairs are invited to attend a conference at Cambridge, Mass., where a new intercollegiate liberal organization will be formed. In many colleges such students are organized into Good Government Clubs, Social Science Clubs, Forums, or other groups; but all interested students are invited, whether members of such groups or not.

The program will open at 1.30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, with registration and get-together of guests. At three o'clock Walter Lippman of the "New Republic" will deliver the opening address, and will be followed by speeches from the floor and the appointment of committees. At six-thirty a banquet will be served in the living room of the Harvard Union, at which Senator Ladd of North Dakota, President McCracken of Vassar and other distinguished men will speak. The next day, (Sunday) the business conference will be concluded; and after a dinner, which will be addressed by Francis Neilson of the "Freemen," and others, the conference will conclude with the election of permanent officers.

Twelve colleges have already accepted the invitation to be present. The expenses of the conference, exclusive of meals and railrond fares, are being defrayed by private contribution; accommodations for the night may be secured free of charge.

Those who wish to attend the conference or desire further information should communicate at once with Robert Wormser, Secretary, 33 Holyoke St., Cambridge, Mass.

The principles on which it is proposed to found the new organization are as follows:

PRINCIPLES:

The cultivation of the open mind; the development of an informed student opinion on social, industrial, political and international questions; the encouragement of inquiry; the presentation of facts; subservience to no "isms;" education of the college youth in the problems of citizenship.

SCOPE:

1. (a) A national organization, made up of (b) regional units which shall combine (c) the liberal groups in neighboring colleges.
2. Affiliation with simtiar groups abroad with a view of an eventucl international league of college liberals.

PRACTICAL PROGRAM:

1. To organize and foster liberal groups in the colleges.
2. To furnish speakers, literature and other forms of assistance to the groups.
3. To induce men and women of achievement to devote a portion of their time to lectures in the colleges.
4. To organize a regional and national and intimately international conventions of liberal groups.

STRUCTURE:

1. A federation of autonomous college liberal groups based on individual student membership.
2. Cooperation of graduates and faculty members with student direction.
3. Legislative Branch—
   An executive committee made up of
   (a) two thirds of students elected by regional student conventions.
   (b) One-sixth of graduates elected by the graduate membership.
   (c) One-sixth of faculty memmembers elected by the faculty membership.
4. Executive Branch,
   Elected by Executive Committee.

YOU HAVE WRITTEN POEMS!
Do you care to have them revised or constructively criticised by successful authors? If you do, then send us your manuscript (stories, articles or poems.) We will criticise, and place them should they prove to be acceptable for publication.
There is no actual charge for our services. If, however, you have not previously enrolled with the advisory department of this association, we request that you enclose the initial fee of two dollars, which we must ask of each new contributor. There is no adiitional expense, no future obligation.
It must be realized that we can only be of aid to those of serious intent. If you do mean to strive for literary success, we can help you in many ways. Our services are yours until we have actually succeeded in marketing at least one of your manuscripts. Send something today!

PUNCTURE PROOF TIRE HUMOR

Tires are four important all around reasons why an automobile is a joy to ride in. You may gather that we have an inflated idea of the pleasure of motoring. But, we know as well as you do that a little puncture now and then takes the air out of our tires and hot air expressed in words from the mouth of the mender. A pneumatic blow-out has often flattened a social blow-out. If you do not take a hoisting jack in your tool box so that you may repair your tire, be sure to carry plenty of "jack" in your wallet. Free air is furnished at garages, but the incidental services are just as chargeable as your electric batteries. Current expenses can not be "turned off". During the past five years the average number of tires used on a car has dropped from over five to under four. So, motorist, register joy just as you do when you "rubber" at "Topics of the Day" Flims at your favorite theatre. Now see how many smiles per minute you can get out of the Bucknellian brand of tire humor:

WOMENS COLLEGE NOTES

The Women's Athletic Association under the presidency of Jennie Burh '22, is doing wondrous work at the Woman's College. The tennis courts have scarcely been empty an hour since they have been lined and the opposite sex in passing up Sixth st. cannot help but comment on the manner in which the co-eds wield rackets. Class tournaments are to be staged in the near future, those having signed up to date are, Seniors E. Devine, E. Fuhrer, R. Mount, E. Watson, E. Weidner: Juniors, Jennie Burke, Anna Althouse, Darle Davis, Louise Llewlyn, Kathryn Pettigrew and Mary Shall: Sophmores, L. Hood, M. Jack, G. Emerich, P. Ottmyer, D. Sholl, K. Owens, S. Donsalske, E. Hurst: Freshmen, Alice Stokes, R. Raker, E. Wurtenburg, E. Homer, M. Haldeman.

Not only in tennis are the co-eds taking an active part but in hiking and basket ball as well, for according to the rules of the Athletic Association, class numerals are awarded for three full class basket ball games, and for hiking 68 miles, However the 68 miles must be divided into six 10 mile, one 5 mile and one 3 mile hike. This is doubtless the cause of so many return trips by foot to Milton, Montandon, the four mile, plus a mile and so firth. Sixty-eight miles is a rather long distance but the Seniors, Juniors and Freshman must bow in submission to the noble Sophs for there they have carried off the victory as in basket ball. Miss Margaret Morgan '23, is the first co-ed to complete her sixty-eight miles, which consisted of six ten miles, one five miles and a three mile hike, all taken within the past three weeks.

Numerals will also be awarded for swimming and for the class championship in tennis, so 'ere long we shall see the co-eds bedecked in orange and blue as never before.

B. U. TENNIS TEAM BEATS PENN STATE 5 MATCHES TO 1

LYBARGER, GEDRICH, KOCH AND GOHO DISPLAY SUPERIOR BRAND OF TENNIS

COURTS WET AND SLIPPERY

State Requests a Return Match to be Played in Lewisburg, Probably on June 10.

Playing on wet, slippery courts, the Bucknell tennis team defeated Penn State five matches to one on State College courts last Saturday afternoon, Lybarger, Gedrich, Koch and Goho represented Bucknell and all of them displayed a superior brand of tennis with which State could not cope.

Lybarger was at his best and his singles opponent, "Andy" Wilson, could only secure one game in two sets. "Bill" easily took the match, 6-1, 6-0. In doubles, Lybarger and Koch met with a little more opposition but had no difficulty in finally winning.

Gedrich lost his singles to Bogs but with Goho finally defeated Boggs and Parsons in straight sets, both of which were deuced. "Steve" Goho made his first appearance as a member of the team and played like a veteran, easily winning his singles and putting up an excellent defensive game in doubles.

All of the matches were decided in straight sets with the exception of Koch's singles. He and Parsons waged a pretty even battle with the former finally winning by the score of 6-3, 6-8, and 8-6.

State seemed very anxious to secure a return match and it is quite likely that Manager Sowers will arrange to play them here on June 10.

The result of the State match gives promise of the tennis team's completing a successful season. The schedule as arranged by Manager Sowers includes a match with Susquehanna at Selinsgrove on Friday and a match with Swarthmore at Lewisburg on May 13.

Singles

Lybarger defeated Wilson,	6-1, 6-0
Boggs defeated Gedrich	7-5, 6-3
Koch defeated Parsons,	6-3, 6-8, 8-6
Goho defeated Watts	6-1, 6-2

Doubles

Lybarger and Koch defeated Wilson and Watts, 6-4.

Gedrich and Goho defeated Boggs and Parsons, 7-5, 11-9.

PENN RELAYS

The relay team sent by Bucknell to the Penn Relays last Saturday, made a very creditable showing, taking second place in her class. We were entered in the fourth group of colleges, comprised of Muhlenburg, Bucknell, Gettysburg, Franklin and Marshall, Catholic University, Colby, Manhattan and Washington and Jefferson, in their order from the pole.

Colby made first place with a time of two minutes thirty-three and two-fifth seconds, a new record for this class. Bucknell finished second, Washton and Jefferson third and Franklin and Marshall fourth.

Our time was one of the best in all the college events. Every man ran a good quarter, all averagnig less than fifty-three seconds. Colby had two forty-nine second men on her team; they won simply because they could run faster.

BOTANY TRIP

Last Saturday a crowd, composed of Dr. Davis' class in Botany and Professor Stewart's class in Zoology, and a few other students, visited the Snyder-Middleworth State Forest Reserve, in Snyder County. Two trucks and several "flivers" left Woman's College a bout seven-thirty and made the thirty mile trip in time for lunch.

This reserve contains some of the small area of virgin forest left in Pennsylvania. In spite of the rain and the cold the "nature hunters" had a good tiz climbing over the mountain paths and fishing for trout. Basket lunch was served at the edge of the forest, after which the exploring began. Dean Phillips and wife and Registrar Clark and wife accompanied the party. A happy singing crowd returned thrue the cold rain.

BRYAN SPEAKS

William Jennings Bryan spoke in Milton last Thursday evening. By special arrangement he stopped off at Bucknell Friday morning and spoke to the student body assembled in Commencement Hall.

Mr. Bryan commenced his speech by remarking on his love for college students and work among them and his purpose to spend more and more of his time among them. His address was essentially a plea for full rounded development, mentally, physically and morally. He stressed especially the moral development, rebuking any system of education or system of thought which destroyed a man's belief in God and his faith in his fellowmen. Mr. Bryan was well received and his visit kindly appreciated.

1922 CELEBRATES "JUNIOR WEEK"

Reception, Movie Party, Dinners, Hike Tea-Dansant, Smoker and Prom Make A Full Week For The Juniors

The "Jolly Juniors" celebrated during the past week. A few of the more experienced professors allowed some "cuts" and books in general were pushed aside while the class of '22 made merry.

RECEPTION

The Junior reception was held on Wednesday evening in the Women's College parlors. Seven forty-five found about thirty men in the living room wondering what had happened to the Junior girls. But they came, and things went off with a bang. Every jolly Junior had his name tagged to his back and a contest was run at once to see who could collect the ost names. Appropriate prizes were awarded to Francis VanCleaf and Ike Humphrey. As a further "mixer" th Juniors divided themselves into twelve groups representing the months of their respective birthdays. Each group then gave a tableau to represent their month. September won, even though they could not get the statue of Venus de Milo to represent the well-known female named for the ninth month. By an eleventh-hour permission from Miss Carey, dancing was permitted for onehalf an hour. To the harmony produced by Wilson, Allan and Hoffa the class made the most of those thirty minutes between nine-thirty and ten o'clock. Refreshments were served, songs and yells were wafted to the squirrles, and a really jolly bunch of Juniors disbanded aa ten-fifteen. The class extend their thanks to Chairman Lawson and his committee, and to Miss Armstrong and Miss Fowler, who acted as chaperones.

SMOKER

The worries and cares of '22 went up in smoke Thursday evening. The third year men and quite a few Seniors met at the gymnasium for one of the jolliest events of the year. Cigarettes and cards were first in order. But soon the cigars were passed and the men gathered in a circle to watch some clever bouts. Eddy Treadwell and Ada Klein first entered the ring and proceeded to wallop each other for three rounds. At the request of Treadwell, however, the second and third were made one-minute rounds, with two-minute intermissions. Hunt and Wilsbach were booked to wrestle but after witnessing this battle they decided ot box. These two giants showed three rounds of good boxing. No one was knocked out, however, except Referee Julian, who tripped over a mat. Jimmie Earle and Johnny Johnson next came on the mat for a wrestling match. After a fast tangle the Smoke Shop proprietor was thrown for a down. The program was concluded with a bout between Tommy Horan and Steve Hodoba, for the championship of Locust Gap. Both boys showed good form, but they were too warm friends to decide the championship at this time. "Gus" Short contributed generously toward the program. Besides announcing the contestants he afterward tuned his warbling tenor to the banjo orchestra which was present for the occasion. After his musical numbers the boys gathered in a fireside circle (every man making his own fire) and told stories. On account of space the stories cannot be published in the Bucknellian.

Great credit is due Chairman "Dutch" Miller and his comittee for their part in the success of the smoker. The Juniors of '22 and their Senior guests had a royal time. The regret was expressed by many that more such occasions cannot find a place in the college year.

PROM.

The Junior Prom, given last Friday night in the Lewisburg club by the class of 1922, was one of the most successful events of the year. About eighty-five couples attended, which did not overcrowd the hall too much to interfere with the dancing. A great deal of credit should be given Chairman Diffendafer and the cimittee for the commendable manner in which the dance was given. A formal dance with Seminary girls in attendance is not an every-day occurrence and it is safe to say that every one enjoyed the affair to the utmost.

Refreshments consisting of ice-cream, cake and coffee were served at intersion at 10:30. A bowl of punch was placed at the disposal of the guests early in the evening and proved to be a very popular spot as the evening wore on. The programs of the dance were especially pleasing, being made of a dark blue leather with an orange "B" stamped on the face and the whole fastened with an orange cord. "Diffy's College Five" furnished most acceptable dance music from 7:30 to 12 o'clock, when they unpleasantly reminded everyone with "Home, Sweet Home," that it was time to go "there."

CO-ED FUNCTIONS

The Junior girls took full advantage of "Junior Week" and made merry from beginning to end. On Monday evening there was a table party after which the Freshman girls entertained the Juniors with a mock wedding, followed by dancing.

Tuesday evening the Juniors attended "Lady Windermere's Fan," in a body. Wednesday afternoon there was a movie party. In the evening they were royally entertained at a reception by the Junior boys.

Thursday afternoon all hiked to "Shriner's" where a bountiful supper was devoured. Then an almost unheard-of thing occurred—the girls attended the second show of the movies.

Next on the program came the "Prom," 'with a mock prom at the "Sem" for those who were not fortunate enough to go to the Club.

The crowning events of the week came on Saturday, when the girls entertained at a tea-dansant in the afternoon and in the evening the girls did justice to a chicken and waffle dinner at Steininger's.

Thus ended one of the most delightful and successful Junior weeks there ever has been.

PHI GAM CONVENTION

The Section Convention of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity was held last Friday and Satruday at the Chapter House of Gettysburg College. Representatives of State College, Bucknell and Gettysburg attended the convention. Shimer, Sisserton, Carter, Eaton, Schuyler and Richards, represented Delta, the local chapter of the fraternity.

Extensive preparations were made by the Gettysburg men for the entertainment of their guests. They included a dance on Friday evening, a banquet on Saturday evening and a trip over the battlefield.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

Plans for the Senior Class play to be given in June are rapidly progressing. The members of the cast, including several well known actors and actresses from the Cap and Dagar Dramatic Society and Frill and Frown have been working on their parts and are attaining very promising results.

CIVIL ENGINEERS

The Civil Engineering Society will meet in Euepia, Main College, on Monday evening, May 2nd, a twhich time Dr. Bartol will speak. On the following Monday evening, May 9, Judge Johnson will speak to the society in the same place.

The purpose of these meetings is to establish the American Society of Civil Engineers at Bucknell. This is a national organization of widespread reputation. The interest of all Civil Engineering students is earnestly solicited.

It is essental that a goodly number of students be present at these meetings. Remember the dates—Monday evenings, May second and ninth. Boost Civil Engineering at Bucknell University.

"BUCKNELL DAY" PLANS COMPLETED

ANNUAL MAY DAY PROGRAM, BASEBALL GAME AND TRACK MEET TO BE EVENTS

Bucknell Day will be celebrated next Saturday, May the seventh. This event, held for the first time last year, should become one of the high lights in the life of Bucknell. Several events are already scheduled. Saturday morning will witness a base ball classic between the Forum pill-twirlers and a tea composed of non-fraternity men. Those who have witnessed such contests know that these "fluke" games are more interesting to watch than any varsity contest. The game is called for ten o'clock.

An interclass track meet will be held in the afternoon at 2:30. Every man who has ever taken part in any track or field event is requested to come out and make it a real event. All entries must be in the hands of Manager Mohler by Tuesday, May 3. Positively no names will be accepted after that date. Entry blanks may be obtaind at the gymnasium.

The annual May Day program will also be staged in the afternoon. By all the signs of the seasons the fairies and the butterflies are due to flutter about in all the frolicsome gaiety of spring. And then just to show a few scoffers that we have "queens" at Bucknell, we want to see who will be May Queen. Our May Day is a distinctively Bucknellian event; let us support it.

No definite program has been arranged for Saturday evening, but it is understood that the fraternities will keep "open house." This custom presents one of the best occasions for the intermingling of fraternity and non-fraternity men. Bucknell Day is a new venture with us. It should become what Pennsylvania Day is to Penn State. Let us boost it.

BIDS ENTERTAIN ACTIVES

On Saturday afternoon and evening, April 23, the Delta Delta Delta bids entertained the active chapter members and Miss Florence Fowler. The event was titled, "The Skidds Excursion," and was presented in the nature of a progressive dinner party, during which the following trick program was carried out:

I. Leave "Sem," 5:00.
II. Arrive at Room 17—Wolfe Crossing Waters.
III. Change Cars for 3rd Street—Visit Chicken Farm.
IV. Sidetrack to Ind. Street—Green Prairies.
V. Wait! Between trains.—Movie Party.
VI. Board Express for 48 Main Crossing—Dessert.
Tumble Inn! (Good night.)

At each stop, clever favors and place cards were given out and silver, gold and blue, the pins and pansies, (Delta's symbols) were cleverly worked into the decorations.

The evening's entertainment wound up with dancing, a recitation by Ruth Weidenhamer and singing of songs in the "Sem" parlors. All voted the party a huge success and the actives expressed their appreciation in a rousing yell for the Biddees.

PRE-MED MEETING

A meeting of all Pre-Medical students is scheduled for Tuesday, May 3rd, at 4:30, in Room 2 of the Academy building. The meeting is important; it is therefore requested that every member be present. Come and bring the other fellow.

BUCKNELL WINS FROM DUQUESNE BY SCORE OF 4-1

DECOURSEY CIRCLES THE BASES FOR A TOTAL OF THREE RUNS.

GRIEB PITCHES GOOD GAME

Whole Team is Now Playing Better Ball and Should Have a Good Season.

Getting the usual first-inning lead, when Jones aided by Linker was enabled to turn his hit into the run column, Bucknell won from Duquesne last Wednesday on the home diamond by the score of 4 to 1.

The collegiams from the "Smoky City" were unable to draw more than four hits fro m "Doc" Grieb, twirling for Bucknell. They did their scoring on an error of Schultz', two pretty steals and finally an advance by McKnight allowed Klinging to stroll across the pan. This was only accomplished in the 5th, after Bucknell had counted another for themselves.

DeCoursey had his scoring machine working and made three of Bucknell's runs. In the fourth frame he slammed out a 2-base hit, reaching third through Schultz' sacrifice, and turned in home when Keefe fumbled Harris 'single down 2nd base way. In the 6th he did some pretty foot work around the corners and counted for another when Bellack's slam allowed him to register. DeCoursey was first man up for the Orange and Blue in the eighth. He took two bases on a series of errors and with Schultz and Harris contributing he came home to hang up Bucknell's fourth point. "Doc" Grieb, during five innings, made his initial bow as a Bucknell mound Statue, and serving good ball, proved himself a slugger as well as a pitcher. He accepted the first offer of the twirler for Duquesne and was credited with a hit, the result of a Texas leaguer. On both occasions up he did this while he threw just three balls to refire his opponent to the bench.

Such was, in fact, the spirit of the game, that every man was working for the victory which score is to be credited to Orange and Blue teamwork.

MATH CLUB PARTY

What if it did rain on Saturday, April 23? What cared the Math Club? What if a hike had been planned to Weiffland? Is that the onlyplace in the world? Indeed, no. You can't get ahead of the Math club. The barn of the university farm was commandeered and thither went the club under the able chaperonage of Miss Bolard. The jolly time began at once.

It was discovered at dinner time that the men of the club had a decided talent along culinary lines, for the way they fried the bacon, roasted the "doggies" and boiled the coffee would make the chef of Bellevue-Stratford hide his head in shame.

In the afternoon it was discovered too that the girls of the club had a decided talent along baseball lines. Lowry captained one team and Professor Everett, the other. The big barn afforded a splendid diamond. The only difficulty was to distinguish a fair ball from a foul. Professor Everett and Nina Smith starred—making home runs. Hit the ball in the corn fodder, and slowly walk around the bases, while the other side frantically hunts for the ball—and there you have a home run. At the end of the eighth inning the game was called off with Lowry leading, 14-10.

Election of officers for the coming year was held with the following results: President, Chester Derck; vice president, Grace Poust; secretary and treasurer, Kathryn Kimble.

At four o'clock it was a tired but joyous crowd that wended its way back to the Sem. Everyone voted the university barn an ideal place for an old-fashioned good time.

CONCERNING PUBLICITY

A very interesting letter addressed to the editor of the Bucknellian came from the Athletic office this week. The cause was the article printed in our last issue under the Student's Forum concerning the publicity of our successful athletic events. Mr. Gluss, graduate manager of athletics, takes exception to the article, in fact he comes back with a vengeance. With his consent, we publish the body of his letter verbatim.

"Even if the unsigned communication concerning the reporting of our baseball games, which appeared in the Bucknellian last week, had been so worded as to indicate a bona fide desire to help Bucknell, I cannot understand why it was published when the editor knew that the insinuation which it contained was not warranted, because he, himself had received and used in his own accounts the reports which were mailed to a hundred and thirty newspapers on the same days as the games were played. If it had been the sole purpose of the author, to enlighten himself on the subject, it seems to me that it would have been infinitely more simple, effective and fair, to have called at the Athletic Asn't office, where he could have gotten the information, without introducing incorrect statements and unjust insinuations into public print. Criticism based on fact, and really intended to improve the administration of this department, are always welcome, but it is very obvious that in this case it was neither—and this is only one of many which could be cited. The only thing that they can possibly accomplish is to produce hard feelings and dissatisfaction. Personal "knocks" do not make for progress even though they are disguised as constructive criticisms. What we need is cooperation and harmony. Let us strive for these, and lay aside the hammers.

"You may publish this letter over my name. I hope you will see fit to do so.

Very truly yours,
C. E. GLASS."

Accompanying this letter were samples of Sports Letters which are sent to the city newspapers.

STUDENT'S FORUM

WHY NOT COLLECT?

The writer has been at Bucknell four years and is offering a criticism which he feels is just and if corrected can be called constructive.

Every fall comes the plea, "support the budget." This has been true during my entire stay here and every year I have done so. Now I ask myself the question, "Why?" Why the high budget and where does the money go?

I find that perhaps the money is wisely distributed. At the same time the larger part goes toward the promotion of athletics.

The writer has heard year after year; "Why doesn't Bucknell play some big teams upon her home field?" Th biggest reason given in rebuttal to the question has always been the cost. Then too, contrary to a common opinion, the athletics association has had some up-hill studding and only recently has cleared or partially cleared the state of debt. Why?

The writer does not propose to clear the questions, but what he does propose will help.

One reason why the athlete association does not realize its full value is because of the carelessness with which the money is collected at the games. The purser seems to take it for granted that every young fellow on the campus is a college student. Furthermore if a visitor sits beside a band man he is immune. Why? This is the question the writer would like the A. A. to answer.

At the Bucknell-Penn game last fall every student entering the gate paid before he entered. At Harrisburg the same was true. Is it done this way at Bucknell? True, we do not have a stadium. But are we making the best of that which we we have? It may be the visitors or those skipped are friends? Is the athletic association run upon friendship? The answer is undoubtedly no; it is run upon business principles and so it should be.

The writer isn't kicking about the kids seeing the game. He was once a sand-lot player and enjoys athletics. What is wrong is that the methods of collecting from those who should and can pay, are carelessly thrown to the wind.

The writer has seen money not collected at the last two games. Money that was out in plain sight but was ignored and then put back into the pocket. The games have been worth the price, so why not collect?

It is true also that the reply may be that this is only a slip-up. The writer has observed it for four years but not so pronounced as this year.

Let's pull the loose dollars in and soon will be pulling in the interest on those few dollars and will be hundreds ahead. Then Bucknell will be able to bring not only Lafayette here but also the Navy or some other big team as well.

Then and then only can we say: "We're out behind, one and all. What is more we will win—financially.

THE TAX MUST GO

An agitation was begun some time ago which has now reached National proportions urging the repeal of the 10 per cent war tax on sporting goods and practically every National Amateur Association has gotten behind the movement and hundreds of thousands of individuals also.

Peter P. Carney and Hugh Fullerton, two of the best known sports writers in the United States, have written quite a number of articles showing the unsoundness of the tax, how it prevents the play of the youth of America, and its future effect on the Nation. These writers now ask that every student of every institution become interested in this movement and urge for the repeal of the tax.

Everything you purchase to be used for sports play, whether it be a snow shoe, a tennis racquet, a golf ball, or a hunting jacket is taxed 10 per cent before it leaves the manufacturing plant. The consumer pays this tax and sometimes more. You will note the unjustness of this tax when you note that automobiles, diamonds, etc., are only taxed 5 per cent. We know automobiles and diamonds are luxuries but very few things in the line of equipent that boys use are luxuries.

The Government itself does not believe that sporting equipment are luxuries, because during the war the soldiers got the sporting goods first. They were necessities then. They are necessities now. They were taxed 3 per cent during the war. That was all right. We know that the government needs money and sportsmen are willing to pay taxes, but few of us believe that Uncle Sam should tax the kids to play. That is just what this tax amounts to.

Statistics of past years shows that 70 per cent of the sporting goods manufactured were sold to boys and girls under the age of 18. Last year the figures were 72 per cent. This year sporting goods are a drug on the market. The boy isn't playing. He can't afford to.

It is up to every one of us to make a fight for the boy, for the future generation, because we are interested in the welfare of the nation even though the lawmakers cannot see the big idea. We believe that Congress thought it was soaking the professional ball player when it put on this tax. If they did they failed, for the professional base ball leagues do not use more than one per cent of the sporting goods made, and the ball players do not pay for any of this.

We ask in behalf of the kids of the United States that you write your congressman and Senator urging the immediate repeal of this tax. You can tell him in your own way just why the tax should be repealed. Write your letters today. Get your friends to write. If you are a member of an organization get the club to adop tresolutions on the tax and send th nt oWashington.

The Amateur Athletic Union, the United States Lawn Tennis Association, the Golf Association, the American Trapshooting Association, and many other organizations are very much interested in this campaign from the standpoint of the youth of America and it would be fine if you would cast your lot with theirs.

KNOW THYSELF

(Reprinted from "The Susquehanna" of Susquehanna University.)

To the student of human nature there is no matter more difficult than to located the individual, nor a question harder to answer than "Who am I?" with its correlate query, "Who are you?" If these two conundrums could be clearly solved, many of the problems of the waning century would pass away as cirrus clouds before the driving wind.

It is of paramount importance that each one settle the question as far as possible for himself. It is the one thing to us here on this mundane sphere. Though the way be difficult and ofttimes unpleasant, when once the precious goal is sighted no one will regret having made his own the motto, "Know Thyself."

The multiplicity of relations makes the matter more complex. Suppose we imagine that each relation be represented by a cord extended between two the objects related. Picture to yourself the network within this building today—kinfolk, friend, society brother, classmate, college mate fellow citizen of town, county, state and union, fellow Anglo Saxon, fellow Christian, fellow man, and so up to God. From each one leads a tiny silver cord. Through these cords course streams of love and life and idea. From each and all do we imbibe, and throw our quota into the mighty sweep of the many-channeled current. Just as the physiologists' even of this latter day find no easy task in designating accurately the seat of pain, so we find the inflowing and outpouring of these myriad streams so mixed and mingled, both within the person and along the lines of connection that it is virtually impossible to tell just what part of us is borrowed from associates, and just how much lies within the magic circle of originality.

The world of humanity is a great library with many different shelves and covers, corners and nooks. Reach up, take down a volume and read. Open up the book of your own life. Though the process be painful, separate the uncut leaves. Read it line by line from title page to finis. There is many a paragraph you have written there yourself, either in deed or thought, that long ago has slipped your memory; and everything looks different under the cool glance of an introspective eye. Down deep in the hidden recesses of your own heart are thoughts and motives and mental deeds that have never seen the light of day, that have never been called up even before the tribunal of your own conscience. Sometimes, aye, ofttimes we shrink from the image of our mind as he ranips in ghostly fury or gloats with diabolical pleasure over some deadly psychic crime. Had we "laid the ghost" at once, by finding out and asserting our true self in the matter, all would have been well, and when the hand of the will had cleared away the weeds, briars and brush of ignorance and hereditary and acquired sin, the warm sun of self-searching would have fallen upon the spot and dried up the unsightly dump and mould, and caused to spring up the green grass of virtue and usefulness.

We are disgusted at the duplicity and insolent bossism of crooked politicians and yet we deceive ourselves just as badly as they deceive the sovereign people of the state. We exercise our power over self in as arrogant a manner as the most polished politician could assume. It has been said that it is impossible to live in society without a certain amount of deception. Whether this be false has never been proven by a living illustration; but if there is any place where credit should be cast aside it is before the altar of one's own soul of souls. You do not think that you deceive yourself, do you? Oh no! A false position once assumed must be sustained. If you deceive another man your own object is to keep him from discovering the fact so you have labored to keep yourself under a false impression. Have you ever made yourself believe that a certain thing was right because you want to do it? Or that it was wrong because you did not care to indulge? This type of self-ignorance is the most dangerous of all, because it drowns the voice of conscience and leaves the mariner at the mercy of the wild winds of passion and desire.

Do you thoroly analyze every motive before it turns to action? We hear many say, "I am not responsible for my motives," when in all probability they have no clear idea of the impulse that leads them to action; and if they did they would be so disgust at it's littleness and meanness that it would be torn from their hearts by the roots. There comes a man you've quarreled with. You say to yourself, "I'll not speak to him. It will lower my dignity." And you really think this to be the motive that prompts you to the action. But the all-seeing Eye looks deeper and sees what you might have seen—that it is malice and spite and envy that cause you to act as you do.

Within our minds there is a certain chamber—'tis a judgment hall. Before the dias on which the worthy judge is seated open windows high and wide. The upper half is clear as polished crystal, but the lower is tinted the color of the rose. Through the upper he sees the deeds of others, through the lower views his own. This state of affairs causes many a wrong decision by the judge, and we, blindfolded by undue and uneducated self-love, wander too near the lair of that man-killing beast called self-conceit, and we perish ignominously. All around us lie the skeletons of men who have been destroyed by this evil beast. And yet how necessary it is that we have a proper appreciation of ourselves! Pope tells us in no weak, vacillating voice.

"That true self-love and social are the same;
That virtue only makes our bliss below,
And all our knowledge is ourselves to know."

Time has proven the poet's words correct. Self-culture and social success grow side by side; ignorance and war, education and the brotherhood of man are inseparably conected and all the knowledge of the ages can still be condensed to one word—man.

We are but preparations in the school of self. Here we cannot expect to reach the hundred mark, but at the last great commencement day we will all graduate with honor or dishonor, and be ushered into the unknown world of the great beyond. Then will the "Great King" call us up before His Titan throne of jasper and gold, and point us with relentless finger to his wondrous book of records; to our expectant, anxious ears will come the awful and sublime command, "Read and know thyself."

WILD ONES

I stole a kiss the other night,
My conscience hurt, alack,
I think I'll have to go tonight,
And give the darned thing back.

Ham—"Gee! This is a funny world to live in!"

Bones—"Yes, and so few of us get out alive."

"I reckon, daughter, that young man's watch must be fast."

"What makes you think so, pa?"

"Why, when you were seeing him out the door last night, I heard him say, 'just one,' and it wasn't much past twelve o'clock."

TOPICS OF THE DAY

DAYS WITH KNIGHTS OF THE ROAD

The spring season brings poetic outbursts, flowers, showers, and among other things, the tramp. An irrepressible impulse of wanderlust enters the cranium of the vagrant and starts him on tour. No home ties bind the tramp, so he seeks the railroad ties. Then, he becomes a rail bird and eventually a jail bird. The only time the hobo gets his foot on the rail in ahis Volstendian era is when he hoofs it along the railroad tracks to board his "side-door Pullman." And, oftentise, he rides the sleepers. The itinerant idler not only travels f. o. b., but gets his living f. o. b.—fast or beg. However, the wanderer has to pay for admission to the movies. But, when the program includes "Topics of the Day" Films—the jolly reel of press humor—we all agree that the show is well worth the price of admission. Although he is called a knight of the road his craftmanship is exercised during the day. A tramp seldom has axes to grind because his sharp wits prompt him to make a detour upon approaching a wood pile. Now, dear reader, let us wander along happiness highway with some tramp jokes, escorted by the Bucknellian.

No Catchee

A starving tramp stopped at a kitchen door in California and asked for food. "You likee fish," asked the Chinese cook. "Yes," replied the tramp eagerly. "Al lite, come back Fliday."—Tennessee Mugwump.

"I have seen better days," the tramp at the door began.
"So have I," replied the housekeeper, glancing at the darkening skies before she slammed the door.—Patterson Press-Guardian.

Not Particular

Mrs. Gripcoin—(about to send tramp to wood pile) "Lincoln began as a rail-splitter and in time he ate his meals in the White House."
Happy Harry—"Lady, I never split a rail yet and right at this time I can eat meals in any color house."—Rutgers Nellson.

Tramp—"Madam, could you give me a dime for a bed?"
Madam X—"Why, sure; bring the bed inside."—Southern Buck (New Orleans.)

Out of Tune

Old Lady (to tramp)—"But my good man, your story has such a hollow ring."
Weary Willie—"Yes, Missis, that's the natural result of speaking with an empty stummick."—London Mail.

Mrs. Happyhome—"What can I do for you, my poor fellow?"
Tattered Tom—"Lady, the woman at th' next farm give me a piece of cheese. Would yo ube so kind as to surround it with bread?"—Ayer, (Mass.) News.

Bite of Help

Tramp—"Can you assist me along the road, mum?"
Lady—"Personally, I cannot, but I can unchain my dog and I know he will be pleased to do so."—New Orleans Item.

"Madame," said Dusty Rhodes, politely, "could you entertain a proposition?"
"I could," answered the firm lady, pointing to the rug on the clothes line. "Either beat 'at or beat it."—Waterbury Republican.
"Topics of the Day" Films.

A woodpecker sat on
A Freshman's head
And set away to drill.
He picked away for half a day—
And finally broke his bill.

The Bucknellian and the rest of the press of the world united this week in wishing our screen ally, "Topics of the Day" Films, many happy returns o nthe occasion if its third birthday. This reel offers each week engiheen to twenty specimens of wit selected from the columns of this publication and the world press. Over three thousand thaters are showing this film to the delight of millions of theatre-goers.

"Topics of the Day," of course, is primarily a comedy reel and is a sure fire laugh getter. But, it has also proved helpful in publicizing issues of National importance. During the past few months, the "Topics of the Day" Film has taken an aggressive stand against useless Blue Laws, unfair censorship of motion pictures, and other impositions on the public. The utterances and writings of leading citizens and newspapers, relative to the biased and one-sided angle of such unfair and un-American legislation have been brought before audiences throughout the United States via "Topics of the Day." Again the screen has proved the most direct and efficient medium fro bringing vital issues before our citizens.

B

HIS MIDDLE INITIAL IS W.

You don't often see it in full, but the right name of the elderly gentleman we all know so well is Uncle W. Sam.

What does the initial letter stand for?

Oh, that's because his full name is Uncle Waste Sam. His middle name is Waste.

There is no doubt about it. You see it everywhere. Most countries would pretty nearly live on the things we waste.

We waste more than $25.000,000 a year in trees that we allow to burn up. The other day we heard of fifty-one forest fires going on in the same State at the same time.

We find duplications in government ,two and three and even four bureaus having jurisdiction over the same thing. Waste of labor, time and money.

Thousands of hotels and tens of thousands of restaurants in America charge high prices because their patrons demand qualities of food, much of which is left on the tables. Most of the costly food that is thus left behind, goes into the garbage can. Which means that the diners wasted huge sums of money in the aggregate, and caused great waste of precious food.

It is a rare thing not to find waste in American industry. Go to almost any oil well and note how much oil flows away. Visit almost any factory and mill and about the first thing your eye falls upon is some wasted thing.

It is so in most homes and in many barns and fields. Waste in greater or lesser degree.

Yes, his middle initial is W.

SOPHOMORES ARE THE VICTORS IN TRACK MEET

PLENTY OF GOOD, NEW MATERIAL MAKES ITS APPEARANCE IN THIS MEET

JOSEPH MADE HIGH SCORE

Sophomores Score Fifty-Six Points, Freshmen 45, Juniors 31, Seniors 2.

On Saturday one of the best and closest inter-class meets seen at Bucknell in years was witnessed on Tustin Field as a part of the program for Bucknell Day. The day was ideal for a track and field meet except for a breeze which struck the runners on the back stretch and for a few drops of rain which fell at the beginning of the contests. Very fast times were made in a number of the races and the field events were also quite good. The points were for a long time in favor of the Freshmen and it looked as if the Sophomores, last year's victors in the inter-class meet, would go down in defeat. The class of '23 was without three of her point-scorers—Wren, Chapman and Davis, but in the last few events she took all the points and came through with flying colors. The last two events, the broad jump and the half-mile, were taken entirely by Sophomores, which added twenty points to their tally. This made a total of fifty-six points, giving them a margin of ten points over the Freshmen with forty-six points. The Junior class had the third largest number of points, finishing with thirty-one. The Senior track team, represented by Ellis Smith, finished last but not least, with two points to their credit.

Joseph was the outstanding star of the meet, scoring eighteen points in all for his team. He won the 100-yard dash, the 200-yard dash, the quarter mile and was second in the high jump. That is a mighty fine record for one afternoon. His time in all of these events, was, moreover, exceptionally fast. His time in the century of 10 1-5 was equal to Lovejoy's best time of last year. His time in the furlough of 23 seconds is only 4-5 of a second slower than the Bucknell record for that event. His time in the quarter was exceptionally fast. He ran this in 51 3-5 seconds, very close to record time.

Hahn was his runner-up in all these events, finishing second in the 100, the 220 and the quarter-mile. On account of the fast times, it took a good man to stick as close to Joseph as Hahn did in these events. Treadwell also was an outstanding star, winning three first places in the meet. He finished first in the 120 high hurdles, in the high jump and in the discus throw. He scored 16 points in all for his class. The high jump was won by him at five feet six inhes. He ran the high hurdles in 18 3-5 and threw the discus 105 feet and 2 inhees. Treadwell is a fine all-'round athlete.

Schmidt also tallied eleven points for the Junior class. He won both of the distant races without much difficulty. His time in the mile was good, finishing in 4 minutes and 51 seconds; but the two-mile race was slow. Dinn, our star broad jumper, not only finished first in this event, but also won the shot put. He has a mighty leap and can leave quite a bit of ground under him after he leaves his take-off board before connecting with the saw-dust. Haslam, of course, won the pole-vault with a jump of 11 feet and 4 inches. This was within two inches of his former record and about 4 inches better than he was doing this time last year, so chances for breaking his own record look good. Dayhoff, of whom we expect great things in the low hurdles, won his event in 28 3-5 seconds. "Dinty" Moore won the half mile in the exceptional time of 2 minutes and 6 4-5 seconds, which is also quite close to the Bucknell record. He had previously run a fast quarter, finishing third, and he has wonderful opportunity to break the Bucknell record for this event. Vollmer surprised everyone when he took second in both of the hurdle events.

It was a great meet and everyone was well pleased with the showing made.

Results of the Meet

100-YARD DASH—1, Joseph; 2, Hahn; 3, Rentz; 4, Jones, time, 10 1-5 seconds.

"BUCKNELL DAY" COMPLETE SUCCESS

ROUND OF INTERESTING EVENTS MADE IT A DAY TO BE REMEMBERED

Counting on its program an interfraternity baseball game, an interclass track meet, the May Day exercises and with all festivities eluminating in dances and smokers which fraternities conducted throughout the evening, Bucknell Day was completed most successfully last Saturday. The houses were full to overflowing, the affair was complete in every way.

As a campus custom, Bucknell Day has become established at this institution. What it may become can be persaged in the position of importance to which Penn State has raiede "Pennsylvania Day."

At ten o'clock Saturday morning the Non Frats proceeded to take over the Forum nine on the diamond of the athletic field. They proved their superiority during the entire nine innings. The contest, however, showed flashes of skillful playing and unwarranted "Rukes" as such games are want to do.

Th afternoon found straw hats and white flannels prevailing among the big crowd that witnessed the long deferred Interclass Track Meet. It was an ideal day and the track was in excellent condition. Some Bucknell records were equalled as the four classes strove for mastery on the cinder path and over the sawdust pits. The Sophomores won the biggest number of points, totaling 55, while the Freshies counted 46.

Twilight found twinkling stars dancing about the campus of the Women's College as the fair co-eds presented a May Day pageant and crowned Martha Leiser queen.

The Sigma Chi, Forum, Kappa Sig and Lambda Chi fraternities held open house and conducted excellent dances for college men and women between the campus social hours of 7:30 and 10:30 o'clock. All other fraternities observed open house in smokers and the smokers "sat in" at card parties until late in the evening.

Both at the Seminary and at various fraternity houses there were many college visitors who came to enjoy these festivities. The majority of the guests remained over Sunday and Mother's Day.

The biggest event of the spring is successfully over. May has been properly started on its course and we can now settle down to work for we know who is May Queen.

B

FRESHMAN DECLAMATION

The Freshman Declamation Prize Contest will be held in Bucknell Hall Friday, May 13, at 8 p. m. The young women of the class will deliver narrative selections and the young men will declaim oratorical selections. A separate prize will be awarded to the winner in each group.

The following contestants will compete:

Misses Rose Curtis, Helen Graham, Lois Hamblin, Alice Ruhl, Ruth Weidenheimer, Jessie Wendell. Messers R. W. Faus, G. M. Lenox, H. F. Roye, R. M. Wendell, Ebenezer Williams, and W. H. Woodside.

The Sophomore Contest will be held Friday, May 20.

BELLACK PITCHES USUAL GOOD STYLE OF BALL ALLOWING ONLY FOUR HITS

REMAINDER OF TRIP CANCELLED

Winning Runs Squeezed In During the Eighth Inning. Bucknell Was Unable to Rally

Lebanon Valley College, playing on their home diamond at Annville, nosed out the Bucknell nine in the eighth, when they succeeded in registering two runs on a squeeze play.

After pitching masterfully, retiring six men and allowing no hits during five innings, Bellak was forced to give Uhler a single, which point put the skids under Bucknell. Scoreless until the eighth, the contest presented a replica of the one held in Lewisburg between the same teams. It was close fielding, good pitching and a fight every minute on the part of the clubs.

In the eighth Uhler pounded out to center field and was credited with a hit. He stole second while the next man took three balls and then chased home as Cohen drew a triple instead of a walk.

With only one man out for Lebanon Valley things looked good. Homan, sacrificing perfectly, squeezed the play across and the scoring was over. Bukneil went to bat determined but were unable to deand anything from Wolfe. The lack of practice for the three days of the trip, all other games having been cancelled, showed in this inability to stage a ninth-inning rally.

CAP AND DAGGAR TO PRESENT PLAY

LEADS SELECTED FOR FARCE ENTITLED "NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH"

The Cap and Dagger Dramatic Society of this Institution will present either the last week in May or the first week in June, a farcial comedy in three acts entitled, "Nothing But The Truht." This play, which was written by James Montgomery, played a season at the Longacre Theatre, New York, and has been on tour for three years. The comedy deals with the experiences of a wealthy young stockbroker who pledges himself to tell "nothing but the truth" for a period of twenty-four hours. The absurd and complicated situations that arise are extremely humorous.

The entire cast has not been selected but Francis H Gibson will play the leading role and will be supported by Ada Thomas as leading lady. It has been planned to use no Seniors in this play on account of the interference it would cause with the Senior Class Play.

MOTHER'S DAY AT SIGMA CHI

In pursuance of the custom that they established at Bucknell five years ago, of observing Mother's Day as a fraternity, Sigma Chi gave those who are affiliated with the fraternity as mothers and wives, an informal reception for the entertainment of the thirty ladies who were present. The program had been arranged with Diffy furnishing the music.

The entertainment was, for the most part, on the porch, although the boys took great pleasure in having the ladies inspect the interior of the house as well. Everyone had a very enjoyable afternoon. The boys having mothers present generously shared with those not so fortunate. A feature of the occasion was the number of mothers present who do not live in this vicinity. During the course of the afternoon a dainty luncheon was served. Later in the day a picture of the group was taken. After some more pleasant visiting the mothers were motored to their respective homes.

B. U. TENNIS TEAM RUNS AWAY WITH SUSQUEHANNA

ORANGE AND BLUE BOYS HAVE NO TROUBLE IN WINNING EVERY SET

SWATHMORE HERE ON FRIDAY

Coming Trip Will Meet Strong Teams of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania

The tennis team experienced little difficulty in defeating the Susquehanna four by the score of 6-0, in fact, the Susquehanna organization being able to annex only eleven games in the twelve sets. Lybarger, Brandt, Goho and Koch all played their usual brand of consistent tennis and were not even forced at any time to exert themselves, which fact is evidenced by the scores.

Manager Sowers has arranged to play the strong Swarthmore team on Bucknell courts next Friday afternoon at 2:30. After defeating Penn State and Susquehanna the tennis team desires to make as good a showing as possible against Swarthmore and to get in the best possible shape for the New York trip which will begin on May 22rd. This trip will include New York University, C. C. of N. Y., Rutgers, Moravian, Lafayette and Lehigh. Some good tennis teams are included in that line-up but our racquet wielders are determined to make them hustle in order to win.

The scores with Susquehanna were as follows:

Singles

Lybarger defeated Stong, 6-2, 6-2.
Koch defeated Decker, 6-1, 6-0.
Brandt defeated Matteson, 6-1, 6-1.
Goho defeated Streamer, 6-0, 6-1.

Doubles

Koch and Brandt defeated Decker and Matteson, 6-1, 6-0.
Lybarger and Goho defeated Stong and Streamer, 6-0, 6-0.

GLEE CLUBS GIVE CONCERT TONIGHT

COMBINED ORGANIZATIONS WILL PROVIDE MUSICAL TREAT IN COMMENCEMENT HALL

What promises to be a real musical treat is l nstore for the students of Bucknell University. This evening at 8 o'clock, the Men's Glee Club and the Girls' Glee Club will give a joint concert in Commencement Hall.

Both the clubs have done some excellent work this year. The girls' club, especially, has prospered exceedingly, and made hits both in its home appearances and in its concerts in surrounding towns. The chorus work is excellent, while the solo work cannot be surpassed in its line. Nor did this club, in preparation for it's public appearances, forget to add a touch of comedy to its program.

The men's club enjoyed one of the most successful seasons in their history. Because of the fact of the change to the semester system, the number of trips taken was increased while their duration decreased. A trip to the western part of the state at Thanksgiving time, a trip into the northern part of the state at Christmas, a trip to New Jersey and eastern Pennsylvania during the Easter vacation, and several week-end trips to surrounding towns, furnish evidence as to the activity of the club. Everywhere it did such excellent work that the task of securing dates for next year, in its early development, has proved to be greatly facilitated.

The following program will be given this evening, and students and faculty are urged to hear this joint concert:

"The Genetian" - Berwald
Girls' Club.
Violin Solo - Robert Hartz
Songs - Girls' Double Quartet
Misses Thomas, Wagner, Hazen, Vancleaf, VanCleaf, Hunt Coates.
Martyrs of the Arena - DeRille
Men's Club
De Coppah Moon - Girls' Club
Vocal Solo - Miss Hunt
Duet - "Stahat Mater"
Misses Hunt and Hazen
Ho, Gallant Sailors - Macy
Men's Club.

CORRECTIONS IN PROGRAM

Several additions and corrections are needed to the program for Commencement, as it was published in the last issue of the Bucknellian.

The additions are:
SATURDAY, JUNE 11th—
1:30 p. m. Tennis, Bucknell vs Susquehanna—College Courts.
SUNDAY, JUNE 12th—
10:00 a. m. Academic Procession. Seniors—Woemn's College.
TUESDAY, JUNE 4th—
11:30 a. m. Meeting of the Alumnae Association — Evangleical Church.

A change has been made in the baseball game scheduled for Tuesday afternoon. Instead of being between the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh alumni it is now listed as an alumni baseball game, in which "wlould-be" or "has-been" players from any locality may participate.

BASEBALL CLASSIC SATURDAY A. M.

FORUM GREEKS UNABLE TO CONNECT WITH PITCHING OF MAC LEONARD

Saturday morning witnessed a good-natured battle between the Forum and Non-Fraternity men on the local diamond, in which the Non-Frats came off victorious to the tune of 8-3. The course of the game was typical of the "classic" events staged among the different college groups. "Catch-as-catch-can" about describes the type of baseball. The Non-Frats got a running start and held their opponents scoreless until the fifth, when an error by Woodside gave them their start to advance three runs against the Non-Frat's five. In the next inning, however, the "Monarels" again started circling the bases and the game ended at the seventh, 8-3.

In spite of the fact that such games are won and lost on errors and "flukes," some real baseball was shown. The Non-Fraternity men owe their victroy in a large part to the superior pitching of Mac Leonard. Noone knows where he learned to twirl the horse-hide, but he certainly had "stuff" on the ball. Fry had plenty of steam and pitched a good game. Errors were prevalent on both sides; we will not publish each man's record. The lineup was:

FORUM		NON-FRATS
Gehret	c.	Kemp;
Fry	p.	Mac Leonard
Appleton	1b.	Miller
Davis	2b.	Klein
Hopler	s.s.	Cavalcante
Wolfe	3b.	Wood
Lowry	lf.	Woodside
Rounsley	c.f.	Kcblish
Worthington	r.f.	Crandell

Substitution, Lennox for Crandell.
Umpire, Bunting.

MOTHER'S DAY WITH S. A. E.

The National Mother's Day was observed by Sig Alphe yesterday when eighteen mothers were guests at the chapter house. As early as Friday evening some of the mothers came in and were present to enjoy Bucknell Day.

Sunday was the occasion for a banquet and at every place as the mothers entered the dining hall there was found a silver bud vase holding a carnation. These vases were the favors of the day.

Mrs. W. B. Martin, wife of Dr. Martin, a proud S. A. E. mother and "god-mother" to Sig Alphs at Bucknell for years spoke words of welcome to the guests. She established a point of contact when she pledged herself to take care of the pie appetite of their boys.

After dinner Hartz, Lybarger, Moore and Haus entertained. Those present were:

Mrs. W B. Martin, Mrs. F. G. Vandermark, Mrs. S. R. Seybold, Mrs. W. T. Holsing, Mrs. D .W Day, Mrs. C. S. Parly, Mrs. A. S. Rorsbach, Mrs. J. W. Moore, Mrs. L. F. Lybarger, Mrs. W. L. ANNUAL MAY DAY CELEBRATION WAS PLEASING SUCCESS

MISS MARTHA LEISER, CO-ED OF LEWISBURG, WAS CHOSEN MAY QUEEN

CLASS CUP STILL UNDECIDED

The Play, Representing "The Seasons' Strife" Written By Miss Emily Devine

Who was May Queen at the co-ed pageant on Saturday last? Never before was there such dissention of thought as to whom the May Queen might be, for Saturday morning the "Senites" each had their own idea and as there were sixteen Seniors eligible, the opinions were greatly varied. Not until the queen made her appearance at the end of the grand march, in which the four colleges classes participated, was her identity made known to the people, and the "Queen of the Pairest, Queen of the May," proved ot be Miss Martha Leiser, of Lewisburg, Pa.

Miss Leiser wore a dress of white satin, with a wreath of tulle and lillies of the valley and white sweet peas. Her train was carried by two attendants, Dorothy Wilhelm and Mildred Hayden. Miss Leiser, in order to be eligible for May Queen, had taken part in three previous May Day exercises and then upon popular vote of the co-eds, was the choice for Queen of the May. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Leiser of Lewisburg.

At 3:30 the procession started from Harris Hall to the campus which had been prettily decorated for the affairs, and where hundreds of people, including studnets and visitors from all part of Pennsylvania, New Jersey ,New York and various other places were gathered to witness the pageant.

The play presented, "The Season's Strife," was written by Miss Emily Devine, a member of the Senior class. The idea of the play being written up a student is a new one, instituted this year upon the suggestion of Prof. Herold and Miss Walton, and although several were witnessed, Miss Devine is indeed to be complimented upon her playlet, which was the one chosen, and presented.

The Season's Strife,' deals with a strife among the Seasons as to which one of them shall possess the world at all times or reign "for good and aye." Helen Kellowski, as the Goddess of Nature, acted as interlocutor for the various seasons each of which pleaded their cause to her as to why the yshould reign. Spring was represented by Verna Smith and the Senior girls, who were dressed to represent apple blossoms; Summer came in the form of Helen Graham and the Freshmen who represented various flowers and blue and white clouds; Autumn was interpreted by Margaret Lees and the Sophomores whose costumes were of the colors of leaves in the fall, while Sue Plummer and the Juniors in gowns of white with fur, to represent winter, played the role of that season.

The part of Mother Earth was taken care of by Esther Flemming, while the crowning of the May Queen fell to Jennie Burke, Junior class president.

After the "Season's Strife" was ended by the May Queen giving the decision that as it takes all things to make the world, so also it takes all seasons to please the inhabitants. Then came the winding of the May Poles and peace among the seasons.

From the throne the procession was led by the May Queen to the Senior class tree, which, according to custom, is planted yearly by the Senior class on the Bucknell campus. Miss Emily Devine, as Senior class president, delivered a short speech of presentation at the Senior Tree, which in behalf of the Seniors, she presented to the Juniors. Jennie Burke, Junior lass president, accepted the tree on behalf of the class of 1922 and then after singing "'Ray Bucknell," the day was ended.

May Day was indeed a success this year and the credit for its success is undoubtedly due to Miss Virgina Walton, physical instructress, who spent considerable time in preparing the pageant, which it is generally believed was the best that has taken place in years. Miss Walton's work of Saturday was indeed a credit to her, and grateful is but a small word

NEW MANAGEMENT

The active work of the Bucknellian has passed into the hands of the assistants, S. Perry Rogers and Roy H. Landis, who have taken over full control of the publication. In a slight degree the policies of the paper are still under the supervision of the editor and manager, but all communications should be addressed to the assistants. At the close of the college year, these men will automatically take full charge of the paper. The names of the successful men who are now trying out for the positions of assistant editor and assistant manager will be published in the Commencement News.

It is also understood that S. Perry Rogers will be editor of the Commencement News, and Roy H. Landis will be its manager.

Y. M. C. A. ELECTS OFFICERS

The organization for a bigger and better "Y" next year is well under way. On Thursday, April 28, chapel was dispensed with in order to allow all the men who were interested to participate in the election of the new officers. A large portion of the student body showed that they were interested by electing the following officers: President, Herbert Haslem, vice president, Preston Bechtel; secretary, Donald Cloward; treasurer, Finley Keech.

A cabinet meeting is to be called in the near future to plan the coming year. Plans will include two prominent ventures. One is the reception of all new students as they arrive. It is altogether fitting that the "Y" should be the organization to greet all trains and supervise the Freshmen's first impressions. Another opportunity of the "Y" is the establishment of an employment bureau for the benefit of students desiring outside employment. Under this leadership and with the cooperation of the student body, the Y. M. C. A. should take its rightful place in school activities.

SOPHOMORE COTILLION

The Sophomore Cotillion, premiere social function of the school year, has been announced for the date of Friday, May 20. Woodring, as chairman of the cotillion committee, states that the affair will be held in Milton, at Riverside Park, and that an imported orchestra will provide music for the evening.

Details will be announced in a later issue.

Y. W. C. A. HEARS MUSIC

A musical program was enjoyed by the Y. W. C. A. last Monday evening. It consisted of a violin solo by Miss Esther Stemming, a vocal solo by Miss Caroline Hunt, an organ solo by Miss Lois Cruz, and a piano selection by Miss Mary Reed. Great credit is due to the chairman of the musical committee, Miss Frances Van Cleaf, for securing such musical talent for the meeting. She plans to give Women's College a chance to hear all the best musicians of Bucknell, both men and women, through the Y. W. C. A. meetings.

"They were in a tearoom after the game, he and she. As they rose to go out, she stopped suddenly, baby-blue eyes frightened and wondering. A little embarrassed, too, as if something had * * * She looked down at her uniform ankles and a deep flush stole over her. "Oh," she cried, "I forgot to telephone mother I wouldn't be home for supper."—Colgate Banter.

CITIZEN'S MILITARY TRAINING CAMPS

Commencing in the summer of 1921, not before July 15th nor later than August 10th, the Citizen's Military Training Camps will be instituted throughout the whole United States.

All men, native and foreign-born, between the ages of 16 and 35 years, who meet the physical requirements and who bear good reputations are eligible to apply for enrollment.

Congress, recognizing the great value of military training, has appropriated funds enabling the War Department to give one month's training ot ten thousand men.

The term of practical military training given in the Citizen's camps will consist of a series of three courses. In school these courses would be termed "freshmen," "junior" and "senior" classes. The series as arranged at the training camps, will be known as the RED, the WHITE and the BLUE courses.

The Red Course

The RED course will be the "freshman" class and will appeal to (1) young men between sixteen and twenty-one—youths who desire, but who never have had the opportunity to obtain military training; and (2) those who have military training in schoo' and cadet companies, but who desire, in addition, practical military instruction in the field.

Young men among the following groups who wish to attend one of the camps should apply at once for enrollment:

1. Young men with little or no military training.
2. Boy Scouts over 16 years of age.
3. Those receiving military training in high schools and academies, who have not the opportunity to attend a summre camp.
4. Members of the Junior Division, Reserve Officers' Training Corps, who are not privileged to attend the Senior Camps.

Upon the completion of the RED course all candidates who have reached the required degree of efficiency—which can be obtained thru attention and obedience to instructions—will be given a certificate indicating that they have been found qualified for enlistment in the Organized Reserves of the Army of the United States.

White and Blue Courses

The two higher courses—the WHITE and BLUE—require that a andidate shall have had previous military training and the minimum agse required for enrollment are 19 and 21 years. Successful completion of these courses will qualify a man for appointmnt as a non-commissioned officer or an officer in the Organized Reserves. Those desiring additional information regarding the WHITE and BLUE courses amy write to the Commanding General of the Corps Area in which they reside. The enrollment for the first RED course will be made from the earliest applications received; therefore, all who are interested should make immediate request for additional information and the necessary blank forms.

C. M. T. C. Free of Charge

Attendance at one of the Citizens' Military Training Camps will be ithout cost to the candidate. Upon being accepted for enrollent, he will be notified to proceed to the camp designated so as to arrive there on the date specified. Upon his arrival at the camp designated each candidate will be reimbursed for the amount of his travelnig expenses at the rate of five cents per mile. This will cover the cost of the carfare and will provide additional amount for other expenses incurred enroute, such as meals, etc. At the termination of the training period, when the candidates are returned to their homes, payment for the return travel will be made before their departure from camp.

All training and instruction will be given at permanently established camps in different parts of the country the student benefiting from the associations to be had at a fully-garrisoned Regular Army post; he will have an opportunity to study the functions and activities of combat troops; the tanks; the field and coast artillery; the cavalry; infantry; signal corps and air service.

The candidate will act and feel a part of the regular troops; he will be one of them. Upon arrival at the camp, the enrollment finished, a complete outfit of soldiers' equipment will be issued. A place to eat and sleep will be assigned. Instructions regarding medical attention, the dentist, in the event of toothache, and where the weekly wash shall be sent, will be given him. In a comfortable and easy manner the citizen of yesterday will today find himself enveloped in the charm of a soldiers' life.

All but the subjects necessary for practical military training will be

KAPPA SIGMA DANCE

On Friday night the Kappa Sigma fraternity held a dance in the Lewisburg club from eight-thirty until two-thirty. About forty couples, including a number of visitors, danced to the strains of mighty good music furnished by a six-piece orchestra. They had lots of pep and many pronounced it the best dance music heard at Bucknell for a long time. The orchesrta was composed of Wilson, piano; Gedrich, violin; Angstadt, traps; Hichard, trombone; Allen, saxophone, and Hoffa, banjo. The patrons and patronesses incuded Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lindeman, Mr. and Mrs. Nell Baker, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Windsor and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Blair.

CITIZEN'S MILITARY TRAINING

eliminated from the instruction program. The essence of past experience in the training of millions will be devoted to the training of these thousands of American lads. Five hours each day will be set aside, normally, for military instruction, in addition to the time required for ceremonies, such as reveille, guard-mount retreat, and for athletic exercises and competitions.

The instructions for all candidates in the RED course will cover the duties of a private in the following subjects:

The school of the soldier, squad and company; rifle practice; guard duty; camp and marching; individual cooking; care of equipment; personal hygiene and physical development; the teaching of discipline and the development of that spirit of mental contentment which permits cheerful compliance with instructions by any body of men subject to military discipline.

Physical training will occupy a prominent place in the program, including body development and instruction in training methods. The spirit of competition will be particularly encouraged. Those who have achieved athletic ability in school or other amateur sports will be eligible for selection as platoon representative to meet with the company athletic leader and to lead his own platoon in competition with other organizations. Every candidate will take part in all manner of athletic games and all will learn to play as well as to supervise and conduct the sports. Play, in which the entire personnel take part, as well as highly specialized sports such as basketball, baseball, track and field, will form a part of the daily life at the camp.

Recreational periods may be enjoyed as the candidate wishes. There will be vaudeville and motion picture shows. There will be opportunities for the candidates to exercise their own ability to entertain at musicales and shows promoted among themselves. Facilities will be available for letter-writing and for the entertainment of guests and visitors. Religious services for all faiths will be held.

Necessary Personal Equipment

When leaving for camp each candidate should have a hand-bag or suitcase in which to carry personal belongings including the following articles of clothnig: 4 suits of underwear, 2 bath towels, 6 pairs of socks, 2 pairs of pajamas, 6 handkerchiefs, shaving and toilet articles, 4 face towels, sewing kit, commonly known as "housewife." These articles may be purchased at the camp, at Government cost. All other articles of clothing for use at the camp will be furnished by the Government.

In addition to the clothing mentioned he may take along a bathing suit, athletic uniforms and equipment, musical instruments, and a camera, if desired.

Physical Requirements

Almost any average young man can meet the physical requirements He must have not less than 2 inches chest expansion and weigh not less than 100 pounds without clothing and height at 16 years must be not less than 58 inches; at 17 years, 59 inches; and at 18 years or over, 60 inches. It will be necessary for those who attend the camp ot take the anti-typhoid-paratyphoid inoculation and be vaccinated against smallpox before attending the camp, if these have not been received within the last three years. Both will be given upon arrival at the camp or will be administered free of charge, by the nearest Army surgeon, if application is made before leaving for the camp.

The heart, eyes and ears must be good and the teeth serviceable. Possessing the qualifications given above, and citizen, able-bodied and free from disease and bearing a good repuattion may make immediate appliaction to the Corps Commander and the necessary papers will be sent at once.

No educational qualifications are required. The applicant's intelligence must be of such degree as will permit him to understand and execute maneuvers, and to obey and give commands.

An important and far-reaching plan for the physical betterment of young men attending the camps is being worked out by the officers of the Medical Department. This will be accomplished by an expert medical and dental examination to determine existing defects; prescribing the work, exercise and play that will help remove a physical defect, furnishing the candidate when he leaves camp with a letter to his parents or family physician or both, stating the character of physical defects, if any, possessed by the young man, with suggestions and advice regarding corrective or remedial steps to be taken in the future.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

LOOK PLEASANT, PLEASE

Facing a professional camera is a joy to some of us and a task to others. Of course, mere amateur snap shots are no ordeal. Since the movies have become such a natoinal institution, every other person you meet has developed a desire to appear before the camera. The majority of us pose for portraits merely for private consumption or infliction upon our family and friends. Our actress and actor friends of stage and screen spend many an hour posing in characteristic attitudes. They have developed the patience necessary for good photographic results. Perhaps it is no joke for you to have your picture taken. But you enjoy every minute that the popular "Topics of the Day" Films are on the screen. To place yourself in a happy mood for the photographer to "shoot you" just read the humor printed herewith by the Bucknellian.

BALLADE OF CRUSTY CUCURBITS

My father runs a grocery store,
Sells soap, Bon Ami, borax, lye,
Sapollo, Gold Dust and more,
Bread, Pound cake and baker's pie.
Now, ever does my father sigh,
And tear the pockets off his suit,
When he doth 57 spy,
For pickles are a warty fruit.

Though prunes and apricots may stick,
Though mackerel overripe may cause wry,
Astonished grimaces and sick,
Though onions mak emy father cry
Though eggs may ever question why
And kerosene spill down his boot,
'Tis 57 blacks his eye—
For pickles are a warty fruit.

The wafers sampling grown-ups eat
From our new ninety-cent supply,
The children stuff with crackers sweet,
Before their nickel's worth they buy,
Does father wish them quick goodbye?
He smiles and gives them more to boot,
The warts alone his patience try,
For pickles are a warty fruit.

TRACK TEAM MAKES GOOD RECORD AT BALTIMORE MEET

SECURE THREE SECOND PLACES IN FIELD OF FAST COMPETITION

PLACED SEVENTH IN SEVENTEEN

Joseph. Haslam and Schmidt Secured Second Place in Their Respective Events

Bucknell's track and field team returned last night from the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Association's Championships with three second places. These places were won by Joseph. Schmidt and Haslam in the quarter-mile, 2-mile and the pole-vault, respectively. In two of these events the Middle Atlantic records were broken. Haslam broke his former Bucknell record of eleven feet six inches, with a vault of eleven feet eight and one-half inches.

The meet was held under the auspices of the John Hopkins Athletic Association. A squad of eleven men, through their work in the inter-class meet and in the try-outs held on Wednesday afternoon, made the trip to Baltimore. These men included Dayhoff, Dvals, Dinn, Haslam, Joseph, Hahn, Schmidt, Treadwell, Wilsbach, Wren and Gdanilee. Manager Mohler accompanied the team and took entire charge of them in the absence of Coach Glass. The team left here on the 1:05 on Friday and made the Hotel Emerson their headquarters while in Baltimore.

Preliminaries were held on Saturday morning in practically all events except the middle-distant races. In the trial heats of the 120-yard high hurdles both Treadwell and Wren took part. Both men ran pretty races but the other timber-toppers were too fast for them and they were both eliminated. In the trial heats of the 440-yard run we had two men—Joseph and Hahn, participating. There were three trial heats, the first three of each heat to qualify for the finals. Joseph, although badly spiked at the start of his race, ran a mighty plucky and fast race and won his heat in exceptionally fast time. Due to the crowding at the start he was forced back, but on the back stretch, with a wonderful burst of speed, he forced himself up among the leaders and maintained his position until the home-stretch where he gradually forced himself into the lead. Hahn ran in the next heat and he laso ran a mighty heady and fast race, finishing second in his heat and also got way to a bad start, but on his first turn forced himself to the front and by a hard sprint finished second. Hahn and Joseph both ran their heats in 52 seconds flat.

Dayhoff ran in the low hurdles but did not succeed in qualifying for the semi-finals. The field was too fast for Harry and, though he ran a game race, he was outclassed. In the 220-yard dash, Joseph again did himself proud, finishing second and thus qualifying for the semi-finals.

In the field events all the men who practiced in the morning were eliminated with the exception of Haslam, who qualified for the finals. Trials in the broad jump were not held until the afternoon. Treadwell and Wren both entered the high jump and made some fine jumps, but the field was a mighty classy one and they were eliminated. Wilsbach participated in the trials of the shot-put and discus-throw but did not succeed in qualifying for the afternoon events. Treadwell also entered the discus but did not qualify.

The team was entertained for dinner by the Kappa Alpha fraternity. They put up a mighty fine dinner for the team and entertained them in fine style. Nothing seemed too much trouble to them while looking after the comfort of the team.

In the afternoon the first final event in which Bucknell took part was the finals of the 440, in which both Joseph and Hahn had qualified. Hahn drew position number 4 while Joseph drew the extreme outside position. In the fight for the pole Hahn was thrown and spiked by a fallen runner. Regaining himself at a ten-yard disadvantage, he succeeded in reaching the leaders before the second turn by an effort which made him unable to place in the final sprint. Harmer of Delaware won in 51 4-5 seconds, Joseph following him by a matter of inches.

SOPHOMORE COTILLION

A change of plans regarding the Sophomore Cotillion have been announced by chairman Woodring. "Heinie" Kleinkauff and his orchestra from Wilkes-Barre will furnish the syncopation for the evening in place of the Belvedere Sextette, as was previously announced. The committee believes that this change will meet th eapproval of everyone as Kleinkauff's orchestra enjoys a widespread reputation and are highly recommended by all those who hail from Eastern Pennsylvania. Special attention is called to the fact that Kleinkauff's FIRST orchestra will play and that the original "Heinie" himself will be present.

As was previously announced, the Cotillion will be held at Riverside Park, Milton, on Friday, May 20. Special cars will convey the "customers" from the dance, which will continue from 9 p. m, till 2 a. m. Refreshments will be served at a midnight intermission.

PROFESSOR DAVIS GIVEN SURPRISE

Has Been Connected With the Bucknell Faculty for Twenty-five Years.

On Thursday evening the teaching staff of the biological department gathered at the home of Professor Davis. The scheme of the evening included a complete surprise to Prof. Davis. Due to careful engineering on the part of Mrs. Davis, Prof. Davis had been enticed to go on a bird-photographing trip and it was during his absence that the hosts gathered and the final touches were added that made the evening so delightful. When Mr. Davis arrived from the outdoors trip he was greeted by his wife at the door. Surprise was expressed at the appearance of evening preparation on the part of Mrs. Davis. A second surprise soon came in the greeting of the guests present.

The clever arrangements were moving in order and soon the chimes sounded. As the guests moved into the dining room each took his place where he thought he belonged, which place he chose by selecting a souvenir of the evening which he supposed suited. Then each read a cleverly written name card and if it suited the person he remained where he was. If the name card did not suit, the render changed places with the person to whom the verse alluded in "life occupation."

When all had been rightfully assigned to his place, a most delightful dinner was served. Miss Davis helping in giving the family touch to the evening. The dinner ended with each receiving a remembrance souvenir of the event.

After dinner the guests were entertained by Prof. Stewart, using his character sketches. These were thoroughly enjoyed by all.

The plans of the evening were to commemorate the ending of Dr Davis' twenty-fifth year on the teaching staff at Bucknell.

Dr. Davis, now head of the Biological department, has done a service any man can well be proud of in life. He is the man whom Dr. Hunt introduced to William Jennings Bryan as "the man who could teach science with its theory of evolution and still not destroy a student's faith in Christ."

Those present were Dr. Davis, Mrs. Davis, Miss Davis, Mr. Nelson Davis Jr., Prof. N. H. Steward, Mrs. N. H. Steward, Master Eric Steward, Professor John W. Rice, Mr. R. B. Winters, forester for Union and Snyder counties.

Assistants—Mr. Harold Miller, Miss Dorothy Davis, Mr. Herman E. Wiant, Mr. Harry V. Thomas.

OFFICE FORCE ENTERTAINED

Registrar and Mrs. Theron Clark delightfully entertained members of the college office force at their home on Wednesday evening, May 11.

Everyone was told to come prepared to do a "stunt," which resulted in such features as Holter chancing off an owl, Owens telling a story about two Chinamen and a dog, "Dinty" Moore rendering a vocal solo, Carr and Miss Seamon each reciting and Owens and Miss Seisinger singing a duet.

Later in the evening everyone went to the dining room and partook of delicious refreshments. A most pleasant evening was spent and each one felt it well worth while to be number among the "force."

THE BUCKNELLIAN IS REPRESENTED AT GETTYSBURG

THREE REPRESENTATIVES OF BUCKNELLIAN ATTEND FINE MEETINGS

LANDIS ELECTED TREASURER

Bucknellian Will Act as Host to Conference Next Fall, Probably On Otober Fifteenth

George Schuyler '21, Perry Rogers '22, and Roy Landis '22, representing the Bucknellian, attended the semi-annual conference of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association of the Middle Atlantic States, held at Gettysburg, last Friday and Saturday. This association includes weekly newspapers of nineteen colleges of Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland most of which were represented at this conference.

The business meeting, held Saturday morning, was of keen interest to anybody interested in collegiate newspaper work. Professor Sanders, of the Gettysburg faculty, gave a live wire talk on the opportunities and responsibilities of collegiate newspapers. College journalism, he said, is a new thing, not found in European institutions, an outgrowth of American democracy. A collegiate newspaper, like any newspaper, is a shaper of public opinion. Just as Cleon was the most dangerous man in Athens in the time of Aristotle, because he knew how to appeal to the superficial impulses of the people, so the journalist becomes dangerous when he over-emphasizes the insignificant and refuses to deal with the big constructional ideas of his time. A collegiate newspaper must do more than report happenings, it must strive at dealing with big questions in a truly literary way.

Election of officers for the coming year was conducted. George Schuyler acting as chairman of the nominating committee. Richard Slocum of Swarthmore was elected president; Roy H. Landis, business manager of the Bucknellian, was elected treasurer of the association.

The Bucknellian was hospitably received by her old rival. Every opportunity was taken by the Gettysburgians to show their guests a good time. On Saturday afternoon the entire conference was conducted over the battlefield in automobiles.

The fall conference will be held at Bucknell, probably the day of the Bucknell-Lafayette game. The Bucknellian is planning for a real live conference and will call upon the student body to help put it across.

PROFESSOR RICE CONDUCTS SURVEY

On Friday, May 6, a party consisting of Professor J. W. Rice, Nelson Davis, Jr., and Harry V. Thomas started on a three-day hike through the mountains. The object of the trip was to produce a map in survey outline which would some day make possible a bacteriological survey of White Deer creek.

The party left Lewisburg at 6:25 a. m. and arrived at White Deer station where they started off on foot.

Following a course almost due west they arrived at the intake of the White Deer Water Company and here were met by Mr. Huff, the care-taker of the dam and supply station. Mr. Huff proved an admirable guide and accompanied the party as far as Mile Run, at which site camp "Goodlander" is located. The streams and springs feeding White Deer were pointed out by Mr. Huff who also gave valuable information as to the source of the streams, acid camp sites located upon them, which in a bacteriological survey would prove to be valuable information.

At camp Goodlander the party had dinner and after bidding Mr. Huff farewell started out alone to trace White Deer to its source. The afternoon found the party will on its way and at 4 p. m. they had reached Zimmerman's farm, which is located fourteen miles from the dam and is the source of Sand Spring Run, one of the main tributaries to White Deer Creek. Zimmerman's farm is also 1400 feet higher than the dam, which proves that the party had an up-hill job.

GENERAL BLISS WILL SPEAK AT COMMENCEMENT

A FORMER LEWISBURG RESIDENT IS CHOSEN TO MAKE COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

WEARER OF WAR DECORATIONS

Military and Diplomatic Figure Will Be Present at Seventy-fifth Commencement.

One of the speakers during the Seventy-fifth celebration of Commencement at Bucknell University will be General Tasker H. Bliss. General Bliss is an alumnus of Bucknell who has played an important role in the military and diplomatic affairs of the United States, and his return at this time with the matters which he will have to discuss, is of the highest interest to both alumni who will be here at the time and to the present undergrads. For this reason a short sketch of his life is given here:

General Bliss was born in Lewisburg on December 31, 1853, the son of the Rev. George Ripley and Mary Ann Bliss. His mother was the daughter of a professor at the University. He attended the Academy for four years and then took two years' work at the University, leaving for West Point in 1871 and graduating from that institution in 1875. Several years later he was an honor graduate of the U. S. Artillery School. He was married in 1882.

Upon his graduation from West Point, General Bliss was commissioned a second lieutenant in the First Artillrey, and in five years he had become a first-lieutenant. In 1892 he was commissioned as captain of the commissary subsistence. Just before the outbreak of the Spanish-American War he was commissioned a major. Following the close of the war he was sent to Cuba to reorganize the customs service, which duty he performed in a highly efficient manner. He also helped to negotiate the treaty between the infant republic and the United States.

In 1899 he was commissioned lieutenant-colonel chief of the commissary of subsistence, and after holding the post of Brigadier General of volunteers, was made Brigadier General in the Regular army in 1902. He served on several staffs and special missions at this time and saw service in the Philippines. He was also sent to study the artillery systems of the Europeans.

General Bliss was on the Mexican border in 1912. After holding sev-

COMBINED CLUBS GIVE CONCERT

Last Monday night witnessed one of the biggest treats which the students of Bucknell University have been given in some time, when the Girls' Glee Club and the Men's Glee Club gave a joint concert in Commencement Hall. The concert was scheduled for 8:15 and it began promptly on scheduled time. The opening number was "Come Bucknell Warriors," sung by the two clubs in unison. The audience greeted this number with much applause.

The second number of the program was the "Gentian," sung by the Girls' club. The girls appeared later in the "Coppah Moon," and did very well in both numbers. The Men's club also appeared in two numbers, the "Martyrs of the Arnea," and "Ho, Gallant Sailors." All the club numbers and encores were very well received.

The Girls' club had a double quartette, and the Men's club a single quartette. Both organizations did fine work, giving a high type of music well presented.

Each club had one soloist on the program. The Girls' club was represented by Frances VanCleaf in two vocal solos; and the Men's club was represented by Robert Hartz ,who played two violin solos. The work of both needs no comment, for it is well-known for its excellence at Bucknell.

Two numbers remain to be mentioned. They are the scene from Carmen, as staged by Cecil Hazen and Caroline Hunt, and the cartooning by Finley Keech. These were the numbers that put the necessary touches of humor into the program.

CAP AND DAGGER PLAY

Preparations for the coming presentation of "Nothing But The Truth," by the Cap and Dagger Dramatic Society are progressing nicely. Due to the large amount of work connected with coaching and playing a part, Francis H. Gibson will only coach the play and the lead will be played by Emory Diffendafer. Harold McGraw has been appointed manager. It is planned to give the comedy during the first week of June.

The completed cast will probably be: C. E. Diffendafer as "Bob Bennett"; "Buck" Wheat as "Dick Connelly;" Frank Davis as Clarence Van Duesen;" S. M. Rickard as "B. M. Ralston;" Beers as "Bishop Doran;" Ada Thomas as "Gwen;" Caroline Hunt as "Mrs. Ralston;" Sue Plummer as "Ethel;" Ray Seaman as "Mabel;" Mary Appleman as "Sable;" and Alice Ruhl as "Martha." Francis Reamer will direct the play.

TENNIS TEAM TIES SWARTHMORE, 3-3

EXCELLENT MATCH PLAYED ON LAST FRIDAY AT THE INN AND PHI GAM COURTS

The Bucknell net-men emerged from a conflict with the strong Swarthmore four with what was virtually a victory in the shape of a 3-3 tie. Swarthmore has one of the strongest teams in the country for an institution of its size and it certainly was no disgrace to tie them. Swarthmore had an ace in Dudley, their first man. He has been defeated only in the Princeton match this year. Many said he was the best representative of collegiate tennis seen here for a number of years.

Both Lybarger and Gedrich played hard men in singles and lost. In doubles, Lybarger and Gedrich could not seem to "connect." At one time they had their opponents 5-2 and lost the set, 7-5.

Koch ran into some stiff opposition during the first set of his match but tightened up and won the last two. Goho played his usual brand of conservative tennis and after taking the first set, alternated with his man, winning two out of three.

Captain Brandt and Koch played together in doubles and after a hard fight won the match in straight sets.

The next match will be with Susquehanna at Selinsgrove next Saturday. On the following Monday the New York trip will begin, which will include N. Y. U., C. C. of N. Y., Rutgers, Lafayette, Lehigh and Moravian.

Results of Swarthmore contest:

Singles

Dudley defeated Lybarger, 6-3, 6-3.
Brown defeated Gedrich, 6-3, 7-5.
Koch defeated Linton, 4-6, 6-2, 6-2.
Goho defeated Dickinson 6-2, 3-6, 6-3.

Doubles

Dudley and Brown defeated Lybarger and Gedrich, 6-4, 7-5.

Koch and Brandt defeated Linton and Dickinson, 7-5, 10-8.

THETA ALPHA PHI ENTERTAINS

On Wednesday evening, May 11, Pennsylvania Alpha chapter of Theta Alpha Phi entertained at Women's College. Representatives of each fraternity and of the non-fraternity group were guests of those whose purpose it is "to foster an interest in wholesome dramatics and to unite those having an interest."

A delightful program was rendered by the following members: Reading, Professor Rassweiler. Recitation, Emily Devine. Recitation, Sturgis Beers.

A very pleasnt evening was enjoyed by all the guests. Following the program, dainty refreshments were served.

Members of the local chapter of Theta Alpha Phi are: Professor G. F. Rasswellier, Fred S. Beers '22, Jennie Burke '22, Clara M. Casner '21, Ethera G. Corson '20, Emily Devine '21, H. LeRoy Heller '21, Susanna H. Plummer '22, Francis F. Reamer '21, Ray P. Seaman '22, Amorita M. Sessinger '22, David H. Stewardsen '21, Harry R. Warfel '20.

Alden P. King, ex-'21, is spending a week with his Gamma Lambda Sigma fraternity brothers. Mr. King has recently completed his first year's work at Jefferson Medical College. While here at Bucknell he took a three-year pre-medical course and was an assistant in the human anatomy laboratory.

BASEBALL TEAM WINS ONE GAME AND LOSES TWO

PITT WINS 3-1, DUQUESNE 8-7, BUT CARNEGIE TECH WAS DEFEATED, 10-8.

TWO WERE 10-INNING GAMES

Bellack, Grieb and Beatty Pitched Good Ball During the Entire Trip.

The Bucknell baseball team lost two hard-fought games upon their Pittsburgh trip. The one game going to Pitt by a 3-1 score and the other to Duquesne 8-7 (10 innings) on Saturday. The day before Bucknell defeated Honus Wagner's Carnegie Tech team by a score of 11-9 (10 innings.) The Orange and Blue came from behind three times during this game, tieing the score in the ninth and then putting the game on ice in the tenth with two more counters.

Pittsburgh Game

On Thursday, Bucknell opened the game against Pitt, but was unable to reach first base during the first inning. Pitt also found the same difficulty.

Linker was hit by a pitched ball in the second and Julian bunted the ball into the pitcher's hands, who doubled Linker at first.

With one down in the second, Claws reached first base on a scratch infield hit but was unable to advance.

In the third Bellack singled to center after one was down and took second when Dietrick hit to Townsend. Longham threw Jones out at first. For Pitt, Sappre opened with a lean single to enter but was thrown out at second and the inning ended by Holleran flying out to Jones.

Bucknell was retired in the fourth and fifth innings, and Pitt likewise, except when Bellack passed Loughran and Cook. From the beginning of the game both pitchers were going strong.

In the seventh Pitt was able to win the game with Clawson obtaining a clean single and Barber scratching an infield hit. Sapper hit a slow one to Schultz, who, with one down, threw wild over Julians head, Clawson and Barber scored, Sapper going to third and scoring a moment later on Townsend's fly to Jones.

Both sides were retired in order in the eighth. With one down in the ninth Dietrich hit into center field for three bases and scored a moment later on a wild pitch. This neded the scoring and Pitt won, 3-1, with two clean singles to the outfield and several infield scratch hits.

Carnegie Tech Game

Bucknell, with the never-say-die spirit in it, won from Carnegie Teach by hitting the ball in the pinches.

In the first inning after Dietrich flied out to Lohn, Jones singled to center, Kostos hit the ball on the nose for two bases and then Jones and Kostos both scored when Linker hit for three bases along the left field foul line. Linker scored on Julian's single over second. Carnegie tied the score in their half of hte first when Beattie passed J. Doherty and R. Doherty singled. Both scored on Durkin's three-base drive to left center. Godden flied to Dietrich. Durkin scored when Irvin reached first. McCaw sent a drive into right and Lin-

NEW INTEREST IN TENNIS

For the first time in the past two years a really interested crowd attended the tennis match which was played last Friday afternoon with Swarthmore. The fact that the student body are behind their representatives even in the most minor of minor sports certainly shows a spirit worthy of commendation. It was an honor for our tennis team to tie Swarthmore because of the latter's past record. They have defeated U. of P., Lehigh, Army, and other large institutions of repute. The fact that we were able to tie them in the recent match was in a large measure due to the support from the sidelines which shows that while our track and baseball teams are away we will support what we have and do it well.

ANNUAL SURVEY IS MADE

The class in advance Bacteriology made its annual survey of Spruce Run on Friday and Saturday.

The work, though under the direct supervision of Prof. Rice, was done practically alone by class teams. The class was organized into different groups, having a definite part of the arrangements for the trip to care for and see that all preparations pertaining to the departure were completed in time and order.

The media group consisting of Harry Thomas, chairman in charge, Miss Mackereth, Miss Dodson, Mr. Crowl, Mr. Schultz, (Herman D.), Mr. T. A. Salaczynski, Mr. Roller, had charge of the preparation of all media for the work in the field.

The glass-ware group: Miss E. Weidner, chairman, Miss Anna Fairchild Miss Effie Miller and Miss K. Glover had charge of the preparation and sterilization of all glassware needed in the field and by the media group.

Sustenance group: Miss C. Casner, chairman, Miss Unger and Miss Swan, on whose shoulders rested the "eats" question both in the form of cold lunches and hot meals.

Transportation: William Wallace Lewis, chairman, Stewardson, aide.

Heating plant: Harold Miller, chairman, V. Evans, aide.

On Friday morning the class left Lewisburg at 6:30 and arrived at Spruce Run Dam about 8 a. m. Here after noting the points of interest, the first samples were taken and the first plates poured.

Here the party divided into three divisions, two pushing up stream, one on either side, getting samples and one third taking the truck and Fords on to camp.

At noon the three groups united at the point where the pipe line crosses Spruce Run. The lunch was served after which the party pushed on to Hagerstown. At this point the final plates for the day were poured and then began the tramp over the mountain through Black Bear Gap to Davis' camp, "Hot Dog."

When the highest point in the gap was reached those of the party who had not yet had their fill of climbing were taken to a point still higher where to a good advantage the surrounding country could be viewed and enjoyed.

When camp was reached the sustenance committee proved their end of the preparations was fully taken care of. The following was served—"Hot dog," baked potatoes, fried ham, fried eggs, baked beans, bread and butter, coffee. After each had washed his eating utensils and rested a bit, the girls, under the direction of Miss Virgina Walton, chaperone of the trip, and Nelson Davis, Jr., with several other of the men as "aides," went to the Forest House where preparations had been made for them to spend the night. A wonderful incident here occurred "for those who remained at camp." Before the aides had reached camp Nature began to show her sympathy for those who had been gallant and in so doing drenched those "poor babes in the wood." "Hot Dog!"

On Saturday morning a "Whip-poor-Will" sounded the rising note at 4 a. m. All hands were on deck at one cabin by four-thirty, except Evans, and due to applied force, soon ALL were busy in some duty or other.

Davis soon had a roaring fire going and Thomas soon had the "ham-what-am" sizzling.

Soon after six the girls arrived at camp and breakfast, consisting of fried ham, fried potatoes, fried eggs, coffee, sassafras tea, bread and butter, was served. Here it was noted that all domestic talent was not confined to the Domestic Science department.

Soon after breakfast the party broke camp for the completing of the bacteriological survey work. Following the old Culp railroad after crossing the mountain for setting-up exercise, the party reached Spruce Run Shanty at the headwaters of Spruce Run about ten o'clock. At this point the final plates were poured and all put in order for the ascent of Sand Mountain.

With Miss Walton in the lead and setting a goodly pace, the climb, very difficult at times, was made with all reaching the top. Here a second climb was afforded those who still had the inclination. On the top of Sand Mountain stands a steel tower used by the forest rangers as an out look post when on watch for forest fires. The ascent tothe top is made by climbing a steel ladder and the girls proved equal to the task for their names appeared on the register which is found in the cupolo. This point was the greatest height to which some ambitions had gone but it was noticed that during the return to camp other heights had not yet been reached and friendly hands picked the dainty lady slippers and bestowed them to the rightful sex.

At camp a delightful lunch awaited the hungry crew. Here again baked pickles, fried beans and scrambled potatoes with bread to clear the way and coffee to wash away the traces of hunger, were thoroughly enjoyed by all.

After duly putting all things in order the class started on its homeward journey about 3:30 p. m. At the Forest House all were loaded into the Fords and truck and after a shouting farewell to those about, the jolly crowd rolled homeward.

During the journey homeward the truck needed more air and here again Miss Dodson supplied the needed article with her un-tire-ing efforts. Much might be said concerning undividuals but as Evans can vouch, "it knocks the spots out of city life."

Under the able direction of Professor "Jack" Rice and the efficient chaperoning of Miss Walton, whom the crowd vote on being real sports, the trip was considered as a huge success, both in experience gained and fun enjoyed.

BASE BALL

ker then doubled up Irvin at first.

Carnegie scored two more runs in the second on a base on balls, two singles and a fielder's choice.

Both teams were hitting the ball hard. After Durkin walked on four pitched balls in the third, Bellack went into the box again to pitch and retired the Carnegie hitters in one, two three order for the next three innings.

Bucknell forged ahead in their part of the fifth when Bellack was safe on Goddens error. Schultz was safe on J. Doherty's error, Dietrich moved each man up a peg with his sacrifice and Jones drew a free pass to first. Kostos had two bad ones called on him and then stepped into one, sending it up against a cliff in right field for three bases. Linker ended the inning, flying out to Robertson.

In the sixth, Carnegie scored three more runs and forged ahead two by Jones' error on Durkin's fly and Godden's single. Irvin then hit to left center for two bases and scored on McCaw's single over second. Cappe, Lynn and J. Doherty all were retired in order which ended the scoring for Tech for that inning.

Bucknell tied the score in the seventh when Bellack was safe on Durkins' error. Schultz was out but Dietrich got one on the nose and rode it for three bases and scored when Durkni threw out Jones at first.

With two down in the seventh Irvin hit for two bases and scored on McCaw's single over second. This ended the scoring for Carnegie Tech.

Bellack opened the ninth for Bucknell with a single to second. Bowser, hitting for Schultz, was out, Cappe to R. Doherty. Dietrich struck out and things looked bad for Bucknell, but Jones came through with a three-base drive to left center, Bellack scoring and tieing the score at nine all. Kostos walked and was thrown out at second on Linker's grounder to J. Doherty. With two men down in the ninth, Godden hit for three bases but was left stranded there when Irvin popped to Julian.

With one down in the tenth, DeCoursey singled to right. Harris lined out to Durkin, but Bellack singled sharply through second. Bowser hit to deep short and the bases were loaded with two down. DeCoursey and Bellack scored on Dietrich's single to right field. The last half of the tenth for Carnegie saw only one man reaching first on a walk after two were down and then Bellack struck out Lynn.

Duquesne Game

Bucknell lost in a teninning game to Duquesne. After Bucknell had overcome a big lead in the first inning and had apparently had the game won in the ninth inning, Duquesne tied, scored and won out in the tenth inning, scoring the winning run with two men out. Grieb pitched a fine game after the first inning. Two errors in the ninth inning was the undoing fo Bucknell.

Dietrich led off in the first inning with a single and Jones sacrificed him to second. Kostos flied out to O'Neal. Dietrich scored when Linker drove the ball over McKnight's head for three bases. Julian grounded out.

With one down the fireworks began. Kilday singled and Bellack left Ryan's hit go through him, both men scoring. Klinging drove the ball over the center field fence for a home run, Erlain hit for three bases and scored on O'Neal's out.

In the third Kostos was safe on Ryan's error and moved up to second and scored when Kilday left DeCoursey's grounder get by.

Duquesne added one in their half after two men were out when Lenney singled and O'Neal hit to center for two bases. This ended Duquesne's scoring until the last half of the ninth.

With two downs in the fifth, Linker hit to right field for two bases but was stranded when Julian flied out to McKnight.

Bucknell scored two more runs in the sixth, when DeCoursey walked, Harris and Bellack were easy outs, but Grieb worked Mareski for a free trip to first. Dietrich hit to right field for three bases but was left there when Jones struck out.

Kostos opened the seventh with a single, Linker flied out to right field, Julian then hit down the left field foul line for two bases, scoring Kostos. DeCoursey and Harris flied out to short and center field.

Bellack opened the eighth with a single to center, was thrown out at second on field choice, Dietrich singled and Grieb was held at second, Jones laid down a pretty bunt and both men advanced a base from where they scored on Kostos' single to right field.

In the last of the ninth Barrett, who was then pitching, struck out, Dietrich fumbled Hoerner's grounder and then took Kilday's grounder and threw wild to DeCoursey. Ryan was out, DeCoursey to Harris, but Klinging shot a two-bagger to enter, scoring Hoerner and Kilday and tying the score. Erlain flied out to Jones. Bucknell failed to score in the tenth and Duquesne then won the game after two men were out. Cramer singled, Verbuionos, who was then pitching, got a lucky single to center, Jones just missed reaching it before it hit the ground, but made a pretty scoop of the ball. Hoerner singled along first base line and Cramer scored the winning run with two out.

Saint Vincent

Bucknell and St. Vincent undertook to play a baseball game Wednesday afternoon with a 35-mile gale blowing across the diamond. Spectators were wearing top coats and some of the players, sweaters. The game proved to be a farce and was cllead at the seventh inning. The pitchers were unable to put anything on the ball and as the team had three hard games before them it was decided that it would be unwise to take any chance with weather conditions as they were. Several times when players on each side were trying to field the ball and balance themselves at the same time, circus stunts were performed. Score—St. Vincent, 19, Bucknell 10. Game called at 6½ innings of play.

TRACK MEET

In the two-mile both Davis and Schmidt started. Schmidt took a pretty stride, running fourth until the seventh lap when he pulled into second. Hisler, of Drexel, won the race in the record time of 9 minutes 45 seconds. This beat the former record by 20 seconds. Schmidt crossed the line with a flying sprint ten seconds later, also beating the former record by ten seconds.

Joseph entered the 220 semi-finals but after his two gruelling quarter-mile races, his condition was weak and he did not succeed in qualifying for the finals. Gdanicc entered the half-mile but the field was too fast an he was outclassed. Dinn did well in the broad jump and would have qualified if it had not been for a foul. He made a fine leap of over 21 feet but the judge called it a foul, his toe having been over the take-off board. In the pole-vault three men, including Haslam, cleared the bar at 11 feet 8½ inches. Kemp of Swarthmore succeeded in going higher, clearing at 11 feet 11¼ inches, thus establishing a new Middle Atlantic record. Haslam, and McDonald, of Delaware, tied for second and the points were divided. Haslam won the toss for the medal.

Considering the caliber of the seventeen schools participating, Bucknell made a good showing. Many records were smashed in the course of the meet and all events were exceptionally fast. Bucknells chances for a high place in the Harrisburg meet two weeks from today, looks very promising.

BACTERIOLOGICAL SURVEY
From Page One

Following the pipe line, the party left Zimmerman's farm and returned to the junction of Sand Spring Run and White Deer Creek at the foot of Nittany Ridge.

Here the party made camp for the night and at five the following morning, following Culp's Railroad, pushed on to a point where the railroad crosses White Deer Creek. From this point the party "brushed" their way up the valley ,passing peak after peak until they reached the old Buffalo Trail. Here the party had lunch and then pushed ahead to McCall's Dam.

Leaving McCal's Dam and following a trail along the mountain, descending now and then into the valley for information regarding the course of streams, the party forged ahead to Black Gap, where camp was pitched for the night.

The following morning found the party on its last lap and well on its way when the sun showed its first rays over the mountain tops. At noon the party had reached its destination at the springs of Tunis. Here the pedometers averaged nearly forty-five miles, which distance had been covered with sleeping and eating equipment.

After resting a short time, the party started on its homeward journey, arriving at Yankee Run Camp at the head of the Fourteen Mile Narrows about two o'clock. At this point the party was met by Harold Miller and were brought to Lewisburg by Ford.

The three days' tramp showed a registry of approximately fifty miles covered, which, according to Thomas, "with a ton on a man's back is no mean distance between two points."

The weather was ideal and the information gathered will prove valuable in the future work of the Biology department, and especially so in the Bacteriological branch, of which Prof. Rice, who engineered the trip, has charge.

PRE-MED ELECTION

On Tuesday at 4:30 the Pre Meds gahtered for a rousing meeting. After a short summary of the year's work by Presidnet Thomas, the year's ly election of officers took place. The results of the election were as follows:

President, Herman E. Wiant; vice president, Anna Horoschak; secretary, S. Perry Rogers; treasurer, Bright E. Greiner.

After the election of officers Prof. Rice Spoke, the essence of his remarks being "Service, Duty and Remuneration." This last event of the meeting was timely and most thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

DELTA SIGMA OUTING

On Saturday last, Delta Sigma, with the aid of Semites, enjoyed a real outing at Forrest Inn. The merry party, chaperoned by Prof. and Mrs. Herrold, left the Seminary, via truck, about 10:30 a. m. The ride was a pleasant one, music being furnished by "Red" Lawson and his banjo. Shortly after arriving at Forrest Inn the party sat down to a chicken and waffle dinner. A hike was enjoyed in the afternoon, the party exploring the beautiful surrounding country. Time for the home-coming arrived all to soon for the joy-riders.

MECHANICALS SHOW MOVIES

Another very interesting program was put on by the Mechanical Engineering society when they presented "The Spirit of Progress," at their meeting in Bucknell Hall last Wednesday evening. "The Spirit of Progress" is a moving picture showing the manufacture of nuts and bolts at the Acme Standard Screw Co., of Cleveland, Ohio. Details were shown of the stamping, threading and finishing of both hot pressed and cold pressed nuts, also the manufacture of standard size bolts. These industrial pictures are of great value and should be witnessed by all of the students.

Y. W. C. A. DEVOTIONAL

"Prayer," was the subject of devotional meeting of Y. W. C. A. last Monday evening. The meeting was led by Miss DeEtte Edgett.

Miss Edgette brought out the need of prayer in our daily lives, not only in time of trouble, but at all times. She said prayer should be the process of talking over our affairs with God, and not mere begging or petitioning for what we want, as so many of us seem to think.

She said we should not be discouraged if we do not get exactly what we ask for ,because often the thing we ask for is not the real desire of our hearts, but only a wish on our lips, and therefore we do not get it. Besides, God is a loving Father, and many things which we ask for He cannot give us, because they are not best for us to have.

Not only the practical, material answer to prayer was given as the reason for it, but also the spiritual good, th estrengthening fo our character.

Y. W. C. A. SELLS ICE CREAM

Fussers at Women's College now have a chance to treat the co-eds to an ice cream cone and thus help along the Y. W. C. A. conference fund. The members of that committee, stationed along the hall near the living room, sell ice cream cones on Wednesday and Saturday evenings from 9 until 10 o'clock. It is hoped that the girls, also, will patronize this ice-cream stand, as well as the fussers.

PHI GAM SEM. DANCE

The members of Phi Gamma Delta enjoyed a sem dance with their co-ed guests last Friday night. "Diffy's College Five" furnished the music for the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Grice and Messers. Dudley, Brown, Linton and Dickinson of Swarthmore were the guests of the evening.

Goes to Fix It.

They were in a tearoom after the game, he and she. As they rose to go out, she stopped suddenly. A trifle embarrassed, too, as if something had * * * She looked down at her silken ankles and a deep flush stole over her. "Oh," she cried, "I forgot to telephone mother I wouldn't be home for supper."—Colgate Banter.

Lucile had a new ring. No one had noticed it. Finally at dinner she remarked: "Oh dear! I'm so hot in my new ring!"

Lester E. Stanton, '24, entertained his parents and some friends from Waymart on Saturday and Sunday.

Robert Livingston, '24, and Elliott Hopler, '24, visited the home of the former over the week-end. They returned to Lewisburg in Mr. Livingston's automobile.

On Saturday Gamma Lambda Sigma and some fair Semites spent a very delightful day visiting Shriner's Island, up Buffalo creek. The hikers left the Seminary at 10:30 and proceeded directly for the island. At noon, an excellent luncheon, consisting of everything along the line of good eats, and then some more—was quickly disposed of and the crowd proceeded to various amusements. About 5:00 o'clock a tired but very happy crowd returned to Lewisburg. The hike was efficiently chaperoned by Miss Griffiths of the Women's College.

Phil Lyon, National Field Secretary of Phi Gamma Delta, is visiting his Phi Gam brothers of Delta chapter for a few days.

VOL. XXIV LEWISBURG, PA., MAY 23, 1921 NUMBER 26

FULL CAST FOR SENIOR PLAY IS NOW ANNOUNCED

CAST INCLUDES MANY CAP AND DAGGER AND FRILL AND FROWN PLAYERS

MISS MARTHA LEISER FEATURED

Management Endeavoring to Produce a Supreme Amateur Production This Year.

The cast for the Senior class play, "Seven Keys to Baldpate," has been chosen and the play is now well under way. The play is a mystery farce and one of George M. Cohan's greatest stage successes. It consists of two acts, every line of which is shrouded in mystery and plots and counter-plots.

Chairman H. LeRoy Heller has been working hard to make this the best play ever given in Lewisburg by amateur talent. Because of the large amount of talent in the class of '21, both male and female, it is sure to be a huge success. One of the most prominent features will be the appearance of Miss Martha Leiser in the lead. Miss Leiser will appear as "Mary Norton," a newspaper reporter, and the play will be centered on her and on H. LeRoy Heller. These two prominent stage artists have appeared in the lead together in many plays during their four college years and this will be their final play at Bucknell.

Miss Leiser's home is in Lewisburg and she is a daughter of Howard Leiser. Even before entering Bucknell and while still in high school she attracted great attention by her marvelous acting and pleased everyone with her great ability. During her college career she has taken prominent parts in practically all Frill and Frown and Cap and Dagger plays and many other plays that have been given in Lewisburg. This spring she had the honor of being chosen as May Queen, an honor she also had while in high school.

H. LeRoy Heller, whose home is in Reading, has also attracted much attention by his marvelous ability during his four years here. This is his fourth year as a member of Cap and Dagger, in which he took a prominent part, playing the lead in a great many of that organization's successful productions. The rest of the cast have appeared frequently in productions here and all possess ability to fulfil their parts in great style. This will be the last chance to see these artists together at Bucknell.

The play is being directed by "Track" Gibson, which further insures it as a success. It will be given in Commencement Hall. All seats will be reserved and will be placed on sale at Heiser's Drug Store on Wednesday of this week. Seats will also be sold the evening of hte presentation on the "Hill," starting at seven o'clock.

The advertising is out and the novel large posters are attracting much attention.

Special scenery is to be had for the production and this is being obtained from the Ameltagrain studio of Philadelphia. The costumes and wigs are being obtained from the Charles D. Christy Co., of New York City.

The story begins in New York City. William Hallowell Magee, a novelist, played by Heller, makes a bet that he can write a twenty-four thousand word story in twenty-four hours, providing he has absolute seclusion. The friend with whom he makes the bet, owns the Baldpate Inn, in the mountains, and gives him the key to the inn, telling him it is the only key, and as the inn is unoccupied, he can find seclusion there. Magee arrives at the inn in the evening and finds the caretaker, who has made arrangements for his coming. He proposes to start work when he is interrupted by a crook, who opens the door with a key and puts some money in the inn safe. After a scuffle, Magee succeeds in locking him in a room. The next interruption is from a newspaper reporter and her chaperone, who also gain admittance by means of a key. The part of the reporter is the part played by Miss Leiser. Magee takes care of them and is next interrupted by a hermit, who uses a key in obtaining entrance. This part is played by Frances Reamer, president and prominent actor of Cap and Dagger. Next pseudo, wife

FINE RECITAL BY VIOLIN ARTISTS

Pupils of Miss Armstrong Present a Delightful Concert on Thursday Evening

A stringed orchestra concert by pupils of Miss Armstrong, delivered Thursday evening, May 19th, was a real treat to all music lovers. The orchestra consisted of twelve violins assisted by a viola, violin-cello, flute and clarinet.

"Spanish Dances" afforded a most attrative introduction and the "Unfinished Symphony" as a closing number was undoubtedly the finest production of the evening. Miss Armstrong's conducting and interpretation was of the highest order. The difficult solo of Eloise Hill was artistically rendered and most enthusiastically received. Norman Appleton's solo also was beautifully played. Both had rich tone quality. Another feature of the program was "Peer Gynt Suite." The lovely subdued "Ase's Death" being followed by the sprightly "Amti's Dance" made a most effective contrast. The ensemble numbers were popular and the solos of Roy Stein and Esther Fleming, assisted by all the violins in unison were splendidly done. The accompaniment of Miss Bergstresser and Miss Kathryn Warner furnished able background for the soloists.

Much credit is due Miss Armstrong for her untiring efforts and her marked accomplishment with the orchestra. These concerts, like all the recitals of the School of Music are of the highest grade and are gratefully enjoyed by a large portion of the student body.

TENNIS TEAM AGAIN BEATS SUSQUEHANNA

The tennis team again whitewashed Susquehanna University when they defeated the aforementioned school by the score of six to nothing. Lybarger, Gedrich, Brandt and Koch made the trip and administered the defeat to the down-river school, Susquehanna was unable to annex even a single set during the entire match.

The tennis team left Sunday morning for New York City where they will play N. Y. U. on Monday and C. C. of N. Y. on Tuesday. Wednesday they will journey to New Brunswick, New Jersey, where the Rutgers racquet wielders will be met. Merceravian and Lehigh will be the attractions at Bethlehem on Thursday and Friday and the trip will be completed when the Lafayette team is encountered on Saturday at Easton. The men that made the trip are in excellent condition and are going to exert every effort to bring back the bacon to Bucknell.

The Susquehanna scores were:

Singles

Lybarger defeated Stong 6-3, 6-3.
Gedrich defeated Decker, 6-2,6-1.
Koch defeated Streamer, 6-0, 6-0.
Brandt defeated Coursan, 6-1, 6-0.

Doubles

Lybarger and Gedrich defeated Stong and Decker, 6-3, 6-2.
Koch and Brandt defeated Streamer and Coursan, 6-0, 6-1.

BANQUET IS GIVEN FOR DR. MARTIN AND DR. BARTOL

LARGE NUMBER OF FACULTY AND ALUMNI ATTEND DINNER AT LEWISBURG CLUB

DR. HUNT IS TOASTMASTER

Dr. Martin Has Been on Faculty for Fifty Years and Dr. Bartol For Forty Years.

One of the finest and most unique events ever held in Bucknell University was the dinner given at the Lewisburg club on Tuesday evening, May 17, by the faculty of the University in honor of Professor William Emmet Martin, A. M., L. H. D., and Professor William Cyrus Bartol, A. M., Ph. D., who have been attached to the faculty for fifty and forty years respectively.

Seldom has the club been decked in such gala attire as it was on Tuesday evening. The huge Bucknell flag was hung at one end of the ball room and an Aemrican flag at another, while garlands of pine and leaves were used for further decoration. The tables were arranged in a hollow square, the toastmaster and speakers of the evening, with their wives, being seated at the head table. The color scheme of the tables was orange and blue, which was carried out by the use of orange and blue candles. At each plate was laid a white carnation and bouquets of the carnations were also to be found on the tables.

The blessing was asked by Rev. John T. Judd, Treasurer of the University. Immediately following the blessing, Registrar Clark announced that two of the college women would come to everyone present and secure their signature on souvenir programs for Dr. Martin and Dr. Bartol. Music was furnished during the evening by a norchestra composed of

BUCKNELL DEFEATS PITT COLLEGIANS BY SCORE OF 4-0

SEVERAL CHANGES MADE IN THE LINEUP—WARGO TAKES THE PLACE OF SCHULTZ

BELLAK PITCHES STRONG BALL

Team Now Seems in Fine Shape for Heavy Games on This Week's Trip.

Bucknell blanked the Pittsburgh Collegians last Wednesday on the home diamond with Bellak occupying the mound position capably but with the blue as a whole a bit unstable because of several changes in the lineup. The score was 5-0.

Keatos was shifted to first base and with Harris at the short-stop position, "Johnny" Dietrich hung around the third bag. Wargo was seen out on right field, while Linker came in nearer the "Hill." It is probable that several other changes will be seen when the Orange and Blue is acting here again, next Saturday.

In the first inning Bucknell was slow in getting away. Three men up drew outs immediately after poping flys to the outfield, while the Collegians demanded two hits but failed to advance a man beyond second.

Bucknell's scoring was done on two hits, two errors and on two well-executed sacrifices. Linker counted one of the five runs in the second period when after reaching first on his hit, Julian sacrificed while he went to second, from where he came romping home around third when Harris drove out a two-base hit. With Bellak up things looked good for more scoring, but Wargo was caught stealing second and the side was out.

Things were quiet until the seventh when Bucknel scored four runs. Dietrich drew a base hit and Jones reached first through an error; Kos-

GLEE CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL BANQUET

Last Monday eevning, the Men's Glee Club journeyed to Mifflinburg to enjoy their second annual banquet. The start was made from Bucknell Hall, the trip being made in a truck. Singing, jokes and various other forms of amusement occupied the attention of the men on the way out. The truck was escorted by a member of the canine tribe who assumed his duties on the outskirts of Lewisburg and ran the entire distance to Mifflinburg. "Hobe" Brown parted with some of his chicken in order to give the vangaurd a suitable reward for his services.

Arrived at the Hotel Hopp, the men were informed that they were ahead of schedule, so the next hour was occupied in wandering about the metropolis. Promptly at 8:30 the long-expected banquet was served. It was one of the sort for which the Hotel Hopp is justly famous, and it goes without saying that the club did full justice to it.

Following the banquet Nelson Rounsley assumed his duties as toastmaster, and fulfilled all expectations concerning him. Some of the speeches were given by the club members on such subjects as "Why New Jersey Likes Tall Men," and "Napoleon," which, while they may seem utterly senseless, have a world of meaning for glee club men.

Manager Hartz spoke at some length, giving a brief outline of the work of the club for the past season. He congratulated the men upon their success, and upon the spirit of cooperation which they have shown at all times.

Two other important speakers of the evening were Dr. Emory W. Hunt and Prof. Lindeman, both of whom were present at the banquet by special invitation. Dr. Hunt spoke briefly but very interestingly, and closed his talk with a few reminiscences of his own college glee club days. Professor Lindeman spoke briefly and then presented to Prof. Taul Stolz, who has been largely responsible for the musical successes of the club, several gold pieces, on behalf of the club members.

On the return trip ,the men entertained themselves by singing, and Lewisburg was reached all too soon. The banquet was voted a high success.

ONE MORE ISSUE

There will be one more issue of the Bucknellian for the present school year. This will appear on Tuesday, May 31. There will then be a lapse of one week, following which the Commencement News will be published under the direction of Perry S. Rogers, editor, and Roy H. Landis, manager. Candidates for the position of assistant manager will be given ample chance for a display of their merits during the publishing of the Commencement News.

ELOCUTION RECITAL

Mrs. Dore Hamler Weaver, a Bucknell graduate and former assistant of Miss Schillinger,in elocution, will give a recital in the Presbyterian church parlor on Tuesday evening, May 24, at 8 o'clock. Admission 25c. Home-made candy will be on sale.

Y. M. C. A. OFFICERS CONFER AT STATE

Dr. Hunt Addresses "Y" Men of Thirty-five Colleges of Pennsylvania

The annual Pennsylvania and New Jersey Student Officers' Training conference was held at Penn State, last Friday, Saturday and Sunday. More than a hundred officers of college and prep-school Y. M. C. A.'s of Pennsylvania were in attendance. Owing to a delay in receiving notice of the conference only one student delegate from Bucknell, S. Perry Rogers, attended.

This conference has the single purpose of giving student Y. M. C. A. officers the inspiration and training necessary for the conducting of a successful Y. M. C. A. in their respective colleges. Dr. Emory W. Hunt, president of Bucknell University, delivered the opening address after a "get-together" banquet at the Methodist church of the town. The program from then on was an intensive serise of conferences and interviews with national and state Y. M. C. A. officers. Every man was given a chance to interview men who were specialists in the particular phase of work in which he was interested.

The principal stress of the conference was laid on the religious preparation of men who are to lead in a distinctly religious organization. Methods of work were suggested and discussed, but the idea was made clear that methods in many organizations are helpless without the vital foundation of really devoted men-

NEW BOOKS FOR ENGLISH DEPT.

During the past semester a considerable number of new books have been secured for the department of English for the Bucknell library. Readers will be gratified to learn that about thirty volumes of recent American and English poetry, several volumes of the modern drama, some recent novels, biographies, autobiographies and collections of short stories are now available. Among the recent poets represented are Masefield, Gibson, Frost, Lindsay, Drinkwater, Bynner, Untermyer, Burton, Sandburg, Amy Lowell, Edgar Lee Masters, E. A. Robinson, and others. Selections from the less prominent poets may be found in the anthologies made by Jessie B. Rittenhouse, Mrs. Waldo, Louis Untermeyer, and Monroe and Henderson.

Nathaniel Hawthorne, Edgar Allen Poe, Mark Twain and O. Henry may greet and entertain you from new and complete editions of their works. Missing copies of Sir Walter Scotts' novels have been replaced. The delightful and stimulating volumes of essays, "The Gentle Reader" by Crothers, and "What Can Literature Do For Me?" by Prof. C. A. Smith, are accessible.

Within the next six months the English Department plans to purchase additional representative works by leading authors, especially the ramaitists. The department will warmly welcome and duly consider any suggestions that members of the faculty or of the student body may make in regard to the new purchases.

TRACK ATHLETES OVERCOME SPEEDY DICKINSON TEAM

HASLAM AND DAYHOFF BREAK RECORDS IN POLE VAULT AND LOW HURDLES

FIELD MEN DECIDE VICTORY

Templin, Gallagher and Garland Star for the Visiting Dickinson Team.

Bucknell emerged victorious on Saturday in the track and field meet held on Tustin Field against the well-balanced Dickinson College team. The results of the meet were in doubt until late in the meet. In the last few events Bucknell scored heavily and emerged in the foreground, but up until that time the Dickinson team showed themselves a match for the Orange and Blue.

Haslam broke the Bucknell pole vault record, which he previously held, with a vault of eleven feet eight inches. His former record, made last year in the dual meet with Gettysburg, was eleven feet and six inches. Treadwell, who had been sick previous to the meet, entered only two of his many events. He scored second in both the discus and the high jump, which was certainly very commendable, considering his condition.

Dickinson was weak in the field events and in these events Bucknell succeeded in taking almost all of the place. Templin, of Dickinson, showed himself to be a mighty good hurdler and field man when he won both the high and low hurdles and took third in both the broad jump and the discus throw and second in the shot put. He scored fifteen of the visitor's forty-eight points. Gallagher and Garland proved a power of strength for the visitors, each winning two first places in the track events. Gallagher ran an exceptionally fast mile, winning it in 4:4 1-2 and later defeated Moore in the half-mile in the fast time of 2:06-4. In both races he ran with wonderful form. Garland annxed both dash events, proving himself to be one of the best dash men in the state and will bid strong for the dashes in the coming meet at Harrisburg on Memorial Day.

Joseph, who was such an outstanding star in the interclass meet and who took second in the 440 at the Middle Atlantic Championships, was not in the best of condition. He took part in only one track event, running a dead heat with Hahn in the quarter-mile. Later he placed third in the high jump. Schmidt, who also was a winner at the Middle Atlantic Championships, defeated Mullen, of Dickinson, who finished behind him at Baltimore just a week before. It was the prettiest race of the afternoon. They kept together until the middle of the seventh lap, when Mullen began to sprint and started to leave Schmidt. But Schmidt was not so easy to lose and he also started to sprint and succeeded in holding the sprint after Mullen was completely played out. Schmidt ran him so ragged that it was all Mullen could do to pull one leg after the other coming down the home stretch. Schmidt ran a very steady and heady race, while Mullen tried to play the grandstand and failed.

The 100-yard dash was more or less a duke. It was a poor start, and of the Dickinson men not leaving his mark, and the starter did not call the runners back. Only three men finished—Hahn and Rentz both following Garland.

Wren placed second in the high hurdles, which event was won by Templin. Gdaniec finished second in the mile and Davis third. Davis took the lead near the end of the first lap and held it until he was taken with a pain in the third lap, when Gallagher and Gdaniec went ahead. Gdaniec stuck to Gallagher thru the last lap and finished not far behind him with Davis a good third.

Dayhoff won his heat in the low hurdles, running it in 26-3,5, which is two-fifths of a second slower than the Bucknell record. In the finals, however, he was beaten by Templin by a scarce yard. Moore and Chapman followed Gallagher to the tape in the half-mile in a very close finish. It was a very close race thru out and coming down the home stretch it looked as if either of the three runners might win.

RETURN THAT BOOK!

Return that book to the library! Next time you clean the room, collect all the library books which are in your possession and return them. Our library is run on a collegiate principle, not on the "seven day, and fine thereafter" plan of public libraries. The idea of those in charge is to serve the student body in the highest possible degree by allowing persons to take as many books as they need for as long time as they wish to use them. The success of this system, however, depends on the students' cooperation in returning all books as soon as they are through using them. Let us help to make the files of the library complete at the close of this semester.

TRACK MAKES BIG STRIDE

Track and field athletics have again returned to the prominent and high position which they had held and rightly should hold in the athletics at Bucknell. After four years of inactivity and a hard fight for recognition last year, the season started this year with great enthusiasm. For the first time in Bucknell athletic history, we were represented at the Middle Atlantic States Championships. Though this was our first appearance we made a very favorable showing. This is a great forward step for the university and will obtain great recognition from the outside. Already two Bucknell records have been broken. Dickinson has been defeated. We are proud of our track and field team.

GETTING RESULTS

In a fall number of this volume of the Bucknellian we gave space to an editorial entitled, " A Plea for the Modern," the esence of which was a plea that some good modern literature be placed in our library besides the worthy collection of ancient and medieval masterpieces. In a news item of this issue under the head, "New Books in English Department,' is noted a collection of modern English and American poetry, drama, novels, biographies, etc., which has been recently added to our library. The Bucknellian wishes to commend the English department on this acquisition and express the sincere desire that the good work may go on.

KAPPA SIG LAWN PARTY

Extensive preparations are being made by the Kappa Sigma fraternity for their annual lawn party, which will be held this Saturday. The lawn is in fine condition, and with the completion of the tennis court, the surroundings of the house will present an attractive appearance for this prominent function of Kapp Sigma's social life. The affair will begin with the baseball game in the afternoon on Tustin Field and after the game the couples will go to the house. Dinner will be served on the lawn. In the evening the lawn will be lit with electric lights and Japanese lanterns. An orchestra will be there and dancing will be a feature of the evening. Kappa Sigma hopes to make this the best lawn party they have ever held.

SOPHOMORE COTILLION

The annual Sophomore Cotillion was held last Friday night at Milton park with "Heinie" Kleinkauff's orchestra of Wilkes-Barre furnishing the music. The dance lasted from 9 o'clock until 2 a. m., with an intermission at twelve when refreshments were served, consisting of sandwiches, potato chips, pickles and ice cream. Many white flannels were in evidence and joyous was the evening spent by the class of '22 and their guests.

A great deal of credit should be given Chairman Woodring and his committee for the work they put forth to make the dance a successful affair. Clever green and white programs were distributed.

"MAC" VISITS BUCKNELL

Francis P. McDermott, better known to every Bucknell student as "Mac," and dear to the heart and high in the esteem of every Bucknellian, paid a visit over the week-end to Bucknell and to his Kappa Sigma fraternity brothers. He was present at the track meet in the afternoon, when he was warmly greeted by everyone and the student body showed their esteem for him in a rousing cheer. "Mac" looks the perfect picture of health and weighs about 190 pounds. He is not doing anything at the present time but is merely convalescing.

CLEAN POLITICS?

A great deal of hot air has been blowing around during the last few months about "cleaning up college politics." The class of '23, first as usual in any new movement has made a forward step in this direction. The manner fo '23's last class election was epoc making. Last Thursday afternoon at 4.30 the Sophomore class elected the editor and business manager of next year's L'agenda, offices which, in the opinion of many, are the most important in a college course. The only public announcement of this meeting was given at Chapel Thursday morning, at which time, less than half the Sophomore men are present. No notice whatsoever appeared on any of the bulletin boards. The supposition is that election was managed in this way in order to eliminate the possibility of any framedup combination coming prepared to carry off the election. The point to be established in this inference, however is that no college group had any information other than the chapel announcement.

Whether the idea was "clean politics" or politics otherwise is a matter which everyone who is interested must judge from the facts of the case. If the decision is "clean," well and good. If it is "otherwise" some action should be taken in the matter of future elections. A good suggestion is a ruling which will require a three-day notice of any election and an announcement in both sections of chapel.

A Sophomore.

INDUSTRIAL GIRLS CONFERENCE

Are you an educated person? Can a person be educated who has not had a high school education? Is education a good thing for everyone? Should married women have careers? Should folks keep a job when they do not really need the money?

What, would you answer if you had these questions suddenly put to you? These were the questions that Miss Jennie Burke asked the astonished girls at a peppy Y. W. C. A. meeting last Monday night.

Miss Burke and Miss Mildred Hayden were delegates to a houseparty near Scranton, composed of industrial girls and college girls, the purpose of which was to bring the two groups of girls together under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A., to discuss mutual problems.

Miss Burke said that these were a few of the questions that the industrial girls asked the college girls. She said both groups greatly enjoyed and profited by the contact with each other, and she found the industrial girls clear thinking, eager and with serious purpose; not light minded or frivolous.

When the college girls asked their industrial friends their idea of a good job, the answer was: Good surroundings, recreation room and some say in the management. Pay was not once brought into the discussion. The girls care more for being treated like human beings than for the pay.

As for their attitude towards college, most of them feel that the present college system bars industrial girls, and should be changed so as to include industrial and vocational subjects.

Know Your College

This series of articles is published in order to create in the student body a more intimate knowledge of the history of Bucknell and a higher appreciation of her principles and ideals.

In order to accomplish the purpose of these articles more than the bare statement of historical dates is needed. Something of the humorous, something of the personal element is needed to get real insight into the early spirit of Bucknell. The articles printed are chosen with this object in mind. The first is written from investigation by a present student, the second by the only living member of the first class graduated from the college.

Ye Old Annals

I leaf through the old annals of the University of Lewisburg with a feeling of awe and respect, touched occasionally by a tingle of humor. The awe and respect is due no doubt to the picture gallery therein of the sturdy burghers who laid the foundation of this university. As I write, the stern, set face of one of the fathers of knowledge lies before me and his eyes are glaring angrily at me because he knows I am wondering whether barbers and lawn-mowers were luxuries in his time.

As for the humor in the annals—well, figures ARE humorous if we allow them to tell their tale. The worthy book states that tuition in the collegiate department is thirty dollars per year and room rent seven dollars and a half per year. I am wondering if the professors of that period were retired bankers or train robbers. Then again, students are admonished not to bring any pocket money with them so that they may not be tempted to riotous living. And then to drive home the importance of proper morals, each student, whether he will or no, was a member of the "Society of Moral and Religious Inquiry." Our worthy Baptist founders were evidently conservatists in religious matters.

But my purpose is to find out facts and figures of the founding of our university so I turn back to the first page of the annals and read: "The Northumberland Baptist Association met in 1845 and resolved to found a high school for males, another for females, a college, and also a theological institute. The charter of the university at Lewisburg was signed on February 5, 1846, by the governor of Pennsylvania. Stephen H. Taylor was elected principal of the school and on October 5 of the same year, classes were organized in the basement of the Baptist church until the completion of the building. The faculty consisted of Stephen H. Taylor, A. M., professor of mathematics and natural philosophy; Rev. George R. Bliss, professor of Greek language and literature; George H. Anderson, A. M., professor of Latin language and literature; Isaac N. Loomis, A. M., principal of the Academy; Alfred Taylor, A. M., tutor of English language and elocution; and Norman Ball, principal of the primary department.

In 1848 the academy building was completed and plans were made for the building of main college. In 1850-51, on the motion of Hon. James Buchanan, afterward president of the United States, degrees were conferred upon the first class presented for graduation—seven in number. At that time the attendance was as follows: College 61, Academy 117, Female Institute 48, making a total of 226.

In 1851-52 Howard Malcolm became president upon the resignation of Dr. Taylor. Forty-five thousand dollars was raised for buildings and the Ladies' Institute was moved into the building at the corner of Second and St. Louis streets, with Miss Hadassah Scribner as principal.

In 1854-55 the theological department was established and the first class, two in number, graduated from the institute.

REMINISCENCES

By Rev. John Morris Lyons, '51, Bucknell's Oldest Alumnus in Point of Graduation.

I was born on January 24, 1828, near what is now known as Atglen, Chester County, Pa. Early in life I moved with my father to a point near Russellville. Here I became interested in the study of Latin. Later I studied Greek for several years under the direction of my father, completing in this way Xenophon's Anabasis and much of the New Testament. In 1854, having united with the Beulah Baptist church at the age of sixteen, I attempted to preach in various places. In 1847 I noticed a movement had been for some time on foot to establish the "University at Lewisburg." I made arrangements to go, and reached our State capital by rail. I remembered a part of a lesson in Olney's Geography like this: "What is a canal?" Answer: "A canal is an artificial channel filled with water, for the easy, speedy and cheap transportation of goods from one section of the country to another." I wanted to see a canal and sail on one; but a freshet had put the Susquehanna canal out of business and I had to take a stage and travel all night. In the forenoon of the next day the driver stopped at the end of the old Market street bridge and handed down my trunk. Not liking to leave it here as it was, I could but pick it up and walk across. I found the university in a brick church edifice on the slt of the present music hall. There were three rooms in the basement. In the largest one there were rows of plain red desks at which the students were seated. On one side the girls, and on the other side, the boys. But our seats faced different ways. If we looked around once in a while there was no harm done. Talk about coeducation being a tentative matter. We had it away back in 1847 and I was brought up to it and liked it. It was a happy day when the Academy was finished and many of us took our desks on our heads and marched up to the hill the lids of the desks clapping us on our march. Still we had the girls on the other side and were proud to consider them our better half. Noble girls I believe them to be and feit that their influence was salutory.

They were forming a Freshman class when I arrived in Lewisburg and I was ascribed a place in it and we were Seniors all the way through college. Doctor S. W. Taylor was a good and great man. His chair had formerly been mathematics and natural philosophy but he was at home everywhere teaching us to demonstrate problems in geometry, unraveling the involved sentences of Livy, or scanning the odes of Horace. He had as assistants his gifted son Alfred and the gentlemanly I. N. Loomis. They were all highly regarded. During my second year the faculty was reinforced by the coming of Professor Bliss to occupy the chair of Greek language and literature, Prof .G. W. Anderson that of that of Latin and Prof. C. S. James the chair of chemistry. The west wing was soon completed and we began to feel that we were growing important. Young men today looking over the beautiful wooded slopes can scarcely picture the wild woods of that time and the boys at intermission wading through the fallen leaves and gathering into heaps the brush that cumbered the ground.

After a time we were cheered by the coming of some philosophical apparatus. Dr. Taylor used to take the telescope on his shoulders in the evening and go up to the crest where the main edifice now stands and show us the wonders of the starry heavens. But 1851 came and seven young men graduated. Commencement Hall was the large upper room of the Academy. We had a beautiful green arch sprung over the platform and a Latin verb "Ducimus" festooned above us [illegible] we said "We lead the way." That is a day I shall never forget. The tender farewell remarks of Dr. Taylor—his last official act in Lewisburg—drew tears from every eye. Then the thoughts of parting from each other after such long and pleasant associations moved us. The little band of seven never met again.

"And all that happy party,
"Save one, alas are dead."

DELTA SIGMA ANNUAL DANCE

Delta Sigma "stepped out" over the week-end. Activities began on Friday evening with the formal at the Lewisburg club. About forty couples danced to the music furnished by Alexander's orchestra, from 9 until 2. At 12 intermission was announced and refreshments were served.

For the remainder of the week-end canoeing, motoring and many other diversions were in order. Delta Sigma and its guests had an enjoyable week-end.

The improvement on the tennis court of the Kappa Sigs is progressing rapidly and is nearing completion. The court had been too uneven and was not the best of courts, so it was decided to turn it north and south and make a good court out of it. The site was graded and a foundation of red shale put in. Then a layer of cinders was added and the top layer of fine red clay has just been added. After rolling and the putting up of back-stops and sodding of the surroundings, a mighty fine court is expected.

of Thomas Hayden, the president of the R. & E. Suburban R. R., enters. She says she has come for the money deposited in the safe by Bland. She wants this money in order to save her husband from disgrace. Jim Coogan, the crooked mayor of Renton, and his right hand man, Lou Max, gain admittance by means of a key. These two men are trying a crooked franchise on the railroad. Magee succeeds in locking them in a room for safe keeping until after he has made an investigation. He opens the safe and sends Miss Norton to the headquarters of the Asquewan police. What happens later can best be seen and appreciated by seeing the play.

The complete cast includes Elijah Quimby, caretaker of Baldpate Inn, Mr. David H. Stewardson; Mrs. Quimby, the caretaker's wife, Miss Marjorie Sprout; William Hallowell Magee, the novelist, Mr. H. Quinney started things for the Collegians in the eighth and pounded out a three-base hit, but Bellak stiffened and retired the next man. McCandless flyed out to DeCoursey and Bellak fielded the ball for the next man up. The ninth was ended in the same short order neither team being able to accomplish anything.

BANQUET TO FACULTY

the Misses Kathryn Wagner, Eloise Hill, Esther Fleming and Mr. R. B. Stine.

The toastmaster was Dr. Emory W. Hunt, who introduced the spenkers of the evening, Dean Phillips, Dr. Hamblin, Dr. Bartol and Dr. Martin. Loving tribute was paid to the life of Dr. Martin and Dr. Bartol, both as to their private lives and their lives as professors in Bucknell University. Dr. Martin and Dr. Bartol responded in an admirable manner, telling, each in his own way, what elements had gone to make up their careers as professors.

Those attending the banquet numbered close to one hundred persons, which included the faculty and trustees with their wives, and several guests. The committee, of which Dr. N. F. Davis was the chairman, worked untiringly to make the banquet a success and their efforts were not in vain. Bucknell University is indeed fortunate in having among its faculty men who have served for so many years, and in fact, few colleges are able to boast of such an honor.

The menu was as follows:

Fruit Cocktail
Chicken Bouillion Croutons
Roast Chicken
Dressing Giblet Sauce
Creamed New Potatoes
Corn Asparagus
Olives Radishes Celery
Pineapple Sherbet
Tomato Salad
Wafers Cheese Balls
Neapolitan Ice Cream
Cake Coffee

Y. M. C. A. CONFERENCE

ebrg.

In the election of officers, Herbert Haslam, president of the local Y. M. C. A., was elected to the field council, a committee of two men to act with the national and state secretary, in planning the work of the Y. M. C. A. in all the colleges.

Another very interseting item introduced was the Silver Bay conference, a summer conference of college men meeting every summer at Silver Bay, N. Y. This gathering, the outgrowth of the old Northfield Conference, embraces two full weeks of Bible study and training, sports of all kinds, and a course of excellent lectures by prominent speakers The expenses of delegates are low. It is hoped that a large number of men from Bucknell may attend.

The delegates were the guests of the different fraternities of Penn State while they were attending the conference. Time was taken off to attend the Penn State-Detroit University baseball game on Saturday afternoon, in which Penn State won, 4-3. All things considered, the delegates spent a pleasant and very profitable week-end.

GOOD WEEK IN ATHLETICS

VOL. XXIV LEWISBURG, PA., MAY 31, 1921 NUMBER 27

BUCKNELL TEAMS COMPLETE A VERY SUCCESSFUL WEEK ON DIAMOND, COURT AND CINDER PATH

BUCKNELL TRACK TEAM WINS THE HARRISBURG MEET

GETTYSBURG TAKES SECOND PLACE, MUHLENBURG THIRD AND DICKINSON FOURTH

TEAM IS WELL BALANCED

Handsome Cup, Offered by the Philadelphia Ledger, is Now on Display in Prowant's Window.

The Bucknell track and field squad returned Monday night to Lewisburg bearing victory and an immense and handsome silver loving cup that was a symbol of their victory over eight other colleges in the Central Penna. Collegiate Track Conference held Monday afternoon at Island Field in Harrisburg. We won the meet by a margin of twelve points over Gettysburg, our nearest rival. Dickinson and Muhlenburg also gave the Orange and Blue a hard fight up until the last four or five events, when we amassed a greater number of points and pushed on into the lead. Our victory was due to no individual star, but rather to a well-balanced team. All but two of the men who made the trip scored points that aided in our victory. Everyone did even better than had been expected and considering the competition and the poor condition of the track, the performance was remarkable.

Joseph was the high point-scorer and outstanding star of the team. He finished a dead heat in the quarter-mile with Hahn and won the furlough in a sensational finish. Haslam won the pole-vault and set up a new field record of 11 feet, 4½ inches. Wren did very creditable work when he tied for first in the high jump and third in the high hurdles. Gdaniec pulled a surprise when he won the mile in a hard and punishing finish. Schmidt and Davis ran mighty nice races when they finished second and third respectively in the two-mile behind Hisler, the wonderful Drexel runner who holds the title of A. A. U. cross country junior and senior champion. Moore

MISS CAREY WILL STAY

Owing to the number of leaves of absence granted to members of the faculty next year, Dean Carey has consented to postpones her leave of agence and therefore will be at the Women's College netx year.

LAST ISSUE

This is the last issue of the Bucknellian for 1920-1921. The college publicity from now until commencement will appear in the Commencement News, which will appear during Commencement Week, promptly on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday mornings. It is planned to make the News of the seventy-fifth commencement one of the best issues ever published. A full account of all the activities of comemencement, as well as a great deal of historical material of keen interest to every student and alumnus, will appear in these three issues. Students or alumni may obtain any or all of the copies through S. Perry Rogers or Roy H. Landis, or simply by addressing "The Bucknellian, Lewisburg." The price is 10c per copy or 25c for the three.

JUNIOR ORATORICAL CONTEST

The annual contest in the presentation of original orations, open to Juniors, will be held next Friday evening, June 3rd, at 8:00 o'clock, in Bucknell Hall. William Lybarger and William H. Sugden have already entreed for the men's prize, and Miss Jennie Burke and Miss Florence Cornwell will compete for the women's prize.

1922 L'AGENDA IS NOW ON SALE

MOST COMPLETE YEAR BOOK IN YEARS HAS MADE ITS APPEARANCE

Having been delayed two weeks because of the much-talked-of printers' strike, the 1922 L'Agenda arrived at Bucknell late Saturday afternoon. The copies were checked up immediately and were ready for distribution on Monday—a fitting method of celebrating Memorial Day. The books are being distributed as fast as the business end of the L'Agenda board can handle the proposition, and arrangements will be made for the various fraternity houses whereby those who ordered them will be able to get their copies. Those who appear more anxious can have their copies by calling at the Kappa Sigma house and securing them from Manager Kytle.

The book is the most complete that has been printed at Bucknell in recent years, and much credit is due Editor Keech and his staff in presenting such a voluminous work, covering as it does every phase of the life on the "Hill." It is the very last word in college annuals for the year, and presents an appearance really distinctive in character and of the neatest kind of workmanship throughout the publication, Especially fine is the photo engraving work, which shows just that touch of the artistic that savors of the best. The book is divided into twelve departments, each one complete in itself and covering that particular phase of the interest of the students and classes, and from cover to cover it is filled with real "flavor" that makes the life at college seem more worth while.

The cover of the book is of imitation leather, with the words, "L'Agenda, 1922," neatly arranged at the top, and with a design of the 6th Street entrance to the campus embossed underneath in a circle at the center of the cover. The various headings of the departments were drawn by Miss Myra Effinger, '22, and the editor of the book, while the calendar drawings were executed by Carl Goerlitz, with much credit to the standard of the art work of the publication.

One feature that is new and especially worth mention is the Cameo plate view section, covering eight pages near the front of the book. Many new photos of the campus and surroundings are here depicted in the neatest possible manner, and instead of the customary line, telling exactly what the particular scene is, there appears a verse of poetry or lines from some of the masters that seem especially appropriate for that scene, and which adds a touch of college spirit even to the view section.

The arrangement of the classes is

BASE BALL TEAM WINS THREE GAMES

Varsity Defeats Dickenson, Albright And Juniata, But Bows To St. Marys and Gettysburg.

Starting off the three-day trip on Tuesday with a decided victory over Dickinson, Bucknell lost the two remaining games played on the Central Pennsylvania tour. Dickinson was easily dispatched, but the games with Gettysburg and Mount St. Mary's proved disastrous to Bucknell batters and were lost after close nine-inning fights.

Dickinson vs. Bucknell

Down at Carlisle the home team succeeded in cashing in on a base hit and an error during the first time at bat, while Bucknell was retired in 1, 2, 3 order.

But in the second inning, Orange and Blue men dashed over the home plate for three tallies. Linker went first on an error and Julian's single advanced him a base. With Harris on first thru an error things were ripe for Deitrick and Jones singles, after Bunting and DeCoursey had been caught out.

Dickinson scored once more when Spotts walked home in the fifth. Bucknell, however, counted runs at various times during the nine innings until her total was 11 and Dickinson's 3.

Gettysburg vs. Bucknell

When Orange and Blue met Orange and Blue at Gettysburg on Wednesday, the battlefield sluggers won the game by scoring two runs in the seventh, while Bucknell was unable to draw anything but outs. All thru the periods the combat was closely waged. In the seventh, with one man out, Redway took first thru Bellak's error. Keiser, next up, was given first base thru Bunting's error and both men romped home under Myers' two-base hit deep into right field.

Mt. St. Mary's vs. Bucknell

There was plenty of scoring thruout the game with Mt. St. Mary's, but not enough, however, for Bucknell to win. We were slow in getting away but under the impetus of two runs scored by the home team early in the game, Bucknell piled up three runs in the second. Tie from the second to the sixth. Bucknell lost when she could account for only three scores made in that period against four made by Mt. St. Mary's. Each team scored one in addition during

REGISTRATION FOR NEXT SEMESTER

Blue print copies of the schedule of classes for the next semester have been posted on the bulletin boards and the registration of students for the work of the next semester will take place May 31 to June 3, inclusive. All freshmen, sophomores and Juniors should note carefully the announcements posted in connection with the schedule and report promptly to their respective advisers and committees for registration. According to page 87 of the latest catalogue, a fine of $3.00 will be imposed for a delayed registration.

SENIORS, NOTICE!

All seniors are requested to pay the $3.00 due to their Class Memorial Fund. Money is payable to Victor G. Clair, treasurer of the class, or Francis Reamer, chairman of the Class Memorial Committee.

ATHLETIC ASS'N ELECTIONS

The results of the elections for officers of the Athletic Association, held Thursday, May 26, were: President, LaRue Worthington; vice-president, Phillip Campbell; secretary, Hugh Sowers.

"NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH" THIS WEEK

CAP AND DAGGER WILL PRESENT FARCE IN THE ORPHEUM THURSDAY NIGHT

On Thursday night, Jun 2, Cap and Dagger will present at the Orpheum, "Nothing but the Truth." The play is a farce comedy from the pen of James Montgomery. It played a season at the Longacre Theatre, New York, and was on the road three years.

Tickets for the performance, the only one which will be given, are on sale at Bakers' Drug Store. All seats are reserved. The admission price is 75 cents.

The comedy deals with the experience of a wealthy young stockbroker who pledges himself to tell "nothing but the truth," for a period of 24 hours. The absurd and complicated situations that arise are extremely humorous.

The coaching of the play is in the hands of Francis H. Gibson, '23. This will insure a finished and well-rounded performance, for "Hack's" wealth of experience is a big asset.

The managing is in the hands of Harold McGraw, '23. "Mac" has been working hard on the setting and stage end of things. One thing can be promised—the usual length of time between acts will be materially reduced.

Many new faces in dramatics will be seen in the cast, which is as follows: C. E. Diffendafer as "Bob Bennett;" "Buck" Wheat at "Dick Connelly;" Frank Davis as Clarence VanDussen;" S. M. Rickard as "B. M. Ralston;" Beers as "Bishop Doran;" Ada Thomas as "Gwen;" Caroline Hunt as "Ethel;" Ray Seaman as "Mabel;" Mary Appleman as "Sable," and Alice Ruhl as "Martha."

PHI PSI HOUSE PARTY

With the departure of the Buffalo Flyer on Sunday afternoon, went the last of the guests of the most successful house party ever held by the local chapter of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity. If the weather man had ears he probably would have felt rewarded by the expression of gratitude extended to him by all those in attendance. Not only did he voice his approval of the festivities by sending ideal summer weather during the day, but went even further and supplied a large, mellow, romantic moon by night. Indeed, its radiance was so brilliant that had one cared to remain awake all night, he could not have told when night ended and day began.

The house, greatly improved by the laying of hardwood floors, was in tip-top condition. Spruce boughs were used in connection with the colored lighting effects. Both blended and

WHOLE TEAM PLAYED WELL

Team is Undefeated With One Match With State Remaining to be Played.

The Bucknell tennis team completed a very successful trip through New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania during the past week. Rain interfered with two of the matches but the other results were as follows: City College of New York was defeated 4-2. Moravian was defeated 6-0, Lehigh was defeated 5-1, and Lafayette was tied 3-3. Rain prevented the matches with N. Y. U. and Rutgers but judging by comparative scores, these schools would have been easily vanquished.

From C. C. of N. Y. the local net men received a good bit of opposition but they finally won, 4-2. Lybarger had his smash stroke in great form and defeated his opponent, Shapiro. Gedrich drew a man who rivaled Ben Turpin in many ways and "Getsy" (so this singles because he couldn't tell where the ball was coming. Getsy said, "If he'd only hit 'em where he's looking!" Koch and Speare played a good brand of tennis, each winning their singles. The scores were:

Singles
Lybarger defeated Shapiro 6-3, 6-4.
3-6.
Algase defeated Gedrich 7-5, 6-3.
Speare defeated Spence 6-2, 6-3.
Koch defeated Fuentes 6-3, 6-3.

Doubles

FROSH-SOPHOMORE BASEBALL GAME

Friday afternoon saw a fast and furious game between representatives of the of the Sophomore and Freshman classes, in which the former came off victors, to the tune of something like 17 to 2. This is believed to be about the closest approximation to the correct score as any yet approximated," for towards the last, the Sophs had things about their own way and the runs came across too fast to be counted.

When "Ye Official Scribe" arrived at the game, the score was about 6-0, and when the tally had become 12-0 he left in despair. The rapid scoring of the Sophs, and the changing of pitchers by the Freshmen, bewildered him, and convinced him that it was more or less useless to try to cococt a box score.

However, some of the shining stars of the game might be mentioned. Bowser, egged on by appropriate cheering from the sidelines, made a home-run and tallied a couple of men besides himself. "Horace" Miller, familiarly known as Ramsay, who held down the initial sack in fine style, also clouted the ball for a homer, but in his hurry, he failed to kiss the third sack with his big toe and as a result the umpire called it all off. Woodring and Fry also made the complete circuit. For the Frosh, Jeimson played about the best game, starting in as catcher and winding up as pitcher. Every man did his level best.

STUDENT ROOMS

Every student now in college who wishes to have a dormitory room for the year 1921-22 should make application and pay the deposit fee at the Registrar's Office on or before Saturday, May 28th.

No student will be allowed to change from one room to another during the year, without special permission.

EDITORIAL

OUR POLICY

With this, the last issue of the Bucknellian for the college year of 1920-21, it seems appropriate for the new management to say a few words with respect to the policy and aims of the Bucknellian for the coming year.

The paramount duty of any newspaper is to collect and publish news. The sphere of the Bucknellian includes every college activity in which the student body as a whole is interested. We aim not only to report activities but to give extended space to advance publicity. The fulfillment of this aim depends upon the cooperation of every organization in submitting this "advance dope" to the editor. Extensive plans are now under way whereby the Bucknellian will be able to reach every college activity in a much more satisfactory way than we have been able to do in the past. It will also be made easy for any student to submit news during the coming year without taking a day off to hunt the editor.

A very important consideration to any newspaper is its "politics." As a guiding hand to public opinion the press wields a mighty power, for good or for evil, depending upon its editorial policy or its "politics." The politics of the Bucknellian, as stated in this years' L'Agenda, is "a square deal for everybody." With us this is not hot air, it means a determination on the part of the editorial management to serve every worthy college activity in the highest possible degree and to foster and promote, to the best of their ability, the "Spirit of Bucknell."

AN APPRECIATION

The following letter, from a Bucknell alumnus, is representative of several letters which we have received within the past few months, showing that Bucknellians, scattered over the world, still appreciate "Old Bucknell" and her college publications.

At Sea.
Nov. 3, 1920.

Mr. Victor G. Clare,
Bus. Mgr., Bucknellian,
Lewisburg, Pa.
Dear Sir:-

I wish to thank you for placing me on the mailing list of our breezy college weekly. The paper is maintaining its usual high standard and succeeds admirably in keeping us in touch with doings at Bucknell.

It is a great pleasure to greet former Bucknell students in the various ports we make on the west coast. Indeed, I found them even in Honolulu, on a cruise there last August.

My best wishes to the newly chosen staff.

Cordially,

PROGRESS ON NEW BUILDINGS

Operations on the chemistry annex have progressed so very rapidly during the past few weeks, that it is an assured fact that this portion of the lab will be ready for use when the fall semester opens. The work once started, was rushed in good style, and now stands near completion.

Work on the first wing of the new engineering building on the Hill has already begun, and while it is not likely that this building will be prepared by fall, it is gratifying to see that the University's dreams of a bigger Bucknell to the west are now in a fair way of being realized. Excavations for the basement are now in order, while the materials for the structure are being gathered together, so as to be right on hand and thus cause as little delay as possible.

TENNIS MATCHES

Moravian proved an easy victim for the local boys, losing by a 6-0 score. They were unable to annex a single match and the best thing they had were good courts. All of our team played good tennis and won everything. The scores were.

Singles

Lybarger defeated Hoffman 6-2, 6-1.
Gedrich defeated Williams 6-3, 6-2.
Speare defeated Marks, 6-0, 6-0.
Koch defeated Minert 6-3, 6-4.

Doubles

Lybarger and Speare defeated Hoffman and Williams, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4.
Gedrich and Koch defeated Marks and Minert 6-3, 6-2.

Lehigh gave the Bucknell team a nice write-up in the school paper and mentioned the fact that Lehigh would have difficulty in beating Bucknell. The score was 5-1, with our net men on the big end. Koch was the only man to lose.

Lybarger played the highly reputed Beck who is rated among the first ten men of Philadelphia on the courts. Gedrich and Speare both played well and won. The scores were:

Singles

Lybarger defeated Beck 6-3, 0-6, 6-4.
Gedrich defeated Sparr, 6-4, 6-3.
Speare defeated Coel 6-3, 6-3.
Wentz defeated Koch 6-3, 2-6, 6-4.

Doubles

Lybarger and Koch defeated Beck and Sparr, 6-3, 3-6, 7-5.
Gedrich and Speare defeated Coel and Wentz 6-3, 6-2.

The strain of the Lehigh match proved too much for the local men and the best they could do was to tie Lafayette on very poor courts.

Mena, Lafayette's first man, exhibited a wonderful brand of tennis when he defeated Lybarger 6-0, 6-1. The scores were:

Singles

Mena defeated Lybarger 6-0, 6-1.
Shumway defeated Gedrich 6-3, 6-4.
Speare defeated Mitchell 6-3, 6-2.
Koch defeated Whalin 6-3, 3-6, 6-4.

Doubles

Mena and Shumway defeated Lybarger and Koch 6-2, 6-3.
Speare and Gedrich defeated Mitchell and Whalin, 10-8, 6-0.

The completion of this trip leaves the tennis team undefeated, with a record of defeating Penn State, City College of New York, Moravian, Le high, Susquehanna (two matches), and tieing Swarthmore and Lafayette. It is very probable that Manager Sowers will arrange to play State College a return match on local courts on June 10th.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION NOTICE

All men wishing to try for second assistant managership in baseball, track or tennis must make application during week of June first. Applications will be received by John R. Beers at Delta Sigma house.

PHI PSI HOUSE PARTY

formed a very tasty decorative scheme.

The program, which began on Wednesday afternoon, with the Bucknell-Pittsburgh Collegian baseball game, was very attractive. Diffy's College Five gave the guests a very fine impression of Bucknell, at the opening dance, Wednesday evening. Thursday evening Irvin's Pop orchestra from Pittsburgh practically assured the success of the party with their special brand of syncopation. Two o'clock found its was around much too quickly for nearly all of the dancers. A straw ride to Wolfland took up most of Friday, the merrymakers returning in time to attend the Sophomore Cotillion at Milton Park. Bucknell's triumph in the track meet with Dickinson Saturday afternoon put everyone in the proper spirit to enjoy the last dance. Diffy again furnished the music and let it be added that he was at his best.

Much credit is due also to Mrs. William Leiser and Mrs. Rotherman for the excellent manner in which they took charge of affairs. As heads of the house they could not have been surpassed and their pleasant hospitality was appreciated by all.

The young ladies in attendance included Misses Jeane Sharpe of Trenton, N. J.; Katherine Gable of Shamokin; Phylene Ritchey and Ida Frock of Harrisburg; Helen Bixler and Emma Joe Kenney of Scottdale; Louise Burgnes of Chambersburg; Margaret Nell of Atlantic City, N. J.; Elizabeth Mullins of Franklin; Florella Morgan of Canonsburg; Elisabeth Hyatt and Floretta Hepburn of Jersey Shore; Helen Bodine of Philadelphia; Margaret Carothers of Carlysle; Helen Stetler of New Cumberland and Helen Schwartz and Helen Weidenheimer of Milton. Other guests were: J. Orville Fraker '20, Murray Keeler, Dickinson Law '21; Hayden J. Evans ex-'22, and Laird Attemis of Johnstown.

This series of articles is published in order to create in the student body a more intimate knowledge of of the history of Bucknell and a higher appreciation of her principles and ideals.

HOW OUR STATE CAPITOL WAS SAVED IN 1863

The students of the University at Lewisburg "were enrolled as Company A, Twenty-eighth Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteer Militia, on the sixteenth day of June, 1863, and were mustered into the service of the United States as such for the period during existing emergency from the nineteenth day of June, 1863, and they were honorably discharged at Harrisburg, Pa., July 27, 1863." Thus reads my discharge. But this enrollment and mustering in was accomplished with some trouble. Governor Curtin and Secretary Stanton could not come to terms. Stanton did not wish to enroll any one for a longer period but Governor Curtin wished them mustered in for the existing emergency. For many days we camped on Capitol Hill at Harrisburg, until dissatisfaction existed among the members and several under various pretexts wanted to "go home." W. J. (Billy) Wolverton got R. A. Townsend to mount a storegoods box and deliver an address. As his voice rolled over the grounds soldiers started up from every blade of grass, and before the address was completed Capitol Hill was well filled with those desiring to be mustered in. Townsend, on the shoulders of some stalwart men, was paraded around the grounds, and these same men wanted to take him down town, but by the intercession of Captain Jones, Townsend was released from his captors. Whether this demonstration had any effect upon the officials I know not; but after the lapse of thirty-seven years my memory recalls events thus: The address was delievred about 9 a. m.; at 3 p. m. we were mustered into the United States service and received our equipments, and at 5 p. m. we marched across the bridge to Sporting Hill, where a conflict took place and the Twenty-eighth Regiment was a participant.

Company A (Students of the University at Lewisburg) was detailed to proceed north along the west bank of the Susquehanna towards the western end of the Pennsylvania Railroad bridge, and soon after leaving Sporting Hill they unconsciously ran into imiment danger. The Confederate officers, mentioned above, informed me that they had a perfect map of the Susquehanna river from the Juniata down. They knew where there were fords between Harrisburg and the Pennsylvania railroad bridge. Company A traversed this whole distance. While resting on the march, we were informed that the Confederate forces had left that position only a little while before our coming. My Southern friends informed me that they meditated a quick passage of the river—hoped then to disperse the raw and unarmed troops, burn the capitol city quickly repass the river, and rejoin their army, but that coming of Union forces and the supposition that others would follow deterred them from the attempt. Company A comprised the only troops that passed along the route. From these facts it is beyond question that the students of the University at Lewisburg saved the State Capitol in June, 1863. I would like to find the place where we halted and received the information and mark it with an appropriate tablet bearing the inscription: "Here the students of the University at Lewisburg saved the State Capitol in 1863."

PROF. R. A. TOWNSEND, '64.

Albright vs. Bucknell

Back on the home diamond last Saturday Bucknell burdened an aggregation from Albright with a 5 to 3 defeat in nine innings of interesting baseball.

With "Doc" Grieb on the mound, Albright demanded only four hits in six periods, and cashed in on three of these. In the first, Miller drew a walk and advanced on Gingerelh's hit. Miller came home under the hit of the next man and Gingerich moved on home when Gettrick at first counted the second out for the visitors.

Bucknell waited until the third to do anything in the line of scoring. Then Grieb demanded a hit and a run too, after Dietrich had smashed the sphere for a three-base hit. "Johnny" came home also under the protection of Jones' perfect sacrifice.

The fifth proved another golden opporutnity for Bucknell when as the result of two errors and a hit, Grieb, Dietrich and Jones dashed home for the final scoring.

Juniata vs. Bucknell

Bucknell, in a Memorial Day contest with Juniata cranked her scoring machine in the first inning and won from the visiting team after her men had crossed the home plate 16 times. Three marks in the scorer's book represented the result of Juniata's endeavors to smash the infield defense of the home team. This game is notable because Penn State defeated Juniata a short time ago by a much smaller score. However, on the whole, the game was very loosely carried on by both teams. Bellak pitched a sterling game, allowing only five hits and showing the ability to strike a man out at critical times when the bases were fairly full.

1922 L'AGENDA

another innovation. The printing of the individual picturse of the seniors has proven popular, and bids fair to continue in other years. The Juniors each have a spicy "write-up" along with their college activities. The sophomores have several pages devoted to their class roll and group picture, while the freshman class is confined to just two pages in double-column, six-point type.

The department of college publications is a new feature, as well as the feature section. Both reach a field that heretofore has been left undeveloped somewhat in the L'Agenda work, and this serves to bring the book up to a higher standard as a college annual.

The literary department, under the careful direction of Miss Balliet, is the best in years. For variety, choice of material and the richness of each individual contribution, it is in a class by itself. Especially fine is the presentation of "Nature's Setting for Bucknell," by Dr. Martin, in commemoration of the 75th anniversary of the founding of the university. The athletic department is complete as in former years, even including the baseball season for last year and the inter-fraternity leagues.

The book is dedicated to Professor Paul Stolz, directcor of the Department of Music, for the many years of service he has rendered the university and appreciation of the tireless energy he has manifested in his work. Then, to add a touch of the ludicrous, the feature section is "dedikated" to "Profesur Stolz's Oughtomobeel."

Too much credit cannot be given to Baker-Jones-Hausauer, of Buffalo, the printers of the book. In a time of strike, when most houses would be holding back their work for their own shops to do after all disputes had been settled, they did the very best thing they could do and sent the book out to one of the few open shops in the eastern section of the country equipped to do such a big "job," and there had the book printed under their supervision. Another distinct consideration shown by the publishers was the fact that, as is was necessary to have the books reach here before senior vacation if at all possible, they shipped them from Greenwich, Conn., by automobile truck so they would arrive in Lewisburg just that much sooner. These are things that any who have had to contend with the uncertainties of strikes can appreciate, and these words are in appreciation of the service rendered by the publishers.

There are a few copies over the number ordered by the students, so if any of those neglecting to order before want to secure a copy of the book now, they can do so by getting in touch with Mr. Kyttle at the Kappa Sigma house. Those who have already ordered their book, and have paid their deposit of $2, can secure their book by the payment of the balance due—$3.00. Catch the spirit that has been shown in printing such a publication for Bucknell, and secure your copy of the book. Its real service is going to be appreciated in the years to come, when these things that appear so near to us now will be affairs of the distant past and your college annual will serve to recall them.

CONFERENCE MEET

was only given credit for second in the half but even uninterested parties state that he won this event by at least half a foot. It was a very close finish. Chapman ran a fine race also in this event and finished fourth. Treadwell tied for third in the high jump and the points were divided. Dinn did very commendable work by finishing fourth in the shot put and third in the broad jump.

The Philadelphia Public Ledger, which awarded the beautiful cup, has the following to say of the meet and of the victorious track and field team:

"Bucknell University will be the first name to be inscribed on the Philadelphia Public Ledger trophy, a cup, in competition for the first time today by the Central Pennsylvania Track Conference. The collegians from Lewisburg wearing the Orange and Blue won the initial track and field championship of the newly formed association on the picturesque Stand Park field by scoring 42 points, twelve more than their nearest competitor, Gettysburg. Muhlenburg was third with 29 points and Dickinson fourth with 27. From start to finish, the fight was among these keen athletic rivals. Drexel Institute scored eight points, Juniata College four, while Lebanon Valley College and Susquehanna University each made one point. The only member of the association not to compete was Albright College.

Well-Balanced Team

Bucknell presented the best-balanced team of the quartet that struggled for the title, and the general verdict of a large crowd was that the Lewisburg lads well merited their victory. An analysis of the point scoring shows that the victors captured points in all of the thirteen events save the 100 dash, the 220 hurdles and the discus. On the other hand, Gettysburg, the runner-up, was too heavy in field strength, with meager representation on the track. Dickinson was strong on the track, but weak in the field. Bucknell presented an all-around aggregation with no out-standing stars, but captured the meet with comparative ease by reason of their well-balanced combination."

SALESMEN WANTED
The Twin State Gas & Electric Company, serving with electric light and power a population of 105,000 in New Hampshire, Vermont and Southwestern Maine, needs bright, energetic men to sell its 7 pe rcent Prior Lien Stock, permanently or for vacation period. This Company has been operating successfully for fifteen years, has been paying dividends on its preferred and common stock for twelve years and has earned for many years an amount equivalent to three or four times the annual dividend on the Prior Lien Stock outstanding.
There are good opportunities for advancement in this and affiliated organizations, and with associated investment bankers.
Apply in person or by letter to the office of the Company, 55 Congress St., Boston, Mass., or A. H. Bickmore & Company, 111 Broadway, New York.
